KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

SEND SENIORS TO CAMPS?

NEW ORDER OF WAR DEPARTMENT MAY PROVIDE FOR O. R. T. C. MEN.

Local Interpretation is That Men who Join Senior Division of Corps May be Sent to Training Camps Upon Being Drafted—Signaling for Course Now

Seniors who belong to the reserve officers' training corps probably will be admitted to a training school for officers upon being called into service under the selective draft law. That is the interpretation made in college military circles of the new order of the war department.

The statement of the department follows: "It has been decided that members of the reserve officers' training corps, second year advanced course, who are called into military service under the provisions of the draft law will be admitted, if found qualified, to appropriate service schools for training candidates for commissions.

"When such members are called into service the professor of military science and tactics on duty at the school or college will inform the adjutant general of the army of the fact and as to their qualifications, in order that admission to training schools may be given proper consideration."

All men desiring to join either the junior or the senior section of the reserve officers' training corps will report at the commandant's office in the mornings between 9:30 and 10 o'clock.

The reserve officers' training corps will be divided into two sections, the junior and the senior. The senior division will be composed of students in regular college courses and men doing post graduate work. This division will be divided into two sections, the basic course which requires three hours a week military training, and the advanced course which requires five hours a week.

Men in the advanced course will be furnished commutation of subsistence (30 cents a day) during the remainder of their service in the corps.

The junior division will be composed of men in the school of agriculture. The men in both divisions must take a physical examination to determine whether they are fit to perform military duties, or will be at the arrival of military age.

All men signing up for either division must deposit the price of the uniforms at the business office and as soon as possible get a card from the military office and be measured for uniforms at Knostman's clothing store. It is almost certain that the money paid for uniforms will be returned in part before the end of the semester.

JUNIORS ELECT OFFICERS.

C. M. Barringer is Chosen President of the Class of 1919.

Junior class officers for the spring semester were nominated and elected at the last regular meeting of the term held Tuesday night in Harrison hall.

Those who have been named to serve for the coming term are: C. M. Barringer, president; Miss Sadie Maude Douglas, vice president; Miss Gussie Johnson, secretary; R. D. McGregor, treasurer; Miss Vera Olmstead, assistant treasurer; Robert Hargis, chairman social committee; C. H. Myers, marshal; Velma Carson, assistant marshal.

ADD TWO INSTRUCTORS IN D. S. (Changes in Studies Require Enlargement of Faculty Body.

Miss Josephine Leverett, graduate of Columbia university, will be assistant professor of institutional management next semester. Miss Eleanor Bartlett, graduate of the university of Chicago, will have charge of the new course in foods for freshman.

The additional teachers were necessary on account of the changes made in studies.

For Convalescing Soldiers.

Mrs. G. L. Tetrick and daughter Wanda and Mrs. F. W. Amos and daughters Lillian and Helen spent Sunday at the base hospital, Fort Riley, entertaining the convalescent soldiers with music and reading. They gave their program to each of the 19 wards which they visited.

NO COLLEGIAN TUESDAY.

Because of the vacation period, no Collegian will be published next Tuesday. The paper will come out Friday as usual.

THE ALPHA BETAS ELECT.

Ira Plank President of Society for the Coming Semester.

The officers of the Alpha Beta Literary society for the second semester were elected last Saturday evening. They are: Ira Plank, president; Carl Hedstrom, vice president; Grace Turner, secretary; Merle Lucas, corresponding secretary; Olive Lagerstrom, treasurer; Everett Kain, marshal; Dorothy Mosely, assistant marshal; Olive Lagerstrom, junior member of the Oratorical board; Ralph May, member of the Intersociety council.

JOIN THE R. O. T. C.

After hearing Lieutenant Perigord Tuesday morning, did YOU feel as if you didn't belong in college? You did, if you were a patriot, and have ever thought about a young man's duty to his country.

But you reasoned, with the great men of the world, that you should stay in college, that you should get your diploma before you enter military service. And you should.

Yet Uncle Sam is asking something of Aggie students next semester. He asks that men students enlist in the reserve officers' training corps. He asks it as the price of their staying in college. He asks it as a measure of patriotism.

How will the students respond?

HONORS FIVE GIRL DEBATEES.

Zeta Kappa Psi Elects Women Talkers to Membership.

Zeta Kappa Psi, girls' honorary forensic sorority, announces the pledging of Miss Dora Cate, sophomore in industrial journalism; Miss Margaret King, senior in home economics; Miss Ethel Arnold, senior in home economics; Miss Elizabeth Circle, sophomore in general science, and Miss Ella Stinson, sophomore in home economics. Miss Arnold, Miss Cate, Miss Circle, and Miss Stinson were all on the debating teams which represented K. S. A. C. in this fall's triangular debate with Ottawa and Washburn. Miss King debated last year against the Warrensburg Normal girls.

PICKS "UNDER COVER" LEADS

Heaviest Parts go to Miss Ernestine Bibby and Chester Brewer.

The two leads in "Under Cover," the drama to be staged March 16 under the auspices of the public speaking department, were won by Miss Ernestine Bibby and Chester Brewer. It was announced last night by Miss Ada Dykes, who will coach the play. Miss Bibby takes the part of Miss Ethel Cartwright, the heroine, and Mr. Brewer is Stephen Denby, a secret service officer, who seeks to test American revenue officers, and in the mixup finds that relatives of Miss Cartwright are in trouble.

The other parts are taken by Mrs. Hale, Betty Lyman, Greta Gramse, Marion Hill, William Giles, Elmer Gillebreath, Paul Martin, and Eilery Mather. One of the characters, Mrs. Harrington, is being contested for by Miss Grace Lightfoot and Miss Vila Stiles.

"Under Cover" is a drama, probably the heaviest ever staged by the students here, Miss Dykes says. A month and a half of steady practice will be required before the student actors will be ready to portray their parts effectively. They play will be the closing feature of Festival week, March 10 to 16.

The first practice will be held in the old chapel Monday evening.

RETURNS FROM LECTURE TRIP.

Miss Haggart Talks at New Mexico State College.

Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science, just returned from a trip to New Mexico where she delivered a series of lectures and demonstrations at the state college. Miss Haggart was formerly head of the domestic science department there.

Clarence Seiber will leave today for Sioux City, Ia., where he has a position in a mill.

AMERICA SAVED OF WORLD

UNITED STATES THE HOPE AND ENERGY OF MANKIND, FRENCHMAN SAYS.

All Allied Nations Must Belong to But One Party and That Must be the Party of Victory—Entrance Into the War Saved the Stars and Stripes From Stain.

America's need of a united, loyal people was the keynote of a talk by Lieutenant Paul Perigord of the French army before Farm and Home week visitors, members of the faculty and the student body Wednesday morning.

"You are the hope and energy of mankind," said Lieutenant Perigord. "You are the United States, but you are not as yet the united people of the United States."

"We know in France we are all soldiers of righteousness. There is only one party and that is the party of victory. All must belong to it as long as the war lasts."

"As democracies, we are still willing to believe in the redemption of the German people. We must not hate them—we must be greater and broader than Prussian aristocracy."

"If America had failed to enter this war she would have been dishonored forever. The stars and stripes—the symbol of justice and freedom not only for the United States but for all nations—would have been handed down to the next generation defiled, stained, and dishonored. Now it can still remain the purest and most beautiful flag in the world, and Americans can sing of the home of the brave and the land of the free truthfully."

Lieutenant Perigord, who took part in many important battles and who now is representing the French high commission, first came to this country as a Catholic priest to devote himself to missionary work in the northwest. He later took post graduate studies in the University of Chicago, Columbia and Minnesota. When the declaration of war came, he was putting the final touches on a thesis which he was to present to the faculty of the latter institution as the final requirement for his degree.

WATERS WILL RETURN TODAY

Former President to Address Assembly in Auditorium This Morning.

Dr. H. J. Waters will return to Manhattan to greet farm and home week visitors and will address them at the general assembly this morning at the college auditorium.

The first annual banquet for those attending the meetings of the week will be given this evening at the First Presbyterian church. Every one will be welcome at this banquet but tickets for the banquet should be purchased before noon Friday. Tickets will be on sale in main hall and at the college auditorium ticket window. Several prominent leaders of the state will give short talks, among them Dr. Waters and Acting President Willard. The banquet will be over in time for the evening's concert, which will be given at the college by the 341st field artillery band from Camp Funston. Tickets for the concert have been in such great demand that all of them have been distributed.

FARMING IN THE FAR EAST

Ohio Man Tells of Agriculture in India and Egypt

Farming in the Far East was the subject of an illustrated lecture given in the Auditorium Tuesday evening by Alfred Vivian, dean of the college of agriculture, Ohio State university.

In 1912 and 1913 Dean Vivian made a trip around the world for the purpose of studying the agriculture of the different countries. He took more than 3,000 pictures and from these selected the 160 which he showed last night. These pictures dealt with farming practice and problems in India, Palestine and Egypt.

A REAL TEAM IN THE MAKING

PURPLE FIVE IS COMING UP FAST UNDER TUTELAGE OF COACH CLEVELER.

Before Season Has Ended, a Team Almost as Good as Last Year's May be Wearing a Kansas Aggie Label—Drake Bulldogs are Next Hurdle Five Must Take.

Quietly but surely, Coach Cleveland is building a real basketball five. Aggie sports followers who heard of player after player who could not be back this year, and then heard of meningitis quarantines, coal-less vacation periods, and the like, may be surprised within a month to find that a Kansas Aggie team is imitating its predecessor of last year in mowing down valley quintets with regularity.

That is the word that is being passed around in Nichols gym, where the Aggie hopefuls practice every evening.

"Just wait. In a month or so—maybe not soon enough to win the championship, but at least before the end of the season—there will be a Cleveland quintet which can stand up against any of the valley teams."

A Record to Defend.

And perhaps the quiet warning will turn out to be the truth. Cleveland, with winning teams to his credit everywhere, is rising to meet the lack-of-material handicap, and is putting all that he has into duplicating his record of former years.

The basketball men will tell one that they are being worked hard enough. An hour of teamwork practice and goal shooting, then an hour of scrimmage with the freshmen and with the second team—that is the daily program that is making real basketballers out of a squad which at the first of the season seemed hopeless.

Drake Has Real Team.

The game with Drake tomorrow will be a test. The Aggies were a new team against Ames. Will the sport last and will Cleveland pull his team through to a victory against one of the most formidable valley quintets? Aggie fans place as much of the answer in Cleveland's coaching as in the team itself. Weighing the two, they believe that the Aggies are strong enough to turn the trick.

Drake battled against Missouri two weeks ago. Missouri's team of veterans—four of them members of the quintet that the Aggies nosed out of a valley championship—barely tripped the Des Moines crew. The score was 19 to 17, and the reports say that some real basketball playing was shown.

Tomorrow's game begins at 7:30 o'clock. E. C. Quigley, 4-minute speaker extraordinary, will be the referee.

NO CHANGES IN ENROLLMENT

Students Asked to Have Fee Card Located by Tuesday.

The early bird gets the first number. So be there among the first unless you care to be numbered with the five and six hundreds.

There will be no changes in the system of enrollment of students for the next semester, says Miss Jessie McD. Machir, registrar. As usual registration will be held in the Nichols gymnasium and the doors will be labeled as the entrance for the various classmen. The fee will be paid at the end of enrollment as at registration for the fall term. And above all things Miss Machir is asking that all students begin hunting around for their fee cards immediately so that they will remember to bring them along when enrollment time arrives.

Numbers will be given out early Tuesday morning but whether at the auditorium or the gymnasium has not yet been announced. The doors of the gymnasium will be open at 9 o'clock and registration will continue until Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

BIG CONCERT HERE TONIGHT

Camp Funston Musicians Will Give Recital in College Auditorium

It has been definitely decided that the 341st artillery band will give its promised concert in Manhattan on Friday of this week, the college officials having very generously offered to co-operate by giving the use of the auditorium for this purpose.

In connection with the concert there will be mass singing, led by Chester Guthrie, musical director of Camp Funston. As the band, which has 42 members, is made up entirely of professional musicians, all of whom have been playing in the best bands in the country, and as Mr. Guthrie has had several years of experience as a song leader for some of the best known evangelists in the country, the affair will be thoroughly high class in every respect.

The college end of the affair will be handled by Dean Johnson, retails of the entertainment of the men will be taken care of by Mrs. Dr. Downs and the band and music will be looked after by Mr. Guthrie, all being in co-operation with the Manhattan war camp community service.

In view of the fact that the auditorium will hold only 2,000 people, while probably many more than that number will wish to attend, admission will be by ticket only. Out-of-town visitors who are attending farm and home week can secure tickets at the college. Local people wishing to secure tickets can get them at the community house, or from Mrs. Dr. Downs, chairman of the concert committee.

As many of those attending farm and home week will leave town Friday night, it is necessary in order that they may enjoy the concert that it finish fairly early, so the hour of starting will be 7:30. This will have to be borne in mind by those who wish to enjoy the entire program.

AID AT HOSTESS HOUSE AGAIN.

Girls From College Y. W. Help at Camp Funston.

With the beginning of the new semester the Y. W. C. A. will resume the practice of sending two girls to assist at the hostess house at Camp Funston each Sunday. These girls act as general aids to the hostesses, and also assist at the information desk. The Sunday trips were discontinued before Christmas on account of the meningitis scare.

PUT UP HOT FIGHT

TWO CONTESTANTS RAN AWAY FROM FIELD IN ROYAL PURPLE BEAUTY RACE.

MISS MERRILLAT WON OUT

Senior Nominee Beat Junior P. M. Candidate by Narrow Margin in Miss Sarella Herriek Lost Lead, Near Regained It, and Then Fell Back Again.

SENIOR VOTES TURNED TRICK

Upperclassmen, Each of Whom Were Entitled to 1,000 Votes, Were Masters of the Situation Throughout—Miss Stinson, Miss Thomas and Miss Phinney Also Winners.

HOW THEY FINISHED.

Hazel Merrillat	140,000
Sarella Herriek	130,810
Ella Stinson	78,000
Ruth Thomas	65,809
Greta Gramse	61,700
Mary Hazel Phinney	61,524
Nell Robinson	50,900
Margaret Robinson	42,800
Elizabeth Cotton	34,360
Rose Blackwelder	10,000
Total	685,790

Fifty thousand votes ahead of the field, running neck and neck for eight tense hours Wednesday—there you have the setting for the prettiest little scrap ever staged in a Royal Purple beauty contest. Miss Hazel Merrillat and Miss Sarella Herriek fought the battle—or rather their followers did—and an avalanche of senior votes in the last hour of the polling sent Miss Merrillat over the top winner by 10,000 votes.

The real fight began Wednesday morning, when it was apparent that the race was to be run by the two candidates who put up the real fight. Miss Herriek had a lead of 10,000 in the morning, when 76,000 votes had been cast to her credit.

The results were similar at noon. Knowing that the senior vote was coming, the followers of Miss Herriek marshalled their votes for the final spurt at 6 o'clock.

Then a Merrillat Spurt.

The reversal came at 4 o'clock. Miss Merrillat, with 100,100 votes was 7,000 ahead of Miss Herriek and the other contestants were so far behind that they were counted out of the running. Miss Herriek spurted again at 5 o'clock, and the two contestants went into the final hour of the balloting practically even. Miss Merrillat's total was 109,000 while her opponent had 108,000.

Then the final count. No one expected that a candidate would receive more than 125,000 votes at the most. But the seniors, flocking behind their classmate, had cast their votes in big blocks, and had sent Miss Merrillat into first place winner by 10,000 votes.

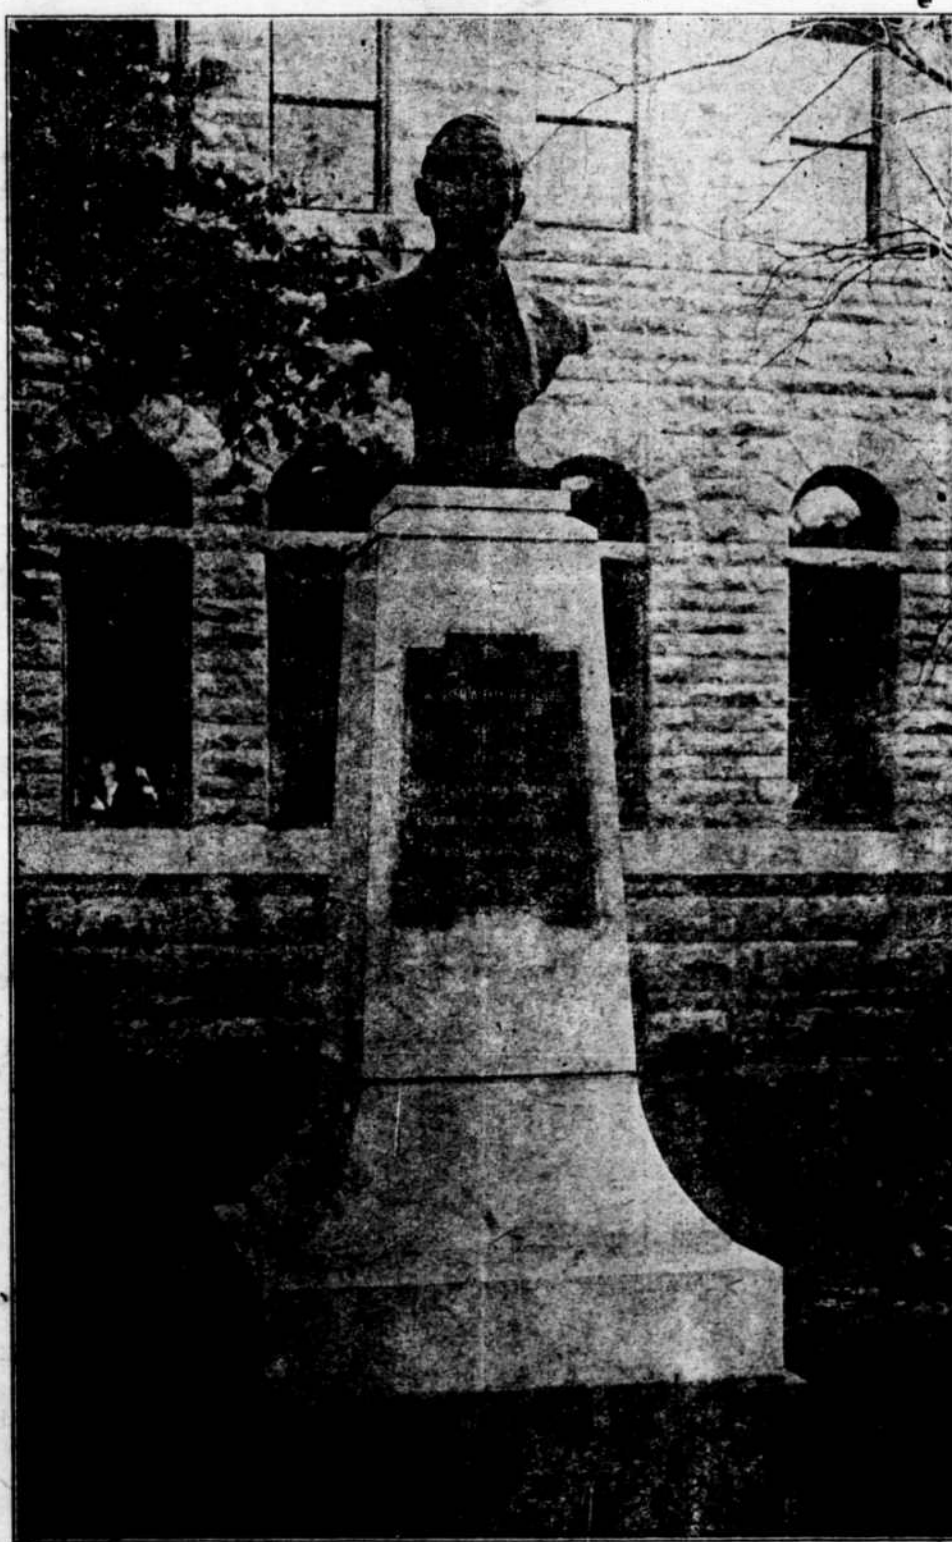

Ruth Thomas Jumped.

The other contestants were so far behind that they received but few of the independent votes, and made little progress during the day. That is, with the exception of Miss Ruth Thomas, junior nominee, who began the day in ninth place with 21,000 votes and had shot to fourth place with 65,800. An error in the unofficial count gave Miss Thomas third place, but the corrected figures were made known yesterday.

The six contestants entitled to pages in the Royal Purple beauty section are Miss Hazel Merrillat, nominee of the senior class; Miss Sarella Herriek, junior class and P. M. Phi; Miss Ella Stinson, sophomore class; Miss Ruth Thomas, junior class; Miss Greta Gramse, Alpha Delta Phi; and Miss Mary Hazel Phinney, Delta Zeta. Although 685,790 votes were in, not all were cast. George Gibbons, business manager of the Royal Purple says. The seniors had 315,000 votes, only about one-half of which were placed in the ballot box.

The contest was managed by Miss Gladys Spring.

THE LONE SENTINEL

SENATOR WILLIAM ALEXANDER HARRIS

Many Farm and Home week visitors have wondered why the bust of W. A. Harris should stand night and day the stately guardian of the campus of an agricultural college. It was Senator Harris, or Farmer Harris, who was the Kansas pioneer in breeding fine stock. He stands alongside F. D. Coburn and Dr. H. J. Waters as a man who has made the farmer realize that purebred stock is more paying than scrub stock. And when the Kansas farmers elected him senator, he was the same Mr. Harris, the only change being that his official position gave him greater opportunities to accomplish his ideals

FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1918.

GET BEHIND THE TEAM.

Aggie athletic officials can not expect the overflowing crowds which watched basketball encounters in the Nichols gym last year. There aren't as many students here as there were then. But it is entitled to the support of enough students to fill the bleachers.

The situation is pitiful. Just as the school is in the middle of a wonderful boom and growth, with student enthusiasm rising to every occasion, along comes a "don't care" spirit. And just at the time that support is most needed, too, for Coach Cleveland is driving his men hard, and needs only the backing of the students to send the five off to a good start.

The game with Drake is the last before the team takes the road. It needs your support, your cheering, your encouragement. What are you going to do about it?

Beauty contest, Farm and Home week, finals—gosh, isn't there something else going to happen this week?

AN IMPROVED FARMER.

Typical present-day farmers they are, these Farm and Home visitors.

Years ago how many farmers would have thought it worth while to journey to an agricultural college and absorb some "book learnin'". Not very many. But today's farmer is a reader of books and of magazines, and constantly is picking up something that he didn't know before about his life-work.

That is why the farmers are here this week. They have overcome the common antagonism against the farm expert, and want to combine their practice with theory.

Frosh Eats Pineapple Pie and Then Takes a Trench From Germans

"What kind of pie would you like?" asked the kind lady who served the meals. "Pineapple," replied Jerry with a smack that indicated some well-defined ideas on pie. In came the pie, and the frosh with sleeves rolled up waded in.

Next Reel—A bed in a darkened room. Two ill' frosh boys heads were sticking out of the covers, their ill' hands folded over their ill' chests. One face bore an expression of rest and deep peace. While the other was soundly asleep, still every few minutes he would mutter some deep words. Well, what has this to do with pineapple pie? Lots. Those mutterings had a very close connection to the desert, for the froshman was dreaming.

What a wonderful sight to see a dreaming frosh! How many interesting secrets might be discovered if we could penetrate the veil that separates us from the dream!

Well, literature is the only thing that can penetrate it, so here is where we dish you out some up-to-date knowledge on what that frosh was dreaming. It was this:

He was on the west front, and the general came along and said these words to him: "Jerry, it's up to you to whip the Germans, and we are all depending on you." Jerry then paced up and down in a military manner, keeping always on the alert and observing all things that took place within sight and hearing.

Don't get nervous. The real Jerry was safe and sound. He was just sitting up in bed as if he were getting his mind made up for the bloody charge.

Then the general said, "charge," over the top they went and across No-Man's land. Through the entanglements they rushed and were just ready to jump down into the opposing trench.

At this juncture, the frosh arose and stood up in bed, looked about and plunged square on top of his bed fellow. The other muttering and ejaculating with prime disgust, arose, half awake.

"Whadya think this is, a diving beach?" he yelled.

The other hesitated a moment, still asleep, then plunged upon the other ruffling his hair, and rubbing his ears with his hands. As he said this he yelled, "You fool German—you don't know who I am—I'm a freshman, gosh dinged if I haint, and I'm goin' to beat thunder outta ya, dya hear?"

At the accusation of being a German the fury of the other arose, so he gave the fighting frosh a punch in the chin that woke him up. An armistice was declared and soon the little freshies were both asleep again but with their backs toward each other.

Some people still say that little incident in Serbia caused the great war. That wasn't it. It was that whoppin' big ambition of the kaiser's to run the world, and he bit off too big a chunk. Too big a chunk will even put a frosh war crazy, if he tries to get away with it. At any rate it has a bad effect on freshie dreams.

Written by a Freshman

Walter Neibarger

The fact that 272,910 votes were cast in the beauty contest on Tuesday, prompts the guess that this school must be a democracy.

Governor Capper went through his entire speech without complimenting the freshman. We hate to bawl the governor out like this, but it appears we must do it.

We heard Doctor Carver, and give our permission that he be chosen president. The rest of the fellows may now consider the question for final discussion.

We'll have to admit it is a little startling for a common frosh to pick out the president of the institution and bawl out the governor, but that's one of the nice things about having a colm.

For fear you may have forgotten it, the two prize wrestlers in the match at the basketball game last Saturday, both were freshmen.

It's lucky there are only two Aggie men from the Hinds family or the basketball games might be nothing but a family scrap.

N. L. Harris, main rooster at the poultry farm, has left to take a government job. It is not known whether it is with the food administration or not.

Tiddle-de-de! Tiddle-de-de! What would happen to the average reporter if he handed in dope like this?

Freshie Spots Real Swell Dame and the Result is Disastrous

"Phew! Look at that one would you?" This was one freshman comment heard on the campus the other afternoon. He had been bitten by the fatal bug. At last the long expected day had come when another pathway met his own. Mr. Freshman was going from Kedzie hall to the chemistry building, and the object of his exclamations was headed toward the domestic science building. The frosch had no intentions in letting such a prize slip away that easy, so he circled the library toward the auditorium, to view her from afar.

Just as she entered the domestic science building, luck would have it that she spoke to a girl friend of the freshman, and such an act is a very valuable clew. No detective could be more ingenious than a frosch on an occasion like that.
And then the goal is different too. It is much more interesting identifying a conglomeration of laughing eyes, rosy cheeks, stray locks of hair, than looking over some old incarnation of whiskey, whiskers and crime.

That noon as the frosch sat in the cafeteria munching a sandwich, with his eyes wandering over the athletic field, or the blue sky above it, dreamily, he happened to look around and —slip—down went the sandwich onto the floor. Gradually he recovered and saw the lady of his dreams just two tables away. How strange! Men go to fight cannon balls in France, perform great deeds of daring and—abem—let a woman sit down within twenty feet of them and they are completely incapacitated.

Now a freshie in a situation like that isn't always diplomatic. First he mad big goolgoo eyes and just plain grins, then just plain grins and goo-goo eyes. At first the young lady smiled faintly then gave him a cold glassy look. Was this just feminine reserve? How should the frosch know? He was no Ouija board.
The frosch instead of finishing the meal and leaving for his next class, went around and got dinner again, seating himself this time one seat nearer.

Just then he noticed the girl friend whom he had seen the angel speak to earlier in the day. She had been watching his antics slyly. When he saw her she was frowning at him unmercifully. That rather upset things. What difference did it make to her? As soon as they got outside, he approached his friend and asked, "What's the matter?"

"Matter?" she exclaimed. "Why that lady is a member of the faculty."

More air! More air!" yelled the crowd that gathered about.

FOR STANDARD FARM MACHINERY

Manufacturer Must Make Many Types to Meet Demands of Farmers.

F. A. Wirt, who was formerly in charge of the department of farm machinery at the college, lectured this morning in the farm home week program on the subject of "Care and Selection of Farm Machinery." Mr.
Wirt is now publicity manager for the John Deere Plow company of Kansas City.

In his lecture Mr. Wirt emphasized the need of conservation in this day of the necessity for increased production. There is going to be a big shortage of machinery and every implement that the farmer has should be carefully gone over to see that it is in good operating condition and that it will render the best service.

Among other things the advantage of standardization was taken up. One had example of the lack of standardization being given as the experience of one manufacturer who had to keep on hand a thousand different types of wagons, if he were to meet the requirements of all his customers. Cooperation between the manufacturer and the farmer was also emphasized as a means of advancing agriculture.
The reasons for the high prices of machinery were given and the present necessity of government control and to fix prices was explained.

CONCEDED TO BE BET-TER THAN "JOAN"

Farrar, DeMille and Macpherson, star, producer and author of "Joan,
the Woman," have again combined their super talents in producing a gi-gantic cinema spectacle, "The Woman God Forgot," which is the offering at the Wareham theater tonight and tomorrow. Never in her career has Geraldine Farrar been afforded a vehicle that discloses to better advantage her wonderful histrionic talents. That this her greatest cinema characterization, not excepting "Joan," is generally conceded. Wallace Reid, who appeared opposite Fer-rar in "Joan," again portrays the leading support to the famous actress.
One of the most powerful supporting casts ever assembled is evidenced in this production.

FESTIVAL WEEK DATE SET

MUSIC AND DRAMA WILL BE FEATURED BEGINNING MARCH 11

Orchestra, Glee Clubs, Faculty Members of Music Department, and the Purple Masque All Will Have Offerings—Oscar Seagle Scheduled for Sunday

March 11 to March 17 will be another week of much interest to the student body of the college and also to the citizens of the town. Festival week scheduled for that time promises this year to be even a greater success than it was last year.

Selected under the supervision of A. E. Westbrook, director of music and Miss Ada Dykes of the public speaking department, the program secured for the entertainment represents the best talent obtainable. The success of last year's Festival Week makes it imperative that the high grade of talent be kept up, and in the choosing of numbers, the management has done this admirably.

It is the express wish of the directors of the festival that the program should be of more than local interest for the students. They hope that it will be an attraction for the people of Manhattan and the surrounding towns. Several schools in the state, Bethany especially, have music festivals that attract people from all parts of the state. The aim of the music department of the college is to make a community affair out of the Festival Week.

The program will represent both college and professional talent. The combination is one that assures success, because the glee clubs of the college, under the coaching of the music department, have acquired a finish that is close to professional.

The program starts March 11, with an orchestra concert, by the college orchestra, Professor Brown leader, and with Miss Katherine Kimmel as soloist.

Tuesday evening the two glee clubs of the college will entertain. The Apollo club of men will give a program of classic and modern songs and the St. Cecilia club will give Bendall's "Lady of Shalott" by Tennyson.

On Wednesday evening there will be a concert by members of the faculty. The first part will be a piano recital by Miss Elsie Smith. The second part will be a song cycle, "Morning of the Year," by Cadman, sung by a faculty quartette, composed of Miss Hughes, Miss Kimmel, Mr. Johnston and Mr. Westbrook, with Miss Abernethy as accompanist.

Friday evening the combined forces of the glee clubs will give a musical comedy from the French, entitled "Sergeant Kitty."

Saturday evening a modern play, "Under Cover" will be given under the auspices of the Purple Masque dramatic society and the public speaking department.

Oscar Seagle, America's greatest baritone, will give a song recital Sunday afternoon. In the evening, the Choral society, with the help of visiting artists, will give Lester's "Golden Syon." This cantata should be of especial interest to the students, as it was written expressly for the Festival Week, and dedicated to the director of the department of music, Mr. A. E. Westbrook.

NEW JOURNALISM EQUIPMENT.

Collegian Room has been Refurnished to Expand Capacity.

To economize space and afford ample room for the reportorial staff of The Collegian and the Industrialist, new shelving has been installed and two special tables capable of accommodating 12 typewriters have been added to the office equipment.

These tables were made to order by classes in woodwork. They were necessary to accommodate an increasing number of journalists.

BACK FROM A SPEAKING TRIP.

Don L. Burk Talked at Niotza and Augusta.

Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, returned Wednesday from a trip to Niotza and Augusta. He was speaking on the community lecture course that is being given by the extension division of the college. The subject of his talk at Niotza was "Fish Worms," and at Augusta he spoke on "America and the Great War."

IS NOW A MAJOR GENERAL

Former Commandant High Up in Uncle Sam's Service.

John H. Morrison, who as a lieutenant was commandant of cadets and professor of military science from 1887 to 1890, is now major general and director of military training for the American armies. He holds the highest rank of all the men formerly connected with the college.

He has just returned from Europe, where he has studied the French and British systems which are to be adopted by the United States. He will take up the direction of a special training board appointed by the war department. General Morrison will make personal inspection of national army and national guard training camps, making suggestions and improvements in the methods employed.

THANK GIRLS FOR GIFTS

Funston Officer Pays Tribute to Women Who Helped With Christmas.

Aggie co-eds who prepared Christmas boxes for the soldiers at Funston will be interested in a letter just received by Miss Mildred Inskeep, who had charge of the Christmas box club, from the Christmas Committee at Camp Funston.

Approximately 500 gifts were made by the girls and were collected at a mass meeting just before Christmas vacation. The college girl spirit with which the girls entered into the work of making and sending the gifts was quite pleasing to Dean Van Zile, who added great support to the carrying out on the plan. The Christmas Committee cooperated with those in charge here by sending army trucks to gather up the boxes to take them to Funston. The letter from headquarters, written January 25 and addressed to "K. S. A. C. Girls," follows:

"In the name of the Commanding General, the officers and enlisted men of Camp Funston, we desire to express to you our thanks for your generous thoughtfulness and kindness for the very material assistance you gave us by your contribution of Christmas packages to the men of this camp.

"A real effort was made to amuse the entire camp throughout the whole day on Christmas and the generosity of yourself and others made it possible to carry the effort to success.

"In the morning there were games and a realistic Wild West Show. In the afternoon Christmas packages were distributed and in the evening there was a gorgeous display of fireworks.

Sincerely yours,
CHRISTMAS COMMITTEE.
Per W. E. C."

SLOW IN PICTURE SITTING

Many Organizations Have Not Arranged for R. P. Group Photos.

The Royal Purple management announces that there are still a few college organizations which have not made arrangements at Wolf's studio to have pictures taken for the 1918 classbook.

Literary societies and organizations which use individual pictures are asked to send a list of their members to Mr. Wolf at once. The classbook manager is checking up the organizations with Mr. Wolf this week and those who have not arranged to have the pictures taken at once will necessarily have to be omitted from the book.

There will still be an opportunity for these organizations and for seniors to speak for their pictures this week and the early part of next. The Royal Purple book sale is still going on as the allotted number have not yet been sold.

The six girls who won places in the beauty contest will be photographed by Henry Moore, Kansas City. Plans have been made for the trip to Kansas City during the second week of February. The girls will be accompanied by Miss Helen Ha'm.

ENTERTAIN THE JANUARY GIRLS.

Girls With Birthdays Last Month Given Party by Y. W.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. who have birthdays in the month of January were entertained by the social committee of the association last night in the domestic science rest room.

These birthday parties are given each month and arrangements will be made later to entertain the girls whose birthdays come during the summer vacation months. Practically forty members attended the December meeting and forty others the party last night.

MANY AGGIES ARE OFFICERS

MORE THAN HALF OF THOSE IN SERVICE HOLD RESPONSIBLE POSITIONS

Three Brigadier-Generals Included in the College Honor Roll, While There are 169 Lieutenants—Twenty-one Have Won Captain's Commissions

More than 50 per cent of the Aggie men now serving in the army are either commissioned or non-commissioned officers. Of these, 169 have commissions. Altogether 517 men of the Kansas State Agricultural college are serving Uncle Sam in the great war, the list on the College Honor Roll shows.

Among the officers are Brig. Gen. Frank Winston, Brig. Gen. James G. Harbord, and Brig. Gen. E. A. Helmick.

The largest number of any rank of commissioned officers are lieutenants. One hundred and thirty lieutenants are on the college honor roll. There are two colonels, five lieutenant colonels, two majors, and 21 captains. This makes a total of 171 commissioned officers, or approximately 33 per cent of the Aggie men now in the service.

The number of non-commissioned officers is also large and makes a total of more than 50 per cent of Aggie men who are either officers or non-coms. This does not include those who left for the officers' training camps just before Christmas. Many of these are slated for commissions.

The fact that the college is one of the land grant institutions and under the war department provided military training for the students, has much to do with the large number of the alumni and former students who have so far obtained commissions. This record is one that but few colleges in the west can equal.

REPLY TO DEANS' LETTERS

Aggie Men in Service Answer Letter of Christmas Greeting

That former K. S. A. C. students who are now in service were not slow in appreciating the Christmas letters sent them by the deans of the divisions is evidenced by the many replies which have been coming into the deans' offices from various sources.

John Sellon in acknowledgement of the letter writes: "There is no way for me to describe aviation other than it is Fascination personified. I had never really entertained hopes of being an aviator until about two months ago when I had the opportunity, along with seventeen others, of being transferred to aviation.

"Unlike the army, we at once took up the flying along within our ground work. Only several hours actual instruction in the air is required to qualify a man to fly alone. My future address will be, First Marine Aero Co., Advance Base Force, care Hdq's U. S. M. C., Washington, D. C."

Another Aggie, Mark Wentz, who is stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas with the 82nd Field Artillery Band, writes that he has been at various posts since enlisting. At all of these including Fort Logan, Colo., Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, Douglas, Arizona, and Houston, Texas, he says that he ran across K. S. A. C. men and that they were all making good.

"I want to thank you," he writes, "for your kind wishes and assurance of support. I hope that the service record of every K. S. A. C. man will reward the confidence that those at home have placed in us."

Still another former student, Walter Rogers, sends a reply to the college Christmas greeting from Fort Kanehameha, Hawaiian Islands.

"The Coast Defenses have been organized into a provisional field artillery regiment of the national army. We have fond hopes of soon clearing this island for U. S. A. After a training in the states we will get an opportunity to help 'over there.' But to think of staying on these islands with no actual duties in the time of war is trying when the boys all seek a chance to get to the battle front."

Thomas Neeley returned yesterday from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Neeley at Abilene.

Miss Lyla Lundberg was at Funston yesterday to attend the Schumann-Heink concert.

OPEN SCHOOLS FOR WOMEN.

College and Newly Organized Association to Co-operate in Training.

The college will assist the Kansas Women's Farm and Garden association, organized in Topeka January 12, in the instruction of Kansas farm women.

The organization plans, in cooperation with the college, to open temporary agricultural schools for women in the various counties of the state. A statewide campaign to interest women and children in raising, marketing, and canning food is proposed. The purpose of the movement is to prepare the farm women of Kansas to do their bit in the way government authorities suggest.

The college courses in agriculture and gardening are open to women. The home study department of the college has eight faculty members who are ready to cooperate with schools, classes, or individuals.

DRAKE BULLDOGS WERE EASY

Aggies, Playing Slowly, Ran up 37 to 13 Score on Visitors

The Drake Bulldogs proved easy for the Aggies, Coach Clevenger's basketball team easily copping the long end of a 37 to 13 score. Both teams were playing poor ball, and the game was slow throughout.

Only at times did the Aggies show signs of the spirit and fight that made them look so good in the Ames game. The showing of the Aggies was due in a large measure to the fact that the players had been through a final examination week, and were consequently behind in practice.

The Aggies started the scoring, Van Trine getting four points on a field goal and two free throws. Hinds then tossed a field goal, making the count 6 to 0. Hawley then broke in for a counter for Drake, making the totals 6 to 2. The scoring was desultory at through the first half, with the Aggies always keeping a safe lead over their opponents. The half ended with the Aggies leading 18 to 6.

The second half was pretty much a repetition of the first section, each team scoring one more point than in the first half. Neither team showed any fight. With the team and floor work of the Ames game, the Aggies should have been able to score double the number of points that they did. The game ended 37 to 13, with the Aggies on the victors end.

The Aggies did not have any individual stars, though Johnny Clarke and Ben Hinds did some good guarding. Bill Whedon made seven field goals, but should have made several more, had he been playing in his usual form. Captain Van Trine scored four field goals and made five out of six attempts at free throws.

Hawley was the individual star for the Bulldogs. He scored 11 of the 13 points made by Drake, and was a good player on the floor. The Drake team did not show up as well as expected, and the whole team had a tendency to body checking that made the game at times fairly rough.

MISS CARLEY AT FUNSTON

Former K. S. A. C. Instructor in Boston Opera Company.

The Boston English Opera Company will come from Chicago to Camp Funston where it will give entertainments Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

In this company, Miss May Carley, formerly an instructor in the music department at the Kansas State Agricultural college, will take the leading contralto parts. From Camp Funston the company will go to Denver, Colo., and thence to California.

Hinds Brothers Showed Some Real Basketball In 35 to 32 Triumph

Jayhawkers Were Surprised by Aggressive Play of Quintet that Clevenger Built

Coming from Behind, the Aggies Overcame a Seven Point Lead and Passed the Jayhawkers, But Hamilton Men Regained Advantage at End of the Battle Royal

SPURT NEARLY WON THE SECOND

(Special to Collegian.) Lawrence, Jan. 31.—After being swept off their feet by the invaders in the first game of the championship Aggie-Kansas series here, the Jayhawkers braced and nosed the Clevenger men out of a victory in the final combat this afternoon.

Both the games were fights from the first whistle. Their short-passing game almost unscorable, the men from Manhattan surprised Jayhawkers athletes and rooters in the first contest, which went to the visitors, 36 to 23. Then came the final battle

Lawrence, Jan. 31.—The stellar playing of the two Hinds brothers won a 36 to 23 victory for the Kansas Aggies over the Kansas university players today. "Heine" Hinds, playing a forward position, bagged seven baskets, and Ben Hinds put up a defensive game that has seldom been equaled on Robinson court.

Matthews scored two field goals in the opening minutes of play, giving his team a temporary lead, but Whedon, Van Trine and G. W. Hinds, shot baskets in rapid succession, placing the Aggies in the lead.

The play of the visitors was a surprise to Jayhawkers, who had been counting on an easy victory over the supposedly green and inexperienced team from Manhattan.

when the two teams fought neck and neck for ten thrilling minutes in the last half, the game ending at one of the times when K. U. was ahead 33 to 32.

Game a Real Scrap.

It was a real fight all the way, that last game. The Clevenger men had difficulty in finding the basket in the first half, especially on free throws, but a wonderful spurt that K. U. men will talk about for days to come nearly won the Purple athletes the game in the final period.

Captain Van Trine started the scoring in the first half with a free throw. Uhrlaub tied the count, and then tossed a field goal that gave his team a two-point advantage. The Kansas kept a three and four point lead all during the half, and in the final three minutes spurted leaving the score 21 to 17 at the end of the period.

Aggies Took the Lead.

Then the Aggies began their drive. Captain Van Trine and Whedon began to find the basket, and the Aggie score crept nearer and nearer that of the Lawrence team, with the crowd on its feet pleading with the Kansas to repel the visitors' charge. Four consecutive free throws by John Clarke capped the climax, and the score was 27 to 29, with Kansas still ahead. Then Jerry Whedon tossed a field goal from long range, and the score was tied.

The roof wouldn't hardly stay on Robinson gymnasium. With both teams playing a rough and tumble game, "Scrubby" Laslett fouled, and Clarke had his chance. He made good, sending the count to 30 to 29. The Aggie lead was short-lived, for the scrappy Kansas rushed the ball down the field and Matthews made the basket that returned the heavy side of the count to the side of the Hamilton men. Clarke, with another free throw, tied the score at 31 to 31. The contest waged fast and furious until Matthews dropped in a counter from midcourt. Clarke tossed another free throw, and Miller completed the triumph with another basket, making the score 35 to 32.

SPEED UP RE-ASSIGNMENTS

No More Waiting Lines Opposite Post-offices—Deans Do Work.

What has become of the usual line opposite the post office window composed of students standing on one foot "waiting to have my assignment changed?"

Well, the students have discovered that a new plan has been made and is being carried out in regard to late assignments and reassignments. Under this new system the student goes to his dean when a change in assignment is to be made. The deans are making recommendations for reassignments and are seeing to it that when a student is being put into a closed class he has the permission of the instructor.

After this change in assignment the deans are giving one copy of the schedule to the student, sending one copy to the assigner and one to the registrar. The registrar makes out and sends all drop notices and roll cards to the heads of the departments. The schedule committee keeps the deans and the registrar informed as to any changes in classes.

The main point is that the student is not supposed to go to the registrar's office nor to see his assigner after he has seen his dean. In due time the change notices will reach the proper destinations. After students have seen their deans and have taken on late assignments or made any changes the "machinery" will take care of the rest of the adjustment.

NOT MANY IN THE RESERVES

ENROLLMENT IN THE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS

First Work Began Yesterday, When Members of the Junior Class Who Have Signed Up For the Senior Division Met With Captain O'Neill, Commandant

Men in the junior and senior classes are slow in signing up for the reserve officers' training corps. Only 34 men have agreed to take the advanced course so far, and the work began this week.

The work of the advanced course will be five hours a week. Three hours will be spent in practical work on Monday mornings. The two remaining hours will be given over to the study of texts. The senior class men meet Monday afternoons from 1 to 3 o'clock, and the juniors Thursday afternoons from 1 to 3 o'clock.

Some of the things to be studied in the theoretical work are minor tactics, field orders, map maneuvers, company administration, military history, elements of international law, property accountability, and method of obtaining supplies and equipment. Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, commandant, says:

Captain O'Neill has been appointed recruiting officer for those engineering students who have been recommended by the faculty to enlist in the reserve corps. He is expecting further instructions soon, and those who are eligible may enlist at the military office.

Engineering and veterinary students who are enlisted in the reserve corps are urged to sign up for the reserve officers' training corps. The fact that they belong to the reserve corps does not affect their status as students and they will be given the same allowance as other students. This ruling has just been made by the war department.

The men who have signed up for the advanced course of the reserve officers' training corps are M. W. Converse, R. D. Nichols, James Sparks, M. J. Anderson, J. L. McNair, B. S. Crippen, W. R. Essick, Fred Griffes, S. J. Fairchild, R. D. Macgregor, B. F. Barnes, F. M. Sisson, C. O. Chubb, J. B. Angle, W. C. Janssen, B. B. Brewer, T. H. Collins, O. T. Bonnett, W. D. Scully, C. M. Barringer, J. E. Taylor, W. A. Giles, R. W. May, Homer Cross, C. E. Hutto, J. E. Guldage, E. T. McIntosh, N. E. Dale, R. A. Axtel, C. A. Frankenhoff, E. O. Mall, C. E. Freeto, H. I. May, and G. E. Manser.

Men who wish to sign up for the officers reserve training corps are asked to report at the commandant's office in the mornings between 8 and 9 o'clock.

KAPPAS BUY WATERS' HOME

House of Former President Will Be Occupied by Sorority

The Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority has closed a deal by which it becomes the purchaser of the Dr. H. J. Waters home at 311 N. Fourteenth street. Possession of the house is to be taken May 1, when the Waters family expects to move to Kansas City, where the former college executive is managing editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star.

The Waters mansion, built in colonial style and furnished with imported tapestries and other decorations, has been one of the showplaces of Manhattan. Doctor Waters built the house three years ago, and spared no expense in making it a home of which he could well be proud.

The acquisition of the Waters home probably gives the Kappas as good a fraternity home as there is in Manhattan. It is planned to finish the third floor, and to add a sun parlor to the southwest of the living room. Above the sun parlor will be a sleeping porch.

Chaplain K. F. Nance's illustrated war lecture Friday night, 7:30. He has seen service in the trenches. Admission free. Silver offering will be received.

Bernard Anderson expects to leave tomorrow for Comiskey after a visit with his parents.

Miss Lucile Halleck returned yesterday from a visit with relatives at Abilene.

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 1, 1918.

JUST A GREAT BIG DREAM.

The combined fleets of the Allies sail up the Kell canal, raining shells and reducing fortifications. An American army of a couple of million men, landed at the eastern end of the canal, drives at Berlin, cutting a swath across Germany. Berlin is conquered, the Kaiser is caught, and Von Hindenburg, hit by surprise at his rear and surrounded, surrenders. Peace.

That looks to be the dream of a maniac. It looks, well not impossible, but highly improbable. But is it?

Five hundred workmen have been cooped up for half a year in an electrical manufacturing plant in the east. They are working, supposedly, on an Edison ray that will revolutionize warfare. What it is no one but those on the inside knows, but guesses have been made that when perfected, the ray can be directed at powder stores and mines, and that explosions will occur.

Then is the dream impossible? Airplanes, telephones and motor cars were dreams many years ago. Might not Edison be dreaming this same dream—of a conquered Germany, and then peace?

The Collegian announced the basketball results last night. There was an almost audible dropping of chins when the phone carried the 35 to 32 message to inquirers.

A QUESTION OF WHO SUFFERS.

A list of more than 500 former Aggie students who are in military service appears in this issue of The Collegian. But is K. S. A. C. doing all that she can in the war?

"Talk of patriotism," disgustedly remarked an Aggie student, the other day, when asked if his boarding house was observing the "less" days. "Talk of patriotism. Show me a college in the west that has contributed as many men to the service as old K.
S. A. C. I guess this college has suffered enough."

But is the Aggie man who made that remark the sufferer? And if this same student doesn't sacrifice, who will suffer—himself, or the Aggie man in the service who already is suffering, and who may sacrifice all this he has: his life?

that caused by flying soot from the explosion occurred.

A Freshman Rookie, The Military Police, The Guard House.

An amusing incident to any one but the college freshman involved, which might be taken either as a joke on a military police or on the freshman, occurred at Camp Funston last Saturday night.

The freshman went to Junction City with his grandfather Saturday morning and wore his cadet uniform used in military drill at the college. Over his uniform he wore a civilian's overcoat, about 6 o'clock in the evening as he was ready to return to Manhattan, the freshman was spied by a military police and arrested for wearing a mixed uniform.

The freshman tried to argue with the police and showed him the buttons on his uniform, but the police either couldn't tell the difference or didn't want to see the uniform was not that worn by a soldier. After being brought up before almost every officer in Camp Funston and showed the guard house, the freshman was finally taken before the officer of the day who promptly told him to get out as he didn't want any thing to do with him. After the ordeal the freshman returned to Manhattan about 2 o'clock Sunday morning tired and much the wiser from the experience.

Why not get that teaching position for next fall now? Last season employers asked the Department of Education, Western Reference & Band Association, for 1647 teachers in a period of twenty-four working days early in the year. NOW IS THE TIME

Frosh Is Caught Studying Transmigra- tion of Human Soul

A certain frosh on the campus has been suspected for some time of malicious actions. At last he has been exposed, and the exposition leads to an interesting story. Now frosh gentlemen are sometime known to delve deep into human mysteries such as chemistry, botany, etc. But that a plain ordinary freshman should take up the scientific study of the transmigration of the human soul is indeed a surprising arrangement of frosh genius.

Had it not been that the frosh roomed with a soph, this tale might have slumbered on down through the centuries. However the soph was the link between the freshman and this tale.

The aforesaid frosh having read the aforementioned subject had all along desired to conceal his malicious hab-bit. However a dream upset his plan, and now all is lost. This is what the soph heard as he was awakened at 1.30 A. M. Wednesday morning:

Gentlemen:

The Commission again requests that you assist it in bringing to the attention of the public the Government's urgent need for typewriter operators and for stenographers and typewriters, both men and women, tically assured of certification for appointment at salaries ranging from

FROM A SENIOR.

The senior from the freshie lad
Quite different does behave;
The former cuts his whiskers off,
The latter takes a shave.

A NEW MARCH.

The teacher put upon the board,
A dozen questions, then another.
Students filed in one by one, to "Just Before the Battle Mother."

YOU DON'T SAY?

I'm a senior old and learned,
In the Agricultural college.
If there's something I don't know—
Weil, it isn't knowledge.

HE WAS WILLING.

A maid unto her lover said,
"Forgo the weed before we wed."
"I will," the truthful freshman said,
and down he tumbled dead.

A FARMYARD CONVERSATION.

The duck was smart as smart could be,
Said he, "I'll study chemistry."
The rooster then crowed long and loud,
And told the hen to bring the shroud.

Editor of the Colm:

Say, what are you going to do about this Aggieville Racket's notice to boarding houses to "clean up on paper napkins?" Doesn't this put the honorable landlady's bailiwicks under considerable suspicion? Also, how does it come that you overlooked this obvious wheeze staring at you from the opposite page? Frantically yours, LIZZIE.

What are we going to do about it?
Why what does everyone do when he doesn't want anything done? Call a meeting and appoint a committee.
That's equal to a death sentence.

If that don't work, we would say,
"Conserve and help win the war by cleaning up on paper napkins." Now that wheat, coal and cats are winning the war, there is no reason why paper napkins should be eliminated.

Why didn't we see this obvious wheeze? That's easy. We didn't look at it.

However there is something else we did see, and we saw it about four times before we could reconcile ourselves to believe it. "Frantically yours," says this postoffice note. Ahem! And her name was Lizzie, too.

The other day a visitor was looking over the bulletin board on the standing in the beauty contest. He appeared puzzled, and was eyeing the name
"Herrick." Finally he asked, "Say, gardner, is that a fish bulletin?"

WILL GIVE A WAR LECTURE.

K. F. Nance Will Show Pictures of French Battle Front.

Chaplain K. F. Nance of the 164th depot brigade of Camp Funston, who has seen actual service on the fighting front in France and who has had some harrowing experiences, will give an illustrated war lecture at the Christian church Friday evening. Admission will be free.

Mr. Nance is a graduate of Drake university and of Harvard. He served as a minister of a church in Hal-fax and for four years was pastor of a large church in Hutchinson, Kan.
At the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the American ambulance corps.
On his return to this country he entered Belgian relief work, and has since served two well known chautauqua bureaus.

In his lectures Mr. Nance uses the views which he himself gathered while on the firing line. He also has many war relics which are on display in the show window of Wolf Bros.
store on Poyntz avenue.

LOSES ONE AND WINS ONE.

Manhattan Loses Game to Clay Center Wins From Concordia.

The Clay Center high school basket ball five won from Manhattan high school at Clay Center, Friday, in a hard fought game, 33 to 28.

Clay Center won over the Manhattan five by their superior weight as the lighter team from Manhattan showed more speed and real basket ball ability than did Clay Center.

From Clay Center Manhattan went to Concordia where they beat the high school five there 47 to 18. Concordia has a big husky team but the men from Manhattan had no trouble taking the game because they were slow. Worster at right forward starred for Manhattan. Willis was at left forward and Captain Frank at right guard also played good games.

Concordia plays a return game in Manhattan three weeks from last Saturday. Friday of this week they play Salina high and Saturday night they clash with Topeka. This is Manhattan's first game with Topeka but they are laying for Salina as Salina took the basket ball tournament at K. S.
A. C. last year.

Captain Nielson of the football team of 1917 at K. U. has enlisted in the aviation service. This makes four of last fall's football team from the university, who are now in the army.
What Aggie students would like to know, however, is when Pringle is going to enlist.

Three basketball teams in the valley are contending for the basketball championship, according to the Kansas City Star. They are the Kansas Aggies, University of Missouri and University of Kansas.

From the athletic point of view it is interesting to note that from general statistics gathered from the selective service examinations, the general physical fitness of the city men tested much higher than that of the men from the country. Is athletics the reason?

The game here last Saturday night was too slow to be rated as even a good practice game for the big contest at K. U. Wednesday and yesterday. The Drake forwards were unable to throw goals consistently, and their lack of teamwork and erratic plays took the "pep" out of the Aggies, or the final score might have been much larger.

It is said of Whedon, the big basketball center is contemplating joining the navy. Such action is improbable since he has enrolled for agricultural journalism. However such an action would seriously handicap the team. Whedon promises to develop into a real star.

John V. Keene, one of those taking wrestling under E. A. Bauer, quit school last semester. The wrestling class loses in him one of its best wrestlers.

MANHATTAN RANKS FOURTEENTH

13 Other Kansas Cities Ahead in War Stamp Sale.

According to a statement issued of reports coming to P. W. Goebel, state director for Kansas for the sale of baby bonds and stamps, Manhattan ranks fourteenth in the sale of war saving stamps among the cities of the state, and twentieth in the sale of thrift stamps. The statement shows 3,060 war saving stamps at $4.12 each having been sold in this city and 1,270 thrift stamps at 25 cents each. Topeka and Kansas City, Kan., head the list for the state.

FIND AN AGGIE WAR BREAD

KAFIR IS A NEW INGREDIENT THAT WILL DO MUCH TO DISPLACE WHEAT

Flavor of the Finished Bread Is Good Says Miss Leila Dunton, Assistant Professor of Milling Industry—Rolled Oats and Potato Bread Also Good

Kafir bread will become a popular conservation bread unless the kafir crop is a failure this year, believes Miss Leila Dunton, assistant professor of milling industry.

Kafir can be satisfactorily milled in a wheat mill when some slight changes are made in the system, as can also corn and rye. No special process is necessary when making bread flour before the dough is made. The dough is similar to that made entirely of wheat flour, but rises less. The flavor of the finished bread is particularly good.

Kafir meal can be used to replace from 20 to 25 per cent of flour in bread recipes. In a recent experiment in making conservation breads, Miss Dunton made bread from kafir meal, corn flour, peanut flour, cottonseed meal, corn meal, rolled oats, and potatoes. Of these, kafir made the best bread, but it was speckled because it is impossible to mill out the dark spot on the kafir grain.

Peanut flour and cottonseed meal are difficult to procure and since in addition to this they make a bread with a characteristic flavor, they are not likely to become popular as wheat substitutes.

Rolls of oats make a delicious bread, points out Miss Dunton. In making bread with rolled oats, use two cups of boiling water, one-half cup of brown sugar, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one yeast cake one-fourth cup of lukewarm water, 1½ cups of rolled oats, and five cups of flour. Pour the boiling water over the rolled oats, salt, and sugar, and let the mixture stand until lukewarm. Dissolve the yeast in the lukewarm water, add the dissolved yeast and flour to the lukewarm rolled oats, and let the mixture rise until it is light. Then knead it thoroughly and turn it into two buttered bread pans. When the loaves have doubled their volume, put them into a moderate oven and bake them.

Another palatable new bread tried out by Miss Dunton is made with mashed potatoes. In making this bread, use five cups of mashed potatoes, 2½ pounds of flour, 1½ tablespoonfuls of salt, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, two cakes of compressed yeast or one cake of yeast foam, and four tablespoonfuls of water. When the potato is lukewarm, add the yeast rubbed smooth with the water. Add sugar, salt, and one scant cup of flour. Mix them thoroughly and let the mixture rise until light. Then add the remainder of the flour, kneading thoroughly until a smooth, stiff, elastic dough has been formed. Let it rise until it has trebled its volume. Then divide it into four loaves, knead it, and place it into baking pans. Allow loaves to rise until double in volume before baking them.

PLAN BIG GARDEN DRIVE

Aggie Specialists Are Working Up New Movement

Three series of gardening conferences have been planned in 40 of the larger Kansas towns by A. C. Hartenbower, superintendent of institutes and extension schools of the division of extension of the Kansas State Agricultural college, for the purpose of stimulating garden production and utilization of garden stuffs by the amateur gardener.

The first series is being conducted by George O. Greene, specialist in horticulture, and L. C. Williams, assistant in club work. At the first four meetings held in Wellington, Arkansas City, Independence, and Oswego, there was a total attendance of 1,400.

The second series will be held in April and May when the cultivation of the garden and methods of control of insect enemies and diseases will be considered. At the third series to be held in June, July and August, methods for home canning and drying of vegetables and fruits will be studied. Gardening and canning clubs will be organized and local leaders will be selected at each point.

PROF. COCHEL IN HOOVER WORK

Animal Husbandry Head Called to Washington.

A meeting of the national advisory committee on beef cattle has been called in Washington to confer with the American National Live Stock association, and the conference of farm organizations.

W. A. Cocbel, professor of animal husbandry, is a member of this committee. Other members are Dwight B. Heard of Phoenix, Ariz.; A. S. Gage San Antonio, Tex.; Warren T. McCray of Kentland, Ind., and E. L. Burke of Omaha, Nebr., chairman.

The members of this committee were appointed by Herbert C. Hoover food administrator, upon the recommendation of prominent live stock men of the country. Its duty is to confer with and advise El P. Cpton, United States Meat inspector, upon the production of beef cattle, and beef. Problems confronting the cattle men will be discussed.

BREAKS COLLEGIAN RECORD

Miss Estel Wollman Sets Up New Mark in Copy Contest.

First place in The Collegian contest last semester was won by Miss Estel Wollman, special in industrial journalism. Miss Wollman had 716 inches of copy accepted, which breaks all records for the contest. The former mark was made by C. P. Miller, special in industrial journalism, who had succeeded in having 415 inches of copy printed last spring.

Walter Nelbarger, editor of the "Written by a Freshman" column and author of a number of feature stories narrating experiences of a freshman was second with 497 inches of copy accepted. He did not enter the contest until late in the semester. Henry T. Enns, sports editor, who was ineligible to compete because he was a member of the staff, submitted 483 inches of acceptable copy.

Other of the leading news writers ranked as follows: Miss Ruth Henderson, 281 inches; C. P. Miller, 274 inches; Miss Velma Carson, 219 inches; C. J. Medlin, 212 inches; Miss Doris Gate, 217 inches and Miss Gertrude Norman 196 inches. Seventeen reporters were in the race.

ENTERTAIN MEN AT FUNSTON

College Has Arranged For a Lecture Course at Army Camp

For the entertainment of soldiers at Camp Funston, persons from the college are participating in the lecture circuits which are being conducted.

The 12 Y. M. C. A. buildings at the camp have been divided for lecture purposes into 10 zones. The authorities obtain an appointment for any person or company of persons who have a lecture or performance to present which might be of interest to the soldiers, and that person or company is booked for one entertainment in each zone. One man can appear in two zones in one evening as the entertainments begin at 7:30 o'clock.

A number of the college faculty members already have lectured at the camp. G. A. Dean, professor of entomology has given an illustrated lecture on "Belgium as It Was." A. A. Potter, dean of the division of mechanic arts, has talked to the engineers. W. H. Burr, director of rural service, extension division, addressed the soldiers on "My Neighbor." F. L. Snow, instructor in industrial Journalism, has presented "Native Customs of South-Central Africa." J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics, will go through the camp in February with addresses on "Lincoln." Miss Ceora Lanham and Miss Osceola Burr of Manhattan have entertained with readings and impersonations.

Talks on various subjects have been presented by Professors Don L. Burk and M. G. Burton.

The appointments with persons from the college are made through the office of W. H. Burr, director of rural service.

"It should be made known to all organizations of the college that any performance they may present for the entertainment of the soldiers will be greatly appreciated," said Mr. Burr. "All expenses are paid. As a suggestion I would say that entertainments containing something of humorous appeal to the soldier who is seeking amusement, and this type of performance may be gotten up with little difficulty by a number of entertainers."

H. H. Frizzell arrived this morning from Oklahoma to visit at the Alpha Theta Chi fraternity.

AGGIES PROVED THEMSELVES

SERIES WITH KANSAS JAYHAWKERS WAS AN EYE-OPENER TO VALLEY SPORT FOLLOWERS.

Cleaver Men now are in Third Place, With Kansas and Missouri Ahead—Van Trine Crew Hopes for Revenge When Jayhawkers Come Here.

	G	W	L	Pct.
Missouri	4	4	0	1.000
Kansas	5	4	1	.800
Kansas Aggies	4	3	1	.500
Washington	3	1	2	.333
Drake	3	0	3	.000
Ames	3	0	3	.000
Nebraska	0	0	0	.000

If there is a Kansas Aggie student who doesn't have faith in his school's basketball team, that individual is keeping pretty well under cover. Since five supposedly green Purple athletes went right into the heart of K. U. and brought back one victory, putting up a real fight for the other game, basketball stock has risen 100 per cent.

The question now resolves itself into one of how many games it will take the Aggies to perfect their teamwork to such a degree that they can bowl over Missouri and Kansas, probably their two strongest opponents in the dash for the Missouri valley title. Both the Missouri and the Kansas contests come late in the season, and are on the Aggie court, giving rise to the prediction that the Cleaver men should have little trouble in making four conquests.

Want to Meet K. U. Again. Especially does the Aggie quintet want to even up matters with K. U. when the Jayhawkers come to Manhattan. While the series at Lawrence resulted in an even break, the men are not convinced that the Hamilton men are a better team, and will attempt to prove their point on the home court.

In the first game, the Aggies swamped the Jayhawks. In the second game, the K. U. men came back strong, but it was inability to hit the basket that lost the game for the Aggies. The inability of K. U. to defeat the Aggies on the K. U. court, a court notoriously hard to play upon unless a player is used to it, makes it look to the Aggie followers like two Aggie victories when the Jayhawkers come here.

Washington Is Next. The Aggies have disposed of Drake and Ames. Ames was supposedly a stiff customer, but the Aggies won easily. Friday and Saturday the Aggies meet a real test in the Washington university team. While Washington is usually weak, the close scores to which they held Missouri, indicate a much stronger team than usual. The results of these games will also give the Aggies a line on the strength of the Tiger squad.

While Missouri has four veterans back, they were held to a close score by Drake, just nosing out two points ahead. This would indicate a lack of strength in the Missouri team. They come here for the series, a big advantage for the Aggies.

The race looks like a struggle between the Aggies, K. U., and Missouri, with the Aggies as favorites. Missouri is the unknown quantity that may upset the Aggies, but with the right kind of support and no bad luck, the Aggies should go through the season with flying colors.

VETS WIN GAME BY FORFEIT.

Civil Engineers Had Outlier on Their Team.

The Vets and A. H. teams won in the second round of the intramural basketball games.

There was very little scoring done in the A. H.-Ag. game, the A. H.'s finally winning by a score of 9 to 4.

The C. E. and Vet game was much closer, and the close of the game found the C. E.'s ahead, 24 to 22. The Vets protested the game, however, because the C. E.'s had one General Science player playing with them. The protest was allowed, and the game went to the Vets.

Doctor Jardine at Franklin.

Dr. W. M. Jardine, dean of the division of agriculture, gave a talk to the Franklin county teachers' association at Ottawa. Dr. Jardine attended the meeting of the council of defense at Topeka, February 1.

HOME ART EXHIBIT COMING.

Prominent Eastern Schools are to be Represented.

The home art department will conduct exhibits representing work from prominent schools of design in the first two weeks in March. The schools to be represented are the Rhode Island School of Design and the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts. "The work shown in this exhibit will be of the same nature as that which the art classes will be studying and I hope especially that all home economic students may attend," said Miss Grace Palmer, assistant in domestic art.

Another exhibit to be held in the last two weeks of April, will consist of paintings from the Kansas Federation of Arts, prints from the American Federation of Arts, and specimens of pottery. These exhibits will be free to all students.

Before the largest crowd that ever watched a game in the inter-fraternity basketball series, the Sigma Nus triumphed on the hitherto undefeated Aztex five last night, 25 to 11. The two teams are now tied for the lead.

The five fought evenly during the first half, neither side having a decided advantage when the period closed with the Sigs in the lead, 7 to 6.

With the beginning of the second half, the offensive of the Sigma Nus improved. Youngmyer and Anderson, both former Wichita high school players, found the basket for counter attack. The entire Sigma Nu team started, with the two forwards doing all the goal-shooting.

Blair and Jennings, who had a weak ankle, helped stave off the Sigma Nu attack in the early part of the game. Cowell also was prominent in the defensive.

Jennings, Youngmyer and Meeker all were members of last year's all-Kansas high school quintet, Meeker being captain of the team.

FITZ AN EXPLOSION INSPECTOR.

Government Appoints Milling Head to Look Over Wheat.

L. A. Fitz, professor of milling industry, left Friday for Wichita where he addresses various clubs on the subject "Prevention of Fire in Mills and Elevators." He will later go to Oklahoma City, Okla., and Fort Worth, Tex., for the same purpose.

Professor Fitz was recently appointed specialist of grain dust explosion investigations in cooperation with the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture.

CURRY ATHLETIC PRESIDENT.

Literary Society Elects Officers for Spring Semester.

The Athenian Literary society elected officers for the second semester at their meeting Saturday night. Those elected were D. E. Curry, president; Fred Griffie, vice president; Ralph Foster, recording secretary; M. P. Schlager, corresponding secretary; Turner Barger, treasurer; J. E. Taylor, critic; LeRoy Miller, marshal; S. P. Shields, assistant marshal.

TRAINING CORPS ORGANIZED

CAPTAIN O'NEILL EFFECTS REORGANIZATION OF COLLEGE TRAINING BODY.

All of Yesterday Morning's Drill Period Taken Up With Details of the Change—Fifty-Two Take Special Work in Military Science.

When Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, commandant, called the cadet corps to attention, yesterday morning in Nichols gymnasium, the 300 or more students enrolled in military science automatically became members of the reserve officers' training corps.

A general shakeup of the entire regiment began at once. The old companies that composed the two battalions last year were disbanded, and the men were ordered to report to cadet officers who had charge of their division which corresponded to the division under which they are enrolled in college. Each cadet signed on a card his name, year in college, number years of previous drill, and what ranks he had held.

Then came the organization of the new companies. The students in the division of agriculture were formed into three companies, one of sophomores and two of freshmen. The general science and engineers were classed together and formed in one company of sophomores and two of freshmen. The school of agriculture men were divided into two companies.

Eighteen more men have joined the advanced section of the reserve officers' training corps bringing the total up to 52 men. Those who have signed up since last Thursday are J. E. Williamson, M. P. Schlager, L. G. Hudson, T. L. Stuart, C. W. Hestwood, H. W. Snell, C. C. Key, Ira Rogers, Robert Kerr, Jr., W. D. Denholm, W. H. Borland, J. F. Eggerman, A. M. Harvey, W. T. Foreman, G. A. Cauffman, D. C. Thayer, Frank Collins, and Nelson Anderson.

Engineers Who Have Signed.

Men in the engineering department who have been recommended by the faculty to enlist in the reserve corps may sign up at the commandant's office. Twenty four of these men have enlisted. They are R. E. Marrs, G. W. Hamilton, H. E. Bell, C. A. Frankenhoff, J. L. Puckett, J. I. Brady, J. A. Cook, S. L. Hunt, C. C. Knisley, G. A. Kauffman, L. H. Bonnel, A. J. Brubaker, Ralph Mickel, H. J. Helmbump, C. R. Witham, Edwin Adee, G. W. McCracken, F. J. Maas, W. D. Scully, R. S. Knox, Frank Carr, L. G. Hudson, O. R. Miller, and W. T. Foreman.

NO DANGER OF COAL FAMINE

College Has 15 Carloads of Fuel on Hand, Mr. Lund Says.

With coal famines prevalent almost everywhere, the college has plenty of fuel. There are probably 15 carloads of coal stored by the college, and more is coming each day, Jacob Lund, superintendent of the heat and power department, says.

"We have had plenty of fuel all the time," Mr. Lund said last night.

The five ton truck which has been carrying coal for the college power plant will soon be displaced by a new 12-ton White truck that has recently been purchased by the heat and power department. The big truck which had been loaned by the company, will be returned.

The new 400 horse power boiler, that has been set up in the south boiler room is now in full operation. It is equipped with two Jones underfeed stokers, a mechanical soot blower, and a feed water regulator. Other equipment and instruments will soon be added to it in order to make the boiler thoroughly modern.

IS ELECTED BROWNING HEAD.

Miss Margaret Robinson Chosen President of Literary Society.

The Browning Literary society elected new officers at the regular meeting Saturday afternoon. They are Margaret Robinson, president; Buelah Johnson, vice president; Myrtle Gunzelman, recording secretary; Elizabeth Whetstone, corresponding secretary; and Quinta Cates, treasurer.

Miss Emma Herron returned this morning from a week's visit with friends at Hutchinson.

LOANED LIBRARIAN COMING BACK

Miss Warnock Has Been Helping in Washington Library.

Miss Lucile Warnock, assistant in charge of the loan department of the library, will return this week from Washington, D. C., where she has been working in the library during the month of January. Miss Warnock will visit her sister in Chicago and will stop off at her home in Little York, Ill.

SOPHS WILL MEET TODAY.

Class Session to be Held in Basement of Library.

The sophomore class will hold a meeting for the nomination of officers Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in the basement of the library. Members of the class are asked to turn in snap shots for Royal Purple to S. D. Thacker, manager of the sophomore section in the class book.

'GERMANY' WANTS TRACK MEN

Aggie Coach Issues Call for Varsity Material.

Come, all ye track men, and report for the inter-class and Varsity track meet, to be held February 11 at 7:30 o'clock in Nichols gymnasium.

This meet is held for a double purpose—to give "Germany" Schulz a chance to look over his Varsity material, and to let the four classes fight it out for the supremacy in track athletics.

Freshmen are urged to come out strong for this meet. Although they are not eligible for Varsity competition, the yearlings can come out and let the coaches get a line on their ability for next year's team. "Germany" is already looking forward to a team formed from his freshman squad of this year, and now is a good time for all freshmen with track records or aspirations, to test themselves.

The first Varsity meet of the year is with K. U. It will be held here and comes on February 18. K. U. has a strong team, according to the dope, but "Germany" thinks the Aggies have a chance of copying the victory.

HELPED IN GOVERNMENT WORK.

Professor Swanson Has Returned from Big Trip.

C. O. Swanson, associate professor of chemistry, returned Saturday from a trip to Omaha, St. Louis, and Kansas City. Professor Swanson, who is a specialist in grain dust explosion prevention for the United States department of agriculture, has been engaged in government work the past week in these cities.

SHORT COURSEERS TO WICHITA.

Trip May be Taken to Big Tractor Show February 21.

The engineering division of the college is planning to have as many as possible of the short course engineers attend the second annual Wichita Tractor show February 21 to 24. Yesterday evening at 5 o'clock a special meeting was held to discuss the question of transportation from Manhattan to that point.

HAS MEAT INSPECTING JOB.

Lieutenant Sheff, 17, Commissioned in Medical Division.

Lieut. Warren R. Sheff, 17, spent Wednesday and Thursday visiting friends in Manhattan. Lieutenant Sheff received his commission from the medical division last spring and is now on his way to Chicago where he will be stationed as a government meat inspector.

ANOTHER POEM BY CRAWFORD.

"Memory," Written by Journalism Department Head, Appears in Overland. The current number of the Overland Monthly contains a poem, "Memory," by N. A. Crawford, head of the department of industrial journalism and printing.

LATER MEETING FOR Y. W.

When Doctor Schwesler is Here, Services Begin at 5 o'clock.

Y. W. C. A. vesper services will be held at 5 o'clock instead of 4 o'clock on the Thursdays that Dr. Raymond Schwesler of Lawrence will be here. Doctor Schwesler will speak this Thursday on "Weaving a Bridge of Sunbeams." Special music has been obtained for this meeting.

JANUARY WAS COLD AND DRY

TEMPERATURE WAS DOWN TO 19 BELOW—PRECIPITATION 3.63 INCHES

On Thirteen Days the Mercury Went Below the Zero Mark, records Kept by the College Show—January of 1888 Was Colder Fourteen Zero Days

The last five months have broken the drouth record for a similar period in the 60 year history of the weather record of the college. The precipitation in September, October, November, December, and January was 3.63 inches, which is 4.41 inches below normal for the five months.

The month recently closed was the coldest January with but two exceptions in the history of the agricultural college records which date back to 1858. It was the coldest January since 1886. The mean temperature for the month was 17.03 degrees, or 11 degrees below normal.

The lowest temperature was 18 degrees below zero on January 12, while the lowest for the month since 1858 was 28 below, January 8, 1912. The snow fall was 6.75 inches which is above normal.

The number of days on which the thermometer registered zero or below was 13, which has been exceeded only once during the same month at this station. In January, 1888, there were 14.

BAN ON SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Lack of Fuel Holds Up Dances and Other Affairs

Again the dances and other social functions of the college students have been placed on the shelf. This time it is Uncle Sam who ordains that the students do without their forms of recreation.

Dean H. L. Kent, chairman of the student affairs committee, was notified last week that the fuel administration would not tolerate any gatherings in public auditoriums. Many college functions are being held up pending the withdrawal of the order.

It is thought that as soon as the coming of warmer weather, the fuel situation will be relieved, and the ban will be lifted. However, that is up to Uncle Sam.

PURPLE MASQUE INITIATES SIX

"Man on Box" Players Rewarded by Fraternity.

The Purple Masque held initiation services at Harrison's hall Thursday for six persons who succeeded in the "Man on the Box." The initiates were Miss Helen Lawson, freshman in home economics; Elmer Gilbreath, freshman in general science; Floyd Work, junior in civil engineering; Lloyd L. Hamilton, freshman in industrial journalism; and William A. Giles, junior in industrial journalism. A dinner followed the initiation services.

WEBSTERS ELECT NEW OFFICERS.

W. D. Denholm is President of Literary Society This Year.

The Webster Literary society chose officers for the second semester Saturday evening. W. D. Denholm was elected president. The other officers were R. D. Nichols, vice president; George Gingrich, recording secretary; C. H. Honeywell, corresponding secretary; Earl Frost, treasurer; B. Q. Shields, marshal; W. H. Borland, assistant marshal. Members of the program committee are J. H. Moyer, Walter Nelbarger, and H. D. Finon.

MANHATTAN DEFEATS SALINA

Local Quintet Wins Easy Game from Visitors by Score of 39 to 20

In a fast and smooth game last night the Manhattan high school quintet won from Salina high with a score of 39 to 20 in the Manhattan high school auditorium. This was the first game of the season between Salina and Manhattan.

The game was Manhattan's from the start. Salina was minus their regular center and were handicapped to some extent by this loss. Manhattan was in the lead throughout the entire game. Both teams were of the same weight and played almost the same style of game but the Salina five were unable to break through the superior defense put up by the Manhattan boys.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1918.

CONGRATULATIONS, "CLEV."

The Kansas Aggie basketball team has arrived.

With everyone dubious that the team Clevenger has been building would even make a showing in the valley this year, the quintet sprung a surprise, winning one battle from K. U.
on the Lawrence court and putting up an even fight for the other contest.

There were few who thought the team probable. Captain Van Trine and John Clarke were the only players who had seen college service as basketballers when the season began, Clevenger didn't even have any substitutes left over.

So the Aggie coach got down to work. He persuaded "Bill" Whedon and J. B. Hinds, who didn't even have on basketball suits last year, to try out. The pair soon were regulars, and with "Heinie" Hinds and the two veterans, Clevenger began to build.

The results are evident and point to but one conclusion—surely concurred in by every Aggie student—that Zorah Godwin Clevenger is the best coach in the Missouri valley.

Anyway, says the color and design expert, a green Purple quintet wouldn't last long anyway, because the two colors aren't a bit complementary.

TIME FOR ANOTHER MOVE.

A great deal was expected of the Aggie women when a Red Cross room was furnished in the domestic science building, but a very little bit has been done.

Are the girls expecting to quietly sit back, allowing the men to do their part, and doing none themselves? No.
Aggie women are not—not in this age of suffragism.

Every man in the institution is atting with a feeling that he is out of place. But he is listening to the wisest men in the republic, who say,
"College man, stay in college."

A large number of men are voluntarily drilling the reserve corps. What are the women going to do?

SCHOOL OF AG

Elmer Hopp, last year a senior in the school of agriculture, is back in school this semester and is working in the milling department.

The candidates for graduation from the school of agriculture are 14 in number. Three are girls and eleven boys. This is the largest graduation class in the history of the school.

The seniors of the school of agriculture met Saturday afternoon.

Miss Hope Oliver of the third year school of agriculture has quit school and is now attending the Manhattan business college.

Walter Coates returned to his home

GAVE HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS

DR. JARDINE MAKES LIST OF PRACTICAL METHODS

Says That What Kansas Does as a Leading Wheat State Influences
Every State in Union

A dozen concrete practical suggestions for increasing the food production of Kansas in the year 1918 were made by Dr. W. M. Jardine, director of the Kansas Agricultural Experiment station and chairman of the Kansas state council of defense, before the war conference held in Topeka recently.

Dr. Jardine pointed out that what Kansas does concerns every state in the Union and the remotest provinces of this country's allies, this being a leading state in the production of wheat and being well up in the matter of corn.

These are the specific suggestions made by Dean Jardine for Kansas food production:

1. Secure seed as soon as possible for spring planting and see that this seed is of good vitality.
2. Plant only spring crops that have been tried out and are known to be adapted to conditions.
3. Plant a normal acreage of corn in eastern Kansas.
4. The increasing acreage of kafir, milo, feterita, Sudan grass and cane, amounting to a total of over two and a half million acres, should be maintained, if possible.
5. Start the preparation of the ground for spring crops as early as possible and prepare the land as well as the labor conditions will permit.
6. In case of failure of wheat in parts of western Kansas, a part of the ground upon which wheat fails should be summer fallowed for the wheat crop of 1919.
7. Maintain the same interest in gardens and the canning of vegetables and fruit that was manifested
last spring.
8. Fruit growers should prune out dead branches and unnecessary wood in order to permit economical use of spray material.
9. Poultry production should be maintained and increased if possible.
Hatch early, hatch as many chickens as last year, more if possible, and give them more careful attention to the end of decreasing the death rate.
10. Raise more hogs. The government has asked that Kansas increase pork production 25 per cent in 1918.
The farmer who bred four sows in 1917 should breed five in 1918. Those who bred more or less can easily calculate what their increase should be.
11. The number of sheep should be increased. The present trend of prices indicate that the production of both mutton and wool will be extremely profitable.
12. The cattle situation is not very satisfactory. There will be an inability upon the part of the consumers to purchase well finished beef.
This indicates that it is probably better for cattlemen to handle lighter and thinner cattle with a view of having them consume the feeds that are grown on Kansas farms.
13. The tendency to break up large areas of grass and pasture lands, as well as stands of alfalfa, in order to plant cereals and secure the benefit of the present high prices, should be discouraged. More forage should be raised to furnish feed for live stock.

A newspaper report of the Aggie-K. U. game says: "Laslett and Bunn kept the powerful George Hinds under control today." Sounds like Heinie might be some giant doesn't?

One feature of the games at the University of Kansas was the number of fouls in the second game. Twenty-eight fouls were made, and but 10 of these were credited to the Aggies.

It is now beyond question as to whether the Aggies are seriously after the valley championship. The results at K. U. were decidedly in favor of the Aggies. Not only were they playing on a strange court, but they made the most goals and had the smaller number of fouls to their credit. Their chomping at Lawrence will give the men confidence now, and in the future games the opponents will know they are up against a real valley contender.

Many Wildcat lips were smacking when the news came Wednesday night that the Aggies had gone into the heart of K. U. and licked 'em on their own court.

The rule against opening the gym at nights seems to have severely affected the attendance at the basketball games at K. U. The report is that the crowds at the Aggie games were small.

According to the athletic authorities, no such rule has been put in effect here that will keep the Aggies from having the games at night.

The papers say that Ben Hinds put up one of the prettiest games of guarding seen on Robinson court in the first game of the K. U.-Kansas Aggie games. This is a big boost for Ben and another example of Coach Cleveland's ability to pick and develop real athletic material.

Ralph Van Trine, the Aggie captain this year, is not a sensational player, but the other fellow can usually depend upon Van to play the floor in such a manner that he will be ready to pass the ball whenever the other player is uncovered.

The K. U. papers said before the series with the Aggies, that the series would probably settle the valley title. We say that it did, and in favor of the Aggies. On their own court, K. U. failed to defeat a supposedly green Aggie team. What will happen when we get them on the Aggie court?

MISS BROWN CONDUCTS SURVEY

Household Food Situation Being Developed by State Leader

A household food survey is being made in the 13 Kansas counties having emergency home demonstration agents working under the supervision of Miss Frances L. Brown, state leader at the college.

Fifty to 75 representative families in each county will be asked to furnish figures on foods being used by them. These figures and those furnished by representative families in other states, will make possible an estimate which will be used as a guide in the conservation and utilization of food supplies for this country and the countries associated with the United States in the war. In no instance will data regarding individual families be published.

FUNSTON BAND COMES AGAIN

341 Artillery Musicians to Play At College Auditorium.

The 341st Field Artillery band which gave such a delightful concert in Manhattan a short time ago will appear at the college auditorium Friday, Feb. 15, in a new and larger program.

Mr. Chas. Adams, who made such a hit at the former concert, and also some of the other professional entertainers now at Camp Funston will be on the bill, making it one of the strongest productions of its kind that has been in Manhattan for a long time.

An admission charge of 25 cents will be made and it is hoped that all who enjoyed the free performance will attend this one.

The concert is being given for the benefit of the Base Hospital Entertainment Fund which provides musical instruments, games and reading matter for the 2,000 men in the hospital. However, contrary to the usual benefit plan, the price of admission is low and the entertainment of a very high order.

Further announcement will be made in Monday's paper.

R. A. Seaton, professor of applied mechanics and machine design, left Sunday for Washington, D. C. to take up his position as captain in the Ordnance reserve corps.

KANSAS COMMENT.

Sometimes mud looks better than paved roads, to a farmer.—Jewell Republican.

When you ask for a "good" five cent cigar these days, the clerk always takes a second look at you to see if you really mean it, or are just kidding him.—Marysville Advocate.

A colored woman went to a bank to make a savings deposit. "Why don't you take out a baby bond?" the cashier inquired patriotically. "Get away, man!" she replied, "you know I ain't got no baby."—Beloit Gazette.

It takes more brains to be a successful crook than it does to be a successful honest man, so before starting take a careful invoice of yourself.—Deacon Bert Walker.

The modern home has been variously defined but right now it may be said to be a mere coaling-station, for more reasons than one. . . . Modern conveniences are putting a terrible strain on their right to the name these zero days. . . . There are plenty of optimists in the world but one who smiles over frozen water pipes is looked upon with suspicion. He might be off in his head you know.—Mrs. Homer Hoch.

Lightless nights, boy flashlights.—Kittell's.

Donald Ibert has gone to Salina where he has enrolled in the Wesleyan business college.

HOLTON PROMOTED TO DEAN

BOARD OF ADMINISTRATION HONORS DIRECTOR OF SUMMER SCHOOL.

New Dean Is the Seventh to Sit in the Council of Deans, Which Shapes the Policies of the College—Due to Summer School Advance

With the appointment of E. L. Holton, professor of education, as the dean of the summer school a seventh administrative officer has been added to the council of deans.

Professor Holton has been director of the summer school of the college since 1910. The establishment of the office of dean of the summer session in place of director comes as the result of the growing importance of the summer term of college work. The director of this term has charge of the students' assignments and their work and all duties that correspond to those of the deans.

Summer Work Important
The work of the summer school completely connects with that of the rest of the year. The college does not have one set of rules and regulations for the commonly term regular session and another for the summer term.

Bearing the title of director, the head of the summer school has not formerly been present at the meetings of the council of deans. As the summer term has become more closely united with the fall and spring terms it has been found necessary to coordinate the three on an equal basis.

Enrollment an Increase.
"Matters come up which concern the students as a whole," said Acting President J. T. Willard, "and the summer students as well. More and more who are enrolled here are staying through the summer term and are shortening their courses. Each year there is a greater number of regular students who attend and the director logically should be a member of the council of deans."

"Professor Holton is in charge of the bureau of recommendations here and represents the college widely in that way. He has a large acquaintance among high school superintendents throughout the state and the largest acquaintance of any faculty member here among men of education throughout the country."

Members of the Council.
This action by the board of administration carries a substantial increase in salary as well as membership in the council of deans.

The council of deans now consists of Dr. J. T. Willard, acting president and dean of the college; Dr. W. A. Jardine, dean of agriculture; A. A. Foster, dean of engineering; Mrs. Mary Platte Van Vleet, dean of home economics; Edward L. Johnson, dean of the college; and E. L. Price, acting dean of general science and Edwin L. Holton, dean of the summer session. The council handles many matters of administrative importance.

Dean Holton is a graduate of Indiana university, and has pursued graduate study both there and in Columbia university. In the latter institution he has practically completed his work for the degree of doctor of philosophy.

DIVISIONAL TEAMS TO CLASH

Close Contests Are Expected in Friday and Saturday Games.

Besides the two games with Washington this week-end there will be some good games between the divisional teams both afternoons.

The divisional teams are taking an interest in the race for championship and some good games are being played between the contestants.

Friday afternoon, the M. E.'s will play the Vets, and the A's will play the School of Ags. Saturday afternoon the C. E.'s will play the A's and the A-H's will play the General Seniors.

On Visit to Kansas City.
C. F. Baker, professor of architecture, left Thursday for Kansas City where he will attend a meeting of the American Institute of Architects. He will later go to Leavenworth as an architectural advisor to the building committee of the soldier's community house.

CLASS TRACK MEET MONDAY

Athletes Will Mix in Runs and Field Events.

Class athletic directors of last fall semester should have the names of their representatives in the inter-class and Varsity meets in before Monday noon, February 11, according to "Germany" Schulz, track coach.

The meet will consist of twelve events, starting at 7:30 o'clock. The events will be: 30 yard low hurdles, 30 yard dash, shot put, mile run, 30 yard high hurdles, high jump, 440 yard dash, 880 yard run, 220 yard dash, pole vault, 2 mile run, mile relay.

All men who have ever run or participated in any track meets are asked to be out for this event. It will be a good chance for the freshmen to show their ability and to help out their class, Coach Schulz believes.

SCHEDULE CO-ED DEBATES

Warrensburg Normals and Kansas Wesleyans to be Met by Aggies

Women's debates with Kansas Wesleyan university and with the Warrensburg Normal have been scheduled for the second semester. The debate with Kansas Wesleyan university will be held the first of April and that with Warrensburg Normal will take place the first of May.

The squad for the Kansas Wesleyan debate is already at work and a good debate is promised. The subject is the adoption of a permanent policy of government price fixing.

Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English and debate coach, was asked for permission to publish a debate on practically the same subject between K. S. A. C. and Warrensburg last year. This debate will appear in the 1917-1918 volume of the Debaters' Handbook which will come out this winter.

Those who were placed on the Kansas Wesleyan squad were Miss Gusie, Miss E. Morrison, Miss Gladys Gall, Miss Mary Hill, Miss Myrtle Gurselman, Miss Ada Robertson, Miss Marguerite Hammerly, Miss Clementine Paddelford, and Miss Jamie Cameron.

Those who will begin work on the Warrensburg Normal debate in two weeks are Miss Lola Sloop, Mrs. Mollie Moser, Miss Shoup, Miss Gladys Addy, Miss Dorothy Lush, Miss Lola Chaffee, Miss Anna Roenig, Miss Lucille Harbaugh, Miss Lucille Heiser, and Miss Ruth Blair.

DRAFTED, BUT NOT SORRY.

Aggie Student, Called to Colors, Says "Somebody's Got to Go."

"Somebody's got to go. I guess it might as well be me as anyone." That was the optimistic statement of Horace Wilkins, sophomore in agriculture, who has been notified that he is to report at Camp Funston on February 23, as one-half of the Riley county contingent to finish up the first draft.

Wilkins received his notice yesterday. He is to hold himself in readiness to go to the camp within 24 hours, he said last night.

A WOMAN JOURNALIST COMING.

Feature Writer for Kansas City Post to be Here Monday.

Miss Vina Lindsay of the Kansas City Post will speak to the students in the industrial journalism course at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in room 75 Kedzie hall. She will discuss the work being done by women on newspapers.

Miss Lindsay is one of the best known newspaper women in Kansas City, and her feature work has attracted much attention. She is a graduate of the school of journalism of the University of Missouri.

The lecture is open to the public.

Corporal H. H. Fayman of the headquarters company, 137 Infantry, Camp Doniphan, spent the week end with his sister, Miss Esther Fayman, special in general science.

C. R. Enlow, who joined the aviation corps, writes that the school has been transferred from Columbus, Ohio to Berkeley, Cal.

Dr. F. M. Grindle, dentist, office where cleanliness prevails. Office room No. 8, First National Bank bldg. Phone No. 122.

Milford Powell of Anthony was visiting Miss Mildred Gettgey, senior in home economics, the first of the this week.

BIGGEST WAR DRIVE COMING

NEWEST STUDENT PROJECT IS ONE OF RAISING MORALE, AND NOT MONEY.

Group Classes Under Competent Instructors are to be Organized for the Study of the Democratic Principles Laid Down in Teachings of Christ.

The movement for the mobilization of students for Christian world democracy, which is just being launched in colleges and universities all over America, was started here this week. Guy V. Aldrich, Y. M. C. A. organizer, and recently engaged in army work at Camp Dodge, Iowa, is here outlining the work. A conference was held with college officials Tuesday evening in which definite steps were taken and the plan discussed. Dr. J. R. MacArthur, head of the department of English, is in charge of the work, as chairman of the executive committee.

The purpose of this campaign is to organize the college students into an aggressive Christian force. It is planned that 50 per cent of the students of American colleges and universities take part.

To Organize Classes.

The immediate plan is to organize the college students into group classes for Bible study with students and faculty members in charge. The Bible study plan is but one means of carrying on the work. The fundamental purpose is to get the students to study the Christian basis of thought in advance of world progress.

"Men have said education would make another great war impossible," said Mr. Aldrich. "They have said financial and economic conditions would make it impossible, and they are coming to realize that nothing save the principles for which Jesus Christ lived and died, will do it."

Conference at Emporia.

The national campaign was started at the student volunteer conference of the Y. M. C. A. which was held at Northfield, Mass.

A state conference was held at Emporia last Saturday and Sunday in which representatives from colleges all over the state met and discussed plans for carrying on the work. Homer Cross, Earl Frost and Herbert Meyer represented K. S. A. C. at the conference.

The State Normal meeting adopted this official call:

"We recognize as never before, because of the present world crisis, the imperative demand for broader interpretation and application of Christianity as it applies, not only to individual conduct and thought, but also to the social and international problems that face the world. We believe the students, because of their advantage of education, must lead both in the larger interpretation, and in the application of Christianity."

Must Begin in College.

"We believe that if these students are to be prepared to do this unparalleled task it is absolutely imperative that they begin the work of interpretation and application in their college days. Because of this solemn conviction, this conference all the colleges and universities of the state hereby firmly resolve to challenge 100 per cent of the students of Kansas to a consideration of courses in Christian world democracy, and the application of Christianity to our community and national life."

The goal set by the national meeting was 200,000 students. The success of this new campaign depends upon the larger schools such as K. S. A. C., according to Mr. Aldrich. They must make up for the deficiencies in the smaller institutions.

IRVING H. S. STUDENTS COMING.

Fifteen Guests Will be Shown a College at Work.

A class of 15 students in the agriculture class of the Irving high school will be the guests of the college today. They expect to arrive this morning, and are being brought by Supt. of Schools Winsor, who telephoned Hugh Durham, assistant to Dean Jar dine, yesterday, that the high schoolers are coming.

Mr. Durham has planned a full day for the visitors. They are to be taken to the various departments of the division of agriculture, and will visit the poultry farm, horse barns and stock barns.

MANY CHANGES IN CHEMISTRY.

War Has Brought Shifts in Instructors in Department.

The war has brought about a great many changes in the personnel of the chemistry departments of all the schools in the country, and has practically changed the entire staff in the experiment station of this college.

A. G. Hogan, assistant professor of chemistry who was formerly in charge of the work of the station, is now absent on leave to take up food work in the army. To fill this vacancy J. S. Hughes, assistant professor of chemistry, has taken over the supervision of the chemistry work on animal nutrition. W. S. Latschaw, assistant in soil analysis, will be in general charge of all the analytical work of the station, including that connected with feeding stuffs and fertilizer control, and R. W. Titus, instructor in chemistry, has been transferred to the station as assistant chemist.

NEW JOB FOR DEAN KENT

School of Agriculture Dean Is Promoted by State Board.

Harry L. Kent, associate professor of education and principal of the school of agriculture, has been appointed director of education for Kansas under the Smith-Hughes act. This act provides for federal aid for instruction in agriculture, home economics, and trade work.

Professor Kent will investigate and supervise these lines of work in the Kansas schools. He will also have duties in connection with the training of teachers of agriculture here.

Mr. Kent is unusually well prepared, by education and experience, for his new duties. He is a graduate of the Kansas State Normal school and of the Kansas State Agricultural college, and has studied also in the University of Chicago and Cornell university. He has taught in the Western State Normal school, the Kansas State Normal school, and the New Hampshire State Normal school, as well as in the agricultural college.

John W. Zahmley, instructor in farm crops, will be in charge of the school of agriculture during Professor Kent's absence. Mr. Zahmley is a graduate of the college and has taught agriculture in high schools as well as here.

AN AGGIE RED CROSS ARMY

Girls are Organizing Under Captains for a Big Race.

The college women have organized a Red Cross army and expect to be ready for the spring drive in France with enough surgical dressings to accommodate our allies.

Girls who wish to may enlist this afternoon at the meeting which will be held in the home economics room at 5 o'clock. Miss Harding, chief nurse of the base hospital at Fort Riley, will be present to talk on "How Red Cross Nurses Are Made." Mrs. R. G. Taylor, commander-in-chief of the local Red Cross Camp, will also speak. The supervisors of the surgical dressing work will attend the meeting in costume.

The girls will be divided into companies with a captain and three lieutenants responsible for each company. The company which makes the most surgical dressings will be named in The Collegian each week. Members of the patriotic league are especially invited to attend the meeting Friday afternoon.

The captains are Miss Frances Westcott, Miss Irene Graham, Miss Hazel Watson, Miss Myrtle Johnston, Miss Katharine McFarland, Miss Mary Crumbaker, Miss Pearl Brown, Miss Grace Dickman, Miss Luella Morris, and Miss Louise Dawson.

ALPHA BETAS ELECTS PLANK

Literary Society Chooses Officers for the Spring Semester.

The officers elected by the Alpha Beta Literary society for the new semester are I. L. Plank, president; C. L. Hedstrom, vice president; Miss Grace Turner, secretary; Miss Olive Loperstrom, treasurer; Everett Kalu marshal; Miss Dorothy Moseley, assistant marshal.

Miss Mildred Ensey, senior in home economics last semester, has accepted a position in the Spearville high school.

Miss Maude Kershaw, junior in home economics spent the week end at her home at Garrison.

PERMIT SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

PLENTY OF COAL ON HAND NOW, AND BAN IS LIFTED AGAIN.

Permits for Dances Which Had Been Refused up to 5 O'Clock Yesterday Afternoon Have Been Allowed—Postpone Freshman Pan-Hellenic Until March 5.

College social functions as usual will be permitted this week end. Federal, state and college authorities have united in lifting the ban that had been placed on public entertainments for the last week, caused by the scarcity of coal.

C. M. Breese, coal administrator for Riley county, released an order at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon doing away with the edict that forced stores to open at 9 o'clock and close at 6 o'clock, and that prohibited all the usual gatherings in public auditoriums.

As soon as Mr. Breese had raised the ban, which had been promulgated by Emerson Carey of Hutchinson, Kansas coal administrator, Hugh Durham, assistant to Dean W. M. Jar dine, announced that permits would once more be given for dances and other social affairs.

Several dances had been planned for this week end, and permits had been granted for several of them, when the fuel order went into effect last week. Although a number of dances were planned for fraternity and sorority houses, where there would be no additional use of coal, the hops were called off because Mr. Durham intimated that persons who did not have these dance privileges might criticize the dances on the grounds that they were unparliamentary.

The committee in charge of the Freshman Pan-Hellenic dance, which was to have been held tonight, called the affair off the middle of the week, and when the order was rescinded yesterday, decided that they could not prepare for the affair by tonight.

The new date is March 5. Two college dances will be held at Harrison's this week end. The hop tonight is a strictly college affair while the regular assembly dance will be given tomorrow night.

GIBBONS PAN-HELLENIC PREXY.

Stevenson and Eans are Other Officers Elected.

George C. Gibbons, leader, was elected president of the Pan-Hellenic association at a meeting held at the Beta Theta Pi house last night. Everett Stevenson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, was chosen vice president and H. T. Eans, Beta Theta Pi, secretary-treasurer.

A committee composed of one member from the Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Xi and Sigma Nu fraternities was appointed by President Gibbons to arrange a schedule to play off the tripe tie for first place that will result if the Six Alphas win from the Pi Kappa Alphas.

DOCTOR SEVIER IS BACK.

College Physician Will Give Smallpox Vaccinations.

Dr. C. M. Sevier college physician, has returned to the college and has opened up his office on the second floor in Main Hall.

Doctor Sevier spent the first three months of his leave of absence in the medical corps at Camp Doniphan and the last month at Camp Funston, completing a year of service in the national army.

The health department is obtaining materials for smallpox vaccination from the United States public health service, and Doctor Sevier announces that vaccinations will be made free of charge. The treatments will be given next week.

Jennings Freshman Captain.

The freshman basketball team elected G. S. Jennings captain of the team today afternoon.

Miss Mary M. Baird of the division of extension will meet with the Glenwood canning club Friday and will spend Saturday at the women's in-economics ill with measles.

V. L. Strickland of the home study department talked to the county teachers' association at Washington Friday, and to the teachers' association at Wamego Saturday.

MISS DAKIN IONIAN LEADER

Ionian's Society Elects Senior to be New President

The Ionian Literary society has elected officers for this semester. They are Miss Mary Dakin, president; Miss Harriet Morris, vice president; Miss Anne Lorimer, recording secretary; Miss Francis Stahl, treasurer; Miss Margaret King, assistant Marshall; Miss Ella Stinson, critic.

SENIORS ELECT "DUBY" PREXY

Class Chooses DuBois as Last President—Woogster Is Treasurer.

J. E. DuBois was elected president at the senior class meeting Tuesday evening. Other officers are Clyde Key, vice president, Miss Gladys Spring, secretary, Dave Woogster, treasurer; Harold Hiltz, marshal; and Miss Margaret King, assistant marshal. C. F. Zeigler was elected a member of the student council to take the place of Miss Stella Strain who has withdrawn from college.

READY FOR THE ORATORICAL

Contestants Must Hand in Manuscripts Saturday

From the time the orations go into the hands of the oratorical board on Saturday at 12 o'clock until the decision of the judges comes in on the night of the contest, the literary societies are likely to be the "poppiest" organizations on the hill.

The annual inter-society oratorical contest will be held this year on the night of March 2. Every society will be represented and it is expected that the affair will be better than ever. Governor Capper has been asked to preside, the judges have been chosen and the medals ordered. The societies will present a farce at the close of the contest while the judges are making their decision.

One of the features of the oratorical contest which makes it especially interesting is the demonstrations given by the different societies as they enter the auditorium and before the contest. Each society adopts a distinctive costume, marches across the auditorium stage and sits in a section decorated in the society colors and emblems. After they all have entered each society is given a few minutes to give its songs and yells. The names of the societies and the orators are Ionian, Miss Mary Dakin; Hamilton, Gordon Hamilton; Webster, B. Q. Shields; Eurodelphian, Helen Stewart; Athenian, Earl Taylor; Browning, Miss Helen Mitchell; Alpha Beta, Ira Plank; and Franklin, Merle Converse.

ATHENIANS AND IONIANS WIN

Societies are Ahead in Tryouts for Debate Squad.

The Athenian and Ionian Literary societies came away with the maximum number of victories in the inter-society debates and as a result the Athenian Literary society wins first place among the men's societies, and the Ionians lead all women's societies.

The Athenians defeated the Hamiltons and Websters, and the Ionians won from the Eurodelphians and the Franklins.

The 19 persons winning out in the debate tryouts are Seibert Fairman, R. W. McCall, Ivan White, Fred Griffith, J. B. Myers, Samuel Thackrey, H. I. Richards, Mr. Huff, E. D. Thompson, Kenneth Shideor, Lucille Heizer, Jamie Cameron, Clementine Faddelford, Ruth Blair, Marie Harbaugh, Mary Hill, Marie Hemmerly, Nellie Shoup, and Gladys Addy.

Because several persons could not try out with the others another opportunity will be given them between 4 and 6 o'clock Monday afternoon, February 11. All those wishing to try out at this time must see Don L. Burk, debate coach.

The next debate will be the men's Pentagonal, sometime in March. Sixteen men are trying for places on the Pentagonal squad. Two of them are old debaters and Professor Buruk expects to develop a strong team.

QUILL TO MEET MONDAY

Original Fables Will Be Read at Evening Session.

Quill club will meet Monday evening in K56 at 7 o'clock. The fable in modern literature will be studied. Original fables will be read by Miss Zora Harris, Miss Velma Carson, J. B. Angle, and Arthur Boyer. Miss Josephine Sullivan will read her paper for initiation. Prof. H. W. Davis will read the discussion of the fable.

AGGIES MUST DOWN PIKERS

FUTURE OF MISSOURI VALLEY RACE DEPENDS ON PAIR OF GAMES THIS WEEK.

Scores at Lawrence This Week, When Missouri Won from Kansas, Show That Big Fight for Valley Laurels Will Be Stared by the Columbia Five and Aggies.

STANDING OF TEAMS.
	W	L
Missouri	6	0
Kansas Aggies	3	1
Kansas	4	3
Ames	1	3
Washington	0	3

The basketball games with Washington Friday and Saturday will give the Aggies a firm grip on second place in the conference, or will just about ruin their aspirations. A double win would put the Aggies in good trim to meet Missouri.

The two games that Missouri won from Kansas puts the Aggies in second place in the conference, and also shows Missouri as having a powerful team on both the offensive and defensive.

Aggies and Tigers Matched.

Similarity is shown in the scores that the Aggies and the Tigers ran up against the Jayhawkers, enough similarity to show that if Missouri is to be stopped in the Missouri valley race, the Aggies are the only ones to turn the trick, as the Cleveland quintet is nearly equally matched with the Meenwell men.

In their first tilt with the Kansas, the Aggies won, 36 to 23. Missouri won her first contest with a 36 to 23 count. The Aggies were barely nosed out of a victory in the second game at Lawrence, 32 to 35. Missouri won her second bout, 25 to 21, which shows that the majorities of the Tigers over the Jayhawkers were only eight points more than those of the Aggies. All of which matches the Aggies and Tigers as the two leading fives in the valley, as Kansas now is practically out of the race, and so are the other teams farther down the ladder.

Pikers are Not Weak.

Washington has suffered two defeats from Missouri already this season, but in one game held the Tigers to one point win. From the showing the Tigers made with K. U., the Washington five must be much stronger than usual.

While the Aggies are confident of winning from the Pikers, they realize that it will not be an easy series, and are ready for a couple of real battles. Coach Cleveland has been putting the equal through some hard practices, and has been drilling them in accurate passing and breaking up the short passing game. The Varsity has been showing up well in the practices with the freshmen, and it takes a strong team to make a good showing against the Aggie yearlings.

Aggie Men are in Shape.

The squad is in good trim for the contests, and great things are expected from a Vn Trine and Hinds at forward. Whedon is also due for some good work at center, and if the big "Jerry" is going right, he should break into the score column with several counters. Johnny Clarke and Ben Hinds can be counted on to keep the scoring of the visitors down to a low point.

FRESH NOMINATE OFFICERS.

Ray Watson and Merton Otto are Candidates for President.

A meeting of the freshman class was held in F3 Wednesday evening and nominations for class officers made. The following are candidates for president, Ray Watson and Merton Otto; for vice president, Miss Helen Lawson and George Smith; for treasurer, Jack Evans and Ray Newkirk; for secretary, Lloyd Hamilton, C. G. Kennedy and Minnie Scott; for freshman member of student council, Tom Neely, Sheridan Spangler and Martha Baird; for sergeant-at-arms, Donald Murphy and H. E. Mather.

The date for the vote has not yet been determined. It was decided to have the class dues paid at the same time ballots were given out. This will probably be done opposite the postoffice.

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 8, 1918.

A CRY FOR HELP.

The Great War has brought a crisis in the affairs of Kansas State. Practically every issue of The Collegian for the last two months has contained stories of men—president, professors and instructors—who are leaving the school to take up other work.

There always have been changes in the personnel of the teaching staff, and always will be, but the present condition is highly abnormal. And the reason that these highly trained men are going to other schools is the same one that affects every employee, for the professor must meet the H. C. L. alongside the laborer, and the newspaper man, too.

Much has been said about the salaries paid to the members of the instructing staff both at the University of Kansas and here. Far sighted public men have sought to remedy the situation in each legislature. But still the same condition prevails, and at a critical time.

Doctor Waters had received many offers with great financial advantages attached before he accepted the Weekly Star proposal last fall. Love of the school, of his work and of Kansas, was all that kept him.

Surely there is a way out, some way to retain these men who are making K. S. A. C. But the remedy must come soon.

If Clevenger's five losses tonight, more blame can be placed on the Aggie pikers than on the Washington Pikers.

A TASTE OF SPRING.

Spring—that gladsome period of the year when Nature does her best, and the student does his worst—spring has come.

Of course there will be more winter. The mercury may go tumbling to zero tomorrow morning, for this is Kansas. And this isn't May, April, or June—only February.

But the good balmy air that a fellow likes to fill his lungs with—that part of spring is here. The Aggie man who starts up the hill a mile a minute, as he did a week ago, will begin to puff before he reaches Anderson hall, and perhaps he will find a trick-le of moisture in his hatband.

After a bit those trees will begin to leaf, the tulips that always grow east of Fairchild hall will bud, the couples that meander aimlessly down Lover's Lane and, well, just most anywhere, they will be on hand, and—Oh, boy.

TOLD OF LIFE IN THE TRENCHES

French Officers Relate Work of Men at the Front.

The Science club entertained Monday night with a dinner and reception in the domestic science building for the three French officers who later addressed the meeting.

Captain Bloch, Lieutenant Boucher, and Lieutenant Riche who have been detached to America to give instruction in modern warfare, and who are now stationed at Camp Funston, all gave interesting talks. Captain Bloch spoke on generalities in the trench warfare, Lieutenant Riche on the "pollu," and Lieutenant Boucher on the work of the grenadier.

Alas we have found it. One Aggie bundle of masculinity claiming to understand women. As you probably already know, he is the one that finally got nerve enough to ask a cute little frosh girl for a date.

Understanding women is like chemistry. You think you have it, and you ain't.

Understanding women however,
seems to be the more popular study.

For our part we stick to the theory of the fellow who hitched up the mule. He was forced to hold up the shelves and at the same time hold to the mule rein to back her in.
The mule would step from side to side, and attempt to run away, kick at him two or three times, and finally step square into the right place. Likewise is women.

Personally we sympathize with the fellow who is holding the shelves.

Sometimes however it's the woman who backs the mule in.

Every man pictures his matrimonial successes if he were president of the United States.

Most German airmen would be tickled to death if they had to deal with camouflage no more complex than women use.

We would like to have them tickled to death, too.

Some unappreciated works have nothing to be appreciated.

Capper's Weekly says, "With coal as our weapon we can fight 4,000 years." Unless they extend the age limit, many Americans would object to fighting that long.

A bulletin from the U. S. department of agriculture says, "Hens Need Fresh Air."

The track meet in which the freshmen "clean up" will be held next Monday evening

Another interesting thing will be to watch the antics of the senior rooter at the inter-class track meet. How a senior can have the nerve to root is beyond us.

We sympathize with the Seniors.
That season is fast approaching when every one will tell them, they (the seniors) think they are very wise, but that they ain't. We refer to graduation, of course.

Next to the secretary of war, no
one receives more public scrutiny than the college boy who goes back to the old home town.

Forgetful Professor

Reminds a Co-ed of A Funny Story.

"Wopee, something has slipped my noodle," ejaculated the professor who always had a long list of do's and don'ts for the students to remember.

"Noodles are sure slippery," piped out a cute little girl sitting in the rear of the room.

The wise looking instructor peered at her over his gold rimmed glasses in a way that would make one think that the lady in remarking had signed her flunk slip.

She giggled, shrugged her shoulders and engaged the girl on her right in conversation.

"Speaking of slippery things, girl, what happened to me last night."

"I had been in the library studying for that extra long lesson that was assigned in ——— class. I had my work all done and started for home just a few minutes before closing time."

"I came out of the north door of the library and stepped off gingerly for I was in a hurry to get home. A gust of wind came around the corner and I felt myself slipping and then sailing off into the cool night air."

I was scared pale and should have died of fright in mid-air if I had not seen by the light from the library window that there was someone half way down the steps to catch me. And he sure did, or rather I caught him just below the knees and we both went tumbling to the foot of the steps.

"Oh no, neither of us were hurt a bit, only I skinned my knee and he lost his hat. I have always wanted to get acquainted with that fellow, but never could. He took me home last night and I am sure that I'll get a few dates. He thinks I'm a dandy good sport. He is going to take me to all of the rest of the basket ball games."

Let's have less talking in the rear of the room," called out the instructor who had in the meantime collected his thoughts. He continued to assign the lesson.

The girls began to take notes furiously.

From a K. U. Frosh—"I want to compliment you on that basket ball team your school is putting out this year."

The Sophs are planning to give the freshmen some lively competition for honors at the inter-class meet to be held Monday evening. They claim the pole vaulting, high jump, hurdles, and even extend their ambitions to shot put and races. The contest will be mainly between the Sophs and the Freshmen and should be a lively one.

Two freshmen will run Monday night, who have records in high schools of the state. They are Evans and Neeley. Both are fast men in the dashes and should win with ease.

Joe Price is another freshman who will make things lively for Beckett, the Soph half miler.

Any freshman who has taken part in athletics elsewhere, or who has never had any training, is urged by "Germany" Shultz to come out and take a part. A large number of contestants will make the contest much hotter, and incidentally some good material may be found.

Missouri won both games from K. U. at Lawrence Monday and Tuesday. The scores were 36 to 22 and 25 to 21, respectively. Ruby and Campbell, the forwards for Missouri did brilliant work, according to the reports. This leaves Missouri undefeated and leading in the Missouri valley race.

With the decision defeats of K. U. at the hands of Missouri, the former team loses its hold on second place in the valley race, and the Aggies now have that honor. The Aggies meet Missouri here for two games February 27 and 28.

The Nebraska team has not yet played so it may play a large part in the Valley conference. The Aggies do not play Nebraska until March 8 and 9. The games will be played at Lincoln.

The Aggie track team meets K. U. here February 18. This school has some good talent and should cause some blasted hopes in the Jayhawk camp. At least there is a strong probability, according to "Germany" Shultz.

Pattinson and Atwood, last year's pole valuters for K. U. are not in school there this year. Rex Welty will probably represent the university in pole vaulting.

The Sammys may soon be making consistent gains on the west front. Harvard has sent 500 footballs over for Uncle Sam's soldier days. They raised $5,500 for this purpose.

The K. U. sport men say the work of the Aggie guard, J. B. Hinds, in the first game Wednesday, was the best seen on the university court for a long time.

We have arranged a three months' course to prepare you for the Civil Service Examination. If you do not have the money now, you may wait and pay us out of your first three months' salary.

BEST MEN FOR FLYING ARE IN THE COLLEGES

College men are needed for the Air Service.

There, of all places, they are best fitted to serve. There they can use the education and the physique that their peculiar advantages have given them; there they can express their own individuality and be their own directing general.

Picture a battle-plane three to four miles above the trenches, alone in the richness of the skies, ever watchful for a lightning stroke from the enemy, ever eager to swoop down upon an observer below, itself a tiny mechanism less than 30 feet from tip to tip, though powerful with the power of 200-horsepower engine, Uncle Sam's advance guard "over there."

Or the observer or photographer, soaring down to within a mile or so of the enemy's trenches, seizing and recording every movement among guiding the big guns behind, locating enemy batteries, directing shells into convoys, guarding friends beneath from treacherous surprise attacks or traps, laying bare the enemy's defenses.

Or the bomber, swooping down to blow up an enemy convoy, raining hundreds of pounds of the world's deadly explosives from the skies, converting a withdrawal into a rout, winging off across country to cut the enemy's arteries over the Rhine or to annihilate his ammunition center at Essen—

Warfare in the clouds has become as specialized in the last four months as that on land. It is fought in different strata by different planes. There are the tiny, tough little machines for the flashing air duels, there are the heavier, slower machines for spotting and photography; there are the cumbersome, awkward machines of great sustaining power for all night bombing trips into the heart of the enemy's country. And each requires a different type of man to guide it. Each places before America a different problem in personnel.

It is pretty easy to say what kind of man is not wanted for the Air Service. First of course you do not want a man who has a weak heart or lungs and who might collapse at a high altitude. Nor a man who is timid or cowardly, who might lose his head in an emergency. Nor again a man who is ill-disciplined, unable to obey orders, or to obey his assigned role in the great teamwork of the skies. Each and every airman, responsible for the lives of thousands of men on the ground beneath him, the guide of the army and the hope of victory, must be as nearly perfect as is humanly possible.

This leads us to positive qualities. Besides health, besides bravery, besides conscientiousness, an airman must have brains and judgment. Brains because only a trained mind can master flying, radio, aerial photography, codes, reconnaissance and the kindred sciences necessary to this new science. Judgment because all these powers in the hands of an ill-balanced mind might work a ghastly havoc among the men who are sent forward or held back on an airman's signal.

Let us not think such men are plentiful. Most decidedly they are not. They must be sought with the greatest diligence. And they are being sought, as can best be shown by figures. Only last week the Air Service turned away two applicants out of every three. The safety of the country as well as of the men themselves demands that the standard be maintained irreproachable.

The one greatest of all places for real airmen is in the colleges. There indeed is the flower of the country, men who having received much, owe much. The proportion of them answering the requirements of the Air Service should be immeasurably larger than among less favored, less fortunate men.

If America breaks the deadlock of three years through the air, if the wings of her new eagles bring victory to the world's democracies, it will largely be the college men who will have the credit of it. Already there is a great fraternity of them in the service, working as they never worked before, in this country, in England, in France, in Italy, in Egypt.

Now is the time, for it will require until next summer for an aspirant starting now to become complete master of the air. The description of how a man is given his wings will be given in another official article next week.

SCHOOL OF AG

The school of agriculture basketball team will play the agronomy team at 4:30 o'clock today. The team is in much better shape than it was the first game and a good contest is promised.

Fred E. Robb of Scott City, a graduate student of the '17, class of the school of agriculture, reports a successful year at farming. Mr. Robb expects to visit college some time this semester.

The Lincoln Literary society elected officers for the second semester at its meeting Saturday night. The officers chosen were B. A. Thompson, president; C. W. Bower, vice president; J. R. Smith, recording secretary; M. H. Pieratt, corresponding secretary; A. Englund, treasurer; J. W. Barger, critic; and J. W. Honeywell, marshal.

Only five members were in school at the beginning of the school year. The society now has 26 active members. The Lincolns are planning to do the most efficient work this semester that has been done in the history of the society.

T. L. Doy of Allen, a short course student in agriculture has recovered from an attack of the grip. Mr. Doy's parents will visit him this week.

Why not get that teaching position for next fall now? Over The Top Together!

First comes the long laborious drilling, marching, and the discipline of modern war—then, some day, over the top together.

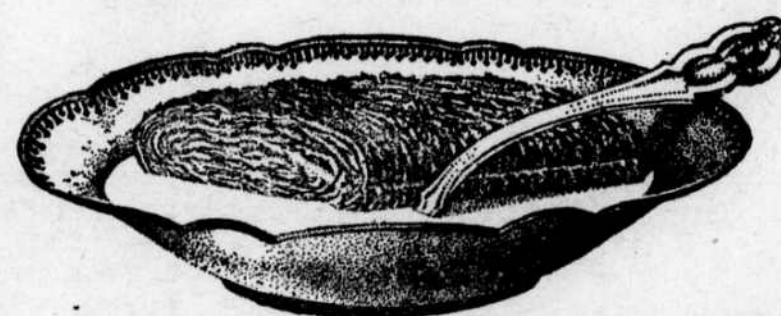

Going "over the top" in any field of human endeavor is a matter of physical preparedness—and that comes from proper food and rational exercise.

There is more real nutriment in whole wheat than in beef-steak or eggs. But be sure you eat the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form.

Shredded Wheat Biscuit

is 100 per cent. whole wheat, nothing wasted, nothing thrown away. It is the most thoroughly cooked food in the world, being boiled in steam, drawn into fine, filmy shreds and baked crisp and brown in coal ovens. Two or three of these crisp little loaves of baked whole wheat with milk make a nourishing, satisfying breakfast, lunch or dinner at a cost of a few pennies.

To get the full, nutty flavor of the baked wheat, pour hot milk over the Biscuits and salt to suit the taste. This makes a delicious, hot, nourishing dish for a cold day.

257 IN RED CROSS WORK

CAPT. GRACE DICKMAN SECURES LARGEST NUMBER OF GIRLS IN MEMBERSHIP RACE

Largest Number of Aggie Women Are Enrolled in Monday Afternoon Class—Miss Mary Crumbaker Won 44 Girls to Her Wednesday Afternoon Division

The total number now enrolled in the Aggie Red Cross army after a campaign of two days amounts up to 257.

The ten captains who were chosen from among the college girls have been in keen competition to fill up their ranks and to obtain the most workers. Each girl has been requested to give at least one hour a week to the Red Cross work and the classes have been put into ten divisions. Miss Grace Dickman, captain of the Monday afternoon division wins first place in the campaign with an enlistment of 79 members.

The Wednesday afternoon division under Mary Crumbaker takes second place with an enlistment of 44. These two divisions are now filled to capacity but additional members will be listed for the other periods. The other results of the campaign are: Frances Wescott, captain Tuesday morning, 17 members; Luella Morris, captain, Tuesday afternoon, 24 members; Myrtle Johnson, captain Wednesday morning, 22 members; Pearl Brown, captain, Thursday morning, 25 members; Irene Graham, captain, Thursday afternoon, 12 members; Louise Dawson, captain Friday morning, 7 members; Mildred Sterling, captain, Friday afternoon, 1 member; Hazel Watron, captain Saturday morning, 26 members.

The Red Cross Work will be done in the room upstairs in the domestic science building. Each girl will be requested to attend the class in uniform, that is wearing the cap, sleevelets, and bib. These can all be purchased in the Red Cross room. Overseers for each division have been secured from among the townspeople and college faculty.

Mrs. Iles and Mrs. Colt will have charge Monday morning; Mrs. Gearheart, and Mrs. Patterson, Tuesday morning; Mrs. Leinhardt, Mrs. Everett, Tuesday afternoon; Mrs. Prellmeire, Wednesday morning; Mrs. Wentworth, Mrs. Bew, Wednesday afternoon; Mrs. Hogan, Thursday morning; Mrs. Bennett, Thursday afternoon; Mrs. Leinhardt, Mrs. Hogan, Friday morning; Mrs. Meredith, Mrs. Flirr, Friday afternoon; Mrs. De Voss, Mrs. Everett, Saturday morning.

BEAUTIES TO K. C. TOMORROW

In spite of the fact that Miss Ruth Thomas, one of the winners, has the measles, the troupe of Royal Purple beauties, elected in recent beauty race, will journey to Kansas City for sittings at the Henry Moore studio. Five of the girls leave tomorrow morning at 5:50 o'clock, chartered by Miss Helen Halm, assistant professor of home economics and education.

Those who will make the trip are Miss Hazel Merrill, senior nominee and winner of the contest; Miss Sara Herrera, junior and Pi Beta Phi nominee; Miss Ella Stinson, sophomore; Miss Greta Gramse, Alpha Delta Pi; and Miss Mary Hazel Phinney, Delta Zeta.

Measles apparently goes hand in hand with beauty-raiding. Since the contest Miss Thomas, Miss Betty Cotton, Miss Herrick, Miss Phinney and Miss Margaret Robinson, all of whom were in the contest, have been ill with the Teuton disease.

EXAMPLES OF STUDENT ART

Designs from Eastern Institutions Are To Be Shown Here

An excellent exhibition of representative work in color and design by the students of Pratt Institute, the Rhode Island School of Design, the Pennsylvania Museum School of Industrial Art, and the School of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts is to be shown soon in the rooms of the home art department in Anderson hall. The exhibition is to be free to all who may be interested in seeing it. Students are asked to watch the bulletin boards for the time of the exhibit.

STUDENTS MAKE GOOD OFFICERS.

Captain Few, British Officer, Says College Training Counts.

That college men as a class are especially fitted to be army officers was the assertion of Captain John E. Few, of the Suffolk regiment of the British army, who addressed the students and faculty at general assembly yesterday morning.

"College men should try to take commissions when they get into the army," said Captain Few, "because their greater training and better education will help to make them better officers than the average man. The commission increases the chances of death and wounds but it also increases the opportunity for service a hundred times."

The need for training and discipline was illustrated graphically by the speaker by means of incidents from the battle front.

"Preliminary discipline does not depend on equipment," said Captain Few. "Equipment will come later but discipline should begin at once. Training is needed to give confidence in one's ability. The confident army has the enemy half beaten before the fight begins."

The large fields for service open to the American women by reason of their great freedom and education was pointed out.

Captain Few is a graduate of Cambridge university. He is now instructing in the art of gas defense.

FIGHT FOR DEBATE PLACES

Ten of Sixteen Contestants Must Be Eliminated.

With 16 men trying out for the places on the squad of the annual Pentangular debate, Don L. Burk, coach, expects to develop one of the strongest Pentangular teams in the history of debate at the college.

The first round of the debate will be fought out March 30, and the next April 13. Those who are trying for places on the squad are I. Merle Converse, A. F. Swanson, Earl Frost, Samuel James, Merle Lucas, C. O. Chubb, Seibert Fairman, R. D. McCull, Ivan White, Fred Griffie, Eugene Huff, J. B. Myers, S. I. Thacker, H. I. Richards, K. D. Thompson, Kenneth Shideler.

These men will report for the first squad meeting in the Forum room at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

REPORTER MUST PLUG AWAY

Newspaper Life Hasn't Many Thrills, Miss Lindsay Says.

Thrills in the lives of newspaper reporters exist only in the movies. Learn the value of routine work, was the suggestion of Miss Vina Lindsay, feature writer for the Kansas City Post, who addressed the students in journalism at seminar Monday afternoon.

The reporter must be ready for any menial tasks that are assigned to him, even "picture chasing" which is always trying on temper and shoe leather, pointed out the speaker.

When seeking a position as reporter, do not be too clever or melodramatic. City editors do not care to hire persons who are more clever than themselves. They prefer good leg work to brains. Women especially must work hard if they wish to keep their jobs. The many objections to women reporters are becoming fewer, but they have not yet disappeared altogether.

TO REVIEW "STUDENT IN ARMS"

The Reverend Downs to Talk at Meeting of Y. M. C. A.

The Rev. D. Downs, Congregational college pastor, will speak at the Thursday evening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this week. The subject to be discussed is "The Student in Arms." The basis for the talk will be the book by that title written by Donald Hankey, who was killed in the battle of the Somme. There will be other numbers on the program, including speaking and music.

PLAN THE BIG DRIVE TODAY

COMMITTEE MEETS TO OUTLINE WORK OF THE CHRISTIAN STUDY CAMPAIGN

Doctor Macarthur Announces a Committee Composed of Two Faculty Members, Four Students, and a Student Pastor—Wants Every Student in

Plans will be definitely formulated for the drive here for Christian World Democracy, this afternoon when the executive committee will hold a meeting in Dr. J. R. Macarthur's office in Kedzie hall.

Doctor Macarthur who has been appointed to direct the campaign, announced that the following members of the executive committee have been appointed: Miss Jessie McD. Machir; Homer Cross; J. E. DuBois; Miss Alice Neiman; Miss Mary Mason, and the Rev. D. Downs. The secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are also ex-officio members of this committee.

"It is the wish of those in charge to make this an all college affair," said Doctor Macarthur. "This is a serious effort to get college men and women to think of the world problems we face."

It is planned to enrol 100 per cent of the students in the work. Practically all the institutions of higher learning in Kansas are taking an active part in the drive, and the work is taking definite form all over the nation.

NEIBARGER OFF TO A BIG LEAD

Freshman Leading Reporter in Collegian Race This Semester

The second semester Collegian contest has started with a rush. Walter Neibarger, freshman in industrial journalism is leading the race with 101 inches to his credit. He was second in last semester's contest with 497 inches.

C. J. Medlin holds second place and Miss Charlotte Russell third. Other contestants in the order of their standing are Miss Sara Chase, Miss Ruth Henderson, S. I. Thacker, Mrs. Laura D. Moore, and Miss Dora Cate. Fifteen persons are in the contest and more are expected to take part.

DOWN WITH THE TUSCANIA?

Aggie Man Was Aboard—Partners Not Sure He Is Safe.

Francis C. Caldwell, former student in the college, was aboard the British transport Tuscania that was sunk last week off the coast of Ireland. Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science, has received a telegram from his home in Danville, Ky., which indicates that his parents have not heard whether he was among the lost or not.

Mr. Caldwell left college the day before the Christmas vacation and enlisted in the forestry division of the army. He was a freshman in agriculture and student assistant in the library. He is the only K. S. A. C. student known to have been aboard the transport.

A NEW PHYSICS INSTRUCTOR

Former Wichita High School Man Added to Faculty.

Another change has taken place in the department of physics. E. A. Stewart, former head of the department of science at the Gilbert, Minn. high school, has taken the place of F. R. Smith, instructor in physics who has taken up army life.

Mr. Stewart received his bachelor of science degree at the University of Chicago, and bachelor of pedagogy at Michigan State Normal. He was head of the department of science at the Wichita high school from 1910 to 1914, and held the same title at Gilbert, Minn. from 1914 to 1917.

SPECIAL CAR TO TRACTOR SHOW

Short Coursemen Have Plans for Trip to Kansas City

A number of students, especially from the tractor short course are planning to make a trip to the Tractor short course are planning to make a trip to the Tractor Engine show at Kansas City. K. J. T. Ekblaw, professor of farm engineering, has arranged with the Rock Island railroad company for a special car scheduled to leave Manhattan at 5:45 o'clock on Friday morning, February 15, and leaves Kansas City at 6 o'clock Saturday evening February 16.

Those desiring to go should hand in their names at an early date to Hugh Durham, assistant to the dean of agriculture. Students in the farm tractor short course and college students in the division of agriculture who are interested in tractors may attend.

BEGIN BASKETBALL PRACTICES

Class Workouts for Women Scheduled for This Week

Basket ball practice for sophomore girls is to be held Tuesday for juniors and seniors Wednesday, and for freshmen, Friday, at 5 o'clock. The teams are to be picked within the next two weeks. The inter class games are to be played in March.

OFFERS WAR FRENCH CLASS

Professor Limper Will Instruct R. O. T. C. Members.

A course in military French is being offered by L. H. Limper of the department of modern languages, to all students in the Reserve Officers Training Corps, members of the faculty or any who may be interested. The class will meet two or three times a week at a time to accommodate the greatest number.

Mr. Limper has been teaching French at Camp Funston and reports fine progress on the part of the men who have been able to attend classes at all regularly. The course here will be similar to that offered in the cantonments all over the country. Grammar will be reduced to a minimum. The vocabulary learned will be as practical as possible, including only such words as a soldier will be likely to use.

So that all may have a chance to speak as much as possible during the hour of the lesson, recitation will be mostly in concert. Little outside preparation will be necessary.

All persons interested in taking this course are asked to report to Mr. Limper at the earliest possible moment so that the time for the class to meet may be arranged for without further delay. Those who cannot see Mr. Limper personally are requested to send their names and vacant hours to him through the post-office.

FROSH BASKETEERS PICKED

The members of the freshman girls basket ball team have been chosen and are asked to report at the gym at 12 o'clock today to arrange a time for the team picture to be taken.

Those on the regular team are: Louise Cox and Ruth Willis, centers; Clementine Paddelford, Ethel Loomis, Gertrude Jennings, and Pauline Jeffcoat, guards; Edna Chapin, Martha Baird, and Gladys Carson, forwards. Substitutes are Jamie Cameron, Martha Washburn, Bertha Gavin, Lyle Hoag, and Irene Graham.

HIGH UP IN OCEAN FORCES

Aggie Man Has Grade Equivalent to First Lieutenant

Robert D. Vanordstrand of Leroy, 12, is an electrical engineer, junior grade, on Admiral Mayo's U. S. flag ship, "Pennsylvania", of the Atlantic fleet. His title is equivalent to first lieutenant in the army. Word of the appointment came through a letter from his wife, Amelia Pierson Van Ordstrand, student '07-'12, to a Manhattan friend. Mr. Van Ordstrand was a member of the Webster literary society, and also a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Mrs. Van Ordstrand was a member of the Browning literary society.

Miss Lois Witham, fellow in chemistry, Miss Effie Witham, freshman in home economics, and Carey Witham, senior in engineering, attended the dedication of the Kansas building at Camp Funston Saturday.

K. U.	7	4	3
Washington	6	2	4
Ames	3	0	3
Nebraska	5	0	5
Drake	5	0	5

Look out, Missouri, the Aggies are coming! By putting up a brilliant and steady game of basketball that swept the Washington team off its feet, the Purple five succeeded in taking the second game of the Piker series by a score of 40 to 29.

Although the Clevenger men beat the Pikers by a larger score than in the first game, the Washington team put up a stronger fight than on Friday night. It was only through the flashy playing of the Aggie five that the Pikers were ever downed. The game was fast and interesting from the first whistle to the last.

Both teams started off neck and neck. The Green and Red scored first on a free throw by Marquard. Van Trine came right back with a free throw, though, and knotted the count. Another free one by Van, and a basket by Johnny Clarke put the score 4 to 1. The Pikers then commenced their scoring and just a few minutes before the close of the half, the score stood 15 all. Then the Aggies took a sudden spurt, and three baskets by Whedon, due to clever pass work, gave the Aggie five a six point lead, and making the score 21 to 15.

Then Washington Fought.

At the beginning of the second half, the Washington team staged a wonderful come back. "Heine" Hinds scored two by the field goal route, but Marquard then tossed a free one and a field goal in rapid succession. Clarke then counted two. It was then that the Pikers took their spurt. By rapid passing and speedy floor work, Marquard got away for three field goals, and Benway followed with another. Marquard immediately shot another free throw, and the count stood Washington 26, Aggies 25.

Here, the Aggie spirit, that fights best when things look worst, asserted itself, and a goal by Whedon, followed by three beautiful shots by Johnny Clarke, gave the Aggies a safe lead. From then on, they held the Pikers well under control, and scored consistently themselves, forcing the total up to 40 to 29, for a final victory over the plucky Pikers.

Van Trine and Heine Hinds both played the best game of the season on their home court, and their floor work was responsible for a large number of the Aggie counters. Both were going fairly well on field goals, getting three apiece. Although his floor work was excellent, Van Trine seemed to be a little off on his shooting, and did not do as well on free throws as in the first game. Bill Whedon played a good game, and was right when it came to caging the ball on close shots. Bill succeeded in getting six goals, and showed up better on floor work than in any game previous.

Clarke Played Well

When praise is given it must be given where it is due, and it most certainly is due to the stellar work of the two Aggie guards. Both Clarke and Hinds played a wonderful defensive game, holding the Piker forwards to three field goals. Although Ben Hinds was put out on personal fouls, it seemed from the sidelines that he was just playing hard and fast, and not fouling as much as the score indicates. Johnny Clarke was in good shooting form, and the running guard on the Aggies secured five counters from the field during the game. It was the three field goals in succession of Johnny's that gave the Aggies their start in the final spurt that gave them the game.

Washington put up a stiff fight, and showed itself to be a real basketball team. They have a fast and heady team, and are full of fight. If they play against K. U. the way they played against the Aggies, the dope figures that they should give K. U. a couple of hard fights, and possible win both of the games. Marquard is their star man, being good on both offense and defense, and a deadly free thrower. In the final game, he counted five times from the field, and made 13 out of 18 free throws.

This series puts the Aggies right in line for the championship, and unless Missouri is stronger than comparative scores indicate, they are due for a couple of trimmings and second

PRESENT SHAKESPEARE PLAY

Professor Burk and Miss Dykes to Leads in Drama.

Othello, one of Shakespeare's greatest tragedies, will be presented in the college auditorium the latter part of April by Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, and Miss Ada Dykes of the public speaking department, complimentary to the student body and people of Manhattan.

Professor Burk has had theatrical experience and has played Iago several times, which part he will take again in this play. Before coming to Manhattan, he prepared the Othello for presentation at the Washington Irving theatre in New York City in celebration of the ter-centennial of Shakespeare's death at which performance he took the part of Othello.

Miss Dykes has had much experience in college theatricals at the university of Kansas, where she took the leading parts in several college plays for three years. She will play the part of Desdemona, the wife of Othello.

The rest of the parts will be taken by students. The time set for the tryouts will be announced later. Three women and eight men will be needed for the other parts. Those interested in taking the women's parts are asked to see Miss Dykes and those interested in taking the men's parts to see Professor Burk. The play will be given in costume and admission will be free to faculty and students, and the general public.

Tryouts will be held Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in F-3.

LEADS INDUSTRIALIST RACE

Miss Kimport Is Ahead in Spring Semester Contest

Miss Katrina Kimport is leading the second semester Industrialist contest with 23 inches of copy accepted. C. J. Medlin, second, Sara Chase, third; and A. C. Hancock, fourth.

Miss Sara Chase has forged ahead of Miss Dora Cate for first place in last semester's Industrialist contest. This race will not close until February 20, but no copy has been accepted since the close of last semester. The time was extended so that copy submitted last semester might be published.

DR. SCHWEGLER HERE AGAIN

"The Might of a Tropical Storm" Subject of Second Talk

The second lecture in the series being conducted by Dr. Raymond A. Schwegler of the University of Kansas, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. will be held in the Domestic science Rest Room Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. His subject will be "The Might of a Tropical Storm."

Ray Glover, sophomore engineer, left Friday night for Columbus, Ohio, where he will go into training for aviation. Mr. Glover passed the examination November 21. He attended college until the beginning of this semester, when he was employed by the college in the electrical department.

FROSH EASY TRACK VICTORS

YEARLINGS, WITH EVANS AND NEELY STARRING, RAN AWAY WITH MEET

Two First Year Athletes Stopped Favorite Events in Fast Time, and Helped Pile Up Score of 51 Points—Sophomore Second with Only 27 Counters

Easily outclassing the rest of the field, the freshman track men ran away with the inter class meet, scoring 51 points to 29 points for the sophomores, their nearest competitors. The freshman team was well balanced, and several of their men showed unusual form. Evans and Neely in the dashes, Winters in the high jump, Price in the 880-yard run, and Bailey in the hurdles, are tracksters of great promise, and if "Germany" Schulz can hold them together for next year, they should develop into a winning team for the Aggies.

The summary of the events:

35 yard low hurdles—Won by Bailey, freshman; Metz, junior, second; Works, sophomore, third; Kniseley, sophomore, fourth. Time 4 1-5 seconds.

35-yard dash—Won by Evans, freshman; Neely, freshman, second; Metz, junior, third; Connell, freshman, fourth. Time 3 3-5 seconds.

Shot Put—Won by Metz, junior; Evans, freshman, second; Jolley, freshman, third; Converse, senior, fourth. Distance 36 feet 3-4 inches.

1 mile run—Won by Eggerman, senior; Currie, freshman, second; Watt, sophomore, third. Time 4:54 4-5.

High jump—Works, sophomore and Winter, freshman, tie for first place; Frost, sophomore, third; Kerley, freshman, fourth. Height 5 ft. 4 3-4 inches.

35 yard high hurdles—Won by Works, sophomore; Bailey, freshman, second; Metz, junior, third; Stuewe, freshman, fourth. Time 4 1-5 sec.

440 yard run—Won by Neely, freshman; Barnes, senior, second; De Puy, freshman, third. Time 56 4-5 seconds.

880 yard run—Won by Price, freshman; Beckett, sophomore, second. Time 2:06 4-5 sec.

Pole vault—Won by Robison, sophomore; Frost, sophomore, second; Bailey, freshman, third. Height 10 feet 3 inches.

220 yard dash—Won by Evans, freshman; Connell, freshman second. Time 25 1-5 seconds.

2 mile run—Won by Foreman, junior. Time 10 minutes 37 seconds.

BANDSMEN ARE COMING BACK

Musicians of 841st F. A. Regiment to Give Concert Friday.

The boys of the 341st Field Artillery regimental band at Camp Funston were so delighted with the reception they received when they gave the concert and community sing in connection with Farm and Home Week that they are willing to come again. A return engagement, therefore, of this band at the college auditorium is announced for Friday evening.

A small entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged, and every cent of the proceeds will be used for recreation at the Base Hospital at Fort Riley, for which there is no recreation fund. This hospital accommodates 2,000 patients and is full most of the time. Tickets will go on sale in a few days at the Palace Drug stores in Aggieville and down town. There is great interest in the concert and it is expected that the house will be filled. The sale of tickets will be limited to the seating capacity of the auditorium.

The concert will be similar to the one given by the band Farm and Home week and Mr. Guthrie will be here again to lead the community singing. A soldier-composer will sing one or two of his own compositions as a special feature of the program.

BEGIN THE CO-ED SERIES SOON

First Game of Inter-Class Tournament to Be Played March 13

The girls' inter-class basketball tournament has been scheduled to begin March 13. Three games are to be played, the other two dates being now set as March 20 and 27. There will be six players on each team.

"MADE IN GERMANY."

The Kaiser is at it again.
Pictures of a "starving Germany," of German workers in revolt and of peace agitators in the Fatherland have been painted in newspapers presented to be transferred from that city to the Allies.

Undoubtedly the stories have a strong military value. Quite probably they are lulling a few Americans into the belief that we are fighting a people on the verge of collapse, and that early peace is certain.

But the stories must not be given too much credence. It must always be remembered that if the yarns are carefully inspected they will be found to bear that familiar mark, "Made in Germany."

WANTED—A SERVICE FLAG.

More than 500 Aggie students have rallied to the colors.

And to honor them there is only a list of names published each week in the Industrialist, the official college paper, and in The Collegian, the official student publication.

Exchanges from other institutions tell each week of service flags that are being dedicated to students who have gone from these colleges. Even high schools have their banners.

After the war, there should be a monument erected to the dead—for there will be Aggie dead—and the names of the students who fought for Uncle Sam should be inscribed on a huge metal plate.

But there is need right now for a service flag. And we shall have a 500-starred banner—that is, if students fall in behind a movement that is to be started soon.

—Will they?

SURE!

OFFICERS INSPECT WIRELESS

Army Signal Men Visitors at Physics Laboratory.

A class of 20 officers from the United States signal corps visited the physics laboratory Wednesday morning. They spent the morning inspecting the electrical and wireless apparatus of the school. An officer from the French signal corps gave a demonstration and lecture on the use of the wireless in signalling. The class was under the direction of Lieutenant Porter.

president; Edward Zollinger, secretary and R. T. Coffey, treasurer.

BLUFFS ALONG THE BLUE

Mrs. Don L. Bark.

Three men sat on the banks of the Blue,
Three wise men and three good men
true—

At most time; but now each sat
Without a coat, without a hat,
Dressed in jeans and a haversack,
With a patient hump in each one's back
Holding on to a hook and line—
Three bluffs along the Blue.

They fished all night and they fished all day
They fished while the farmers were making hay

Without a nibble, without a bite,
And they spoke not a word till sable night
Came down and hid their luckless plight;

When each took up his haversack
And each out of politeness turned his back
While they filled them up with sticks and stones.

They were three bluffs, I'll make no bones—
Three bluffs along the Blue.

They came back home to the Colleg-Club,
And, not to be called a fisherman
dub,
Each took a paper and fountain pen
And called himself a poetry man;
For everyone knows that nature's art
Casts a spell on the poet's heart.
Each had written a pathetic ballad,
Compounding it much like a D. S.
salad—
The bluffs along the Blue.

Pretty Tough "Beat" Given Collegian Cub
But He Gets a Story

Mr. Reporter gradually sneaked up the stairway leading through Kedzie hall into the realm of clicking typewriters. His duty was to get a story—to get it before every one else found out, and to surprise them when they found the startling news in the next issue of The Collegian. To do this with so many women in the world is some job, but it takes a reporter to beat a woman to it (unless the reporter is a woman.)

Casually the reporter went over to his beat sheet to see what was on, and to his surprise he saw the word, H-E-L-L.

"Phew! Tough beat!" moaned the reporter, "Guess I'll have to commit suicide and send the news back by parcel post."

The reporter was dazed at the awfulness of his task. He staggered out of Kedzie, and across the campus. He went through the main hall without attracting attention, and started in a dazed manner across the grass plot between the chemistry annex and the engineering building. There he lay down on the grass to consider how he could best do the awful deed. "Ah—hydrochloric acid!" he murmured as he gazed in through the window of the chemistry building. He started to climb in but heard a voice say:

"Anderson, is all the brimstone gone?"

"I have it," yelled the reporter and he started by for Kedzie hall. There he furiously sat down at a typewriter and dashed off head. "HELL IS OUT OF BRIMSTONE—QUITS BUSINESS—SEND MALICIOUS CHARACTERS TO GERMANY." it ran.

"Where did you get this story?" asked one feminine disciple of Gutenberg.

"Chemistry annex," replied the reporter.

"Beat covered," said she.

"JOSH" BILLINGS IN CLASS I-A. District Board Wouldn't Give Him Deferred Classification.

The following clipping regarding "Josh" Billings is taken from today's Topeka Capital. Mr. Billings is well known in Manhattan, having attended the agricultural college, was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and played on the Manhattan baseball team, which was a member of the Kansas league, before he broke into the big leagues:

"John A. 'Josh' Billings, star catcher of the Cleveland American league baseball team, failed to impress the members of the first district board here with his claim for deferred classification on the grounds of being engaged in agricultural pursuits, a part of the year and in baseball the other part. Billings lives on his 40-acre farm in Jefferson county and claims he is an expert farmer. He also claims he works his mother's farm of 30 acres, which adjoins his. His questionnaire came to the first district appeal board yesterday, and after due consideration his claim of 4-C was denied and he was placed in class I-A. As the vote on his case was unanimous, Billings has no chance of taking an appeal to the president.

Willard Passewack of Camp Funston spent Sunday here with friends.

PIKERS IN A LATE SPURT

But Aggies Rose in Crisis and Won the First, 36 to 30.

Playing in spurts, but hitting the basket when scores were needed, won the first game of the series with Washington, the Aggies triumphing by a score of 36 to 30.

The game was the fastest played on the Aggie court this season, and the Washington quintet were fighting all the time, and put up a real brand of basketball that the Purple five at times found hard to solve. Although the Aggies were held down at times, the old fight came back to them, and the final count found the Aggies well ahead.

Hinds Scored First

Hinds started the scoring for the Aggies by hitting a basket at the 1:15 mark. The Purple five then tossed a free one for the Pikers, but Bill Whedon came back with two points. Dunker then scored two for Washington, and a minute later Marquard added a free throw, making the score 4 to 4. Johnny Clarke then dribbled the ball down the length of the floor for a clean basket, and started the Aggie scoring machine, and the Purple soon had 14 points to 5 for the Green and Red. Both teams commenced scoring then, and the half ended with the Aggies 6 points in the lead, 20 to 14.

The Aggies started off in whirlwind style in the second half, and before the amazed Pikers found themselves had the score up to 31 to 16. The Pikers then woke up from their dazed condition, and started a rally that nearly overcame the Purple lead. The Pikers played the floor well, and Marquard, Piker center, scored two baskets and enough free throws to bring the Washington count to within five points of the Aggies, 33 to 28. From that time on the teams played on even terms, and the final score found the Cleveland basketballers on the long end of a 36 to 30 count.

WRITES FROM DUTCH ANTILLES

Farmer Asks for K. S. A. C. Bulletin on Pit Silos

A request for information concerning pit silos recently was received by Edward C. Johnson, dean of the division of extension, from C. J. Van Breerckey, Curacao, Dutch Antilles. The bulletin entitled, "Underground Silos" by A. S. Neals, dairy specialist in the division of extension, was forwarded in response to this request.

The following letter in regard to the bulletin has been received: "The bulletin on pit silos has been received by me and I beg you to accept my best thanks for forwarding it. I do not doubt it will be very useful to me as the conditions are favorable here for underground silos, the climate being arid in a high degree and not much ground water or none at all. Silos are not known here, but I hope the pit silos will be received favorably. I will not neglect to let you know about the results."

Cecil Carson is in town visiting friends.

Games This Week.

Washington at K. U. Monday and Tuesday.

Missouri at Ames, Friday and Saturday.

K. U. at Nebraska, Friday and Saturday.

The next Aggie game will be with Drake at Des Moines February 21 and 22.

The dopsters at K. U. now predict the Jayhawkers will finish third in the valley race. They concede, however, that the Washington Pikers who played here Friday and Saturday are strong contenders for those honors. This may be settled by the games early this week at Jayhawkerville.

The center of interest in the Missouri valley race now centers in the big contest coming here on February 27 and 28 with Missouri. Undoubtedly the valley championship will be settled then.

STRING QUARTET IS COMING

The Zoellner String Quartet will be in Manhattan February 25 and give a recital of chamber music in the college auditorium. With them comes the noted pianist Jeanette Durno.

This quartet has been accorded by many to be one of the world's two most famous quartets and without doubt it has a leading place in the musical world. All being members of one family of an artistic musical temperament, they are capable of producing most excellent harmonies and unities.

Perhaps the most striking feature of the Zoellner Quartet is the refinement and delicacy of the ensemble. They play for the sake of bringing each separate beauty of the best music into prominence. The perfect unanimity and sympathy with which they play, and their masterful intelligence place them on the highest level as a quartet.

As a pianist Jeanette Durno ranks with the foremost. Both in America and abroad she has won a distinguished name as an artist at the piano. She is a player possessing extraordinary power and temperament; a student of the masters of music; and posses technique of wonderful brilliancy and finish.

The Zoellner String Quartet is the fourth and last number in the Artists' Series, which succeeded the College Lyceum.

REMITTANCES TO STUDENTS' FRIENDSHIP WAR PLACE COLLEGE HIGH IN LIST

Only the Largest Institutions in the Country Are Ahead of K. S. A. C. Latest Reports in American Student Show—K. U. Is Far Down in List

K. S. A. C. stands twelfth among the colleges and universities of America in amounts turned in on the Students' Friendship War Fund. This is the result shown in the tabulation printed in the February issue of the North American Student, and includes all remittances made up to January 15.

The table shows that this institution has forwarded $8,000 in to headquarters. In addition, there is $1,400 collected here which is being remitted this week. W. W. McLean, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., said yesterday. An attempt is being made to have this amount recorded before the fifteenth of the month, so that the total of $9,400 which has been collected here appears in the March issue.

The institutions ahead of K. S. A. C. in the list are among the largest universities in the country. The University of Kansas, with a remittance of only $4,323, is far down the list. The Jayhawkers pledged less than the students here subscribed.

A special attempt is being made this week to collect the remainder of the $11,500 pledged here. Only approximately $1,500 of the original sum still remains unpaid.

The statistics show that 409 of the men of the institution have completely paid up and that 148 have all, or a part, of their pledge yet to pay. Of the women, 466 have completed payment on their pledges, and 148—the same as the men—still have not remitted in full.

Ninety-four faculty men and 100 faculty women have paid up, and 20 faculty and 20 faculty women still are in arrears.

CONDUCTS A ROUND TABLE

Professor Floyd Is in Hutchinson at Teachers' Meeting

E. V. Floyd, assistant professor of physics, went to Hutchinson today to attend the meeting of the Southern Teachers' association.

Professor Floyd will conduct a round table on the subject of general science for the high school. This work is in connection with the course in general science for high school teachers which is given during the summer school. The general science course is rapidly growing in favor over the state and Professor Floyd will give a number of suggestions for the improvement of the existing course.

Two Sororities Unite to Raise Money for Students War Fund

"The cat produces fiddlestrings, The fish produces glue, The hen produces eggs and things—I don't care, do you?"

This and a score of equally touching melodies will be sung at the vaudeville show to be given in the auditorium Saturday evening, February 23, by the Chi Omega and Pi Beta Phi sororities. It will be the first show ever staged exclusively by Kansas State Agricultural college sorority chapters. The proceeds go to the Friendship War fund.

A real vaudeville program is to be given. A minstrel show will be one of the big features. The promoters have got together a collection of jokes which they say they will guarantee to make your grandmother or your minister laugh.

An Up-to-Date Program.

"No old stuff" has been adopted as the motto, and every joke will be new or at least renovated so thoroughly that it looks like new. Some facts about well known faculty members and students are going to be presented, too, in a way that will make a hit. Charles Adams of Camp Funston will take part and is expected to prove a drawing card.

The musical side of the program promises to be well handled. Songs of every age, color, and previous condition of servitude will be sung. Starting with "Old Black Joe" the minstrel will come down to the music of Irving Berlin, George Cohan, and other highly paid composers of the present day.

PI Phi Fantomine

The Pi Phi are planning a pantomime stunt in which a crowd of girls will impersonate the audience at a motion picture show. All the thrills which the "movie" fan loves will be registered.

Interpretative dancing will have an important place in the entertainment. The two sororities have members of marked talent in this, and a number of dances of special merit are being arranged.

The sororities have promised a band that will make the well known jazz organizations fade into insignificance. The members who are to take part in the various acts are being coached by Prof. O. H. Burns and Miss Ads Dykes of the department of public speaking.

WATSON IS FRESHMAN PREXY

Class Elects Wichita Student to Act As Head This Semester

Ray Watson of Wichita was chosen president of the freshman class at an election held yesterday afternoon. The other officers elected were Miss Helen Lawson, vice president; Jack Evans, treasurer; Miss Minnie Scott, secretary; and Donald Murphy, marshal.

Approximately 50 votes were cast.

GOES ON GOVERNMENT WORK

Professor Swanson to Demonstrate Prevention of Explosions

C. O. Swanson, associate professor of chemistry, left Sunday on a trip to Topeka, St. Joe, Atchison, and Leavenworth. Professor Swanson is connected with the government work on prevention of dust explosions in elevators and flour mills and is giving a series of demonstrations and lectures in connection with this campaign.

RED CROSS GIRLS AT WORK

THOSE WHO SIGNED UP FOR WRAPPING OF DRESSINGS ARE ATTENDING WELL

Many of the Classes Are Maintaining An Average of More than 20 Dressings for Each Member—Miss Dickman Easily Won the Contest

The Red Cross classes organized last week started out on schedule time, the first one meeting on Monday afternoon.

All members who signed up for one or more of the ten classes have turned out unusually well and are hard at work. The girls have adopted and are using the regulation college girl Red Cross dress consisting of the white apron and the light blue cap or coat.

Miss Grace Dickman who won in the campaign by securing the largest number of workers now has 80 enlisted. Sixty members compose a company. To accommodate this large class the Red Cross room will be open for four hours on Saturday afternoon in place of three.

Second place in the campaign was won by Miss Mary Crumbaker who now has 66 members enrolled. As soon as the classes are well started a competition in the output of the number of surgical dressings will be begun. A record of the six classes which have met up until Thursday noon follows:

Monday afternoon, 32 members, 719 surgical dressings completed; Tuesday morning, 13 members, 236 dressings; Tuesday afternoon, 29 members, 650 dressings; Wednesday morning, 21 members, 993 dressings; Wednesday afternoon, 42 members, 941 dressings; Thursday morning, 11 members, 190 dressings.

GOODBYE TO LOVERS' LANE

Historic Path Is Losing the Famous Old Maples

Lovers Lane is now almost a thing of the past. It is to be Friendship Boulevard. The old maples that have guarded the place for so long are being thinned and younger oaks are planted on the opposite side to take their place. The roadway, besides, is being surfaced with gravel from the west side of the campus.

For several days men have been sawing and cutting the fallen trees into stove lengths. Soon many loads of sawed wood will be ready for the fire. The college will sell the wood to help pay for the cost of the road building.

TOLD MORE STORIES OF CUBS

Miss Vina Lindsay Entertained Members of Quill Club Monday

Miss Vina Lindsay, feature writer on the Kansas City Post, spoke at the Quill club meeting Monday evening. Her experience on the Kansas City paper furnished the basis of her discussion. She told interesting personal experiences.

H. W. Davis, associate professor of the English language, gave a talk on the fable. Original fables were read by Miss Zora Harris, and by Frank L. Snow, assistant professor of industrial journalism, who read one by Arthur Boyer, who was not present. Miss Josephine Sullivan read her initiation story.

"GERMANY" IS IN A NEW ROLE.

Aggie Coach Is Unprising Basketball Series at Lincoln.

"Germany" Shultz left Wednesday afternoon for Lincoln, Neb., where he will act as umpire in the two basketball games there between the universities of Kansas and Nebraska, Friday and Saturday. The men in charge at Nebraska tried to get Coach Cleveland for these two games, but he is too busy training the local basketballers for the big games ahead, he said.

LIKES THE DEBATE MATERIAL

Coch Burd Lands 18 Men Trying for Six Places

There are now 18 men trying for a place on the annual Pentagonal debate squad. Milo G. Cary having recently won a place. Three men are trying to each of the six places, and Don L. Burk, coach of debate, says of them, "they are the finest bunch of fellows from which to pick a debate team that I have ever seen."

ANOTHER CHANCE IN CHEMISTRY

Those Who Failed Exam. May Write Saturday

An extra examination will be given in chemistry Saturday at 3 o'clock in Room C-26. All those who did not take the final tests last semester will be required to take the examination at that time according to P. J. Newman, acting head of the department of chemistry.

CONDUCTS MAGAZINE FEATURE

Professor Crawford Has Charge of Department in Agricultural Advertising. Agricultural Advertising, published in Chicago, has added a department devoted to the Association of Agricultural College Editors. This department appears monthly in the magazine and is conducted by N. A. Crawford, who is head of the journalism department in the college and is also president of the association. The material in the current issue of the magazine covers five pages and is illustrated.

AGGIES STILL ARE SECOND

And Missouri, with Eight Wins, Continues to Lead Valley Race

STANDING OF TEAMS.

	G	W	L	Pct.
Missouri	8	8	0	1.000
Kansas Aggies	6	5	1	.833
Kansas	9	6	3	.666
Washington	8	2	6	.250
Amos	4	1	3	.250
Nebraska	3	0	3	.000
Drake	6	0	6	.000

No change of consequence resulted in the Missouri valley basketball race this week. There will probably be none until the great clash with the Missouri tigers on the local court February 27 and 28. Beyond a question the valley championship will be decided at that time. There are now no other teams in the valley which are likely to stop either Missouri or the Aggies. Both teams are making their greatest efforts for this final test and the attention of every school in the valley will be focused on this great battle.

The University of Kansas won decisively over the Washington Pikers at Lawrence in two games Monday and Tuesday. This strengthens the K. U. position in third place. The Jayhawkers play two games with Nebraska Friday and Saturday. It is generally conceded that these will add two more victories to the K. U. list. Even then, however, their percentage will be only .727, which is more than a hundred points below the Aggie classification.

The Aggies will play three games with Ames and Drake next week, and all of these should result in Aggie victories. This should put the Aggies just behind Missouri. The two defeats at Lawrence, caused a tie for fourth place between the Washington Pikers and Ames. The St. Louis team is generally regarded the stronger team, however.

RAND BACK HERE TONIGHT

Musicians of 341st Field Artillery to Give Entertainment

The 341st Field Artillery Band of Camp Funston will give a return engagement in the college auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock. As there has been a large demand for tickets a large crowd is expected.

The band gave a concert here three weeks ago and approximately a thousand people were turned away from the doors. There will be some special features on the bill beside the band concert. Charles L. Adams, a famous minstrel comedian, will be on the program again. Other features are a drum duet and a violin solo with hand accompaniment. The band which consists of 43 parts will be under the direction of Chester Guthrie, musical director of Camp Funston.

HEADS THE EURODELPHIANS

Miss Pearl Brown Is President of Literary Society

The Eurodelphian literary society elected the following officers for the spring term: Pearl Brown, president; Frances Miltner, vice president; Frances Russell, secretary; Ursula Stites, correspondent secretary; Ruth McMurray, treasurer; Ruth Thomas, critic; Edith Parkhurst, marshal; Bertha Flynn, assistant marshal; Ethyl Jones, pianist; and Ruby Parkhurst, reporter.

DR. CARVER REFUSED

TURNED DOWN OFFER OF BOARD OF CONTROL

DID NOT WANT PRESIDENCY

Governor Capper Indicates That Eastern Man Did Not Look With Favor on the Proposition

Doctor Carver Declared, When Here Last Month, That Head Could Found in This Institution

WILLARD TO STAY AT THE HELM

Not Likely That There Will Be a Change Until the End of This Semester, State Executive Says, Although the Board Constantly Is on Outlook for Good Man for Place

An offer to become president of this college probably has been made to Dr. Thomas Nixon Carver, professor of economics at Harvard university and who addressed the Farm and Home week visitors here January 28. But Doctor Carver turned down the offer.

Admission that the board of control "talked to Doctor Carver, just as they have talked with many other possible presidents," was made last night by Governor Arthur Capper, who is chairman ex-officio of the board, during a long distance telephone conversation.

The governor would not admit that any definite offer had been made to Doctor Carver. He could, not, however, be pinned down to a definite denial. His entire talk, in fact, concerned itself with almost everything but definiteness.

Carver Never a Candidate.

"I do not believe that Doctor Carver seriously considered coming out here," Governor Capper said, which was as much to the point as the state executive would talk. "He certainly could not be considered a candidate, for he was not seeking the place."

Governor Capper declared that if an offer had been made to the economics authority, no more than $6,000, the salary received by Dr. H. J. Waters, prior to his resignation, had been proposed. That money was not the pulling power that would bring Doctor Carver to Kansas was indicated by the governor.

No New Head Soon

Asked as to the possibility of the board selecting a new man to take the presidential chair during the present semester, Governor Capper said that he did not consider this probable.

"The institution probably will remain under the same management for the remainder of the school year," was the opinion expressed.

The board of control still is on the lookout for a good man. Six or seven educators are considered as candidates, said Governor Capper, who refused to give the names of any of these men.

Students Liked Carver.

That Doctor Carver would refuse the offer, if one were made to him, was indicated when he was here in January. His answer to one of the questions asked was: "I do not believe the board will find it necessary to go outside the present faculty to find a man capable of running the institution."

Doctor Carver strongly impressed the students who heard him at the general assembly. He also took well with the Farm and Home week visitors. If he had chosen to take the place, there is little doubt but that he could have started off with the good will and best wishes of the entire student body.

MORE NURSE TRAINING COURSES.

Classes Held on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Two new courses in Nurses training have been organized in the home economics department, and a few vacancies are left. Anyone wishing to receive Red Cross Nurses certificates may call Miss Kenedy in that department.

Classes are held from 2 to 3 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and from 3 to 4:30 o'clock on Wednesdays.

SMALLPOX VACCINATIONS FREE.

Doctor Sevier Will Administer Serum to Students

Smallpox vaccinations can be given to students in the regular office hours of Dr. C. M. Sevier, college physician. Materials have arrived from the United States public health service, and students will be treated free of charge.

SOPHS PICK THEIR OFFICERS.

Clifford Knisley Is Elected President for Spring Semester.

The sophomore class has elected officers for the second semester. Those chosen are Clifford Knisley, president; M. P. Schlaegel, vice president; Miss Hetty Carris, recording secretary; Miss Ella Stinson, corresponding secretary; Earl Frost, treasurer; G. O. Hoffines, marshal; H. D. Garver, assistant marshal; Miss Lucile Helser, class historian; Miss Lucile Harbaugh, girls' athletic director; George Hinds, boys' athletic director.

SURVIVED TUSCANIA DISASTER

F. C. Caldwell Is Safe in Ireland, His Sister Reports.

Francis C. Caldwell, former student in the college, who was aboard the British transport Tuscania sunk off the coast of Ireland last week, was safely landed. Miss Loula E. Kennedy, assistant professor of domestic science, has received a letter from his sister in New York, stating that official word had been received from Washington that Mr. Caldwell is among the survivors.

WORK ON "UNDER COVER" AGAIN

Liberty Measles Handicapped Members in Recent Rehearsals

After a slight delay due to a raid of Liberty measles, the cast for "Under Cover" again has resumed its rehearsals in earnest. Miss Ada Dykes coach, and Miss Ernestine Bibb, one of the leads, have been confined because of the epidemic, but both are out now.

The leads for the play are showing up well and as the play is stronger than "The Man on the Box," which was given this fall, it is expected that it will be one of the features of the Festival Week, which Professor Arthur Westbrook and the public speaking department are arranging. "Under Cover" will be produced on March 16.

ADD FOUR MORE DEBATERS.

Squads of Women Talkers Enlarged—Two Debates Scheduled.

In tryouts held Monday afternoon four more young women were placed upon college debate squads. Miss Christine Cool and Miss Mary Dudley were placed upon the squad which will furnish the team in the Kansas Wesleyan debate which will take place the first of April.

Miss Elizabeth Cotton and Miss Whicarty were placed on the squad which debates Warrensburg Normal the first of May. The Salina squad is all ready at work on their question. The affirmative team meets Monday afternoon and the negative team Friday afternoon under the direction of Miss Lola Sloop, fellow in debating.

I. I. TAYLOR DIED A SOLDIER

Former Engineering Instructor Was at Camp Lee, Va.

Word of the death of I. I. Taylor, formerly instructor of applied mechanics and machine design, on January 25, has been received by friends here. Mr. Taylor's death was due to cerebro meningitis, following a nasal operation on January 21.

Mr. Taylor after leaving the college in the fall of 1916 went to Purdue university where he remained a year. He was at the time of his death stationed at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va.

IN BIG DRIVE FOR MEMBERS.

V. M. Has Organized Campaign by College Classes

The Y. M. C. A. is conducting a big membership campaign this week. D. H. Capper, chairman of the membership committees, is in charge of the work.

Teams have been organized from the various classes. The freshman team is in charge of Ray Newkirk, the sophomores are under Iola McCall, and the junior-senior team is under A. L. Meyers.

"We are figuring on canvassing 300 men," said D. H. Capper. "We are already getting splendid results."

BIG TRACK BATTLE MONDAY

GREEN SQUADS OF JAYHAWKERS AND AGGIES WILL MEET IN ANNUAL DUAL

Close Analysis of Two Teams Gives the Aggies 45 to 40 Advantage on the Dope Chart—Essick, Foreman and Beatty Are Surest Winners

THE DOPE CHART
	Aggies	K. U.
30 yard dash	5	3
100 yard run	3	5
30 yard high	3	0
440 yard dash	3	5
30 yard low	5	3
880 yard run	3	5
2 mile run	5	3
1 mile relay	0	5
High jump	3	5
16 lb. shot put	5	3
Pole vault	5	3
Totals	45	40

Two equally-green track squads will meet on Nichols floor Monday night when the Kansas Jayhawkers come to Manhattan for their annual fight with the Kansas Aggies.

As each team has but two veterans, coping the result is difficult. Taking into consideration the showing of the Schulz tracksters in the tryouts Monday, and the stories of times and distances being made by the Hamilton men, the dopest figures the Kansas Aggies a slight favorite.

Essick and Eggerman are the two Aggie "K" men, and Rice and Murphy are old men who are back at Lawrence. Essick is conceded first place in his favorite event, although the squad of long distance men at K. U. is hoped to produce a runner who can take Eggerman's measure in the mile.

No Competition for Rice.

Rice, the Jayhawk high jumper who has a record of 6 feet 2 inches, easily will win that event. It is thought, and Murphy is expected to have but little trouble in the quarter mile dash.

Beatty probably is the man who will decide the meet. The star Aggie hurdler and broad jumper has not re-entered college, although he is considering taking out an assignment tomorrow. Should Beatty return, the chances of a double Aggie victory in the high hurdles, and possibly in the low hurdles, are strong, as Works has been showing good form in the two kangaroo events.

Metz, who has hurled the shot 36 feet, stands at least an even chance of winning that event, it is figured, as Hamilton is said to have no brilliant weight men this season. Metz also works in the hurdles, and will take the place of Beatty if that athlete fails to enroll.

Robison a Newcomer

Robison has loomed up as a dark horse in the pole vault. He is one of Schulz's "finds." Coming out only a week before the meet, Robison won the tryouts in the vault Monday. Frost has marks equal to those made by Robison, and if he can get into form, may capture a second place.

Foreman probably is the best bet the Aggies have. The lanky twiler showed his heels to the K. U. long distance men last fall, and probably will trot away with first place in the two-mile run. Eggerman, another for a second place in the chart, before a first in the mile, but is hoped cause of the known excellence of the Jayhawkers distance material.

The Aggie middle distance men are mediocre, compared with the usual Jayhawk standard. For the last two years, the Hamilton men have had but little competition in the 440-yard dash and the 880-yard run, but Beckett, Barnes and DuPuy may turn the tables this year.

Essick, Barres, Beckett and DuPuy probably will run the relay for the Aggies. Here again the excellence of the Hamilton middle distance men is expected to give the Jayhawkers first place.

Miss Haggart to Kingman.

Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of home economics, will leave for Kingman Monday where she will address a meeting of the Women's Miss Ruby Roberts and Miss Ruby Ellerman, juniors in home economics will spend the week end in Topeka.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1918.

IT MAY BE A VICTORY

Track prospects this year are poor, mighty poor. The runners, shot putters and jumpers that "Germany" Schulz has collected this year would be defeated about five to one by the aggregation of stars Merner had three years ago, when the Aggies won their only track victory over the Jayhawkers.

But times have changed. There are no Frizzels, no Huttos, no Weavers and no Holroyds in this year's bunch of men—that is, none have developed yet. Neither are there many Rebers, Treweekes, or Hazens in the troupes W. O. Hamilton is training in Lawrence. No, each team is made up mainly of new men, athletes who are out fighting with all they have in them to keep the standard of athletics at their institutions high, even though war has taken its toll.

These two teams—the Aggies and the Jayhawkers—will battle in Nichols gymnasium Monday. It is their annual little indoor affair, an affair by the way, from which K. S. A. C. never has emerged victor.

But again times have changed. Matched equally in veterans, Hamilton and Schultz have made this year's dual meet a contest of coaching. Both have had to work with green material in the main.

On paper, there is little to choose between the two squads. They should fight, right up to the relay. And with the 50-50 chance that the Aggies have, surely there isn't an Aggie student who is going to miss this opportunity—perhaps his last—to see his Alma Mater in a possible track triumph over a bitter athletic rival.

STILL A CHANCE FOR ALL

The denial last night by Governor Capper that Doctor Carver is to be the next Aggie president again opens up the field.

Five or six men still are considered as candidates, the governor said. Who are the men? And what are their standings in the world of education, and of agriculture?

Aggie students are anxious to know who is to be "prexy" next year. And they are hoping that, instead of choosing some inexperienced educator who may make a "fizzle" of his stay here, the board of control will choose Dean Jardine, or a man just as big.

Osculation Wouldn't Be Difficult If All Smoked, Think Fosh

Freshmen often see things that make their eyes bug out. This time a bunch of freshie gents were strolling down Poyntz avenue. One member of the gang pulled out his pill box and passed around the things. Down Poyntz they went in a halo of smoke. Hoddawg! Real men, they!

Then along came a lady from the other direction. She was one of those, real, smart, hifalutin ones, with earrings hanging from her sense of hearin' as big as chunks of coal. And, oh yes, on her dainty red lips hung a cigarette, and she puffed away like an old timer.

Seven freshmen stopped dead still and in their dazed condition, four of them dropped their cigarettes.
"No need of kissin' that un," said one.
"Why?"
"Just change cigarettes," said the other.

TELLS OF WORTH OF THE Y

FORMER AGGIE WRITES LETTER OF APPRECIATION

The $11,500 that K. S. A. C. Students Subscribed Helps to Construct One Hut in France.

How the $11,000 subscribed by Aggie students is being used and how it is appreciated is told by Corp. Arthur H. Brewer, a former student in architecture of this college. Corporal Brewer was a member of the Y. M. C. A. in the section of France now occupied by the American troops. He is away from his regiment but according to his last letter, he expects to see them in a short time.
"A letter recently received regarding the work of the Y. M. C. A. says in part:

"In your last letter I noticed that the school has raised $11,000 for the Y. M. C. A. and that the money is to be used for the building of 'Y' huts. You probably didn't realize at the time that the money subscribed will build only one of these huts if they are similar to the one that I have been building. I had little thought when I commenced on that building that possibly it was being built by the students of old K. S. A. C.

Lumber Is High.
"You may think that that is a great amount of money to be spent on one building but you can readily see why the cost is so large if you will consider that lumber is a very scarce article over here. The grade of lumber of which the 'Y's' are built costs from $160 to $250 per thousand feet. My building was supposed to be a portable one, that is, set up in sections, but work on it was rushed and only a few sections and partitions were actually made to fit.

"I have had charge of this building from start to finish. Sixteen engineers from my company and from 10 or 20 infantry men have been used every day. We have worked in rain and snow in the past two months that it has taken us to build this structure. This building has 9,000 square feet of floor space and has a gabled roof. The floor space is divided up into an auditorium chapel, canteen or sales room, billiard room, quiet room, mess hall, kitchen, office, storeroom, toilets and four bed rooms for the officers of the 'Y'."

Have Basketball Courts
"In the auditorium, services, lectures, moving pictures, wrestling, boxing and basketball games are held. The quiet room is the sick room and the chapel is the reading room.

"The Y. M. C. A. is sure a good thing. Over here there is practically no place to go except to the Y. One gets lots of enjoyment from an evening spent at the pictures, lectures and entertainments given there. Many interesting groups are found there. In one corner of the large chapel a few soldiers may have a Frenchman cornered and are learning just the feeling experienced in going over the top. Very often he can talk English and is telling and showing how he killed a dozen of more Fritz. And here I might mention—when a Frenchman is illustrating bayonet fighting, it's gangway and he has the floor. Our 'YM' daddy here is Mr. Levier, who is national secretary for the Sig. Alph. fraternity. He is certainly a fine jolly fellow."

Builds Up Morale.

Corp. Brewer thinks the Y. M. C. A. is of great help in building up the morale of the American troops in France. Here the men attend religious meetings, read the current periodicals, play games, buy American goods and take part in intramural sports.
"In the auditorium, several times a week a French band of about 90 pieces entertain the men," said Corp. Brewer. "A French band truly makes one, 'Stop, Look and Listen.' The average American soldier is always looking for amusement and sport and there is no other place to go except to the Y.
"All of the building have the Delco storage battery system of lighting. Heat is supplied by 10 large stoves all of which burn wood. Coal is completely out of sight.

Have French Visitors
"French soldiers come often to visit us and we Americans certainly take the part of hosts as well as we know how. The Frenchmen are just learning the meaning of the Red Triangle and appear to be much interested in the work of the Y."

Transmigration of The Human Soul Is On Mind of Freshie

A certain frosh on the campus has been suspected for some time of malicious actions. At least he has been exposed, and the exposition leads to an interesting story. Now frosh gentlemen are sometime known to delve deep into human mysteries such as chemistry, botany, etc. But that a plain ordinary freshman should take up the scientific study of the transmigration of the human soul is indeed a surprising arrangement of frosh genius.

Had it not been that the frosh roomed with a soph, this tale might have slumbered on down through the centuries. However the soph was the link between the freshman and this tale.

The aforesaid frosh having read the aforementioned subject had all along desired to conceal his malicious habit. However a dream upset his plan, and now all is lost. This is what the soph heard as he was awakened at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday morning:

"Yes when you die, your souls are not dead. The spirit is just transferred into a toad, a monkey or a caterpillar. If you have been real good, you may become a beautiful woman. The least you can get off with in such a case is a trip into monkeydom. But if you have been real bad, paddled freshman, and other inexcusable acts, you are doomed to be born into the form of a caterpillar. Then some day when I walk up across the campus, and some fuzzy worm goes giggling across the sidewalk I know what a malicious parasite he was while alive, and I mash him with a great squash. That way he gets his wings quicker than if he waited to become a butterfly."

ed—"Biff! A pillow was hurled from the direction of the Soph—and the frosh dazed mumbled on: "Oh—you say I am to be an angel—Oh yes, all freshmen eventually turn out to be angels—they can't help it—the dear things just couldn't be anything else"—Biff! Biff! Biff! Finally the frosh awoke, much bewildered to find himself in the same old world.

This illustrates a moral. Frosh should stick to the simpler subjects such as chemistry and the college catalog.

Six Blocks of Silence With His First Date—But He Took Her Home

My most embarrassing moment, as I remember it, came while I was still a freshman in high school, back there in the old home town. You know in those days one always thinks that there isn't a better burg on the map and that the girls—well, they can't be beat.

Dad had given me one of his cast-off razors and I had been scraping my chin with it for about two weeks. I had never been much attracted by the other half but its funny what ideas a razor will put into a young fellow's head. Almost invariably it starts him after the women and he doesn't stop until lumbago and rheumatism have put him on the side lines.

Well a tender feeling for a fair little classmate crept into my system and I decided that I must have a date with her at the first opportunity and as the old story goes I followed the rest of the town boys to the church door and waited for the minister to give that last prayer before the girls started home.

I had on my first suit with long trousers and a necktie that would have put any alarm clock ahead of time. Church was over and I saw her coming out the door. Desperately I recalled the words of the old question. I had a funny feeling in my stomach and my knees felt weak. One of the fellows nudged me in the ribs and I stepped up to put my question. As I did so she raised her arm to put on her coat and it caught me square in the eye. I saw stars.

But now nothing could stop me. I made another frantic effort and got the words all out. She said yes and I took her home. I tried to take hold of her arm like the boys back home do but for some reason or other I couldn't get my hand high so I put it in my pocket. She lived six blocks from the church and during the walk as nearly as I can remember, I said seven words. They were, "may I see you home?" and "good-night."

AT WORK ON THE CANTATA

GOLDEN SYON IS FIRST NUMBER OF FESTIVAL WEEK

Cantata Was Composed for and Dedicated to Professor Westbrook, Head of Music Department

The Golden Syon, the first number on the program of the coming Festival Week, is expected to be of unusual interest to the student body of the college. Due to a change in dates, the cantata will be given Sunday afternoon, March 10.

The Golden Syon is a sacred cantata, the words of which were written by Frederick Martens, a famous librettist, and the music is by William Lester. The cantata was written especially for the K. S. A. C. chorus, and dedicated to A. E. Westbrook, director of music in the college.

Mr. Lester is one of the most famous of the young American composers, and has written a large amount of oratorio material. Besides the oratorios he has written, "Mr. Lester has also done some composing in glee club songs and piano music. Mrs. Margaret Lester, his wife, a prominent American soprano, will be here during Festival Week, to take the part of soprano soloist in the cantata. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lester will be the guests of Professor Westbrook.

Student Takes a Part

The other soloists will be Miss Katherine Kimmel, C. W. Johnston, tenor, and Orville Bonnett, baritone. Both Miss Kimmel and Mr. Johnston are members of the music faculty, while Mr. Bonnett is a student. All four of the soloists have excellent voices and have taken part in many public recitals. Mr. Bonnett is said to have an exceptionally good voice.

Professor Westbrook will not depend upon the musical talent of the college alone, but will have the assistance of several choruses from surrounding towns. There will be three choruses in the performance—the K. S. A. C. chorus; the Randolph chorus trained by Mrs. Maude Hutto; the Clay Center chorus, trained by F. W. Parrott—all under the supervision of Professor Westbrook. Besides these choruses the Appollo and St. Cecilia clubs of the college will assist. Miss Patricia Abernathy will be at the piano.

Orchestra at Work.

Under the supervision of R. H. Brown, associate professor of music, the college orchestra is preparing accompaniments. Mrs. Brown, who plays unusually well on the harp, will also assist in the production.

The Golden Syon is one of the most tuneful and singable cantatas to be found in our musical literature. It is unusually attractive in theme, and the different choruses are working enthusiastically on the production. More singers could be used in the production and if there are any other persons in the college who wish to take part in it, they are asked to report at once to Professor Westbrook.

Why not get that teaching position for next fall now? Last season employers asked the Department of Education, Western Reference & Band Association, for 1647 teachers in a period of twenty-four working days early in the year. NOW IS THE TIME to enroll without cost. Address them 744 Scarritt Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

Pretty Stenographer Entertains Senior Whose Friends Wait

The other day a bold senior, with high trousers and a bow necktie decorating his reverend front, strolled into Anderson hall with a number of senior pals. Although he had important matters to discuss with the boys, he had to catch a college official in his office (a senior trait) and so he had his friends wait outside while he went in.

When he entered the office, the beautiful stenographer, said the aforesaid official was not in, but that the aforementioned senior could sit down and wait for a few moments when he would return. What senior could argue the case with a beautiful She? Before he knew it, the senior was deeply engaged in conversation with the stenographer (another senior trait). Then he remembered his rushing business with the men who were waiting outside.

"I'm going outside to talk to some of the boys," said he.

4,336 MEN TO CAMP FUNSTON.

Movement Will Begin February 23 and Extend Into March.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The movement of men to complete the first draft, beginning on February 23, will not be completed within the following five days, as originally planned, but will extend over into March.

The following quotas will go to Camp Funston: Arizona, 490; Colorado, 656; Missouri, 1,331; Nebraska, 1,120; New Mexico, 330; South Dakota, 399, a total of 4,336.

Provost Marshal General Crowder today notified the governors that the classification of selected men had virtually been completed and in the future the duties of the local boards will consist only of the provisioning of drawn units from their respective communities and the reclassification of men undergoing a change of status.

INCOME TAX BLANKS ARE HERE.

On Hand at the Postoffice—Tax Man Here February 14.

Blanks for the purpose of reporting income tax returns have been received and may now be obtained at the city postoffice. Postmaster Winter announced this morning. The federal income tax man will be in Manhattan from February 14 to 22, and will probably have his headquarters in the postoffice building, it was stated by Mr. Winter.

It was also announced that cards to register war savings certificates, commonly called baby bonds, had been received at the postoffice. Those wishing to register their bonds may get the cards by request.

G. A. A. Meets Today.

The regular meeting of the girls' athletic association will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Mrs. Wm. H. Brooks, formerly Miss Ruth Edgerton of this city, has resigned her position in the physical science department of the Iowa State college at Ames, Ia., and will make her home in Junction City while her husband, Lieutenant Brooks, is stationed at Camp Funston.

Evans, Neeley, Winters, Price and Bailey, whose work won the interclass track meet for the freshmen Monday night, should be a big asset to the school next year. All these men won in their respective events in very fast time, nearly all lowering their respective eveetain shrdlu ah their former records.

Four men did the major part of the work for the sophomores Robinson and Frost had things their own way in the pole vaulting, and Frost and Works did well in the high jumps. Beckett did good work for the sophs on the half mile.

Three freshmen came surprisingly near some of the records. Price, half-miler and Neeley, dash man, came within 5 seconds of the records in the 880 yard and 440 yard dashes. Evans came within 2 4 5 seconds of the record in the 220-yard dash. These men will need to be watched, for it is quite probable that they will lower some Aggie records in the future.

Coach Clevenger says one need not get excited about the big score the Kansas Jayhawkers piled up against the Missouri Pikers. The games here took the pep out of them more or less and four games in a row is hard on any basketball team.

The results of the two games, however have fed K. U. hopes for second in the valley race much higher. The Jayhawkers go to Nebraska for two games Friday and Saturday. The K. U. men claim both these games, and if they should win both contests, the Jawhawkers would still be in a dangerous position to the valley leaders.

KANSAS COMMENT.

The Atchison Globe is of the opinion that if the presidency is to be kept in the Wilson family it will be a long time before the United States has a good looking president.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

GIVE WAR CREDITS

FACULTY VOTES AN ALLOWANCE TO MEN WHO ENTER MILITARY SERVICE

IN PROPORTION TO WORK

Student Who Has Completed Five Weeks Satisfactorily Will Be Allowed One-fourth Credit

Scale is a Graduating one, So That at End of Fourteenth Week, Three-fourth's Credit is Allowed

SENIORS TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

If All But One Semester's Work Has Been Completed, and Work Is All Right, Fourth Year Men Who Depart Will Be Recommended for Graduation

A standard for granting credits to students who enter military service has been adopted by the faculty.

A scale has been worked out, providing for the percentage of the semester's work which is to be allowed. A student who withdraws at the end of, or during, the fifth week of any semester is given credit for having completed one-fourth of the hours on his assignment. The scale is a graduating one, the student who has completed 15 weeks of work receiving credit for having completed three-fourths of his hours.

Diplomas for Seniors. An important provision is the one relating to granting diplomas to seniors. Fourth year students who have completed 15-16 of their work (all but one semester) are to be recommended for graduation, providing their records are clear.

The Aggie men who entered the third training camp, and who were seniors, are to be recommended for graduation if their work was up.

The regulations adopted by the faculty to govern for the period of the war follow:

1. Credit shall be given only to students withdrawing at or after the close of the fifth week in any semester.

2. Students withdrawing at or after the close of the fifth week and before the close of the ninth week of any semester shall receive credit equal to one-fourth of the credit hours on their assignment in which they are doing passing work at the time of their withdrawal.

3. Students withdrawing at or after the close of the ninth week and before the close of the fourteenth week of any semester shall receive credit equal to one-half of the credit hours on their assignment in which they are doing passing work at the time of their withdrawal.

4. Students withdrawing at or after the close of the fourteenth week and before the final examinations in any semester shall receive credit equal to three-fourth of the credit hours on their assignment in which they are doing passing work at the time of the withdrawal. Provided, that students withdrawing after the close of the fifteenth week of any semester to enter military service shall receive full credit in all courses in which they are doing passing work at the time of withdrawal.

5. Students who have completed seven-eighths of the requirements for a degree in any given curriculum of the college, will be recommended for graduation if ordered into National Service.

These rules concerning credits are to apply to students in good standing who enter Military Training Camps or take up other active Military or Naval service, and they apply to any students entering Military or Naval service since the beginning of the war.

Seniors in good standing who are up with their class in any of the college curricula at the time of the opening of the Third Training Camp and who are accepted for same, will be recommended for graduation.

An under graduate who is in military or naval service, or who may enter such service at some later date, will be given a certificate showing that he was a student in good standing, and which will also indicate the units of credit completed; this certificate is to be signed by the President of the College, and by the Dean of the division in which the student is enrolled.

Phillip Young will have charge of the program. Miss Mary Mason is chairman of the refreshment committee.

MORE THAN 5,500 DRESSINGS

Red Cross Girls Have Entered Into Work With a Vim.

With the termination of the first week of work of the recently organized Red Cross classes a total of 5501 surgical dressings have been completed and are ready for shipment.

During the last week 201 girls each have given one hour or more to service in the work room in the domestic science building. A new type of surgical dressing was demonstrated yesterday and will be made this week. The Monday afternoon classes under the captainship of Miss Grace Dickman are the largest, and on this day the room will remain open from 1 to 5 o'clock instead of from 1 to 4 o'clock as on the other days of the week.

MUST PLAY FOR GOOD WILL

Country Newspaper Should Be Local, Points Out J. S. Howe

The importance of localizing the country newspaper and making it serve the needs of its own community was stressed by Joe S. Howe, editor of the Dickinson County News, in a talk before journalism students on the "Management of a Country Newspaper" yesterday afternoon.

"The first thing to do in conducting a country newspaper is to get the circulation," said Mr. Howe. "The more real news stories one can get which will appeal to the people of the country communities, the greater will be the success. Print news written by a country correspondent, as nearly as possible, as it has been written."

"It is a ticklish job to suit the country correspondent but it is necessary to have the good will and friendship of the country correspondent. The real way to gather news is not to say 'What do you know?' Get the people to talking without letting them know you are after news. As a rule locals are more important than editorials in a country paper."

Mr. Howe suggested to the journalism students who intended to work on country newspapers that they get acquainted with the people, and their interests.

Miss Updegraff formerly was society editor of The Collegian.

TALKED AT TEACHERS' MEETINGS

Professor Andrews Told History of High School Mathematics

W. H. Andrews, associate professor of mathematics, attended a meeting of the Central Kansas Teachers' association at Hutchinson Thursday and Friday. He spoke before the mathematics division on "High School Mathematics Since 1900", and addressed the school board convention on "Administering Our Schools in War Time."

NEW PHYSICS HALL SOON

ADDITION IS BEING PLANNED TO THE OLD AGRICULTURAL HALL.

If a Contractor Can be Obtained who can Carry Financial Burden Until July, Work May Begin at any Time—A Big Boost for Physics.

Work may be begun on a new college building before the present semester is over. The new structure is partly an addition to an old building, for the contemplated Physics Hall will be built immediately north of the Old Agricultural Hall, and will be connected by a corridor to that building.

Plans for the addition are being drawn up this week. C. A. Gamble, state architect, was here last week and conferred with J. O. Manilton, professor of physics, and C. F. Baker, professor of architecture. Tentative sketches were drawn up, and the state architect is amplifying these notes this week. He will have the plans for the building completed within a short time, Professor Hamilton said yesterday.

May Be Started Soon

The possibility that the building might be begun this spring was discussed by Acting President Willard yesterday.

An appropriation of $80,000 for the building and the equipment was made by the state legislature at its session a year ago. But the $80,000 was not made available until July of this year.

Dean Willard's plan is to obtain a contractor who will be financially able to start soon. Labor practically will be the only financial burden the builder would need to carry, as he probably could obtain material on a July payment basis. He would be paid the first of July for the portion of the building which had been completed.

Means More Laboratories

The plan proposed by Dean Willard, which has been followed in the constructing of many of the college buildings, would result in the completion of the structure next fall; although probably not early enough for the beginning of the fall semester.

Six laboratories, averaging 40 by 32 feet; three class rooms, averaging 20 by 30 feet; one lecture room, 45 by 40 feet; five offices and rooms for wireless, telegraphy and the weather bureau are to be provided for in the plans. The north part of the present Old Ag. building would be converted into physics laboratories and class rooms.

It is not known, Dean Willard said, how many of the rooms in the present building would be used by the school of agriculture next year.

The quarters of the physics department have been cramped for several years, according to Dean Willard. A number of attempts have been made to persuade the legislature that a new physics building was needed.

A DEMOCRATIC STUDENT BODY?

Y. W. Girls Will Debate Question at Thursday Meeting.

Is our campus democratic? The freshman girls who are to have charge of the regular meeting of the Young Women's Christian association Thursday afternoon will present arguments on each side of this question and then conduct a discussonal meeting.

The freshman members are to have entire control of the program and of the advertisement of the association hour. The meeting will be held at 3 o'clock instead of at 4 so that all college girls may attend.

IMPROVEMENTS AT GREENHOUSE

Shrubbery Is to Be Planted—Trash Pile Is Moved

Extended improvements are being made back of the college greenhouse. Until recently much trash was piled there but it has been removed farther back and a number of evergreen trees transplanted in front of the trash to act as a screen.

In the spring, shrubbery will be planted north of the greenhouse which will provide an effective screen from the road.

A platform with steps has been built at the west door of greenhouse which makes it more convenient to load paints on the wagon.

TO GIVE ADVANCED PLANT WORK

Three New Pathology Classes Will Be Offered Next Year

L. E. Melchers, acting head of the department of Botany will offer three new courses in plant pathology next fall. Following the general course in plant pathology which is required of all agriculture students, a course in fruit crop diseases will be given. This will take up only fruit diseases of both large and small fruits. Several common fruit diseases are studied in the general course but this new course will consider only fruit diseases.

A second course in field crop and vegetable diseases will be offered in the second semester. This course will consist of a study of the majority of field crop and vegetable diseases known to science. Both of these new courses will be elective to undergraduate and graduate students.

The third new course is for graduate students only. This will involve original research, problems being chosen by the student along some line of plant pathology in which he is interested. The course is designed especially for those students who wish to specialize in plant pathology.

A WAR COURSE FOR WOMEN

Hooverism to be Talked at Session Here June 1 to 22.

Kansas women who want to take a part in making American homes a line of defense in the war against autocracy, will have a chance to get some up-to-date suggestions within their own state.

A special war session, at which will be presented the plans developed by Herbert Hoover and other government officials, will be held by the home economics division of the college June 1 to June 22, according to announcement made today. It will be open to all women in the state. It is especially designed for women who wish to be leaders in conservation work in their communities.

The work will be offered in the departments of domestic science and domestic art, and will be in charge of the strongest instructors obtainable. Among the teachers will be one of the comparatively few certified Red Cross nurses in Kansas.

Courses will be given in canning, preserving, and drying foods, preparing low cost meals, nurses' aid, surgical dressings, hospital garment making, and making over old garments.

WAR ON THE CANKER WORM

Trees on Campus Are Being Banded As Preventative Measure

The horticultural department took advantage of warm weather last week to band the trees on the campus. This is done to prevent the destructive work of the cankerworm. The cankerworm chews the leaves and eventually kills the trees.

A piece of building paper was tacked around each tree and tanglefoot paper pasted over this paper. With trees having a rough bark, the cankerworm can go underneath the band of paper. To prevent this a piece of cotton is placed underneath the band. This makes it impossible for the cankerworm to get to the leaves of the trees.

SHAKESPEARE PLAY APRIL 26

Date Is Set for Othello—Tryouts Are Held This Week.

The date for the play Othello has been set for April 26, and the members of the cast must be chosen in the near future. Tryouts will be held Tuesday evening in F 3. More men are needed and they are urged to enter the tryouts.

"Men with previous experience are especially wanted," said Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, "but experience does not always count for as much as natural ability so there is a good chance for new men."

FOSTER GONE TO THE ARMY

Reports at Wichita This Week—To Be Aviation Clerk

Ralph A. Foster, a former student in journalism, spent the week end in Manhattan visiting friends. Mr. Foster has enlisted in the aviation section of the army and has received orders to report for duty at Wichita. While in college he was on the staff of The Collegian and of the Manhattan Mercury. He is a member of Sigma Kappa Tau and Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity.

TRIP TO IOWA MEANS MUCH

CLEVELAND MEN MUST RETURN WITH THREE VICTORIES TO STAY UP IN RACE

Missouri's Triumphs Over the Buckeye Teams Leaves but One Course for the Aggies—Jayhawk Five Is Improving and May Cause Trouble

THE VALLEY RATING
Team	G	W	L	Pct.
Missouri	10	10	0	1.000
Kansas Aggies	7	6	1	.857
Washington	8	2	6	.250
Nebraska	5	1	4	.200
Ames	6	1	5	.131
Drake	6	0	6	.000

A Missouri valley championship may be won or lost this week. Coach Cleveland's Aggie men leave tomorrow on their Iowa invasion. Drake is to be the opponent at Des Moines, February 21 and 22, and Ames will be played at Ames February 23.

That the trio of games will be hard fought, but will turn out to be Aggie victories, is the conclusion drawn from the contests played in the past. The Aggies won from both teams on the home court. Missouri invaded Ames last week and drubbed the Iowa Farmers twice. So there may be three more victories added to the Aggie string this week end.

Aggie-Missouri Battle.

The Aggies are now the only logical opponents of the Missouri Tigers in the race for the valley bunting. The virtually green squad of the Aggies has met and defeated Ames, Kansas, and the Washington Pikers the three teams besides Missouri who were figured to have a chance at the honors. The Aggie five has not yet met Nebraska, but are confident of defeating them. The Huskers have a strong defense, according to the dope, but are woefully weak on the offense. The Aggies teamwork will most likely solve the Husker defense and with a poor scoring team, the Huskers will have no chance at all of getting by Clarke and Hinds.

As a comparison with the Tigers, the Purple five defeated the Washington Pikers twice and both times by a larger score than Missouri was able to pile up. The results of the Piker games indicate a great similarity in the scoring ability of the two teams, but according to the Washington players, the Tigers have an entirely different style of play from that of the Aggies.

Jayhawkers Coming Up

While the Tigers demand more attention than any other valley team, it would be well to keep one eye on the husky bunch from Jayhawerville. Hamilton's men are a scrappy aggregation, and put up a good game of basketball, as their two victories over the Washington Pikers and their one victory over the Aggies will testify. The Jayhawkers scribes have accorded themselves third place in the race for the championship, but too much confidence cannot be put in this rating, for the way the K. U. bunch is going now, the five is likely to take a fall out of any team that goes up against it in a too confident mood.

BUT WE HAVE A QUESTION.

What the Heck is an "Afghan?"—Alpha Delta Made It.

The Alpha Delta Pi sorority has just finished the first knitted afghan made in Manhattan for the Red Cross.

The afghan consists of 76 squares, eight by eight inches each, which were knitted from left over yarn of all descriptions. This eliminated any actual cost, at the same time furnishing a plan for using up bits of unused yarn which otherwise would have been discarded.

The squares when put together make a good warm covering. The afghan is now on display in Cole Brothers' window.

TALKED TO FUNSTON MEN.

Don L. Burk's Subject was "New York's East Side."

Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, spoke at four Y. M. C. A. buildings at Camp Funston. He spoke twice Saturday night and twice Monday night. The subject of his talks was "New York's East Side."

BUSY OUT OVER THE STATE

Extension Assistants Are Holding Schools This Week.

The department of institutes and extension schools, division of extension, is represented by 26 men and women in the various phases of its work over the state this week.

Extension schools instructing farmers in dairying, soils and home economics are being held at Arkansas City under the direction of Miss Minnie Sequist, Miss Gertrude Lynn, W. E. Petersen, and H. J. Bower.

A. S. Neal, F. S. Hagy, Mrs. H. W. Allard, and Miss Susanne Schaeffmayer will conduct an extension school giving instruction in dairying, general agriculture and home economics to farmers at Baxter Springs.

Other lines of work will be carried out by specialists in horticulture, smut diseases, and gardening.

FORUM ELECTS MOLLY MOSER

Debate Organization Chooses Officers for Spring Semester

The Forum has elected the following officers for the spring semester: Mrs. Molly Moser, president; Turner Barger, vice president; Miss Lola Chaffee, secretary; C. O. Chubb, treasurer; Merle Converse, marshal.

WATERS OUT FOR GOVERNOR?

Movement Started by E. T. Hackney of Wellington in an Interview

A "Waters for governor" boom is sounded in the Sunday issue of the Topeka Daily Capital. The Capital, in a long story on possible democratic candidates for state offices, features the boost Ed T. Hackney, former chairman of the board of administration, gives Doctor Waters, who until January 1, was president of the college.

The part of the story that relates to Doctor Waters, follows:

"The very latest and most interesting talk among a few Democrats is the movement put on foot by Ed T. Hackney, of Wellington, to draft Dr. Henry J. Waters, of the Kansas City Star, as the Democratic candidate for governor. The boom for Doctor Waters has not gotten out of the eighth district, but it got a good start there in the way of a half column interview in the Wichita Eagle by Hackney. And it isn't probable that Doctor Waters and the Star know anything about it. However, Hackney sees in Doctor Waters all the elements of a candidate that would 'crown on party politics' and stand up in this 'crucial' time for a 'non-partisan' administration of state affairs. All of which sounds natural and harks back to other campaign years in Kansas, when, as this year, a Republican majority of 100,000 is assured. In such years the Democratic brethren are strong for a 'non-partisan' movement." And always, of course, it is a Democrat picked to head it.

Both Doctor and Mrs. Waters were out of town yesterday.

THE BAND CONCERT PLEASED

Audience Jammed Auditorium to Listen to 31st F. A. Musicians

One of the best band programs ever heard in the college auditorium was presented Friday by the 341st Field Artillery band of Camp Funston. The entertainment was given to a packed house and judging from the generous applause, the musical treat was thoroughly enjoyed.

In addition to the selections given by the band, several special features were on the program. Charles D. Adams, a former star in vaudeville, was encored several times for his war songs. Mr. Adams will return as one of the features of the Pi Phi-Chi Omega Orpheum next Friday evening. Other features were a cornet solo by Sargt. Lockhart, band leader, and a drum solo by John D. Cameron, trap, drum artist. Mr. Cameron played one of his own compositions which he called "All Aboard for Berlin." A saxophone quartet composed of Schrepper, Olson, Smith and Bryant, and a few selections by Sergt. Roy Snyder were other features of the entertainment.

Following the band concert a community sing was held in which the audience took part. The singing was led by Chester Guthrie, musical director of Camp Funston. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for an entertainment fund for the approximately 2,000 patients at the base hospitals at Camp Funston. There is no fund available for that purpose at present.

KANSAS TRIUMPHED

JAYHAWKER ATHLETES REPEAT-ED FORMER INDOOR TRACK VICTORIES LAST NIGHT

THE SCORE WAS 56 TO 29

Foreman and Eggerman, Aggie Distance Runners, Had Their Events All to Themselves

Visitors Had a Better Balanced Aggregation—Times and Distances Not Record-breaking

METZ WAS BIG POINT WINNER

Aggie Man Won 12 Points, Taking First in High Hurdles, Tying for First in the Low, and Capturing a Second in the Shot Put—He Also Ran in Relay

The Jayhawk bird was on the war-path and it was a sorry looking Wildcat that crawled into its hole after the annual indoor track meet between the Jayhawks and the Aggies. The final score was 56 to 29—in K. U.'s favor.

Metz was the high point man for the Aggies, winning the high hurdles, tying for first in the low hurdles and placing second in the shot put, a total of 12 points. One of the prettiest races of the evening was the half mile. Beckett for the Aggies overcame the early lead of Murby, the K. U. star, and had an advantage of 20 feet, but faded within a length of the tape and was unable to cross it.

The Aggies took firsts in the Mile run, the high hurdles, and the two mile, and tied for first in the low hurdles and the pole vault. Frost in the pole vault surprised the most enthusiastic of the Aggie supporters by going 10 feet 9 inches, and tying Howard of K. U. for first place. His jump was six inches higher than he made in the interclass meet.

Rice, of K. U., gave a pretty exhibition of high jumping after winning first place easily in that event. He cleared the bar at 6 feet 1-2 inch before he failed. He seems quite a worthy man to take the place of Treweeke, the erstwhile famous K. U. jumper.

The summary of the events: 30-yard dash—Won by Lobaugh, K. U.; Haddock, K. U., second. Time 3 3-5 seconds.

High jump—Won by Rice, K. U.; Works, Aggies, second. Height 5 ft. 6 inches.

Mile run—Won by Eggerman, Aggies; Dewall, K. U. second. Time 4:51 2-5.

High Hurdles—Won by Metz, Aggies; Hobart, K. U. second. Time 4:25.

Shot Put—Won by Haddock, K. U.; Metz, Aggies, second. Distance 36 ft. 2 inches.

Low Hurdles—Tie between Metz, Aggies and Hobart, K. U. Time 4 1-5 seconds.

Pole vault—Tie between Frost, Aggies, and Howard, K. U. Height 10 ft 9 inches.

440 yard run—Won by Shreve, K. U.; Davidson, K. U., second. Time 59 seconds.

880-yard run—Won by Murphy, K. U.; Coffey, K. U., second. Time 2:08 3-5.

2 mile run—Won by Foreman, Aggies; Buffington, K. U., second. Time 10:50.

Relay—Won by K. U. (Davison, Shreve, Murphy, Russell.) Time 3:52 2-5.

Starter, J. H. Reiley, K. C. A. C.

WATERS WOULD MAKE GOOD.

It would please Aggie students to see former President Waters in the gubernatorial chair. But Doctor Waters has been the recipient of political offers before, and is probably a hundred to one chance that he will frown on this latest suggestion.

There is but little doubt here but that the former Aggie executive would make one of the best governors in the history of the state. The words, "Doctor Waters," nearly have become synonymous with "efficiency" in the minds of students—with the efficiency raised to the "nth" power.

If the Royal Purple comes out late this spring, don't cuss the management—just remember that a few students who never brought their photos in until the last minute should carry most of the blame.

Oratorical Board to Meet.

The Oratorical board will meet on Tuesday at 5 o'clock in the Forum room.

Workmen Discover
Old Amphitheatre
Beneath Main Bldg.

Wouldn't it look funny to see a cow walk right into the north door of Anderson hall? And wouldn't it cause consternation if she should amble nonchalantly on down the brown chandelier-lighted corridor. Yet the fact is that at one time cows, sheep, and even hogs were frequent visitors in Anderson hall.

In the north west corner of the hall directly beneath the old custodian's office is an amphitheatre, which has been buried since 1890. The three tiers of the floor, although gloomy and musty with cobwebs, still are firm. It was there, many years ago, that agriculture was taught in Anderson hall. Cattle, sheep, and hogs were brought in for the use of the students. Later a horizontal floor was built above the slanting floor to form the custodian's office, and the old amphitheatre remained buried until workmen who are repairing the custodian's office, discovered the old class room.

So many years has the room been covered that only two persons could be found who knew anything about it. Dr. J. D. Walters, professor of architecture, emeritus, and Jacob Lund, superintendent of heat and power, both remembered the room when it was in use back in the 80's. Doctor Walters taught a drawing class in it. F. M. Shelton, now a real estate man in Seattle, Wash., taught the class in agriculture. Mr. Shelton for a number of years was employed by the British government at the head of the agricultural work in Australia. Later he made his home in Seattle.

Mother's brother had gall stones,
Aunt Sadie had tonsillitis
Brother Jim had four broken bones
And chronic appendicitis
Sister Sue had a fractured rib
And a misplaced vertebrae
So we took them all to Doctor Bibb
To see what he would say.
The doctor looked them o'er and o'er
And noted their many ills.
He showed them through his whole drug store

Of various little pills.
He said that these were all very good
But not for regular diet
And if an operation could be done

SCHOOL OF AG

E. W. Rubart of Great Bend, spent two days last week visiting his son, Earl, student in the school of agriculture.

J. H. Ramsey, first year school of agriculture, who has been ill with measles since the beginning of the semester, enrolled in school on Friday.

J. R. Neal, special student school of agriculture, has withdrawn from school to visit his parents in Texas.
Mr. Neal expects to be called into service soon.

Alfred Nordeen, first year school of agriculture, was injured Tuesday, when thrown from a motorcycle. As he was passing two cars, his motorcycle ran off in a ditch, throwing him 10 feet. His shoulder was dislocated and foot badly bruised.

Thurman Schooler, Gordon Redman,
R. V. Barrington, and O. L. Norton were voted into membership of the Lincoln Literary society last Saturday night.

A. Urbanowicher, H. S. Harvey, and Leo Dysart, all of whom are school of agriculture men in the draft, were called to Junction City for physical examination.

Roy Nelson, first year school of agriculture, has withdrawn from school to help his father on the farm.

J. R. Nutter of Kirk, Col., spent the week end visiting friends in Manhattan. Mr. Nutter is a former student of the school of agriculture and is now operating his farm in Colorado.

W. C. Mills has withdrawn from the school of agriculture to work on a farm. Mr. Mill's home is near Lipscomb, Tex.

The Philo and Lincoln literary societies held a party Friday evening at the home of Miss Hazel May.

Onie L. Norton, senior in the school of agriculture, went to Junction City to take the physical examination for the army.

Scott E. Kelsey, third year school of agriculture, attended the automobile show in Kansas City.

Harry Ramsey, who has been sick with the measles, re-enter the school of agriculture Friday.

Harold Johnson spent the week end visiting his sisters at Lindsborg.

BEST MEN FOR FLYING
ARE IN THE COLLEGES

The training of America's new airmen is one of the most scientific and the most fascinating courses of study ever evolved. It has every need to be scientific because it provides a general knowledge of the world's newest sciences; it has every certainty of being fascinating because it goes far into the mysteries of flight, of wireless, of codes, of reconnaissance. It is stimulated all the way through, moreover, by that irresistible urge of national service and by the knowledge that every bit of added skill gained will return with interest in one of those forthcoming crises in the skies of France.

The course is divided into three distinct steps—the ground schools, the flying schools in this country, and the final advanced flying schools abroad.
This has been necessary because it provides an admirable means of measuring the men and rapidly and logically sifting out the unfit; and also because it allows the greatest mobilization of resources—the big Universities in this country for the preliminary technical work, the new flying fields here with America's good training planes, and the wonderful schools abroad with their fighting planes and seasoned pilots and their atmosphere of battle. Under this system Americans are assured of a composite course based upon the best of everything gained in three years of warfare abroad, and are not held back by the original lack of facilities here.

Immediately a cadet is called into active service he is directed to a "Ground School" at one of the eight large Engineering Universities which have placed their resources at the service of the Government. Here the student Aviator is under military discipline, but with all the comforts, the facilities and the atmosphere of college life.

The purpose of this work is twofold: First and most important it provides a fundamental knowledge of the principles of all the sciences of aviation, which gives a rock-bottom foundation to a cadet's training. Second it quickly uncovers those who, both for the good of the service and
of themselves, should not go further.
The cadets learn here how to take an engine, a machinegun, or a plane apart and put it together again. They become so familiar with the mechanisms they will soon be using as to have an instinctive mastery of them.
No one of them will be allowed to go up into the air until he understands every phase of the machine underneath him. He will then have all the confidence that an expert horseman has in his favorite mount.

Wireless and the Morse code are also mastered so that the men can talk to their guns from the air as they would through a telephone. Then they are set at "spotting," looking down upon an exact reproduction of a part of the front and wireless back the location of fishes made to represent bursting shells. Aerial photography, reconnaissance, air tactics and the like are also studied, and military drill, calisthenics, and army regulations mastered. By the end of eight weeks the cadet is thoroughly
"grounded" in aviation and assuredly, as far as it is humanly possible to give assurance, that he is prepared to go off the ground.

Then come the flying schools. It is not possible for military reasons to describe them in detail. It can be said, however, that the size of these schools would be startling to the uninitiated, who would see in them a life of which he had hardly dreamed a life that ushers in the new day of air travel for man. And he would also see groups of cadets, flying, studying, working, oblivious of time and of hours, fascinated by the romance of their subjects, earnest to prove equal to every test in the realization that the great test of all lies just over the hill of tomorrow.

SHOWING
STYLE

KNOSTMAN'S

Picture the thrill of the first flight with an instructor; then the feeling of power that gradually begins to come as the control of the machine is more and more taken over; the exasperation and then the joy as the all difficult work of landing is conquered; finally the exultation of the first soaring aloft, alone. Bit by bit the airman stretches out his wings, flying a little further, a little longer,
a little higher each day, until he feels himself master of the air. Then with a 30-mile cross country flight and a 10,000 foot altitude test, he is proved —a Reserve Military Aviator and a commissioned officer in America's Air Army, wearing the coveted wings and shield of Uncle Sam.

One step remains. Final training in elevation, in squadron formation, and in battle practice is given, in France, on the latest up-to-the minute machines under seasoned French airmen, in the actual atmosphere of battle. At its conclusion, the Aviator is trained as highly as it is possible to train him, is awarded his Junior Military Aviator brevet, promoted one grade and is ready whenever duty calls him.

This is man's work. It requires physique, brains, and concentration.
It is worked out upon the principle of complete mastery of every step before another step is taken. It is surrounded with every precaution of safety, as is shown by the fact that not a dozen fatal air accidents have occurred among all the hundreds of men trained. It requires the highest type of college men, not more men, but better men.

The final article in this official series will appear soon.

Mr. Hover,

Dear Herbie:
We want to write a defense of pickles. Please don't eliminate this wonderful food. If you did that the girls couldn't bite them into when they discussed dates in the cafeteria, and you know, Herbie, there would be nothing dramatic about it, then.

Pickles promote seriousness. Some people eat too many pickles. They aint sweet ones neither (that is the pickles). We think folks ought to eat more pickles. If someone would just say pickles were good for the complexion, most all the girls would start doing it. Min eat fer what things taste like, but the wimin eat fer their complexion.

Now fer the main point, Herbie.
You see if the wimin have good complexions the men love them better.
That makes them fight better, and when the men fight better they will lick the Germans, so why not take as a slogan, "Eat Pickles and Win the War."

Sincerely,
Colm.

TO ORGANIZE KANSAS BOYS

Young Men Will Work on Farms Where Help is Scarce.

Thousands of Kansas school boys will support the nation in this time of stress by helping feed the men whose fighting will win the war for democracy.

Every Kansas boy between the ages of 16 and 21 years of age who is physically fit is going to have a chance to enroll in the United States Boys' Working Reserve, an organization formed under the direction of the federal department of labor, W. L. Porter of Topeka, is state director.

Parents Must Give Consent.

In order to enroll, a boy must get the consent of his parents, and his employer if he has one. He must be free from disease. He must also take oath of allegiance to the United States. This last step, it is believed, will result in a great outburst of patriotism among the boys of the nation.

A boy gets an attractive button when he enrolls. After three weeks of satisfactory farm service, he receives a bronze medal which is numbered and which he may wear as long as his work is up to the standard. At the end of the summer a certificate will be given to each boy who has "carried on" faithfully throughout the season.

Jardine Has Circular.

These boys will be used on Kansas farms, where the shortage of labor for the coming crop season promises to be a serious problem. The boys will not, however, go to their work without preparation. Doctor Jardine has prepared a circular giving suggestions for practical instruction to city boys in the handling of work horses, the use of the farm machinery, and the care of dairy cows and milk.

Special representatives are organizing this work in a number of places. Among them are E. L. Holton, in Kansas City; W. A. McKeever, Lawrence and Hutchinson; W. H. Andrews, Salina; L. E. Call, Wichita; W. M. Jardine, Ottawa and Leavenworth; W. L. Porter, Topeka; C. H. Taylor, Atchison.

No Entrance Fee Charged.

No boy has to pay a cent to enlist in the United States Boys' Working Reserve. Statements that a fee of $1 is charged of the boy or his parents have been circulated but are erroneous.

Voluntary contributions for carrying on the work have been received, but no money whatever is required from any one in joining the reserve.

Much interest is being shown throughout the state in the reserve, the purpose of which is to enroll boys from 16 to 21 years old for farm service in the coming season.

OTHER SCHOOLS ARE LEADING

MANY INSTITUTIONS HAVE BEGUN CHRISTIAN CAMPAIGN

Campaign Was Organized at the University of Kansas by Pastor from Topeka Church

The plans for the local drive for Christian World Democracy are being worked out by the executive committee. Several meetings were held last week and the work discussed. All arrangements should be complete by the end of this week, according to Dr. J. R. MacArthur, chairman.

The work over the state in the Bible study campaign, which is being instituted as a means of promoting the cause of Christian World Democracy, has begun in nearly all the institutions of higher learning in the state.

Twenty-five members of the faculty have agreed to lead classes and attend a normal training group at the University of Kansas. Dean Kelly of the department of education will lead the normal group. Dr. E. J. Kulp, pastor of the First Methodist church in Topeka, spoke at a special convocation at the university.

The convocation at the university. The enrolment cards were filled out in this meeting.

At the Kansas State Normal the work is in charge of President Butcher. It is planned there to set aside one day each week and have a class organized for each recitation hour of the day, giving students an opportunity to get into a class during one of their vacant hours.

The fraternities at K. U. have taken up the subject. At a meeting held by the presidents of all the fraternities the idea was presented and discussed. The sororities have already taken up the plan, and classes are already meeting with success.

"The Germans have broken all international laws and have no regard for the teachings of Christianity of their administration of this war," is the challenge given by Hugo Wedell of the university. "If we expect Christianity to retain its standard and make the army and its life what it should be, we must find some way to combat these evils."

Old Clothes Buyer
Gives a Line Party
And Also a Surprise

"Hey! Hey!" yelled the Jew who stood on the corner in Aggieville looking for rare bargains in old clothes. "Want to sell that suit you've got on?"

"Not just at the present, anyhow," returned the reverend Senior, as he started on.

"Wait! Wait!" expostulated the clothes merchant, "I come to your house tonight and buy all old clothes—good price. Were you life?"

The Senior pointed the way to his boarding house.

That evening when the boys got the word that some one was down stairs they all knew who the visitor was, and they came down laden with every old thing from trousers to red neckties. The old Jew was plainly excited at such an outlay and with such reckless college boys to deal with, too. He was soon throwing things left and right, and asking "how much? How much?"

Just as the remembrances of other days were about half disposed of, one of the boys went around behind the Jew, took his bundle of suits and silently slipped out the door. He hurried around and went up the back stairs. Soon he came down with the suits on his arm.

The outlay was sold so cheaply that the Jew was plainly excited beyond his better reason. A vision of big profits wrecked his imagination, and the hope thrilled him that he might escape with his loot.

Hurriedly he sat down and figured up the totals—they came to $45 including $25 for the extra suits. Quickly he gathered up his bargains and hurried away.

That evening there was a line party at the theatre. All the boys were present with their lady loves, and the host—oh, he had plenty of money, and they were going to celebrate right. In came the party—twenty in all. It was the first time they had been there for—oh, many moons. But tonight they had the money, the girl and the theatre—what more could mortal man desire?

An hour later found them in a Man Starts Search For Certain Co-ed He Met In Main

Every sort of girl the good Lord ever created is represented at K. S. A. C.—fat ones, lean ones, short ones, tall ones, pretty ones, ugly ones, wise ones, silly ones, graceful ones, awkward ones, right handed ones and left handed ones. But the subject of this story is one who is both awkward and left handed.

She is one of these fly-away creatures who is always in a terrible hurry, and never has time to stop and exchange common pleasantries with her fellow co-eds. Added to that, she is awkward and left handed.

The other day she went through Main hall, dodging through the crowd always to the left, and just barely missing an ear scraped off by passing notebooks, as well as running the risk of being quashed into nothingness against the walls. But she dashed madly on toward the post office, leaving a train of disgusted passers-by in her wake—if make a fellow feel so embarrassed, "donchuno" to have a girl see saw back and forth in front of him, while each tries to pass the other.

But suddenly she was stopped in her mad career. A man who was in as much of a hurry as she was, also came dashing down the hall, and he turned to the right. Right there it happened! Without a word of warning the astonished young man found a fluffy head nestled under his chin. He regarded it with favor—all he could see was the top—but with a characteristically feminine shriek, the owner disengaged a stray lock of hair from his coat button and fled precipitately down the hall. The man, since then, has been seen haunting main hall. Can it be that he is trying find out the name of the left handed girl?

A peculiar circumstance occurred in the games between the University of Kansas and the Washington Pikers. The uniforms of the two teams were so nearly alike that Referee Quigley was compelled to make the K. U. team change uniforms.

One of the largest scores piled up by any team in the west this season was made a few days ago when the University of Oklahoma piled up 212 points in two games with the South-eastern Normal school.

Missouri won two easy victories at Ames last week end, further clinching their hold on first place. The Aggies go into Iowa this week for two games with Ames and one with Drake. This will add three victories to the Aggie list without a question, and put the Clevelander men close behind the leading Tigers.

It WILL NOT happen, but just suppose three or four of the basketweavers on the Aggie team should get German measles just before the fateful games with Missouri. Wouldn't that fix things?

CASTS ARE HARD AT WORK

PROGRESS BEING MADE IN PREPARATIONS FOR BIG FESTIVAL WEEK

Professor Brown Has Arranged a Popular and Pleasing Orchestra Program Which Is to Be Given on March 12—Play Casts Practicing

The preparations for the second annual Festival Week are going ahead rapidly, and the indications point to a most successful program. The different choruses, the opera and the play have been practiced diligently by the casts, and all are enthusiastic in their recommendation.

"Sergeant Kitty" the opera, is rapidly rounding into shape. Miss Wanda Tetric and Howard A. O'Brien will take the leading roles. Besides the leads, there will be a cast of 12 and a chorus of 40.

The play, "Under Cover," to be presented Saturday, March 16, is a clever comedy. Miss Ernestine Biby and Chester C. Brewer who take the leads will be supported by a cast of 11.

Orchestra Program Tuesday

The third number of the program, the orchestra concert by the college orchestra, and assisted by Miss Katherine Kimmell, Mr. W. B. Dalton, and Mrs. R. H. Brown, will be given on Tuesday, March 12. The orchestra will be directed by Professor, R. H. Brown.

The orchestra is composed of students of the college, and has always been prominent in the musical festivals given at K. S. A. C. The orchestra, despite the light enrollment of the college this year, has done remarkably well and is a good or better than the one of last year by members of the music faculty.

"Pop" Numbers on List

Under the leadership of Professor R. H. Brown, the orchestra has been prominent in the work of the college this year, and the concert should be one of the best numbers of the program. The selections given will be of the variety given in the "pop" concerts in the larger cities, with several solo numbers by Miss Kimmell and Mr. Dalton.

Although this is only the second annual Festival Week, it is the ninth annual concert to be given by the orchestra. During this time, the orchestra has gained a reputation and prominence that will insure a program of high class music.

Harp Solo a Feature

Besides the solos given by Miss Kimmell and Mr. Dalton, Mrs. R. H. Brown will assist on the harp. Mrs. Brown has the reputation of being a beautiful harpist, of fine technique, and unusual coloring. This will be an opportunity for the students and townspeople to hear a creditable performance upon an instrument little used now, but one that is unsurpassed for tone and beauty.

Mr. Dalton, who has been secured for the evening as cello soloist, has a reputation that is nation wide, and his numbers are certain to be pleasing. Miss Kimmell, the other soloist, needs no introduction to the students of the college. Her exceptional vocal ability is known to them all. Her selections will be "Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Delilah, with orchestra accompaniment, and a group of old fashioned songs in costume.

LOSE AN "UNDER COVER" STAB

Francis Hill Has Enlisted in Aviation and Withdrawn

"Under Cover" the Purple Masque's festival week play has suffered again. Only a week ago the cast was raided by the Liberty measles and two members fell victims.

This week it has again suffered in the cause of Liberty; one of the members has withdrawn from school in order to enlist in the army. Francis M. Hill, a student in general science who takes the prominent part of Michael Harrington, has joined the aviation corps and left yesterday for his home, before joining the corps.

The public speaking department represented by Miss Ada Dykes who is coaching the play has entered into a search for someone to take Mr. Hill's place. As yet no definite choice has been made.

MAKES GOOD IN ARTILLERY.

W. J. Rogers is Taking Special Training as Master Gunner.

W. J. Rogers, former student, and one of the first ones to enlist last spring, visited college Tuesday. He has been in the service since May 2 last year. He was one among 41 chosen from his contingent for special training. He has been located at Fort Kamehameha where also two other Aggies, E. C. Coles and Carl Vermillion. These are reported as doing well.

Rogers enlisted in the coast artillery and has merited the selection to go to Fortress Monroe, Va., and train to be master gunner. After a three months' course here those who become proficient receive their warrants as non-commissioned officers and will either be sent to the coast or to the front.

The 41 selected came from San Francisco in a private car. Rogers took advantage of a four days' furlough to visit home folks and friends.

GIRL BASKETEERS PREPARE

Class Teams for Big Series Have Been Chosen

Basket ball teams of sophomore, junior, and senior girls were chosen this week. Games are scheduled for March 13, 20 and 27.

Members of the sophomore team are Celia Lorraine, Nora Corbet, Loverne Webb, Mabel Evans, Florence Mirick, Alda Conrow, Lucile Harbaugh, and Lucile Heiser. The substitutes are Josephine Meldrum, Elizabeth Greenlee, and Mable Adams. Positions have not been assigned.

The junior team is composed of Doris Nickles, and Irma McKinnell, forwards; Ruth Thomas, Lula Berger and Dorothy Lush, guards; Ruby Ellerman and Martha Webb, jumping centers; Etyh Wilson and Clare Higgins, side centers. Substitutes are Avis Blain, Rocina Parker, Edna Beckman, and Mary Crumbaker.

The seniors are represented by Gladys Spring and Bess Gordon, forwards; Eva Wood and Ella Whearty, guards; and Ruth Huff, Amanda Olson, and Edna Boyle, centers.

CHOOSE THE OTHELLO PLAYERS

Cast for Shakespeare Play Named Result of Tryouts

The members of the cast for the play Othello have been chosen. Work on rehearsal will begin as soon as the different members have their parts committed to memory.

The names of the men and the parts which they will play are Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, Iago; Earl Taylor, Othello; W. L. Giles, Cassio; C. M. Barringer, Roderigo; Floyd Work, Brabantio; R. E. Carr, Duke; Oliver Nelson, Montano; L. B. Bate, Gratiano; M. G. Cary, Lodovico; F. V. Mock, First senator; T. T. Swenson, Second senator; I. M. Tinkler, Clown; and J. E. Thacker, Soldier and Messenger.

The names of the women are Miss Ada Dykes of the public speaking department, Desdemona; and Miss Dorothy Norris, Bianca. No one has been chosen for the part of Emilia.

TO DISCUSS SHORT STORIES

Quill Members Will Study Magazine Types Monday

Different types of magazine stories will be the topic of discussion at the Quill club meeting Monday evening.

Prof. N. A. Crawford will lead the formal discussion. Original short stories representing types found in well known magazines will be read by members. Those who will read stories and the types they will represent are Miss Ivy Barker, Atlantic Monthly type; Miss Bess Gordon Ladies Home Journal; Miss Grace Dickman, Hearst; and Walter Nebelbarger, American magazine.

ENTERTAIN IN BOHEMIAN STYLE

Theta Sigma Phi Girls Go to Attic for Party

Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism fraternity, gave a Bohemian party for Mrs. Grace Utt who will leave soon for Baltimore, at the home of Miss Lillie Lehman, Monday evening.

The guests came in costume and were entertained in the attic. Ukelele music and a chafing dish spread were features of the evening.

SEND 15 ENGINEERS BACK

HONOR MEN WHO HAVE ENTERED MILITARY SERVICE TO RETURN TO COLLEGE.

War Department is Anxious That Engineers who Stand High in Their Classes Complete Their Education—Navy Also Wants Aggie Men.

The war and navy departments recognizing that engineering students are valuable assets to this country from the military, as well as from the industrial standpoint, are exerting every effort to give engineering students an opportunity to complete their engineering courses.

"Half-baked" engineers are no more valuable to the army and navy than they are for industries. The Kansas State Agricultural college, besides being allowed to retain until graduation the best of the engineering students was ordered on February 6 by the war department to aid the chief of engineers of United States army in bringing back to college former students of good standing who have been drafted or have enlisted since September 1, 1917.

Fifteen Recommended.

The engineering faculty members have recommended 15 students to the war department who will if they so desire, have a chance to complete their courses. That K. S. A. C. occupies an enviable position among the educational institutions of the country is evidenced by the fact that although the government has gone to considerable expense in training these men for service, it is willing to send them back to college.

The former students chosen are T. W. Bigger, J. R. Bily, Victor Doleck, D. M. Fullington, George Hamilton, S. W. Honeywell, M. E. Johnson, D. S. McHugh, G. M. Munsell, J. J. Sebright, R. S. Talley, R. K. Vorhies and P. B. Winchell.

Navy Makes a Request.

On February 13 the college also received a request from the navy department for the names of engineering students between the ages of 18 and 21 who would be interested in enlisting in the navy if they have an opportunity to complete their college work.

The bureau of navigation states in a letter to the college that this order was made in order to insure a definite supply of engineering talent. The student who will be accepted will be assigned to go on with his college work and he will be placed in such work in the navy as best suits his ability. Naturally the best men will become commissioned officers in the navy immediately after graduation.

Details concerning the enlistment in the navy will be given out by college authorities at some later date. Students are not wise to enlist in the naval recruiting stations until more definite information can be given in the opinion of the college men who are familiar with the situation.

FUNSTON COMES FOR TRYOUT

Aggie Freshman Stars Can Run Run Against Soldier Tracksters

The Aggie quartet of freshman track stars, Evans, Neely, Price and Bailey, will meet up with some real competition Saturday. Captain Paul Withington, Funston athletic director, is bringing a squad of soldier tracksters who are to tryout with an Aggie team composed of Varsity and freshman athletes.

Camp Funston has some first-class college athletes in its muster roll and the soldiers should be able to make a fine showing against "German" Schulz's boys. Withington is a former Harvard star athlete and was director of athletics of the University of Wisconsin, prior to his joining the army.

No admission will be charged at the meet, which begins at 3 o'clock.

NEWCOMBE TO BE A SAILOR

Former Students Enlists in Radio Section of Uncle Sam's Navy.

Dewey Newcombe, a student last year in mechanical engineering in the college, has enlisted in the radio section of the navy. He spent the last week visiting with friends in Manhattan. He will leave this week for the Great Lakes Naval training station.

BIG ART DISPLAY COMING.

Exhibits From Leading Eastern Schools Here in March.

The home art department is preparing displays for the art exhibit which is to be shown the first two weeks in March. The schools to be represented are the Rhode Island School of Design, the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, the Pratt Institute, and the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art.

The exhibit will be made up of still life studies, study of composition in pictures, one chart of design for silver, one chart in pottery, a chart in metal work, a few charts on architecture and several on interior decoration.

"All students whether they are enrolled in art classes or not will enjoy the exhibit," said Miss Grace Palmer, assistant in domestic art.

Another exhibit to be held from April 15 to 27 will include pictures from the Kansas Federation of Arts, prints from the American Federation of Arts, a collection of pottery, a group of block prints by Miss Helen Hyle and an exhibition of art suitable for the home or library.

FIGHT FOR DIVISION TITLE

Big Games in the Series Are Scheduled for This Week

DIVISIONAL STANDINGS

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Vets	2	0	1.000
A. H.	2	0	1.000
Mech. Engr.	1	1	.500
Sch. of Ag.	1	1	.500
Gen. Science	0	1	.000
Agronomy	0	1	.000

The championship games of the divisional basketball league will be played this week and judging from the ranking of the teams the title will be hotly contested. The Vets. and A. H.'s are in the lead now.

This afternoon the Engineers will contest with the men from the animal husbandry department and the agronomists will have a scrap for the cellar championship with the General Science division.

Friday night will be the big night of the series. The engineers and the agronomists will battle for a responsible position in the series, and the Vets. and the A. H.'s will fight for the championship, that is, if the A. H.'s are fortunate enough to conquer the G. S. men tonight. The Civil Engineers will appear also and try to lower the standing that the School of Agriculture has attained.

No admission is charged.

CHANGE ARCHITECTURAL COURSE

Professor Baker Introduces New Subjects and Discards Others.

A new course has been planned for the students in architecture. Professor C. F. Baker, announces. In this course the students will be required to take more architectural design and free hand drawing and less chemistry and physics. Calculus is omitted and students will have a special section in applied mechanics.

All students in architecture will be required to take one year of general history and one year of French. The department will offer no new courses which may be elected by juniors and seniors of other departments. These courses are Domestic Architecture and the History of Civilization and Art.

FALL GRADES OUT MONDAY

Office of the Registrar Will Be Open at 8 o'clock

Fall semester grades will be given out at the office of the registrar at 8 o'clock Monday morning to inquiring students. A force of clerks has been at work since the close of the first semester compiling the grades. Students who belong to organizations should not call for their grades individually, requests Miss Jessie McD. Machir, registrar. A member of the organization should obtain all the grades. This will result in a saving of time at the office, and will decrease the line which probably will be formed Monday between class hours.

Patriotic Ionian Program

A patriotic program will be given by the Ionian literary society in its hall in Nichols gymnasium Saturday at 3 o'clock. Visitors are always welcome. The Ionians are making a service flag for the Hamiltons who are in service.

COMPLETE CAMPAIGN PLANS

DRIVE FOR CHRISTIAN WORLD DEMOCRACY TO BEGIN MARCH 4.

Committee Has Secured Harry F. Ward, One of the Organizers of the Movement, to Address Student Body at the Opening Gun.

The campaign in this college for Christian World Democracy will start Monday, March 4, when Harry F. Ward, one of the organizers of the national campaign at Northfield, Mass., will speak in chapel.

Dr. J. R. MacArthur, head of the department of English, called a meeting of his committee Monday afternoon, and the details of the plan were worked out.

The classes in Bible study and discussion of Christian topics will be held in class rooms on one day of each week, which has not yet been decided upon. This is the plan in operation at Kansas State Normal. Classes will be held every hour on this one day, thus enabling the student to attend one of his vacant hours. Competent instructors will be chosen from among faculty and student leaders.

Doctor MacArthur in speaking of the plan for having the meetings in the college class rooms instead of among the different fraternities and boarding houses said:

"We want this movement to be an all college affair and the meetings on the bill and make it more democratic and within the reach of many more students."

INSTRUCTS LANSING WOMEN.

Home Study Department Does Extension Work.

The home study department of the college will assist in the instruction of women at the industrial farm at Lansing.

Courses have been opened up to teach the women industries which will enable them to support themselves upon their release. These courses which will be taught under the direction of the farm matron, include cooking, sewing, home nursing food conservation and preservation, gardening, poultry management, hog raising, and dairying.

NOT ENOUGH MEN WORKING.

General Repair Department Can Not Keep Up With Demand.

On account of the shortage of men the general repair department is having difficulty in keeping up with its work. Orders for cabinets, filing cases, and tables are piling up. As soon as possible the animal husbandry barn and all the roofs except the tile ones are to be painted. The number of men usually employed varies between 10 and 20. Ten men are employed on the force, two of whom are ill with smallpox.

MISS CHASE WON THE RACE

First Place in Industrialist Contest Went to Woman.

Miss Sara Chase of Manhattan, junior in industrial journalism, won first place in the first semester Industrialist contest, open to students in journalism. Of the copy submitted by Miss Chase 136 column inches were published in the Industrialist.

Miss Dora Cate, Manhattan, won second place with 122.5 inches and Miss Katrina Kimpfort, Delvalle, third with 109 inches.

Miss Laura Shingledecker, sophomore, deserves the real honor for Industrialist reporting for the semester. Of her copy 170 inches were published but she preferred not to compete owing to the fact that she won the contest last spring. Miss Shingledecker has been particularly successful in reporting live stock and other meetings.

Other contestants deserving honorable mention are Miss Gertrude Norman, C. J. Medlin, and Bruce Brewer of Manhattan; Miss Estel Wollman, LaCrosse; and Ralph Foster, Courtland. Thirty-seven students participated in the contest.

Mrs. Hughes will return to her home in Topeka this week after a visit with her daughter Mrs. H. D. Briggs.

ATTENDS ASSOCIATION MEETS.

Professor Holton is on Long Trip in the East.

Dr. E. L. Holton, professor of education, left Monday for the east. Doctor Holton will attend the national vocational and industrial educational association at Philadelphia. He will also visit Atlantic City, N. J., returning March 1.

OFFER NEW TRACTOR COURSE.

Fundamentals of the Gasoline Engine Will be Studied.

A special course in tractor operation, consisting of five lessons, will start in a few days. This course starts with elementary work, including the study of the gasoline engine, the valve mechanism, and the application of the gasoline engine for driving various form appliances, for tillage and harvesting. There will be a little time spent on the adaptability of the tractor to farm use which will include the study of some data gathered in various states along that line.

FEATURE A KITCHEN BAND

Pi Phi and Chi Omega Give Vaudeville Saturday.

A jazz band that plays kitchen implements, anything from a washtub to a rolling pin, will be the opening attraction of the four-act vaudeville program to be presented by the Pi Phi and Chi Omega sororities Saturday evening for the benefit of the war relief fund. The Pi Phi, who have the band number in charge, have called their musical (?) organization a "Cuisine band," as "cuisine" is said to be a French word appertaining to the place where pots and kettles are used.

The second number is the Tea Garden Minstrel, a Chi Omega presentation, and the longest act on the bill. Real blackface characters featuring alleged jokes are important in this number, which is followed by Pierrot and Pierrette, two French lancers. Then comes a movie show, presented by the Pi Phi, completing the bill.

TO TALK RUSSIA'S PROBLEMS.

Chicago Man is Familiar With Condition of Slavs.

Dr. Samuel Harper, professor of Russian language and institutions Chicago university, will address the students at assembly Monday morning.

Doctor Harper has recently returned from Russia where he went with the commission of distinguished Americans headed by Elihu Root to advise the new Russian republic in matters pertaining to the civil and industrial reorganization then taking place. His father was the well known William Rainey Harper, president of Chicago university.

"Doctor Harper is a distinguished scholar and an able speaker," said J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics. "Students wishing to acquaint themselves with conditions in Russia should hear him."

PLAN BIG Y. M. PROGRAMS.

Secretaries from Camp Funston May Speak at Meetings

Speaking and special features by army men from Camp Funston, are being planned by the program committees in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Herbert Moyer, chairman of the program committee, will go to Camp Funston, Friday to make final arrangements. Chester Guthrie, musical director at the camp, and E. B. Pratt, in charge of the Y. M. work there, are expected to co-operate in the work, since negotiations have been going on with them for some time in regard to the work.

BEGIN NEW DRESSINGS

Red Cross Workers Make 8 by 4 Inch Compress

Classes in Red Cross work are now making the 8 by 4 compress and will continue today and Saturday.

The report for the week to yesterday afternoon follows: Monday afternoon, 56 enrolled, 254 dressings; Tuesday morning, 15 enrolled, 89 dressings; Tuesday afternoon, 17 enrolled, 108 dressings; Wednesday morning, 19 enrolled 195 dressings. The supplies made by the college are shipped with the supplies from the Red Cross headquarters down town.

MAKE THE VARSITY FIGHT

THE SCHULZ TROUPS OF FRESHMEN IS ALMOST AS GOOD AS CLEVELAND CLAN

Four of Yearling Players Hold All State Berths on High School Teams—Team Is as Good as Average Missouri Valley Five

THE VALLEY RATING
Team	G	W	L	Pct.
Missouri	10	10	0	1.000
Kansas Aggies	7	6	1	.857
Kansas	11	7	4	.635
Washington	8	2	6	.260
Nebraska	5	1	4	.200
Ames	6	1	5	.131
Drake	6	0	6	.000

If stiff competition is the making of a basketball team, the Aggie yearling squad of this year must be given a great deal of credit in the development of the present Purple five.

The success of the Purple aggregation has been due to two important factors—the coaching of Z. G. Cleveland, and the stiff competition of the freshman squad. Coach Cleveland has had the opportunity of trying his squad every night with a team as good as the average Missouri valley five, and a great deal better than many of them.

Always Put UP Fight.

It is no practice game of the year has the Aggie first team had a runaway game in practice, and more than once have the freshmen turned the tables and given the Varsity a drubbing. If there is any basketball enthusiast in college who feels that he does not see enough basketball in the conference games, then, according to authorities on the subject, he should drop around to the gym any afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock. If he does, he will have a chance to see the Varsity in a real game, and fighting just as hard to win as the team ever fights in a valley game.

The freshmen have the one essential for every successful team—a wealth of good material. "Germany" Schulz, the freshman coach, has two full teams, and both teams are better than the usual freshman squad. Three of the men—Jennings, center; Meeker, guard; and Youngmeyer, forward, were on the all-Kansas high school team last year, and Bunker was a forward on the all-Colorado high school team. Cowell came from Ottawa university, and plays an unusually good game at guard. These five men compose the first team of the yearlings.

A Good Second Team.

As a reserve, "Germany" has Howe forward; Smith, forward; Salsburg, guard; Anderson, forward; and Jaeger forward. The team works together smoothly, and besides the teamwork the freshman team has several men who are extra good shots. Bunker is one of the best seen in the gym this year, and has the endurance and speed for a star player. Youngmeyer is also out of the ordinary class in shooting and floor work. Jennings is already a better jumper than Whedon and with a year's experience, should be an all-valley man. In Meeker and Cowell, the freshmen have two guards who are full of fight and zip, and have shown the ability to keep the Varsity forwards down to a small score. This is an unusual feat, as some of the guards of other valley teams can testify.

The second yearling team is also a fighting bunch, and can hold its own and then perhaps score a few more points, when it plays the second string Varsity men.

Rollin Swaller of Clay Center, formerly K. S. A. C. student and member of the Beta fraternity, has passed examinations for aviation and is now a cadet in that section of the army at Berkeley, Cal.

J. D. Daniels, a graduate of the agricultural college in the class of 1909, is locating his family in Manhattan. Mr. Daniels is going into Y. M. C. A. work, but is not definitely located.

Harry Gunning, '16, who has been at the Great Lakes Naval training station is at his home at Kansas City, on a furlough and was a college visitor Saturday.

NOW IS AN HONOR SOCIETY

GAMMA SIGMA DELTA CHANGES ORGANIZATION AND PURPOSE.

Only Seniors Within a Semester of Graduation May be Elected to Agricultural Fraternity.

A chapter of Gamma Sigma Delta was installed in the Agricultural college, June 15, 1914. For two years it was practically entirely under student control and management. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors were eligible to membership and were elected mainly on the basis of scholarship. Last fall, however, the local chapter adopted the new constitution which was formed and adopted by the national convocation, June 3, 1916. This constitution makes the organization strictly an honorary organization in the agricultural field. From the undergraduate students seniors only are eligible for membership and these must be within one semester of graduation, be majoring in agriculture or closely related science, have a scholarship record high enough to place them in the upper one-fourth of the graduating class, and must possess the qualities of leadership in the estimation of the fraternity.

This new strictly honorary organization is the rival of no other organization in the agricultural college. Its officers are and in the future must be members of the faculty and its control in the hands of its faculty membership. Its official name is the, "Honor Society of Agriculture, Gamma Sigma Delta." The purpose of the society as stated in the constitution is, "To recognize superior attainment in technical agriculture, to encourage those virtues which develop leadership and altruism, and to foster the spirit of brotherhood in our vocation."

Gamma Sigma Delta now seeks to enter only land grant colleges in which the entrance requirements are fifteen units and a high degree of scholarship is required for graduation. It has active chapters at the present time at these institutions: Iowa State College, Ames; University of Missouri, Columbia; Utah Agricultural college, Logan; Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis; Kansas Agricultural college, Manhattan; Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn; University of Minnesota, St. Paul.

The present membership of the local chapter, the Kansas Eta chapter of the national organization, consists of 16 senior students, one graduate student, and about 15 faculty members. Recently, the following seniors were initiated: Neil Edwin Dale, Russell V. Morrison, David Earl Curry, Benjamin Francis Barnes, Orville Thomas Bennett, Carl Lawrence Hedstrom, Robert McNeil Birks, and Cecil O. Chubb. Also, Jay Laurence Lush, a graduate student, and H. L. Popence from the alumni. Only alumni who have rendered highly creditable service for not less than 5 years since graduation are eligible for membership. The local chapter has under consideration the election of further representatives of the faculty to membership in the near future.

Two surprises in the track meet with the University of Kansas Monday evening were the work of Metz and Frost. Both were doped out for seconds at most, but Metz not only won the high hurdles but tied for first in the low hurdles and won second in the shot put. Earl Frost tied for first place in the pole vault, going 10 feet and 9 inches, which is two inches higher than he went last year.

Foreman started the two mile race as if it were a 50 yard dash, and his speed and endurance was a marvel not only to the Aggie onlookers but to the K. U. track men as well.

Rice of K. U. gave a good exhibition of high jumping after works was eliminated. He went 6 feet 12 inch high and came very near the record which is held by an Aggie, Frizzell, who went 6 feet 2 inches in 1916.

The Sammies in France will be well provided for in sport material. The Y. M. C. A. has just let a contract for the following material: 59,760 baseballs, 14,300 bats, 900 masks, 2,400 basketballs, 6,000 fielders gloves.

Pinkerton-Richardson.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Frances Pinkerton and Mr. Dick Richardson which took place at Liberty, Mo., about a month ago. Both Mr. and Mrs. Richardson are well known here where they have a great many friends. Mr. Richardson is a former student at K. S. A. C. and a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson are at home in this city for the present.

Why not get that teaching position for next fall now? Last season employers asked the Department of Education, Western Reference & Band Association, for 1647 teachers in a period of twenty-four working days early in the year. NOW IS THE TIME to enroll without cost. Address them 244 Scarritt Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

W. H. Sanders, instructor in farm engineering, as a representative of the local chapter, went to Topeka Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Chapter of Royal Arch. From Topeka he will go to Emporia to attend a tractor school put on by the International Harvester company.

LAST ARTIST SERIES BILL

ZOELLNER QUARTET WILL BE HERE MONDAY EVENING.

Famous Musical Number is Most Costly on the Course—Miss Durno is the Pianist.

The Zoellner Stringed Quartet, said to be one of the world's two most famous quartets, is to give a recital in the college auditorium Monday evening.

The Zoellner Quartet probably is the most widely known family quartet in the world. It is composed of the father, Joseph Zoellner, Sr., his daughter, Miss Antoinette, and his two sons, Joseph, Jr., and Armandus. The result of such an ensemble in a quartet means the suppression of individuality but results in a fusion, as it were, of four natures into one, awayed for the time being by the same ideals and impulses. This has been admirably accomplished by this family, and their music possesses a unity and harmony of spirit which is seldom found in a quartet.

With the Zoellners comes the eminent pianist, Jeanette Durno, who ranks high in both this country and abroad as an artist at the piano.

At an age when most girls are learning their multiplication tables Miss Durno was playing difficult programs, and was revealing that promise which has since ripened into mature artistic accomplishment. Miss Durno is a student of the masters of music and spent several years under the personal instruction of that great master Leschetizky. She has filled several engagements in Europe and is in constant demand in this country.

This is the last number in the Artists' Series, and according to the management, it is the most costly number on the course. Those who wish to secure seats may purchase reserved seats at the downtown Palace Drug Store Monday afternoon, Feb. 25. Or they may be ordered by mail of Earl Taylor, business manager, in care of K. S. A. C.

All seats are reserved.
Slumbering Student Awakens In Time to Make Fool of Self

It occurred several days ago when the first touch of spring had crept into the sensitive mind of the average college student. A hot wind was blowing through the room and the greasy odor of the smoke from the shops accompanied it. It was a drowsy class anyway but regardless of that fact the instructor kept pounding away endeavoring if possible to discover why a larger per cent of the class had flunked the subject the previous semester.

He was entering upon a dissertation as to the properties and uses of a certain well known chemical compound and had finally found one promising young chemist who had nerve enough to elevate his right fore-pedal.

"What," he said, "are your ideas on the subject?"

Just then a young man, who came to college this fall with the aspirations of becoming a famous athlete, woke up from a peaceful snooze and broke the monotony by peripounding "I read that over carefully but I didn't see about what you are talking about."

The effect was complete. The instructor discovered why these flunkers were flunkers.

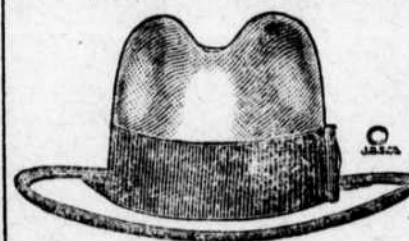

Moral: If you haven't studied your lesson, don't throw the line.

A Fool there was in a cafe, (Even as you and I). (He did not know it was eatless day) So they gave him a prune and a wisp of hay;

But the bill, all the same, turned his pompadour gray.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

BACK WITH THREE VICTORIES

CLEVENGER MEN DOWNED DRAKE TWICE, AND TOOK A BAT-TE FROM AMES.

In Two of the Games the Aggies Were Far Behind at the End of the First Period but Wonderful Rallyes in the Final Half Brought Them Out Winners.

Three more steps championshipward were taken by Clevenger's fighting Aggie basketball five last week when the Purple, in their invasion of Iowa, brought back two victories over Drake, and a triumph over Ames.

A late spurt was all that brought home a win from the Iowa Aggies. The Ames aggregation gave the Clevenger men a good battle when they were in Manhattan. This time, playing on their own court and against a team that had been on a long trip and had played two games, Ames had a decided advantage.

Ames got away to a lead, and it seemed to the tired Aggies that the Griffith men never could be caught. At the end of the first period the score was 14 to 10, with Ames ahead. The Purple began to pick up in the last half. With both teams fighting for every inch, the score ran up to 18 to 18. Neither quintet could forge ahead until two minutes before the end of the game, when one of "Bill" Whedon's goals counted. Then just before the gun, "Shorty" Foltz bagged the basket that made the count 22 to 18.

Captain Van Trine and Bon Hinds were the stars in this contest.

SPURT WON AT DRAKE

Aggies Were Outclassed in First Half, Then Braced

Conquered 4 to 12 in the first half but victor 19 to 16 at the end of the game—that is evidence of the fight the Aggies staged at Drake to win their first game.

The Clevenger men were taken by surprise in the first half. Hawley, Drake star, had bagged two goals before the game hardly began. Then the other Bulldogs hit the basket with regularity, and it seemed that the Aggie hopes of a championship were blasted.

Bill Whedon and John Clarke took a hand in the proceedings at the beginning of the second period, and ate up the Drake lead, making the final count 19 to 16.

The second game was an Aggie runaway. Clevenger's men took the start from the beginning and held their advantage throughout. The score was 31 to 15. "Heinie" Hinds and Bill Whedon both fattened their season's scores. Hinds bagged seven goals and Whedon tossed five.

A feature of this game was the presence of a number of Aggie rooters who came from Camp Dodge, where they are in the third officers' training camp. All pulled hard for the Clevenger men.

J. B. Marcellus Tells of Kansas Irrigation Efforts.

A current issue of the Engineering News-Record contains an article "Kansas Encourages Land Drainage and Irrigation" by J. B. Marcellus, engineer in charge of irrigation and drainage. This is one of the foremost magazines of its kind in the country.

MACHINE PREVENTS EXPLOSIONS.

Professor Swanson Perfects Apparatus to Save Flour.

An apparatus for causing flour dust explosions has recently been perfected by C. O. Swanson, associate professor of chemistry. Professor Swanson is connected with the government work on the prevention of dust explosions in mills and elevators, and has experienced some difficulty in convincing mill owners of the danger from this source.

With this machine he can introduce flour or elevator dust into a chamber filled with compressed air. The resulting mixture of air and dust is then blown through a wire gauze on an open flame where it explodes with enough force to convince even the most stubborn mill hand of the danger from open fires or static electricity.

Aggie Man Transferred to Regulars—Saw Captain Hill.

Lieutenant J. B. Sweet, '17, has been transferred from the national army at Camp Grant to the forty-fifth regiment of regulars. He is stationed at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky.

Lieutenant Sweet said in a letter "I was glad to leave Camp Grant because I think that my chance for going overseas sooner was improved."

He said that Roy A. Hill, was commandant of cadets at K. S. A. C. in 1914 and 1915 is in the forty-sixth regiment stationed at the same camp. Lieutenant Hill has been promoted to captain and adjutant of the regiment.

JUDGING CONTEST MARCH 30.

Students Will Compete in Live Stock Contest.

Kansas breeders are taking more interest in the annual students' judging contest this year than ever before and several trophies are being awarded by prominent stockmen in the state. These trophies, together with the medals and ribbons that are offered by the Saddle and Sirolo club, are expected to make the contest particularly interesting to the student body this year, and it is hoped that every student in the division of agriculture will take part in the contest which will be held March 30.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON IS IN

MEMBERS OF OLD TRI-EPSILON FRATERNITY INITIATED INTO NEW NATIONAL.

Local Had Been Organized Less Than Two Years When Its Petition Was Granted by Large Greek Letter Organization—The Sixth in the College.

A sixth national fraternity was added to the local Hellenic group Friday and Saturday when the members of Epsilon Epsilon Epsilon, a local Greek letter organization, was initiated into a new chapter of the Sigma Phi Epsilon, Kansas Beta of Sigma Phi Epsilon is the Aggie chapter's name.

Rumors were current more than a month ago that the Tri-Epsilon petition had met with the approval of Sig Epsilon, but the members would give no confirmation.

Epsilon Epsilon Epsilon had its origin in the Eureka club, an organization founded March 20, 1915. At the end of the academic year, a reorganization took place, and the members at a banquet announced their decision to become a Greek letter fraternity.

Charter Granted in January.

The petition to Sigma Phi Epsilon was published in December, 1917, and was granted January 14 of this year. Kansas Beta is the forty-fifth active chapter of the new national, which was organized in November, 1901, at Richmond college, Richmond, Va.

Initiation of the new Sigma Phi Epsilon took place Friday evening and Saturday morning. The installation held Saturday afternoon, and a banquet at Harrison's Saturday evening concluded the program.

Three grand officers were present as the installing officers. They were Grand President Senator J. H. Knauss of Denver, Colo.; Grand Secretary W. L. Phillips of Richmond, Va.; and Grand Historian F. A. Price of Burlington, Kans. They were assisted by M. C. Townsend and A. F. Saxton, Nebraska Alpha; L. K. Whitney, W. H. Beck, Jr., H. S. Nye, F. Treblecock, L. W. Scott, Z. A. Nevins, and G. W. Sturgeon, Kansas Alpha (Baker); and D. F. Banks, Missouri Alpha.

The Initiates.

The following members of the Epsilon Epsilon Epsilon fraternity were initiated into Sigma Phi Epsilon: W. H. Brookover, Jr., Eureka; Bernard Brookover, Eureka; Wm. Janssen, Lyons; Clay F. Landue, Lyons; Albert Metz, Anthony, W. R. Essek, Eureka; C. D. Reeve, Garden City; R. D. MacGregor, Topeka; Carl Roda, Paradise; O. W. Hinshaw, Eureka; Clifford Kniseley, Wichita; Clyde Beckett, Eldorado; Paul Fetzner, Helena, Okla.; Lieut. Marshall P. Wilder, Manhattan; Lieut. John Tillotson, Manhattan and W. S. Blakely, Neodesha; O. E. Reed, and J. R. MacArthur.

SHOULD ARM AGAINST SMALLPOX.

Students are in Danger Because of Proximity to Camp Funston.

Smallpox vaccinations have been administered to a number of students in the last week by Dr. C. M. Siever, college physician.

"Vaccination is not compulsory, but is being offered by the health department as an opportunity for individuals to insure their own safety," said Doctor Siever. "Persons in the army have no choice as to vaccination. Our proximity to Camp Funston would make an outbreak of smallpox in Manhattan dangerous to the soldiers at Camp Funston. Persons who have not been successfully vaccinated should think of this as a duty to the army as well as themselves."

Miss Hazel Flower spent the week end at Junction City with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Flower.

H. J. Waters returned to Kansas City today after a visit with his family for the week-end.

Albert Abernathy attended the Beta dance at Lawrence Saturday.

Just plain "Jim" Harbord to the members of the Class of 1886, one of most brilliant men in Uncle Sam's military forces now signs himself "James G. Harbord, Brigadier General, Chief of Staff, American Expeditionary Forces."

And that is no small honor.

Men familiar with military matters know that the chief of staff is the secretary of the commander, who in this instance is General Pershing. All the smaller details of the training and disposition of the American army are checked up to General Harbord, who by his position is a senior brigadier general in the service.

General Harbord still is interested in K. S. A. C. Last summer, before leaving for France, he suggested to David G. Robertson, president of the class of 1886, that a class letter be published. Mr. Robertson acted, and The Collegian has received a copy entitled "Reverberations of the Class of 1886," in which is contained a letter from General Harbord.

Nearly every letter published carries mention of General Harbord. All praise the former Aggie who is now handling the American forces in France, directly under Pershing.

General Harbord's letter follows:

James G. Harbord
American Expeditionary Forces.
Office of the Chief of Staff France, December 30th, 1917.

Dear Classmates:—

The time-limit of Christmas Day in which to file a Class letter, when Dave Robertson's letter didn't reach me until yesterday will be powerless, if it was intended to shut me out. Dave Robertson always was near-sighted, and as a true Chicagoan, probably thinks some-where-in-France is a suburb of Greater Chicago, and that letters mailed in the morning are delivered the same afternoon. His letter took from November 15th to December 25th to come across.

To cover thirty years in a four page letter, puts a terrible strain on the pronoun "I" and will crowd it like a dictionary.

Firstly: Though those thirty years have been very busy and never unhappy ones, I mourn the youth that has passed; the friends that have disappeared over the hill; the bald hairs; the stiffening joints; the tragedy of approaching age.

Nearly fifteen of those years have been in exile from America. Twenty-five months were passed in Cuba, 12 years in the Philippines, and seven months already in France. The K. S. A. C. product is ubiquitous. K. S. A. C. students in Cuba, the Orient and the Isles of the Sea. A letter from a friend of mine in Washington caught the eye of Henrietta Willard, Number One of '86, a few years ago, as it lay on his desk, brought me a little message from her.

If one goes to a Press Association banquet, it is a fifty-fifty bet that John Higginbotham will be there with a speech. If one visits the Moving Pictures, Jasper E. Brady probably wrote the scenario. Who bosses the Live Stock Department at an International Exposition in San Francisco in 1915 by Prof. J. D. Graham? In the list of Brigadier Generals called here yesterday as pending confirmation by the Senate appears Eli A. Helmick who was picking grapes in the Horticultural Department in September, 1882, when I first saw him. Lieutenant Nicholson, soldierly and erect as ever, is now Major General John P. Morrison reported here and was recalled to America to be in charge of Military Training for the great army.

just as he was in charge of our cadets in 1887-90. Dave Robertson, they tell me, owns nearly half of Chicago. Dave Fairchild wanders the earth for rare pests that prey on trees and plants; and C. L. Marlatt still makes pretty pictures of ugly bugs somewhere-in-Washington.

The second generation is beginning to show up in France. A month ago a good-looking soldier came up and asked me if I was who I am, and said he was a son of J. E. Payne. B. Anderson's boy is here in France. Last week I had a letter from Vice President Shartel of the Oklahoma Railroad. One finds the formerly-of-Kansas fellow everywhere. Rollin R. Rees even went to Congress.

There is not much to be said of myself. I have lived the life of the average army officer. It is 29 years next week since I left the College to enlist. I have never regretted it, and while the life of an army officer means a little money, not many glimpses of the bright lights, somewhat of isolation from many things that are attractive, the opportunity to feel a little of the ingratitude of statement; nevertheless, in my bluest moments, I have known that if I had not enlisted, I should always have regretted it. It is a life of service, if not in other forms. I married in 1899 Miss Emma Owenshine. We have had no children.

This letter is from a very beautiful part of lovely France. It is within the so-called Zone des Armees, not crowded against the front-line trenches by any means, but near enough to get a little of the atmosphere and to get an occasional alarm from airplane raiders.

The American Army is coming in swelling numbers, as good material for soldiers as Napoleon himself could have wished. The transporting of an army 3,000 miles, building docks and piers at which to land it, bringing its food, clothing, guns, ammunition, every item of its vast equipment the greatest distance, even to the piles and spikes to build the piers, the engines and cars with which to carry the freight by rail to the front, is a task worthy of America's best men.

No American soldier must eat food raised for Frenchmen, for French women and children. No pound of his supplies nor himself must interfere with the flow by land or sea of that commerce on which the life of gallant France depends. And when the foundation is laid and our men are here, the Western Front will be picked up and pushed over the Rhine. Your prayers and your confidence will help us to do it.

Some day, after the war—here one dates everything from Apres la Guerre—we ought to plan to meet once more on the historic Bank of the Big Blue and the Kaw, and ring the bells for good old '86.

With greetings to you all, and a memory for those that are gone—

Your classmate,
J. G. HARBORD.

THE WORKERS REALLY WORK

RED CROSS CLASSES ARE BUSY WINDING SURGICAL DRESSINGS.

Saturday Morning Girls Have the Best Individual Record, but Most Dressings Have Been Turned Out by the Wednesday Afternoon Group.

A report of the work done by the Red Cross classes the past week shows the Monday afternoon division leading with the largest number of workers present and the Wednesday afternoon classes first in the number of dressings completed.

To the Saturday morning classes belong the honor of averaging the most dressings per worker. Two competent women from among the faculty members or townspeople have charge of the Red Cross room each morning and afternoon of the week with the exception of Monday morning and Saturday afternoon. Girls who have enrolled for the classes and have not been present to answer roll call are requested to remember that they have enlisted and are under military authority. The captains of the ten divisions are at present formulating some plans for a more strict attendance of their enlisted members.

"The majority of the college girls who agreed to give an hour or more a week to the work in the Red Cross rooms have entered into the work with a true class spirit," said Miss Mildred Inskip, Y. W. C. A. secretary, yesterday.

After this week a record is to be kept of individual work, that is as to the number of satisfactory dressings completed. The supplies made at the college are shipped to headquarters along with the dressings made at the Manhattan chapter, downtown.

DOCTOR SCHWEGLER HERE AGAIN

Third of Talks to be Given Thursday Afternoon.

"Just what is personality?" Of what importance is the personality of the college girl?"

Dr. Raymond Schwegler of the University of Kansas will include answers to these queries in his "personality talk" Thursday afternoon.

This talk is the third of the series which Doctor Schwegler is giving under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. here. The meetings will be held at 5 o'clock in the domestic science rest room.

H. McCLELLAND BACK FOR VISIT.

Is on Way to Austin, Tex., for Training in Aviation.

Harold McClelland, son of the Rev. J. M. McClelland, is home on a short furlough. Harold joined the field artillery early last year and has been stationed at Norfolk, Va. A short time ago he received a chance to go into the aviation section of the army, and is now on his way to Austin, Tex., to take training in the aviation school there. He will leave for Texas next Thursday, he announced this morning. He made the change, he states, in order that he might get to France quicker.

Literary Societies Competing.

The Literary societies are in the heat of a contest put on by the Festival Week management. The contest is the selling of season tickets to the Second Annual Festival Week, which occurs March 16 to 17, and includes eight attractive musical and dramatic numbers. The selling contest ends Saturday noon of this week and the winners will be given a large silver loving cup as a trophy. In addition the winners will be given a commission of 8 per cent on their sales, those winning second a commission of 7 per cent and all others 6 per cent on their sales.

The season tickets for Festival Week are selling at $1.00 and $1.50, and admit one to all the numbers, including the song recital by Oscar Seagle of New York, America's greatest baritone.

The management states that seats will be reserved Wednesday, March 14 at the Cooperative book store and downtown Palace drug-store.

Ralph Kenney will return tomorrow from a business trip in the southern part of the state.

JOHN CLARKE.

One of the best guards in the valley. Clevenger believes Johnny and J. B. Hinds can break up the Tiger pass.

his team in scoring. With Captain Van Trine, G. W. Hinds, Whedon and Clarke to play the offensive and with the entire team on the defense, the Clevenger five has a style of play that once it is learned by all the men, becomes an enigma to the opponents. Last year the Purple was not defeated after the first two weeks, when they lost a pair to Kansas. And again this season the Jayhawkers trampled on the green Aggies before the teamwork had been perfected.

Brings Boom Throwers.

An added feature will be a squad of bomb throwers trained at Camp Funston by Lieutenant Boucher of the French army, who is an ardent Aggie basketball fan. They will appear between halves at one of the games.

Reserved seats are on sale at the athletic office. Former Missouri men who are at Camp Funston have flooded the office with calls for tickets, but there are many good seats not yet reserved.

Both games begin at 7:30 o'clock

COMPARE FOOD AND PRICES.

Director Burton Told How Present Supply Affects Has Boosted Prices.

M. G. Burton, director in the home study service, spoke at Winfield Thursday before the joint meeting of the farmers institute, the Commercial club and several local organizations, on the consideration of the food problem as it affects the prices of today.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1918.

MISSOURI, YOU ARE NEXT.

Someone away back in the stone ages jotted down the wise little maxim that history repeats itself. And somewhere in history is the record of a fight to the finish for a basketball championship.

It happened in this wise, this particular event of history did. Two Missouri valley basketball fives were far and away the best that there were in the conference that year. One of the teams had won all but two of its games, while another had captured all but one.

In the final series of the season, these two rival teams met. The team with but a single defeat, fighting on its own court, was granted better than an even chance to win, that is, it was given that everywhere but in Kansas Aggie land, the home of the opposing five.

But the leading team did not win. A troupe of basketballers coached by Clevenger downed this proud five, whose name had headed the percentage column all season. And the result was that the official records proved the Kansas Aggies were entitled to the leadership, and not the Missouri Tigers.

The same fight will be staged this year. That is where the "history repeats itself" phrase comes in handy. But now the tables are turned, and the Clevenger men will be heartened by the cheering of their own rooters, instead of fighting it out on a foreign court.

Missouri, we do not claim the victories. We will even go so far as to grant you an even chance. But we are going to be out there in force Wednesday and Thursday night pushing and working against you, just to tip the balance to the side of the Aggies.

THE "WIMMIN" WILL EDIT.

This column will not have much of a masculine swing to it next issue. Every part of the work of assembling and editing The Collegian is going to be in the hands of the wimmin—bless 'em. So expect to receive several digs on such subjects as cigarette smoking, selfishness, "know-it-all-ness" and sundry other vices that masculine mankind is supposed to be guilty of.

Talk of Two Idlers
Stirs Old Question
"Do Women Think?"

All sorts of freaks have been found running loose at K. S. A. C., but it took the year of our Lord, 1917 to to present us with a new one—and an imported one at that.

This new variety of freak, as far as telling a little story which revives the question, do women think?

One day two officers' wives were eating luncheon in the college cafe men, and can be described best by as is known, is limited to one specimen.

"How on earth do you pass your time, Madge?" said the bona fide freak.

"Why, I really have been doing absolutely nothing but dressing, eating and sleeping, except for an occasional visit to the movies," was the reply. "But I think I'll go down to the Red Cross headquarters and help make surgical dressings."

"Fudge!" snorted the freak. "Don't do that! I tried it once and it's the driest work I ever did. What good does it do? Just to sit there and roll bandages. If you're like me, one day will be enough for you." And she was an officer's wife.

PATRIOTIC APPEAL.

All our relation
And every nation

Depend upon rural population
Adopting better farm rotation
Installing a better system of irrigation

To save us from possible starvation
And all this sad lamentation
To save our reputation

Purloin Pretty Pup

Should dogs be interned for the duration of the war?

"Oh," screamed an Aggie co-ed when she read these words on a newspaper page. "Oh, Fluffy! Oh, Fluffy!" she screamed. "Those horrid people aren't going to intern you, are they?"

A gentleman had just entered the room, and to his great horror saw the Aggie co-ed showering kisses on Fluffy's pin bone smelling nose! It very nearly overcame him, and as he stood there unnoticed he philosophized. When a woman could kiss a dog's moist nose like that, it was no wonder she could stand the red whiskers of some human porcupines.

The gentleman felt as if he were intruding, and ill at ease. Finally the co-ed looked up and said with tearful eyes:

"Oh, Henny! They are going to intern Fluffy for the duration of the war. Just think of my own little Fluff having to associate with dogs that don't get a bath even once a week. Poor Fluff! And he wouldn't get any geese or milk, and—Oh—he wouldn't get his teeth brushed, or have anything to wear in the cold weather—Oh—it's too much! It's too much!"

This came very nearly being too much for the gentleman, so he scratched his head and went on in this heartless manner.

"Yes, they are going to take all the dogs and put them in one big pen. They will not feed them anything, and the big ones will live off the little ones like Fluff. In that way, in time the canine population will soon be reduced to one big dog."

"I won't let them do it! I won't!" screamed the girl. "I'll hide Fluffy under a tub, and they will NOT find him."

"It might be a god plan," said the other with a malicious grin, "for the dog man may come tonight and I would take all precautions."

That night Fluffy went to sleep under a tub on a pink pillow with blue ribbons on the corners.

Along in the wee-small hours of the night two fresh slipped silently around the house to the back porch. One carried a package under his arms. Silently they raised the tub and removed sleepy Fluff, and substituted the package.

The next morning the co-ed slipped out on the porch before breakfast to kiss Fluff good morning. The people inside heard a terrible scream, and rushing out found the co-ed in a faint. An hour later she asked to see the package, and she read these words on the tag:

SAUSAGE

Hooverize and Win
the war.

—Dog Man.

This is another case of puppy love sent into the realm of bygone days. The co-ed's heart was broken, but—never mind—some day she will find the poor boob, and she will kiss his RED nose for a few weeks, and then—she will want to put him under a tub in the hope that someone will make sausage of him.

WHEREIN WE MEET A SENATOR

The columnist strode up the aisle to that section of the roof where the speeches are dished up and handed out to the pepul and there sat down beside a rather short gentleman with slightly grey hair and a perpetual sort of smile adorning his facial landscape.

The gentleman reached over and asked our name, and we asked his. Thompson? Yes? Gawn, we nearly lost our balance.

"Fine day, senator," says we.

"Yes," says the senator.

Silence.

"Say, senator," says us, "We rite a colm on the college paper out at Manhattan, and we want to git yer idea on a very important subject. What's the difference between pickles and dove?"

"That's a foolish question," says the senator.

"That's why we ask it," says we.

"Well, SOUR pickles are eaten by SWEEThearts," grinned the senator.

Sam Amidon, of Wichita, national Democratic committeeman for Kansas has a wife who is a republican, and Sam says he has long since found out it doesn't pay to criticize the administration.

Imagine if you can, a common frosh, pulling that stuff on a member of the United States senate?

The Independent has an article on colms, but it calls them colyums, and the writers are colylists. Hereafter we are a colyulist.

A German count, duke, or some such animal say's hate is foreign to his nature. How clever! Of course the United States, England, France, et al, are foreign.

Some one suspicious that Taft is the most bellicose man in the country, but we saw a politician at Topeka who has just as big a one as he has.

Hindenburg's drive on Petrograd indicates he is taking the long way around on his Paris trip.

The next funniest thing to a fat lady asleep on a train with a double chin, is a lean one asleep with an Adam's apple.

All the speakers at the Kansas Democratic banquet began their speeches with "ladies and gentlemen," with accent on the ladies, and from the samples we saw, they deserved it.

We have arranged a three months course to prepare you for the Civil Service Examination. If you do not have the money now, you may wait and pay us out of your first three months' salary.

Scott Kelsey, senior in the school of agriculture, spent the week end with his parents at Topeka.

Harold Johnson, third year school of agriculture, spent the week end with his parents in Cleburn.

The Philomathean Literary society entertained the Lincoln Literary society on a hike to Wild Cat Friday evening.

A debate was the feature of the joint meeting held Saturday night by the Lincoln and Philomathean Literary societies of the school of agriculture. The affirmative upheld by the Philomathean debaters won unanimous decision of the judges, E. V. James, A. R. Pehn, and Miss Ina Holmrody. The question debated was, "Resolved, That the state should furnish free textbooks to students of trade and secondary schools." Other numbers of the program were as follows: Music Miss Fricia Haslam; devotion, J. W. Honeywell; Lincoln review, B. A. Thompson; Philomathean graphic Miss Hazel Mat; valentine story, Homer Sloop.

Thoughtful Co-ed Leaves a Smallpox To Cure Measles

"Pull up that blind, wife, and let me see if these blamed things still show up their measly faces."

The room mate so named, who reposed nearest the window reached out and complied. The man over against the wall drew a speckled paw out from beneath the covers and gazed at it scrutinizingly.

"Still there, darn 'em, red as cherries, and some of them almost as big. Whew! man, do you want to get a fellow blind? Shut that light out."

"We're in for another week! guess. Blame it, I never wanted to get out an assignment so much in all my life. Got it all figured out. Reckon there'll be any classes left when we get back up there on the hill?"

"Spin another yarn, man, then I guess it'll be time for dinner. There's the clock now. Ding it, its only eleven."

His room mate began relating an adventure that had happened back on the farm in his precollege days. All other sources were exhausted. When he had gotten started he was interrupted.

"Get out, you said you were riding bareback and grabbed the horn of the saddle. You're crazy in the head. Well, go on, anything to kill this beastly time."

But the "wife's" attention was arrested. Over on the opposite wall the little light that streamed in at the edge of the window cast a dim reflection. The figures of persons going down the street past the house were silhouetted onto this area of light, and the two patients had spent many an hour in watching the movies.

"That's a girl now, I bet it's Ruth. Walks like her. There's the door-bell. What in thunder? Would any body come into this pest house?"

There was a sound of steps on the front walk. A call sounded up the stairway, and the Land-lady explained the visitation.

"Here's a small pox to cure the measles."

Some Silver Clouds Have Ethio Linings Thinks An Aggie Boy

The war has been the source of many tragic situations. It has also been the source of some humorous situations. The following incident is absolutely true in every respect—as to its humorous and tragic aspect the reader may judge.

Three well known Aggie boys had just stepped from one of the local stores when an attractive young lady from college circles passed by and spoke in recognition. It was at that time of day when business was at a lull and few persons were on the street.

The previously mentioned y. l. had passed down the avenue some distance before the young men in question turned their footsteps in the same direction. One of the y. m. remarked casually upon the fact that the desirable young lady had entered such and such a store and the trio went on their way never realizing that Romance was stepping on their heels.

Lying on the sidewalk unmolested and defying investigation lay a line of grey wool leading to—what and where? Like a flash it dawned upon one of the Aggies that the yarn had fallen from the knitting bag of the girl to whom they had just spoken.

And then Romance gave this young man a shove and he made a dive for the loose end of the yarn and began to wind madly with visions of what was in store for him at the other end. Then—it struck one of the other Aggies that in mythological times the threads of fate had been broken and he proceeded to adapt mythological circumstances to modern conditions. Dashing ahead a hundred feet or so, he stooped, picked up the yarn, snapped it in two, and thereby restored the fate of one young man and definitely fixed his own. For with a few seconds winding he was at the very door through which the adorable thing had just entered the store.

Nervously wrapping the yarn into a tangled mass he opened the door and entered. Sure enough there she stood at the rear of the store. O! Gee. His thoughts far exceeded the pace the winding process would allow of his feet. Romance might just as well leave him here and now for he could complete the work himself. And Romance did leave him and Tragedy stepped up to fill the vacated position for someone speaking caused him to pause in his eagerness long enough to ascertain the source.

"Yo! all done got me yarn—Thanks." Following the thread he had been winding, his gaze fell on a Queen of spades of dusky shade with hand outstretched for the precious product.

He looked around in time to see Romance beating an ashamed retreat out the front door. And he followed and when last we saw the y. m. he was still pursuing.

The young lady smiled. And then the curtain fell on a tragedy or romance?

MANY JOBS OPEN TO WOMEN

GIRL GRADUATES NEED NOT CONFINED THEMSELVES TO TEACHING.

Other Paying Positions are Those of Matrons, Tea Room Managers and Dietitians.

Many opportunities other than teaching school are open to home economics graduates, points out Miss Helen Halm, assistant professor of home economics education.

"New types of positions are constantly developing," said Miss Halm. "The Teaching field is overcrowded and new vocations are opening to home economic graduates. They are taking places as matrons of dormitories, managers of lunch rooms, tea rooms, cafeterias, or delicatessen shops, hospital dietitians, managers of institutional laundries, or institutional housekeepers.

Positions Pay Well.
"As a matron of a dormitory, the graduate must be a woman of executive ability and must know human nature. Her salary ranges from $600 to $1,200 a year. An assistant matron usually gets from $200 to $600 a year. Both positions include board, lodging and laundry."

The lunch room manager must have all of the qualities of the dormitory matron and enterprise and business ability besides. As a rule apprenticeship is necessary in an establishment of this kind before real management is undertaken. The capable lunch room manager may command a salary of from $600 to $1,500. The opportunities are much the same for the cafeteria manager. The tea room manager commands a larger salary. An operator of a tea room which caters to the fastidious class of people usually gets a salary of from $1,200 to $3,000 a year and often a commission as well.

Dietitian Gives Food Advice.
The dietitian has a profitable and satisfactory work. Even the inexperienced dietitian usually receives from $200 to $500 a year maintenance. The visiting dietitian, employed in large cities visits the very poor and gives instructions concerning balanced diets, wholesome food, and the best expenditure of their incomes.

Visiting housekeepers and welfare workers try to raise the standard of living of the families visited by giving them a practical knowledge of nourishing foods which are within their means, and by teaching them to value simplicity and cleanliness. The salaries compare favorably with the wages of other occupations.

Former Aggie Frosh Now In Aero Service Writes To Friends

Amos O. Payne, last year a freshman in engineering, is now with an aero squadron in France. He received his commission to fly early in November.

Mr. Payne writes of his interest in the work and sends these verses of his own composing:

The Airman to the Bard
Sing me a song of the Aeroplane,
The bird with the canvass wings,
Which carries a man on its beautiful back

As its motor merrily sings,
Sing me a song of the pilot gay
Soaring up to win the war,
Who risks his life with a careless nod,

As the horseman bold of yore,
Sing me a song of his home country
His own beloved land,
For whom, and that right cheerfully,
He gave his heart and hand.

Sing me a song of his mother dear,
Who bravely waits at home,
And knows her son will be brave and true

Where ever he may roam,
Sing of the girl he left behind,
Whose tender heart beats high
When her lover sends her a cheerful note

Of his ventures in the sky,
Yes, sing me all the songs that you know,
Brave, beautiful, or fair.
But above all songs I would have you sing
Of the pilot in the air.

LIKES THE MARINE CORPS

H. D. LINDSCOTT LONGS FOR A CHANCE AT THE TEUTONS

In Long Letter to Dean Potter, Former Aggie Explains His Work with Soldiers of the Sea

An interesting letter of life in the marine corps was received by Dean A. A. Potter from H. D. Lindscott, '16, electrical engineering. Mr. Lindscott was with the Westinghouse company until April, 1917, when he joined the marines and has since been stationed at Santiago, Santo Domingo.

Mr. Lindscott expresses himself as being satisfied with service in the tropics but, as he says all red blooded men in the service feel, he longs to be in France where bigger things are taking place.

The letter follows:

"Your letter and card of Christmas greeting were forwarded me from my home in Kansas. I certainly appreciate your good wishes and the you for your offer of a testimonial and letter of recommendation. If the occasion should arise where such a letter would be necessary, I will be only too glad to avail myself of your offer. I will always feel in debt to yourself and Professor Reid for your letters which I feel, went far toward securing my commission in the marine corps.

"I do not particularly care to talk about myself but I suppose it is understood that I should at least tell you something of my history since I was graduated. I began the student course of the Westinghouse company in the summer of 1916, as you know. I was very well satisfied there but in February 1917, I became restless at the rumors of impending trouble with Germany and applied for examination for a commission in the marine corps.

"I passed the physical examination in Washington in April, the mental portion of the test being waived on presentation of my diploma from K. S. A. C., and the letters of President Waters and Captain Mathews. On May 9, I reported for active duty at Port Royal, S. C., and on May 21 left there for duty in Santo Domingo. I have been attached to this post ever since my arrival with the exception of 16 days spent in an expedition up the coast and into the interior.

Bandits Raise Trouble.

"We had absolutely no trouble on this trip, in fact with the exception of an occasional bandit who gathers a small following about him, the entire island including both the Republic Haiti and the Dominican Republic is completely subdued. Several poor chaps gave their lives, and many more were more or less severely wounded during the spring and summer of 1916 to accomplish this.

"Immediately on my arrival here, I was attached to the technical company and have been doing duty with it ever since. We furnish the radio operators for the regiment, have charge of telephones, do the construction work, and in short all the work which an engineering company in the army might be called upon to do, in addition to our infantry duties. Our official designation is 'Signal Company.'

"From the above you will assume correctly that I am absolutely contented. And you will be almost right with the exception of a couple of grievances. First, tropical service under the best of conditions is undesirable and though the country is a veritable paradise so far as fertility, scenery and beauty is concerned, the people are about as corrupt, as a race, as could be imagined. There are a few refreshing exceptions to this rule of course.

Wants to Be in Fight.

"The second fly in the ointment is the desire to be a few thousand miles farther east where many of my old friends are making bigger history than we are making here. I suppose every red blooded man in the service would rather be in France than any other place right at present. I know everyone in the marine corps would, but all of us cannot be there at once and we are all of us trying to be patient until our turn comes.

"The most important event of my military career thus far, from my standpoint, was my promotion from second to first lieutenant, which occurred last August. No it is not a reward for any special service or efficiency, but just came from seniority.

"I have been noticing with considerable interest the part K. S. A. C., especially the engineering division, has been taking in affairs both military and civil that tend to the winning of the present war. Of course, from the standpoint of a soldier I would prefer to see the whole male portion of the college enrolled in the service, yet common sense and logic tell me that such a thing would be disastrous. So I can extend my best hopes for a successful year at K. S. C. especially for all in the engineering division."

But if that day ever comes when we have a wife there will be no afternoon political science clubs for her.—Harold Allegre.

You talk like a fish, young man.

AGGIES LOSE BOTH GAMES TO TIGERS WITH SCORES OF 22-19 AND 23-24.

WE LOSE CHAMPIONSHIP

Tigers as the Winners of This Series Have Now Clinched the Valley Laurels.

Now the Aggies Only Hope is for Second Place in the Missouri Valley Race.

BOTH GAMES HOT AND HEAVY

Missouri kept a slight lead throughout the game during the first battle while Aggies held out ahead during the second half second combat.

The Aggies have lost the Missouri Valley championship but they didn't lay down on the job. It has been a fight to the finish and although the finish has befallen the Aggies, it was not because they forgot to scrap. The Aggies never said die and both games played on this court were the peppiest contests ever fought.

In one of the thrillingest and hardest fought fights ever scrapped in the Nichols scrapiron, the Missouri Tigers disappointed the Kansas Wildcats
Wednesday night by beating them.

The Aggies hardly had a fair chance as Missouri got ahead early in the game and stayed ahead. It could be noticed that every time Missouri did slow up a little the Aggies caught up with them. The audience and others were made nervous several times by the score being tied.
Unfortunately for the Wildcats it was Missouri who finally untied it.

In the first place somebody made a mistake and let Missouri get a free throw. This gave the gentlemen from Missouri the courage to continue the game. Then the Aggies threw three field goals right in a string.
The crowd went wild. But it was a case of "Upward they stuck and in the upness of their stuckitude the fell."

Because from that time on Claven-ger's purple boys—spurt as they would—could not seem to spur enough to get ahead again. The half ended Missouri 11, Aggies 8, which could have been overlooked if the other half hadn't have been Tigers 22, Wildcats 19.

Ben Hinds was removed from the scrimmage in the second half and Mr.
Folts put in at lg. Shorty is little alright, but the way he hipity hops it down the line is inspiring to many big men.

The visitors were strong for long distance throws. But they probably would have fattened their score if they could have made the basketball to the basket at close range. However Clarke and Van Trine were nearly always in the way.

Features of the game were the way the boys shook hands to begin on, the soldiers, Missouri rooters, and the absence of any clever punting or forward passes.

Second Game.

The game last night was even more exhilarating than the first game. Before the crowd could get its breath after the whistle blew, Van Trine had landed a field goal and the game was on. Somebody went and committed a foul and Missouri got a free throw

From that time on the referee, was a busy man.

If it wasn't Missouri out it was Aggie out and once in each half it was time out. The score was tied twice in the first half, but Aggies galloped ahead a little and then Ben Hinds tossed the ball over his left shoulder and never looked behind him.
The jinx worked and the Aggies were condoling Missouri because they could only count 11 to a Wildcat 13.

The first half was some half. Who-don guarded like a sentry in a dynamite shop. Johnny Clarke would do a backstep down the gym with a Missourian right in front of him trying to get over the top. Then as soon as the referee made the others line up and give him a chance, it was evident that he had his eye on the basket and his prayers on the ball.

The second half and last half was terrific. The Aggies spurted and Missouri sputtered until they both were scrapping like maniacs to get on the sunny side of a blockade of a sixteen score for each. The Tigers took advantage of some fouls and shoved up a little. Everybody was shoving even the people on the bleachers were shoving.

The poor Aggie Wildcats were simply shoving Missouri into the picture. There seemed to be too many Tigers on the floor and too many Aggies in the air. Anyhow by the time somebody thought of taking time out, the Tigers had begun to think their little old 26 was unreachable, and the purple boys of Clavenger had tears on their eyelashes. But they made ongrandiloquent, tremendous, belligerent, pathetic spurt and in 5 minutes went from 16 to 24, with Missouri bothering them all of the time too.

Missouri clung lovingly to the ball every time they touched it in the next few minutes, threw it through the basket again, killed a lot of precious seconds, playing catch. Then just as the Wildcats got a lot of Tiger fur on their whiskers, somebody shot off the gun before the poor Aggies had time to lick 'em good.

As if there wasn't enough of a fight on deck, some helmeted soldiers from the Fort threw bombs at the lights, between halves. The Missourians from Camp Funston came back to cheer at the second game and were aided in their rooting by two loyal Aggie women. It was an awful fast affair and needless to say everybody was downright excited.

GIRLS DO WAR WORK

Have Taken the Lead in Many Student Activities.

Student activity has been given universal support among the co-eds of the college this year.

The work of the Y. W. C. A. began this year with the big sisters meeting the trains in order to reach all new girls coming in. The assignment of big sisters was rather difficult as many of the girls had not written to the registrar before coming and there was no way of reaching them early enough in their college career to ward off those homesick days.

The membership of the Y. W. C. A. is 440, the largest it has ever been,
while the number of girls attending college is smaller than usual. The attendance at the weekly vesper services has been unusually good until this month.

Aggie Pop night which was engineered by the Y. W. C. A. with the success of this year made a permanent place for itself among college activities.

Six hundred and fourteen K. S. A.
C. girls pledged $4,689 for the Student War Fund and besides this the girls of the Y. W. C. A. have pledged nearly $400 for the support of the local association. "This loyal pledging," said Miss Inskeep, "shows that the girls have faith in the worthwhileness of the association."

EIGHTEENTH ANNUAL ORATORICAL CONTEST
WILL BE HELD IN AUDITORIUM TOMORROW NIGHT

The college literary societies, represented by eight orators, will compete for honors Saturday night. The eighteenth annual oratorical contest
promises to create as much interest and college enthusiasm as former contests. The oratorical contest has always been considered one of the big events of the year by townspeople and the student body.

No seats will be reserved and the auditorium will be open at 7 o'clock.
Demonstrations by the different societies will begin at 7:30 and last for half an hour. Prof. M. F. (Mike) Ahearn will have charge of this part of the program. Governor Arthur Capper will preside and introduce the orators. There will be musical out-a member of Omicron Nu, honorary home economics society.

Miss Helen Mitchell, senior in home economics will speak for the Brown-ings on "A Philosophy in Triumph."
Miss Mitchell graduated from the Manhattan high school. She is an "E" student and for two years has debated on varsity squads. Miss Mitchell is a member of the Y. W. C.
A. and the Forum, a forensic society.

Ira L. Plank, orator for the Alpha Beta Literary society, will speak on "American Peasantry." Mr. Plank, a senior in agronomy took his prep work in the Missouri State Normal.
He is a member of the Tri-K fraternity and the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Mary Dakin, senior in home

ity, Y. M. C. A. cabinet, Saddle and Spirito club, and the Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity. Mr. Taylor is cadet major and has taken prominent part in dramatic work.

B. Q. Shields, senior in industrial journalism, will represent the Athenians with an oration on "The New Rural Leadership." Mr. Shields was graduated from the Ramona high school. He is a member of the Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, Sigma Kappa Tau, social fraternity. He is a Y. M. worker.

Merle Converse will speak for the Franklins on "The New Citizenship."
Mr. Converse was graduated from the bers between each oration and an original force will be presented by the intersociety council while the votes of the judges are being counted. The societies will hold receptions in their halls after the contests for their orators and former members.

Miss Helen Stewart, senior in home economics, will represent the Eurodelphians with an oration on "America's Debt to England." Miss Stewart was graduated from the Winfield high school. Her collegiate record covering two years at Washburn and two years at the Kansas State Agriculture college ranks her as a student of exceptional ability. She is treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. and early in November with the preparation of the surgical dressing room on the second floor in the domestic science building by the Y. W. C. A. At Christmas time, a Christmas box club was organized and the girls succeeded in preparing and sending to the soldiers at Camp Funston nearly 500 gifts.

Practically one-half of the 700 of the college Red Cross membership were girls. The campaign has been carried on entirely by the girls and with the reorganization of the work made at the beginning of the semester the work will be kept vitally alive until the close of the year.

NO CO-ED VETS YET

But They Have Entered All Other College Courses.

No longer can it be said that there are separate courses for young men and young women at K. S. A. C.

While no young women have yet enrolled in the course in veterinary medicine, they have entered nearly every other department in the college.
The home economics course however, still claims the highest percentage of co-eds, 516 being enrolled in that division.

Aggie co-ed engineers and farmers are becoming so common that the students have ceased to regard them as "new and interesting zoological specimens."

Three girls have enrolled in engineering courses—Miss Edith Kelly Johnson, junior; Miss Frances Westcott, freshman; and Miss Clara Love, freshman—these are in the department of architecture, and are doing creditable work.

Five girls are studying scientific farming, Miss Vivian Heath, freshman; Miss Luella Schaumberg, sophomore; Miss Clara Higgins, Miss Dorothy Lush and Miss Blanche French, juniors; and Miss Helen Carlyle, senior, are students in the division of agriculture.

The general science and industrial journalism courses claim a large number of women students. Twenty-seven are studying industrial journalism and 142 general science.

A new course in gardening is being given this semester for the purpose of fitting young women for teaching agriculture in high schools. It is simply called "gardening" but Dr. H.
J. Waters' text on agriculture is used in gardening classes and the course anticipates the need for women teachers of agriculture. Since Prof. M.
F. Ahearn (Mike) is the teacher, it is a popular course and 50 girls are enrolled.

ABOUT THE MODERN GIRL

WOMAN OF TODAY IS MEETING CONDITIONS SAY AUTHORITIES.

"Sweet Young Things" Reject That Title and Are Keen for the Opportunities Which Present Changed Conditions Have Opened the Door.

Just for the sake of abating the monotony and getting away from the one persistent and all-enveloping topic of conversation "MAN," a new phrase
"the girl of today" has been selected and put up as a worthy subject.

That it is a topic worthy of valuable time is shown by the fact that Arthur Capper, governor of Kansas has the first to say "The American woman is meeting the new industrial conditions which have arisen, incident to the war, courageously. If the average man were compelled to go into the kitchen to prepare meals for the family or to assume the task of supervising the nursery, I doubt whether he could take up these duties with one-hundredth part the success that the American woman has entered into responsibilities entirely foreign to her sphere.

"With her mind keen for the opportunities which the changed conditions opened to her, the girl of today has seized with eagerness upon the training courses which are offered to fit her for commercial responsibilities or to give her an understanding of the operation of machinery. She has introduced new ideas into the work and the men who are left on the job find to keep up that they, too, must raise the standard.

"The modern woman does not hesitate at the big job. It allures her.
When the war is over, women will continue to fill some of the positions which have seemed to be distinctly men's work. Efficiency will rule and if women prove themselves more accurate and conscientious than men, the jobs will be for the women. They will carry to the home new ideas and a new system which will put it on an efficiency basis.

"In the colleges and universities
now so largely depopulated of men, women are entering into courses which they had not considered heretofore.
They are making for a wider co-education and just as their influence in the bigger school of the world is raising business to a higher standard, their presence in new departments of universities is building up a higher standard of work.

A second view of the modern girl is given by L. W. Keplinger, lawyer of Kansas City: "Does the modern girl meet the needs of her country?
A readiness to make the utmost conceivable sacrifice in its behalf is the country's need today. Women new-every where make appropriate responses and are willing to deal with the new conditions which have arisen.

"As experience is the price of efficiency, for a while service rendered cannot be up to the former standard.
What is true of difference between individuals is true as to difference in sex. When men are called to war women will fill some places for which men were more fit. The modern girl is preparing to meet conditions."

And then there is another response to the question, this time from the University of Kansas: "After all isn't it the modern girl alone who does meet the needs of her country?
The one who doesn't isn't modern at all, she's old fashioned. But even so we cannot drop her so easily and she can be explained. Her efforts lack direction and that is not entirely her fault. If the enthusiasm of the girls would kill Germans it would take all of our men to bury the dead. If the efforts of some seem a little misdirected sometimes it is probably because there are not enough suitabilchannels to carry away the flood of Willingsness.

Mrs. Jack Church and two months-old baby are visiting friends and Mrs.
Church's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J.
Hutto. Mrs. Church was formerly Miss Garnet Hutto, and the girl's athletic director four years ago.

JARDINE IS CHOSEN

BOARD OF ADMINISTRATION ELECTED COLLEGE EXECU-TIVE YESTERDAY.

ASSUMES DUTIES MARCH 1

Doctor Jardine Leaves for Topeka
This Morning to Meet With Board.

Efficient Work as Dean of Agriculture and College Representative Wins the Place.

IS FIRST CHOICE OF STUDENTS

The Selection of a Man Who is Fam-ilar With the Conditions of the College Will Mean That There Will be No Break in Present Schedule.

William M. Jardine was officially named president of the Kansas State Agricultural college late yesterday afternoon.

A telegram received by former Dean Jardine last night brought the information of his selection as president and asked that he go to Topeka today to meet with the board.

The telegram follows:
Topeka, Kans.
Feb. 28, '18.

Dean William M. Jardine,
Kansas State Agricultural College,
Manhattan, Kansas.

At a full meeting of the board of administration you were unanimously elected president of the Kansas State Agricultural College.

WILBUR N. MASON,
Acting Secretary.

Acting president J. T. Willard was also reached by telegram and was the first college official to congratulate Dean Jardine upon his election as president of the college. "The choice of Dean Jardine as the future executive is a wise one," said Doctor Willard. "He will go to Topeka Friday to confer with the Board of Administration and will probably return to Manhattan to take up the duties of president on March 1. His title until the present has been dean of the division of agriculture and director of the agricultural experiment station."

B. S. A. from Utah 1904.
William M. Jardine in 1904 was given his degree of B. S. A. from the Utah 1905 and a student graduate of L. L. D. from Campbell college. He was instructor in agronomy at the Utah agricultural college 1904-5 and manager of the arid farming company of that state in 1905. Dr. Jardine was assistant professor of agronomy at Utah 1905 and a student graduate of agriculture at the University of Illinois 1906. In the years 1906 and 1907 he held the position of professor of agronomy at the Utah Agricultural college and from 1907-10 was assistant cerealist of the United States Department of Agriculture.

As Graduate of M. E. C.

Doctor Jardine is also a graduate of the Michigan agricultural college, 1912. His work in connection with this college began in 1910 when he was made professor of agronomy.
From that year Doctor Jardine has made steady progress in advance of position. From January until September he was acting dean of the division of agriculture and acting director of the agricultural experiment station. At the latter date he was promoted to the position which he has held until his recent promotion—that of dean of agriculture and director of the experiment station.

President Jardine when asked as to his future plans said that he would have no statements to make until after his return from Topeka and from the conference with the Board of Administration.

However by the first of the week the new president will occupy the chair.

Miss Frances Pausch who has been visiting Miss Martha Borthwick, sophomore in industrial journalism, left Thursday for her home at New City.

Miss Rose Blackwelder and Miss Minnie Scott, freshmen in home economics, spent the week end at their homes in Pratt.

FRIDAY, MARCH 1, 1918.

THE REASON

In response to the question—"Do we women think?"

We are publishing this issue (despite the price of ink.)

Our entire staff is on a long vacation.

At editing a paper this is our initiation.

Bruce Brewer, our editor, a bright and handsome lad,

Is in a sanitarium, from writing he went mad.

Our circulating manager is riding in his Ford.

We're in hopes he'll return someday,
our trust is in the Lord.

The fellow who writes "sport", is away on a "sprce".

We had to have the "dope" and we got it you'll agree.

The man who gets the ads has a good line of "gaff".

But he neglected his work so we kicked him off the staff.

The child who writes the "Freshman" column is as quiet as a mouse.

At home studying the "tricks and trades of Honorable J. House.

You can see that we don't need 'em,
our paper seems complete.

If there's anything that's lacking—
well—at any rate its neat

TO OUR PRESIDENT.

Congratulations to our new president—William M. Jardine.

With the unexpected receipt of the telegram announcing the selection of one of our Aggie men as the executive head of the college the entire student body and faculty alike expressed the greatest degree of satisfaction.

"Just the man we wanted and the right man for the place," this was the common statement from all. The college is undoubtedly fortunate to obtain a man of President Jardine's ability and efficient knowledge of fundamental college affairs at the present time. With his personal acquaintance of the working basis of the institution the new president of the Kansas State Agricultural college can direct its practical management in a way that would not be possible for a man brought in from the outside.

And most of all, the students are pleased because they have had their choice.

JOURNALISM MEN OUTCLASSED.

Girls Take All Honors so Far This Year.

Credit should be given the girls in Journalism this year. They have outclassed the young men in both The Collegian and the Industrialist contests.

The Industrialist contest last spring was won by Miss Laura Shingledocer, sophomore, who turned in nearly five times as much copy as her nearest competitor and nearly twice as much as all the other competitors combined.
Miss Shingledocer deserved first place in the contest last semester but she was not competing so the honors were given to Miss Sarah Chase, junior in Industrial Journalism and next highest contestant.

The Collegian contest last semester was won by Miss Estel Wollman, freshman in Industrial Journalism.
Miss Wollman also broke a record of former contestants and is the first girl to win in this contest.

The young men in industrial journalism who expect to win either of these contests this spring will find some keen competition in the girls.

Full House Out

For Special Exams
in Organic Chem.

Conditional examinations in chemistry were held recently in room 24 of the Chemistry building. There was a full house and the performance was high class in every detail.

The opening number was given by several of the instructors who stood in the front of the room handing out sheets of paper to everyone present and making short extemporaneous speeches. Then everything was quiet, and the students began to examine their papers, thinking that the show was over.

After a short intermission, however, a tall pleasant looking man in dark glasses walked across the front of the room and wrote some elaborate graphic formulas on the side board. There was no applause. The students, however, appreciated it, so after hesitating a few moments the man returned and wrote two more formulas on the board, as a kind of encore.

The students seemed to be interested in various kinds of chemistry:
inorganic, qualitative, and human nutrition. There were also several applicants for dismissal from organic chemistry.

Taking organic chemistry is like taking a case of the blues—one works long and persistently to master it but sooner or later it overcomes him.
There is no accounting for it. Neither is there any accounting for the blues.
Very often organic chemistry and the blues go hand in hand. In fact, many a case of the blues develops from an attack of organic chemistry. While it lasts one can do nothing and think of nothing, although all the time he feels really bound to do something. This state of mind is hard on the nerves and that is why some of the students were applying for dismissal from organic chemistry.

The entire entertainment was one of rare talent and instruction and will long be remembered by those who attended.

Men at Meeting

Agree That Co-eds
Must Be Cooks

It is the "peach pie a la mode, and red cherries stuffed with cream" type of girl that the college men pick on most girls know this, and hence the large enrollment in home economics.

One day at the beginning of the second semester a group of college men had arranged for a committee meeting in one of the class rooms in the basement of the library. It appeared that a pretty and clever general science girl had stepped into this room a few minutes before the men stroled into the hall. Upon their entrance into the hall she heard the voice of a man she secretly admired, exclaim, "I'll tell you, that is the kind of girl for me."

"I'll hear more of this," thought the clever little girl, and if it had not been for her for a convenient hiding place in the room, this old world would have been cheated out of a pretty little romance.

"Yes sir, she must be pretty, and above all know how to cook," continued one of the boys as they entered the room. "And when I say cook I mean that my table must be set with such things as—what is it now—oh, like maple mousse, oyster cocktail, and meat souffle with tobacco dressing."

"The home economics girls make the hit with me too," added another.
The other girls may be clever and snappy, but what fellow wants a girl that knows more about the war than he does? A girl that will talk to you about the trivial, little homey things is the girl a fellow likes. She rests his mind from thinking and worrying over the big, world problems. I believe every girl should be trained and specialized in cooking so that us men will be happy."

An indignant stamp of a little heel somewhere in the room suddenly checked the conversation. A moment of silence, and then the secretly admired man spoke.

"Fellows, you know that clever brown haired general science girl I had a date with, just before Christmas."

"He means me," breathed the girl in hiding.

"Well," continued the man, "she is witty and smart, can talk intelligently about any subject, and she keeps you guessing, but she can't cook. If she could cook I would mar—"

"Boys, lets get to business," came the stern voice of the chairman. In ten more minutes the meeting was over and the boys left. A few minutes later a girl slipped quietly out of the room and took the shortest cut to her rooming house.

She ran up the steps to her room, breathlessly sat down to her desk and made out new assignment—this time in the home economics course. Then

GIVE MEDALS IN STOCK JUDGING

Saddle and Sirlin Club and Prominent Stockmen Encourage Interest

Kansas breeders are taking more interest in the annual students' judging contest this year than ever before, and several trophies are being awarded by prominent stockmen in the state. These trophies, together with the medals and ribbons that are offered by the Saddle and Sirlin club, are expected to make the contest particularly interesting to the student body this year, and it is Professor Call Talks on the Seed Situation.

L. E. Call, professor of agronomy and E. E. Frizell, state labor administrator, attended a demonstration at Woodson Monday in which a new labor saving type of header large was shown to 200 farmers.

The seed situation was discussed by Professor Call and the labor question by Mr. Frizell at this meeting and also at a meeting at Hays on Tuesday.

AGRONOMY DEPT. TO TEST SEEDS

Co-eds Will Assist Instructors in This Work.

More than 1100 samples of seed to be tested for germination were received by the agronomy department during the first part of the week. The tests are being made by R. V. Bonnett, B. S. Wilson, and Mrs. E. P.
Hurling with the help of about 18
girls.

The Y. W. C. A. of Washburn college is making preparations to bring a young French woman to Topeka, to complete her education. The college will furnish a scholarship for the girl selected and the Y. W. C. A. will pay her expenses including her passage over. The returns from the May fete this year will be used for this purpose.

Dear Confidante:

Please suggest a way to get a date.
Yours in distress,
L. P. WHITEHEAD.

Dear Editor:

Will you please tell me if there is any danger of my having to pay tax on Leona T's car? It really isn't mine altho the city assessor is after me.
R. VAN TRINE.

Dear Confidante:

Will you tell me some nice young lady to whom I could give my pin? I've already put out three but they don't suit me. A fourth I'm sure would be the right one.
Distressfully,
GERALD SCOUT.

Dearest Confidante:

Does it befit the dignity of a model college man to fall in love with a beautiful nurse.
Anxiously,
F. A. SLATTERY.

THE ACTIVITIES COUNCIL WORK.

Manhattan Is Doing Much for Soldiers at Camp.

Appreciation of what Manhattan is doing for the entertainment and welfare of the soldiers at Camp Funston was expressed by E. L. English, war work secretary in charge of the work at Manhattan and Junction City, and Captain Strutz, the representative from Camp Funston, at a meeting of the local training camp activities council at the community hall Monday evening. These expressions of appreciation came at the close of the meeting which was taken up mostly by reports of committees.

Geo. M. Hammond, chairman of the building committee, reported that the work on the new community building was going on without interruption, that all the material was on hand and that the building would probably be completed in about 90 days.

Miss Winifred Myers, representative of the war department on training camp activities, reported on the Business Girls' club which has recently been organized. Miss Myers reported that there are 250 business girls in Manhattan and of this number 135 are members of the club. For the girls there have been organized three gymnasium classes a week,

TIGERS ARE WEAK IN TRACK

TEAM HAS SLUMPED WITH LOSS OF MANY STARS

Coach "Indian" Schulte Has a Man-Sized Job in Front of Him if He Keeps Up Missouri Reputation

(Special to Collegian)

Columbia, Mo., Feb. 9.—The effect of the war is as noticeable in the track outlook as in every other phase of student life here. Last year the Tigers were at the head of track events; where they will be this year, is the difficult problem that Coach H. F. Schulte is attempting to solve. Fifty men are training now for track. Mr. Schulte says that there ought to be at least seventy-five men out practicing now. In former years, when he had his old men back as well as new men, he has had as high as 100 men out training for the meets.

Only Four Veterans Back

Of all the good material that Missouri had last year only four men are left. They are: J. V. Scholz, junior, who holds the Missouri Valley Conference record of the 100 yard dash and who was chosen on the all-American intercollegiate team; Radford Pittam, senior, who high jumps and runs the 440 yard; William Sylvester, junior, who pole vaults, and Tom Berry, senior, who puts the shot and throws the discus.

The other possible material is made up of green men. Those of most promise are: H. A. Mattingly, middle distance; C. M. Barkley, 440-yard; B. F. Edwards, who was half-back on the football team, 440-yard; P. J. Kramer, low hurdles; L. H. Albus, low hurdles; S. P. Locke, pole vault; J. F. Osborne, who is now playing basketball, high jump, and Clifford Blackburn, mile.

"This is a very small squad on which to begin," said Coach Schulte. "The good men of last year are in the service of our country."

Simpson an Officer.

Bob Simpson is in the army as Lieutenant. Grant Wyatt is also a Lieutenant in the army. Those in the officers' training camp are: Gentry Dagg, Earl Renick, C. O. Duncan and Jay Minton. Ray Bond is a Lieutenant in the army and Fred Gableman is a sergeant. Norris Rider and Joe Flint are in aviation service. The others, George Teas, C. O. Corwin and William Symons are also in the army. Don Selbie is teaching.

The schedule for track has not yet been announced, but Missouri may enter all or any of these: Kansas indoor meet at Kansas City in March, K. C. A. C. invitation meet at Kansas City about February 20. Out door meet with Kansas, Outdoor meet with Ames, Missouri Colley Conference in May, Western Conference meet, Pennsylvania relay, if held, Illinois relay, if held, and Drake relay.

DEATH OF DR. H. S. WILLARD.

Has Been in Business in Manhattan for Good Many Years.

Dr. H. S. Willard of 611 Houston street, and a prominent Manhattan business man, died at the Park View hospital about 2 Saturday afternoon. Death was due to erysipelas and a complication of other diseases.

Dr. Willard was born in September, 1867, and was reared in Kansas. He is survived by two brothers and one sister. The brothers are J. T. Willard, dean of the division of general science and acting president of the Kansas State Agricultural college, and the Rev. Sherman A. Willard of Neosho, Mo. The sister is Mrs. May Willard Emrick of Omaha, Neb.

Mr. Willard was head of the Willard Drug company of Manhattan and was also one of the owners of the Park View hospital. He has been in business in Manhattan for a good many years and is well known in Riley county.

IMPLEMENT INSPECTION WEEK TO BE HELD WEEK OF MAR. 1

The week of March 4, 1918, has been selected as the time when the farmers are requested to examine every farm implement they expect to use in the 1918 crop production, make out a list of repairs needed for their machinery and then place this list of repairs needed with implement dealers that he may send for the parts he does not have in stock. This in order that each machine may be put in working order before it is needed in the field. The week beginning March 4 is being advertised as the national farm implement inspection and repair week for the inspection of their farm machinery and in which all farmers are urged to co-operate.

ATHENIAN WON ORATORICAL

EARL TAYLOR WAS THE WINNING TALKER IN SATURDAY NIGHT'S CONTEST.

Gordon Hamilton was second and Miss Mary Dakin, third. Governor Capper was unable to preside and Doctor Willard took his place.

Picturing the struggle from the beginning of time by the masses for a more democratic form of government and the efforts made to overthrow autocracy, Earl Taylor, Athenian, won the eighteenth annual inter society oratorical contest Saturday night. Mr. Taylor's subject was "The Struggle for Democracy."

Gordon Hamilton, who represented the Hamilton Literary society, won second place with an oration on "Rural Reconstruction" and Miss Mary Dakin, Ionian, won third place. The subject of her oration was "Christianity in Crisis."

Taylor's Oration Strong.

Mr. Taylor will deliver his oration at the Missouri Valley Peace contest at Ames Saturday. He had a strong oration, which he presented forcefully.

Mr. Taylor has been prominent in dramatic work. He played the lead in "The Man from Home" and is a member of the Purple Masque, the Saddle and Siroin club; the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, Scabbard and Blade, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity. He also is a cadet major.

J. E. TAYLOR

Gordon Hamilton, junior in mechanical engineering, is a member of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. This was his first experience in any work of the kind.

All the Orations Good.

Miss Mary Dakin, senior in home economics, has appeared before the college public as a debater. She is a member of Zeta Kappa Psi, honorary women's debating fraternity, Omicron Nu, home economics honor society, Forum, a fornicia society and the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Every orator did his part well. Miss Helen Stuart was fourth. Miss Helen Mitchell and Merle Converse tied for fifth place and Ira Plank and B. Q. Shields tied for sixth.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Capper Governor Arthur Capper was unable to preside. J. T. Willard, acting president, introduced the speakers. Prof. M. F. Ahern had charge of the demonstrations before the contest. While the grades of the judges were being added, the inter society council presented a short original farce in which the Royal Purple beauties were portrayed taking treatment in a beauty parlor.

PLAN PROGRAMS FOR SOLDIERS.

Brownings to Entertain Men at Funston and Riley.

The Browning Literary society is planning a series of entertainments to be given at Y. M. C. A. houses at Fort Riley and Camp Funston, beginning immediately after Musical Festival week here.

The programs will consist of vocal and instrumental music, readings and plays. Two programs an evening will be given by the society until each Y. M. C. A. zone has been visited. Don L. Burk of the English department will coach the participants in the entertainments. Members of the Athenian Literary society will furnish parts

MORE JANITORS ARE NEEDED.

Students Willing to Work May Earn 25 Cents an Hour.

Several departments of the college employ energetic students who are willing to roll up their sleeves and "dig" into things. The custodian department is having difficulty in securing enough men to do the janitor work. "We employ nearly 50 men students in our department who do all the janitor work," said S. A. Geaume, head janitor. "The work is done before and after school, and most of it between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning and 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon."

The work at each building is in charge of the most experienced man, one who shows sufficient interest and ability to manage it. The men in charge receive 25 cents an hour, and the others 20 cents.

At present the department is short of help. When the short course students who are working leave, about 9 more men will be needed. Any student wanting work may obtain it if he is willing, according to Mr. Geaume.

HEAR EVERETT COLBY TODAY

Late last night arrangements were made with the Honorable Everett Colby, special American commissioner to France this winter, to address the students and townspeople at a special assembly at fourth hour today.

Mr. Colby is a dynamic speaker, and for the last five years has been a prominent national figure. Just back from the American sector in France, he will have a fund of information about our boys "over there."

The national council of defense and the United States food administration have arranged Mr. Colby's tour. Yesterday the Rev. Walter Burr found that Mr. Colby could appear here in the morning, and a special chapel has been called.

Mr. Colby's text will be, "What we can do to help our allies win the war."

Mr. Colby is appearing in the same series with Lieut. Paul Perigord, the brilliant Frenchman who addressed an overflowing auditorium late in January.

HOW COMMUNITIES SHOULD ACT.

College Pamphlet Tells of Neighborhood Action in War.

The rural service department of the division of extension recently has published a bulletin entitled "Community Action in a Government at War."

The bulletin has been issued to be used especially in connection with the war conference campaign to be conducted in the state March 3 to 10 by the United States Food administration in cooperation with the state council of defense.

The preparation of the bulletin was directed by the Rev. Walter Burr of the department who is secretary of the speakers' bureau of the council of defense.

TAKES PI KAPPA DELTA WORK.

Former Debater Was Pledged Last Year, But Not Initiated.

Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity, held initiation exercises on Saturday for C. W. Howard, former student of the college. He is teaching science and manual training at the Colby high school this year.

Mr. Howard was pledged to Pi Kappa Delta last year but left before the initiation. He was a member of the debate team that defeated the Kansas Normals last year.

OPENED THE BIG CAMPAIGN

HARRY WARD OF BOSTON SPOKE YESTERDAY AT CHAPEL ON "DEMOCRACY."

Enrollment of Students in the Christian World Democracy Campaign Began After the Session and Will Continue During This Week.

The Christian World Democracy campaign in this college began Monday when Harry F. Ward, professor of social service in the Boston Theological seminary department of Boston university, and one of the leaders in the national movement, spoke to the students during the chapel hour on the subject of "Democracy."

"This war means more than the overthrow of the Kaiser and the junkers of Germany," said Professor Ward. "It means the overthrow of the entire fatalistic group that has been guiding the affairs of Europe."

Kaiser Needs Overalls.

"Democracy means equality of privilege, and also equality of service. It would be a good thing to destroy the leader who started this war, but the best way, in my opinion, would be to put some overalls on him, and make him spend the rest of his days beneath the yoke of service."

"A dozen American citizens could be taken from a dozen different communities of this country, and if they were placed on the thrones of Europe, they could do a better job than any men who are there now."

"It was the idea of preparing the people of this country, through the students in the colleges, for the new citizenship that is to come after this war that the Christian World Democracy movement was started," he said. "It is planned to enroll 200,000 students in the nation for these classes in fundamental democracy. It is simply a discussion course, which will give the students not only a better understanding of the principles involved in this great war, but it will aid their judgment and their own future."

Classes Held Fridays.

Dr. J. R. MacArthur spoke briefly in outlining the work in this college. The classes will be held on Fridays in various buildings about the campus, under trained leaders. Many good leaders have volunteered their services. There will be classes during every hour of the day, which will give every student an opportunity to attend the classes one vacant hour. It is planned that there shall not be more than 15 students in each class, and each group will have a leader and a booster.

A large number of students enrolled after chapel hour Monday. The work will be carried on for further enrollment, and this will be done as the students enter the classes. The subjects to be discussed will be "Why We Are At War," and allied subjects. Posters will be placed about the campus during the next few days giving more specific information regarding class rooms and leaders. No text books or fees of any kind will be required.

"We want 100 per cent of the students enrolled in these classes," said Doctor MacArthur, who is leading the movement.

Details of next Friday's classwork will be printed in the next issue of The Collegian.

IONIANS WIN A BIG CUP.

Society Lead in Contest to Sell Festival Week Tickets.

A 10-inch loving cup has been presented by the Artist Series management to the Ionian Literary society, which was an easy winner in the ticket selling contest for Festival Week, conducted between the different literary societies last week. The Eurodelphians won second place and the Brownings were a close third. The Ionians had a $100 lead over the Eurodelphians.

To the winners of the contest there also went a commission of 8 per cent on all money collected. The society winning second place will be given a commission of 7 per cent and the other societies will be refunded 6 per cent of their sales.

Tickets for the Festival Week will be reserved at the Cooperative Book store and the downtown Palace Drug store Wednesday, March 6. Tickets are on sale today by members of the Ionian Literary society.

AGAIN WORLD'S CHAMPS COME.

White Sox to Play at Ogden—Giants Here Last Year.

The baseball champions of the world are coming! And in that aggregation are such stars as Eddie Collins, "Home Run" Schalk, "Buck" Weaver and the famous Cicotte who won the championship for the Chicago White Sox. Yes, they are all coming and with them will be Manager Rowland who is now drawing down the nest sum of $1,000 a week on the vaudeville stage.

An announcement has been made that the White Sox will appear at Ogden in two exhibition games sometime in April, after they have completed their spring training in the south. Definite dates have not been decided on but it is thought that the diamond stars will appear about April 11 and 12. Last spring the New York Giants, champions of the National league, appeared on Ahern field and this spring their victorious rivals, the Chicago White Sox, will appear as world's champions.

AGGIE RUNNERS WERE FAST

Foreman and Evans Won Seconds in K. C. A. C. Meet.

Kansas Aggie tracksters returned with honors from the K. C. A. C. invitation meet at Kansas City Saturday. Jack Evans and Foreman starred.

Foreman, pitted against Jole Ray, professional, showed the spectators a run for their money. The lanky long distance man lead Ray for four of the twelve laps. Here the Ray endurance began to tell and the Chicagoan passed the Aggie. But Foreman kept on, and won second place, which was first place as far as valley athletes were concerned. Ray's time was 5:29 minutes. Eggerman finished fourth in this event.

Evans took second to Scholz of Missouri. International collegiate champion, in the 50-yard dash, Scholz was away to a yard lead at the start, but Evans was a scant foot behind at the finish.

Frost tied for third in the pole-vault, making 10 feet 3 inches, but failing to clear the bar at 10 feet 11 inches. Price, freshman, finished in the 1,000 yards, and was close to the leaders.

Neely's failure to win the 440 yard dash, which went in 55.35 seconds, was explained yesterday by "German" Schulz. The Aggie speedster, who is capable of much faster time than won the event, drew the last number in the placing, and was in the third row at the start. The track was so clogged with runners that the freshman quarter-mile didn't have a chance of wading through to first place.

KEITH KINYON IS A JUDGE!

As Judge-Advocate, Aggie Man Tries Cases.

Lieut. Keith Kinyon, who was in school last year, has written in reply to Dean J. T. Willard's Christmas letter, and gives an account of the work of a Marine officer.

Lieutenant Kinyon joined the battleship Utah October of last year. His work is that of second chief of the censor board and judge-advocate of the general court martial. He says the censor's work is the hardest since so many of the men put military information into their letters, but the court martial work is interesting. Although he had to spend much time on military and naval law at first, he has recently finished trying his eighth case.

FIVE C. E. MEN ARE OVERSEAS.

Department Probably Has the Most Representatives in Foreign Service.

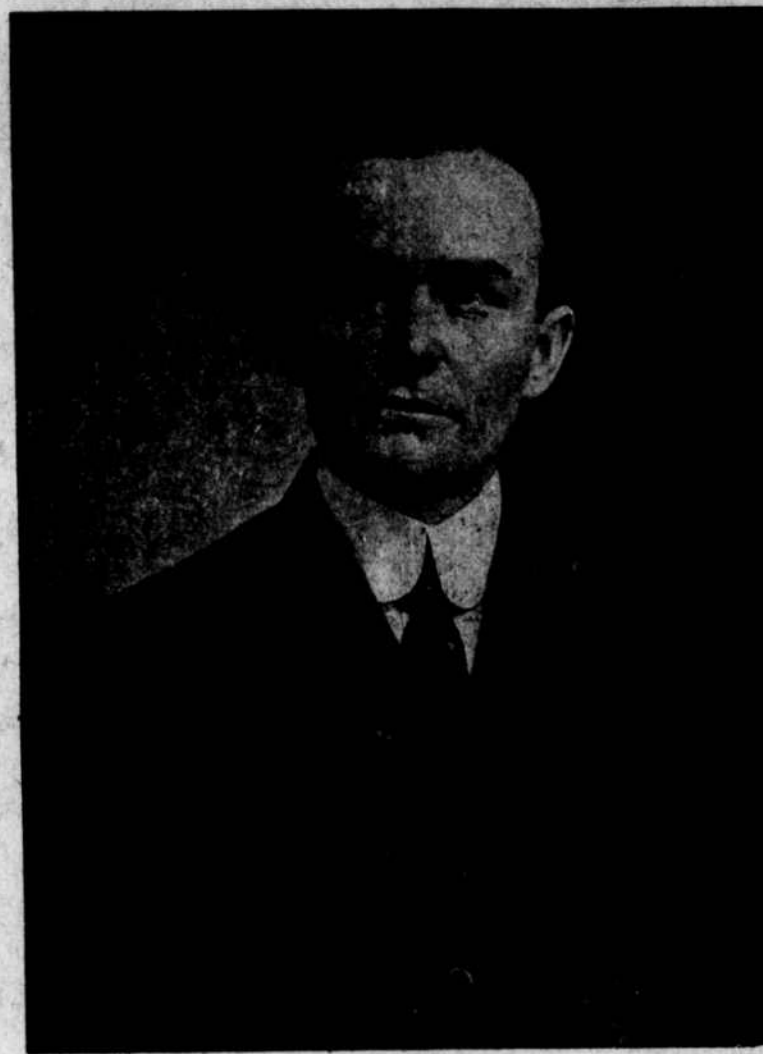

According to the best available information at present the civil engineering department has five representatives in France. They are W. E. Comfort, '14, Harold Thackeray, '14, G. A. Hopp, '15, Wayne Ramago, '16, and L. D. Rees, senior in civil engineering. This is probably the greatest number of representatives from any department of the college.

MAY TAKE COLLEGE TRACTORS.

Demand on Farm May Deplete College Supply.

Because of the urgent demand for tractors, by farmers, the 10-20 Titan tractor that has been loaned to the traction engines department, has been taken away and W. H. Sanders, head of the traction engines department, believes this is the forerunner of what is bound to occur in the case of the remaining tractors in the college laboratory.

NEW AGGIE HEAD GREETES FACULTY AND STUDENTS

To the Faculty and Students of the Kansas State Agricultural College:

In the eight years that I have been with the Kansas State Agricultural College, the deepest impression I have gained is of the cordial cooperation, abiding loyalty, and fine team work of faculty and student body in every avenue and activity of college life. It is the essence of these qualities—good will—which has made possible the honor which has been bestowed upon me. I want to take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the trust and confidence which the faculty and student body have manifested in me. It will always be my endeavor to so conduct the affairs of the institution as to merit a continuance of that trust and confidence. All working together, we can maintain the prestige which the Kansas State Agricultural College gained under the wise guidance of Doctor Waters and make it an ever increasing power in upbuilding the agriculture and citizenship of the state.

EXPLAINS THE NAVY'S PLAN

RECRUITING OFFICER TELLS HOW ENGINEERS MAY ENLIST

Students May Join Naval Reserve, and They Will Then Be Allowed to Complete Studies

The rulings regarding students who wish to enroll on the United States Reserve Force and finish their college course before entering the service have been rec'd by the division of engineering from Lieut. H. B. Campbell, recruiting officer.

In order to insure the future engineering men of the navy, the navy department desires to enroll undergraduate students of technical universities in the naval reserve force, according to Lieutenant Campbell.

The department therefore directs that any undergraduate between 18 and 21 years of age, who is actually taking a technical course at a technical university and physically qualified may be enrolled in a naval reserve class 4 for a general service, as seamen second class.

These undergraduates will not be called to active duty until they have graduated, except in case of great emergency the department at present does not foresee. No promise of commission will be given these undergraduates, and when graduated and called to active service they will be re-rated according to their ability, and requirements of the service. It is reasonable to expect, however, that students so enrolled, will be given an opportunity to qualify for commissions in the naval reserve force.

Men wishing to enroll in the United States naval reserve force under the foregoing provisions, should apply in person, or by letter to the Navy Recruiting station, 200 Gumbel building, Eighth and Walnut streets, Kansas City, Mo.

Before applying for enrollment students should procure the following statement from the dean of their college:

"This is to certify that is now a student in good standing in the course at the college or university; that he is in the year of his course; and that his work has been such that he will probably receive the degree of about 19....

SELLS A SHORT STORY.

H. A. Moore Author of "The Plain Cure for Bill Grover."

H. A. Moore, sophomore in industrial journalism, has sold a short story, "The Plain Cure for Bill Grover," to the Chicago Ledger. Last fall Mr. Moore placed a story with the Youth's Companion.

This is the first story written by Mr. Moore. After writing it he would have thrown it away if Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, had not urged him to continue.

It is a western story and deals with romance mixed with adventure. The story is 5,000 words in length.

WINTER EXCEPTIONALLY DRY

Not Since 1869-70 Has so Little Moisture Fallen.

The temperature for the month of February was about the average for that month according to J. O. Hamilton, professor of physics, who is in charge of the weather bureau of the college. The maximum temperature for the month was 50.25 degrees and the mean minimum was 18.3 degrees. According to the records kept at the college, the average maximum temperature for the last 60 years is 42.5 degrees. February of this year was therefore 4.5 degrees above normal.

The highest temperature for the month was 80, on February 23, and the lowest was 14 below on February 1. The report also shows that a majority of February days were clear as there were 19 clear days and only four cloudy and five partly cloudy days.

The precipitation for the month was .52 inches, which is .63 below the average. The rainfall for the last six months was only 4.06 inches, which is the smallest on record since a corresponding period in 1869-1870 when the records show that only 4.2 inches fell.

There were 22 days of the winter with temperature at or below zero which equals a record for the winter of 1884-1885.

Glen Davis left last night for his home in Lenore after a visit with friends.

KANSAS SHOWED THE PUNCH

JAYHAWKERS OVERCAME A BIG AGGIE LEAD IN SHORT SPURT AND WON, 35 TO 33

After Clevelander Men Apparently Had "Lined a One-Sided Victory, Visitors Began a Dash That Aggie Guards Could Not Halt, and the Game Was Lost

Playing in the most miserable form they have shown this season, the Kansas Aggies allowed the Kansas Jayhawkers to overcome a 14 point lead in the second half, and triumph over them with a score of 35 to 33. The rush of the Jayhawker team was a surprise to everyone, but the Aggie guards seemed unable to cope with the spurt, and scored only three points while the Hawks were gathering 19.

The whole game was listless and haphazard, neither team showing any real basketball form. Both teams were up in the air most of the time, both the guarding and passing being poor. The fact that Miller of K. U. made seven baskets in the last half, all of them from near the middle of the court, proves that the K. U. spurt was mainly luck.

Aggies Were Off Form.

The playing of the Aggies was a surprise to the Purple followers. The team was only a shadow of the team that went down fighting until the last before the onslaught of the Missouri Tigers last week. Captain Van Trine starred for the Aggies, scoring six baskets, most of them from difficult angles, and playing a good game on the floor. The Aggies were playing a hard game, but all their effort seemed misplaced, and most of the running around the floor resulted in no good. All of the men showed a tendency to overrun their man when guarding, and this resulted in several Kansas baskets.

Neither Johnny Clarke nor "Hots" Hinds played the guarding game as is capable of, and the loose guarding thrown about, Miller was the deciding factor in the game. Bill Whedon, a good fast game, scoring five goals.

"Shorty" Foltz played well for his first appearance in starting a game, but although he plays a speedy on the floor, he did not fit in with the team work as did Ben Hinds. Ben Hinds, who was out of the game with a bad shoulder he received in the Missouri game, was badly needed.

The first half was the Aggies all the way. K. U. never had a chance hardly to score a basket. Van Trine with four goals, Whedon with three, Clarke with two, and Foltz with three free throws gave the Aggies a total of 21 points to 10 for K. U.

Started Off Strong

In the second half, the Aggies again started off with a spurt, and soon had the score 30 to 16. With ten minutes to play, the Jayhawkers started their remarkable spurt, which the Aggies were unable to stop. With the score at 30 to 16, Miller scored a field goal. Mathews followed with two more. Then Miller came back and in the remainder of the game, succeeded in scoring five more goals. During this time the Aggies were able to score but three points, a goal by Whedon, and a free throw by Van Trine which was made just as the gun was fired.

Credit must be given to the K. U. team for their remarkable spurt, due mostly to the uncanny ability of Miller to hit the basket from mid-field. The two features of K. U.'s playing were the goal shooting of Miller, and the rough playing of "Scrubby" Laslett.

TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 1918.

IT WASN'T SO BAD.

The Aggies are second placers in the Missouri valley championship race. Which isn't so bad considering.

Missouri is in first place. But the conditions at Columbia and at Manhattan show that Clevenger has done more with the Aggies than the high-touted Doctor Meanwell has accomplished with the Tigers.

Here is the evidence. Missouri had three regulars, and a substitute left from last year's quintet, which was nearly as good as there was in the valley. Clevenger had but one regular and one substitute.

But the difference does not end there. Meanwell, with but one hole in his team to fill, had 1917 freshman stars aplenty. Wackher was one of them, and proved to be the fifth man.
What did Clevenger profit from his freshman stars of the year before?
Only "Heinie" Hinds, for none of the other first string men were out. Most of them were in military service.

And that brings up still another point. Only one of last year's Tigers was graduated. Two of Clevenger's men were. Only Viner of the regulars due to return entered military service. Both Wells and Fullington of the Aggies deserted the indoor court for the battle with the boche.

Clevenger was forced to persuade two athletes who had played on none of his teams the year before, to try out this year. Each member of Tiger five practically was picked early in the season.

Missouri may proclaim that it was the short pass that won. But Kansas Aggies believe with his last year's freshman and varsity material back,

Clevenger might have forced the Wisconsin style of basketball to bow to the smooth, versatile playing of the Purple.

Did you sign up yesterday for one mocracy? It's a worthwhile movement, and you worthwhiles should

A REAL OPPORTUNITY.

"Complete your college education, army man, and then join Uncle Sam's forces."

That is the gist of the advice the country's greatest men have been giving the college student. And that's why we are here, when many of the nation's strongest and best young men are training for "over there." College educations will be needed after
the war.

The navy offers to enlist engineering students in the naval reserve, and allow them to return to complete their studies. The opportunity will be grasped by those wide enough awake to realize that draft may do away with their quizzes, studies and dances.

The college man is a patriot as long as he attends college, and does his work well. But that kind of patriotism is at an end just as soon as his education is at an end, and he should look forward to military service.

Spring Poem No. 4.

Defiance.

Ho! Winds of March, come on and blow,
Bring on your fitful gusts of snow,
Trot out your pleurisy and woe,
We'll take you as you come and go.
Ha! Ha! O Winds of March! Ho! Ho!
—Lucy Wonder.

We see by th' papers that a minister 101 years of age has derived great benefit this winter from shoveling snow off the sidewalks in his neighborhood. This should be brought to the attention of other superannuated ministers, of women who refuse to do any work about the house, and of all others who are interested in seeing the downtrodden American husband do it.

Learning to Knit.

My good wife is learning to knit, to knit,

It's solemn to sit near by,
And look, as she frets in a panicky fit,

At the blood in her loving eye.

Knit, knit, lickity split.

Bound and determined to finish
her bit,

Casting and purling, disdaining
to quit,

My good wife is learning to knit.

My good wife is learning to knit, to
knit,

Our home's in an awful mess;

I've had nothing to eat since the knitting craze hit,

And I won't have, either, I guess.

Knit, knit, doing her bit,

Nothing to eat till she comes out of it—

Was ever a fellow so pesky hard hit?

My good wife is learning to knit.

BY THE WAY—

Who is the sophisticated sophomore who sedately struts along with the air of self-satisfied superiority? Yes, we know you have a few responsibilities placed upon your shoulders but for heaven's sake, just be human, that's all we ask.

Have the Pi Phis ever discovered who stole their letters from the front porch some time ago?

Did you happen to notice the cadet captain who was down town Saturday afternoon attired in the dull regulation army captain's insignia? Evidently he thought it some sport to have regular army men of all ranks saluting him.

It might be well at this point to tell the purpose of this column. The writer is not going to try to "bawl" anyone out or to get anyone in bad. That is far from the column's purpose. We think however that there are certain things being done here that should be aired and there are also certain items that are overlooked from time to time which, if published, might add a little to the humorous side of our education. It is with this purpose in mind that these few items will appear from time to time. Perhaps not in every issue, but occasionally.

So if at any time some of these little squibs hit you, take 'em easy for we are perfectly harmless.

What has become of the freshman caps? Why not start the ball rolling again?

Have you noticed how certain school of ag "youngsters" are helping to mar the campus by taking a short cut across from the main walk over towards the Hort. building. A treatment or two by the old paddle brigade should cure them of this practice.

There is a certain freshman who apparently suffers from lack of sleep. The other day the instructor was explaining a worn out theory and during the process the C. F. dropped off in his afternoon siesta. His next door neighbor, having a mild sense of humor, dropped a piece of chalk in the c. f.'s mouth. He coughed, the piece of chalk was sent across the room with no little force but—the c. f. slept on.

Going back a week—Malc. claims the sombrero used in the Pi Phi stunt cost him $20.

When are the B. T. Ps. going to take the cannons back where they belong?

Who gave the order, "Eyes Right" at drill yesterday when a certain young lady was coming up the south walk towards the auditorium? Shame on you Joe!

Did you ever notice how certain Vets always get out their Horseshoe as soon as they get to the edge of the campus?

The Topeka Capital appeared Sunday with a squib about the women's edition. Congratulations, fair ones! That's more than the men usually get.

"Cap" Sanders Addressed Meetings Held Last Week.

A series of tractor schools were held at Marion, Manhattan, Emporia, and Abilene, under the auspices of the International Harvester company. W. H. Sanders, head of the traction engines department, addressed the meetings. At Abilene and at Emporia an attempt was made to interest the young men as well as the men of the high schools in qualifying as operators of tractors. Because of the serious shortage of farm labor, the tractor is becoming one of the most important factors of farm life.

THANKS GIRLS FOR TOWELS.

Funston Hostess House Director Praises Aggie Co-eds.

A letter of appreciation for the guest towels made by School of Agriculture girls and presented to the Hostess House at Camp Funston has been received by Mrs. Beatie Birdsall, professor of domestic art. This is what it says:

"The personnel of the Hostess House wishes to thank the members of Sewing class of the School of Agriculture for their very kind gift. The towels were much needed and will be most useful. With grateful appreciation, believe me,

Very sincerely yours,
KATHARINE McC. WINN.

The towels were made as a problem in sewing under the instruction of Mrs. Louise Wirt, the girls furnishing the material as their part of the gift.

TAYLOR TO AMES FRIDAY.

Oratorical Winner Is Aggie Man in Valley Contest.

Earl Taylor, representing the college in the annual Missouri valley oratorical contest, will leave with O. H. Burns, head of the public speaking department, Thursday morning for Ames, Iowa, where the contest will be held Friday evening.

Ten schools of the Missouri valley are represented in this contest. The prizes this year are as follows: first prize, a gold medal and $100 dollars; second prize, a silver medal and $50; and third prize, a bronze medal and $25.

Mr. Taylor won first place for the Athenians in the Inter-society contest held Saturday evening in the auditorium.

A FAMOUS SOPRANO BILLED

MRS. MARGARET LESTER OF CHICAGO COMING MARCH 11.

Soloist Who Will Appear in Festival Week Program is a Kansan.

Mrs. Margaret Lester, who will give a song recital Monday night, March 11, as the second number of the Festival Week program, is one of the most famous of the young American sopranos, and is a native of this state, her home town being Hutchinson.

Mrs. Lester received her first musical training in Hutchinson, and later sang on the Chautauqua circuit with a ladies' quartet. From her work in the Chautauqua, she went to Chicago, and while there studied under eminent teachers. While in that city she met her husband, Mr. William Lester, composer of the religious "The Golden Syon," to be given as the first number of the week, Sunday, March 10.

Mrs. Lester later became, and still holds the position of soprano soloist in the McCabe Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, one of the largest churches of Chicago. Mrs. Lester is known over all the country for her concert and recital work, and also for here joint recitals with her husband.

Floyd Work has Role left Vacant by Frances Hill.

The place on the cast of "Under Cover," left vacant by Frances Hill, who has joined the aviation corps, has been filled by Floyd Work, sophomore in mechanical engineering. Mr. Work will be remembered for his clever impersonation of the police court judge in "The Man on the Box."

DEAN VAN ZILE BACK FROM EAST.

But Home Economics Head Leaves Thursday for Hutchinson.

Mrs. Mary P. VanZile, dean of the division of home economics, returned Friday from an extensive eastern trip. Mrs. Van Zile will speak at Hutchinson Thursday, before the annual meeting of the Rotary clubs, and at El Dorado Friday before the war council.

TELLS OF TRIP INTO NORTH.

Doctor Tanquary was Member of the Crockerland Expedition.

Dr. M. C. Tanquary of the department of entomology is making the rounds of the ten Y. M. C. A. zones at Camp Funston with a lecture on his experiences in the Crockerland polar expedition. He is illustrating his lecture with colored slides.

the recital. Her voice is exceptionally well fitted for concert work, and all of her songs are marked with a smoothness of tone quality, and deep emotional feeling.

The numbers for the recital are well chosen, and will give Mrs. Lester a chance to show her real ability as an artist.

Another number of the week that will be of unusual interest to the students is the Glee club concert, given Wednesday evening, March 13.

Men Singers Have Enlisted.

The men's glee club has been hard hit lately because of the men leaving school to enter into the service. It is so serious that the glee club has become almost depleted. Although the number that have gone is large, the remaining members are perfectly capable of putting on a finished concert. Their part will consist of a group of six good songs and a number of popular airs.

The girls' glee club will sing one group of songs, and then give a cantata, arranged from Tennyson's poem, "The Lady of Shalott" set to music by Bendall. Miss Bess Curry, a student in the music department, will sing the solo selections in the cantata, and in the same program will sing the ever popular soprano aria, "One Fine Day" from Madame Butterfly.

TICKETS ON SALE TOMORROW

Festival Week Seats to Be Reserved at Two Stores

Reserved seats to the second annual Festival Week will be on sale tomorrow at the Cooperative Book Store and downtown Palace Drug Store. Those who have purchased exchange tickets should trade them for reserved seat tickets.

The Festival Week this year is to be larger and better than ever, and at the same price as before. This is the event of the college year in music and dramatics and is always looked forward to. The performers are now busy in preparing themselves for their parts. In addition to local talent, which puts on an opera, a play, an orchestra concert, etc., there will be Oscar Seagle of New York, said to be America's greatest baritone, and Mrs. Margaret Lester of Chicago, a soprano, who will give a song recital.

Those who attended the Festival Week last year will need no encouragement to go again this year. The splendid entertainment offered, coupled with the extremely low price, should attract all who enjoy music and dramatics. All the performances are under the direction of Prof. A. E. Westbrook, head of the department of music.

AGGIES CAME BACK AT K. U.

HAMILTON MEN FAILED TO REPEAT WONDERFUL SPURT IN 25 TO 32 GAME

Purple Five Took the Lead after a Few Minutes of Play and the Visitors Never Threatened—Captain Van Trine the Big Star in His Final Game Here.

Playing in their old fighting form, the Aggie Wildcats came back and walloped the Jayhawk bird in the second game of the series, by a score of 32 to 25. It was the last game of the season on the home court and the team left its supporters convinced of the ability of the Purple basketballers to overcome slumps and win back any prestige that they might lose.

The first half of the game was much like the first half of the first game. The Aggies got the jump on the K. U. team, and started out to get a safe lead at the very first.

Captain Van Trine started the scoring with a free throw for the Aggies. K. U. was fighting hard, though, and the score was knotted at 4 to 4 for several minutes of hard fighting. Then Van tossed a basket and caged a free throw, making the score 7 to 4. Miller threw two goals in quick order, giving the Jayhawkers a lead of 8 to 7. This was the last time in the game that K. U. was near the Aggies. Van seemed to find himself about this time, and his five field goals, together with a few free throws and a goal by Bill Whedon, gave the Aggies a lead of 21 to 13 for the first half.

Second Half Easier

In the second half, the Crimson and Blue men played a faster game, and held the Aggies down to some extent. The playing was exciting, with some real flashes of basketball that were not seen in the first game. The scoring was nearly even, the Aggies scoring 11 to 12 for K. U. The final count resulted in an Aggie victory of 32 to 25.

"Scrubby" Laslett, Jayhawk right guard, was put out of the game in the second half. Laslett was fouled by Quigley for holding. Then Laslett, who became greatly angered because Quigley had seen him foul, struck at the referee. Quigley stopped the game and called for a substitute for Laslett. Coach Hamilton wanted to play the game with four men, but finally sent Rice in to take Laslett's place.

Purple Showed Improvement

The Aggies played well in every department of the game, with Van Trine showing up as the individual star. The Aggie leader played the best game of the season on the local court. He caged eight goals from the field, and made six out of 10 free throws. His floor work was excellent, and his passing of the ball was accurate and fast. Heinle Hinds, Whedon and Clarke all played well. Bill Whedon getting four goals and playing a good guarding game as well.

Blair, who went in for Ben Hinds, played an unusually good game for his first appearance. Although he was a little wild at times, he stuck to Miller all through the game, and it was his guarding that held the K. U. forward to four goals.

The result of Tuesday night's game gave the Aggies a clinch on second place, and a confidence in their recuperative abilities. The Aggie students are proud of the team that Cleveland has built out of green material, and according to their dope, Nebraska will donate a couple of games this week end to help the percentage of the Aggie score column.

QUARTET PROGRAM AT FUNSTON.

Brownings to Entertain Sunday at Hostess House.

A quartet from the Browning Literary society will sing at the hostess house at Camp Funston Sunday evening. Miss Lucile Carey, Miss Vera Samuel, Miss Fleda Dowthit, and Miss Lee Winter compose the quartet and Miss Margaret Etzold will accompany them. Miss Fleda Dowthit will furnish instrumental music as part of the program.

BETAS WERE NOT AT FAULT.

Members of Fraternity Did not Move Cannon, Member Asserts.

Denial that members of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity moved the artillery pieces from in front of Nichols symposium to positions in front of the Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pi Beta Phi houses was made by a member of the fraternity yesterday.

Friday morning the cannon, which were loaned to the college by the war department, were found on the lawns of the two sorority houses, with each piece trained on the other.

HIGHS IN A BIG TOURNAMENT

Championship of Fifth District at Stake This Week.

The Fifth district high school basketball tournament will be held at the college gymnasium Friday and Saturday of this week. This is the annual high school tournament which has been held in Manhattan the last three years. The basketball season in the Fifth district closes with this tournament.

All of the best teams in the Kaw, Solomon and Blue valleys have entered and the competition will be very keen. The winners of this tournament will be the champions of the Fifth district and will represent this district at the state high school tournament held at Lawrence on March 22 and 23.

Of the high schools which have entered, the honors are believed to lie between four schools—Manhattan, Minneapolis, Solomon and Clay Center. Comparative scores of this season's games show these teams to be of practically equal strength and the championship will not be easily won. So far about 10 teams have announced their intention of entering. These include Manhattan, Minneapolis, Solomon, Clay Center, Riley, Chapman, Washington, Marysville, Belleville and Clyde. It is expected that one or more teams will enter at the time of the tournament.

The physical education department of K. S. A. C. will offer a loving cup for the champion team.

This year the tournament is held under the direction of the athletic department of the Manhattan high school.

WEDNESDAY WORKERS ARE BEST.

Make More Dressings and Have Highest Attendance.

The Wednesday afternoon section of the Red Cross shows the highest record for attendance and for the number of dressings completed so far this week.

Monday afternoon, 32 girls were present and 754 dressings were completed; Tuesday morning (short period) 13 workers, 250 dressings; Tuesday afternoon, 17 workers, 379 dressings; Wednesday morning, 18 workers, 738 dressings; Wednesday afternoon, 38 workers, 825 dressings. Girls who are employed in the library are giving time at the Red Cross room during the day and making up lost time at the library in the evening.

10. SOPHS PRESENT PROGRAM

Society Has Presented Hamps with a Service Flag

The sophomore girls of the Ionia Literary society will give the program Saturday. The meeting will be held at 3 o'clock in the Hamp-Ionia hall in Nichols gymnasium. The Ionia girls have presented the Hamiltons with a service flag containing 60 stars. The Ionia girls sold $150 worth of festival tickets Tuesday on a 10 per cent commission.

Ralph Snyder spent several days last week in Manhattan visiting friends. Mr. Snyder was a student in the school of agriculture last spring term.

TRAIN DRAFTED MEN HERE

SELECTIVES ASSIGNED TO AVIATION BRANCH TO BE GIVEN ENGINEERING COURSE.

At Least 100 Soldiers Will be Stationed Here, Under the Present Plan—May be Billeted in Nichols Gymnasium and Fed at Cafeteria.

At least 100 drafted men who have been assigned to the airplane assembling work of the United States army probably will be in training in the college shops within a month. College authorities have been requested by the war department to give courses in blacksmithing, machine shop, cabinet making and possibly in foundry.

The original request made by the army was that men be instructed in the first three courses named above. Then the visiting officers saw the excellent facilities available for foundry work here, and decided that part of the men sent would be given training in that department.

At Other Colleges, Too.

The move of the war department in asking the college to train a quota of the large army of airplane mechanics and helpers is in line with its policy with other institutions. The University of Kansas also has been asked to take care of a quota of the workers. All costs are to be paid by the war department.

Housing facilities were a drawback to the plan of sending a large quota here but that has been overcome. The college has offered the use of the main floor of Nichols gymnasium as a camp for the men, and the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium also has been offered. The soldiers probably will be fed at the college cafeteria. An army officer will be in charge of the detail, which will be under army discipline all the time. They will work eight hours a day.

Three Shifts Coming.

Extra facilities are needed to care for the work, according to Dr. J. T. Willard, acting president. New instructors probably will be secured, and some new equipment is to be purchased.

The first quota may be sent any time between March 15 and April 1 and will be here for eight weeks. Three quotas, each to train for two months, will be sent here under the present plan. The men all will have been graduated from their courses by the middle of October, it is thought.

BIG ETCHING EXHIBIT COMING

Roulier Galleries and Professor Baker to Show Masterpiece

An etching exhibit consisting of a representative collection of original etchings from the Albert Roulier Galleries of Chicago and a private collection of C. F. Baker, professor of architecture, will be held in the rooms of the architectural department on afternoons, March 11 to 23.

The exhibit includes the work of such masters as Rembrandt, Whistler, Zorn, and McLaughlin as well as that of contemporary artists.

On Tuesday afternoons, March 12 and 19, at 4 o'clock in Room 57 of the engineering building, Professor Baker will give an informal talk on "Etchings and How They Are Made."

Saturday afternoon, the faculty of the department will open the exhibit by a private view and tea in honor of Mrs. H. J. Waters.

"It is unusual for such a collection to be brought outside of a great city," said Professor Baker, "and the students and people of Manhattan should not fail to take advantage of the opportunity to see the excellent exhibit."

Etching although a very old art has during the last generation aroused much interest among artists and people of artistic tastes. Art museums constantly giving more space to this form of art and the greatest artists are again turning to it as one of the best forms of composition.

The Engineering Boys Not Guilty of Working Themselves to Death

A good looking and attractively dressed young lady paid a visit to the office of Dean A. A. Potter.

"Good morning, Dean Potter," she said, "I have a very important matter I would like your advice on."

"I shall be very happy indeed to give any advice or help that is within my power, I assure you," replied the dean in a cordial manner.

"The thing that is troubling me is this—I was married last summer to one of your engineering boys here," began the young lady.

"Surely that is a matter for congratulation rather than advice," broke in the dean with a smile.

"But that is not all there is to it. He had enlisted just before we were married and is now over at Camp Funston."

"Again I say that is a subject for congratulation," interrupted the dean. "I just read in the paper last night that the government is going to allow the engineering students who hadn't finished their courses to come back to college to complete them," went on the lady.

"Yes, that is true," replied the dean. "The students who had records above the average when they entered military service, will be allowed to return."

"Then let me ask you, Dean Potter, if my husband should return, will you let that $10,000 insurance which my husband took out this winter if anything should happen to him?"

The dean gasped and stared bewildered at her. The effrontery or ignorance whichever it was, seemed astounding.

Regaining his breath the dean proceeded, "I am sorry, my dear young lady, you can collect that insurance only upon the death of your husband and while a number of scholastic fatalities occur every semester among our students I have never heard of one of the engineering boys working himself to death."

UP TO AZTEX AND SIGMA NU

Two Fraternity Teams are Tied in Pan-Hellenic Race.

The championship of the inter-fraternity league now lies between the Aztex and the Sigma Nus. Both teams defeated the Sigma Alpha Epsilons in games played this week. The three fraternity fives were in a triple tie for first place when the schedule closed last month.

The Sig Alphas held the Sigma Nus to a 5 to 6 count at the end of the first half in last night's game with the Sigma Nus, but Anderson of the latter found the basket with regularity in the final period and the game ended with the count 20 to 7 in favor of the Sigma Nu quintet.

The Aztex and the Sig Alphas battled fiercely Wednesday evening, the Aztex finally winning at the end of a five-minute playoff period, 13 to 12. The Aztex held a one-point lead at the end of the first half but in the final period the Sig Alphas ran the score to 10-10.

The Aztex and Sigma Nus each have won six games and lost one.

SICKNESS ON THE DECREASE

Short Courses May Be the Cause, Doctor Slevier Thinks.

C. M. Slevier, college physician, reports that he misses the short course boys. The office calls have increased on this account but as yet Doctor Slevier is not able to determine definitely whether general sickness is lessening or on the increase. The number of house calls continue about the same.

CAPTAIN SEATON IS ASSIGNED

Work Is to Deal with Artillery Ammunition.

Captain R. A. Seaton, formerly professor in applied mechanics and machine design, has been assigned to the artillery ammunition section, of the engineering bureau, ordnance department in the reserve corps. He will have part charge of experimental and research work on artillery ammunition for the war department.

WEEK OF MUSIC AND DRAMA

GOLDEN SYON SUNDAY WILL OPEN SECOND ANNUAL FESTIVAL PERIOD.

Balanced Program, With Oscar Seagle, Prominent Baritone, as a Feature, Will be Presented to Lovers of Fine Arts—Four All-Student Numbers.

THE WEEK'S PROGRAM

Sunday—The Golden Syon.
Monday—Recital, Mrs. Margaret Lester of Chicago.
Tuesday—Concert by College Orchestra.
Wednesday—Men's and Women's glee clubs.
Thursday—Piano recital by Miss Elsie Smith, and song cycle by faculty quartet.
Friday—Comic opera, "Sergeant Kitty."
Saturday—Drama, "Under Cover."
Sunday—Recital by Oscar Seagle.

Festival Week—K. S. A. C.'s great feast of music and drama—begins this week. The Golden Syon, a cantata, will be given Sunday, and after that there are recitals, concerts, and dramas until the following Sunday, when the Oscar Seagle recital will close the second annual program.

The number for Sunday will be one of the best during the week. The soloist has all had experience on the public platform, and are well able to render the difficult parts in the cantata. The cantata is religious in nature, and although this is the first production of it, critics who have heard the score, rank it high in musical worth. The choruses of Randolph and Clay Center will also take part in the production, along with the chorus of the college. The different choruses have been working on the cantata for about a month, and they have worked around into splendid shape under the direction of A. E. Westbrook, director of music.

Mrs. Margaret Lester, who is to give a recital Monday night, has had much experience on the concert platforms of this country, and is well known in musical circles as an artist of exceptional ability. Mrs. Lester is a native of Kansas, having been born in Hutchinson. After moving from Hutchinson, Mrs. Lester went to Chicago, where she studied under eminent teachers of voice.

ANY ENGINEERS MAY ENROL

Whether or Not He Is Drafted Does Not Count in Navy

Engineering students whether of draft age or not may be enrolled in the naval reserve corps and will not be called to active service until graduation, according to the information received by the division of engineering this week from the United States navy.

This enlistment is only for the period of the war and the students will have an opportunity of continuing their college work until graduation. The authorities in writing of this matter state that after graduation these men will be given an examination and be classified, according to their ability. This gives the engineering students an opportunity to win a commission.

ATTEND MEETING AT WOODSON.

Professor Call Talks on the Seed Situation.

L. E. Call, professor of agronomy and E. E. Frizell, state labor administrator, attended a demonstration at Woodson Monday in which a new labor saving type of header large was shown to 200 farmers.

The seed situation was discussed by Professor Call and the labor question by Mr. Frizell at this meeting and also at a meeting at Hays on Tuesday.

No Quill Meeting.

Quill club will not meet Monday night on account of the Festival Week attractions.

Lieut. E. E. Dale, who held a fellowship in the horticultural department last year, visited in Manhattan this week. Lieutenant Dale is located at Camp Funston and has been home on a sick leave.

A SOCIETY EDITOR TO TALK.

Miss Memstead of Topeka State Journal Coming Monday.

Miss Bertha Memstead, society editor for the Topeka State Journal, will talk to journalism students in seminar Monday. Miss Memstead has been society editor of the Topeka State Journal for the past seven years and is recognized throughout the state as being a most efficient reporter. Her column contains many short stories that are full of human interest.

Those ranking above fourth will receive gold, silver and bronze medals while the first ten will all receive ribbons in their order of rank.

The names of the donors of the cups will be announced as soon as all have been heard from.

IN CORNHUSKERVILLE TODAY

Aggie Varsity and Freshmen to Play Nebraska Quintets.

Two more victories in the games with Nebraska Friday and Saturday night, and the Aggies will close a successful season in basketball. The Nebraska team has not shown much in the basketball line this year, having lost twice to Missouri, once to Kansas, and split with Drake.

The Aggies are going good now, having recovered from their defeats at the hands of the Tigers and the one ragged game that the Jayhawkers succeeded in coping. The only thing that will hinder the Aggies from winning both of the games will be the Nebraska court. The court at Lincoln is small and altogether unlike the large Nichols floor. The long shot game of the Aggies will keep them from having to work the ball down to the goal, and thus the Husker guards will not have a chance to smother them.

Another important feature of this trip will be two games between the Aggie freshman team and the Nebraska freshman team. This is an innovation. Heretofore, the freshman teams have simply been worked hard and long with no reward, and therefore have had little incentive to come out. Now there will be something to look forward to, and something to work for all season.

According to Aggie dope, these two games will simply mean more glory for the Aggies, for there is not a freshman team in the valley that can match the Aggie yearlings. All those who have seen this years freshman in action say that with something to fight for, they could whip the varsity. Of course, this is an exaggeration, but it will give an idea of the strength of the yearling aggregation. "Germany" Schulz, freshman coach, has picked the following freshmen for the trip: Bunker, Youngmeyer, Jennings, Cowell, Meeker, Howe, Sahlsburg and Schmidt.

AGGIE BOTANY MEN ON PROGRAM

Professor Melchers and Doctor Miller Appear before Science Academy.

L. E. Melchers, acting head of the department of botany, will read two papers at the Kansas Academy of Science held at Lawrence March 15 and 16. One paper is on the new corn disease recently discovered and the other is a report of the plant disease survey work for 1917. Dr. E. C. Miller, associate plant physiologist in botany department will read a paper on the draught resistance of sorghums.

DANCED FOR FUNSTON SOLDIERS

Journalism Professor Also Told of Native African Customs

Frank L. Snow, assistant professor of industrial journalism, spoke twice Tuesday night at Camp Funston, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. on "Native Customs in South-Central Africa." His talks were illustrated with lantern slides. As a concluding feature in each case he sang Moshona songs and attempted to imitate a native dance.

FIRST GROUP CLASS TODAY

CHRISTIAN DEMOCRACY CAMPAIGN IS REGUN WITH CLASS DISCUSSIONS.

Why America Entered the War and What the War Means to the Student are the Two Subjects to be Talked About—An All-College Affair.

The first meetings of the World Democracy group classes are being held today in practically every building on the campus and the student who has not already attended one of these gatherings this morning will be expected to appear at one sometime during the day.

The World Democracy campaign among students is an all-college movement. It is not carried on by any one organization but is under the supervision of prominent faculty and student leaders. The rooms set aside for the meetings in each building are designated by posters. The bulletin board announces the hours at which the groups will meet and the names of their leaders.

"The two questions which will be discussed today are 'Why we are in the War' and 'What does the war mean to you and me?'" said Dr. J. H. MacArthur. "We want every student to enter into this campaign. These meetings are not classes, and they are not lectures. They are not provided over by professors, but are open to the free discussion of the students. We want them to enter into the discussions and to ask questions. Each student is asked to give one hour each week to the World Democracy group talks."

The names of the faculty members who will act as leaders for the various groups follow: Dean Maryo Pierce Van Zile, Miss Ethel Jones, Miss Grace Palmer, Miss Mary McDonald, Miss Helen Halm, Miss Lulu Kennedy, Miss Grace Hesse, Miss Glasgow, Miss Jessie McD. Machir, Miss Grace Darby, Miss Dunlap, Mrs. J. T. Willard, Mrs. Ina Halroyd, Miss Ada Rice, Prof. W. E. Grimes, Prof. M. G. Burton, Prof. J. E. Kammeyer, Prof. O. H. Burns, Prof. R. G. Taylor, Prof. J. S. Hughes, Professor Burns, Doctor Downs, Prof. E. V. Floyd, Prof. Cecil F. Baker, and W. T. Soranston.

A complete outline of today's discussion is found on page 4 of The Collegian.

BREAKS A WORLD'S RECORD.

Cow Under Care of Aggie Man is a Winner.

A world's record for butter and milk production by a pure bred Holstein cow, has recently been made through the efforts of George M. Drumm, a former student, now employed as herdsman and feeder of the T. H. Skret herd in Glyndon, Minn.

The cow, freshening under two years of age, produced 801 pounds of butter and 15,783 pounds of milk in a year. This is the world's record for her age. Another holder, freshening at the age of 3 1/2 years, produced 1,003 pounds of butter and 22,800 pounds of milk. This is a Minnesota state record and places the cow sixth in the world, in her class.

Mr. Drumm expects to remain with Mr. Skret until next fall, when he will re-enter the Kansas State Agricultural college.

END TO SCHWEGLER MEETINGS.

Attendance Has Jumped and New All Sessions are at 5 O'Clock.

Dr. Raymond Schwegler gave the last of a series of four talks at the meetings of the Young Woman's Christian association yesterday afternoon. As the attendance has been so greatly increased since the hour has been changed from 4 to 5 o'clock it has been decided to hold the services every Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock for the remainder of the semester. Dr. Drury H. Fisher, pastor of the Presbyterian church will talk at the next meeting.

A COLLEGE EMPLOYEE DEAD

C. N. Kinyon was Father of Lieut. Keith Kinyon.

C. N. Kinyon, an employee of the campus department, died Sunday morning at his home here. He is the father of Lieut. Keith Kinyon who was a student last year and is now on the battleship Utah.

FRIDAY, MARCH 5, 1918.

WORKING FOR NEXT YEAR.

High school students from all parts of the Fifth district will be here tomorrow and next day for the annual district basketball tourney. From the high school students of the state will come next year's class of freshman.
The tournament is a challenge to Aggie students to get busy.

The average high schooler knows someone here. He also knows someone at the University of Kansas and at Emporia. But if he is here, and we present to him the Kansas State Agricultural college and its educational advantages, he will be almost certain to come to K. S. A. C. for his schooling, that is, if he knows a good thing which he sees it.

"Warm up" to that freshman from home tomorrow. The fraternalities no doubt will do their part. But will the rank and file of the student body jump into this, and each student entertain a visiting high schooler this week?

And the ladies, when they edited
The Collegian, couldn't dodge using the mail service.

PRACTICAL THINKING A NEED.

The Christian World Democracy movement, which begins this morning, when the first group classes meet,
does not deal with vague and impossible theories. It is a practical dis-cussional course which takes up war problems on which every student should be posted.

Harry Ward in his chapel talk Monday touched only slightly on the real purpose of the campaign, concerning himself mainly with social service ideas that probably had best be discussed after the war is over. Right now there is a need for constructive discussion of the war, with an application of practical Christianity to the issues involved.

And that is why every Aggie student should be enrolled in this course.

the story goes, reproved his students for coming late to class.

"This is a class in English com-

"Without the lemon, please," Miss Brown answered quite gently.—To-

Pi K. A. Anniversary.

The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity celebrated its golden anniversary with a Founders Day banquet at Harrison's parlors, Sunday March 3. Eight chapters of the fraternity were represented.

The parlors and tables were beautifully resplendent with garnet and gold, the fraternity colors. Curtains of these colors draped the windows and the whole scheme from the large hall suspended over the central chandelier to the shades of the condolabras was well carried out. Numerous dainty baskets of red carnations and yellow jonquills added a touch of freshness and emblems of the fraternity conspicuously hung on the walls, were fitting reminders of the purpose of the event. A large service flag with 28 stars hung at the end of the hall.

Toasts and after-dinner speeches, with Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, as toast master, were given by Lieut. Ayers McKinney, Beta Gamma chapter of the University of Kansas; Mr. Hugh M. Fellows and Mr. Lyman R. Vawter, Alpha Omega, chapter of the Kansas State Agricultural college. Responses were given by Lieut. Wendell P. Jones, Alpha Nu chapter of the University of Missouri, Lieut. Robert Hemphill and Mr. Marc H. Lowrance, Alpha Phi chapter of the Iowa State college, and Lieut. Morton B.

Shepard, Alpha Xi chapter of the university of Cincinnati.

Out of town guests were Lieutenants Robert W. Hemphill, Wendell P. Jones, William Ayers McKinney, and Morton B. Shepard, Camp Funston; Mr. Glen E. Lee, Glen Elder; Mr. Glenn W. Davis, Lenora; Mr. W. W. Cromley, Fort Riley; Mr. Harold Goble and Mr. Edward J. Otto, Riley; Mr. T. C. Krigbaum, Mr. Jay D. Reeves, Mr. Donald S. Flagg, and Mr. Robert L. Bohon, Camp Funston; Mr. E. E. Bates, Perry; and Mr. Marc Lowrance, Lawrence.

LOVE IN "SERGEANT KITTY"

OPERA HAS "LIVE HAPPILY EVER AFTER" FLAVOR.

Plot of Student Production is not involved, but there is Plenty of Interest Throughout.

A piquant love affair, with a great many difficulties, plenty of tuneful songs, and lots of ridiculous mix-ups—such is the plot, if there is any plot, of "Sergeant Kitty", the offering for Friday, March 15 of Festival Week.

The play fully deserves the title of comedy for the many comical situations in which the hero and heroine find themselves and from which they are finally freed, afford many a laugh to anyone who appreciates a good joke.

What plot there is deals with the love affair of a young French lieutenant and a bright and sparkling French maiden, named Kitty. To escape the watchful eyes of her aunt, Kitty is married to Lucien, her lieutenant, by proxy. When Lucien appears upon the scene he is accused of being married to another woman, much to his disgust and to the entertainment of his audience. Everything is finally straightened out, despite the efforts of everyone to part the loving pair and of course they live happily, for a little while anyway.

The Leads Are Strong

Kitty la Tour, as played by Miss Wanda Tetrick makes quite a dashing and unusual young sergeant. She plays the part like a Julian Entinge in skirts. Miss Tetrick has a voice that is exceptionally well fitted for the part, and her solos are especially pleasing. Howard O'Brien plays the other lead, taking the part of Lucien, Kitty's lover. Mr. O'Brien takes his part well, both in his songs and his lines, and has enough troubles to upset even a Frenchman.

Sam Mitchell makes an unusually grouchy general, playing the part of a tempestuous French general, who is really kind under a rough exterior. Elmer Gilbreath makes the most out of the part of Captain Jacques Jonquiere, and is good for many laughs.

The other men in the program are Paul Mann as Henri de Marillac; Sheridan Spangler as Jean Cornichon; Russel Knapp as Pichoron, the baker; C. E. Hutto as Celestin Birdeaux; and Roy Carr as the notary.

Miss Curry a Soloist

Bess Curry, as Louise de Marillac, wife of Henri, has a pleasing part, and sings several attractive solos. Grace Lightfoot takes the part of Madame Anglique, a cranky old aunt of Kitty who does everything in her power to prevent Kitty from marrying Lucien. Ninon—Marie Julian—and Suzette—Pauline Richards—make an unusually attractive pair of flower girls. Margaret Armentrout takes the part of Gergette, a French maid.

Besides the cast, there is a chorus of forty voices. The chorus has been working enthusiastically on the production, and have several strikingly attractive melodies.

Prof. A. E. Westbrook, who is directing the musical numbers, reports rapid progress, and says that the play will be one of the features of the week and well worth seeing.

Unexpected Visitors.

Margaret's parents had taken her on a house-hunting tour with them; and, upon entering a vacant house, the little girl was much mystified by her parents' actions. Finally, when they had toured the house from top to bottom, opening doors and screens and peering into closets, she turned to her mother.

"Let's go home, mamma," she said. "I guess the folks wasn't looking for us."—Ex.

WHAT DOES THIS WAR MEAN TO YOU AND ME?

Outline of Discussion to be Followed at First Meeting of Christian World Democracy Campaign Group Classes.

- I. Why are we in this War?
 1. Technically, because of Germany's violation of (a) International law (b) Humanity (c) American rights.
 2. Spiritually, because of the necessity for a democracy to align itself with other democracies and potential democracies against a military autocracy.
 3. Because German ideals and aims as reflected in their teachings and conduct of the war reveal the following facts:
 - (a) That Germany believes herself possessed of a civilization superior to that of the rest of the world.
 - (b) That she believes that she has been divinely appointed to impose this civilization upon the rest of the world—that she has the age old idea of world conquest found in Alexander, Caesar, Napoleon.
 - (c) That she believes this end justifies any means whatsoever that she may employ, e. g., treaties, terrorism, deportation, ruthlessness.
 4. Because the democracies of the world must check such an ideal now, or prepare for ultimate submission to it.
- II. What does this War mean to You and Me?
 1. To those who go?
 - (a) Possibility of death. (b) Possibility of crippled life. (c) Change of physical surroundings requiring readjustments. (d) Separation from friends. (e) New mental and spiritual environment. (f) Removal from certain restraints. (g) Increase of other restraints. (h) Presence of peculiar temptations.
 2. To those who stay?
 - (a) Possible discomfort in (x) Food (y) Money (z) Time.
 - (b) The unspoken fear, loss of friends.
 - (c) The necessity while our soldiers are making the world safe for democracy of our making democracy safe for the world, that is, for a restatement of our national and personal ideals and a reviewing of our application of those ideals.
 - III. What Principles or Ideals are Involved in the Foregoing?
 1. Service.
 2. Sacrifice.
 - IV. What are the principles or ideals upon which our action is founded.
 1. Christianity.
 2. Democracy.
 - V. Is our nation Christian?
 - VI. Is our nation Democratic?

ADD 360 A. TO COLLEGE TRACT.

Land Condemned—State Pays $71,100 for It.

Six tracts of land, comprising approximately 368 acres, have been condemned by the state for the use of the Kansas State Agricultural college. Appraisers—W. H. Donaldson, Geo. H. Failyer, S. J. Yenawine—were appointed by Judge Smith of the Riley county district court on December 31, 1917. The appraisers recently made their report and the state board of administration today notified County Treasurer Diefendorf that the following tracts had been condemned for the use of the college:

Tract 6—29 acres, Minnie Colt Smith, $7,100 appraisement.

Tract 9—160 acres, C. L. Marlatt, Fred A. Marlatt, Abby L. Marlatt and Mary A. Kimball, $38,400.

Tract 10—80 acres, J. G. Matter, $10,200.

Tract 12—1 acre, J. P. Brubaker, $1,300.

Tract 13—54.1 acres, R. G. Chandler $9,500.

Tract 14—44 acres, Wilford W. Bales, $6,600.

ART EXHIBIT AT THE COLLEGE.

On Display in Anderson Hall Until March 14.

The home art department of the college has prepared an art exhibit which will be on display until March 14. The schools represented are the Rhode Island School of Design, the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, the Pratt Institute, and the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art.

The exhibit is made up of still life studies, study of composition in pictures, one chart of design for silver, one chart in pottery, a chart in metal work, a few charts on architecture and several on interior decoration.

Another exhibit to be held from April 15 to 27 will include pictures from the Kansas Federation of Arts, prints from the American Federation of Arts consisting of a group of block prints by Miss Helen Hyde, and an exhibition of prints suitable for the home or library. There will be also a collection of pottery.

HAS ANOTHER TRAINING PLAN

Dean Potter Purposes to Instruct 30 Funston Men a Day.

Giving practical instruction to approximately 30 soldiers daily in mechanical lines of work, the instruction to continue for a period of two or three weeks, and if it works out successfully to be continued indefinitely, is the plan evolved by A. A. Potter, dean of the division of engineering at the Kansas State Agricultural college. The plan will be put in operation Monday, March 11. Mr. Potter announced this afternoon.

Mr. Potter, who has been giving lectures to the men at Camp Funston conceived the idea of having small companies of the men come to the college each day for a day of recreation, besides being given intensive and practical instruction in the lines of work which they are studying at Camp Funston. The plan was presented to the commander at Camp Funston and met with his approval, so at 9 o'clock Monday morning Mr. Potter's plan will be put in operation.

Thirty Each Day.

Thirty men will be given instruction at the college daily except Saturday, and a minimum of 300 men will have opportunity to receive such instruction. If the plan is successful, it will be continued indefinitely, it was stated this afternoon. The men, it was learned, will bring cold lunches for their noon meal, but plans are being set on foot to provide at least hot coffee for them, and to provide some form of entertainment for them during the noon hour.

Members of the supply company of the 342nd field artillery will be the first to receive the benefits of this opportunity and the work will then probably be extended to the truck and depot companies. The instructors at the college are giving a period of time each day for this instruction which will come at a time that will not interfere with their college classes. The instructors receive no compensation for their time and labor. Following is the program of instruction which will be given to the first 30 soldiers who will go to college Monday.

Monday's Program.

9 to 10 a. m.—Fundamental principles of internal combustion engines. A. A. Potter, room B33.

10 to 11 a. m.—Tractors and trucks W. H. Sanders, Tractor building.

AMERICA MUST MAKE GOOD

Every Citizen Must Be at War, Doctor Wilbur Says

Whenever an American eats a piece of white bread, or any all-wheat food, he is either taking a crust from a starving child in Belgium, Poland or Armenia, or from a soldier who is fighting for him. This was the assertion of Dr. R. Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University, associated with Herbert Hoover in food administration work and organizer of food conservation work in the United States, in special assembly Tuesday morning.

The American people have tired to dodge war work, and it has taken them a long time to find out where they stand in the matter, but they are at last waking up and now the whole world is watching breathlessly while the race between the United States and Germany goes on. For it is a race—Germany is trying to close the war before the United States is started in it, Doctor Wilbur says.

"Americans are too selfish and soft in their habits in the minds of the Germans to endure the hardships of war, and the allied nations are beginning to ask themselves, are the Germans right?" asked the speaker. "Many people are like the woman who said 'I don't like cornbread, I can't eat it,' and Mr. Hoover said to her, 'My God! Woman, do you suppose Henry Jones liked to give up his girl and his job and hopes of a home to go fight and possibly to die for people like you?'"

The End of a Hoover Day.

I have come to the end of meatless day

And peacefully lying in bed, My thoughts reverse in a musing way, To the food which to-day I've been fed.

When I think of the cheese and beans and fish,

And oysters I've had to eat,

I've no regret for the good old days I really didn't miss the meat.

I have come to the end of a wheatless day,

I have eaten no cookies or pie,

I have had no bread that was made with wheat;

It was made of corn or rye;

And I liked it so well that when the war is past

And a glorious victory won,

I'll keep on observing "Wheatless" days,

And I'll eat "corn pone" for fun —Exchange.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGLIAN

VOLUME 24. NUMBER 46.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, KANSAS, MARCH 12, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

JARDINE TO WASHINGTON

NEW PRESIDENT ASKED TO GIVE THREE WEEKS TO WAR WORK AMONG THE FARMERS.

Left Sunday to Attend Conference—Chosen to go Out Among Farmers to Ascertain Need of Local Cooperation and Increased Agricultural Production.

Dr. William M. Jardine, president of the college, who was to have appeared at chapel yesterday to meet the students in a body for the first time as the new president of K. S. A. C. has been officially called to Washington by the department of agriculture in the interest of the war work.

Dr. Jardine received a telegram from Washington asking for his services for three weeks shortly after his election as the head of the college. He will attend the war conference in association with the secretary of the department of agriculture and others. Dr. Jardine has been requested to give these three weeks in the campaign of furthering food production among the farmers.

From Washington the president will be sent into several states during the time which he will be absent. He will talk in the agricultural communities on "More Crops." "At this critical time," said Dr. Jardine, "it is important that the farmers understand the international and local food conditions, and the need for cooperation and conservation. I have been asked to serve in the capacity of putting this need before rural communities in several states.

"I am sorry that it is necessary for me to leave at this time," said Dr. Jardine. "I should like to have addressed the students Monday as planned and become better acquainted with the student body. The appointment to national war work breaks into my plans for the college but we must remember now that it is our country first."

Dr. J. T. Willard, who was unanimously elected vice president of the college at the same time as the election of the president, will continue to carry on much other executive work of the college. It will be necessary that Dr. Jardine be absent from his chair a great part of the time in war work service. His work will date from March 14.

HIGH INCUBATOR IN USE AT FARM.

Poultry Department Received Machine Last Fall.

A mammoth incubator, with a capacity of 18,000 eggs, is now in operation at the poultry farm. This incubator is in three sections, each unit being independent. A hard coal stove regulating a hot water system, furnishes the heat but on account of the shortage of hard coal the process is being worked at a disadvantage—soft coal being the only available fuel.

The eggs used by the embryology classes in the zoology department are incubated in this machine. All pedigree stock is hatched in individual sacks of scrim and the number of the mother of each prospective chick is enclosed with each egg. These hens therefore had to be trap nested.

The incubator was received last fall but it is only recently that it is in use. It is completely filled and some smaller ones are also being used. It is the intention of the poultry department to double the capacity next year and to eventually have three such incubators in use.

ISSUE BULLETIN OF BLUEPRINTS.

Material Pertains to Irrigation and is Self-explanatory.

A bulletin of blueprints is being issued by the department of irrigation and drainage in the extension division. This idea is a new one and has no precedent.

The prints are 14 in number and pertain to irrigation. Plain self-explanatory drawings show how to build a land leveler and other inclosure to the installation of a battery of wells with a pumping plant.

The work is plain and simple and is expected to prove a great assistance in the work of extension.

S. V. Collins, instructor in farm engineering, spent Sunday and Monday in Marshalltown, Iowa, visiting his mother who is ill.

DEAN JOHNSON DOING WAR WORK.

Conducted War Conference at Horton Last Week.

Edward C. Johnson, as chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Kansas State Council of Defense and the State Food Administration, spoke in Horton last Sunday on the subject, "Kansas' Patriotism." Mr. Johnson conducted the district war conference at that place, which conference was addressed by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur of the Federal Food Administration, Everett Colby of New Jersey who has recently returned from France, and Lieutenant Paul Perigord of the French Army.

Mr. Johnson spent Tuesday morning in his office but left the college again in the afternoon in company with Dr. Wilbur for Clay Center, from which point they will accompany Lieutenant Perigord to ten additional district war conferences in the state this week. It will be necessary for these men to travel about 300 miles by automobile in order to meet their appointments. Dr. Wilbur, Mr. Colby, and Miss Cora Binzel will speak at five of these conferences; Roscoe Mitchell, Sherman Davis, and Miss Elizabeth Kelley, of whom are official representatives of the government, will address the other five conferences.

TAYLOR LANDS THIRD PLACE

Aggie Orator Among Winners in the Valley Contest.

The college won third place in the second annual Missouri valley oratorical contest Friday night at Ames, Iowa. Earl Taylor, senior in animal husbandry, represented K. S. A. C.

First place in the contest went to Frank Lowe of the University of Missouri, whose subject was "Making the World Safe for Democracy." Second place was awarded to Will King of Drake university, who spoke on "The New Internationalism." The subject of Mr. Taylor's oration, "The Struggle for Democracy," was the used in the inter-society oratorical contest except that it had been developed to 1,700 words instead of 1,200.

A prize of $100 and a gold medal were given to the winner of first place, $50 and a silver medal to the winner of second place, and Mr. Taylor received $25 and a bronze medal. Leo C. Moser, former student in industrial journalism, who represented the college last year, won third place in the contest.

The schools represented in the contest this year are Iowa State Agricultural college, University of Nebraska University of Missouri, Kansas State Agricultural college, Washington university, and Drake university.

OFFICE CABINETS ARE DARK OAK

Light Stain Now Used Generally Being Replaced by Former.

Dark oak is to be the stain for all cases and filing cabinets made at the general repair department for the college.

The light oak stain which is to be seen in nearly all the offices will gradually disappear to be replaced by the darker and more substantial color.

W. E. Duncan, head of the general repair department, has selected the new stain, which has given satisfaction wherever it has been used. Mr. Duncan makes his own stain using one-fourth pound of raw umber, and one-half pound of burnt umber, in a half gallon of gasoline. Mr. Duncan says the homemade product is 60 per cent cheaper than the common oil stain and has none of the undesirable creosote in it.

Filing cases for the poultry department, the extension department, and the boy's and girl's club room are being stained with the dark oak color.

MISS KIMPORT AHEAD IN CONTEST

Mrs. Laura Moore Jumps From Seventh to Third Place.

Miss Katrina Kimport, senior in general science, still leads the industrialist contest with 77.25 inches to her credit. G. E. Getty, assistant in agronomy, has second place with 42 inches, and Mrs. Laura D. Moore, junior in industrial journalism, has jumped from seventh to third place with 35.5 inches to her credit. H. T. Enns, sophomore in industrial journalism, comes next with 30.5 inches, and Bruce Brewer, junior in industrial journalism, follows with 30 inches.

Miss Imogene Chase, junior in general science, has been absent from classes on account of illness.

COLLEGE TALENT THIS WEEK

ALL BUT ONE OF REMAINING NUMBERS GIVEN BY STUDENTS OR FACULTY.

Concert by College Orchestra Is Billed for Tonight—Golden Syon Sunday Pleased Large Audience, and Mrs. Lester Scored Last Night.

THE WEEK'S PROGRAM.

Tuesday—Concert by College Orchestra.
Wednesday—Men's and Women's glee clubs.
Thursday—Piano recital by members of college music faculty.
Friday—Comic opera, "Sergeant Kitty."
Saturday—Drama, "Under Cover."
Sunday—Recital by Oscar Seagle.

Three pleasing numbers will be given Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the Festival Week. All of these will be presented by students or faculty members of the college.

The ninth annual concert of the college orchestra will be given this evening. The orchestra is composed entirely of students, under the direction of R. H. Brown of the department of music. Aside from the regular concert, Miss Katherine Kimmell of the music department, will give "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," and a group of old fashioned songs in costume, and W. B. Dalton will give a cello solo, "Kol Nidrei."

The Glee Clubs Wednesday.

Wednesday evening the two glee clubs of the college will give a recital. The St. Cecilia club will sing "Lift Thine Eyes," from the "Elizah," and a cantata, "The Lady of Shalott." The Apollo club will give a group of popular songs, and several numbers of more classical music. Miss Bess Curry, student in the department of music, will assist as soprano, and will give the aria, "One Fine Day," from "Madame Butterfly," and will also give several solos in the cantata.

The faculty concert, to be given Thursday, will be in two parts. The first part will be a piano recital by Miss Elsie Smith, with selections from Mozart, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Liszt, and Schumann. The second half will be a song cycle, "Morning of the Year," by Cadman, sung by the faculty quartet. The quartet will be composed of Miss Louise Hughes, soprano, Miss Katherine Kimmell, contralto, C. W. Johnson, tenor, and Arthur E. Westbrook, bass. Miss Patricia Abernethy will play the accompaniment.

Golden Syon Pleased.

With both the chorus and the soloists singing in superb style, the presentation of the Golden Syon in the college auditorium Sunday afternoon was an unusual success.

The soloists scored the hit of the afternoon, and were generously applauded for their excellent work. The Golden Syon, given for the first time Sunday afternoon, impressed the audience with its beauty and lofty feeling. It was given a place as a composition worthy of its writer, William Lester.

Mrs. Margaret Lester, as soprano soloist, was at her best, and her clearness of tone, and sympathetic rendition of her songs delighted the audience. Miss Katherine Kimmell of the department of music gave several contralto solos which were well received. Orville Bonnett, a senior in college, sang in excellent form. C. W. Johnson of the department of music again impressed the audience with his ability to take high notes with the greatest ease. While his voice is not powerful, it is unusually clear.

Lester Recital Good.

The work of Miss Patricia Abernethy as accompanist of the chorus, which sang unusually well, and of Arthur Westbrook, as conductor, who scored a success by the masterful way in which he handled the chorus at all times, were worthy of special note.

Mrs. Margaret Lester, in her recital last night gave her audience even more evidence of her beauty of voice and artistic interpretation, than was noticed in her solo work in the Golden Syon.

Mrs. Lester chose her program well, and all of the songs tended to increase the feeling of the audience for her as an artist of real ability. Her group of songs by Grieg were well rendered, and were appreciated by the audience.

SOILS CLASS TAKES FIELD TRIP.

Make Tour to Study Different Types of Drainage Systems.

A school of agriculture class in soils under J. W. Zahmley, instructor in farm crops, took a field trip Friday.

The class made a tour of the agronomy farm and near vicinity, studying the different types of drainage systems. There are nearly two miles of tile drain on the agronomy farm, which drains approximately 80 acres of land. Before the tile drains were put in there were more than 25 acres of swampy land that would grow nothing but weeds. Last year this land produced 80 bushels of corn and 75 bushels of oats per acre.

H. E. GIRLS MAKE CURTAINS

Letter of Appreciation from "The Bunch" who Got Them.

Three triple sets of curtains and 25 single curtains recently completed by the girls in the home economics division of the college under the direction of Miss Ina Cowies, assistant professor of domestic art, have been presented to Y. M. C. A. number 10, Camp Funston. The curtains are made of marquisette with cretonne bands and are the result of volunteer work done outside of class hours. This is one of the ways in which the college is cooperating with the Y. M. C. A. at the camp.

Writing to Miss Cowies, and her associates, regarding the gift, Eugene A. Schaaf of Y. M. C. A. number 10, said:

"Our workers here are pleased over the greatly improved appearance of the rooms since the new curtains went up. We feel quite elated and 'stuck up' over being so much better off than the fellows in the other buildings."

"We want you to know how much we appreciate your work and that it has drawn the attention of those who come into our building. The curtains add much to the appearance of the rooms, making the place more cozy and attractive."

"We all join in expressing our sincere thanks for what you have done to help us in this way. We trust that some time you may make us a call and see for yourselves how nicely we are fixed up now. We shall be pleased to see you and thank you personally." (Signed:) Eugene A. Schaaf and the "Bunch."

FUNSTON Y. M. MAN TO SPEAK.

E. B. Pratt Will Talk About Army Work Here, March 21.

E. B. Pratt, general secretary for the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Funston, will speak at the Thursday evening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday March 21. Secretary Pratt is one of the biggest Y. M. workers in the country. He will talk on "Army Y. M. C. A. Work." The meeting this coming Thursday will be postponed because of the festival week number on that date.

SOLOMON DISTRICT CHAMPS

Highs Won the Fifth District Tournament.

The Solomon high school basketball team won the championship of the fifth district in the basketball tournament held here last Saturday by defeating the Manhattan high school team, 33 to 27, in the finals.

In the preliminaries, Clay Center defeated Riley, 62 to 12, Minneapolis defeated Hanover, 39 to 11, and Solomon defeated Belleville, 38 to 29. This left Minneapolis, Solomon, Clay Center and Manhattan in the semi-finals. Solomon then defeated Minneapolis, 32 to 20, and Manhattan defeated Clay Center, 39 to 19. The championship battle then was fought by Manhattan and Solomon, and Solomon won.

By winning the championship of this district Solomon will be the fifth district contender in the state meet at Lawrence, March 22.

GROUP CLASSES PROGRESS

GIRLS OUTNUMBER MEN AT FIRST OF SERIES OF DISCUSSIONAL MEETINGS.

Interest Shown by Students Exceeded Expectations Says Dr. MacArthur—What Is Christianity and Is Our Nation a Christian Nation Discussed Next Friday.

The first World Democracy group classes met Friday and it is the consensus of opinion of both the students and members of the faculty who were present that great good was derived from the discussions. There were more than twice as many girls at the meetings as there were men.

"The interest shown by the students in the campaign came quite up to expectations," said Dr. John R. MacArthur. "It had been planned to have not more than 15 students in each group, but in some of the classes, notably the girls, there was more than the quota while some classes were not filled to capacity. More students are urged to turn out to the meetings which will be held Friday."

The questions discussed at the last meeting were "Why are we at War?" and "What does this war mean to you and me?" The subjects to be discussed next time are "What Is Christianity?" and "Is our nation a Christian Nation?" There was slight confusion in finding the proper rooms last week. For the coming meetings classes will be held in the same rooms although later some of the classes may be combined and more classes scheduled for certain hours.

Meetings for women will be held Friday in the following rooms: First hour, L 40; second hour, L 59 and A 57; third hour, L 40 and A 60; fourth hour, L 40, A 60, F 53, and K 57; fifth hour, L 40, F 2, and A 51; sixth hour, A 62; seventh hour, A 57; eighth hour, L 40, A 57, F 2, and F 3; ninth hour, L 40.

Classes for men will be held in the following rooms: First hour, A 73; second hour, A 39, K 56; third hour, A 62; fourth hour, A 63, A 62; fifth hour, A 62; sixth hour, A 74; seventh hour, A 74; eighth hour, K 56.

A small text book has been provided which outlines the course for the World Democracy classes. No texts are essential to enrollment in any of the classes, however.

MARION ROSS WAS MURDERED.

Coroner's Jury Blamed Laundryman for Policeman's Death.

Whiskey was behind the scenes in a tragedy Sunday when Marion Ross, Aggieville night watchman, was brutally murdered in the city park. Two intoxicated men resisted the policeman and one of them, Milton Moorehead, employed in a laundry at Camp Funston, knocked Ross to the ground and fractured his skull by kicks delivered on the head, according to a verdict reached by a jury at the coroner's inquest held yesterday afternoon.

Moorehead and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gifford were grouped west of the fountain, when Ross appeared. Gifford was lying on the ground in an intoxicated condition, witnesses say, and Ross attempted to pull the drunken man to his feet. Gifford and Moorehead quarrelled with Ross, and then the blows were struck.

Ross was pronounced dead a few minutes after he had been carried to the Charlotte Swift hospital.

J. C. Peterson, assistant professor in psychology, and his wife, Bruce B. Brewer, junior in industrial journalism, and Miss Rose Zurbuchen, proprietress of the Little Sweet shop in Aggieville, all were near the tragedy, and identified Moorehead yesterday as the man who kicked Ross.

AGGIE MAN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Harold Allison Was Among First Sent to the Front.

According to available information, Harold Allison, who was enrolled as a special engineering student last year, is the first Aggie student to be wounded in France.

On February 5 Mr. Allison's arm was blown off in an engagement somewhere on the Western front. Harold Allison enlisted in the heavy field artillery last spring and was one of the first American boys to be sent to the front. He is now in a base hospital.

PROFESSOR HOLTON RETURNS.

Attended Meetings in Philadelphia, New York and Atlantic City.

E. L. Holton, professor of education, returned Sunday night from an extended trip in the east. Professor Holton attended a meeting of the National Society for Vocational Education in Philadelphia, and a conference in New York on education for war service. He was also present at the annual meeting of the National Educational association at Atlantic City and the Congress of National Service in Chicago.

ALL ABOUT THE MARCH WEATHER

Wind Maintained a Velocity of 30 to 42 Miles an Hour.

"March brings breezes loud and shrill"—and violent. The wind Saturday maintained a velocity of between 30 and 42 miles an hour, the highest in this locality in two years. Two windows in the domestic science and art building, three in the new agricultural hall, and six in Kedzie were blown in.

The damage resulted from the unusual gustiness as well as the force of the wind according to J. O. Hamilton, professor of physics in charge of the college weather bureau. The barometer Saturday morning was unusually low, 28.1 inches.

GIRLS BEGIN A BIG SERIES

First of Interclass Basketball Games to Be Played Tomorrow.

Everybody out for the first of the big series.

Now that the Aggie men have played off their most important basketball games the co-eds are asking for the floor. The first games of the interclass series will be played Wednesday afternoon in the large gymnasium. The contests will be between the Freshmen-Junior and Sophomore-Seniors. The second series will be held March 20.

Attendance at these games is not limited to sister co-eds but as in former years the men are given admittance thru tickets obtained from a player on one of the four class teams. There will be six players on each team. The games will commence promptly at 4:30 o'clock. Mr. Bauer will referee the games.

The names of the girls who have places on the class teams follow:

Freshman team—Martha Baird, Edna Chapin, Lucille Cox, Ethel Loomis, Clementine Paddleford, Ruth Willis, Pauline Jeffcoat, Gladys Carson, and Gertrude Jennings.

Sophomore team—Lucile Harbaugh, Lucille Hizer, Florence Munich, Elizabeth Greenlee, Mabel Adams, Cella Lorraine, Mabel Evans, Josephine Meldrum, and Lorene Webb.

Junior team—Doris Nickels, Irma McKimell, Ruth Thomas, Dorothy Lush, Ruby Elerman, Edythe Wilson, Gladys Bergier, Clare Higgins, and Martha Webb.

Senior team—Gladys Spring, Bess Gordon, Ruth Huff, Amanda Olson, Edna Boyle, Nora Borrow, Marian Darks, Eva Wood, and Lella Wheat.

The captains of the four teams are Edna Chapin, freshman; Josephine Meldrum, sophomore; Edythe Wilson, junior; and Edna Boyle, senior. According to Miss Bond, instructor in physical training, the teams are about evenly matched and give evidence of some closely contested games. Basketball practice has been held during noon hours and eight hours for several weeks.

STILL TIME TO SETTLE ACCOUNT.

Many Students are Listed With Unsettled Accounts at Business Office.

Last term's accounts may yet be adjusted at the business office according to Miss White, secretary. One hundred eighty nine students are on the list before the secretary's office. This list contains the names of those who either have laboratory fees due them or vice versa.

Nearly half the accounts have been balanced but a larger percent have called to claim their rebates from those who came to take up overdrafts.

The system as devised is new. The plan was to close all accounts within 15 days after the close of the semester. This could not be followed out for some of the cards had not arrived from the departments within that time.

Some have not understood that overdrafts were possible. This is true when the breakage exceeds the laboratory fee. Grades may be withheld until the fees are paid.

TOOK THREE FROM HUSKERS

VARSITY BROKE EVEN IN LINCOLN AND FROSH WERE TWICE VICTORIOUS.

First Rough and Ragged Battle Won by Stewart Men, but Aggies Staged Brilliant Comeback—Youngmeyer Established a Record in Free Throws.

B. B. B.

The Nebraska Cornhusker eleven—beg pardon, the Husker basketball five—trounced Clevenger's Aggie quintet in the first of a series of ragged basketball games at Lincoln Friday, 31 to 23, but the Manhattan five came back and showed the superiority of basketball over football in a 25 to 17 encounter Saturday.

Just to add a bit of the chagrin of the Huskers the Schultz troupe of freshmen basketballers took the measure of Stewart's yearlings in a pair of hotly contested, and for the most part, evenly fought, games. The scores were 27 to 20 and 23 to 14.

Can't Be Too Rough.

It must be admitted at the outset that football as played indoors at Nebraska is a few degrees milder than the outdoor branch of their game. You can't very jolly well tackle an opponent on a board floor, you know. Not that that would be considered rough, but it doesn't please the spectators, who are too close for any really gory exhibitions to take place.

Five giant Huskers big enough to make almost anybody's eleven opposed the Aggies in the first fight, which wasn't much of a battle until the latter part of the game, when the Clevenger five awoke to what was going on. Nebraska was in the lead, 10 to 3, at one time, but that margin was closed up to 15 to 13 at the end of the half. Again Nebraska pulled away, and desperate counter spurts by the Aggies failed to pull the Stewart men out of the lead.

A Real Aggie Comeback.

It was all different in the second game. A team can't score many points in either football or basketball until it is possessor of the ball for at least a moment or so. And this Nebraska most certainly was not in the first half, in which the Aggies shot baskets, passed and dribbled just as if there weren't and Cornhuskers on the floor.

Lincoln rooters couldn't understand. They blamed it on luck when shot after shot from Aggie hands found their way into the basket from midcourt. They thought up excuses and alibis of any race, color or previous condition of servitude, but the basket-shooting went on just the same.

Ahead by a 16-point margin, Clevenger's men teased the Stewart athletes along in the second half. The Aggies only played hard when they felt like it, with the result that Nebraska had drawn up to 17 to 25 when the game ended.

Frosh Games Were Good.

And now for those freshmen tussles, which were down-right exciting. Both contests were easy Aggie victories, but there was plenty of scoring on both sides, and interest never lagged.

Youngmeyer was the sensation of the series. The lanky forward tossed nine consecutive free throws in the first battle, and came within one toss of that record in the second. He took careful and deliberate aim at the iron ring 23 times in the games, and 20 of these attempts dropped through for points. When "Youngy" walked towards the free throw line, the crowd yelled, "Count it up."

Cowell was the other freshman star, although Hanger, Jennings and Meeker all played important parts in the trimming of the Husker yearlings. "Shorty" played hard and fast. Attempts of opponents to dribble past him always ended when Referee "Phog" Allen called, "Held ball."

The summaries of the game are to be found on page 4.

H. E. Bell, senior in mechanical engineering, is conducting a series of tests to determine the effectiveness of various kinds of lugs for tractor wheels. He will run the tests on different kinds of road services and under various soil conditions. He will use this data in his thesis.

TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 1918.

OFF TO A GOOD START.

The second annual Festival Week already has scored a success. The crowd that heard the Golden Syon Sunday was larger than was expected, and last night a well-filled auditorium listened to the recital given by Mrs. Margaret Lester.

Aggie Students are awakening and are broadening out. There was a time when recitals, operas, concerts and dramas—when the whole Festival Week program—would have gone "over the head" of the average Aggie student. But now he enjoys them all, as is evidenced by the number of tickets sold for the week's program.

The revival is due largely to the work of Arthur E. Westbrook, R. H. Brown and Dr. J. G. Emerson, a faculty trio who have labored hard to popularize drama and music here.

MARION.

Marion Ross wasn't a college student. He never has attended the institution. Nevertheless, Marion Ross, Aggieville policeman for lo these many years, and friend to many Aggie students past and present, is dead, and the students mourn.

Ross was one of few men who could handle the old time football rallies. When the other Manhattan policemen attempted to stop the rooters if festivities went too far, antagonism sprang up, and there often were fights. But not so with Marion. He always got along with the bunches.

That the popular policeman was murdered is regretted. But there is this consolation—he died "with his boots on."

Manhattan Business College Ph. 64.

STUNG.

And it came to pass that a recruit in quest of cleanliness came unto a corporal saying, "Behold my linen is soiled, verily is my raiment dirty, where may I go that it may be cleansed and purified?"

And the Corporal, being much given to levity, communed with himself, saying, "Lo, the Rookie is delivered into my hands that I may make sport with him."

And he said, "Go thou to the house of thy Major, yea, even into his innermost dwelling and there deliver unto his woman folk thy soiled linen that it may be purified and made whole-some."

And the Recruit in his ignorance did as he was bid, and entered into the dwelling of the Major and did beseech this wife of the Major to wash his dirty clothing.

Whereupon the wife of the Major was exceedingly wroth and did bid the Recruit to get himself hence, even into the outer darkness.

But the Major, hearing the noise of angry speaking, did desist from communing with the stars, and did enter in unto them, and being wise and full of years the Major did thus commune with the Recruit:

"Yea, verily, my son, thou hast come to the right place; and hast thou no more soiled linen that it may be washed?"

The Recruit said, "Yea, I have even more," and the Recruit brought it unto the Major.

And the Major said, "Who hath sent thee to my dwelling that thy raiment may be cleansed?"

And the Recruit said, "The Corporal of my squad, even he hath sent me."

And it came to pass that the Major having all the dirty raiment of the Recruit, did send for the Corporal and did bid him to wash the soiled linen of the Recruit until it should be as white as snow.

And Lo, the Corporal did toil and sweat, and with great weeping and lamentation and heaviness of spirit did cleanse the raiment of the Recruit; and thereafter until twice the moon had reached its full, did he cleanse all the soiled linen of the Recruit.

And the jest remained with the Corporal.

C. F. Baker, professor of architecture, spent Thursday and Friday in Hutchinson attending the 11th district convention of the International Rotary club, and consulting with a number of architects of Hutchinson and the southwestern part of the state in regard to the architectural problems of the state.

Miss Rose Baker, '17, assistant in the cafeteria, left Saturday for Tulsa, Okla., where she will have charge of the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria.

A CONVERSATION.

First coed—Isn't that silly about women being made from a man's rib?

Second coed—Fudge! Men were made out of dirt, so it isn't so bad after all.

First coed—Yes, but the Bible says, "You came from dust, and return to dust," so what are the women going to return to?

Second coed—Oh, when the Bible says man, it means women too.

First coed—I won't be included under man. I won't!

Second coed—Guess you can't help yourself, can you?

First coed—Yes, but I'm not a man. How can that be true?

Second coed—Your mankind, ain't you? That's what that means. You don't have to be a man to be mankind.

First coed—But I don't think it is right to have MAN in everything. It is mankind, Manchester, Wollman and manners, and how they come to put man in manners is more than I can see.

Second coed—Oh, well, I guess we can't help it. Us women were fooling around when the men were writing the English language so we were left out. See?

First coed—Yes, but I won't stand for it! I won't! Why, they even put man in woman. Terrible.

Second coed—You wouldn't want to be called a wo would you?

First coed—Yes, even that might be all right; but man even does the wooing. It's too much! Too much!

ADVICE TO MEN.

Don't forget you are he, and not it. Don't poke fun at women's dress combinations, and then wear red neckties and green socks.

Don't ridicule coed conversational efficiency. If it wasn't for that most dates would be as dry as (Dickens.)

Don't spend your spare time on the hill windy days gazing at the antics of the wind, for someone may accuse you of being a rube.

There are some men on this hill who are simply awful. For instance one was overheard relating the following tale:

"I have found of what woman is made. When Adam became lonely and wanted a companion, his rib was removed and laid on the ground. Whereupon the yellow pup who hung around the garden of Eden slipped up and ran off with the rib. The mechanics started off after him, but, lo, he was changed into a squirrel and ran up a tree chattering as fast as he could. Then the mechanics just changed the squirrel into a woman, and forgot to eliminate the chatter."

Dear Colym:

We know you rite that "rib" dope about women just to have something interesting, so we forgive you. We are glad of this opportunity for a chance to give our side. Thank you

O, SUCH GRIEF.

What woe What woe
I took my girl to a movie show
I fed her peanuts by the sack
On her did I my affections stack.

For Shame For Shame
That girl thinks ne'er of my good name
And with me will she no more go
She says that I am far too slow.

What Joy, What Joy
At last she's found another boy
Who spends on her his precious dose
So with me does she no more go.

How Frail, How Frail
That girl has spent his precious kale
She made the poor fool go dead broke
And she left him with his grief to choke.

How Sad, How Sad
That women folk are all so bad
For dates do I now no more care
For the women folk don't treat me fair.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon celebrated its 62nd anniversary with a Founders' Day banquet and dance Saturday evening, March 9. At the banquet, which was given at the chapter house, the decorations were simple and in accordance with the times, the cry for economy being staunchly observed. The fraternity emblems and colors, purple and gold, were carried out and a huge centerpiece of violets, and favors of the same shade were the only table decorations. After dinner speeches were given by a few of the freshmen.

Forty couples afterward danced at the Elks hall, the six piece orchestra from the 341st Sanitary train at Camp Funston furnishing the music. Chaplains were Mrs. Emma Pasmore, Sigma Alpha Epsilon matron, Captain and Mrs. E. N. Wentworth of Camp Funston and Professor and Mrs. O. W. Hunter.

Among the out of town guests for both the banquet and dance were Mr. Chauncey Veatch and Mr. Frank Veatch, Lieutenants Mosher, Jennings, W. Irwin, W. Fisher, Sandburn, and Capt. E. N. Wentworth of Camp Funston.

Mr. William Schmidt, sophomore in animal husbandry, went with the freshman basketball team to Lincoln, Neb., Friday.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Phi Epsilon was host to more than 250 guests at open house held at the chapter house Saturday afternoon and evening.

The house was decorated in mammoth ferns and foliage, with the fraternity colors, red and purple, interwoven. An orchestra from Camp Funston furnished the music.

Guests were received from three to nine, which included a stag at seven, given for fraternity men and a number of the faculty members.

In the receiving line were Miss Alice Skinner, Sigma Phi Epsilon house matron, Professor and Mrs. O. E. Reed, Doctor J. R. MacArthur, and the fraternity senior men. Many out of town guests were present.

Mr. E. MacGregor spent the week end at home in Topeka.

Mr. R. D. Everette of Camp Funston was a week end guest at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house.

Sigma Nu

Sunday dinner guests at the Sigma Nu house were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Alexander of Wichita, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Haymaker, Lieut. George P. Hewey, Lieut. T. Finger, Sergeant Jack Hughes and A. Quinlan of Camp Funston, and Mr. E. P. Burns of Chicago.

Week end guests were Mr. Clark Johnson, Mr. Arthur Stark, Mr. Harold Henry, and Mr. Dara Bramwell, all members of the Belleville basketball team.

Mr. Carl Miller spent the week end in Belleville.

Mr. E. L. Parnell spent the week end at his home in Lawrence.

Mr. Ellet Robinson spent the week end in Topeka.

Chi Omega

Chi Omega held formal initiation services Monday afternoon for Miss Edith Hall of Okmulgee, Okla., junior in home economics; Miss Margaret King of Manhattan, senior in home economics; Miss Nell Robinson of Manhattan, freshman in general science; Miss Bess Curry of Norton, special in music; Miss Frances Ford of Topeka, freshman in home economics, and Miss Alice Rice of Topeka, freshman in home economics.

A four-course dinner was served in honor of the new members following the initiation services.

Delta Zeta

Dinner guest Wednesday evening were Miss Alice Dawson, Miss Helen Crane, Miss Martha Webb, Miss Sara Herlick, Miss Muriel Gann, Miss Josephine Sullivan, Miss Gladys Hoff, man, Miss Adelaide Seeds, Miss Elizabeth Cotton, and Miss Mary VanDer-veer.

Mrs. J. B. Brickell and daughter Helen are guests at the Delta Zeta house until Captain Brickell can make arrangements for them at New Haven, Conn., where he has been transferred.

Astex

Mr. David Wooster went to Salina Thursday evening on a short business trip.

Mr. C. F. Reeves of Chicago was a week end guest at the Astex house.

Lieut. and Mrs. F. P. Root were dinner guests Friday evening.

Mr. Tibbitts and Mr. Cowl of Clay Center and Mr. and Mrs. Harbaugh of Minneapolis were guests at the Astex house Friday evening.

Mr. L. L. Luper spent the week end at the Astex house.

Shamrock

Among the week end guests at the Shamrock house were Lieut. C. O. Braden and Lieut. H. F. Jacobus of Camp Funston.

Mr. Dorey Deniston was a Sunday dinner guest.

Mr. Samuel Rothweiler of Elson visited his son Warren over the week end.

Mr. A. C. Hancock visited friends in Topeka Saturday and Sunday.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Week end guests at the Pi Kappa Alpha house were Lieut. George Chrisman and Lieut. Ralph Terry of Camp Funston and Mr. Charlie Insfield of Anthony.

Mr. Sherman Bell spent the week end at his home in Perry.

Mr. Merton Otto spent the week end in Riley.

Alpha Delta Pi

Miss Josephine Sullivan and Miss Greta Gramse spent the week end in Topeka.

Mrs. L. J. Johnson was a Wednesday dinner guest.

Miss Evangeline Casto will have as her guest this week her mother, Mrs. J. C. Casto.

Kedzie Hall. From 10-12 A. M. Any day.

Professor Snow presiding at a paper bedecked desk. Tables recklessly strewn with various model typewriters, copy paper, Journalism practice note books, pencils, Collegians, Industrialists, etc.

Professor Snow—"Attention everyone. William Giles is hereby appointed official sentry of the bulletin board by the door. It shall be the duty of Mr. Giles to point out all boneheads made by the students which might otherwise have been overlooked. I, myself shall escort any outsiders. NEXT—"

Enter Ruth Henderson.

Professor Snow—"You. What do you mean by leaving out a comma in that sentence?"

Ruth—"Well, Mr. Snow, I can't understand how you can give me an F for leaving out that insignificant little comma."

Professor Snow—"Well, Miss Shingledecker for four long years has never left out a comma and she has submitted stories to some of the biggest papers in Kansas. Well, you'll only get a P on that. NEXT—"

"By the way if you don't have your Industrialist stories in this week you'll get F's."

Much silence. Students take their two fingers off the typewriters and listen intently.

"Mr. Brewer—Where's Mr. Brewer? Hey, where's that basketball story you promised to have in early this morning for the Industrialist?"

Enter Mr. Bruce Brewer—nonchalantly. "Why, I have it. Aside (where on earth am I going to get it?)

Brewer gets busy.

Enter Miss Wollman.

Professor Snow—"Miss Wollman, that society of yours is punk. It lacks life."

Miss Wollman—"Well I put some scandal in it last time and the editor killed it."

Professor Snow—"We don't want scandal, we want live news. NEXT—Has everybody seen the bulletin board this morning? There's a new bonehead by Naudia Dunn. Mr. Giles, have a care, don't let any one miss it."

Enter Walter Nelbarger—with a 92 inch chest.

Professor Snow—"Ah, Mr. Nelbarger you are making a mark for yourself. You have broken more records than even Miss Wollman. At this rate you'll be Editor of the Pumpkinville Pickins some day."

Walter Nelbarger—"Pooh—I didn't have time to write much this week. But next week I'll do better Professor. Exit."

Enter Professor Crawford.

Professor Snow—"Do you know that boy is making a record in the world?"

Professor Crawford—"Yes, that's very true." Exit.

INTERMISSION

Enter Velma Carson.

Professor Snow—"Miss Carson, here's my grade book, have you time to count your F's?"

Velma Carson—"No I have a class in a couple hours."

Enter Mr. Moore.

Professor Snow—"Mr. Moore, I'll have to flunk you on general principles. So many F's are required."

Enter Hennie Enns.

Professor Snow—"Mr. Enns did you make a carbon copy of that basketball news? If you don't you'll get a flunk."

Attention everybody. If you don't have carbon copies of your news you'll all get flunks. Mr. Enns did you get that F I sent you thru the post office?

Be sure to cover your typewriters when you leave or you'll all get F's. Remember that your note books are due tomorrow. If they're not in on time you will all get F's.

Did you see the grades on the bulletin board? If you know where your names are alphabetically you can see where your F is. Now my student's last year made Es. There's Miss Shingledecker—etc."

Enter Mr. Medlin.

Professor Snow—"Mr. Medlin where's that story? You go by fits and starts, mostly fits."

The 12 o'clock whistle blows. There is a grand rush for the door.

Professor Snow—"Here Miss Wadley, come back and cover your typewriter. Everybody pick up the waste paper on the tables."

Exeunt.

RURAL SERVICE DEPT. BUSY

WALTER BURR DIRECTS WORK OF 12 STATE WAR CONFERENCES.

Aid from this Source Assists Kansas Communities to Co-operate in War Work as Units.

The rural service department of the extension division is devoting almost its entire attention to the organization of communities of the state for carrying out the war program.

Walter Burr, director of rural service, is secretary of the speakers' bureau of the state council of defense. Mr. Burr directed the work of 12 war conferences which were held in the state last week, March 3 to 10.

The speakers' bureau has obtained representatives from the food administration at Washington to aid in the campaign. Among the men who compose the two teams of three members each are Roscoe Mitchell and Russell Colby of the food administration. A third member of the party is R. L. Wilbur, first assistant to Herbert Hoover, food administrator. The two teams followed two routes, one in the northern, and one in the southern part of the state. Lieutenant Paul Perigord, French army officer at Camp Funston, worked back and forth between the two routes, and spoke at each meeting.

The purpose of the conference is to aid communities in carrying out locally the government plans for winning the war. Persons in the communities are being urged to co-operate and do war work as a community, forgetting politics, petty jealousies, and ambitions.

"This is not a time for farmers to adopt drastic measures to protect themselves as a class against other classes," says Mr. Burr. "Each community should have a central committee on war work and have a community program that will tally exactly with the state and federal program."

New Bill Today.

The new vaudeville bill, opening at the Marshall today, matinee, headlines "Echoes From Broadway," a song and dance revue. This is another of the "girl" acts which have proven so popular at the Marshall this season. Anderson and Anderson, novelty musicians, Cook and Hamilton, in songs and patter, and the Four Earls, sensational aerial artists, complete the vaudeville bill. A Keystone comedy, "A Shanghaied Jonah," and the latest Pathe News complete the new bill.

Miss Stella Strain, who completed her college course last semester, has been working in Dean Mary Pearce Van Ziles' office, left Friday of last week for St. Louis where she has accepted a position in a hospital.

Miss Bess Carlson of Clay Center spent the week-end in the city with Miss Geneva Alquist. She left yesterday for Kansas City.

Capt. E. N. Wentworth of Camp Funston attended the Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance Saturday evening.

Ivey Cleveland of San Antonio, Tex., got an honorable discharge from the army on account of large feet. A No. 14 was too small for him and that was the limit of size the government makes. Mighty expensive to have such feet at this time. Couldn't Cleveland have been utilized to walk on the water and detect submarine periscopes?—Osborne News.

Gillette Safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillettes
Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against. Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation. When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

Why do so many of Uncle Sam's Boys use the Gillette?

LET a man spend just one week in the Service—then give him free choice of all the makes of razors there are. He'll reach for the Gillette first, and hold on to it—every time. There's nothing like seeing the Gillette idea work out in the experience of thousands of men—under extreme conditions.

Here is the No Stropping, No Honing principle—tested and approved by millions of men in the world at peace.

The world goes to war. Millions of men spring to arms—and the one razor that survives the test of war conditions on a world-wide scale is the No Stropping, No Honing Gillette.

There isn't a regiment in the field today under any of the Allied Flags but numbers more users of Gillettes than of all other razors put together. There isn't a condition that a man could find in his shaving—heat, cold, sunburn, wind-chap, water scarce or bad—but has been met by the Gillette thousands of times in its nearly four years of war service.

The fighting man lives in his pack—every inch of space and ounce of weight taken up. The Gillette tucks away in the corner, or in his pocket—compact, complete, no stropps or hones to clutter up the kit—Blades always sharp, always ready—simple, strong, stands the wear and tear—weighs next to nothing—and No Stropping, No Honing.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGLIAN

VOLUME 24. NUMBER 47.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, KANSAS, MARCH 15, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

TO SELL BABY BONDS HERE

CAMPAIGN BEGINS MONDAY TO ORGANIZE WAR SAVINGS SOCIETIES IN THE COLLEGE.

Thrill Stamps are Purchased Until Enough are Bought to Buy a Baby Bond, When the Government Exchanges Bond for Stamps—Want Everyone In.

R. G. T.

During the past few months K. S. A. C. students, instructors and employees have been asked to give and have given without stint of their time and money to various causes in connection with the war. Now they are to be asked to help again, no less effectively, but in a different way. This time they are asked to make a wise investment—not a contribution.

At the request of the State Director P. W. Goebel, Vice President Willard has appointed a committee to conduct a War-Savings Campaign in the College. It is planned to enlist the interest and support of every one connected with the college. Everyone cannot buy Liberty Bonds, but there are few indeed who cannot purchase the Thrift card and begin the purchase of twenty-five cent Thrift stamps to fill them. Many who were not able to buy the Liberty Bonds can buy $5 stamps and start Baby Bonds, which mature January 1, 1923 with interest compounded quarterly at four per cent. The smaller Thrift Stamps when the card is full may be exchanged for the larger denomination.

Will Promote Economy.

The investor in these stamps is not only helping the government directly in a financial way by giving it the use of the large aggregate of these small sums, otherwise unavailable, by practicing the wise economy of expenditure involved in a continuous investment of this sort he is helping to keep all industrial effort centered on winning the war. Further the more nearly we succeed in getting some kind of a government security into the hands of every man, woman and child in the land, the more united will be our support of the cause. Two years ago England reached the point of selling five-shilling bonds to its people. Personally the investor is making the safest investment in the world from the financial standpoint as well as from the necessary training in practical economics he gets.

Purposes of Saving Societies.

The National War Savings Committees propose the organization throughout the country in schools, churches and industrial establishments of "War-Savings Societies." To quote the Committees' bulletin:

"The purposes of the War Savings societies are:

"1. To awaken a realization among the men, women, and children of America that in their hands lies the key to the successful prosecution of the war; that they can render the most far-reaching patriotic service through refraining from the purchase of unnecessary articles, confining themselves to the use of such things as are necessary for health and efficiency, thus releasing labor and materials for the support of our armies in the field; that there is not enough labor in the United States to produce the great variety of articles needed to support our soldiers and at the same time provide all the comforts and luxuries we enjoyed before the war.

"2. To lay the foundation for Thrift and economy throughout the United States and to bring home to the people the fact that intelligent and consistent saving is not a dry problem in economics, but is the most vital step toward personal success.

"3. To obtain for the government a large amount of money through the sale of Thrift Stamps, and War-Savings Stamps—little government bonds—the safest and best investment in the world, and at the same time provide a method by which the small investor may put his savings at the immediate service of his country. Members of War Savings societies pledge themselves to support the government by refraining from unnecessary expenditures, by systematic saving, and by obtaining new members."

Six Societies in College.

It is proposed to organize the college into six societies, one for each division, including the Division of Extension, and one for the School of Agriculture. Each society will include all students, teachers and employees connected with the particular division. Arrangements are to be made to have the stamps on sale on the campus. Students should watch the bulletin boards and posters for further announcements and for details. It is planned to open the active campaign next week. K. U. has already organized its societies and the active sale of stamps has begun.

It is suggested by the committee that active discussion and study of this question in all societies and organizations will go far to clear the way for a successful launching of the work.

MAY PLAY "OTHELLO" AT CAMP.

Funston Y. M. Has Asked for Shakespeare Production.

Plans are being made to give the play Othello at some of the Camp Funston Y. M. C. A. buildings. Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, has been asked by those in charge of entertainments at the camp to present the play to the soldiers.

FOOD SAVING UP TO WOMEN

Dean Van Zile Impressed With Need for Conservation.

The seriousness of the food situation and the responsibility of women toward it was impressed upon the mind of Dean Mary P. Van Zile while on her recent extended trip in the east, in connection with which she attended the United States Administration Conservation conference in Washington, D. C.

"Until the next harvest is available what America can send to her allies is represented by what she can save in her homes," said Dean Van Zile. "The next 60 days will be a critical period in that there is now no more than two thirds of the amount of food in the country than would be normally consumed between now and the next harvest."

"The most serious difficulties which present themselves in the food program are perhaps those of transportation both across country and across seas, and the lack of adequate milling facilities."

"Since there are many sections of the country, principally the congested city districts, that are already conserving to the extreme limit of health it will be necessary for other sections to make a larger conservation than the normal program requires. Kansas homes are in my judgment not among those who can and should make the larger conservation. It should not be considered a sacrifice but a privilege."

"I have in mind several definite plans which will be put into effect and published from time to time."

PLAN BOYS' AND GIRLS' WORK

Conference Held Here This Week to Thrash Out Problems.

A training school and conference for boys' and girls' club leaders and emergency home demonstration agents is being conducted at the college this week under the direction of Otis E. Hall and Miss Frances Brown of the extension division. The conference began Monday and will close tonight.

Each morning the home demonstration agents have met with Miss Brown and the club leaders with Mr. Hall, while in the afternoon joint sessions of club leaders and agents have been held. Questions relating to the organization, financing, and general management of rural clubs were discussed, and also rural work in which club leaders and home demonstration agents may cooperate to further food production.

T. J. Newbell, assistant leader of boys' and girls' club work in 33 northern and western states, has made talks on his experience as a national club leader, and Miss Marie Sayles, Washington, D. C., has related her work as a national home demonstration agent. Mrs. Mary Pierce Van Zile spoke Wednesday afternoon on "War Problems in Home Economics and Some Plans to Meet Them." H. D. Ross, state superintendent of public instruction, talked Tuesday afternoon on "War Problems in Public Schools and How They are Being Met by Teachers and Pupils."

Special demonstrations in the making of cottage cheese and home canning of fruits and vegetables were given Tuesday afternoon.

THREE BEST NUMBERS LEFT

OPERA AND DRAMA, BOTH BY STUDENTS, AND SEAGLE RECITAL REMAIN.

"Sergeant Kitty" has Love, Humor and Good Music, "Under Cover" Deals with Heavy Graft Problem and Premier Baritone is Third Attraction.

"Sergeant Kitty," "Under Cover," and the Oscar Seagle recital—the three big numbers of Festival Week—are all that remain on the program of the second K. S. A. C. week of music and drama.

"Sergeant Kitty" the number for Friday evening, is an unusually tuneful and joyous musical comedy from the French. It is full of unusual and perplexing events, and comical situations. The lines are full of humor, but the music is the great feature as the whole play is replete with good, catchy pieces.

To begin with, the cast was well picked. Miss Tetrick as Kitty LaTour makes a fetching French maiden, and when in uniform, an equally dashing and gallant young soldier. Howard O'Brien as Lucien Valliere, is quite an impetuous lover of Kitty. P. L. Mann and Miss Bess Curry as M. and Mme. Henri de Marillac, respectively, and S. M. Mitchell as a grouchy concatted general, all carry heavy parts pleasingly.

Graft in "Under Cover."

"Under Cover" is a mystery play, dealing with graft, crookedness, and all sorts of underhand work in connection with a smuggling plot enacted in the customs house at New York. The leads, Chester Brewer as Stephen Denby, and Miss Ernestine Elby as Ethel Cartwright are taking their parts exceptionally well. Lloyd Hamilton as star in "The Man on the Box," is Daniel Taylor, a deputy surveyor.

The play takes place in and near New York, and the scenery that has been secured was painted as an exact copy of the sets used in the original production. The action is fast, and there are no dull moments in the play.

Seagle a Real Artist.

Little needs to be said about the Oscar Seagle recital except that Seagle is considered by most critics as America's greatest baritone. He is a real artist, of democratic nature, and is thoroughly American in all his traits.

Seagle was born in the mountains of Tennessee, and it was there that he learned to know and appreciate human nature, and it was also there he learned to know the musical soul of the negroes. Mr. Seagle seldom appears on a program without singing some of the old negro spirituals that are so popular with him. In his recital here he will give a group of negro camp meeting songs arranged by the famous colored composer, H. T. Burleigh.

Three Numbers Pleased.

The concert given by the college orchestra Tuesday evening proved this year's organization to be on a par with K. S. A. C. orchestras of the past. Miss Katherine Kimmell and Mr. W. B. Dalton were much enjoyed by the audience in their solo numbers.

The two glee clubs gave a concert that pleased Wednesday evening. The more popular songs of the Apollo club, together with the cantata, "The Lady of Shalott," by the Saint Cecilia club, made a nicely balanced and unusually popular number. Miss Bess Curry was received heartily in her solo numbers.

In the faculty concert given Thursday evening, Miss Smith played some heavy compositions on the piano with the consummate grace of a real artist. The song cycle, "Morning of the Year" by the faculty quartet was judged unusually good. The solo work brought many commendations.

NATURE CALLED—THEY ANSWER

Freshmen Couldn't Resist Temptation to Steal Away from Class.

Spring fever has come again. Soon the call of the old swimmin' hole will be heard through the land.

E. A. Bauer, assistant professor of physical education, took a class in hygiene and social problems to a class room in the chemistry building last week. On account of the size of the class Professor Bauer decided to save time by checking the roll at the door. About the time he was safely stationed at the door a wise freshman noticed another door at the other side of the room.

The students—10 or 15 of them at least—filed in at one door, checked in, and as promptly filed out at the other. This door was shut by some accident, so the tide of feverstricken ones was diverted to the fire escape, which soon proved nearly as popular as the door.

THE WORK WAS DONE WELL

Red Cross Girls Turned Out More Dressings Than Expected.

The Red Cross organization of the college has just completed its first month of work with results that are quite creditable to the girls who are enrolled for Red Cross service.

During the past month 746 student hours of time have been spent in the work room and 14,957 dressings have been made. On an average of 189 to 190 girls help at the work room each week. Miss Pearl Brown, who is captain of the Thursday morning class has doubled the attendance of her workers during the month. Miss Mary Cumbaker, captain of the Wednesday afternoon class has the honor of completing the largest number of dressings. Miss Grace Dickman, captain of the Monday afternoon class has had the largest average attendance.

Other classes have made rapid strides in the past week and promise to furnish some competition for present records. There has been a gradual increase in the number of workers attending and in the amount of dressings made. It is the ambition of the girls to attain such efficiency that down town headquarters will be able to depend upon them for a certain amount of work each week.

The American Red Cross, Manhattan chapter, has two work rooms, one down town at the postoffice building and the other at the college in the domestic science building. The work room here is used exclusively by the college girls and the material is furnished and financed by the headquarters down town.

A special call has been sent out for small dressings. These will now be made by the girls until further instructions from headquarters.

A call for special surgical dressings is issued to the college girls. There is need for 2 by 2 inch wipes.

GOOD ART STUDY PROGRAM.

Miss Florence Hunt and Miss Gladys Bate to Talk.

Miss Florence Hunt, assistant professor in domestic art, will talk on the history of costume before the Art Study club Thursday, March 21, from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock in Room 67, Anderson hall.

Miss Gladys Bate, instructor of art in the grade and high school of the city, will give the current art magazine review for the club.

All persons interested in art are invited to attend the meetings of the club which are held every other Thursday afternoon.

BEGIN THEIR SECOND AFGHAN.

Alpha Deltas Want Yarn or Knitted Squares.

The girls of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority have begun to knit their second afghan for the Red Cross. Their first one was finished two weeks ago.

The afghans are made from scraps of yarn knitted into eight inch squares. The girls are not knitting this second one in the name of their sorority and would be glad to have help from anyone. They want either pieces of yarn or knitted squares ready to be set in.

MORE STUDENTS IN CLASS 5

TWENTY SENIOR AGRICULTURAL MEN MAY ENLIST AND CONTINUE COURSES.

Privileges Extended to Engineers are Extended to Men in Dean Jarline's Division—No List of the Eligibles is Prepared.

Approximately 20 senior students in the division of agriculture will be given permission to join the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the quartermaster's department, and will be allowed to continue their college work this year. This is the substance of a recent order issued by Provost-Marshal General Crowder.

The upper one-third of the students in the senior year who are pursuing courses in agriculture are affected by the ruling. A student recommended by the faculty of the division, upon enlistment in the reserve corps, will be placed in Class 5 by his local draft board, the regulations state.

No List Picked Yet.

The opportunity given senior agricultural students is similar to that offered to students in the division of engineering recently. The engineering faculty, however, was allowed to pick out one third of the students, irrespective of their class, while all the agricultural students must be senior men.

In the absence of President Jarline, who is dean of the division of agriculture, the faculty has made no provision for picking the students who are to be allowed to join the corps. Hugh Durham, assistant to the dean, said yesterday that it was probable that any list of eligible students would be published. Students who wish to take advantage of the offer will be considered individually.

"We have about 60 seniors," Mr. Durham said. "The 20 eligible men who will be recommended will include few who are not in the honorary agricultural fraternities."

General Crowder's Ruling.

The telegram sent by General Crowder to the governors of all the states follows:

"Please notify all local boards of the following amendments to section 151, Selective-Service Regulations. A subparagraph is added to paragraph (e), as follows:

"Under such regulations as the Quartermaster General may prescribe, students pursuing a course of agriculture, in the senior year, in land grant agricultural colleges, whose class standing places them in the upper third of the senior class as determined by the school authorities, may enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Quartermaster's Department, and thereafter, upon presentation by the registrant to his local board of a certificate of such enlistment, such certificate shall be filed with the Questionnaire and the registrant shall be placed in class 5 on the ground that he is in the military service of the United States."

"After the words 'Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Medical Department,' in line 2 of paragraph (f), add the words 'Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Quartermaster's Department.'"

CROWDER.

TELLS HOW TO FEED POULTRY.

College Specialist on a Second Trip Over the State.

R. M. Sherwood, poultry specialist in the department of extension schools and institutes, division of extension, is making his second trip over the state in the interest of 1918 poultry work.

The poultry campaign for the year as planned by Mr. Sherwood, will consist of five visits to each of the counties of the state which are engaged in cooperative poultry work. These counties are Harvey, Pawnee, Shawnee, Washington, Franklin, Wilson, Doniphan, and Nemaha. Farmers to cooperative with Mr. Sherwood have been chosen from among the farm bureau members in each county, one man from each of four communities in the county having been selected.

Mr. Sherwood spends two days in each county holding demonstration meetings at each cooperator's plant and discussing feeding methods and methods of handling chicks.

Clarence Davis is slowly recovering from pneumonia.

PROMINENT EDITOR WAS HERE.

T. S. Rose is on Staff of the Country Gentleman.

T. S. Rose, agricultural engineering editor of the Country Gentleman visited the college Wednesday morning. He is getting material for a series of articles on the tractor situation in Kansas and the southwest.

THE BAND PROGRAM PLEASSED.

But Crowd at Chapel Was Less Than Expected.

The college band played to a small but appreciative audience at chapel hour Monday.

R. H. Brown, director of the band, deserves a great deal of credit for bringing the band to its present strength as there are few veteran players left in the college this year. Added to this, the band has but one hour rehearsal each week. The drummers evidently learned a few new tricks from the professional drummers who played in the 351st Field Artillery band from Camp Funston.

The program was as follows, march, "The Victors," Elberts; "Coconut Dance," Herman; procession from "Queen of Sheba," Gounod; Idylle, "A Summer Evening in Hawaii," Wheeler; "Star Spangled Banner."

CHANGE THE CADET INSIGNIA

Government Requires Changes in R. O. T. C. Uniforms.

The insignia worn on the uniforms of the college cadets is to be changed for the insignia of the reserve officers' training corps, according to a statement issued by Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, commandant.

At the beginning of the semester all the men in the cadet corps signed up for the reserve officer's training corps and so this necessitates the change from the K. S. A. C. insignia now worn. These should be made by March 25. All the insignia can be obtained at the commandant's office.

The changes to be made are as follows, the cap insignia is to be replaced by the "R. O. T. C." and wreath. All buttons including those on the cap are to be replaced by regular army buttons. Two insignias will be worn on the collar. The letters "R. O. T. C." will be worn on each side of the collar one inch from opening. Five-eighths of an inch back of these insignia will be worn the letters "K. S. A. C."

The arm insignia of cloth in the form of a shield with the letters "R. O. T. C." worked on it, will be worn on the upper part of the left fore arm. The top of the shield will be eight inches from the buttons on the blouse. When the coat is not worn these insignia must be worn on the shirt.

In addition to these insignia the officers of the reserve officer's training corps will wear the plain silver disks to represent their rank.

TO DEBATE BAKER MARCH 23

Argument With Baker is First of Pentangular Series.

The first series of the annual Pentangular debates will be decided in the college auditorium Saturday March 23, when the Aggie affirmative team will meet the negative team of Ottawa university. The Aggie negative team will clash with Baker university at Baldwin. The question to be decided is whether or not the United States should adopt a responsible cabinet form of government, the constitutionality being waived.

"We had a squad of 16 men from which to choose the two teams, and the competition was of the most spirited kind," said Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English and coach of debate. "As a consequence we should have one of the scrappiest debates of the year."

The affirmative team is composed of K. D. Thompson, sophomore in agronomy, A. F. Swanson, junior in agronomy, Kenneth Shideler, sophomore in civil engineering, and Selbert Fairman, junior in mechanical engineering. The negative team is composed of C. O. Chubb, senior in general science, Samuel James, junior in agronomy, and H. I. Richards, sophomore in agronomy.

The second series of the Pentangular will be settled Saturday, April 13.

HUSKER FROSH ARE COMING

YEARLING TEAMS WILL BATTLE FOR FRESHMAN CHAMPIONSHIP OF VALLEY.

Fives Staged Two Close Battles in Lincoln Last Week, and are Expected to Fight Hard in Games Monday and Tuesday in Nichols Gym.

Fresh from their conquest of the Nebraska Husker freshmen in Lincoln last week, Coach "Germany" Schulz's Aggie yearlings are priming themselves for two real basketball encounters with the same five in Nichols gymnasium Monday and Tuesday evenings, when the freshman championship of the valley will be decided.

The Husker lads are coming to Manhattan for revenge. The games at Lincoln were close and hotly contested, the advantage swinging to the Manhattan five—because of Youngmeyer's consistent free throwing. The Stewart yearlings bagged one more goal than the Aggies in the first game, and came within one goal of the Purple field goal record in the second battle.

The two teams are expected to battle as freshman fives always do. Cooped up in their home gymnasium for an entire season, their only task being to fight daily against the Varsity teams, the yearlings are eager to meet up with new foes. And when the opportunity does come, a real pair of basketball games usually result.

A Big Crowd Wanted.

There is one requirement, though, that must be met, according to "Germany" Schulz. The pugnacious inclined Huskers will not be at their best, and the smooth-passing Aggies will not show their true form, if the gymnasium is not filled with whooping, howling Aggie rooters.

Schulz has a plan. Every Aggie must have a "date" he says. The problem of securing a lady companion for the evening may not prove formidable to many, but the Aggie coach is planning against emergencies, and offers to run a date exchange in the coach's office, and guarantee to get a good date for every man not able to get one for himself.

The big Tueton coach is depending on members of the freshman class for a part of the crowd.

"This is the freshmen's team, the coming team of next year, and every freshman not only should be there himself, but should drag a couple of rooters along with him," Schulz said yesterday.

Schulz Team Plays Well.

The Aggie yearlings are a well balanced crew. Both Youngmeyer and Bunker could land forward positions on many of the valley fives, dopedsters have said. Youngmeyer dropped 20 free throws through the iron ring at Lincoln out of 23 tosses, and was responsible for winning both games. Captain Jennings is an all-around player, being able to toss baskets, play the floor and guard. Cowell and Meeker are the Aggie guards.

The Nebraska team is not going to be outclassed, according to the dope Captain Bekins is a consistent goal-tosser, and the other members of the team play in whirlwind fashion. These games are the first regularly scheduled contests to be played in Manhattan.

Tickets are for sale by members of the freshman team and at the athletic office. There will be no reserved seats, so it will be a case of first come, first served. Admission is 25 cents.

NOT MUCH COAL TROUBLE HERE.

Kimball Carries Institutions Through Cold Period with Little Difficulty.

While other large institutions, such as the Ohio State university, had to close their doors because of fuel shortage in certain periods in the winter, the college got through without losing a day of work.

A. A. Potter, dean of engineering, commends highly the successful efforts of James A. Kimball, business manager of the board of administration, in obtaining coal for the college.

"At no time," commented Dean Potter, "were we in fear of a coal shortage. In spite of the extremely cold weather, we were able to give service 24 hours in the day instead of only from 7 o'clock in the morning to 9:30 at night as heretofore."

MERELY A GOOD INVESTMENT.

If the goose-stepping boches were landing in America, no true patriot would demur at giving 25 cents a week to repel the invader. It would be cheap, at that, wouldn't it?

But a mere 25 cents a week from every patriot may win this war, for fighting now has reached the stage where the side with the greatest preparations is going to come out ahead. "Food will win the war," says the Food administration. But what buys food? Money.

"Ships will win" is the slogan of the shipping corporation. But what must be behind the ships? Money.

"Men, men, send us men, and we'll win," comes from overseas. But again money is needed, for munitions, food and fighting men can not be secured without it.

Uncle Sam is undertaking the most colossal war program any nation ever has outlined. Every ounce of the nation's energy is needed to make the project a success.

The 25 cents a week that Aggie students are to be asked to pay into Uncle Sam's coffers are not donations. The thrift stamps, later to be exchanged for baby bonds, represent as good a paying investment as a man can hope for.

No don't fool yourself—the basketball season isn't over.

Monday and Tuesday nights two scrapping yearling fives—one from the University of Nebraska and the other, "Germany" Schulz's own—are going to scrap and scrap and scrap.

Last week in Lincoln these teams met. For interest, excitement and real basketball, the games excelled those played by the two Varsity fives. Real games they were, just as the ones next week are to be.

As to Hash.

Ill fares the land, to hastening ills the prey,
Where hash accumulates and beans dismay;

Deans and profs may flourish or may fade,
A hash can make them, as a hash has made;

Such is Life!

Now it is that naughty men
Do seek the corner windy days
And from that shelter, then
Do rudely gaze and gaze and gaze

But soon will come the gentle Spring
The sun will bring them on the run
And with a bold and brazen grin
They'll calmly gaze against the sun.

The latest real joke we have heard is the assertion that the Ladies' Home Journal is consumed mostly by men.

It's all right to say only one thing at a time, but you don't want to take too long a time.

An Honest Coed Wondered Why the Folks All Stared

She looked like an honest girl, but still every one eyed her with suspicion as she walked nonchalantly in the direction of main hall. She noticed these disapproving glances and in true feminine fashion began to look down at her immaculate coat and trim skirt to see if any thing was wrong. Not seeing anything out of order there, she felt her hair and on top of her hat to discover if the object of all these glances were located thereabouts. Nothing doing!

On through main hall and to the chemistry building she went, wondering what was the matter with her apparel, for persons passing would look at her, then look again, and then nudging other persons with them, would smile and go on.

The co-ed was terribly worried. Nothing like this had ever happened to her before. She was not used to being the butt of rude jokes of the populace. Common things. After all, what did she care! Nothing was wrong with her. There couldn't be. She had spent a solid hour on her toilet, and there could be a-b-s-o-l-u-t-e-l-y nothing the matter.

When she walked into the class room it all happened over again. The exasperated co-ed was ready to cry with annoyance. A girl on the front seat put an end to her worries by saying with a sympathetic smile.

"Have you been robbing the cafeteria, Emmy?"

"Robbing the cafeteria!" was the astonished response.

"Yes, dear, look in your lefthand pocket."

She looked, and there she found a bright, shiny table knife, suspiciously like those used in the cafeteria.

"Heavens!" was her only comment.

O me! O my! my rheumatiz,
This awful dretful chilly place—
If I aint het up, pretty soon
I'll have neuralgia in my face.
This here livin' with' your kin
Ain't what its put up to be—
I wish I had some nice old man
To give me love and sympathy.

The young girls never seem to think I might be sad and lone
They rattle the piano,
Joke their fellers on the phone—
I wish I had some nice old man
Who'd call and talk to me,
Couldn't understand him though—Hearin' aint what it used to be.

And the way the young girls dress!
It's an awful sight to see.
Nobody ever saw such Outlandish things on me.
And yet I always look right pert
And sensible and neat.
I wish I knew some nice old man
To tell me I looked young and sweet.

Yes things is sartin different Than what they used to be
I wish I had some nice old man
To give me love and sympathy.

Anyone can make good time in a short sprint. It's the long run that tests the mettle.

Considering everything, women are more nearly angels than men. They make better grades. In fact everyone knows the Omicron Nu will average highest when the grade averages come out in a few days. Also women have complexions—men have hides. Neither do women smoke cigarettes or drink booze as much as men do. Women even go to church more than men. So if the men wear an evening gown when they approach the pearly gates, St. Peter would probably let them by with much less suspicion. Whoever heard of a man angel anyway? Men may go to heaven, but they don't get to fly around and have a good time like the women do.

If Little Lambs
Do Not Appear?

Suspicion is aroused in the hearts of the cub reporters of The Collegian. Not suspicion exactly, but aspiration. To explain—for several years past the youngsters are wont to pun "gamboling" stories on the innocent little lambs that enjoy the herbage of the campus in the spring.

Already about 40 of these latter little creatures are now waiting for themselves and grass to reach sufficient size to make their debut. However—this year they will be quite patriotic and no doubt will be capricious but will engage in no pastime wherein a wager is operative. Because of this change perhaps something new must be written if the lamblings appear—elsewhere than on the campus.

IS OUR NATION CHRISTIAN?

1. What is Christianity?

1. Is it an experience, a point of view, a theory, a creed or collection of formulas, or a practice?
2. Is its spirit summed up in the statement: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself?"
- (a) How are we to understand this statement?
- (b) What is meant by 'love' in this passage?
- (c) Can we 'love' our enemies?
- (d) What is the Golden Rule? Is it practicable?

What effect upon society would be produced by a universal acceptance of the Golden Rule?

- (i) How would it affect K. S. A. C. students?
- (ii) How would it affect Kansas farmers?
- (iii) How would it affect American business?
- (iv) How would it affect American Politics?
3. What relation is there between Service and Sacrifice on the one hand and Christianity on the other?
4. What relation is there between the Golden Rule and the War?
- (a) Are love and force incompatible?
- (b) Is God a God of love only?
- (c) Is he not also a just God?
- (d) What is the relation between love and justice?
- (e) In our first discussion we have concluded that this is a just war. That being the case, can we not harmonize our entrance into it and our conduct of it with the Golden Rule? Explain how you would do it.

II. Is America a Christian Nation?

1. What is a Christian Nation?
2. What percentage of Americans are members of churches?
3. What percentage of Americans are avowedly opposed to Christianity?
4. Are the majority of Americans indifferent to Christianity? If so can we call this country Christian?
5. What arguments can we advance to prove that America is a Christian nation?
6. Can we say that in following the Christians principles of sacrifice and service, America is a Christian nation?

SCHOOL OF AG

Thurman Schooler was called to Kawatha to take the physical examination, March 11.

Miss Eunice Nicolay was absent from her classes Wednesday on account of illness.

Miss Josie Long, former student in the school of agriculture, who works in the business office, went to Kansas City, Mo., Friday to spend the week end with relatives.

Nelson Brooks of the second year school of agriculture has withdrawn from school and will return to his home in Winfield.

The school of agriculture was defeated by Manhattan highs in a closely contested basketball game at the college gymnasium the score being 19 to 16.

The school of agriculture basketball team was late in entering the tournament which was held here Friday and Saturday, so it did not play Friday afternoon. Friday night it played the Riley county team and was defeated 19 to 16. Two of the school of agriculture men were disqualified and two substitutes were used.

The Philomathian and Lincoln Literary societies will each appoint a committee of three to act as entertainment committee for the mixer, which will be held the last of this or the first of next month. John Brownrigg of the graduating class is the chairman. School of agriculture students are asked to give suggestions to him.

H. N. Bradley of Shields, who attended the school of agriculture last year is now studying to be a railroad mail clerk.

Edith Riley of Piedmont graduate student of the class of '17 of the school of agriculture, is teaching at Eureka.

D. R. Stanley, senior in the school of agriculture, has been confined to his room the last few days with the mumps.

H. G. Bryson, second year school of agriculture, spent the week-end at home.

Glenn Petts, second year school of agriculture, has returned to his home in Detroit to help his father on the farm.

The students in farm writing sent stories to their home paper last week. The material which was supposed to have been upon some timely and interesting farm subject, was obtained from interview with a member of the faculty.

Journalist Finds That Cooking and Writing Are Unlike

Probably a co-ed journalist is not supposed to brave the wilds and enroll in a cooking class, even at a freshman cooking class.

However, something of the sort always happens and the journalist who decided that she would like to investigate some of the mysteries of the art, found herself in a big class surrounded by numerous co-eds of the domestic science type. The majority of them 'just naturally' knew a bit about the kitchen and its ways and the rest had 'taken cooking in high school.'

The first day of adventure in the shiny cooking laboratory among the white aprons, ended beautifully. The one in doubt had but to wait until the cooking receptacles called for in the notes had been extracted from the desks and cupboards by her sisters in domestic science and then follow suit.

But a busier day arrived when every cook had to do more than one thing at a time. Among other concoctions the co-ed journalist was required to prepare—potato nests with creamed peas. The potato was peeled and cooked. And then it was that from the mashed potato that the nest was to be made.

The construction of the latter greatly worried the co-ed in the strange land. The instructor suggested that she take the spatula. Fishing around among the utensils she found a small wooden paddle. But the potato would stick to the paddle and again the aid of the instructor was sought. "Why do you not use the spatula?" inquired the one in charge.

"Why, I am; what isn't that a spatula—well I thought—"

The stranger was again left alone. Her partner was busy following the instructions of another recipe. The potato nest was finished and brushed over with egg, following orders, and placed in the oven to brown. However it refused to brown and acted up by puffing up in the center. Instead of browning it became a bright yellow. When the potato cup was ready to be transferred to another dish for serving the bottom of it remained on the plate in which it was cooked. Still hopeful, the co-ed obtained the assistance of her partner and together they succeeded in replacing the bottom.

This was hastily then filled with the creamed peas, which were garnished with bright red pimento, in order to cover up any defects which the teacher might unearth. According to rules the potato preparation was to be served while hot so the co-ed saw that, it was her duty to ask for inspection of her product.

"First of all," critically remarked the Inspector, "what do you think of the color scheme?" The journalist knew that wasn't very good—very bright yellow for the potato, and unusually bright red for the pimento.

"This should have been a delicious brown—not that yellow. And then the nest should have been deeper—you see how much of a serving of creamed peas she one you have made would contain? And—and—and—"

"Well I'm glad she didn't find out about the bottom too signed the co-ed journalist as the instructor passed on to do inspection at the next desk.

BIG HOME ART EXHIBIT HERE.

Designs by Students in Eastern Schools on Display.

Representative examples of color and design from prominent art schools of the east are being shown by the home art department of the college.

The exhibit includes designs for table silverware, furniture, and carvings executed by students, columns and arches from the department of architecture, cover designs in black and water color, wall paper designs—original and adapted from nature, and original designs for silks, velvets, and tapestries.

A feature of the display is the water color work from Pratt Institute, strong though soft in coloring, and the designs for tile mosaics, and colored glass from the Pennsylvania Museum School of Industrial Arts.

The schools represented are Pratt Institute, the Pennsylvania Museum School of Industrial Arts, the School of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and the Rhode Island School of Design.

MAY COME TO HORSE MEAT

SCARCITY OF BEEF MAY CAUSE SUBSTITUTION.

Many Horses Now Nearly Useless Could be Utilized, Doctor McCampbell Says.

Have you tasted horse meat? If not, you may have an opportunity before the close of the world war.

Use of horse meat by the people of the United States is increasing rapidly despite a widespread sentiment against its use for human consumption, pointed out Dr. C. W. McCampbell, associate professor of animal husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural college. Investigations have shown that the patrons of horse meat shops belong to the middle classes rather than to the lower classes as many persons think.

"Horse meat retails for half the price of beef and is palatable, wholesome and nutritious," said Doctor McCampbell. "It can scarcely be distinguished from beef by the average buyer and it is interesting to note that those who have once tried horse meat become regular customers."

"Horse meat is used extensively throughout many countries of Europe but butcher shops handling horse meat have been established but a short time in the United States. The first of these shops were opened at Portland and Brooklyn. In a short time others were opened in Cincinnati, St. Louis, Toledo, and many other large cities.

"The latest shops to open are those of Omaha, and in the near future horse meat will probably be sold throughout the country.

"Besides furnishing a cheaper kind of wholesome meat, these markets offer an outlet for the small horses with which the country is overstocked, and for which there is no commercial demand."

PLAN BIG VEGETABLE DRIVE

College Greenhouse Will Supply All State Institutions.

There will be a big drive on vegetables this spring at the college greenhouse according to H. A. Pratt, foreman of the greenhouse. The college greenhouse will furnish all the state institutions with vegetables and necessarily much of the space formerly given over to flowers will be taken up by vegetables. Most of the tomatoes and cabbages have been planted although some of the seeds have not arrived. Later on peppers, cauliflower and celery will be planted.

The seeds have been planted by two different methods. The one method is to put the seeds in a large seed bed as is commonly done. The other is to plant them in flat boxes, 14 by 15 inches. The only advantage of the box method is that the seeds are much easier taken care of. The students in the market gardening classes have done some of the planting.

SENIORS AND FRESH AHEAD.

The first games of the girls basketball tournament resulted in victories for the seniors and the freshmen.

The game between the seniors and the sophomores was a real battle with the score 9 to 5 for the seniors at the end of the first half. The seniors got together in the second half, winning by a great spurt. The final score was 18 to 9. The stars of the game for the seniors were Boyle and Spring; and for the sophomores Harbaugh.

The freshmen had everything their way in the game with the juniors, and were never once threatened. The freshmen have a team that looks like a winner. They showed some team work and the final score showed them easily ahead by a 13 to 2 score. Baird and Captain Chapin for the freshmen and Nichols for the juniors were the stars.

TO ASK FOR Y. W. WORKERS.

Funston Secretary to Speak to Girls Next Week.

"Do you wish to do Y. W. C. A. Work during the Summer of 1918?" This is the question which Miss Winnifred Wygal, secretary of War Work for Camp Funston vicinity, will ask college girls at a meeting to be held Friday afternoon, March 22, in the domestic science building. Miss Wygal will speak at 5 o'clock at a time when there are no classes.

TOPEKA WOMAN TO TALK.

Society Editor of State Journal a Seminar Speaker.

Miss Bertha Hemstead, society editor for the Topeka State Journal, will talk to journalism students in Seminar Monday.

FUND RAISED FOR ROSS FAMILY.

Students and Aggieville Merchants to Help Raise Mortgage.

Students and merchants of Aggieville are being asked this week to contribute to a fund to pay off the $600 mortgage on the home of Marion Ross, the Aggieville policeman who was murdered in the city park Sunday afternoon.

J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics, is heading the college movement, and has secured large contributions from the students. J. E. DuBois, senior in agronomy has charge of the student side of the fund. Boxes have been placed in Kittell's store and in Harrison's confectionery, and students who wish to help are asked to leave their money in these boxes.

EDITS FARM AND FIRESIDE.

Aggie Man is Paid $3,600 a Year—Was a Collegian Editor.

A copy of Farm and Fireside, one of the leading farm publications of the country, has been received by friends of Harry Ziegler, '18, who now is managing editor of that publication. Ziegler jumped from editor of The Collegian to his present position, paying him $3,600 a year, in four years. He is a graduate of the journalism course.

TO HAVE FROSH-SOPH AFFAIR.

Classes Will Agree Upon a Date Soon.

The freshmen and sophomore classes have voted to have the annual sophomore-freshman "pop" mixer. Committees have been appointed and the dance is planned for sometime during the first of April.

ENTERS THE AVIATION SERVICE.

Short Course Student has Enlisted as a Mechanic.

H. E. Wood, who finished the second year short course this spring, has been accepted as a mechanic in the aviation corps. He left Wednesday for the aviation field at San Antonio, Tex.

Walters Preparing a Pamphlet.

J. D. Walters, professor of architecture emeritus, is working on a pamphlet of three room country school houses for the consolidated districts of Kansas.

WANTED—Several energetic young men and women to do conservation work during the next summer vacation. $90.00 per month and up, paid those who qualify. Applicants should phone or send names and addresses to Collegian office.

CONTRIBUTES TO SYMPOSIUM

Dean Potter Will Write on "Technical Research" for War Book.

A. A. Potter, dean of engineering in the college, has been invited to contribute to a symposium on "Reconstruction," in the course of preparation by the council of National defense. Dean Potter is to write on "Technical Research."

The symposium will make a book of about 80,000 words, to be published late in the spring. It is realized by the council that, as the war must ultimately end, a careful study should now be made of internal problems which are likely to arise when that time comes. England, France, and Germany have made investigations and published results along this line.

The book that is to be published in this country will take up the experience of other nations, the relations of capital and labor, peace uses of war plants, conservation of natural resources, scientific management, transportation, international commerce and the tariff, the free port, technical research, and other subjects.

Among the contributors will be, in addition to Dean Potter, Elsie M. Friedman, Clifford Pinchot, Frank A. Vanderlip, Dr. Erwin A. Clapp, Professor Irving Fisher, Senator Robert L. Owen, Commissioner Frank W. Taussig, F. H. Sisson, and Alexander D. Noyes.

PROMINENT SPEAKER MONDAY.

Doctor Chapman Noted Through East as Aggressive Speaker.

Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman of Philadelphia, moderator for the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in America, will address the students in chapel next Monday morning.

"Doctor Wilbur holds the highest office in the Presbyterian church," said J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics. "He is described as a magnetic speaker and will discuss some of the problems growing out of the war."

Jess Pugh, professor of public speaking in the Horman Institute of Fine Arts, Kansas City, will give a miscellaneous program of readings and monologues at general assembly Monday, March 25. The humor of Professor Pugh is said to be irrefragable.

LEAVES COLLEGE FOR BUSINESS.

Chemistry Instructor Accepts Position in Commercial Work.

Another member of the teaching staff in the chemistry department has gone into commercial work. Virgil Smiley, instructor in chemistry, has accepted a position with the National Carbon company. He will take up research work with this firm which has been doing a large amount of war work. After April 8 Mr. Smiley will be located at the company headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio.

NEW OFFICES FOR DR. WILLARD.

Vice-President Will Have New Apartments in Anderson Hall.

The old custodian's offices, which have been occupied by the Rev. Walter Burr, director of rural service in the extension division, are to be remodeled into offices for the use of Dr. J. T. Willard, vice president of the college.

The old offices will be divided into three rooms, the first for the use of Doctor Willard as dean of the general science division, the second as the office of Doctor Willard as vice president of the college. The third room in the rear will be a private office. A glass partition will separate this room from the middle one.

The fire equipment which is kept in a small building at the north end of Anderson hall probably will be moved to the southeast corner of the general repair building.

Prepare to Work for Uncle Sam.

Teachers who wish to prepare for a Civil Service position may start in now on all or a part of the course by mail and then come to Manhattan Business College and finish as soon as their schools close. Write or phone Manhattan Business College, Manhattan, Kansas. Phone 64.

FEATURE AN IRISH PROGRAM.

Ionians to Honor St. Patrick's Land Saturday.

An "Irish" program will be given by the Ionian Literary society Saturday at the Hampden hall in Nichols gymnasium. Visitors are welcome.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR APRIL 5

DATE IS SET FOR ANNUAL PROM GIVEN BY THE THIRD YEAR STUDENTS.

Bob Hargis is Chairman of Committee to Stage the Affair—Other Committees are Appointed to Look After Details—Class Meeting Tonight.

The junior-senior prom will be held April 5. Bob Hargis, as chairman of the social committee has appointed the committees who in the coming three weeks will work toward making it one of the big affairs of the year.

The committees in charge, however do not plan on making the prom as elaborate as in former years. More emphasis will be placed in the farce and the entertainment than on the decorations and refreshments. Owing to war conditions the juniors held no social affair during the first semester.

If every junior pays the regular class dues it may not be necessary to levy a special assessment, according to Mr. Hargis. The committees are making estimates on the approximate cost of the prom and will report at class meeting Tuesday night. The juniors will meet in F 3 at 7 o'clock.

The committees and their members follow:

Social—Bob Hargis, chairman, Claude Hutto, Louis Rochford, Gordon Hamilton, Sarella Herrick, Betty Cotton, Ruby Roberts.

Decorations—Gordon Hamilton, chairman, Louis Rochford, Grace Lightfoot, Phyllis Burt, Charles Church, Carol Barringer, J. B. Angle, E. F. Whedon, N. J. Anderson.

Reception—Bruce Brewer, chairman, Velma Carson, Carol Barringer, Betty Cotton, Raymond Spangler.

Musical—Harold Nixon, chairman, Charles Church, R. D. MacGregor.

Program and Invitation—George Blair, chairman, William Giles, Ruth Blair, Carol Barringer, Velma Carson, Callie Jansson.

Date—Homer Cress, Hobart Fairman, Pearl Milner, Stanley Smith, Vera Samuels.

Refreshment—Vera Olmstead, chairman, Gusie Johnson, Sarella Herrick, Bruce B. Brewer.

Entertainment—Claude Hutto, chairman, Grace Lightfoot, F. D. MacGregor, Sarella Herrick, Selbert Fairman, Adelaide Seeds, Ivan White.

Floor Arrangement—John Clark, chairman, Cliff Myers, Clarence Hyslop, Hazel Taylor, O. W. Hinshaw.

Farce—Velma Carson, chairman, Rose Thomas, William Giles, Howard O'Brien, Sara Chase, John Clark, Ruth Moore.

OR PERHAPS A LAMB'S TALE.

Student in English Literature Class Confused.

The class was criticizing Charles Lamb. Someone put the question as to whether Charles' sister wasn't crazy a good bit of the time, which accounted for his gloomy life.

"I think Charles must have been off himself," asserted one explorer in the realms of literature. "I read one which was absolutely irrational."

"What sort of a story was it?" asked the teacher.

"I don't just remember," replied the other innocently, "but I think it was a fairy story."

LAND IN KANSAS FARMER.

Two Journalism Students Write for Farm Magazine.

Miss Sara Chase, senior in industrial journalism, has an article "An Ideal Community Center" published in the last edition of the Kansas Farmer.

The same publication contained an article by Miss Estel Wollman, freshman in industrial journalism, three weeks ago. Miss Wollman's article was on "Summer Methods Win."

HIS TEAM WON BIG NINE TITLE.

Former Aggie Athletic Director now a Badger Coach.

Guy S. Lowman, former Aggie coach, is said to be making good in Wisconsin. Coach Lowman was elected head coach with the title of Professor of physical training.

Professor Lowman coached basketball this season, and his team finished in first place in the Big Nine league. This spring he expects to coach the baseball team.

SOCIETIES PLAY TO SOLDIERS.

Programs to be Given at Funston Have Been Planned.

Through the rural service department of the extension division, literary societies of the college have arranged to give programs at Camp Funston for the entertainment of the soldiers.

The Browning Literary society will make the rounds of the Y. M. C. A. zones on the evenings of March 23 and 25 with a miscellaneous program of music and stunts.

The Athenians are planning a program, the dates for which have not been arranged. The Alpha Beta Literary society is preparing a play to be given within two weeks.

Societies wishing to plan entertainments with the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Funston may arrange to do so through the Rev. Walter Burr of the rural service department.

ROUGH NECKS RULE CAMPUS.

Students All Loyal in Observation of The Idea.

The third annual "lucky day" celebration was held on the college hill Saturday, the occasion being the observation of the Idea of March.

"Roughneck day" slipped upon the students and very little mention was made of any intention of remembering the nature of the day until notices were posted recalling the Aggie meaning of The Idea. Word was evidently passed around to the freshmen concerning the embarrassments in store for those who neglected to appear on the hill bright and early in proper attire. It was still doubtful as to just how many would get the spirit of the day, until after the first hour.

Early in the morning scarcely a dozen girls appeared in costume, but after meeting a few coeds in fantastic array the others hurried to respective rooms to "doll." The slacker, who came out as civilians met with the usual punishment and furnished more than the usual entertainment. Main hall was the center of attraction and here the profs frequently came to look on.

The student chapel, called for fourth hour, drew a record attendance and brought out the biggest amount of "pep" displayed during the year. The parade which followed left the campus practically deserted, the class rooms empty and the profs lonesome.

Although the afternoon was not as eventful as the morning, numbers of "Roughnecks" were still in evidence. The day ended peacefully when the last man carried back his borrowed "duds."

BOOKS BEGIN COMING IN TODAY.

Boy Scouts to Make Canvass of City Saturday.

Books for the soldiers began coming in at the city library today. It was learned this afternoon. Beginning today and continuing throughout the week will be conducted the big book drive for the soldiers. Saturday the Boy Scouts of Manhattan will visit the houses of the city to gather up books that may be contributed. They will be accompanied by members of the commercial club with their automobiles.

The day ended peacefully when the last man carried back his borrowed "duds."

GIRLS PLAY AGAIN WEDNESDAY.

Second Round of Basketball Tourney Scheduled.

The second series of the girls' basketball tournament will be played Wednesday at 4:30 o'clock in the large gymnasium. The senior-freshman game is expected to be hotly contested since these teams were the victors in the first series which was played last Wednesday afternoon. The sophomores will play the juniors.

The day ended peacefully when the last man carried back his borrowed "duds."

ARMY INSPECTOR IS HERE

MAJOR TERRELL CONDUCTS YEARLY REVIEW OF LAND-GRANT COLLEGES.

Yesterday the Battalions Drilled, and Field Work May be on the Program Today—College Has Won the Distinguished Institution Ring Abroad.

The college cadets are striving today to prove to Maj. Fred B. Terrell, U. S. A., that the establishment of a branch of reserve officers' training corps at this college was not a mistake. Major Terrell is the regular army officer detailed to inspect the student officers at land-grant colleges this spring.

It was not known until late Saturday that the inspector was coming. No extensive preparations could be made for the entertainment of the distinguished visitor, and he is seeing the cadets yesterday and today just as they normally are.

Formal Inspection Yesterday. Inspection began yesterday afternoon. Major Terrell conducted the formal inspection at 3:30 o'clock, and then asked that the two battalions perform. Battalion drill, calisthenics and bayonet exercises were a few of the events included in the afternoon's drill.

No announcement has been made as to what work will be taken up today. However it is thought probable that practical field maneuvers will be on the program, as inspectors of former years always have insisted on watching the cadets work out a field problem, or engage in a sham battle.

Routed Dummy Enemies. Two years ago a complicated maneuver in which one company, supported by the machine gun company, worked its way into an advantageous position and riddled dummy soldiers with bullets so pleased the visiting officer that the college was accorded first place among all the distinguished institutions in the country. Real bullets were used in the attack on the cardboard soldiers, who were entrenched at the rifle range.

Last year an equally good showing was made, it is said, but because the college had not then been granted a branch of the r. o. t. c. no distinguished college rating was given.

The student chapel, called for fourth hour, drew a record attendance and brought out the biggest amount of "pep" displayed during the year. The parade which followed left the campus practically deserted, the class rooms empty and the profs lonesome.

HELP FARMERS WITH FINANCES

College Aids in Making Out Income Returns.

The college is cooperating with the State Relations service of the United States Department of Agriculture in placing before the farmers of the state instructions concerning the application of the national income tax law.

This work is being supervised by P. E. McNall of the farm management department of the extension division. Mr. McNall is holding meetings for the purpose of discussing the tax law as it affects the farmer's income. The principal meetings are being held in cooperation with the bankers in the communities visited.

A farmers' account book, suitable for the keeping of farm accounts has been arranged by the farm management department and 42,000 copies are ready for distribution among the farmers.

OSCAR SEAGLE HERE THURSDAY.

Was Unable to Be Here Sunday Afternoon.

Oscar Seagle, the famous baritone, who was to give a song recital at the college auditorium Sunday afternoon as the final number of the festival week program, was unable to appear because of a severe case of throat trouble. Mr. Seagle is now in the hospital at Kansas City, but expects to be at the college auditorium Thursday night to give his program as scheduled. He cancelled a recital in Chicago which he was to give Wednesday night in order that he might fulfill his engagement here. A. E. Westbrook, professor of music at the college, states

WRITES A MAGAZINE ARTICLE.

J. B. Marcellus, drainage and irrigation engineer, was the author of the article "Irrigation by Pumping Can be Made Possible in Kansas" in the Engineering and Contracting for March, 1918.

MAKE 6400 SURGICAL DRESSINGS.

Attendance and Efficiency of Red Cross Workers Gradually Increases.

A new record for surgical dressing work was made at the Red Cross room last week, 6,400 having been completed.

The Wednesday morning class stands first in the number of dressings, 1018 made by 19 workers. The Friday afternoon class averaged more dressings per member. There were eight members who together finished 542 pieces. The Monday afternoon class is accredited second place, having completed 691 dressings. This division has the largest attendance.

The type of Red Cross dressings to be made in the work room will be changed next week.

Miss Harriet Tuller of Alma spent the week end in Manhattan visiting college friends.

FROM AN AGGIE IN FRANCE

R. A. Shelley Is in Uncle Sam's Air Service.

Dean A. A. Potter recently received a letter from R. A. Shelley, '15, mechanical engineering, who is in air service in France.

"Your kind letter of December enclosing Christmas greetings was received, a little late due to the distance between us but nevertheless welcome. At the same time a letter from Professor Seaton with a list of former mechanical engineering students. It is very nice to have such a list in my possession and I am certainly glad to see so many lieutenants and captains after their names."

"If you will kindly inform Professor Seaton of a change in my address I will appreciate it. Change it to Air Service, A. E. F., France."

"When I will see real fighting at the front is, of course, an unknown quantity, but I am like most of the Americans in France now anxious to get into it. It is certain that this war is a terrible thing and probably will continue for some time, but it is just as certain that we will come out on top and when that time does come we will all be mighty glad to get back to the states and the STATE, but of course not until that time comes."

Dean Potter in replying to this letter told Mr. Shelley of the election of Dr. W. M. Jardine as president, and of Prof. R. A. Seaton's entering military service. He also mentioned the 200 former students and members of the faculty who are now in service.

The student chapel, called for fourth hour, drew a record attendance and brought out the biggest amount of "pep" displayed during the year. The parade which followed left the campus practically deserted, the class rooms empty and the profs lonesome.

Although the afternoon was not as eventful as the morning, numbers of "Roughnecks" were still in evidence. The day ended peacefully when the last man carried back his borrowed "duds."

HEAP HONORS ON MELCHERS.

Botany Head Prominent in Plant Pathology Work.

A prominent part in the state plant pathologists meeting held at Lincoln, Neb., March 19-20 will be taken by L. E. Melchers, acting head of the plant pathology department.

Professor Melchers has been asked to meet with the water emergency board of American Plant Pathologists at the University of Nebraska.

The entire United States has been divided into four districts and it is the intention of the various districts to map out the most important work pertaining to the plant diseases of all crops. The work will be divided into different projects in plant diseases which are of importance and need investigation to eliminate the losses caused by plant diseases. Each state will arrange to carry out a cooperative scheme by which the state problems will receive more thorough attention. The states represented will be North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Missouri, and probably Oklahoma.

In addition, Professor Melchers has been asked by the members of the office of plant disease survey of the United States department of agriculture to draw up a plan for the survey of economic diseases of crops for this state. A recent example of the work done by this department was a state wide campaign on the eradication of smut in barley and oats. A large number of demonstrations were held in the state. The farmers took it up readily and more oats and barley have been treated the last season than ever before in the state. Men were sent here by the government and Professor Melchers gave them specific directions as to methods advocated for smut prevention. The division of extension scheduled the meetings.

The student chapel, called for fourth hour, drew a record attendance and brought out the biggest amount of "pep" displayed during the year. The parade which followed left the campus practically deserted, the class rooms empty and the profs lonesome.

ENDED A SUCCESSFUL WEEK

"SERGEANT KITTY" AND "UNDER COVER" TWO PLEASING FESTIVAL NUMBERS.

Students Took Parts and Acted Well in the Two Difficult Plays—Oscar Seagle Recital Postponed Until Thursday Because of Singer's Illness.

Two pleasing student productions, "Sergeant Kitty," a comic opera, and "Under Cover," a drama, rounded out the well-chosen and well-rendered Festival Week program Friday and Saturday evenings. The last number of the series, a recital by Oscar Seagle, baritone, which was scheduled for Sunday, has been postponed until Thursday because Mr. Seagle is suffering from a severe attack of laryngitis.

"Under Cover," staged Saturday night by the Purple Masque honorary dramatic fraternity, scored a hit with the college public. It was a more finished production than the "Man on the Box" put on earlier in the year. Players who did passably well in the first production did some brilliant work in the second play. There was not a poor player on the stage.

Leads Ably Taken. Miss Ernestine Bibb, sophomore in home economics, played the lead in a skillful way. She has a good voice, pleasing stage presence, and puts feeling into her lines. She was especially good in the third act where she found searching a room for jewels.

It was in this act too, that Chester Brewer, leading man, did his best work as Denby, a mysterious secret service agent. He neither over played nor under played his part. He was an artist.

Miss Grace Lightfoot, who interpreted the character of a happy young matron, played her part naturally and easily. With Floyd Work as her henpecked husband she had help in making every situation interesting, for Mr. Work did his character to a perfection.

Louis Rochford as Monty, partner of Denby, the leading man, furnished a good many laughs as did Mrs. Arvita Hale who illuminated her role as stily girl. Both characters were well taken.

Hamilton Also a Star. Lloyd Hamilton as Daniel Taylor the detective, ranked next to the leads, perhaps, in acting ability. Mr. Hamilton has an excellent voice and played the part he is suited for in "Under Cover." He had an important role and took advantage of his opportunities.

William Giles and Earl Curry as secret service men filled their places admirably, and Miss Greeta Gramso showed enviable self control when she did not move as a gun was fired while her deaf and dumb sham was being tested. Miss Betty Lyman as Amy Cartwright is an excellent little actress. This is her first appearance but her acting was unaffected and clever. Oliver Nelson had a light part but he was an indispensable addition to the whole general efficiency of the cast.

The Opera Pleases, Too. "Sergeant Kitty," the comic opera staged Friday night also was a success in every way. The members of the cast were actors as well as musicians. The solo parts were well sung and the chorus was pleasing. Clever dances added to the performance. The costumes were fetching and the opera was well presented.

Miss Wanda Trickett, as Sergeant Kitty made a pleasing little army officer. Miss Trickett both is a capable actress and has a pleasing voice. Howard O'Brien, who played the lead with Miss Trickett, has an especially fine voice and his tenor solos were much appreciated.

Elmer Glibbreath as a lovelorn captain brought more than his share of laughs, and Miss Bess Curry made her usual hit with the local audience. She was excellent. Miss Grace Lightfoot as Kitty's aunt, made things interesting for the audience as well as for her niece and lovers. Miss Lightfoot has appeared in many college productions and always with success. S. M. Mitchell, as General Dubois lived his lines. He fitted a gruff manner to his splendid bass voice and interpreted his character perfectly.

C. E. Hutto as the "proxy" husband of Kitty should be mentioned with those who starred. Here again there is the fortunate combination of actor and singer.

FLOYD PICKRELL TRANSFERRED

Former Aggie Colonel Now at Camp Dick, Dallas, Texas.

First Lieut. Floyd Pickrell, student in college last year until he withdrew to enter the first training camp, has been transferred to Camp Dick, Dallas, Tex., according to information received by Miss Jessie McD. Machir, registrar. Lieutenant Pickrell has been stationed at Camp Doniphan, Okla., for the last two months.

While in college, Mr. Pickrell was colonel of the college cadet corps, and was active in class affairs. While in training for a commission in infantry at Fort Riley last summer, he enlisted in the aviation branch and received his commission as first lieutenant at the end of a training course in aeronautics.

W. S. S. CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

Divisional Campaign Meetings are Scheduled for Today.

The new society, the W. S. S., which is in the process of organization on the campus, promises to outdo all present societies in respect to membership.

The War Saving Stamp campaign which was introduced here last week has been successfully launched and by the end of this week every Aggie student, instructor and employee will have been given an opportunity to become a member of the W. S. S. society. The leaders of each division of the college are to organize the societies. Four of the divisions will meet today, the school of agriculture in G 56; the division of agriculture in the auditorium; the home economics division in the rest room; and the general science division in the chemistry lecture room in Dennison hall. These will all be held at 5 o'clock.

The meeting of the engineering division has been planned for Thursday at 4 o'clock, the regular engineering seminar hour, which all in the division attend. The extension division will organize later in the week. At these meetings the leaders will explain the purpose of the W. S. S., where the stamps may be purchased, when, why and how. The society pledge which is to be taken by the members follows:

I hereby apply for membership in the War Saving society of K. S. A. C. and pledge myself (1) to systematic saving; (2) to refrain from unnecessary expenditures and the purchase of nonessentials in order that labor and material now employed in the production of those articles and supplies which the United States needs for the support of its Army and Navy; (3) to lend my earnest efforts to encourage thrift and economy in my community and to secure other members for this society; and (4) to invest in United States War-Savings Stamps, and Thrift Stamps, and to encourage others so to do.

The committee which has charge of the Stamp campaign is composed of representatives from all divisions of the college. Professor R. G. Taylor is chairman, Dr. Mary T. Harman, A. H. Hersh, and Mr. Edgar T. Keith represent the general science division; Miss Josephine Perry, and Miss Lenore Richards, home economics; Professor W. H. Sanders, and Professor F. C. Harris, engineering; Professor C. W. McCampbell and Professor M. C. Sewell, agriculture; Miss Janette Long, and H. J. Umberger, extension. Professor J. W. Zahnley and Miss Wilma Orem, school of agriculture.

"This is a permanent organization," said Professor R. G. Taylor. "It will last until the end of the war and we must see that the society is kept going. The students are making investments not contributions."

GET $14.40 FOR THE BOSS FUND. $28.80 Collected at Life-Saving Exhibition Today.

At the life-saving exhibition given by the "Human Spider," J. C. Carson, $28.80 was taken up in collection by Mayor S. F. Goheen, George Austin and Prof. J. E. Kammeier. One-half of this, $14.40, was given by Mr. Carson to the fund being raised for the family of Marion Ross, the Aggieville policeman who was killed in the city park last Sunday evening.

Forest Flora is spending a few days in the city with his brother, Lieut. J. H. Flora.

Marvin White was down from Fort Riley yesterday visiting relatives.

The student chapel, called for fourth hour, drew a record attendance and brought out the biggest amount of "pep" displayed during the year. The parade which followed left the campus practically deserted, the class rooms empty and the profs lonesome.

Although the afternoon was not as eventful as the morning, numbers of "Roughnecks" were still in evidence. The day ended peacefully when the last man carried back his borrowed "duds."

They Say of Jardine—

The selection of William M. Jardine for president of the Kansas Agricultural college to succeed Dr. Henry J. Waters will meet the hearty approval of the people of the state. Doctor Jardine has been identified with the college for eight years, and he has taken to Kansas as a "duck takes to water." He knows Kansas and its needs better, perhaps, than any other man on the board of administration could have found anywhere.

There was some sentiment in the state for the selection of a distinguished educator from some one of the colleges outside the state. The board of administration in its survey of the available men throughout the country found no one quite so well equipped as Dean Jardine. And even those Kansans who had stood for securing a man from outside the state will feel a sense of relief that no other man was found. Such a choice, at best, would have been an experiment. It would have required time for adjusting a stranger to Kansas conditions; teaching him the Kansas language and converting him into a thoroughgoing Kansan. There will be no experiment in the selection of Dean Jardine and no waste of time in his readjustment. He was in thorough accord with Doctor Waters, and is splendidly equipped to take up the work without disturbing the organization which has been formed in the school and which is rendering such efficient service to the state.

Dean Jardine's appointment will be particularly pleasing to the farmers of the state because of his great work in agriculture during the past eight years.

The college, the state, the board of administration, and President Jardine are all to be felicitated.—Kansas City Star.

Doctor William M. Jardine, new president of the State Agricultural college, has been connected with the college for seven years and for the last three has been dean. He is therefore familiar with its condition and needs. In electing him to succeed Doctor Waters the board of administration took into consideration his high standing with the faculty and student body, as well as his efficient work for the college. President Jardine is well known over the state and has the confidence of progressive and wide-awake farmers, through his practical work in agriculture as head of that branch of the college and of the experiment station.

Dean Jardine's advancement to the presidency of the college will gratify most of its friends, who have come to know his qualifications for this important place. The situation is altogether different from that when Doctor Waters was chosen. At that time it was recognized that the college had deteriorated and was in a bad way. What logically followed was the necessity of getting new life into it from without, and the board of regents went over the country looking for the "new blood" that was required. Under Doctor Waters the college has built up and grown strong. Its present condition is sound and healthy, and the board of administration therefore showed the right spirit in taking the new president from within the college itself.—Topeka Capital.

William M. Jardine, who for the past five years has been dean of the agricultural division of the Kansas Agricultural college and director of the experiment station, has been advanced to the presidency to succeed Dr. H. J. Waters, whose resignation took effect January 1, 1918.

This appointment comes to Dean Jardine as a well earned promotion. He has become prominently identified with the agricultural interests of Kansas since he has been connected with our agricultural college. He came to Manhattan in 1910 as professor of agronomy, after having spent three years as cerealist in the federal department of agriculture. He is a graduate of the Utah Agricultural college and following his graduation was instructor in agronomy and later assistant professor of agronomy at this institution. He also spent a year as manager of the Utah Arid Farming company. Doctor Jardine thus brings to his new duties as head of this great institution a varied experience in agricultural work and administration. He will have the full support of the agricultural interests of the state and the faculty of the institution which he now heads.—Kansas Farmer.

RATTLE THEM BONES.

Human Skeleton in veterinary hall, Hanging so close to the cold south wall.

From my heart I wish thee joy
And rest, where no one can annoy.
In the cold dark days to come
I, too, will be a skeleton.

I know how many bones you've lost,
And how by "Vets" you have been tossed
About, regardless of propriety.
Now with all those members gone,
Your pride will not permit you long
To appear in good society.

I know how, too, it must have hurt
To lose three toes to Doctor Burt,
And how you fear for those little devils
With Doctor Elder in his midnight
revels
As he eries to forget the K. U. lass
Who forgot him. 'Tis sad alas!

When my days on earth are o'er
May those who loved me love me more,
And bury me deep in the cold, cold
ground,
And let me lie for years and years,
Where the "Vets" who may be loafing round
Can't use my bone for souvenirs.

PETER AND SAMMY.

Peter Patriot had a penny (He'd have earned it if he hadn't any) into his pocket one daily arrived

Until upon counting he found twenty-five.

Now Peter wished to help win the war
And he knew toward this staying in college went far:

So when he heard of the need of his government,
He his quarter at once to Uncle Sam lent.

He knew he was looking after his own tomorrows,
For Uncle Sam repays with interest what he borrows.

Sammy Slacker had a taste for sweets
He simply could not resist the cats:

So he gorged himself with pop corn and candy
And squandered his money to play the dandy.

Nor heeded the sound of his country's call,
And didn't deny himself at all.

But Sammy's dream of a life of pride
At one fell blow within him died.

For he found by society he was ostracized,
'Twas Peter's company the girls all prized.

New Sammy's brain is all chaotic,
For the girls of K. S. A. C. are patriotic.

When the Germans made that raid on Paris the other day, the hotel management hid Secretary Baker in a wine cellar. They said they wanted him where he would be safe. Those French are certainly deft on compliments.

They are going to bring 100 French girls to American colleges. Holy smoke! More than one good can come out of war.

The real question, however, is whether the story was sent out by some French professor to increase enrollment in French classes.

No one seemed to imitate the kaiser on rough neck day. Perhaps they decided the costume would be too popular, and incidentally break every paddle on the hill.

St. Perkins is gettin' rash. He says he wants to go to Europe on a concrete ship.

If a great flood should come, and all the animals be marched into an ark two by two, who would walk beside the kaiser?

It's our personal opinion, however, that they wouldn't let Bill into the ark. He wouldn't be there two minutes before he would want to run the boat and start shooting holes into the bottom of it.

Then where would the future generations be?

"Every deed is written over there" goes the old song, so perhaps that accounts for the paper shortage. It must be due to the increased demands the kaiser is inflicting upon the heavenly business office.

Someone wants to know why this colm didn't reply to that collection of goo about it several issues back. Its like this: we glory in placing people in the public eye, but we view with disfavor any deliberate attempt to get publicity out of the colm.

Neither does it necessarily follow that a person is a woman hater because he fails to ask a certain girl for a date.

FROM AN AGGIE IN FRANCE

R. A. Shelley is in Uncle Sam's Air Service.

Dean A. A. Potter recently received a letter from R. A. Shelley, '15, mechanical engineering, who is in air service in France.

"Your kind letter of December enclosing Christmas greetings was received, a little late due to the distance between us but nevertheless welcome. At the same time a letter from Professor Seaton with a list of former mechanical engineering students. It is very nice to have such a list in my possession and I am certainly glad to see so many lieutenants and captains after their names.

"If you will kindly inform Professor Seaton of a change in my address I will appreciate it. Change it to Air Service, A. E. F., France.

"This is a beautiful country with fine people and I am enjoying my work very much. Incidentally there is hardly a day passed but I appreciate an engineering education more and more.

"When I will see real fighting at the front is, of course, an unknown quantity, but I am like most of the Americans in France now anxious to get into it. It is certain that this war is a terrible thing and probably will continue for some time, but it is just as certain that we will come out on top and when that time does come we will all be mighty glad to get back to the states and the STATE, but of course not until that time comes."

Dean Potter in replying to this letter told Mr. Shelley of the election of Dr. W. M. Jardine as president, and of Prof. R. A. Seaton's entering military service. He also mentioned the 200 former students and members of the faculty who are now in service.

SOCIETIES PLAY TO SOLDIERS.

Programs to be Given at Funston Have Been Planned.

Through the rural service department of the extension division, literary societies of the college have arranged to give programs at Camp Funston for the entertainment of the soldiers.

The Browning Literary society will make the rounds of the Y. M. C. A. zones on the evenings of March 23 and 25 with a miscellaneous program of music and stunts.

The Athenians are planning a program, the dates for which have not been arranged. The Alpha Beta Literary society is preparing a play to be given within two weeks.

Societies wishing to plan entertainments with the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Funston may arrange to do so through the Rev. Walter Burr of the rural service department.

Dependency

"So Tod Wimple's been drafted into the army."

"Not drafted. He enlisted," corrected the news carrier. Mrs. Seth Bashfield was usually the first receiver of news in her home town, and she lost no time in its early distribution. This time the gathering of which she was the vital center was small but important for it represented several branches of the Wimple family; a family which, by keeping close together and working co-operatively, had managed to build quite an imposing structure of comparative prosperity and distinction.

The black sheep of the family—not so black, after all, since his faults had been those of omission rather than commission—had been Gary Wimple; and it was his widow and son who were now under discussion.

"Now, I call that a very selfish thing for Tod to do," pronounced Mrs. Abigail Greene, pursing her full lips and rolling her full blue eyes around the circle of interested faces. "With a mother dependent on him—but she probably expects to come back here." Then she shook her head solemnly. "Now, I, for one, have got my hands full, what with the relief committee and the Housewives' league."

"My house is too small now. And Mr. Bushfield coming for a visit," quickly interposed Mrs. Bashfield. "Besides we helped Grace start her millinery store in Newkirk and—"

"She paid you back, Aunt Maria, when she sold her stock." The cool, quiet voice came from a little demure woman in the corner; young but with the splinter look already upon her; prim, keen-eyed and straight shouldered. You would have guessed school teacher as Ellnor Wimple's profession, and you would have been correct.

Mrs. Bashfield faced the speaker aggressively. "Well, Ellnor Wimple! We didn't lend that money to her to sell her stock and pay us back—and no interest." We lent it to her to succeed with!"

The school teacher smiled tolerantly. "It wasn't Aunt Grace's fault her health broke down. And I think it's very noble of her not to interfere with Tod if he feels it is his duty to serve his country. And we ought to be proud of Tod."

Mrs. Greene eyed her younger relative ruminatingly. "Ellnor, you always did seem to hold the idea that because Gary Wimple eloped with Grace Todhunter, and her own family cast her off, it became the duty of the Wimple family to take care of her and her son. Goodness knows we have all done enough for Gary!"

"But not much for Grace or Tod," reminded Ellnor calmly. "I've always been sorry for her. She lost more than she gained by marriage."

"Many women do." Mrs. Bashfield gathered up her knitting implements. "Anyway, I can't take Grace in now. Perhaps the others—"

But the others promptly advanced reasons for their own inability to assist Gary Wimple's widow at that time. Perhaps a little later—

Ellnor Wimple went home alone, soberly thinking matters over. She had three cozy rooms in a plain little house near the school where she taught. She prepared her lonely supper, got out her bank book, jotted down some figures on paper and wrote a letter that night to Mrs. Gary Wimple.

Mrs. Bashfield was the first to learn that Tod's mother was coming to live with Ellnor for a while. There was another conclave—this time without Ellnor.

"If Ellnor's done this to drive us into taking care of Grace she'll find out her mistake." Mrs. Bashfield spoke tartly, hiding her discomfiture behind an air of injury. "She's sent for her, now let her keep her."

"But, of course, we want things pleasant. We can't start a family quarrel," advanced Mrs. Greene, whose cheeks were more florid than usual. "We'll just make it plain to Grace—diplomatically—that we are not to be looked to—at this time."

Mrs. Grace Wimple had scarcely arrived at the school teacher's home when her husband's relatives came to greet her. Bland and smiling, they made their carefully rehearsed speeches and set their little gifts on the center table.

"I've brought you some yarn, Grace," said Mrs. Abigail Greene. "Of course, you'll want to make yourself useful. And knitting for the relief committee will take up your time nicely while Ellnor's in school."

"Some jelly, Grace," Mrs. Bashfield impressively made her offering. "My house is too full to speak of any more entertaining now. But I remembered you were always fond of my crab-apple jelly."

One after another the simple gifts were set down with appropriate remarks from the givers. It was as if the whole group were expressing a single sentiment. "And you mustn't expect anything from us!"

Mrs. Grace accepted the offerings and the remarks with sweet amiability. Now that her callers had time to look well at her, it seemed as if a livelier air than usual tinged her manner; a flickering brightness that touched her person like shimmering sun-days. She was frail and meagerly dressed, but she seemed neither bowed nor broken.

Her slender hands clasped upon an open letter as her eyes glowingly turned upon the wondering faces of her callers.

"I'm glad you all came today," she said, as her voice was joyfully tremulous. "I want you all to know—this letter is from my father!" She drew a long breath and straightened her narrow shoulders. "Yes; he has written to me at last. He wants me to come to him. He has a big fruit farm in Southern California." Then her face shone triumphant. "It came through Tod. My father was a soldier once. And, when he saw Tod's name in the paper—Todhunter Wimple, the two family names—"

She broke down then and pressed her face upon the written pages. Ellnor bent over her and patted her shoulder. Then, lifting her tear-drenched face, Grace caught at the teacher's hand and smiled into her eyes.

"You have all been very good to me," she said magnanimously. "But Ellnor is alone, and I am glad I can do something for Ellnor now. She is going to California with me. She has always wanted to visit California." She cracked a slip of paper between her fingers. "My father has sent me a check. He has been very generous. He would not forgive Gary Wimple's wife, but he has forgiven the mother of Todhunter Wimple, soldier."

Then it was Ellnor's eyes that swept triumphantly the circle of dazed faces, while each crestfallen visitor was struggling to meet with adequate diplomacy the surprising new situation.—Ella Randall Pearce, in Chicago American.

Leg for Less Than Dollar.

Maj. W. A. Chapple, M. D., of the British army medical corps describes in the Lancet an artificial leg which combines comfort and low cost. It is a hollow leg made of fiber board such as that used for trunks and suitcases, into which the stump of the leg is placed and held by straps. It can be made in any length, depending upon how much of the leg has been lost; it weighs only nineteen ounces in the size for use below the knee and two pounds four and a half ounces for the size that fits the stump of a thigh. And it can be made and sold for less than a dollar. Major Chapple recommends it for comfort and lightness, as well as for cheapness.

Cornmeal Muffins With Dates.

One cupful cornmeal (white if possible), two tablespoonfuls brown sugar, one teaspoonful salt, two tablespoonfuls butter, 1 1/4 cupfuls milk, one cupful wheat flour, four teaspoonfuls baking powder, one egg, one-half cupful dates cut fine or small. Cook together the first five ingredients in a small double boiler. When cool add the egg or eggs, the dates and the flour sifted with the baking powder, beat very thoroughly and bake in muffin pans or bake in a loaf. This bread will keep in good condition longer if the dates are cooked with the cornmeal, and the other ingredients in a double boiler.

W. S. S. CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

Divisional Campaign Meetings are Scheduled for Today.

The new society, the W. S. S., which is in the process of organization on the campus, promises to outdo all present societies in respect to membership.

The War Saving Stacc campaign which was introduced here last week has been successfully launched and by the end of this week every Aggie student, instructor and employee will have been given an opportunity to become a member of the W. S. S. society. The leaders of each division of the college are to organize the societies. Four of the divisions will meet today, the school of agriculture in G 66; the division of agriculture in the auditorium; the home economics division in the rest room; and the general science division in the chemistry lecture room in Dennison hall. These will all be held at 5 o'clock.

MAKE 6400 SURGICAL DRESSINGS.

Attendance and Efficiency of Red Cross Workers Gradually Increases.

A new record for surgical dressing work was made at the Red Cross room last week, 6,400 having been completed.

The Wednesday morning class stands first in the number of dressings, 1018 made by 19 workers. The Friday afternoon class averaged more dressings per member. There were eight members who together finished 542 pieces. The Monday afternoon class is accredited second place, having completed 691 dressings. This division has the largest attendance.

The type of Red Cross dressings to be made in the work room will be changed next week.

"Freedom of the World" Has Most Thrilling Scene Ever a Camera "Shot."

The most astounding scene ever filmed for a motion picture is in "For the Freedom of the World," which will be the attraction at the Wareham theater tonight.

It comes as a climax to a soul-stirring story of war and love with the great world conflict now raging as the background.

Motion picture critics who have seen advance showings of "For the Freedom of the World" are unanimous in proclaiming this the most thrilling moment they have ever seen in films.

AGGIE FRESHMEN TROUNCE THE HUSKER YEARLINGS SCORE 17-15

Rally in the Last Half by the Visitors Failed to Overcome Big Aggie Lead.

Playing by spurts, and aided by Youngmeyer's free throwing, the Aggie yearlings succeeded in noosing the Nebraska youngsters out of a victory by a score of 17 to 15 last night.

The Aggies started out in great form in the first half, scoring seven points before the lads from Lincoln were able to get a counter. Youngmeyer was the principal point getter, scoring the first five points, three free throws and a field goal. A Husker rally sent the count to 9 to 5, with the Aggies ahead. The Aggies then took a spurt and hiked their score to 13 on field goals by Burger and Jennings. The score of the first half was 13 to 5 for the Aggies.

In the second half, the Aggies started out with what looked to be a sure lead. The Huskers took a big spurt, however, and while the Aggies had to be contented with one field goal by Jennings, had hiked their own score to 15, knotting the score 15 all. The Aggies seemed unable to get together but at this point Youngmeyer scored two points by dropping two free throws through the basket. This saved the game for the Aggies for in the remainder of the game the Aggie guarding game was excellent, and the Nebraska forwards could not work the ball down within scoring distance. Nebraska had a chance at a free throw just as the gun sounded but was unable to count, the game ending in favor of the young Wildcats 17 to 15.

GOVT. MAKES MUCH USE OF STATE HIGHWAYS

(By Associated Press.) Philadelphia, March 18.—Frequent passages of trains of United States motor trucks through Pennsylvania to the Atlantic seaboard have served to call attention to the extensive use which the federal government now is making of the state roads. Runs over the Lincoln highway, which is the main "link" between Philadelphia, New York and Pittsburgh, have been pronounced so successful that the war department has asked the state highway department to concentrate its efforts on the maintenance of this road.

In addition to the Lincoln highway numerous other main avenues throughout the state have assumed importance as strategic arteries to tide water. One of the most notable is that connecting Philadelphia and Chester, Pa., over which is transported a large percentage of the output of the munitions producing belt.

Manhattan No. 1 FLOUR

Milled in accordance with Government Regulations

Made in Manhattan and Sold by All Grocers.

Mrs. John Warner, Lucy A. Lee was born in Waymart, Pennsylvania, Sept. 12th, 1830, the daughter of Horace and Catherine Lee.

On the 4th day of February, 1874, at Waymart, in the house in which she was born, and which had been her home, she was married to John Warner of Manhattan, Kansas. Immediately she came with her husband to the farm in Riley county where she resided until some eight years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Warner took up their residence in Manhattan.

Forty-four years in Riley county gave unusual opportunity for a wide acquaintance. This Mrs. Warner enjoyed in a large measure and today a great company who have known her are sorrowing at the news of her death and are extending to the husband their sympathy in the hour of his sorrow.

She was a good woman. To have earned that tribute is, after all the highest achievement of life. She met in abundant measure the description of the ancient wise man, when he said:

The heart of her husband trusteth in her, and she shall have no lack of gain. She doeth him good and not evil all the days of her life. She girdeth her loins with strength and maketh strong her arms. She stretcheth out her hands to the poor; yea she reacheth forth her hands to the needy. Strength and dignity are her clothing; she openeth her mouth with wisdom, and the law of kindness is on her tongue. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. A woman that feareth Jehovah, she shall be praised. Give her of the fruit of her hands and let her works praise her in the gates.

When Mrs. Warner came to the home in Riley county she found there four motherless children and with rare tact became a mother to them. Beautifully, graciously and tenderly she watched over them and ministered unto them, and with the love and pride of a real mother she laid her life upon the altar of their need.

Very soon after the coming to Kansas she united with the Grange, first at Ogden and later at Manhattan, and during all these years she has been an interested member and active worker in that organization.

While yet a young woman she definitely accepted Christ and publicly confessed Him as her Savior and Lord. She at once became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and united with the church in Manhattan soon after she came to Kansas. Thus for nearly half a century her name has been upon our records, her life identified with the life of the church and her interest in the progress of the church ardent and strong.

Her health for the past few years has been quite precarious, though recently she seemed to be in better health than usual. Her interest in the home and in the community was unabated. She had planned to be at church Sunday before last, but on account of the rain thought it advisable not to attempt it. In the act of preparing to assist the Grange in the entertainment of soldiers from Camp Funston last week she was quite suddenly attacked with what proved to be her final illness. Her body faltered in the discharge of what was to her a patriotic privilege. The spirit was willing, but the tired flesh could not carry out the will of the courageous spirit, a few short hours of increasing weakness followed and the end came in the early afternoon of March 8. At the ripe age of 87 years 5 months and 26 days and after a life of kindly ministry and exceeding usefulness, she passed from earth to take up her abode among the ransomed in the realm of eternal bliss.

OSCAR SEAGLE HERE THURSDAY Was Unable to Be Here Sunday Afternoon.

Oscar Seagle, the famous baritone, who was to give a song recital at the college auditorium Sunday afternoon as the final number of the festival week program, was unable to appear because of a severe case of throat trouble. Mr. Seagle is now in the hospital at Kansas City, but expects to be at the college auditorium Thursday night to give his program as scheduled. He cancelled a recital in Chicago which he was to give Wednesday night in order that he might fulfill his engagement here. A. E. Westbrook, professor of music at the college, states.

Mrs. Bowser Tells It

Bowser Goes Out to Hunt the Chestnut

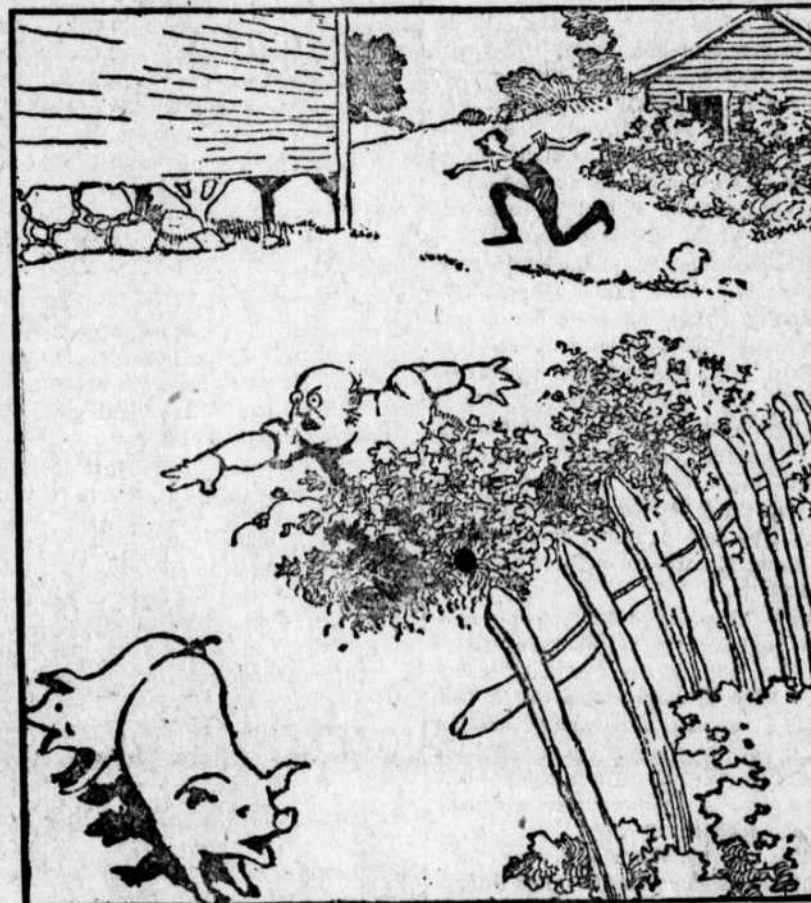

(Copyright, 1917, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

By M. QUAD. For several days I have observed a spirit of restlessness about Mr. Bowser, and I had made up my mind that he was longing for a trip out into the country. In his conversations he spoke of the chestnuts and acorns; he mentioned the rabbit; he spoke of the fall apple, and so I knew that he would take a day off soon and refresh his boyhood memories.

Mr. Bowser came down to breakfast one morning prepared for a jaunt and he said to me:

"I think I will take a little trip out into the country today. I want to saunter around and see farm scenes. I want to pick up the great brown chestnuts under the trees. I want to pick the golden pippin right off the apple tree. I want to buy a quart of buttermilk of some farmer and drink it down without stopping to breathe. It seems as if it would almost make me over to spend the day out in the country."

"There's nothing to hinder you from going," I replied. "In fact, I want you

"He Ran Into a Currant Bush and Got Tangled Up."

to go, for you look a little weary. Will you bring home some chestnuts and apples?"

"You bet your life, and don't forget to let me take a basket along. Maybe I will gather some mushrooms, also. At any rate, I will make a day of it and come home feeling as frisky as a darling colt."

"You will telephone if anything happens to you? Most of the farmers have telephones."

"Oh, nothing will happen to telephone about. It will be a very quiet day with me."

In half an hour Mr. Bowser was off, carrying a market basket on his arm. He was as pleased as a boy on his way to a circus.

It was about two o'clock in the afternoon when the telephone rang me up and a strange voice asked:

"Is this Mrs. Bowser?"

"Yes."

"Mrs. Samuel Bowser?"

"Yes, that is correct. Who are you, please?"

"My name is Ballard, and I'm a farmer about ten miles from the city on the old Boston road. Can't you take the trolley car, which runs right by my door, and come out here?"

"But why should I come out there?" I asked, a chill of fear coming over me.

"Because there's a short, fat, bald-headed man here who says he's Samuel Bowser, your husband. He isn't dead, so you needn't be alarmed. He has simply met with an incident and maybe you will have to stay for a day or two, but I'll make it as pleasant as I can. Mr. Bowser sent you his love and thinks you'd better come out."

"Do you mean that an accident has happened to Mr. Bowser?" I asked.

"Well, you might call it an accident, but I call it an incident. An incident is where you cut your foot with the ax, but Mr. Bowser hasn't cut his foot. An accident is when you fall out of a tree and break both legs, and Mr. Bowser has had no fall and no broken legs. You had better put on your bonnet and come out."

I tried hard to get the farmer to tell me just what had happened, but he seemed to have good reasons for holding back the truth. This increased my fears, of course, and I soon got ready for a trip. All the way out to Farmer Ballard's I was so pale and nervous that all the passengers on the car noticed me, and three or four women came over to me and said they hoped that nothing serious had occurred. The farmer was at his gate as I got off the car, and the first question I asked him was:

"Is Mr. Bowser dead?"

"Why, no, ma'am," he replied. "Come right in and you'll see him alive. No need to be alarmed about him."

I went in and found Mr. Bowser in bed. That is, I supposed it was Mr. Bowser, for it was some time before I was certain of his identity.

I had a few words to say in praise of the man and he went on:

"I have four hives of bees. I wanted to move them to a new place to pass the winter. I mentioned it to Mr. Bowser and he offered to help me. Two men can carry a beehive very nice. All you have to do is to place a piece of paper over the hole where they come in and go out. Then you can carry the hive between you. Mr. Bowser told me that he was not afraid of bees, but he had always loved them and they seemed to love him. He was very anxious to help me, and, of course, I was willing he should. We had to pass over some rough ground to reach the new place and I warned him that we must go slow and carefully. We had got half the distance, with the hive all right when he strikes his foot against something in the grass and down he goes and down goes the hive, for I couldn't manage it alone. You can imagine, ma'am, what happened then."

"Yes," I said.

"The hive went down with a crash, and the bees came pouring out. I was scared, which I shouldn't have been, and I took to my heels. Mr. Bowser got up and took to his heels also, but he ran into a currant bush and got tangled up. The bees didn't see anybody else around, and so they went for him. There were 5,000 of them, I reckon, but not more than 1,900 got a bite at him. I rescued him as soon as I could and got him into the house and undressed him and put him to bed, and there he is, lying before your face and eyes. That's about all, ma'am, except that he doesn't talk much, and the reason is that his lips are swelled out like a stuffed chicken."

Mr. Bowser had various swellings that stood out like toads on a log. Just how many, I did not dare count. His eyes were shut, and I could not offer him a hand glass that he might see what a beauty he was. The only thing to do was to apply things to take out the poison and reduce the swellings, and to help the farmer as I could until his wife got back. I stayed there all that night and most of the next day, and when I left for home, Mr. Bowser could partly open one eye and utter grunts through his swollen lips. It was four days before he came home, and then several passengers on the car asked him if a tree had fallen all over him. He didn't say much when he reached the house. All he did say was:

"Mrs. Bowser, if this thing occurs again I will see my lawyer and you will see yours, and we will arrange for a quiet divorce. We have reached the dead line at last!"

I realized that Mr. Bowser must blame someone beside himself, and I didn't "sass" back a single word.

Gillette Safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillette
Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against. Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

The Army of the United States Is Shaved Clean

No matter how a man shaved before he went into the Service, he is pretty sure to come out of the war a Gillette user.

The first thing he'll note among his camp mates is that more of them are shaving with the Gillette than with all other razors put together.

He'll see Gillette users in his squad lather up, shave clean, splash the soap off, tuck the razor away, and be standing at attention in the inspection line—all in five minutes.

When he gets Overseas, everything is the Gillette, from the left flank of the British line in Belgium clear around through France and Italy and on the battle fronts of the East.

Soon or late, every man who is doing things comes to the Gillette. They belong together. Ten million up and doing men all over the world had discovered the Gillette before the war broke out. The war simply made the Gillette prove itself under extreme conditions—as no other razor has or can.

It has thrown the spotlight on the Gillette Blades—on the Gillette principle of No Stopping—No Honing—on the Gillette idea of a simple, compact shaving outfit, no strops or hones to clutter up the kit—on the Gillette contention that a man's daily shave should be an incident and not a ceremony.

Frosh Makes Hurried Exit When Entertained Makes Love From Stage

Sometimes programs are given on the campus of K. S. A. C. They do not have to be confined to special departments. Any old organization or society that wants to go to the time or trouble can give a program.

Recently a program was given by a certain group of young people. In the middle of it a solo by a certain young, fair—of course, they all are—co-ed, was announced.

The young lady and her accompanist, also a young lady, stalked haughtily to the front of the room. The accompanist played the prelude and while she did so the singer gazed over the audience. Much to the discomfort of a certain freshman she riveted her gaze on him—or so it seemed to him.

In a moment she opened her lips and much to the horror of the freshman, she announced confidently, "I hear you calling me."

Poor fellow! He was worried. He had never seen her before. No, never! He began to squirm. He wasn't used to having strange ladies accuse him of calling them. But he decided to wait and see what the outcome would be.

To the greater consternation of the freshman, she looked at him, this time reproachfully, and reminded him "I heard you when the moon had veiled her light."

Before—

The freshman did not wait for any more. With his cap held tightly in his clenched fist he dashed out of the room into the soft darkness of the night.

"The nerve!" He muttered to himself as he beat it for the south entrance.

"She'd have been telling me about some ceremony next, I suppose."

Much to his relief, friends told him the next day that she didn't mean him, so there is one more freshman who is still breathing the free air of Aggieville.

SCHOOL OF AG

John Englund of Palm visited his son, Arnold, last week.

Kenneth Muse, first year school of agriculture, was absent from classes last week on account of illness.

Miss Mary Fankhouser of Madison visited her sister, Miss Minnie, last week. The former attended the school of agriculture last semester.

Miss Hazel May, third year school of agriculture, is ill with mumps.

The mock trial which was given by the Lincoln and Philomathean Literary societies of the school of agriculture Saturday was postponed a week to give the lawyers more time to work on the case.

The Philomathean Literary society is planning to do its "bit" in furnishing entertainment for the soldiers at Camp Funston. The girls will furnish programs at the Y. M. C. A. buildings consisting of stunts, readings, and music. The Sunday evening on which they are to appear is not definitely known, but with the talent of many of the girls, the soldiers may expect some classical entertainment.

August Heisel, former school of agriculture student, writes a friend stating that he is working on a farm at Argenta, Ill.

The office hours of James W. Zahnley, assistant principal of the school of agriculture, are Monday forenoon, Friday and Saturday afternoons, and the first and second hours each day. Mr. Zahnley does much of the work of the principal, H. L. Kent, who devotes the larger part of his time to the government, in work provided for in the Smith-Hughes act.

Herman Metz was absent from classes last week on account of pink eye.

Ethel Bennet of Ottawa, former student in the school of agriculture is teaching school in her home district. This spring she will complete her second year of teaching since leaving college.

The Philomatheans and their brother society the Lincolns enjoyed a hike in honor of Miss Mary Fankhouser former member of the society, who is here visiting her sister.

Miss Hazel Mae, student in school of agriculture, is absent from school this week on account of illness.

Miss Vesta Kinyon, former student in school of agriculture, has resumed her work in college.

The graduating class held its regular business meeting Saturday afternoon. The class will act as a central committee in getting up the program for the mixer which will be held the latter part of this month.

Harvey Freeman, first year student, was called to his home at Wichita Friday to see one of his cousins who will pass through here Saturday. His cousin has been on the firing line in France and is now suffering from a

IS OUR NATION CHRISTIAN?

I. What is Democracy?

1. Is it a form of government, a point of view, a theory of practice?
2. Ade "all men created free and equal?" Is it right to refer to "the better classes?"
3. When you call a man 'undemocratic' what do you mean?
4. Is 'equal suffrage' a logical outcome of true democracy? Under an ideal democracy should everyone have the suffrage?

II. Is America truly Democratic?

1. Is she more or less democratic than Great Britain?
2. How many people in America think in complete national terms? Have you known Congressmen who failed to rise above sectional interests? Are such men democratic?
3. How about race prejudice? Are they, truly democratic? Should these be any denial of opportunity for development in a democracy?
4. Have we any American Citizens who put their own interests ahead of those of their country or of their fellow citizens? Are such persons democratic?

III. Is there any relation between Sacrifice and Service on the one hand and Democracy on the other?

IV. How is Democracy concerned with this war?

1. Are the nations of the world divided in this war into those upholding democracy and those upholding aristocracy?
2. Are Militarism and Democracy incompatible?
3. Are we in any danger of becoming militaristic?
4. What do we mean by saying that we wish to "make the world safe for Democracy?"

V. Is there any peculiar responsibility for furthering the cause of Democracy resting upon College men and women? What is it?

VI. What is the relation between Christianity and Democracy?

Sh—ns! How's this boys? Have you ever wondered what the soldier boys wrote to all these girls who correspond with them, and who have never even seen them? Here is the goods. An Aggie gent sent several letters to the boys in camp signing himself as a girl and here are the replies:

1. My Own dear Suzie:—Haven't seen you, but you must be a swell one by your letter. I haven't seen you, but I'll bet you have brown hair, blue eyes, rosy cheeks, and, Oh fine looking. (Ugh! What do you think of that?) I can almost see your laughing eyes, sparkling at me through the darkness. Surely you must be an angel to take time to write us poor lonely boys. (Yes, we are.)

2. Joan of Arc.—Glad to get your letter, little girl. I know you must be a little girl, for you write just like a little girl I used to know back in Kentucky. You can imagine how us soldiers appreciate you girls' tender (amen) letters to us boys. If it wasn't for your kind aid with sweaters, etc., many of us would have suffered. You are the salt of the earth, and the dearest finest women that ever lived. (thunder we are.)

3. Mah own Deah Sweet Eliza:—Lawsee girl, why haven't you written long to now. Say, theys a deah little girl down there what don brok her gagement with me cause mah wife down in Mississipp doan like it. But bles yo harts, the res of you girls don't need to be cheated out of a child if uncl Sam if you dont want to. I'm de real one, fo I was the guy that Sam in Sambo. Call round some time and I'll sho you roun the barracks. (We will). Yo own lovin, good looking nigger, Sambo.

SPORTS.

In the dual track meet at Kansas City between Missouri and the University of Kansas, K. U. lost by a score of 62 to 23. Rice, K. U.'s high jumper was the only Kansas man to win a first, taking the high jump with ease.

The Aggie freshman team made a splendid showing in the games with Nebraska. The team has shown ability equal to the leaders in the Missouri valley race, and Youngmeyer, Bunker, Jennings, Meeker and Cawell should be among the leaders of next year's basketball team.

In the state basketball meet at Lincoln, Nebr., the other day 100 teams and 1000 athletes participated.

Scholz, the Tiger all-American sprinter, tied the world's record for the 50 yard dash, making it in 5 1-5 seconds.

Baseball is starting in many schools but there is lac of pep. The war has broken up professional baseball, and it never was a leading college sport, so many schools have followed the Aggies in eliminating the game.

Dr. F. C. Allen, of the Warrensburg Normal school, who has officiated in many Missouri valley games this season, has chosen what he considers an all-Missouri valley basketball team. R. A. Van Trine, Aggie forward, and Ben Hinds, Aggie guard are given places among the leading five. "Heinie" Hinds was given a forward position on the second team.

DIVISIONS ELECT OFFICERS AND MAKE OTHER PLANS FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

Captains are to be Chosen in Many of the Groups, and Active Work Will be in Their Charge—Chairman Taylor Pleaded With Results.

Divisional organization for the purpose of beginning the drive to sell War Savings Stamps to students was completed yesterday afternoon when the engineers met at their seminar period and elected officers to supervise the work. Those in charge in the divisions are:

Engineering—C. A. Frankenhof, president, and R. A. Van Trine, secretary.

Home Economics—Miss Mary Dakin, president, and Miss Pauline Richards, secretary.

Agriculture—Prof. L. E. Call, president, and M. C. Sewell, secretary.

General Science—Bruce B. Brewer, president, and Miss Betty Cotton, secretary.

School of Agriculture—Ernest Bonne, president; Mr. Norton, vice-president; and Miss Gladys Hartley, secretary.

No organization has been effected by the division of extension.

The plan adopted by most of the divisional heads is to appoint captains who will have charge of classes of the students.

The school of agriculture is to be divided into groups of not more than 15 students. A captain or leader will have charge of each group, and will report the number of stamps purchased by his group each month. Miss Wilma Orem, instructor in history, gave a short talk Tuesday on the purpose of the movement, and presented a plan for organization of the school of agriculture to promote the sale of the stamps.

Another meeting was held yesterday for the purpose of electing officers and captains. All school of agriculture classes were dismissed the hour of the meeting.

The work is proceeding satisfactorily, R. G. Taylor, associate professor in history and civics, chairman of the savings stamps committee, said yesterday.

The stamps are now on sale at the college postoffice.

MONEY FOR ROSS FAMILY.

Effort Being Made to Pay Off $600 Mortgage.

J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics, has circulated a list among faculty members giving them an opportunity to contribute to the Marion Ross fund which is to pay off the $600 mortgage on the home of Mrs. Ross. The faculty members subscribed more than $175. The remainder of the desired sum was raised by George Austin and others of Aggieville by subscriptions from merchants and citizens of Manhattan. Saturday afternoon J. C. Carson of the Kansas City fire department gave life saving exhibitions on Poyntz avenue, contributing half the profits to the Ross fund. Ross, who was the popular Aggieville policeman, was brutally murdered in the city park Sunday, March 10.

Labor Administrator in Topeka Studying the Market.

E. E. Frizzell, state labor administrator, is in Topeka in the interest of the labor survey as instituted by the federal government.

Mr. Frizzell is obtaining information concerning labor conditions in the state, ascertaining how much help is needed by the farmers, where this help is needed, and where available. Business firms are being asked to spare as much office help as possible in harvest time in order that this labor may be placed on the farms.

STEWART SPEAKS ON THE WAR

Physics Instructor Tells of Kansas' Part in Fight for Democracy.

E. A. Stewart, instructor in physics, spoke at a community meeting at Brookside school near Junction City, Wednesday evening. His subject was, "Our Part in the Fight for Democracy." Another meeting will be planned for later by Ralph Kenney to organize a community council of defense.

ATTENDS ARCHITECTS MEETING.

Professor Baker Prominent in Conclave at Topeka.

C. F. Baker, professor of architecture, attended a meeting of the architects held last Friday in Topeka for the purpose of organizing the Kansas Society of Architects.

The officers elected were: A. R. Mann, Hutchinson, president; Ray L. Gamble, state architect, Topeka, vice president; Frank C. Squires, Topeka, secretary, and Charles D. Cuthbert, Topeka, treasurer. Professor Baker, as a member of the American Institute of Architects, was appointed to represent the institute on the committee on constitution and bylaws.

Professor Baker addressed the meeting on "The Relation of the Architectural Schools of Kansas to the Practising Architects." Several suggestions were made at the meeting for the co-operation between the schools and the architects for the interest and benefit of the public.

The department of architecture has invited the society to hold their next meeting at the college. The date has not been set.

PARTY FOR Y. W. CABINET

Officers to be Entertained Over Week End Near Stockdale.

The annual Y. W. C. A. cabinet house party will be held March 23 and 24 at the Charles Springer farm near Stockdale. The outgoing cabinet and the newly chosen cabinet will meet for a two day conference.

The girls will leave on the Blue Valley motor Saturday morning. They will be met at Stockdale by automobiles and taken to the farm. A program of talks, hikes, conferences and meetings has been planned for the two days. The girls will do their own cooking and dishwashing.

Miss Lucy Y. Riggs of Denver, Miss Winifred Wygal, executive of war work at Camp Funston, Miss Grace Derby, Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile and Miss Jessie McD. Machir of Manhattan and Mrs. J. H. Richards of Delphos will be guests.

The new cabinet members are Miss Ruth Thomas, president; Miss Sarella Herrick, vice president; Miss Martha Baird, secretary; Miss Lucille Hizer, treasurer; Miss Pearl Althaus, religious meetings; Miss Abbie Furneau, social; Miss Greta Cramme, social service; Miss Mary Crumbaker, association news; Miss Lucile Harbaugh, Bible and mission study; Miss Ada Robertson, music; Miss Elizabeth Circle, conference; Miss Mary Gilliam, finance; Miss Mary Mason, membership; and Miss Vera Olmstead, big sister.

PLAN SCHOOL OF AG MIXER

Committees Have Been Appointed to do the Work.

The school of agriculture committee which is working up a mixer met Monday night and appointed the following committees:

Program—Anne Amstutz, chairman, Harold Cowen, Dean Stanley, Irene Pieratt, Frank Swanson, and I. V. Gomez.

Entertainment—Ethel Ruthruff, chairman, Ross Hill, Emma Bobeck, Scott Kelsey.

Decorations—Emma Larson, chairman, Harold Johnson, Raymond Oehrie, J. W. Honeywell.

JOKES AT CHAPEL MONDAY.

Kansas City Man Will Make Students Laugh, Kammeyer Believes.

Jess Pugh, professor of public speaking at the Horner Institute of Fine Arts, Kansas City, will entertain the students at assembly Monday morning. He will give a miscellaneous program of readings.

"Professor Pugh is irresistibly funny," said J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics. "This program will be a sure cure for the grouch or the blues. If you don't want to laugh stay away from chapel Monday."

QUILL REVIEWED BOOKS

"Over the Top" Was One of the Stories Discussed.

Book reviews were read and discussed at the Quill club meeting held Monday night. Two books were reviewed. F. E. Oaks, junior in agriculture, gave a review of "Over the Top," by Arthur Guy Ampy. F. L. Snow, assistant professor of industrial journalism, reviewed "The College," by Prof. Frank A. Waugh of the Massachusetts Agricultural college who was a student assistant in his senior year in the Kansas State Agricultural college in 1890-91. H. G. Taylor, assistant professor of history and civics, led in the general discussion of book reviews.

AGGIES TO A CAMP IN JUNE

ADVANCED R. O. T. C. MEMBERS TO GO AND OTHERS CADETS MAY.

Schools Probably Are to be Held Near St. Paul and Chicago, Says Major Terrell, Who Inspected the Cadet Corps Monday and Tuesday.

Every member of the K. S. A. C. branch of the reserve officers' training corps probably will be given a chance to attend a one month's training camp this summer, Major F. B. Terrell, U. S. A., who inspected the college cadet corps Monday and Tuesday, told members of the advanced R. O. T. C. course in an informal talk in the gymnasium Tuesday morning.

While the date and place of the camp had not been announced, Major Terrell said that it had been decided to hold the camps for the members of the advanced R. O. T. C. course, and that the war department was seriously considering sending all members of the corps who wanted the training, to the camps.

May Begin in June.

The first week in June is the date tentatively set for the opening of the "blue" camp, as the regular R. O. T. C. training school will be known. Either Fort Snelling, Minn., or Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ill., probably will be chosen as sites for the camps in the Middle West, Major Terrell said. These camps are near St. Paul and Chicago, respectively.

Each member of the advanced course in the training corps signed a contract the first of this semester to attend a summer camp.

"I do not have instructions concerning the red or the white camp," Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, U. S. A., commander of cadets said last night, "but I am very much interested in obtaining men to go to the blue camp."

"Students in the advanced course must go, but we should not be content with that number if the government opens the camp to all."

WOMEN REPORTERS ARE NEEDED

Miss Hemstead Tells of Advantages in Newspaper Work.

Opportunities for women in newspaper work are richer today than ever before, in the opinion of Miss Bertha Lee Hemstead, society editor of the Topeka State Journal, who spoke before industrial journalism students in the college.

"There was a time when it was thought women on a newspaper could do nothing but write society and cooking recipes, and solve love problems," said Miss Hemstead. "Now the men are going off to war and the women are being put into their places—and they are making good at it too."

TO MEET WITH K. U. CO-EDS

Theta Sigma Phi Chapters to Hold District Conclave.

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism sorority for women, will hold a district convention with the Epsilon chapter at the University of Kansas, April 26 and 27.

Kansas is the only state in which two chapters are located. There are 13 chapters. The local organization is new. Among the distinguished members of Theta Sigma Phi are Zona Gale, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Jeanette Rankin, and Ida M. Tarbell.

SOLDIERS WANT TEXT BOOKS

Students Asked to Bring Extra Books to College Library.

As a part of the nation-wide campaign to secure more books for the men in military service, students of the college are being asked to turn to the K. S. A. C. library any good novels they may possess, and especially textbooks.

In each of the 34 large camps the American library association has erected library buildings which will accommodate from 175 to 250 persons. Every camp has from eight to 20 branch libraries maintained in the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus buildings. Half a million books are required to meet the needs of the men in the 34 large camps, according to a statement issued by the American Library association.

"The books turned in to the library should be in good condition," said Miss Grace Derby, assistant librarian. "Any kind of text books from primary up to advanced mathematics will be accepted. The books can be turned in any time within the next 10 days."

PLAN STENOGRAPHIC COURSE.

Typewriting and Shorthand to be Taught in Summer Session.

In order to help students to fill government positions as stenographers and typists, a commercial course will be offered in summer school this year. There is a big demand for stenographers and typists in the army. The course will consist of instruction in typewriting, shorthand, and office organization and management. Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, will be instructor in the course. A student in order to satisfactorily complete the work should be able to take 100 words a minute in short hand and 30 words on the typewriter, according to Professor Burk.

TO CARE FOR FRENCH ORPHAN.

Child Adopted by Extension Division Is to Stay at Home.

The home economics department of the extension division has adopted a French fatherless child. The department provides for the child's care in its own French home.

DEBATE WITH OTTAWA NEXT

Cabinet Government to be Argued Saturday Night.

One of the first of the series of the men's pentagonal debates will be place in the college auditorium Saturday evening. The Aggie affirmative team will meet the Ottawa negative team on Friday night the Aggie negative team will meet the Baker affirmative team at Baker.

The affirmative team which debates here is composed of K. D. Thompson first speaker, Selbert Fairman, second speaker, and A. F. Swanson, third speaker. The negative team is composed of C. O. Chubb, first speaker, Ollie James, second speaker, and J. K. Richards, third speaker.

The debates are concerned with the question of whether or not the United States should adopt a system of responsible cabinet government. The literary societies which ordinarily meet on Saturday night will not convene and the societies will attend the debate in a body. Admission is free.

The colleges which take part in the pentagonal series are Baker, Ottawa, College of Emporia, Washburn, and K. S. A. C. The second series will take place April 13 here when the affirmative team meets Emporia. In this second series the Aggies negative team will meet the Washburn affirmative team Saturday, May 30.

JARDINE TO TALK TO BANKERS

President Accepts Invitation to go to Hutchinson.

Dr. William M. Jardine, president of the college, has accepted an invitation to address the annual meeting of the Kansas State Bankers' association. The convention will be held in Hutchinson May 21 and 22.

DELTA ZETAS HELP WAR FUND

Sorority Members to Have Charge of Marshall, Saturday.

The Delta Zeta sorority will have charge of the show to be given at the Marshall theatre, Saturday, March 22. The proceeds from the entertainment will be added to the K. S. A. C. war fund.

It was announced that the show was to have been given at another date but postponement was found necessary. The show is a special one which has been arranged for by the girls.

SEAGLE RECITAL IN APRIL

Tenor Ill Yesterday and Could Not Fulfill Engagement.

The recital of Oscar Seagle, the famous American baritone singer who was to appear at the college auditorium tonight, has been postponed indefinitely, the management announces today.

Mr. Seagle was to have appeared at the college last Sunday afternoon, but on account of a severe attack of laryngitis, the recital was postponed until Thursday evening, during which time Mr. Seagle was receiving treatment in a hospital at Kansas City. On account of his illness, however, Mr. Seagle was forced to cancel his engagements in Kansas—six or seven in all—and has returned to his home in the east.

He will give his recital at the college, however, sometime in the latter part of April, the management here announced today. Every effort is being made to secure an early engagement, and announcements will be made later.

WORKED A FIELD PROBLEM

ADVANCE GUARD PLANS WERE CARRIED OUT BY CADETS FOR INSPECTOR.

Regiment Marched Toward Ogden Where the Enemy was Supposed to be Encamped—Company A in Lead to Clear the Route of Hostile Troops.

The annual inspection of the college cadet corps ended Tuesday morning after Major F. B. Terrell, U. S. A., had watched the regiment work out a problem in advance guard duty. Soon after assembly Tuesday morning orders were issued to the regiment to move towards Ogden by way of the Golden Belt highway. The enemy had been seen at Fort Riley and it was expected that the hostile troops were headed for Manhattan, it was stated.

Company A was delegated as the advance party, and men to perform as points and flank patrols were sent out from this organization to cover the territory along the line of the regiment's march. Company E followed Company A as the support, and the main body of the regiment was 700 yards to the rear.

Told of Kinds of Camps.

When the advance party had reached the overhead bridge where the Union Pacific tracks cross above the Golden Belt road, Major Terrell indicated that he was satisfied with the showing, and Company A was assembled. The regiment then marched back to the campus, where the cadets were dismissed.

Major Terrell explained the system of red, white and blue training camps to the students taking the advanced course in the reserve officers' training corps in a talk given in the gymnasium immediately following the dismissal.

The inspection officer said he was not in a position to make public his opinion of the work done until after the war department announced the standings of the land-grant institutions visited.

Red and White Camps Too.

"Red" and "white" training schools also will be open to K. S. A. C. men who are recommended by their president and their professor of military tactics, the inspector said.

Students who go to the "red" camp are not obliged to stay in the army at the end of the course, but either are commissioned or are discharged. But in the "white" camp only enlisted men will be accepted. This institution sent 34 students to the last "white" camp, which is now in session. Upon completion of this course, the graduates are placed upon an eligibility list, are assigned to units as enlisted men, and are commissioned as they are needed.

"Considering the short notice we had, the cadets conducted themselves very creditably," said Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, U. S. A., commander of cadets, yesterday.

"Of course there were some points the men had not been schooled in, but as a whole I was very much pleased."

FLOODED ROOMS WITH AMMONIA.

Explosion at Dairy Building Kept Students From Classes.

An explosion of an ammonia pipe Monday in the dairy building caused a damage of $200, and caused classes to be dismissed.

The explosion was caused by a closed valve. The engineer started the ammonia pump working without noticing that the return valve was closed and the pressure grew so strong that the valve was blown out. The gas escaped into the building in such quantity that it drove everyone outside. The engineer could not get in to shut off the electric motor which operates the plant, and the pump continued forcing ammonia through the broken pipe until the current which runs the motor was shut off at the power plant. More than $200 worth of ammonia was lost. So strong were the fumes throughout the building that no classes could be held there for several hours.

Miss Alice Loomis of Washington, D. C., who is representing the Smith-Hughes bill, stopped off in Manhattan a few hours Wednesday while on her way east. Miss Loomis is on an inspection trip, investigating schools whose work will qualify for funds for this purpose.

IONIAN JUNIORS TO PROLIC.

Carnival Will be Given in Meeting of Society Saturday.

The junior members of the Ionian Literary society will give the program Saturday afternoon in the Hamp-lo hall in Nichols gymnasium. It will be informal and in the nature of a carnival. The usual literary oracle will be printed and sold as a newspaper. The meeting will begin at 3 o'clock. Visitors are welcome.

MORE TRACTORS ON THE WAY.

New Machines Used to Instruct Farmington Men.

Word has been received by the traction engines department from the branch house of the J. I. Case Tractor company at Kansas City, that several of the latest model Case tractors will be forwarded to the college as soon as they arrive from the factory. The tractors will be used for the instruction of the soldiers from Camp Funston. The college has also been loaned the use of an International Harvester company one-ton truck.

TROPHIES TO STOCK JUDGES

Attractive Prizes Offered in Contest Held Next Week.

Twenty-three prizes are to be awarded to students placing highest in the stock judging contest to be held in the college pavilion a week from tomorrow. Breeders of the state have taken interest in the work of the students and are offering the inducements in this contest.

Five magnificent trophies head the list of prizes. J. C. Robinson, noted Percheron breeder of Towanda, has donated a cup to be awarded to the highest ranking contestant in the horse judging. A second trophy is offered by Carl Miller, big Hereford breeder of Belvue. The contestant with the highest score on cattle will capture this prize. Mr. Miller will be remembered by alumni as the catcher on the all-victorious Aggie baseball team of 1911.

H. B. Walker & Sons, Effingham, among the most prominent Poland China breeders in the United States, offer a third trophy to the best judge of swine. The student ranking highest in the sheep judging competition will receive a special trophy donated by the Kansas City Stockyards company. Clay Robinson Commission company has added a special trophy for the student who ranks highest on all classes of livestock.

In addition to these prizes offered by interested stockmen, the Jayhawk Saddle and Sirolo club will award the customary four medals to the four best judges. Ribbons will be given to the ten highest. Prizes to the four highest contestants on reasons will be awarded by members of the animal husbandry faculty.

The contest is open to all students in college except former winners or members of the stock judging team. The workout this spring is expected to expose material with which the Aggies may win the next international competition.

All trophies offered become the personal property of the winner.

FROSH GIRLS BEAT SENIORS

And Juniors Took Measures of Sophomore in Tournament.

Freshmen and juniors were the victors in the second series of the girls' basketball tournament which is being played this month. The games were contested Wednesday afternoon in the large gymnasium. The prize for which the teams are competing is a cup offered by E. L. Askren which is to go to the team winning two years in succession.

The score in the freshman-senior game was 16 to 6. The freshmen showed strong teamwork and their forwards, Edna Chapin, captain, and Martha Baird, were exceptionally good. The excellent guarding by Clementine Paddelford for the freshmen was a special feature of the game. The freshmen have not suffered defeat so far and have only one game yet to play.

The juniors had the lead of the sophomore from the beginning. Five of the six field goals and both free goals for the juniors were made by Irma McKinnell. The score was 14 to 6.

The third and last series of the tournament will be played next Wednesday afternoon beginning at 4:30 o'clock. E. A. Bauer, assistant professor of physical education, is the referee.

HUSKER LEAD WAS BROKEN

AGGIE YEARLINGS SPURTED IN SECOND HALF AND WON 15 TO 10.

Visiting Freshmen Were Ahead, 7 to 2, at the End of the First Period But Were Swept Aside in Speedy Offensive of Aggie Men in the Second.

Showing unexpected reserve in a spurt that lasted during the whole of the second half, the Aggie freshmen came from behind in the last game of the series with the Nebraska freshmen and nosed out a victory by a 15 to 10 score.

The second game was an improvement over the first in team work on the part of both teams, although there was less scoring. This was due to the close guarding on both sides, and the inability of the Aggie forwards to hit the basket when opportunity offered. The guarding of both teams was unusually good, and it was seldom that a player got away for a clear try at a goal.

Huskies Off to Big Lead.

In the first half, everything went the way of Nebraska, and they outplayed the Aggie boys about as much as the score for the half indicated. A basket by Jennings was the only score made by the Aggies during the half. The period ended with the score 7 to 2 for Nebraska.

The second half began the Aggie spurt. From the first tip-off the Schultz boys outplayed the Huskies, rushing the game all the time. Jennings started off with a basket and Youngmeyer added one more by a free throw. Howarth then scored two points for Nebraska, making the count 9 to 5.

Aggies to the Front.

The Aggies then took advantage of their reserve speed and baskets by Jennings and Cowell and a free throw by Youngmeyer gave them a lead of one point, 10 to 9. Gillilan tied the score by tossing a free throw on a foul made by Meeker. The score was knotted for several minutes before the Aggies succeeded on forging ahead on a free throw by Youngmeyer. Two spectacular goals, one by Youngmeyer and another by Meeker, gave the Aggies their 15 points and the game.

Although the Aggies played the floor well and passed cleverly, the inaccuracy in shooting was noticeable. Cowell and Meeker played a fast guarding game, and showed that the freshmen have a pair of guards that are of valley calibre. Youngmeyer and Bunker, although they played well on the floor, did not seem to have their eyes on the basket. Jennings led in the scoring with three field goals.

Bekins and Gillilan of Nebraska both put up hard games, and showed unusual ability.

Free Throws Important.

It is interesting to note that in all four games, the Aggies were only able to score two more field goals than the Huskies. In three contests, the final victory was won by free throws, and it was not until the final game that the Aggies won by field goals, and in which Youngmeyer failed to throw a large majority of his chances at free throws. In the last game, he only succeeded in caging three goals out of eight tries, making his season's record stand 28 goals out of 37 attempts.

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1918.

A HINT TO THE SOPHOMORES.

Junior and senior men who failed to sign up for the advanced course in the reserve officers' training corps already are beginning to regret their decision, or lack of it. And they will be more and more sorry within a year, when a few foresighted classmates are wearing officers' insignia, and they, the laggards, are doing "kitchen police."

Red, white and blue training camps are to be opened this summer to members of the r. o. t. c., Major F. B. Terrell, who inspected the cadet corps this week told the men. From two of the camps, the red and the white—men will be selected to be officers.

The lesson should be taken to heart by the sophomores, who will be eligible to enroll in the advanced course next fall.

PLEASURE PLUS PATRIOTISM.

Every spring there is a call to nature. The business man plans ahead to the time when he can pull down the roll top of his desk on all his business troubles and sneak away to a camp, to recuperate.

College students are normal. They also feel that call to go out into the open.

The blue training camps to which members of the reserve officers' training corps may be eligible are an ideal combination of pleasure and patriotism.

Let's all go.

"FIRST AND TEN TO GO."

The former Sixth Ohio was in the thick of the fighting when the boys of the Rainbow division repulsed a German raid, and then occupied the Teuton front line trenches. That is the information contained in press dispatches. And "Eddie" Wells, all-valley fullback, was attached to that organization.

Wouldn't it just do your old heart good to see "Eddie" head low and knees high, charging that Hindenberg line, leaving a pretty string of Teuton would-be tacklers behind him?

No, we don't intend to spring any spring jokes, now that the season officially has arrived.

Use Your Spoon.

Now leave no sugar in your cup—
"Would be the worst of crimes.
Take just enough, and melt it up—
For these be stirring times.

SUNFLOWERS

H. W. D.

America is slowly but surely lining up for a lasting peace at any price.

There are a lot of interesting, undesirable folks in the world.

Nature is truly kind to man. The first delightful spring day makes us forget all about that awful coal blizzard that we still must pay.

Some people are about as important in a community as the waist is in a party dress.

About the most miserable feeling that we know is that fulness which comes from Easter anthems, Easter styles, and Easter Eggs.

Some husbands maintain their personal freedom and others have to go calling with their wives.

Spring Pomo No. 7.

April showers will soon be here, Sweetest time of all the year, I shall watch the soft rain drop, And when it dries I'll skip and hop.

All About Guest Towels.

The guest towel is a wash rag with 19 cents' worth of embroidery on each end of it. There are between two and three billion guest towels in the United States. Practically all of them will be found in the bottom drawer of the old oak dresser in the spare room until your wife cleans house. After that they will be found some place else. Next Christmas they will be distributed by parcel post and other guest towels will come in to take their place. Guest towels should be used with as much discretion and as little friction as is humanly possible. They mean well, but they should not be taken seriously, if at all.

To Mary, Drying Her Hair.

She sits upon the sunny porch,
A maiden fair,
On Sunday—when's it's time for church—
And dries her hair.
With graceful sweep of arm she throws
Her tresses dark
Down o'er her face, nor ever knows
That I remark.

She strokes them lovingly, the dear,
And then, alack!
With toss of head so sweetly queer
She throws them back.

I'm lost! All worship I've forsworn
For Mary fair
May rise again some Sunday morn
To wash her hair.

Writes Greasy Poetry
On the Wall—Finds
Greasier Stuff Later

A stenographer in the home study department stepped over to the wall beside her desk one morning upon arriving at her office and tacked up a card bearing the following motto:

"I hate to be a kicker.
It does not stand for peace
But the wheel that does the squeaking
Is the one that gets the grease."

Evidently the bit of poetry made an impression upon someone. Perhaps it awoke a poetical instinct that had long laid dormant. At any rate, there on a scrap of paper immediately below the card was this composition:

"True the grease will stop the squeaking,
But it makes an awful mess
If you think the grease will help you,
Better take another guess."

The stenographer did guess, but did not voice her conjectures. Next morning, hoping to catch the intruder, or at least to inspire the poet further she posted the following verse of her own composition:

"To go back on the grease would seem
To me an awful sin.
For grease it is that's got me out Of the ruts I've gotten in."

Her attempt was a failure, for on the following morning a single pathetic line hung below the last rhyme,
"Oh for more grease!"

We use soft water for all laundry work. Let us keep your clothes clean.—A. V. Laundry, Aggieville.

Society Reporters
After Collegian News
Find Central Elusive

"Why can't central ever get a number right!"
The exasperated Collegian reporter of so many news jammed the receiver down in the hook with a bang.

"To add to the joy of society reporting, of course those fraternity and sorority people never have their news ready when I call," scolded the reporter.

"No, and they always act as if they are conferring a favor on you to give you the news, when the real favor is for you to bother with them a all," chimed in another.

"Yes, that's true too," said the exasperated one with a sigh as she turned back to the telephone.

"892 Green. No, no—green—
"Hello, hello, 892-Green?"

"No this is just 892." Said a voice at the other end of the wire.

"Gracious, that central, what all her ears?"

With increasing indignation the long-suffering reporter rattled the hook viciously.

"Number?" sang central sweetly.
"G—r—e—e—n, green 892!" hissed the reporter savagely.

"892-Green" said a voice at the other end of the line.

"At last!" breathed the reporter, but a moment later was reduced to despair by hearing the familiar words "Can't you call again?"

IS OUR NATION CHRISTIAN?

I. What Is Democracy?

1. Is it a form of government, a point of view, a theory or practice?
2. Are "all men created free and equal?" Is it right to refer to "the better classes?"
3. When you call a man "undemocratic" what do you mean?
4. Is equal suffrage a logical outcome of true democracy? Under an ideal democracy should everyone have the suffrage?

II. Is America truly Democratic?

1. Is she more or less democratic than Great Britain?
2. How many people in America think in complete national terms? Have you known Congressmen who failed to rise above sectional interests? Are such men democratic?
3. How about race prejudice? Are they truly democratic? Should there be any denial of opportunity for development in a democracy?
4. Have we any American Citizens who put their own interests ahead of those of their country or of their fellow citizens? Are such persons democratic?

III. Is there any relation between Sacrifice and Service on the one hand and Democracy on the other?

IV. How is Democracy connected with this war?

1. Are the nations of the world divided in this war into those upholding democracy and those upholding aristocracy?
2. Are Militarism and Democracy incompatible?
3. Are we in any danger of becoming militaristic?
4. What do we mean by saying that we wish to "make the world safe for Democracy?"

Bryan-Heinz.

The wedding of Miss Hattie Bryan and Lieut. Elmer Heinz took place at the Alpha Delta Pi house Tuesday evening at six o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. H. Fisher of the Presbyterian church immediately after the ceremony a five course dinner was served.

Guests other than the sorority sisters of the bride were Mrs. W. R. Bryan of Pratt, Miss Hattie Gesner and Miss Gladys Spring.

The house was profusely decorated with ferns, sweet peas and smilax. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out even to the extent of the bridal bouquet which was made up of roses and lilies of the valley. The dining room was a perfect bower of sweet peas and smilax and the table decorations consisted of a huge basket of sweet peas and smilax in the center and pink candles. Palms and ferns embarked the altar in the living room where the ceremony took place.

Mrs. Heinz is a student in college and is popular on the hill. Lieutenant Heinz has been stationed at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., and will leave Saturday for foreign service. Mrs. Heinz will continue her work in college.

Tetrick-Bowman.

The marriage of Miss Wanda Tetrick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Tetrick of Manhattan to Lieut. O. S. Bowman of Camp Doniphan, Fort Sill, Okla., took place Monday afternoon at Topeka.

Mrs. Bowman has attended this college for the last two years and this semester was enrolled as a special student in music. She is a member of the Chi Omega sorority. Her accomplishments and ability as a reader have added much to the entertainments in which she has taken part.

Lieutenant Bowman has recently received an honorable discharge from the army, owing to an accident in which he had the misfortune to break an ankle. Lieutenant and Mrs. Bowman are taking a short trip and will return to Manhattan before going to their home which will probably be Kansas City.

Mr. Howard Finch leaves this week end for a visit at his home in White-water.

There's a Cat on Our Campus.

Who lives to gossip. You will recognize her by her casual remark—"I know something about you." If you insist she will finally impart the petty knowledge to your keen sense of gossip that John Jones has made the remark that you dance like "sin." Or course she hated to tell you but you insisted and anyway she was certain he could not have meant it, and there's no need of your feeling so badly about it.

How we loath this little "tell-tale-hussey" who peddles second-hand trash and makes every one her confidant.

There's a Hero in Our College.

Who took a girl to Wild Cat and left her out there sitting on a rock, while he came back to town. At the time it was thought that he became frightened at some unusual noise, but further developments showed that he was just peeved at the girl. Another swain happened along just in time to bring her home, however, so the laugh is on him.

Lo! the poor freshman with untutored mind

Who takes girls to Wild Cat and leaves them behind."

Messerley-Heppe.

The marriage of Miss Lucille Messerley of Osage City and Mr. Waldo F. Hepp of Ames, Ia., took place Wednesday evening in Topeka. The bride is a former student of the State Agricultural college and a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority. She is an attractive young lady and has a host of friends who will be interested to learn of her marriage. Mr. Hepp is a graduate of K. S. A. C. with the class of '17 and is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

FORTY ARE TAKING TELEGRAPHY
Aggies Preparing to Operate Wireless When Drafted.

Forty young men are taking work in wireless telegraphy in the college. This is done in addition to regular college work with no other motive than to prepare to help fill the demand of the government for men with this training.

Z. R. Hook, assistant in physics, and R. W. Hazlett, instructor in English, both experienced telegraph operators, are directing the work in sending and receiving. The men in the classes are rapidly taking hold of the work, and some are becoming expert in handling the instruments. They expect to apply for positions in the signal corps when drafted, having been promised work in that branch of the service.

C. E. Reid, professor of electrical engineering, has finished a course of lectures before these men on the fundamental principles of electricity, which underlie wireless work. J. O. Hamilton, professor of physics, has begun a series of lectures and demonstrations on wireless apparatus and its use. These lectures will be followed by a set of lectures on the principles of telephony, given by R. G. Kioeffler, assistant professor of electrical engineering.

Twelve men have enrolled in the course in photography most of them expecting to use their knowledge of this science in the aviation corps. All of this work is being done at the request and under the supervision of the United States federal board.

WORK FOR GIRLS AT HOME

Camp Funston Y. W. Secretary Tells of Value of Clubs.

War work during the summer months was the subject of a talk given by Miss Winifred Wygal, executive secretary of war work for the Camp Funston district, at the regular meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association, yesterday afternoon.

Miss Wygal told a large crowd of college girls who are interested in carrying on war work during the summer.

"I am talking to you as energetic college girls, as leaders," said Miss Wygal, "the girls today who are seriously interested in the war from the second line of defense. If you college girls wish to do real work you will find plenty of it to be done at your home towns this summer. There are many girls in the small towns and country districts who need the influence which the college girl can bring."

"We must keep normal and not lose our heads over the spectacular. The simple, less exciting work must still be carried on. There are girls at your home who have no ideas of the real conditions and who have the wrong perspective. If it is the real thing which you wish to do this summer you will begin it back home."

Miss Wygal then told of the war work of the Eight Weeks Clubs which are organized by Y. W. C. A. members in their home communities and instructed through the summer. The organizations are planned for the girls in her teens and older, and include the social, religious, and educational phases. Last summer seven Eight Weeks clubs were organized by girls from K. S. A. C.

TO DISCUSS BIG FOOD DRIVE.

Conferences Scheduled to Talk for Increased Production.

Agricultural war conferences will be conducted in Kansas at five points April 1 to April 5, for the purpose of giving those who attend a comprehensive and intimate view of the national and world situation in regard to agricultural production and the need for food.

Conferences will be held in Seneca April 1; Concordia, April 2; Cottonwood Falls, April 3; Larned, April 4; and Coffeyville, April 5. At each point programs will be given afternoon and evening. At Seneca the annual meeting of the Seneca county farm bureau will be held in connection with the conference, and at Coffeyville the meeting of the Southeast Kansas Live Stock association and its first annual sale will be combined with the conference.

E. C. Johnson, dean of the division of extension of the agricultural college, will discuss some of the problems of the farmers of Kansas, and will tell of the organizations which are most helpful in economical production.

CAN NOT PLOW FOR FARMERS.

No Student Drivers Available for the Tractor Work.

Owing to the fact that no student drivers can be secured, the traction engines department has given up the work of spring plowing for farmers around the college. This work will be resumed later if drivers can be secured.

Kittell Enlarges His Business.

Elmer Kittell, already the owner of two popular places of business, has enlarged his field of operations by purchasing of F. G. Harrison the business known as the Royal Cleaners and dyers.

The business will be conducted in its present location, and in connection with the Kittell stores. Mrs. Winslow will continue in charge, and there will be the same efficient force of experts under her direction. Attention will be given to the cleaning, pressing, tailoring, altering, repairing of ladies' garments, gents' clothing and soldiers' suits, and this service will be of the best, with prompt delivery and quick response to the demands of patrons.

The downtown store of Kittell's will be under the direct supervision of Mr. Frank Moore, and Mr. Geo. Given will remain in charge of the Aggieville store. Mr. R. H. Whitney will be the outside man, and Mr. Kittell will assume general management of all the business, devoting his energies to increasing the business and enlarging territory as the growth of Manhattan its field of operations extending the may justify.

WANTED—Several energetic young men and women to do conservation work during the next summer vacation. $30.00 per month and up, paid those who qualify. Applicants should phone or send names and addresses to Collegian office.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGLIAN

VOLUME 24. NUMBER 50

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY MARCH 26, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

BIG SALARIES TO TEACHERS

CALIFORNIA WANTS AGRICULTURAL INSTRUCTORS AT $2,000 A YEAR

Educational Head Offers To Take Every Senior Who Is Graduated From The Jardine Division, With A Salary Minimum Placed at $1,500

A sweeping offer to employ every member of the college graduating class in the agricultural classes at salaries ranging from $1,500 to $2,000 has been made by J. B. Lillard, Sacramento, Calif., supervisor of agricultural education for the state of California.

Dean E. L. Holton, professor of education, who has placed a number of Aggie graduates with California high schools, received the letter from Mr. Lillard.

"Owing to the draft and the county agent work," the letter reads, "we have a shortage of teachers of vocational agriculture. We are in position to offer every one of your seniors in agriculture who will meet the requirements of the Smith-Hughes act positions in the high schools of California at salaries of from $1,500 to $2,000."

Dean Holton anticipates difficulty in securing anywhere near the number of men which the California man hopes to secure from K. S. A. C. Approximately 60 seniors are enrolled in agricultural courses, according to Hugh Durham, assistant to the dean of agriculture. Dean Holton says that only a few of these have applied to him for positions as teachers.

"I have received at least 300 inquiries for men to teach manual training and agriculture," said the dean, "and most of these requests are for agricultural instructors."

Want Federal Money
The Smith-Hughes act, which provides that the federal government will match dollar for dollar the amount spent by state or local communities for teachers for agriculture, manual training and the industries, is largely responsible for the abnormal demand, Dean Holton says the draft also is partly to blame for many teachers are entering the army.

Women who have taken only a few hours of agricultural work in addition to their home economics work can not qualify under the Smith-Hughes act, but there is going to be a big demand for them nevertheless Dean Holton predicts.

A special course has been planned for this summer in order that women now teaching other subjects in high schools may acquaint themselves with agricultural subjects.

FRIDAY TO BE BIG DAY

Easter Probably Will Cause Largest Group Classes

Friday will be "banner" day for the Christian Democracy classes. That day will also be Good Friday.

Meetings are being held each afternoon this week at 4 o'clock in F3, celebrating the advent of Easter. The regular Friday discussion groups will be a culmination of these meetings. It is planned to have Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, celebrated Topeka minister and author, lead some of these meetings. Every member of each class is urged to be present and others interested are also invited.

Dr. J. R. MacArthur, professor of English, in charge of the Christian Democracy campaign is enthusiastic over the work being accomplished.

"A big meeting is expected Friday," said Doctor MacArthur. "The work is progressing well, and the results more than justify the campaign. All are taking active part in the discussions, and are getting great good from them."

INSTRUCTOR INTO AGENT WORK

W. L. French to Have Charge of Mower County

W. L. French, instructor in agricultural subjects, home study department, left Saturday for Austin, Minn., where he will take up work as county agent of Mower county. Five years previous to his coming to the college last August, Mr. French had charge of the agricultural department in the Austin high school, doing work in co-operation with the Austin county agricultural agent.

CRITICISM OF "UNDER COVER"

Selected by Miss Rice as the Best Criticism Written by Her Students.

"Under Cover," presented Saturday evening by the Purple Masque, was the most complex and heaviest play yet presented to a college audience. It afforded immense opportunities for real acting and demanded true artistic ability. The members of the cast were singularly well suited to their parts. The role of Ethel, played by Ernestine Biby was well enacted. Miss Biby did the subtle work well, and was at her best in the tense scenes. In the role of Stephen Denby, Chester Brewer was enthusiastically received. At all times his acting ability was up to the mark, and he carried his audience with him. Lloyd Hamilton scored quite a hit in the part of Taylor, the crook. Mr. Hamilton deserves much praise for the character and reality he created. The parts of Monty, Amy and Alice Harrington were well received. The onlooker admired the steady nerves of Sarah Peabody, and enjoyed the vivacity of Nora. In fact, all pronounced the play a marked success from every standpoint.

FIVE RECITALS THIS WEEK

Pupils of Miss Abernathy To Present Programs

The first of a series of five piano recitals will be given Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the college auditorium by the pupils of Miss Patricia Abernathy. Those taking part in the recital are Miss Lydia Andon, Miss Mary Sachau, Miss Bess Curry, Miss Inez Packman and Robert Allingham.

Miss Inez Bachman, who will receive her degree from the music department this spring, will give her graduating recital Monday evening, April 15, at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Bachman is the talented pupil of Miss Abernathy and is the first to be graduated from the three year music course. She will be assisted by Miss Bess Curry, soprano.

Miss Bess Curry, junior in the music department, will give a piano recital Monday, April 29. Miss Curry will be assisted by Orville Bonnett, baritone.

Mr. Robert Allingham, pupil of Miss Abernathy, will give a recital Monday, May 6. Mr. Allingham will be assisted by the college male quartette.

HOPP IS NOW A SERGEANT

Former Student Has Been Promoted, He Says in a Letter.

Corp. Arthur Hopp now is Sergt. Arthur Hopp, '17, according to a letter received recently from the former Aggie student by E. L. Knostman, man of the Knostman Clothing company.

Sergeant Hopp, '17 according to a Engineers, which went overseas in September. Since that time he has been on detail work repairing railroads. He says that it rains most of the time over there, and that the work is carried on under difficulties.

Sergeant Hopp is with the same regiment with Corp. A. H. Brewer and Martin Soule, both former Aggie students.

RED CROSSERS SPEEDING UP

Last Week There Was An Increase Over Former Period

Workers in the college Red Cross room turned out 6,554 complete dressings last week, an increase of 154 over the preceding week. The number of dressings made by each member showed an advance over the former week as 172 attended classes last week compared with 183 for the week before.

For the ten classes the record for the week stands: Monday afternoon 1150 dressings; Tuesday morning 475; Tuesday afternoon, 422; Wednesday morning, 1052; Wednesday afternoon, 1007; Thursday morning, 690; Thursday afternoon, 480; Friday morning, 176; Friday afternoon, 406 and Saturday morning, 300.

A Red Cross Class has been organized among the business girls of the campus. This class met for the first time last Friday night. A faculty class was also organized last Wednesday.

COLLEGE FLOWERS BLOOMING

And Large Crop of Lettuce Is Grown In Greenhouse

Begonias, cinerarias, geraniums, snap dragons, pansies, carnations, roses, and a few violets are now in bloom at the college greenhouse. There is also a large crop of lettuce on hand.

FRESH-SOPH HOP APRIL 6

CLASSES DECIDE TO MAKE EVENT OF LAST YEAR AN ANNUAL EVENT

Important Joint Meeting of the Two Classes Will Be Held Tonight to Hear the Reports of Committees Who Are Working Details of Hop

The annual sophomore-freshman hop will be held in the college gymnasium April 6, the night following the junior-senior. A joint meeting of the two lower classes will be held tonight in the basement of Fairchild hall to work out the details of the management of the affair, and to hear the reports of the joint committees.

Both Ray Watson, president of the freshman class and Clifford Kinsey, president of the sophomore class have appointed committees to have charge of the prom. The committees follow:

Entertainment—E. W. Robison chairman, Miss Mary Gorham and Grover Simpson, sophomores, Lloyd Hamilton, chairman, Hilary Mather and Miss Marguerite Hammerly, freshmen.

Refreshments—C. J. Medlin, chairman, Miss Lucile Heiser and Stuart Hunt, sophomores; Miss Mary Dudley, chairman, A. N. Steuwe, and Gladys Ross, freshmen.

Decorating—Glenn Hoffhines, chairman, Miss Ella Stinson and D. S. Blanchard, sophomores; Miss Mary Braddock, chairman, Eugene Huff and Clayton Smith, freshmen. H. T. Enns and E. S. Lyons of the sophomore class and M. M. Paul and Miss Clementine Paddock of the freshman class were appointed to confer with the juniors to arrange for the use of the junior-senior decorations.

The sophomore-freshman hop is an annual affair, the first one being held last spring. Entertainment consists of dancing on the floor of Nichols gymnasium and a short "pop" program of music stunts and readings to be given between 9 and 10 o'clock.

A "Key to K. S. A. C." handed down last year from the president of the sophomore class to the president of the freshman class, is again to be a feature of this year's affair. Chauncey Yoeman, who received the key last year, did not return to college, so Clifford Kinsey probably will give the key to Ray Watson, the freshman leader.

PROGRAM FOR FUNSTON MEN
Brownings Entertained With Songs And a Farce

Members of the Browning Literary society gave a program at Camp Funston Saturday evening. A quartet composed of Miss Lucile Carey, Miss Vera Samuel, Miss Fleta Dowditt and Miss Lee Winter accompanied by Miss Margaret Etzold sang "The Rosary" and "Kentucky Babe." Miss Carrie Sloop gave several readings. Japanese costume songs were sung by Miss Vera Samuel and Miss Lucile Carey. A farce "The A. B. C. of a Soldier Romance" was given under the management of Miss Lola Sloop with the assistance of Glenn Ware and H. C. Colglazier of the Athenian Literary society.

Mrs. Jessie Gulick, librarian, chaperoned the party.

BIBLE AS STUDENT'S IDEAL

Good Book as a Standard Discussed at Y. M. Meeting.

Arthur Weber, freshman in general science, led the Thursday evening meeting at the Y. M. The subject discussed was "The Student's Rule Book," the Bible being taken as the standard text for good student conduct. A general discussion followed, and the report of the nominations for the officers of the next year was heard.

CUP TO POULTRY RAISERS

Governor Offers Trophy in Boys' and Girls' Contest

A silver loving cup will be given by Governor Arthur Capper to the boy or girl who receives the highest grade in the Boys' and Girls' Poultry club contest under the management of the extension department.

F. H. Weiland, assistant club leader, has charge of organizing the clubs over the state. More than 50 clubs have been organized.

U. S. BEE EXPERT WAS HERE

Many Meetings Being Held by E. W. Atkins.

E. W. Atkins, extension apiculturist in the United States department of agriculture, spent the first of the week in Manhattan meeting with the Riley county Beekeepers' association Monday. Mr. Atkins is now holding meetings in other parts of the state.

IMPROVING CAMPUS GROUNDS

Plot Near Greenhouse Is Being Beautified

The grounds adjacent to the college greenhouse are taking on a change in appearance for the best. Some time ago the work was planned by A. M. Doerner, assistant in landscape gardening, and recently the work was executed.

The terracing and grading of the south slope near the conservatory has smoother the ground made ragged by students whose "cutting paths" had caused the soil to wash.

ENJOYED THE HOUSE PARTY

Y. W. Cabinet Returns From Week End Country Jaunt

The annual Y. W. C. A. cabinet house party held this week end near Stockdale, was one of the big successes of the college year, the girls who attended voted. Interesting speakers gave talks and an interesting program was carried out.

The girls left Manhattan at 6 o'clock Saturday morning and were met in Stockdale by automobiles. The first hour was spent in exploring the farm. Then Miss Mildred Inskeep, association secretary, discussed the purpose of Y. W. C. A. work on the campus. Miss Lucy Y. Riggs, central field secretary, led in a discussion of Christian fundamentals.

At the afternoon session the reports of the retiring cabinet were read. Each retiring cabinet member conferred with her successor for an hour. After this Miss Winnifred Wygal, Y. W. C. A. worker at Camp Funston, spoke on the relationship of the cabinet and the advisory board.

In the evening a wolver roast was held in the woods. Around the camp fire the girls of the old cabinet spoke informally about what the past year had meant to them. Sunday morning Miss Grace Derby of the advisory board talked on "Student Standards." Miss Winnifred Wygal told how Y. W. C. A. secretaries instructed. After dinner, Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile gave an inspirational talk to the girls. The girls returned to Manhattan in automobiles Sunday evening.

Those present were Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile, Miss Mildred Inskeep, Miss Winnifred Wygal, Miss Lucy Y. Riggs, Miss Grace Derby, Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, Miss Nellie Wilkie, Miss Mary Dakin, Miss Margaret King, Miss Pearl Arthaus, Miss Mary Mason, Miss Sarella Herrick, Miss Velma Carson, Miss Ruth Thomas, Miss Donna Faye Wilson, Miss Hattie Droll, Miss Harriet Morris, Miss Vera Olmstead, Miss Abbie Furneaux, Miss Mary Crumbaker, Miss Gretta Gramme, Miss Ada Robertson, Miss Mary Gilliam, Miss Elizabeth Circle, Miss Lucile Baird and Miss Helen Stewart.

MIKE MAKES DEBUT AS AUTHOR

Pamphlet On Vegetable Garden Written By Professor Ahearn

The Kansas Agricultural experiment station is publishing four emergency circulars containing practical knowledge on truck and fruit growing. The first on "The Home Vegetable Garden," by M. F. Ahearn, professor of landscape gardening, and the second on "Potato Seed Diseases and their Treatment," by L. E. Melchers, instructor in plant pathology, have been issued.

The third on "Insects and Plant Diseases Attacking Garden Crops," by J. H. Merrill, assistant professor of entomology and L. E. Melchers, and the fourth on "Spraying Fruit Trees" by J. H. Merrill will be finished before April 15.

LAST CO-ED GAMES WEDNESDAY

Freshmen Undeclared in the Girls Basketball Series

The girls basketball teams will play the last games of the season Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The freshmen and sophomores and juniors and seniors will play. As the freshmen have been undefeated so far they are working hard for the championship.

SOPHS TOOK $75 IN STAMPS

SECOND YEAR CLASSES GIVES W. S. S. DRIVE ITS BIGGEST BOOST

Campaign Now is Under Way in Good Style, Professor Taylor Says—Students Who Buy Stamps Should Report Purchases To Their Secretaries

The War Savings Stamp drive was given its biggest boost yesterday when the sophomore class, through its president, Clifford Kinsey, purchased $75 worth of the large savings stamps. The class approved the move at a meeting.

The campaign now has resulted in the sale of approximately 450 of the 25-cent stamps and 65 of the larger stamps. This statement was made late yesterday afternoon by R. G. Taylor, chairman of the stamps sales committee.

Ag. Students Ahead

Students in the agronomy department have sold 350 War Saving Stamps. J. B. Angle, senior captain, has made the most sales.

Other captains are C. O. Johnson, C. J. Reeves, Sam Mitchell, W. R. Essick, and W. H. Hiltz, seniors; W. W. Bell, W. C. Jansen, E. E. Gorman, F. R. Beaudette, juniors; F. S. Parnell, E. S. Lyons, W. E. Robinson, W. W. Rodewald, and S. O. Williamson, sophomores; K. S. Quisenberry, Vivian Heath, Clem Young, Robert W. Schell, J. O. Bogue, C. B. Quigley and E. L. St. John, freshmen.

Students Buying Stamps

A large number of the students who buy stamps do not report their purchases to the division headquarters, complaining Mr. Taylor, who says that those who purchase the stamps notify the secretary of their divisional society. The secretaries of Prof. M. C. Sewell, agriculture; Miss Gladys Hartley, School of Agriculture; R. A. Van Trine, engineering; Miss Pauline Richards, home economics; Miss Betty Cotton, general science; and Mrs. Bert Clingan, extension.

Mr. Taylor has forwarded his first report to P. W. Goebel of Kansas City, who is directing the Kansas drive.

Several attractive posters calling attention to the campaign were placed on the college bulletin boards this morning. They were the work of Miss Fairman, formerly one of the instructors in the department of music, who is donating her services in the drive.

TRAIN FOR RURAL LEADERSHIP

School Was Held Here Under Leadership of Professor Hall

A training school and conference for boys' and girls' club leaders and emergency home demonstration agents was conducted at the Kansas State Agricultural college under the direction of Otis E. Hall, state club leader, and Miss Frances Brown, state emergency home demonstration agent.

Questions relating to the organization, financing, and general management of rural clubs were discussed—also rural work in which club leaders and home demonstration agents may co-operate to further food production.

T. J. Newhill, assistant leader of boys' and girls' club work in 23 northern and western states, talked on his experience as a national club leader, and Miss Marie Sayles, Washington, D. C., told of her work as a national home demonstration agent. Mrs. Mary Pierce Van Zile, dean of home economics at the college, talked on "War Problems in Home Economics and Some Plans to Meet Them." W. D. Ross, state superintendent of public instruction, spoke on "War Problems in Public Schools and How They are Being Met by Teacher and Pupils."

SOCIETIES PLAN JOINT SESSION

Webs and Euros to Meet Together On April 6.

A joint Web-Euro program will be given at the Web-Euro hall Saturday evening, April 6. An extensive program is being prepared by the two literary societies, and it is planned to make this one of the big meetings of the year.

Mrs. W. A. Bryan has returned to her home in Pratt after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Heinz, senior in home economics.

HAVE MORE BEE FAMILIES

Nineteen More Colonies Now College Property.

The department of entomology has purchased 19 colonies of bees for the college apiary. They will be used in the work in the course in apiculture and in experiments and bee investigations.

FORMER PROFESSOR VISITING

A. N. Ten Eyck Now is With an Implement Company.

A. N. Ten Eyck, formerly professor of agronomy, now agricultural expert for the Emerson Bradingham company at Rockford, Ill., is visiting at the college.

Mr. Ten Eyck left the college several years ago to become agricultural advisor for Winnebago county of which Rockford is the county seat. The excellent results which he secured were instrumental in bringing him to the attention of the manufacturing company.

He is now making a tour of the western college and universities inspecting the various farm engineering departments.

AHEAD IN THE PENTANGULAR

Aggie Debaters Lead in Contest With Other Schools

Winning both at Baker university and at home, the Kansas Aggie debaters have taken the lead in the initial round of the annual Pentangular debate in which the College of Emporia, Baker university, Washburn college, Ottawa university, and K. S. A. C. are competing.

The negative team, composed of C. O. Chubb, senior in general science, Samuel James, junior in agronomy, and R. I. Richards, sophomore in agronomy, won from Baker. The affirmative team composed of K. D. Thompson, sophomore in agronomy, Seibert Fairman, junior in the mechanical engineering, and A. F. Swan, senior in agronomy won from the Ottawa university team.

The judges considered the construction and delivery of the Aggie constructive speeches in all ways superior to those of the Ottawa speakers.

The next round of the debate will be argued Saturday, April 13. The affirmative team will debate Washburn college at Topeka and the negative team will debate the College of Emporia at Manhattan.

LAMBKINS ARE FROLICKING

Soon They Will Begin to Gambol on The College Green

Eighty-four little lambs are now frolicking about the sheep pens at the college barns. Various visitors have been tempted to purloin the innocent little creatures. As soon as the grass grows to sufficient height they will be turned on the campus to graze.

Miss Grace Garver, short course and Mr. Harold Garver, sophomore in agriculture, spent the week end at their home in Abilene.

CRITIC JOB IS A HARD ONE

Definite Standards Are Lacking, Says Former Dial Editor

"Editing a journal of criticism" was the subject of a talk given by Capt. C. J. Massee, adjutant of the 353rd Infantry of Camp Funston, former editor of The Dial, before the students in industrial journalism yesterday afternoon.

In defining the critic and criticism Captain Massee said, "Nothing is as shifting as the point of view of criticism. There is no fixed approach to the subject. Criticism becomes a social factor—the result of a multiplicity of social factors. The literary criticism of any age is typical of that age or era."

"A critic may or may not be a disappointed author, or he may be one who has mistaken aspiration for inspiration. The critic is one who attempts to measure literature. He applies highest to all material which comes before him. Another type of critic says that the only test of a piece of literature is as to whether or not it pleases, that the measurement is a matter of taste."

Some of the qualifications of a critic which were named by Captain Massee are power of analysis, or knowing the fabric of the literature which is to be estimated; intuitive analysis, or possessing something of the artist; tolerance; and sincerity or personal honesty.

AGGIES SURPRISED ROOTERS

BASKETBALL SEASON JUDGED A SUCCESS WHEN TEAM LANDED SECOND.

Good Work of Freshman Crew Added to Laurels of Aggies—Captain VanTrine is Third Among the Point-Makers of the Valley, Whedon Fifth.

The Final Standing.
	Won	Lost Pct.
Missouri	15	1 .937
Kansas Aggies	10	5 .666
Kansas	9	8 .529
Nebraska	4	5 .444
Washington	4	8 .333
Ames	1	6 .142
Drake	0	10 .000

Capturing second place in the valley race and first place in the first battle for freshman supremacy, the Aggies have not fared badly this year in basketball, is the opinion of Aggie coaches and rooters.

"When we started the year, I didn't think we were going to win half of them," Coach Clevenger remarked at the end of the recent Nebraska series, in commenting on the games won and lost during the season.

Missouri was the only team in the valley to demonstrate any superiority over the Aggies, and both Coach Clevenger and the Aggie players agree that the Tiger five rightfully belongs at the top of the percentage head.

Split Four With Kansas.

With the other teams in the race, the Aggies either battled to a tie, or decisively defeated. The Kansas team split the four games with the Aggies. Even at that the Purple rooters are not willing to concede that the Lawrence team measured up with the five that Clevenger coached. In one of the defeats given them by the Kansas, the Aggies were only three points behind, and in the other they exhibited the most miserable form of the season, not even excepting the first game at Nebraska, when the Aggies seemed to lack the customary drive and fight.

The valley standings shows that the Aggies won ten—or exactly two-thirds—of their games, finishing with a percentage of .666. Below them on the ladder are the Kansans, with nine games won and eight lost and a percentage of .529. Nebraska, Washington and Ames follow in the order named, with the Des Moines Bulldogs cinching the cellar championship with a total percentage of zero. Drake played ten games and lost all.

Captain Van Trine ranked third among the point makers of the valley, statistics compiled by the Christian Science Monitor show. And Whedon was fifth, giving the Aggies two leading goal-baggers among the foremost five. Unrlaub of Kansas made a total of 174 points, leading the race. There were four Aggie men among the leading 15.

What the Monitor Says.

The Christian Science Monitor gives the Aggie team of 1918 the following writeup:

"Kansas State, an unusually strong five, finished second after winning the championship last year. It was a coincidence that Missouri and Kansas Aggies fought for the championship this season as they did in 1917. The championship was decided in the same way, except the Kansas team proved superior last year and Missouri this season. This year, as last year, the two were close together when they met in the final contest." Shouldn't the Aggies be proud of a team that occupies this position in the Missouri valley?

SURVIT SAMPLES OF SEED

Farmers Respond to Call Made by the State.

More than 20,000 samples of seed to be tested have been received by the department of agronomy from Kansas farmers since the beginning of the seed survey conducted by the college. This seed survey is being made for the purpose of relieving the seed shortage in the state.

The department germinates the seed free of charge for the farmers. From 500 to 1,000 samples are being handled each day, and between 20 and 30 persons are being employed in the laboratory. Mrs. E. P. Harling, seed analyst, has charge of the work. The seed from the northern part of the state shows more injury than that from the southern part.

GOOD WORK WELL DONE

For putting in regular hours, and for getting work done, the girls who have been turning out surgical dressings for the Red Cross deserve a reward.

Last week, the fifth since the work began, the record for number of dressings finished was broken. And that wasn't the first week or the second week, when the excitement of the drive was at its height, but more than a month later.

Perhaps the work wasn't nearly as pleasant as running down town to a picture show, or even strolling around on the campus. But the girls have kept at it, plodding along once a week.

It's about the only work for the girls, and they're doing their part right well.

MILITARY ETIQUETTE

"How do you like to be saluted?"
whispered one girl to another yesterday, after a cadet had passed a group of co-eds, and given one of the number the usual military sign of courtesy.

"Not a bit. If a man's too lazy to raise his cap to me, well—" and the head of the girl addressed was tossed defiantly.

Our dear young lady, will you read this decision of the war department, issued in 1913—

"The headdress must not be raised to ladies, and they must be given the military salute."

Following Precedent

"Is this the way to Wareham?"
Asked the girl with bloomers on.
"It's the way I've always worn 'em,"
Said the astonished farmer John.

Harman will have charge of one of the summer classes.

Miss Irene Dunne of Washington,

END OF A PERFECT ROW

When you come to the end of a perfect row,
And you sit alone with your will,
And your bosom heaves with a rhythm slow,
For the joy that you've folowed
the rule,
Do you think what the end of a perfect row
Can mean to a tired heart,
When you've dropped each stitch since you've learned to puri,
And you lost three more at the start?

Well, this is the end of a perfect row
And the end of a sweater, too, Though it's for a man tha tis big and strong,

It will be pretty tight, 'tis true,
But toiling has rendered this perfect row
A nice piece of the knitter's art,
And 'twill stand at the end, still strong and firm,
When the whole thing comes apart

SAYS THE GUN CAN'T DO IT

College Physicist Doubts Remarkable Feat of the Germans

Is it possible to throw a shell 74 miles? This is the question asked by E. A. Stewart, instructor in physics at the Kansas State Agricultural college.
Mr. Stewart has reference to the reported long range bombardment of Paris by the Germans, and reports say that the shells are being thrown a distance of approximately 74 miles.
Mr. Stewart makes the following statement regarding the possibility of such a feat:

"If the Germans have done this it means that they have achieved the unbelievable in big gun construction.
A perusal of the following facts will convince anyone:

"To throw a shell a distance of 74 miles, neglecting air resistance, would require a starting velocity of 3,536 feet per second. The greatest distance so far that had been covered by shell fire has been 22 miles, which would require a muzzle velocity of 1,648 feet per second. It has taken many years to develop a gun to stand the strain at this velocity. Does it seem possible that in one stroke they can more than double this velocity?

"A few more facts may be interesting. The air resistance at this velocity would amount to about 33 pounds of resisting force on a 9 1/2-inch shell. The shell would probably weigh less than 500 pounds, but assuming this weight, the air resistance would lessen its velocity by approximately 325 feet per second. If one half of this is added to the amount first given, the muzzle velocity would need to be about 3,700 feet per second, or 42 miles per minute. This would require about 154 seconds for the flight, and the shell would be raised to a height of 18 1/2 miles. Assuming that the barrel of the gun was 37 feet long, the average force acting on the shell and on the gun would be 30,600 pounds per square inch. It is impossible."

SCHOOL OF AG

The program committee for the school of agriculture mixer will meet in F3 Tuesday evening at five o'- clock.

Sergt. H. D. Hibbard of Funston, spent Sunday with his cousin, J. H.
Cowen, senior student in the school of agriculture. Mr. Hibbard has been stationed at Funston since last September.

The members of the Elkhart club went on a hike to Flat Rock Friday evening.

Harold Johnson, third year school of agriculture, spent the week end at home with his parents in Clebourn.

The school of agriculture has been divided into groups of ten students each, to work for the war savings campaign. Each group has a captain or leader who will report the number of war saving stamps purchased by members of his group each month.

Harold Johnson, third year school of agriculture, visited his father at Clebourn over Sunday.

George Freeto of Wichita has withdrawn from school.

If it wasn't for the fool things people do, this world would be a dry old world. This time a Peabody citizen wants the people of this fair land to eat popcorn for breakfast.

We'll go farther than that. Why not try wheat straw, corn chop, or

Do animals love music? As an experiment we captured a cat and when subjected to "Daisies Won't Tell," the Animals don't like music.

If this war keeps up, Aggie co-eds will be referring to parlors as "No

Each day brings its thrills. A musical instructor down at Cleveland has found music in a baby's cry. We will admit, however, that this last discovery was more plausible than the Good music is a wonderful thing.

It is certainly taught on Mrs. Margaret

Gillette Safety
Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillettes
Specially designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against.
Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

Only One Razor Measures Up to The Soldier's Needs

THE first thing a man learns in the Service is the meaning of the word "Attention!"
Snap, precision—doing things on the jump—clean and right the first time.

Everything in his life brings him to the Gillette. There are more Gillettes in the packs and pockets of Uncle Sam's Boys than of all other razors put together.

And this holds good for all the Allied Armies and Navies on all the battle fronts of Europe and the East, from the first gun fired in the World War.

It's not alone the quality of the Gillette Shave
—the Gillette service whether the water is hot or cold—the way it has solved thousands of times every shaving problem that any man can put up to it—its soothing, bracing effect on the sunburned or wind-sore skin.

There's the simplicity of it. Its freedom from strops, hones, clutter and mess. The saving of time and motion. Blades always sharp, always ready. No strops or hones to clutter up the kit.

Everything a man needs for his shaving complete in one compact little unit that tucks away in his kit or his pocket—and No Stropping, No Honing.

The University of Nebraska and the Kansas State Agricultural college are to be congratulated on their adoption of the freshman competition rule. The yearlings of the two schools have met in a series of basketball games.

Freshman competition has been approved by most of the schools of the east, and sooner or later will be accepted by a great majority of the schools of the country. o, three runs, for the Aggies and Cornhuskers—Kansas City Star.

Baseball has been abandoned at Baker university. Nearly every man on last year's team has "signed" with Uncle Sam.

Jerry Whedon, Aggie basketball center, threw more field goals than any other man in the valley this season, making a total of 59.

Missouri claims her success this season is due to the short passing game, and places that above all other basketball styles.

IS OUR NATION CHRISTIAN?

I. What Elements are common to both Christianity and Democracy.

1. Might we say that true Democracy is in essence an application of the Golden Rule.
2. Is equal opportunity for all, even for those less favored by nature or by environment demanded by both Christianity and Democracy?
3. How far have we as a nation realized Christianity in our Democracy?
4. Are not service and sacrifice the fundamental principles of both Christianity and Democracy?

II. How About K. S. A. C. and Christian Democracy?

1. May an earnest religious group such as denominational workers be undemocratic?
2. Are intercollegiate athletics democratic?
3. Does Christian Democracy demand student self government?

III. If Christian Democracy demands self government, and this self-government is realized, what should the student body do in the matter of the war?

1. Ought it not to stimulate every one of its members to service and sacrifice in winning the war?
2. Ought it not to strive to become clear as to the issues involved?
3. Ought it not to make every one feel the privilege of fighting for Christian Democracy, either in the Army or out of it?
4. Is it a misfortune to be drafted? What should be the answer of every K. S. A. C. student as a believer in Christian Democracy?

IV. This is Good Friday, the day commemorating for many Christians the supreme sacrifice of all time, and the day upon which last year America decided to make her sacrifice for Christian democracy. What is the significance of the day to you? Are you prepared to translate this significance into definite service and sacrifice for your country?

BIG KANSAS ART DISPLAY SOON

Pictures and Pottery Work Will Be Shown Here

The art department announces that an exceptionally fine art exhibit will be on display in the art department studios April 22 to May 4.

The exhibit will consist of pictures by Kansas artists sent out by the Kansas Federation of Art, Rookwood and Newcomb pottery that which there is said to be none better, and 50 wood block prints of Japanese, Chinese, and Mexican subjects.

The Newcomb pottery is sent by the H. Sophie Newcomb Memorial college of Tulane university of New Orleans, while the Rookwood pottery is sent by a commercial pottery company of Cincinnati, Ohio.

"This will be an exceptional opportunity to see and know the best in these lines," said Miss Grace Palmer.

Society Brand Clothes

Specialists to Young Men

THE young man who will not be satisfied with "old men's models" will delight in our showing of young men's clothes.

Here he will find models especially designed for him. Suits that will distinguish him in any company. We specialize in clothes of this kind.

And it is hard, sometimes, to know where to draw the line in our assortment. Just now it is at its height. Here young men, their older brothers, their fathers will find new spring styles in all the new fabrics and colorings.

The prices are less, too, than one would expect to pay for such clothes of sterling value.

Things to go with such clothes: hats, caps, shirts, ties, etc., in abundance.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGLIAN

VOLUME 24. NUMBER 51

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, FRIDAY MARCH 29, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

LAST GROUP CLASSES TODAY

CHRISTIAN WORLD DEMOCRACY DRIVE A SUCCESS, LEADERS SAY.

More Than 300 Students Have Attended Regularly and Results Have Been Gratifying to Those Behind the Movement, It Is Said.

The last meetings of the Christian Democracy classes will be held today. Passion week services, celebrating the advent of Easter, have been held at 4 o'clock in Fairchild hall each day this week under the auspices of the Christian association and the churches of Manhattan.

The Christian Democracy classes today will be the culmination not only of these passion week services, but also of the entire Democracy campaign in this college. For this reason special efforts are being made to make the meetings today a big success.

"A Success"—Macarthur.

The passion week exercises have been attended by from 50 to 75 students each day. The meetings have been lead by chaplains from Camp Funston. In addition various musical numbers have been prepared by Miss Mildred Inskip, secretary of the college Y. W. C. A.

"The aim of the course has been to emphasize the principle of service and sacrifice; and to get those who remain at home in this great war, to measure their duty with those who have gone to the front," said Dr. J. D. Macarthur, in charge of the campaign. "The general impression is that those who have attended have received great good from the course. Today is the anniversary of the day upon which the greatest of all sacrifices was made—Good Friday—and for this reason the meetings should have a special significance."

More Women Than Men.

W. W. McLean, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in summarizing the work said: "There have been more than 300 in regular attendance at these classes. Of these the proportion was two to one in favor of the girls. This campaign has more than justified the efforts."

The work of leading the classes has met an excellent response from faculty members. The following faculty members have been leaders of the various classes: Dean Mary Van Zile, Miss Ethel Jones, Miss Grace Palmer, Miss Mary McDonald, Miss Helen Halm, Miss Lulu Kennedy, Miss Grace Hesse, Miss Glasgow, Miss Jessie McD. Machir, Miss Grace Derby, Miss Fanny Dunlap, Mrs. J. T. Willard, Miss Ina Holroyd, Miss Ada Rice, Prof. W. E. Grimes, Prof. M. G. Burton, Prof. J. E. Kammeyer, Prof. O. H. Burns, Prof. R. G. Taylor, Prof. J. E. Hughes, Prof. E. V. Floyd, Prof. Cecil F. Baker, W. T. Stratton, and the Rev. Darley Downs, Congregational student pastor.

HAVE INTRAMURAL BASEBALL

Divisions and Fraternities Will Battle for Titles.

The divisional and fraternity teams will furnish entertainment for the followers of the great national game of baseball this spring.

Although the college will have no schedule this spring, the athletic department has arranged for the divisional teams and the fraternity teams to use the college diamond. There will be five teams in the divisional league: General Science, Vets, Engineers, Aes, and School of Aes. A meeting of representatives of the different divisions will meet later and arrange the schedule.

The fraternity teams will begin playing about the second week in April, but no definite schedule has been arranged.

THE MAY FETE HOOVERIZED

LAST YEAR'S GARMENTS WANTED FOR SPRING FROLIC

Soldiers Need Gauze for Bandages, So Director of Affairs Calls for Old Garments

The May Fete will be held on the campus as usual this year in spite of the "Conservation" arguments advanced against the annual spring frolic.

For a while it was doubtful as to whether the May Queen and her many attendants would find it possible to appear at the May day carnival as the center of attraction on account of the cost of queenly raiment in this time of war. The Queen's feelings were particularly injured with the general accusation of lack of patriotism for she was reminded that her costumes and those of her train were made of GAUZE. And gauze, as everyone knows is what Uncle Sam needs for his wounded soldiers.

On account of this severe criticism it was decided to do away with the May Fete until one of the Queen's efficacious attendants suggested a "conservation" May Fete. This idea was quite pleasing to the Queen, who at once ordered preparations for the carnival to be commenced. A request has been sent out all over the campus that all May Fete, carnival or fancy costumes from former entertainments be brought to room 61 of the domestic science building to be made over.

In this way the old gauze costumes may be utilized thru dyeing and remodeling and the criticism of "unpatriotic" will not be brought forward. There were a number of the fancy dances which could not be given without the appropriate costumes, which will now be presented.

The May Fete for this spring will carry out the idea of the Queen reviewing her troops and will be on the military order. The gymnasium work will have an important part in the entertainment. The carnival is given as usual under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. The girls will be drilled by Miss Ethel Loring and Miss Bond of the physical training department.

The Queen has attendants in L 61 during all college hours Saturday March 30, to receive any costumes for the "Conservation" Fete.

WOMAN TENNIS SERIES SOON

Miss Loring Calls for Names of the Contestants

All girls interested in entering the tennis tournaments are requested to report to Miss Ethel Loring of the physical training department as soon as possible. Four tennis courts are ready for use and two more will be before the end of the week. Tennis tournaments will begin immediately.

Teams for interclass baseball are being organized. All girls wishing to try out for places on the teams should report to Miss Loring at once.

Dr. R. K. Nabours, professor of zoology, expects to spend the summer at the biological station at Wood's Hole, Mass.

THE BIGGEST BAND COMING

THREE HUNDRED FUNSTON MUSICIANS TO PLAY ON CAMPUS SUNDAY

Combined Divisional Band May Ecclipse Large Organization of Sousa—Oscar Seagle Recital Precedes The Concert

A chance to hear a band of 300 pieces—one of the largest bands ever gathered together—will be given to the students and people of Manhattan next Sunday after the Oscar Seagle recital.

It has been announced by A. E. Westbrook, head of the department of music, that all members of the Camp Funston regimental bands had been invited to attend the Seagle recital Sunday afternoon, and in return the musical director of the camp promised to put on a band concert with the combined forces of all the bands from Camp Funston.

The recital by Oscar Seagle, America's greatest baritone, will begin at 3:00 o'clock sharp, and immediately after the recital, the concert will be given on the campus. There will be no charge for the concert.

As Large as Sousa's.

Chester Guthrie, the musical director of the camp, will lead the audience in a community sing in connection with the concert. The unusual size of the band will mark it as a feature attraction. It is without doubt the largest band ever gathered together in this part of the country, and is as large as the famous band of John Philip Sousa, recruited from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

The band will play the same music that is being prepared for the Easter concert to be given at Camp Funston, so the musicians are sure to be in the best of shape, as they have been practicing long and hard for the concert.

Seagle Greatest Baritone.

The Oscar Seagle recital, which will be a chance for the people of the community to hear the greatest of American baritones at his best. Although Mr. Seagle was forced to cancel two engagements for the recital here he is in excellent form. The great thing about the personality of Seagle is that with all of his popularity he is still democratic in his tastes, and is always in sympathy with his audience.

Sings American Songs.

Mr. Seagle also differs from many great artists in that he sings as many American as foreign songs. He has discovered that American songs are just as singable as those written in a foreign tongue, and many of his greatest hits are sung in the English language.

Another great group of songs that Mr. Seagle sings with unusual success is the famous group of negro spirituals composed by H. T. Burleigh. Having been raised in the mountains of Tennessee, Mr. Seagle well knows the ways and intimate touches of the negroes. In his negro songs he is at his best.

ARE SEWING FOR SOLDIERS

Browning Girls Volunteer to Make Curtains for Funston Hut.

The girls of the Browning literary society are showing their patriotism in a unique and practical manner. They are hemming curtains for Y. M. C. A. hut No. 6 of Camp Funston.

Last Saturday night the Browning girls went to Camp Funston to give a program. A Y. M. man, apologized for the bare windows, mentioned the fact that material for curtains had been purchased but that no one had been found to make them up. The result was that the girls brought the 75 yards of scrim home with them that night. Monday morning they rented a sewing machine and instituted it in their society room. The girls are using all their spare time this week hemming curtains. They expect to have them finished and ready for the soldiers to enjoy Sunday.

HELP AT FUNSTON CAFETERIAS

Two Aggie Girls Each Week Obtain Practical Experience.

The lunch room management girls are getting practical experience in the cafeterias at the hostess houses at Camp Funston and Army City. Two girls are sent each week to spend two days at each place. This is made possible through the management of the two cafeterias.

DATES MUST BE IN APRIL 1

Juniors and Seniors May Be Assigned—Juniors Must Pay Dues

All juniors who intend to attend the junior-senior prom a week from tomorrow must pay this year's dues of $2, and if they intend to make their own dates, must report the matter before April 1. That is the edict passed out by Homer Cross, chairman of the "date" committee.

The tickets for the prom are to be handed out by the committee of which Mr. Cross is chairman, and it has been decided that only those who have been credited with this year's dues will be given the admittance cards.

The dates should be mailed through the college postoffice to Mr. Cross. Both juniors and seniors are asked to report as dates will be assigned to the seniors who have made no arrangements.

LIEUTENANCY TO SKOURUP

Aggie Graduate Commissioned In Sanitary Corps.

W. N. Skourup, '15, who has been teaching in the bacteriology department at the University of Kansas, has been appointed a first lieutenant in the sanitary corps and is to report at Fort Leavenworth next Wednesday.

SIX INTO PURPLE MASQUE

Dramatic Fraternity Honors "Under Cover" Stars.

The Purple Masque dramatic fraternity announces the pledging of Chester C. Brewer, freshman in industrial journalism, Mrs. Arvilla Hale, junior in home economics, Miss Greta Gramse, junior in home economics, Miss Betty Lyman, sophomore in home economics, Oliver Nelson, freshman in agriculture, and Miss Dorothy Norris, senior in home economics.

Mr. Brewer will be remembered for his forceful portrayal of Denby, the secret service agent in "Under Cover." Mrs. Hale took the part of the flirtatious society girl in the same production, Miss Greta Gramse played the part of the calm, professional lady smuggler, and Miss Betty Lyman had the difficult role of the misguided sister of the leading lady.

Oliver Nelson took a leading part in "The Man On the Box," which was given last fall. He also took a double role in "Under Cover," that of Peter in the first act, and of Lambert in the remaining acts. Miss Dorothy Norris took the part of the flirtatious widow in "The Man On the Box."

MISS KINMAN TO ST. LOUIS

Good Position in High School to Aggie Girl.

Miss Gertrude Kinman, who has received her graduating honors this year, left for St. Louis where she will direct the East high school cafeteria. Miss Grace Lewis, '15, was former director of this cafeteria, and has gone to take the same position in the Normal school at Terre Haute, Ind.

WARRENSBURG BACKED OUT

Missouri Normal Girls Will Not Debate Aggies.

The women's debate squad which was working on the subject of the dual debate with Warrensburg normal school to be held the first of May, has been disbanded for the present. At the last moment, Warrensburg broke her debating contest with K. S. A. C.

The debate council requested that an attempt be made to schedule another women's debate for this spring but the attempt failed. Arrangements however, are being made for a debate with Southwestern college at Winfield to be held early in the fall. This will give an opportunity for those who are working for the Warrensburg debate to make their college "K."

Lola Chaffee, who is a senior and will not have an opportunity to debate in the fall has been transferred to the Salina squad. The next women's debate, with Salina Wesleyan will take place April 20. The first draft of the speeches have been written and corrected and Don L. Burk, debate coach, says a debate equal to the men's pentangular may be expected.

ONLY TWO SLICES OF BREAD

Cafeteria Conforms to Ruling of Food Administration.

The cafeteria management has limited the number of slices of bread sold to one person for one meal to two slices only. This is done in order to conform to the food conservation rules.

JOHN CLARKE THE CAPTAIN

FOOTBALL LEADER ALSO CHOSEN TO HEAD 1918 BASKETBALL FIVE

New Captain Played a Steady Game At Guard All Season—Athletic Board Awards Letters and Service Stripes to Six Aggie Men

John Clarke, the popular guard of the Aggies for the past season, was elected captain for the 1918-19 Purple squad at a meeting of the team Wednesday afternoon.

The fact that Johnny is captain of both the football and basketball teams is the best testimonial of his ability and popularity. It is seldom that one man holds both of these coveted positions, especially during the same year.

Letters were awarded to the following men for work in basketball by the athletic board: Captain Van Trine three stripes and a captain's bar; Clarke, two stripes, and Whedon, Ben Hinds, George Hinds and George Foltz, one stripe apiece. These stripes are indicative of the number of years served in valley competition.

RICKMAN TO TALK MONDAY

Former Aggie Printing Head to Speak on "Making a Book."

J. D. Rickman, assistant state printer, formerly superintendent of printing at the college, will talk to the industrial journalism students at their weekly lecture class Monday afternoon.

Mr. Rickman will speak on "The Making of a Book," illustrating his lecture with specimens of art type. All persons interested are welcome. Miss Rose Wolsieffer of the home study department will spend Easter at her home in Salina.

H. Umberger of the extension division returned Thursday from Leavenworth county.

G. E. Piper of the extension division is at Colby this week.

M. G. Burton, director of home study service, went to Bonner Springs Thursday where he talked on "The Consolidation of Schools." His lecture was illustrated by lantern slides.

P. E. McNall of the extension division returned Saturday from Council Grove. He is spending this week in Elk and Chautauqua counties holding farm account meetings for the purpose of discussing the income tax as applied to farmers.

L. C. Williams of the extension division spent Wednesday in Dodge City, Thursday in Garden City, and Friday in Wichita conducting gardening meetings.

JOHNSON TO FIVE WAR MEETS

Kansas Towns Will Hear Dean of Extension.

E. C. Johnson, dean of the extension division, will speak at five agricultural war conferences held at various towns over the state next week. His subject will be "Keeping Our Balance and Forging Ahead." These conferences have been planned by the extension division in co-operation with the States Relations service of the United States department of agriculture. They will be held at Seneca, Concordia, Cottonwood Falls, Larned, and Coffeyville.

WEHRLE NOW AN INSTRUCTOR

Football Player is Making Good at Cornell

L. P. Wehrle, master of science in entomology and zoology, 1916, and assistant in zoology 1916-17, assistant in Cornell university during the last year, has been promoted to an instructorship in entomology in Cornell university. Mr. Wehrle played on the K. S. A. C. football team in his undergraduate days.

WANTS STUDENTS VACCINATED

Doctor Siever Believes Patriotism is Involved.

Students of the college should volunteer for vaccination for smallpox, according to Dr. Charles M. Siever, college physician.

"For the sake of the soldiers as well as themselves the students should respond better in the matter of vaccination for smallpox," said Doctor Siever. "The clerks and waiters in the drug stores, restaurants, hotels, and other institutions of Manhattan which the soldiers frequent have been compelled to be vaccinated. Why not the students?"

"Last year the students responded better although there was a charge of 10 cents made at that time. This year the vaccination points are free."

STUDENTS BUY WAR STAMPS

SOCIETIES HAVE DRIVE WELL UNDER WAY IS REPORT

Those Who Buy Become Missionaries For Cause and Persuade Others to Join

The work of the War-Savings societies in the college is growing steadily. Up to 2 o'clock yesterday 800 of the 25-cent thrift stamps had been sold on the campus and the calls for them were hourly.

Many of the students are adopting systematic methods of saving for the purpose of buying Uncle Sam's newest and smallest securities. Some of the girls are devoting all new coins they receive to the work. When it is seen that the price of the latest soft drink of a picture show and two street car fares will buy a stamp and help to win the war, to say nothing of the saving of time and the importance of making such an investment, the argument for thrift seems to be won.

Faculty are Buying

A considerable number of the smaller stamps have been sold among the faculty and employees and there is a steady demand among these groups for the War-Savings stamps or Baby Bonds.

Holders of Thrift Cards not only become tremendously interested in the whole subject of war finance and in seeing their investment grow as they attach successive stamps to the cards, but many of them are becoming enthusiastic missionaries in spreading the idea among their friends and in the groups to which they belong. It is hoped by the committee that everyone on the campus will be into the work shortly, R. G. Taylor chairman, says.

General Science Organized

The internal organization of all societies is now complete and war savings may be said to have become a permanent institution here. The Division of general science society has chosen the following captains to carry on the work: Frances Perry, Calvin J. Medlin, Nettie Wisner, A. W. Boyer, Velma Carson, Ione Leith, Earl W. Frost, H. D. McGregor, Claude Hutto, Clementine Paddieford, Elizabeth Circle, Lola Chaffee, Estel Wollman, Lloyd L. Hamilton, Mrs. Laura D. Moore, Walter Niebarger, Elizabeth Wadley, Nellie Yantis, Margaret Woodman.

Thrift stamps are on sale constantly at the college post office in Anderson Hall. A limited number of the larger stamps are kept here also and purchasers of these can order any quantity of these desired and have them brought up from the down town post office.

Red Cross Likes Work of Home Nursing Classes.

The American Red Cross has admitted the senior home nursing class to the privilege of examination and to a certificate for nurses aids. The nurses aids certificate certifies that these individuals have had standard preparation to help in time of war.

JUDGE STOCK TOMORROW

STUDENTS WILL COMPETE FOR TROPHIES OFFERED BY KANSAS STOCKMEN

Contestants Are To Be Excused From Classes—Trial Is Open To All—Students Will Be Divided Into Squads Under Direction Of Older Men

All students may be excused who enter the stock judging contest tomorrow afternoon. This is authorized by Hugh Durham, assistant to L. E. Call, acting dean of the division of agriculture, and A. A. Potter, dean of engineering.

The $200 worth of trophies are the finest that have been offered to the student body in the history of the college. They are given by interested stockmen and are offered in competition tomorrow to become permanent property of the winners.

The trophies are now on display in Aggieville. They were donated by J. C. Robison, Towanda; Carl Miller, Belvue; H. B. Walker and Sons, Effingham; Kansas City Stockyards company and Clay Robinson Commission company, Kansas City Mo.

Registration of contestants will begin at 1 o'clock in Room 6 of the agricultural building. Instructions and material will be given out before the contestants leave the building. Entries will be divided into four squads, each squad in charge of a member of this year's stock team.

Eight rings of stock with four animals in a class will be placed. Twenty minutes will be allowed in which to place and write reasons. The division of the time is optional with the contestant.

The judges will be Dr. C. W. McCampbell, A. M. Paterson and J. I. Thompson, of the animal husbandry department. The papers will be graded allowing 50 per cent each for placings and reasons.

A Saddle and Sirolo Event

This is one of the annual events staged by the Jayhawk Saddle and Sirolo Club which has the hearty support of the animal husbandry department. All students are eligible, both girls and boys, except former winners and members of the stock judging team. The faculty of the department is offering four special prizes to the freshmen having the best set of reasons on each of four classes of livestock.

In all, 22 awards, including five trophies, three medals, 10 ribbons and four books whose total estimated value is between $200 and $250 will be given. The Jayhawk Saddle and Sirolo Club expects a lively contest.

PREPARE FOR SUMMER WORK

Class To Prepare Girl Leaders Begins Tuesday

A preparation class for girls who wish to do war work this summer by taking up the eight-week club work will begin Tuesday, April 2. This class will meet every Tuesday at 5 o'clock in Room 40 of the domestic science building.

"Any girl in college is eligible and I will be glad to talk to those interested," said Miss Mildred Inskip, Y. W. C. A. secretary. "This class is to train leaders for the eight week clubs. These clubs are organized for work and play, and for the development of a community spirit among the girls of the home community."

"The societies are formed by college girls all over the United States and have been in existence for six years. They are featured this year as a special piece of war service in Y. W. C. A. war work for college girls. The preparatory class is offered for the girls here as it is well known before organizing a club what activities are the best to follow and what have worked in other communities."

In this preparation class Miss Mildred Inskip will have charge of the organization and club activities work; Mrs. L. E. Melchers and Miss Kerr of Bible study; Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile of 'Hooverization'; Miss Bond of games and play; Miss Grace Derby of good books; Miss Ethel Jones, of knitting and things to make.

New Genetics Assistant

Miss Clennie E. Bailey, bachelor of science in zoology, Indiana State Normal school, has succeeded Wallace Park as assistant in genetics in the zoology department of the college.

THE SIXTH OF APRIL

Nearly 600 Aggie men are with the colors. Many of them—probably most of them—were in college a year ago today, but now they are back of Uncle Sam.

Which brings up the point that a little over a year ago the nation had not declared war. Diplomatic relations had been broken off, but the declaration itself was not published until April 6.

The anniversary of America's entrance into the world war should be the occasion for a real celebration here. Other colleges, at the request of President Wilson, will hold special services on that day. Like the Fourth of July, the Sixth of April will stand in American history as a memorable day, for again the nation declared war on autocracy.

During the present conflict, the Sixth of April nearly should take precedence over the Fourth of July. Will the day be justly honored here?

READ TODAY'S HISTORY

Every minute this week has been a history maker. The biggest battle in the history of the world is being fought on the western front. Are Aggie students keeping up with the march of events through the newspapers?

More skimming of the news is not enough. Every edition is a lesson assignment, and must be read closely. A casual glance at the optimistic headlines tells us that the British are holding, that the French are counter-attacking and that the Hun drive has spent itself. But the cold, bitter truth tells us that the Kaiser's men have gouged 37 miles into the British line, and now are menacing Paris.

Thirty-seven miles—how much does that mean in modern warfare? Wasn't it only a few months ago when Byng's four-mile smash on Cambrai was hailed as a master stroke? And only two weeks ago a 200-yard gain by some Americans who occupied Hun front line trenches called for scare heads in the dailies.

The British are holding? Not hardly. They are fighting valiantly, but they must take a stand soon if the Great Drive terminates as the allies want it to.

And while the big fight is in progress, alert Americans should be watching every move. The events of today probably are the most important since the birth of Christ.

WATCH YOUR STEP MONDAY

Tripping lightly classward Monday morning, certain students will be in for a surprise. Just who the gentlemen and gentlewomen will be, we are unable to state, but that there will be a goodly portion of the student body late that morning, there is little doubt.

For Uncle Sam has decreed that Monday morning we who have 8 o'clock classes will be forced to rise at 6 by the sun to shave that beard or fluff that hair—as the case may be—and dress and eat in order to arrive on the hill by classtime.

And for those who don't—well, it will be the first day of April, won't it?

Which reminds us, was it, or was it not Field Marshal von Hindenburg who was going to be in Paris by April 1? Perhaps the allied airmen can drop a few 'April fool' notes back of the lines Monday.

SUNFLOWERS

H. W. D.

We always tremble for our country when we read of somebody giving a pink tea.

There is little chance for the young man who can't even make a fool out of himself.

It's a great relief to find somebody once in a while who has nothing to say and does it.

There ought to be a law to prevent preachers from presenting work pictures of their mother's graves.

The man who can cut a lettuce head salad with a fork and not smear the doily with mayonnaise is a perfect lady.

Next week we go to saving daylight. Which means that we will have to turn our Big Ben and our Pep up one hour.

The other day we heard a man say that his wife spent half of what he made and all of what she said on clothes.

Being full of grip wouldn't be half so bad if your wife didn't insist on filling up still fuller with a lot of awful medicine.

It is rumored in some quarters that Mr. Chew On, the Chinaman who enlisted down in Texas the other day, is a married woman.

ALL ABOUT ADVICE

Advice is something that somebody who has been through a thing that you are just starting into gives you along with a pain. (There is no charge for the workmanship on the foregoing sentence.) It (the advice) is free, and worth it. As a rule, old people give young people advice and young people don't take it. Most of the advice in the world is about choosing a career and getting married, and both of these usually are failures. Once in a while you meet a person who never gives advice and never takes any. Stick up to him. He is a rare individual.

TRAIN FOR TANK WARFARE

MEN FROM FUNSTON LEARN ENGINE FUNDAMENTALS

More Than 300 Soldiers Have Profited By Short Course in Engineering Division

Working with groups of 30 to 40 Camp Funston men a day, members of the division of engineering faculty are molding the future drivers of American battle tanks.

A six hour practice course in gasoline fundamentals, with the most prominent members of the engineering faculty in charge of each class, is being given every day for the drafted men, 300 of whom already have received their training.

Train 600 in all

The first estimate of A. A. Potter, dean of engineering, who proposed the course, was that approximately 300 soldiers from the 342nd field artillery—a motor unit—would receive the training. But the work given has proved so practical that Capt. J. L. Lehman, adjutant of the regiment, has requested that the course be continued, and that at least 600 men will have been instructed when the courses are completed.

Comparing the gasoline engine with the shotgun, Dean Potter, in the opening lecture of the series, gives the soldiers the basic instruction. The explosive mixture in the engine is interpreted in terms of gunpowder, and the piston in some of its functions is compared to the ramrod.

Close Study of Tractor

Dean Potter's lecture, which begins at 9 o'clock in the morning and continues to 10, is followed by an hour of instruction in tractor operation. Stress is placed upon the battle tank, as it is the predecessor of the battle tank.

An important part of the day is the noon hour, the soldiers say. Under the direction of Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science, college girls prepare a lunch from materials brought from the camp.

The course grew out of a series of lectures while Captain Lehman had asked Dean Potter to deliver to the men at Camp Funston. After a few attempts Dean Potter suggested that if the men could come to Manhattan the advantage to them would be multiplied, as it was difficult to explain his points to the 600 men in his audience because he did not have the necessary equipment.

Then carburetors, machinery upkeep, ignition and oxy-acetylene welding are taken up until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the soldiers return to camp.

LIBERTY PULLET LAYS 'BULLETS'

A Young Hen Is Going After Old Kaiser Bill.

A "liberty pullet," is what Mrs. Houston of 1005 Osage street calls one of her chickens. The reason for this is because the young hen lays eggs shaped like bullets, says Mr. Houston. The eggs are long and very pointed at one end and have the appearance of being large bullets. The pullet, Mrs. Houston says, is a cross between a Plymouth Rock and a Houdan.

M. H. S. STUDENTS LEADERS

ARE PROMINENT IN ALL COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

Local Preparatory Institution Contributes Many Up-and-Doing Students

Manhattan high school is contributing more than her share of up-and-doing students to the Kansas State Agricultural college. Graduates and former students of the local secondary school have made good in nearly every branch of college activities.

John Clarke, captain-elect of the Aggie football team and a regular guard on the basketball five, is one of the most prominent members of the group. He also has won a letter in baseball, giving him the rare honor of being a three-letter man in athletics. He is a junior in agriculture and expects to return next fall to lead the Aggies into the uppermost circles of valley athletics. Clarke is a member of the Aztec fraternity.

One of the best known officers in the college cadet corps is I. O. Mall, who is captain of company 'A', the senior unit of the regiment. Mall ranks high as a student and is a member of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity. Other officers who are Manhattan high school men are First Lieut. Bruce B. Brewer, Second Lieut. Claude Hutto and Second Lieut. Hobart Fairman.

Take Part in Plays.

Leads in the two major student productions given during the recent festival week were taken by former M. H. S. students. H. A. O'Brien, junior in veterinary medicine, took the most important role in "Sergeant Kitty," a comic opera, and Chester C. Brewer, freshman in industrial journalism, played the lead in the drama, "Under Cover." Mr. O'Brien is a member of, and Mr. Brewer is pledged to, Sigma Nu, a social fraternity. Mr. O'Brien also is a member of Alpha Psi, honorary veterinary medicine fraternity.

Two freshman athletes who show promise of developing into varsity material are Alvin Jolly, freshman in agronomy, and Ralph Curry, freshman in animal husbandry. Jolly was an all-Kansas high school tackle and was one of the mainstays in the yearling line last fall. Curry played backfield and an end position, and also is a long-distance runner of promise. Both are pledged to Acacia Masonic social fraternity.

Hobart Fairman, who did not have a chance to show his football ability until late in the season, proved a whirlwind fullback when he got into action in the last two games of the year. Coach Clevenger is counting on the former high school captain to bear the brunt of the Aggie line plunging next fall. Fairman also is a good student. He was named in a list of honor students which the dean of engineering recommended be allowed to continue their education even though they be drafted.

677 From Riley County.

The editor of the student paper, the Kansas State Collegian, is Bruce B. Brewer, junior in industrial journalism, who also is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, and of Sigma Nu, social fraternity.

Miss Inez Backman, special in music, is one of the leading students in that department. She plays a first violin in the college orchestra and is a talented piano player. Miss Backman is a member of Alpha Delta Pi, social sorority. Miss Margaret King who is a member of Chi Omega, social sorority, has just completed a semester as president of the Ionian literary society. She has been active in class affairs.

Selbert Fairman, junior engineer, is a member of the Aggie debating team. Hobart Z. Cammack, freshman in agronomy, was president of the freshman class fall semester. Miss Edna Chapin, freshman in general science, won the women's tennis championship last fall, and is captain of the freshman girls' basketball team.

Former Manhattan high school students do not constitute the entire enrollment from Riley county. The books of Miss Jessie McD. Machir, registrar, show that 677 Riley students are attending the college.

WANTED—Several energetic young men and women to do conservation work during the next summer vacation. $90.00 per month and up, paid those who qualify. Applicants should phone or send names and addresses to Collegian office.

IS OUR NATION CHRISTIAN?

- I. What Elements are common to both Christianity and Democracy.
 1. Might we say that true Democracy is in essence an application of the Golden Rule.
 2. Is equal opportunity for all, even for those less favored by nature or by environment demanded by both Christianity and Democracy?
 3. How far have we as a nation realized Christianity in our Democracy?
 4. Are not service and sacrifice the fundamental principles of both Christianity and Democracy?
- II. How About K. S. A. C. and Christian Democracy?
 1. May an earnest religious group such as denominational workers be undemocratic?
 2. Are intercollegiate athletics democratic?
 3. Does Christian Democracy demand student self government?
- III. If Christian Democracy demands self government, and this self government is realized, what should the student body do in the matter of the war?
 1. Ought it not to stimulate every one of its members to service and sacrifice in winning the war?
 2. Ought it not to strive to become clear as to the issues involved?
 3. Ought it not to make every one feel the privilege of fighting for Christian Democracy, either in the Army or out of it?
 4. Is it a misfortune to be drafted? What should be the answer of every K. S. A. C. student as a believer in Christian Democracy?
- IV. This is Good Friday, the day commemorating for many Christians the supreme sacrifice of all time, and the day upon which last year America decided to make her sacrifice for Christian democracy. What is the significance of the day to you? Are you prepared to translate this significance into definite service and sacrifice for your country?

VOLUME 24, NUMBER 52

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY APRIL 2, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

FROSH HIGH AMONG JUDGES

FOUR YEARLINGS AMONG RANKING TEN—L. V. RITTER THE WINNER

Prizes Worth $225 Drew Large Number to Annual Stock Judging Contest and Competition 6 Was Spirited—Women Among the Winners

Four freshmen placed in the first ten high men in the Jayhawk Saddle and Siroin club stock judging contest Saturday, which was won by L. V. Ritter, junior in agriculture. Competition was spirited. Eighty-one contestants, three of whom were women, entered.

Of the three women, two won loving cups. A set of papers written by one of these girls is so good that it will be used as a model for writing reasons in future classes.

The awards follow with the score out of a possible 800:

L. V. Ritter, 677, first
J. J. Moxley (freshman) 648, second
C. W. Howe (freshman) 606, third Miss Helen Carlisle, 584, fourth.
R. A. Astell, 581, fifth
E. A. Slattery, 569, sixth
E. J. Price, 560, seventh
A. L. Myers, 553, eighth
H. L. Bunker (freshman) 552, ninth
H. E. Moody (freshman) 551, tenth.

The ranking three received a gold silver and bronze medal respectively and the ten each received ribbons.

Baby Bonds to Freshmen
The five ranking freshmen each received a baby bond. These securities are known as the Robert H. Hays left prizes. The winners are J. J. Moxley, C. W. Howe, H. L. Bunker, H. E. Moody and A. D. Weber.

That great interest was shown in the competition for the special class prizes was proved by the fact that some entries were in only one class.

Miss Luella Schauberg won the J. C. Robinson trophy with a score of 193 of a possible 200 on horses. She gave an exceptionally good set of reasons. Miss Helen Carlisle captured the H. B. Walter and Son swine trophy with the score 194—a high grade. J. J. Moxley secured the Carl Miller cattle trophy by scoring 170 and L. V. Ritter was the high man on sheep and with a score of 174, thus securing the Kansas City Stock Yards company trophy.

Two Trophies to Ritter
Not only was Ritter the best judge of sheep but also the high man on all classes for which he won the Clay Robinson cup.

The trophies are on display in Aggieville and will remain on exhibition at various places for a time. Formal presentations will be made at the Saddle and Siroin banquet for cattlemen May 17, further particulars of which will be announced later.

K. S. A. C. WINS THE DEBATE.

Washburn Loses in Opposing Cabinet Form of Government.

Topeka, April 1.—Members of the Kansas State Agricultural debating team, K. D. Thompson, Seibert Fairman and A. F. Swanson, won the decision over the Washburn team, composed of Lester Bosvar, Dewey Hutchinson and Kenneth Hobbs, at Washburn college chapel Saturday night. The debate was on the question: "Resolved, That the United States should establish a system of cabinet government," the visitors taking the affirmative. The judges were: Wilbur N. Mason, of the state board of administration; E. E. Lelsy, Bethel college, Newton, and C. C. Brown, of the state superintendent's office.

M. F. Ahearn, professor of landscape gardening, who was called to Boston on account of the serious illness of his father, returned Wednesday.

C. C. Cunningham, assistant professor of co-operative experiments, is on a trip visiting the co-operative farmers of the southern part of the state.

Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of the division of home economics, left today for Topeka where she will attend the meeting of the State Council of Defense.

L. B. Souder, former student who is now teaching agriculture in the high school at Olsburg spent the week end in Manhattan visiting his parents.

TOLD HOW FAIRS ARE MANAGED

Paterson Is Experienced in Raising Livestock Shows

"State Fairs and Livestock Shows" was the subject of a talk by A. M. Paterson of the animal husbandry department at a meeting of the Jayhawk Saddle and Siroin club Monday evening.

Mr. Paterson has had six years experience in the business, five years as superintendent of cattle for the Minnesota State fair and one year in the same capacity at Topeka.

"The chief idea is to keep everybody happy," said Mr. Paterson. "When everyone feels good things run smoothly. The work is fascinating but very exacting and requires the ability of a diplomat and executive."

The talk further explained the inside workings of the fair associations and circuits.

Conducts a Cantata

Clifford Johnston, instructor in voice in the department of music, has charge of the cantata "The Crucifixion," which will be given Sunday evening at the Baptist church. Others taking part in the cantata are Mrs. A. C. Riddleberger, soprano; Mrs. E. T. Keith, alto, and Orville Bonnett, bass.

TO HOLD FIFTH ROUND-UP

Results of Feeding Experiments Will Be Presented

Wednesday, April 10, is the date set for the fifth annual round-up at the Fort Hays Experiment station at Hays. Cattle used in feeding experiments will be shown, and live stockmen of national importance will speak.

The morning program will consist of an inspection of the experimental cattle, other live stock, and the station farm, consisting of 3,600 acres. Free lunch will be served at noon.

Charles R. Weeks, superintendent of the station, will report in the afternoon on the work of the station for the last year, especially in respect to war time live stock and crop production. The live stock experiments will be explained by W. A. Coehel, professor of animal husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural college. L. E. Call, professor of agronomy, will talk on crops for western Kansas. E. E. Friezel of Larned, state labor administrator and an extensive western farmer, will discuss the farm help problem.

The round-ups have centered more interest each year, and have been of particular value to stockmen of western Kansas. More than 1,000 persons were present in 1917. The experiment on development of breeding heifers which attracted much attention at the 1917 meeting, has been continued, and a complete report of it to date will be among the results presented this year.

Miss Frances Brown of the extension division returned Saturday from a trip through the eastern part of the state in which she visited Hutchinson, Wichita, and Topeka to confer with emergency home demonstration agents. Miss Brown also attended the meeting of the state council of defense in Topeka.

Dr. H. B. Humphray, in charge of serial pathology in the United States department of agriculture stopped on his way to California to confer with L. E. Melchers, acting head of botany, and other men in the department on breeding plants for rust resistance.

Mrs. Blanch Burt Yeaton, 14 writes that she is spending a busy winter at Shallow Water. She is doing Red Cross work, teaching primary work and keeping house. Mrs. Yeaton is still High Midam of the High Witan of the national council of Quil club.

Miss Mildred Browning, senior in home economics, has been made student assistant in technic in the department of zoology. She will make microscopic slides for use in the zoology and embryology classes.

Dr. P. S. Welch, associate professor of entomology, who has been in a hospital at St. Louis for an operation, expects to take up his work again this week.

Claude Hutio, junior in general science, has withdrawn from school on account of his health, and will return to his home in Topeka the last of this week.

Save food or go on short rations.

EASTER PROGRAMS PLEASED

THOUSANDS HEARD OSCAR SEAGLE AND THE BIG FUNSTON BAND

Noted American Baritone, Recovered From Recent Illness, Treated Manhattan Music Lovers—Nearly 10,000 Heard the Combined Bands

A recital by Oscar Seagle, one of America's best baritones, and a concert by the combined Camp Funston bands gave Aggie students, Manhattan folk and visitors an Easter Sunday that will long be remembered.

The college auditorium was packed to capacity for the Seagle recital and between 8,000 and 10,000 persons thronged in the quadrangle north of the gymnasium to hear the program given by the huge Funston musical organization.

The Seagle program was varied and well chosen with the program balanced with negro melodies, well known songs and airs from operas. Each number was sung with a vigor that pleased the large audience.

Mr. Seagle's voice has a great carrying power and is especially of wide range. He sings baritone, but he has flexibility, and attains many notes out of the reach of tenors.

An appropriate Easter program was given by the consolidated Camp Funston band which was under the direction of Lieut. Karl Kalina.

The concert was given in the large quadrangle bordered on each side by Nichols gymnasium, the auditorium and the Fairchild and the Domestic Science and Art halls. Bleachers were erected around the entire edge of this open space and these were entirely covered with people, and the ground in the plot was covered with persons who were forced to stand.

The concert was opened by "Preparedness," a march, which was appreciated by the enormous crowd. The overture, "Poet and Peasant," also pleased. The program was the same that the band gave at Camp Funston Sunday morning.

CHOSEN AS FORENSIC DELEGATE

Merle Converse Is Local Pi Kappa Delta Representative to Convention

M. W. Converse, senior in animal husbandry, has been elected as the delegate from the K. S. A. C. chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, to attend the national convention at Ottawa, April 4, 5, and 6. Dr. John R. MacArthur, associate professor of English, will also attend the convention as he is the national treasurer of the forensic fraternity.

Miss Esther Hostetter, 17 of Houston, Tex., was a college visitor on Thursday, March 21st. She was on her way home from Manitou, Colo., where she has been visiting her sister Eva, 15. Miss Hostetter is teaching domestic science in the Harris county school for girls and is thoroughly enjoying her work.

H. F. Fowler, instructor in chemistry, is seriously ill at the Charlotte Swift hospital. Mr. Fowler has been ill for the past week, but as yet the doctors have given no diagnosis of his case. His wife and father arrived the latter part of last week.

As the basketball season is close at hand, Miss E. Bond and Miss Ethel Loring are anxious that class teams be organized at once. All girls interested in baseball are asked to sign up for practice at once.

S. F. Price, an artist from the University of Illinois, is making drawings for the departments of zoology and entomology, to be used in class work and in publications put out by these departments.

Miss Florence Justin, 16 is now specialist in home economics in the Upper Mich. peninsula, and has her headquarters at Marquette. She writes that she is enjoying her work very much.

The Omnicron Nu honorary home economics social society, held open house Monday afternoon in the domestic science rest room, in commemoration of Mrs. Ellen H. Richards.

MRS. MOORE AHEAD IN CONTEST

Katrina Kimport Holds Second Place With 6.5 Inches Less

Mrs. Laura D. Moore, junior in general science, holds first place in the Industrialist contest. Mrs. Moore has been steadily gaining for several weeks and with the last issue jumped to first place with a count of 44.5 inches.

Miss Katrina Kimport, senior in general science, dropped from first place to second with a count of 88 inches.

Bruce B. Brewer, junior in Industrialist journalism, holds third place with 47 inches.

Other contestants deserving honorable mention are Miss Vera Cate, Miss Charlotte Russell and T. Enns. Seventeen students are participating in the contest.

Sang at Funston

Miss Katherine Kimmel, instructor in voice in the department of music, sang at two entertainments given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., at Camp Funston Monday and Tuesday. Miss Kimmel will spend Wednesday, April 17, in Salina where she will sing at the State Federation of Womens Clubs.

WANTS ALL INTO THE WAR

Boston Author Says Everyone Should Be Drafted

One hundred per cent of the American people trained for service instead of 25 per cent disciplined in military affairs, was the idea of preparedness presented by Dr. Charles Zueblin of Boston, publicist, lecturer and author, who addressed students and faculty yesterday morning on "Standing Army or Working Army."

"The draft does not extend far enough," said Dr. Zueblin. "War today means that everyone must be prepared. There are greater armies in Europe than are at the front. The entire nation must be unified behind its army."

The plan proposed by Doctor Zueblin was that of compulsory training for both sexes of all ages to make every body fit for what he has to do. A journey across the United States was recommended as a part of the preliminary training of every American to make him acquainted with his nation and feel himself a part of it. Girls and boys both should be compelled to spend one year away from home after their school days are over, to live in the open air, and to be trained at West Point. This year of training would be the foundation needed both in war and in peace.

The education of immigrants in the language and customs of this country and a more just treatment of persons of African descent were other methods recommended for the cultivation of a feeling of nationalism.

DEATH ENDS HAPPY HONEYMOON

C. B. Williams, Married March 18, Dies March 20.

To be married just two weeks and then have her husband snatched from her by death is the sad experience of Mrs. Hazel (Merillat) Williams, a member of this year's college graduating class, and editor of the 1918 volume of the Royal Purple.

Hazel Merrillat, who completed her college work at the close of the first semester, and C. B. Williams, a graduate of the college in the class of '18, were married at the bride's home at Enterprise March 16, by W. I. Jones of this city, and just two weeks later, March 20, Mr. Williams died of pneumonia at their home near Bigelow, Kan. Mr. Williams was 22 years old.

It is reported that his death was largely due to the shock of his father's death, which occurred on Friday, March 29.

Physics Class to Rocky Ford

Saturday at 1:00 o'clock E. V. Floyd, assistant professor in the department of physics, met his Friday's third and fourth hour laboratory class at the Physics building, after which they hiked to Rocky Ford to study the large electric generators and look over the entire system of electrical apparatus in the power plant.

Freshman Girls Champions Again

In the last interclass basketball games of the season Wednesday, the freshmen beat the sophomores, thus winning the championship. Last fall they won the hockey championship, and they worked hard for their latest honor. The juniors lost to the seniors.

SLIM WRITES OF THE ARMY

BUT FORMER AGGIE BASKETEER IS INTERESTED IN DOINGS ON CAMPUS

Dewey Fullington, Member of Last Year's All-Victorious Five, Hears That the Aggies Failed to Win From Kansas And Sends Regards

Dewey M. Fullington, a sophomore in college last year, now a flying cadet in the Beaumont detachment of the United States Air Service in France, has written to the students of the college in response to a letter sent to Aggies in France, signed by the student body and published under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

The letter follows:
"To the Student Body of the Kansas State Agricultural College:

The other day when I returned to my bunk, I noticed a pile of newspapers carefully deposited upon it. The thought jumped into my mind that the "bunky" near me had placed some of his papers on my bed by mistake. I was about to "lump" them when I noticed the title of the sheet, "Collegian." That brought back memories and I would look over my Bostonian friend's papers just to see what his college was like. Lo, and behold I caught the remaining title of the page "Kansas State Collegian."

And upon closer scrutiny I saw it bore the name of "Dr. J. R. MacArthur." "Here was a mystery for sure. Where did they come from? I knew Don Hughes in the next room hadn't received any mail recently and I also knew that they were not sent to me for they were loose papers without the trace of a wrapping. Then all of a sudden I remembered that Lloyd Vorhies had probably brought them over from the other barracks where he stays. The mystery was solved, but the treat remained. And it was a treat to be able to sit down and return through the thousand of miles and trace out all the events that had happened at the college since last October.

"I was able to attend the football games and see the Aggies' victories and hard luck, their defeat at the hands of the Jayhawkers to see more interest taken in drill than ever before, to wonder if the coal supply wouldn't run low enough to have a holiday, to drop in at 'Johnnie's' during chapel hour, to feel the absence of President Waters and wonder who would fill his place—all in the course of fleeting minutes.

"Just recently I received a letter signed by the student body of K. S. A. C. published under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., giving a consummate of the happenings in Manhattan since I left, and I was stimulated to the effort of answering the letter. The strict censorship rules forbid me telling any great secrets, but perhaps I will be permitted to give you an idea of every day life.

"The first thing that happens in the morning is reveille and then breakfast. The censor prohibits saying what, how little, or how much we get to eat but we eat at least three times a day. We have exercise in the morning and afternoon.

"Oh, yes, before I forget it, I love all the girls at K. S. A. C. That's conforming to one of the rules that says 'Tell her you love her on the first page.'

"Usually after supper I resort to the good old town sport of going down to the station to see the train come in, but this evening I went down to the movie show, given by the Y. M. C. A. Several Keystone comedies were shown which afforded us all a pleasant diversion.

"I can partly Francise a little, just enough to get something to eat and half talk to a French girl once in a while. The weather the past two months has been wonderful. Some days were so warm that we went about in shirt sleeves.

"In hiding about the country I have seen some wonderful scenery. Ancient castles, historical points, and national beauty have all passed under my observation. The chaotic conditions on the eastern front makes it impossible to determine just what is going to happen.

"The time grows late and I must conclude. To K. S. A. C. I extend my best wishes and the best of luck for a good future. If anyone desires to write to me I would much appreciate

FORUM INITIATES 24 MEMBERS

Services Were Held at Hackberry Glenn Last Friday

The annual initiation services of the Forum was held at Hackberry Glenn, Friday night. Dr. J. R. MacArthur, associate professor of English, acted as master of ceremonies.

After the initiation services refreshments were served, and a short program rendered. Those initiated were Seibert Fairman, Earle Frost, Miss Ruth Blair, E. E. Huff, Miss Clementine Paddelford, Miss Jamie Cameron, H. K. Shidler, Miss Mary Dudgey, Miss Mary Hill, Miss Christine Cool, Miss Nell Shoup, J. B. Harbaugh, Miss Lucile Helser, Ivan A. White, Miss Lella Whearty, Miss Marguerite Hammerly, K. D. Thompson, R. W. McCall, J. E. Thackeray, Milo G. Cary, Gordon Hamilton and O. H. Burns, head of the department of public speaking.

EXAMS DIDN'T STOP WORKERS

The Red Cross Room Was as Busy as Ever During "Mid-Terms"

In spite of mid term exams the Red Cross work room was one of the busiest places on the campus during the past week.

Only two class periods showed any decrease in attendance when compared with the corresponding periods of last week. Mrs. R. G. Taylor, who is director of the work is greatly pleased with the unselfish spirit shown by the girls who are giving their time and with the number of girls who are working. The Monday afternoon class still has the largest number of members and is turning out the most dressings. The Friday afternoon division completed more dressings per member for the last week.

"The seventh week of work has been completed," said Mrs. Taylor, "and the girls have not given any evidence of slacking. A new dressing was demonstrated this week. This is a larger dressing, more difficult to make, and consequently requires a longer time." The record for the week follows:

Monday afternoon, 30 workers, 525 dressings; Tuesday morning, 12, 126 dressings; Tuesday afternoon, 18, 172 dressings; Wednesday morning, 18, 453 dressings; Wednesday afternoon, 27, 372 dressings; Thursday morning, 14, 276 dressings; Thursday afternoon, 10, 177 dressings; Friday morning, 10, 165 dressings; Friday afternoon, 4, 106 dressings; Saturday morning, 18, 241; Friday evening, 18, 231 dressings. This gives a total of 180 student hours of work and 2,785 dressings completed.

J. I. Weyer, director of the New York State Library, and chairman of the American Library association war committee, visited Miss Hilda Lancelfield, assistant reference librarian Saturday. Miss Lancelfield was graduated from Mr. Weyer's school last year. Mr. Weyer was on his way to inspect the library at Camp Funston.

Miss Grace Parrish, member of the board of administration, of Topeka, was in Manhattan Friday of last week. She was accompanied to Camp Funston Friday afternoon by Miss Fannie Dale of the college business office.

A hike will take place soon for the girls of the basketball teams, announces Miss E. Bond of the physical training department. At this hike the names of those who made the varsity team will be announced.

Albert Dickens, professor of horticulture, will leave today on a trip through Johnson, Wyandotte and Shawnee counties. Professor Dickens will give talks on the raising and marketing of potatoes.

Miss Myrie Vanderwild, junior in home economics, and Miss Ethel Vanderwild, instructor in animal husbandry, spent Easter at their home in Solomon.

H. J. Bower, department of institutes and extension schools, division of extension, is holding co-operative soil meetings in Lyon county this week.

HE WANTS MORE TRACK MEN

"GERMANY" SCHULTZ ISSUES ANOTHER CALL FOR RUNNERS AND JUMPERS

Two Meets Have Been Scheduled For This Spring, and Little Material Is in Sight—Freshmen Have A Number of Star Performers

Lets have some track men, upper classmen, freshmen, every man that has ever done anything in track, or thinks he can do something now—this is the insistent cry from the athletic office.

Never, according to "Germany" Schultz, has there been such a lack of material for a track team. The Varsity lacks men in nearly every event, and there is a good chance for some new men to make the team.

Not much interest was shown in track during the indoor season, but now that the men are practicing on the outdoor track, it should increase the pep and spirit shown in track work.

Coach Schultz is especially anxious for men in the weights, dashes, quarter and mile. He is also anxious for all freshmen track men to show up as the material left over from this year's team, together with the star men from this year's freshman team will develop a winning team here that will equal any of the former Aggie teams. This is a chance for the freshmen who have aspirations to get a season of invaluable training in fitting them for Varsity competition next year.

Meets with K. U. and probably the Emporia Normals have been scheduled for this spring, and the competition in both is expected to be keen. The meet with K. U. should be especially interesting, as the Aggies will have a good chance of getting revenge for the defeat administered to them by the K. U. team in the indoor meet. To do this, there must be more material for a team, and this is the chance of a lifetime for men to make the team, according to "Germany."

Special Semester

The special war session of the summer school will begin May 31 and extend for a period of nine weeks to August 2. E. L. Holton, dean of the summer school and professor of education announces.

Special efforts have been made to incorporate in the summer schedule courses which will have a bearing on the war. A nine-hour course in agriculture for women is one of the features. The class work in these courses has been summarized by the heads of the departments and the material will be given to the women in as condensed a form as possible. It is planned that the women who have this training will be fit to instruct high school agricultural classes, and thus will release men for more important war service.

Military drill again will be a part of the work. The course was inaugurated last year, and many of the men attending the summer session drilled. It is expected that even a larger number will take the military training this year.

Only some of the more important classes will be offered. Almost any student, however, will be able to pick out a nine-hour assignment—the limit, according to the pamphlet with subjects that will be of value to him later. If some of the required work in a subject is not taught, then the student can take electives to fill in the number of hours, and take his required subjects during the regular sessions.

Another of the war features of the session is a course in the manufacture of munitions, taught by W. W. Carlson, superintendent of shops. The course deals with the construction and methods of machining the various types of shells used by the United States here and abroad. A study is also made of the gases, fumes, fixtures, etc., used to insure the work coming within the specified limits.

W. B. Wednt associate professor of applied mechanics, teaches a one hour credit class in military surveying and topography.

G. E. Thompson, department of institutes and extension schools is conducting crop meetings in Labette, Atchison, and Nemaha counties this week.

JUNIORS TO A TEST

There are rumors that juniors, although earnestly desiring to attend the junior-senior prom, are neglecting to make dates for the occasion, and worse than that, are not paying their class dues.

The affair has been Hooverized to a point where there will be no special assessments, as these have been in the past. This, though, depends on whether the juniors pay up.

The junior-senior is the one real get together meeting of the year. Aggie students have been frugal, and none of the few social affairs of the year has cost enough to warrant any criticism. Now that the junior-senior is due, juniors should rally, and exerting every bit of their vigor make the annual affair a success.

CONCERNING SPRING FEVER

Now comes the time when Mother Nature, the temptress, tries to lure students away from their work.

"Gee, I've a head as thick as wood and my very bones ache," grumbles the weary book-laborer, as he or she glances longingly from the study room at the warm sunshine outside, where grass is beginning to green and the buds are opening.

It's spring. But there is real work to do—students who attend college in wartime are a privileged lot—and everyone must buckle down.

Dr. E. H. Reisner, formerly associate professor of education in the Kansas State Agricultural college, has been made assistant professor of education in Teacher's college, Columbia university. Professor Reisner went to Columbia university as a half-time student, with the title of lecturer in education.

What Does Silage Cost?

Acres used and cultivated time and again, and gone over to get the fodder are the big items in cost.

Nitrate, as Top Dressing worked in when cultivating, will cheapen production.

Bigger, better stalks and bigger ears will result.

Recipe For Canning Beans

1. I am sorry to have to ask to be excused, but I must meet my mother who will arrive on the 11:40 train. If you care to go with me to the train, I will be glad to spend the early part of the evening with you at the party. (Disqualified. This is preserving, not canning.)

2. I am exceedingly sorry and disappointed on account of being unable to accept, but on account of having another date, I must decline this time. (Gives good results and retains the original flavors.)

3. It will be impossible for me to accept. (Requires little time, but gives variable results, depending upon the variety and ripeness of the product you are working with.)

4. I would rather be excused. (Quite satisfactory in general.) If there is evidence of any working, repeat the process.)

5. No.
(Changes all of the sugars to acids and has been uniformly satisfactory. The cold treatment is as effective as the hot.)

About Miss Wilson

You have evidently heard about Miss Margaret Wilson. In addition to being daughter of the president, she seems to be a pretty good scout. Miss Wilson's sisters are all married. One took McAdoo, one took a New York lawyer who happened to be rich another took some big guy, we forget whom. All in all there were four Wilson girls, and four daughters of a president and none married is some opportunity for the big boys down east. Well, three of them were captured in Woodrow's first administration, and Miss Margaret—well, she stood off the whole bunch, and what's more we haven't heard the papers say she even has a beau. That's the first reason why Miss Wilson is remarkable. Some women can't get one, some cabbage onto the first roughneck that shows his colors and some don't like the business now. But to be pretty, daughter of a president, and all of those high society dudes down east flirtn' round you, and then stand them off is some feat. In addition to this Miss Wilson was invited to speak at Salina the other day, and said she didn't want to. This is some accomplishment, being as she's got the pa she's got.

A Manhattan lady has a hen which lays eggs that look like bullets, so she has nicknamed her the "liberty pullet."

The Hotel De Hun has opened at Ft. Leavenworth. It doesn't want trade.

Headline—"Big Hereford Party-Cattlemen coming to Hutchinson."
The freshmen at K. U. will come out with their new spring military during Easter.

Someone wants to know if the ladies don't use a good deal of white space in advertising their pretty faces.

Easter

It may be interesting to note how the rabbits came to lay eggs on Easter morn. It's like this. Old man Buddah, of whom you all heard about, and know nothing, once upon a time took upon himself the form of a hare to feed a fellow hungry creature. He was transformed to the moon, where he evermore lives. The moon is what decides Easter time, so that's how the rabbits sneaked in on Easter. The old Romans observed a day along about Easter when they had races on oval tracks and gave eggs as prizes. The early Roman Christians naturally associated the eggs with Easter time. They couldn't figure out any other way so they had the rabbits lay the eggs, which everyone knows is foolish, but nevertheless it has put many a thrill in children's hearts on Easter morn.

At last the men will begin to realize we are at war. A can of tobacco now costs 15 cents.

Not every man casts sinister remarks about a woman's tongue. Ever hear of Harry Cronwall, eh? He said "The sweetest noise on earth is woman's tongue."

This German superman stuff, is going to get the soup knocked out of it some day.

Gillette Safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillette
Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against.

Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with worldwide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

Why the Gillette Is Especially the Soldier's Razor

THERE isn't a harder shaving job on earth than the service demanded of the Gillette by the fighting man.

Under the very worst possible conditions of climate—with cold or hard water—on sun-burned or wind-chapped faces—the Gillette is called upon for its solid-comfort, velvet-smooth shave. And delivers it.

There are more Gillettes used than all other kinds of razors added together—the compact, complete razor with no strops or hones to clutter up the kit.

Hundreds of thousands of officers and men have adopted the Gillette—with its blades always sharp, always ready. No Stropping, No Honing.

JARDINE TO TALK AT RALLY

NEW PRESIDENT TO MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE ON WAR ANNIVERSARY

Just Back From Washington, Aggie Executive Has Inside Material on What Allied Condition Really Is—Loan Drive to be Opened Too

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM

Selections by College Band, following singing "America" Invocation by the Rev. J. M. McClelland Kipling's "Recessional," by Faculty Quartet. Address—"Money, Bonds and Peps" by Prof. J. E. Kammeyer. Address—"The War Situation as I Saw It in Washington," by President Jardine. Song—"Star Spangled Banner," by Mr. H. A. O'Brien. Address—"The Extension Division in War Service," by Walter Burr. Address—"Engineering Education in War Service," by Dean A. A. Potter. Selections by College Band.

President W. M. Jardine will make the principal address at the patriotic rally to be given Saturday in the college auditorium at 10 o'clock in celebration of the anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the war.

President Jardine has just returned from Washington where he has been in close touch with official life and will be in a position to tell what Washington is thinking and saying. For the last two weeks he has been making speeches on the food situation and the war in several places in Missouri. This is the new president's first appearance before the student assembly since his election to the presidency.

A National Holiday

Governor Capper has proclaimed Saturday, April 6, a state holiday in accordance with President Wilson's proclamation of a nation-wide holiday in celebration of the entrance of the United States into the Great War. Every student, faculty member, college employee, and citizen of Manhattan is urged to attend this special program which besides commemorating the important war date, will be the occasion of the launching of the third liberty bond drive. All regular college exercises will be suspended Saturday morning in favor of the program. The occasion is to mark the advance in what the war means to the school, the community and the country.

Kammeyer to Talk on Bonds

J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics will talk on the cost of financing the war, introducing the third liberty loan. His subject will be "Money, Bonds, Peps."

A. A. Potter, dean of the division of engineering, will talk on "Engineering Education in War Service," and the Rev. Walter Burr, director of rural service in the division of college extension will speak on "The Extension Division in War Service." There will be musical numbers by the college band, and by the faculty quartet. H. A. O'Brien, junior in veterinary medicine, will sing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The 25 naval reserve students who were to have taken the oath of allegiance on this occasion will not be able to do so, it has been announced by Dean Potter.

DEDICATED WEB SERVICE FLAG

Societies Also Presented Tableau Representing Liberty

The dedication of the Webster service flag was the principal event of the Web-Euro meeting last Saturday night. A tableau representing liberty and our struggle for democracy, was presented by the Euphrosynians as the service flag was raised, making a very emphatic representation of the part the literary society is playing in the war. The flag contained 62 stars. One of these stars represented Brigadier general James Harbord, chief of staff to General Pershing in France. There were other stunts and musical numbers, making the program one of the best at the Web-Euro hall this year.

GIVE TIME TO HELP PRODUCTION

Six Swine Breeders Will Talk To Farmers to Boost Swine Raising

Six well known Kansas hog breeders visited the college Monday to meet with the members of the animal husbandry department for a discussion of the hog situation in Kansas and the United States at large. The men are F. G. Laptad, president of the Kansas Swine Breeders' association; J. F. Staadt, Ottawa; George W. Ela, Valley Falls; C. G. Steele, Barnes; Claude Lovett, Eureka; and L. G. Wreath.

Each of these representative hog men have agreed to spend the week beginning April 8, addressing meetings conducted at various towns over the state for the purpose of bringing before Kansas producers the most economical methods of feeding. The discussions will include the use of pasture crops and self feeders.

The counties to be visited are Lynn, Greenwood, Jefferson, Osage, Coffey, Riley, Geary, Republic, Pottawatomie, Marion, Elk, Chautauque, Cowley and Allen. Two meetings will be held each day, one at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 8 o'clock in the evening. Each man addresses these meetings as a voluntary patriotic service.

IN CHARGE OF STATE HERDS

L. H. Fairchild, Supervises Dairy Work at all Institutions

Supervision of the dairy herds of state institutions has been put into the hands of the dairy department of the college with L. H. Fairchild, assistant in dairy husbandry, in charge.

The duties of Mr. Fairchild comprise the supervision of management and care of the cattle, breeding, feeding, production of milk, and sale of young stock. The herds of the 12 state institutions have been visited twice this year. Each year four inspections of the herds will be made.

The state institutions own 850 head of cattle, 60 of which are purebred. Holsteins are kept at all of these institutions except one. The state hospital at Topeka has the largest herd—125 head. Accurate daily milk records are kept.

Kansas is the first state to adopt a plan of this kind. The state institution herds, through the help of the dairy department, can be built up to such an extent that they will be a help to the state as a whole, and also to the communities in which these institutions are located, believes Mr. Fairchild.

The herds under the supervision of the dairy department are at the state hospital, Topeka; boys' industrial school, Topeka; orphans' home, Atchison; state prison, Lansing; state hospital, Osawatimie; hospital for epileptics, Parsons; state home for the feeble minded, Winfield; state industrial reformatory, Hutchinson; state hospital, Larned; soldiers' home, Dodge City; state sanatorium for tuberculosis, Norton; and the girls' industrial school, Beloit.

TO TRAINING CAMP FROM RANKS

Irving Fleming Is Making Good in Coast Artillery

Corp. I. F. Fleming, former student visited college friends the first of the week while enroute from Fort Baker, San Francisco, Cal., to Fortress Monroe, Va. He has been sent to the officers' training school of the coast artillery corps to try for a commission. Corporal Fleming enlisted in the coast artillery September 10 along with Charles Curtiss and Clarence Chapman, both former students. For the past four months the boys have been together and Fleming only was separated by passing a rigid examination for the privilege of attending the officers' training camp.

"DODD GASTON" HERE MONDAY

Jay House of Topeka, Mayor and Humorist, a Seminar Speaker

J. E. House, mayor of Topeka, and editor of the "Second Thought" column in the Topeka Daily Capital, will speak to the students in industrial journalism at their weekly lecture in K-55 Monday at 4 o'clock.

Mr. House is a well known humorist and is the author of several books. Anyone wishing to hear him is welcome.

Gearhart to Topeka

W. S. Gearhart, state highway engineer, and formerly professor of highway engineering at the college, has moved to Topeka where he will make his headquarters.

SECOND FROSH-SOPH PROM

UNDERCLASSMEN GET TOGETHER TOMORROW FOR ANNUAL SPRING PARTY

Mixed Program of Dancing, Singing and Reading Will Be Presented—Key to College Will Be Passed Down to the President of Freshman Class

The second annual freshman-sophomore prom will be held in Nichols gymnasium tomorrow night. Beginning at 8:30 o'clock, a program of entertainment and dancing has been planned which managers of the affair say promises any one who attends a good time.

The decorations used at the junior-senior will be kept in place for the prom given by the underclassmen. The freshmen and sophomores paid 40 per cent of the cost of putting up the decorations, and co-operated in the work.

The reception begins at 8:30 o'clock and continues to 9 o'clock, when Twichell's seven piece orchestra from Camp Funston will play for the dance. At 10 o'clock a one-hour program has been scheduled. Miss Bess Curry and Robert Schell each will sing solos, and the Sigma Nu quartet is on the program for a number of harmonies. "Chick" Williamson then will give some readings.

Clifford Kniesley, president of the sophomore class will present the "Key to K. S. A. C." to Ray Watson, president of the freshman class, who is to keep the emblem until next year, when he in turn passes it down to the new freshman president.

From 11 o'clock to 12 o'clock, the freshmen and sophomores again will dance.

Ice cream and cake are to be served as refreshments.

Expenses probably will be kept within $125, Mr. Kniesley said last night.

CHRIST IS MISREPRESENTED

Jesus Not a Sissy, Funston Man Tells Y. M. C. A.

"Christ was no sissy or coward," was the declaration of William E. Nichal, educational director of the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Funston, who spoke last night at the Y. M. C. A. "This impression has gotten about by the pictures painted of him by medieval artists, who were neither brave men nor who understood the Christ who rushed into the temple, upturned the tables of the money changers and drove them out. What we need is an unvarnished vision of Christianity to help us through these great times."

"The old mother of the Canaanite who went out to conquer Israel in Bible times, even as the Kaiser is trying it now, wondered why her son was so long returning with the booty. You will remember Hindenburg said he would be in Paris by April 1. The people of Germany may be wondering today why he is so long doing this. He didn't do it, and by God's help, he never shall."

W. H. Pratt, director of the Y. M. C. A. at the camp, who was scheduled for a talk, was in Kansas City, and could not come. Mr. Pratt leaves for France this week. A large number of students attended the meeting.

CROSS AGAIN Y. M. PRESIDENT

Association Elects Acting Executive As Next Year's Leader

The election of Y. M. C. A. officers for the ensuing year was held Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Homer Cross was elected president. He has been acting president the greater part of this year, filling the unexpired term of Floyd Hawkins, who is now engaged in Y. M. work in Republic county. Milo G. Carey was elected vice-president, and Walter Horlacher secretary.

The president announces the following appointments to committee chairmanships for next year. Earl Frost, membership and finance; Ray Perree, new students; David Capper, religious meetings; Herbert Moyer, social; Ray Watson, extension. Several other members of the cabinet will be appointed later.

THE SENIOR PINS ARE HERE

Ninety of Emblems Are in and More Are Coming

The seniors can obtain their class pins by calling at the business office. The first shipment—(99)—has just arrived, and 22 more have been ordered.

AGGIE DEBATERS WIN AGAIN

Washburn Was Victim in Second Pentangular Round

The Aggie affirmative team of the Pentangular debate squad, won the first round of the second series from Washburn college Saturday night.

By winning this debate the Aggies have jumped into the lead in the Pentangular and by winning from Emporia Marhe 13, the college will take first place. As Emporia has lost two of the series, the prospects seem bright.

Empty seats were conspicuous at the last debate at the college auditorium. The debate council is in hopes that all loyal Aggies will attend the next debate and carry the team through to victory by their enthusiasm. At the beginning of the school year the debate council decided to charge no admission to any of the debates during the school year, so the debates Saturday will be free to all.

The victorious affirmative team which debated at Topeka is composed of K. D. Thompson, sophomore in agronomy, Siebert Fairman, junior in mechanical engineering, and A. F. Swanson, junior in agronomy. The negative team which will debate Emporia is composed of C. O. Chubb, senior in general science; J. Richards, sophomore in agronomy; and Samuel James, junior in agronomy.

LEAD IN STAMP PURCHASES

Division of Agriculture Vigorous in Savings Campaign

The division of agriculture still is leading all college divisions which have organized for the purpose of selling War Savings Stamps. This division is enrolled practically 100 per cent.

"No other society has approached that of the agricultural division either in enrolment or the number of stamps sold," said Prof. R. G. Taylor. "An accurate report of the work of each society will be published soon and a definite idea as to the relative standings will be given."

"Several Kansas high schools have formed War Savings Stamp societies while are 100 per cent strong. In the Literary Digest of March 30 there is an interesting picture of a group of school children of Harlesden, England. Between two and three hundred of these children have bought 482 pounds of $2.40 worth of war certificates. This is one example of the patriotism of the English after all the exhaustion of war."

GIRLS CAN WORK TOMORROW

Red Cross Rooms To Be Open From 9 to 10 o'clock

For the purpose of giving an additional opportunity for doing some patriotic war work Saturday the Red Cross work room in the domestic science hall will be open from 9 until 10 o'clock that morning.

On account of the special chapel program the room will not be open at any other hour during the morning. Workers from any other class section are asked to make a special drive Saturday at the second hour.

DEAN VAN ZILE A WAR SPEAKER

Home Economics Head Talked Wednesday at Smith Center

Mrs. Mary P. VanZile, dean of the division of home economics, made a conservation address on a home economics subject Wednesday at the war council meeting held at Smith Center. Dean VanZile will speak before the Federation of Clubs at Salina Thursday.

NEW Y. W. OFFICERS ARE IN

Installation Was Held at Regular Services Yesterday

The new officers for the Young Women's Christian Association were installed at the regular vespers services yesterday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Thomas is the president of the association for the coming year succeeding Miss Nellie Wilkie. Miss Sarella Herrick is vice-president, Miss Lucille Heiser, treasurer and Miss Martha Baird, secretary. The other officers for the past year were Miss Hattie Droll, vice-president, Miss Helen Stewart, treasurer and Miss Sarella Herrick secretary.

At the meeting Rev. Darley Downs, student pastor of the Congregational church talked on the poem "Bread and Roses," bringing out the point that life is more than making a living and that there is something bigger for everyone.

ANNUAL PROM WILL BE HELD IN NICHOLAS GYMNASIUM THIS EVENING

Big Party For Upperclassmen Has Been Hooverized, and Expenses Have Been Cut to the Minimum—Shepherd's Crook Will Be Handed Down

With every unnecessary expense eliminated, the annual junior-senior prom to be held in Nicholas gymnasium tonight is expected to be one of the most successful to the not the most expensive, affair of the kind ever held here.

All will be ready this evening for the affair, Bob Hargis chairman of the junior social committee said yesterday. The decoration committee, of which Gordon Hamilton is the chairman, has been turning the big gymnasium into a mammoth patriotic room, with red, white and blue bunting everywhere and flags draped at every corner.

No attempt has been made to decorate as lavishly as in former years. "We are trying to give the students the maximum of enjoyment at the minimum expense," Mr. Hargis said yesterday. "We started out to keep the cost around the $200 mark and I believe we may come out even better than that."

Reception at 7:30 o'clock

The reception is to be held from 7:30 to 8:15 o'clock. Then the juniors, seniors and invited guests will adjourn to the auditorium, where a 30-minute farce will be presented.

While the subject of the farce has not been announced, it has been hinted that several prominent seniors will be caricatured. Miss Velma Carson and Miss Grace Lightfoot are said to be the authors of the comedy. Following the farce is the presentation of the Shepherd's Crook, which has been handed down from senior president to junior president for the last thirty years. George Gibbons, senior president last year, will give the crook to C. M. Barringer, the present junior president. This part of the program is scheduled to be over by 9:30 o'clock when dancing begins in the gymnasium.

Miss Grace Lightfoot, chairman of the entertainment committee, plans to present numbers of her program at the end of every third dance during the evening. Features will be the Camp Funston Y. M. C. A. quartet, the Sigma Nu quartet and a solo dance by Miss Betty Lyman.

Not Enough Men

Refreshments will be served in the Athenian hall and the band room at the east end of the gymnasium, upstairs. Miss Vera Olmstead, chairman of the "eats" committee, plans to serve ice cream and war crackers.

The wrestling room in the south-west corner of the main floor will be decorated and used as a rest room. The date committee has been meeting with troubles in providing the women with escorts, due to the scarcity of men in the two upper classes. The girls without dates, however, have planned to attend anyway. They held an informal meeting yesterday afternoon to thresh out the matter.

Gordon Hamilton, chairman of the decorating committee, is anxious that every freshman, sophomore and junior help with the work of putting the bunting in place this afternoon. The freshmen and sophomores are co-operating in the decoration of the big hall.

UNCLE SAM CALLS OPERATORS

Physics Department Appealed to For Wireless Men

An urgent call has been sent to the physics department for wireless operators and photographers. The college has been offering a course in both branches with a view to preparing the men for army work. This has been recognized by the government officials who express themselves ready to take any one recommended by the college.

The wireless operators are wanted for the signal corps, and the photographers for the aviation corps.

MELCHERS FINDS NEW DISEASE

Geranium Trouble May Attack Plant At Any Stage of Growth

A new fungous disease destructive to the growth of geraniums has been discovered by L. E. Melchers, acting head of the department of botany.

This disease may attack the geranium at any stage of growth. The first symptoms are noticed when the leaves begin to wilt. The infection a little later may extend down into the pedicels of the flower. The infected parts turn brown, later black, and soon fungous masses develop sufficiently so that they may be seen by the unaided eye.

Other glowers are infected by contact. The disease spreads rapidly when the air is humid. If the diseased petals fall to the leaves of the plant, brown spots soon form on the leaves. The disease may become serious in a greenhouse where it is allowed to get a start.

Practically no spray or fungicide has proved successful in controlling it. Sanitation in the greenhouse, however, is recommended. This consists of keeping the dead foliage and debris from decaying in the soil. The fungus grows on dead material. From here the spores spread to the blossoms of the plant where they cause infection.

TRACK MEET? IF SO, WHERE?

Valley Conference Can't Decide on Place For Annual Event

Puzzle—where will the annual Missouri valley track meet be held this year? Nobody seems to know, at least Coach Clevenger says he doesn't know and that he doesn't know of anyone who does.

The meet originally was scheduled to be held at Ames, May 25, but due to the fact that three-fourths of the students there will be out of school by that time, Ames cannot hold the meet on the Iowa field. Missouri also has said that it would be inconvenient for the meet to be held in Columbia.

One school has made an offer as a last resort and agreed to hold the meet, providing that the number of men on each team be limited to ten. This is not according to rules of the association, and there would have to be a meeting of representatives of the different schools to sanction a move of this kind.

President Jardine, who is also chairman of the Missouri valley conference association, has called a meeting to decide if the meet will be held and where it can conveniently be held. In the meantime, the occasion is in doubt, and nobody knows anything about it.

FORMER STUDENT DIES HERE

Miss Mabel Sitterly Had Been Teaching at Zeandale

Miss Mabel Sitterly of Manhattan, who was a student at the college in 1915 to 1916, died at her home 118 Manhattan avenue, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Her death was brought about by an attack of pneumonia.

Miss Sitterly has been teaching in the Zeandale schools this winter. A brother, Warren Sitterly, who is in the national service set sail early Sunday morning from a point in New Jersey, and the news of his sister's death did not reach him before his departure for France.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

STUDENTS ON A LONG TRIP

Farms in Missouri and Kansas Are on Schedule of Soil Survey Class

The class in soil survey in advanced farm management under W. E. Grimes, assistant professor of farm management and R. I. Throckmorton, associate professor of agronomy, will take a trip through southeastern Kansas and into Missouri to study soil conditions. They will visit the Long View farm in Missouri and later the Deming ranch near Oswego.

SOME BASEBALL AFTER ALL

INTER-FRATERNITY AND INTER-DIVISIONAL GAMES ARE SCHEDULED

Letter Men in National Pastime Will Not Be Allowed to Play in Unusual Places in the Division Games—Fraternity Games this Week

Base ball has been abolished as a major sport, college officials have decided, but E. A. Bauer, assistant professor of physical education, has scheduled 24 intramural contests. Nine games will be played by the divisions and 15 by the fraternities. The rules and the schedule for the intra-mural baseball games were decided upon at a meeting of the representatives of the different divisions.

It was decided that each division will elect a manager and captain, whose duties will be to see that the men in the division reported for practice before the beginning of the season and to take care of the affairs of the team.

It was also decided that "K" men in baseball would be allowed to play, but in some other position than that at which they had won their letter. The selection of the umpire will be left to the captains of the individual teams.

The following is the schedule of the games, all of which being promptly at 4:30 o'clock.

April 12—General Science vs. School of Ag.
April 13—Vets vs. Engineers, of Ag.
April 17—Vets vs. General Science.
April 22—Engineers vs. School of Ag.
April 24—Agriculture vs. General Science.
April 29—Vets vs. School of Ag.
May 3—Agriculture vs. Engineers.
May 6—Engineers vs. General Science.
May 10—Vets vs. Agriculture.
The schedule for the fraternity games for this spring has been planned and games will begin April 9.

The following schedule has been arranged:

April 9—Acacia vs. Aztex
April 10—Beta Theta Pi vs. Pi Kappa Alpha.
April 11—Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Nu
April 16—Beta Theta Pi vs. Acacia
April 18—Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Aztex.
April 23—Acacia vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
April 25—Aztex vs. Sigma Nu
April 30—Beta Theta Pi vs. Aztex
May 1—Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon
May 2—Acacia vs. Sigma Nu
May 7—Aztex vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
May 8—Acacia vs. Pi Kappa Alpha.
May 9—Beta Theta Pi vs. Sigma Nu
May 11—Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Sigma Nu.
May 16—Beta Theta Pi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

HIT "KULTUR" TOMORROW

One year ago today American was on the verge of entering the biggest war in the history of the world. One year ago tomorrow the decision had been made, and the United States was lined up with other liberty-loving peoples of the world in a battle to down Prussian despotism, autocracy and greed.

"Kultur" was at the bottom of the entire affair. For "Kultur" Germany had sunk the Lusitania, ravaged Belgium, used gas attacks, bombed innocent British and French women and children—had violated code after code of the international law.

What is "Kultur"? It merely is the Teuton ego. Frederick the Great taught leading Germans that his nation must sometime conquer the world. Prussianism it is argued, was more efficient than Americanism or liberty. It was Germany's right—no, it was Germany's God-given mission—to see the "efficient" heel of Prussianism on inefficiency, which exists everywhere but in Germany. All this is brought out in documents uncovered during the war.

President Wilson, Governor Capper and President Jardine have announced a holiday for Aggie students tomorrow, in memory of the historic day America decided to down "Kultur."

It is a "Win the War" day.

Every patriotic Aggie student will attend the patriotic rally in the auditorium in the morning. President Jardine will tell us of the food situation. An entertaining, instructive program has been arranged.

And everyone will be on hand to "Kultur" a square, fairly-struck glow right between the eyes.

What Does Silage Cost?

Acres used and cultivated time and again, and gone over to get the fodder are the big items in cost.

Nitrate, as Top Dressing worked in when cultivating, will cheapen production.

Bigger, better stalks and bigger ears will result.

TWO VALUABLE AFFAIRS

Comes again that period of the year when juniors invite seniors to the annual junior-senior prom. Immediately following is the second annual freshman-sophomore, bringing the two biggest social events of the college year together in one week.

Their attention focused on the big side show in Europe this year, college men and women have neglected the big group of social affairs that help unite the students. And that isn't right. If K. S. A. C. continues to be democratic, big parties where everyone mixes must be held, for with out them, each student travels in his own individual way, and neglects the group.

Now that the opportunity is here and the two proms, minus the frills of former years, have been planned every college student should attend.

'Tis sad, sad indeed when a paragrapher feels every week the unconquerable impulse to write a spring poem, and then must hide behind the skirts of a mythical "Lucy Wonder" because he is afraid to brave the critics' storm.

SPRING

Spring has come,
The lilac buds are all swelled up.
Yesterday,
I found two dandelions
On the lawn.
The birds are coming back.
The grass is green.
The days are getting warm.
I feel so slouchy
And all I fared out;
Oh, I wish I were a bumble-bee,
So I could just
Roll over a clover blossom,
And go to sleep.

BY THE WAY—

At a recent class in economics the person in charge introduced himself "My name is J. E. Kammeyer."
The introduction was necessary for the professor of that name whom the students were accustomed to see wore a mustache. The new Mr. Kammeyer appears to be a much younger man. The class work of the gentleman is already improving.

Keep off-the-grass signs are budding forth with the spring showers. Not only are these signs in evidence but fencing and barb wire entanglements have been erected in various places to prevent the tender shoots of alfalfa from being overrun and broken.

Twenty-three different cuts and paths have been made at various parts of the campus and to continue them now means the destruction of vegetation at these places. For this reason the glaring signs and ragged fences have been constructed to warn careless students. Severe punishment awaits the unheedy.

Save up those jits and buy a War Savings Stamp.

Why do certain low-brows still cut across the campus? Why not get a few names and several more paddles and get busy?

Who is it that spends most of his time decorating one of the benches upstairs in the Main Hall?

And also who is the sophisticated sophomore who makes a trip to the post-office after every hour, "To get my mail."

Miss Ima Freak figgers that they ought to send all of the fat men across first because they could put up a stout fight. We'd say feed 'em onions.

It's about time for some squibbler to say that it's about time for some other squibblers to repeat that, "In the spring a young man's fancy idly turns—etc., etc."

Germany ought to enjoy quite a feast now that they have Bologna and Ham.

Ellet Robinson, sophomore in animal husbandry, and Everett Sterns sophomore in mechanical engineering, spent the week end at their home in Towanda.

It is wonderful how much a young woman who has been married about two months can think of the fellow she got.

GATEWOOD LEAVES COLLEGE

Animal Husbandry Man Will Manage California Ranch

Ray A. Gatewood has resigned his position as assistant in the department of animal husbandry. He left for Fresno, California Saturday night where he will begin making headway on his father's ranch. He will engage in the production of purebred Poland China hogs.

Mr. Gatewood has been connected with the animal husbandry department for the past three years in charge of the college swine herds having specialized in pork production.

Mrs. Gatewood left Sunday to visit relatives at Marien Ohio. She expects to spend a few months there and will join her husband at Fresno in June.

There's A Professor in Our College

Who takes away all honors when it comes to giving quizzes. It is thought by his students that he starts collecting material for his questions in September and does not stop until he has covered every inch of the text book, then he writes into the United States Educational board to find out if there are any more insignificant facts about the subject that he has missed. These he hoards up in a sealed box and reveals them to the poor unsuspecting student on quiz week. There are several other professors, however, who are quite proficient along this line, and no doubt they will all be using the same methods soon.

MARCH WAS HOT AND DRY

Thermometer Above Average But Little Rain Fell

The average temperature for March, 1918, was 8.29 degrees higher than in the average Kansas March, according to J. O. Hamilton, professor of physics. The average maximum temperature for the month was 64.8 degrees, the average minimum temperature 24.93 degrees, and the mean temperature 49.86 degrees. The highest temperature of the month was 86 degrees on March 13 and the lowest 15 degrees on March 10.

There were 21 clear days, four partly cloudy, and six cloudy. The average barometric pressure for the month was 28.74. The total run of wind velocity was 7,491 miles, the highest being 44 miles per hour on March 9.

The rainfall for the month was .76 of an inch, which was .55 of an inch below the normal. This makes the total rainfall for the past seven months amount to 4.82 inches. This is the smallest rainfall for this period for the past 60 years at this station, the next smallest being 5.20 inches in 1861. It is 6.418 below the normal rainfall for this period from September to March inclusive.

The average date for the last killing frost at this station is April 25, there being only two years on record, March 31, 1861, and March 28, 1888, in which no frost fell after the 31st of March.

Said She Didn't Care For Him Anyway, But He Carries Her Books

Lazily they were tripping along. One carried a note book and an awful "line." The other apparently had merely enrolled in school for she was constantly saying, "Well, I don't care." Truly gossiping they were as they came down the steps of main hall and wended their way toward the library.

Merely walking along with no thought of what might happen, and incidentally following the aforementioned couple was a would-be journalist. Suddenly with the mentioning of certain familiar names the w. b. j. perked his ears and wondered what new scandal had occurred.

"Do you know," spoke the female with the note book, "I wonder why T— never calls up any more? He always tries to pass me up when I see him on the hill and I never do see him at Johnnies any more."

"Well," spoke the other one, "he always falls for these new ones but he'll get tired pretty soon and anyway—well—I wouldn't care."

"But I do care, said the f. with the n. b. "He dated me nearly every week end last term and then all at once he quit. And I don't see why." Whereupon the one continued to mourn and the other to act disconcerted until they had gotten into the heart of Aggieville. Suddenly the attitude of the offended one changed as she passed the Palace for there standing in the doorway was T—.

"Hello," he said, "H-e-l-l-o—she coolingly responded. The effect was apparent. No man and especial T— could resist that inviting appeal. He took her note book and she evidently took part of his cash, for when the w. b. j. stopped in to get some tonorial attention they had entered Johnnies!

The 342nd Artillery at Camp Funston has devised a plan whereby it hopes to obtain all the best athletes in the country. The athletic director of this regiment has written to all the noted athletics whom he thinks may join the service and urges them to come to the 342nd Artillery.

The Missouri Valley track conference which was to have been held at Ames May 25, may not take place on that date. The juniors and seniors at Ames quit school this year April 19, hence that school could not participate in May. Missouri refuses to take the meet, so some other school may obtain it at an earlier date.

The local track team has been doing some practice on the outdoor track. An interclass track meet will be held soon, and anyone interested in this form of athletic sports is urged to come out for practice.

PLACE MORE FARM AGENTS

Extension Division Busy With Emergency Work

The extension division of the college has appointed several county agents recently and has organized farm bureaus in a number of counties. City agents also have been placed through the division.

Miss Anna Allen has been appointed emergency home demonstration agent for Independence. Miss Iris Livingston has been chosen for the same position at Wichita, and Miss Ethel Marchbanks will do home demonstration work at Pittsburg.

W. W. Wright has been appointed county agricultural agent in Greenwood county. Herman F. Tazge began work April 1 as agricultural agent of Doniphan county.

County agricultural agents in the state number 22, and there are seven assistant county agents. Two district agricultural agents operate in the state. Seven emergency home demonstration agents are at work in as many cities in the state, and there are 14 agents doing similar work in counties. Thirteen district emergency demonstration agents are employed in Kansas.

TEACH FARMERS TO KEEP BOOKS

Professor Grimes Assists in Riley County Work

W. E. Grimes, assistant professor of farm management, and Ralph Kenney, emergency demonstration agent for Riley and Geary counties, are holding meetings at various places over Riley county for the purpose of explaining to the farmers the best method of keeping farm accounts so that the farmers will know how to compute their income as required by the income tax law.

"The attendance at the meetings varied between 12 and 50 persons," said Mr. Grimes, "and much interest is being shown. Practically all of the farmers are adopting the system of farm accounting which was explained to them."

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

VOLUME 24, NUMBER 54

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, APRIL 9, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

1,600 THRIFT STAMPS SOLD

WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN ENROLLING EVER INCREASING NUMBER OF STUDENTS

Division of Agriculture Still Far in the Lead Although Veterinary Medicine Students Took Big Strides During the Week Just Closed

More than 1600 thrift stamps had been sold among students, employees and faculty on the campus up to two o'clock Monday. This includes only stamps sold through college agencies and does not take in a considerable number bought at the downtown postoffice. In addition 82 of the way savings or baby bond stamps have been sold at the college postoffice. Incomplete reports indicate that far more than this number of the larger denomination have been bought elsewhere by college people.

A large proportion of the faculty members purchased bonds of the First and Second Liberty Loans and still more are preparing to invest in the Third Liberty Loan which was inaugurated Saturday, April 6. For those who cannot purchase the larger bonds and for the students generally the Thrift and War-Savings stamps furnish the ideal investment, according to R. G. Taylor, who is managing the campaign.

Agriulturists Still Lead

Complaint is made in some divisions that lower classmen are slowest to respond and take up seriously the idea of thrift and war investments. One secretary says that freshmen are the slowest of all, sophomores next, and juniors and seniors the most responsive.

The Kansas City Times for April 8 prints the complete report of war savings and thrift stamps sold in the Kansas City schools up to April 5. The showing is remarkable. Several of the grade schools have purchased stamps to the value of more than $1,000 each a few of them as high as $2,000 and $3,000 each, and one, the Benton school, ran over $12,000. The five high schools purchased together more than $12,000 worth of stamps.

OPEN ANOTHER QUILT CONTEST

Manuscripts Must Be Handed In by April 15

The topic for the Quilt club meeting Monday evening was feature stories. F. L. Snow, assistant professor of industrial journalism, led the formal discussion.

Original stories were read by Arthur Boyer, senior in industrial journalism; Miss Edna Boyle, senior in industrial journalism; Walter Nieberger, freshman in industrial journalism; Miss Grace Dickman, senior in home economics; F. E. Oakes, junior in agronomy; Miss Sarah Boell, junior in general science and Miss Josephine Sullivan, sophomore in home economics.

The annual short story contest is now open to any college student. Manuscripts may be submitted to Prof. N. A. Crawford any time before April 15. The contest was won last year by James B. Angle, junior in agronomy.

SUMMER SESSION BULLETINS IN

Pamphlets Can Be Obtained Now—Many are Sent Out

The summer school announcement bulletin has arrived from the state printer and the home study department has attended to the distribution of 10,000 copies in the state. Announcements have been mailed to all correspondence students, county superintendents, city superintendents, school principals, and all home economics, agriculture and manual training teachers in the state, as well as to rural and grade teachers of 44

COLLINS TO POSITION AT AMES

Instructor in Farm Engineering Has New Job

E. V. Collins, instructor in farm engineering, who has had charge of the farm machinery courses in the department of farm engineering, has resigned to take a position in the same department of the Iowa State college at Ames. His resignation will take effect at the end of the college year.

Mr. Collins is a graduate in agricultural engineering at the Iowa State college. He came to K. S. A. C. three years ago as instructor in gas engines and automobiles. When the department of farm engineering was organized last fall, he was transferred from the department of steam and gas engineering.

His position at the Iowa institution will be that of experimentalist. The first project which he will take up probably will be the investigation of the tractor problem in Iowa. He will also investigate farm machinery and report on various farm equipment.

The demand for agricultural engineers is unprecedented. Many of them have received commissions in airplane service and are uniformly successful because of the broad fundamental engineering training which their course gives.

DOCTOR MACARTHUR HONORED

English Head Is President of Pi Kappa Delta

Dr. John R. MacArthur, associate professor of English, has been elected national president of Pi Kappa Delta, the honorary fraternity of orators and debaters. He was chosen at the national convention held at Ottawa university, Ottawa, Kans., last week.

Pi Kappa Delta has 19 active chapters of which five are in Kansas. K. S. A. C. is well represented in the field of forensics as it has two national presidents. Miss Lois Sloop, junior in home economics, is president of Zeta Kappa Psi, the girls honorary forensics.

Other officials elected at the convention were Prof. E. R. Nichols (Redlands university, Co., vice president); Prof. Charles A. Marsh, Morningside college, Iowa, secretary; Roy Painter, Hanna, Wyo., treasurer; and Prof. Alford Westfall, Colorado State college, historian.

WORKERS ARE OUT OF GAUZE

Red Cross Rooms Closed For at Least Part of Week

For the first time in two months the Red Cross room in the domestic science building is closed today and the workers are waiting for the arrival of a gauze supply.

The committee at headquarters downtown has done everything possible they say, but no shipment of material can be obtained.

"The room is closed for today," said Mrs. R. G. Taylor, "and perhaps for the rest of the week. By the first of next week at any rate work will be normal again."

The Wednesday afternoon class leads in attendance and in the number of dressings prepared last week. Saturday completed the last day of the second month of work. There have been 682 student hours of work and 16,586 dressings have been made. This shows a gain of 2,000 dressings over the month before. The record for the week follows:

Monday afternoon, 20 workers, 415 dressings; Tuesday morning, 14,175 dressings; Tuesday afternoon, 25 with 375 dressings; Wednesday morning 13 with 243 dressings; Wednesday afternoon 23 with 591 dressings; Thursday morning, 14 with 396 dressings; Thursday afternoon, 16 with 365 dressings; Friday morning 4, with 60 dressings; Friday afternoon 8 with 230 dressings; Saturday morning, 8 with 87 dressings; Friday evening 8, with 87 dressings.

SLOW TO SIGN FOR TENNIS

Only Seven Entered in Woman's Tourney—More Wanted

A cardboard has been posted on the bulletin board in the girls' gymnasium for the signatures of those who wish to enter the spring tennis tournament.

At least 36 players are needed for the contest and so far only seven names have been attached. The card will be up for signatures this week and the matches will be drawn by the first of next week. Those who have entered the tournament so far are: Lillian Gates, Ruth Goodbaum, and Dorothy Skinner.

Y. W. GIRLS GOING CAMPING

OUTING ON WHITE RIVER AT HOLLISTER, MO., IS PLANNED

Girls From This College Will Go to the Camp as Soon as the Semester Ends—Names of Those Planning to Attend Are Wanted Now

Hollister, Mo., in the heart of the Ozarks is the camping ground for Y. W. C. A. summer conferences for college girls.

The Hollister outing for this year has just been announced. To any K. S. A. C. girls who have attended in previous years no explanations need be made, but to all others an special invitation will be given. Questionnaires are being sent out by the Y. W. C. A. to each of the 700 girls enrolled in college in regard to attending the summer conference, which will be held from June 25 to July 5.

"The camping site," said Miss Mildred Inskip, Y. M. C. A. secretary, "overlooks the White river. It is a beautiful place and the girls always enjoy the boating, swimming and fishing. College girls from Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas and Arkansas will be there for the 10-day association conference and outing. It is an exceptional opportunity for the girls to meet the students from the other states and other colleges. The outing was held last year during the closing days of college, limiting our representation from here. It is more fortunately arranged this summer and we will expect 25 delegates in place of the ten of last summer."

The Hollister Program

The mornings at the camp at Hollister will be given over to talks by religious and educational leaders in the Y. W. C. A. and others. There also will be Bible and mission study and intensive consideration of student association problems. The afternoon will be spent in recreation, hikes and excursions. In the evening there are to be short addresses.

"Fire hundred girls in all attended the conference last year," said Miss Inskip. The idea is to give the girls inspiration and education. The total expense of the trip, including good times, side trips, and all will not be more than $45.

"There is a limited conference loan fund which may be secured by any college girl who feels that she could not otherwise go to Hollister. This is to be paid back within three years after graduation. It has never been completely used and should be for the good of the association as the girls would bring back more than the original amount in enthusiasm for the association."

Want Names in Now

Usually one or more members of the Y. W. C. A. advisory board spends the ten days with the girls. This will be made possible because of the late date. Miss Elizabeth Circle is the new summer conference chairman. Girls who are interested in the outing are requested to return the questionnaires as soon as possible so that a unified delegation may be worked up. K. S. A. C. delegation songs must be selected, and K. S. A. C. yells composed. The slogan at the summer outing, as well as in all other college activities is "Beat K. U."

The delegates who went from here last year were: Miss Mildred Inskip, Nelle Wilkie, Helen Stewart, Helen Harbaugh, Mae Rich, Ruth Thomas, Florence Mitchell, Pauline Richards, Genevieve Bruce and Ravina Brown.

PROGRAM FOR SAVINGS SOCIETY

School of Agriculture Students To Have Social Meeting

The school of agriculture war savings society is planning a program for Thursday afternoon 4:45 to 5:30 o'clock in G-52. School of agriculture students will talk on subjects of general interest to the students who want to know more about present war conditions.

Appointed on Committees

K. J. T. Eklaw, professor of farm engineering, and W. H. Sanders, instructor in farm engineering, and W. H. Sanders, instructor in farm engineering have been appointed members of the committee on mechanical power for the state council of defense.

SPRATT AN ENGINEER OFFICER

Former School of Ag Student Commissioned March 18

R. C. Spratt, who attended the school of agriculture last year, has been commissioned second lieutenant in the engineering corps of the national army. He is in training at the E. R. O. T. C. at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va. Mr. Spratt received his commission March 18.

"We are going at top speed and have three more weeks of work ahead," writes Mr. Spratt. "We are in the midst of making hasty intrenchments, constructing pontoons bridging the Appomattox river and doing a little infantry drill."

"The work here is strenuous. I enlisted eight months ago and have done some hard work, but this is the hardest. The work is very interesting and instructive, however, and I enjoy it."

MISS LORING TO INDIANA JOB

Director of Physical Training For Woman Has Summer Call

Miss Ethel Loring of the department of physical training will have charge of physical training for women in the University of Indiana this summer. Miss Edith Bond will be director of physical training in K. S. A. C. while Miss Loring is absent.

CALLS ON PEP OF STUDENTS

Professor Kammeyer Pleads For Sale of Liberty Bonds

"Money, bonds, and pep, and the greatest of these is pep," paraphrased J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics in the Kansas State Agricultural college, in his address before the general assembly at the patriotic rally Saturday morning.

Professor Kammeyer used pep as a blanket term for devotion, enthusiasm, purpose, love of home and country. "The love of country is not always apparent," said Professor Kammeyer "but it always existed and when the occasion comes as it has come to us. The same spirit of patriotism that has sent our boys across into France must sustain them while there."

"We could not stop this war more effectively than by failing to raise the money requisite to finance it. There are just three ways by means of which the United States can raise these funds; taxation, relied upon exclusively in times of stress, money borrowing and issuing bonds, and printing United States greenbacks."

Professor Kammeyer brought to the realization of his hearers what the student body can do when really aroused, the reference to an incident of 10 years ago. At that time the state legislature had decided to take the division of engineering out of the agricultural college. The student body raised funds and brought the legislature to Manhattan, and in the college auditorium, induced them to refer that bill to the waste basket upon their return to Topeka.

"We must win this war, and by the providence of God we will," said Professor Kammeyer in conclusion.

Want Seniors Who Can Act

Tryouts For Class Play to Be Held Tomorrow Evening

Seniors who wish to try out for the class play to be given some time in May are requested to meet Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in F-3. Miss Ada Dykes, who coached "The Man on the Box" and "Under Cover," the two plays presented by the Purple Masque, also will have charge of the rehearsals for the senior play.

The title of the comedy has not been announced. J. E. DuBois, agronomy, is chairman of the play committee.

SIX INTO PURPLE MASQUE

Dramatic Fraternity Initiates "Under Cover" Stars

Six persons were initiated into the Purple Masque, honorary dramatic fraternity, at services held in Harrison's hall Thursday evening.

The new members are Mrs. Arvilla Hale, junior in home economics, Oliver Nelson, freshman in agronomy, Miss Dorothy Norris, senior in home economics, Miss Greeta Gamse, junior in home economics, and Chester C. Brewer, freshman in industrial journalism.

The initiation was followed by a four course banquet.

Miss Ione Leith, freshman in industrial journalism, spent Saturday visiting friends at Camp Funston.

'UP TO US TO WIN'

ALLIES DEPEND ON AMERICA FOR FINAL PUNCH, JARDINE TELLS STUDENTS

THREE MORE YEARS OF WAR

More Than Two Million Yankees Must Be in Trenches in France Before Victory Will Come

French And English Are Holding, But Latest Hun Drive Shows the Strength of Enemy

AMERICA MUST SAVE AND SAVE

Wheat Is Badly Needed For Allies and For Fighting Men, New President Says in Maiden Speech, and America Faces Even More Stringent Conservation Regulations

Allied victory depends on America. If the allies win, this nation must send a continuous stream of food and men to France. The war will last three years. These were the important points made by Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the college, in the principal speech at the patriotic rally held in the college auditorium Saturday, the anniversary of the entrance of America into the war.

It was Doctor Jardine's first appearance as president at a student assembly, and the words of the new executive, who recently has returned from Washington, sobered a mixed audience of students, faculty and townspeople into the realization that America is only beginning to fight, and that the battle will be a long one.

Look to America

"The hope of the world lies in us," Doctor Jardine said. "We are the only nation left while can hope to defeat the German military machine. We must come to the point where we are willing to share the suffering and sacrificing of our allies in every respect. We all want to see the fight won, but we must learn to do as they have been compelled to do in England and France if we are to avoid the terrible fate that has overtaken these countries, and if the hope the world places in us is not to be placed in vain."

"Americans are eating too much white bread, wearing too many fine clothes and driving too luxurious automobiles."

A Critical Period

The past fifteen days, during which time the Huns have driven further into Allied territory than ever was thought possible, have constituted the most critical period in the history of this country, in the opinion of Doctor Jardine.

"The Huns are digging in and will remain in their new positions until the United States sends at least two million men to France in addition to those there now."

Three More Years

"The impression I got while in Washington was that the war would last at least three years longer, or until we could get enough men over there to break the western line. This is what must be done before the war is won."

"The Germans must be thrashed and threshed well, brought to their knees, before a satisfactory peace can be brought about. We are the only country capable of doing this now."

France Needs Bread

Doctor Jardine told of the need for wheat in France. The French people are on one-third rations and the French army, notwithstanding the fact that it is holding two-thirds of the western line, has been reduced 16 per cent of the normal ration.

Under the voluntary food conservation plan, America has saved from 15 to 17 per cent, according to figures furnished by Mr. Hoover.

"But some more efficient measure than this must be adopted," said Doctor Jardine. There are two alternatives—we can voluntarily go on a very restricted diet as regards wheat or go on a forced corn ration for the last two months of the present crop year."

Huns Believe in War

Doctor Jardine closed with a reference to the German attitude towards war. The Teutons, he said, have been taught that it is biologically sound for nation to fight against nation, that the law of survival of the fittest extends to nations as well as to the animals and plant kingdoms and that perpetration of the most dreadful crimes is right if there is a military advantage in it.

"That is why our task is so terrible," the speaker brought out. "It is the whole German nation, not the kaiser, we must defeat if the earth is to continue a suitable place for human habitation. We must steel ourselves for the task before us. We must strike to win."

Dean A. A. Potter of the engineering division discussed the place of technical training in war work, the opportunities there would be during the war and after the war for technically trained men, the work the college is now doing in training men at Camp Funston. Dean Potter leaves for Washington today for a conference on engineering research work in connection with the war.

J. T. Willard presided and introduced the speakers, and stated that there was a great increase in the patriotic sentiment manifested since war had been declared.

The training of telegraphers at the college by Professors Hamilton and Reid is one of the most important phases of work the college is doing, it is said. To date, these two professors have trained approximately 200 telegraphers who will be of inestimable value to the United States.

The program was interspersed with musical numbers by the college band, the faculty quartet and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by H. A. O'Brien. All college activities were suspended in celebration of America's first year of war in the great conflict.

PRESIDENT JARDINE'S TALK

Text of the Address Delivered Saturday by College Head

President Jardine's address follows. The kindly consideration I have received at the hands of the students and faculty of this institution in my eight years' experience here, has meant a great deal to me. It is your good will towards me that in a very large measure, has been the means of bringing to me this promotion and honor.

The Kansas State Agricultural college has gained a national reputation under the administration of Dr. Waters. Its growth has been almost unprecedented. There is opportunity for rendering still greater service and it will ever be my aim to direct its affairs in such manner as to assure its continued growth and service.

A change in the presidency of an institution is always fraught with unrest and uncertainty in normal times but to "swap horses" in the middle of a very turbulent stream as this institution has done, multiplies several fold the difficulties. I am not unmindful, therefore, of the very grave responsibility resting upon me. However, the assurance of undivided support and co-operation which I have received from faculty, student body, citizens of Manhattan and the state, and friends of the institution everywhere, inspire in me confidence of final success.

I have never sought positions of leisure. The only real satisfaction has come to me, as to everyone, I believe, has been derived from meeting and mastering difficult situations. I am not discouraged, therefore, because of the difficulties that confront me now.

Colleges Play Big Part

The crisis through which this country and the world are passing necessarily interrupts and disarranges the plans of educational institutions, especially of those institutions the type of our own. The 48 land grant colleges of the United States have performed a very useful and important service to the Government since our entrance into the war. At the very outset the question of food production and food conservation became second in importance only to that of assembling a national army and getting the boys across to the fighting line.

Almost the day war was declared the agricultural colleges were called upon by the federal government and the governors of the respective states to assume leadership in formulating

CLASSES FOUGHT FOR KEY

EMBLEM HANDED FROM SOPHOMORES TO FRESHMEN CAUSE REAL SCRAP

Upperclassmen Rushed Gymnasium to Obtain "Key to K. S. A. C." But Clever Woman Outwitted Small But Plucky Band of Juniors And Seniors

Pent up class spirit that has been struggling to express itself all year broke out with all the fury of a long-imprisoned monster Friday and Saturday. The results—one injured head, several badly disfigured faces, many bruised bodies, broken up freshman-sophomore prom and a free-for-all battle royal.

The trouble all began Friday evening, the night of the junior-senior prom. The Shepherd's Crook, which is handed down from senior to junior class president each spring was forcibly extracted from the custody of George C. Gibbons and Harold Hilt, both prominent seniors, in a fight staged in front of the Delta Delta Delta sorority house at 822 Poynts avenue, where the key was in hiding.

"We were getting into Gibby's car in front of the Tri-Delta house when a gang of six or seven fellows came rushing at us," Mr. Hilt related yesterday. "For about five minutes all we saw were flying feet and fists, and when the attacking party retreated, the bag in which we carried the crook was gone."

No Crook to Present

As a consequence, when it came time to present the crook Friday evening, there was no crook to present.

Reprisals were planned by the seniors.

Clifford Knisely, president of the sophomore class, was presenting Ray Watson, chief executive of the yearlings, with the "Key to K. S. A. C."—another highly prized emblem—when upperclassmen stormed the gymnasium Saturday evening about 10:30 o'clock. The doors at the east and west entrances to the gymnasium floor gave way before the rush of the plucky little squad, which numbered about 50 persons, but the offensive was halted soon by the sophomores and freshmen, who massed reserves in such overwhelming numbers as to check the push.

But some of the upperclassmen broke the line. Those who pushed through and later were captured and tied by the underclassmen, according to a list furnished by the latter were M. A. Durland, A. E. Bate, R. D. McGregor, J. F. Eggerman, G. C. Ware, C. F. Layton, C. H. Honeywell, G. A. Franz, G. A. Feltz, F. M. Sisson, O. T. Bennett, C. M. Barringer, H. Barnes, H. Fairman, Ivan White, Mr. Ikard, W. R. Essick, R. D. Nichols, C. O. Chubb and Clyde Key.

Woman Concealed the Key

In the meantime, where did the key go?

The answer was not known until last night. One of the young ladies—name deleted—concealed the highly prized article in her clothing, and danced with her partner the remainder of the evening. When the crowd left this couple departed also, and it is thought the key remained Saturday night in a sorority house where the young lady was staying.

Victory Followed Defeat

The seniors, plainly beaten in their first objective, now turned to their second—that of breaking up the party. And this they had little trouble in doing, for the underclassmen seemed more than willing to help them attain their end. Lights flickered on and off during the remainder of the evening, and upperclassmen were tossed in blankets, while only a few couples—including the couple with the key—danced on.

Overcoats and hats which had been left in the men's checking room were scattered about on the campus at about 11 o'clock, and students were busy all day hunting and collecting their lost articles.

Soon after 11:30 o'clock when many of the sophomores and freshmen departed, the upperclassmen made another determined rush. This time George Gibbons, Fred Carp, M. M. Mugerdtchen, Mr. Cotton, Jess Cook and Harold Hilt were temporarily captured and bound. They did not remain in custody long, however, for another senior rush smashed the remaining upperclassmen's line, and all the prisoners were released.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S AFFAIR

Notwithstanding the criticisms that faculty members probably are making of the class fight staged in Nichols gymnasium Saturday evening—the night of the sophomore-freshman party—few persons can deny but that the scrap had its good results.

Except for the freshman cap season, the classes here at K S A. C. seldom take an interest in each other.
There is none of the intense rivalry so common at other institutions—or rather, there never before was that rivalry.

Saturday's class fight has cemented the groups. Now there is pep and vigor in every student. Like the spring shower, the scrap has cleansed
the atmosphere on the campus.

Of course there were disagreeable features. There always are when one looks back. The sophomores should not have been so easily taken in by the upperclassmen's second object—that of breaking up the prom, which few will question but that the seniors and juniors did.

The small band of upperclassmen are not to be blamed a bit for their plucky attack. They are to be praised.
And certainly no one can say the freshmen and sophomores were not within their rights in fighting the attacking party off.

The fight had its good effects and its bad. From a student's viewpoint, the good effects outweigh the bad.

Y. M. PLANS CONFERENCE MIKE

Members Will Camp Out April 20
And 21

The local Y. M. C. A. conference which is held each spring, has been set for April 20 to 21, according to
W. W. McLean, general secretary.
Several big men of national prominence have been scheduled for this conference. Among them are Guy V.
Aldrich, and Harrison Elliott, both connected with the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. in New York City. Mr. Aldrich was here a few weeks ago to organize the Christian Democracy campaign. A. R. Elliott state college Y. M. secretary for Kansas, and "Dutch" Wedell, the well known Y. M. worker at the University of Kansas probably will be present.

Those in charge expect 60 men from all branches of the college to go on the trip. The men will leave Saturday, camp out that night and return Sunday evening.

"We want to make the meeting this spring the best student conference ever held at the college," said Homer Cross, local president.

PLAY BIG GARDEN DRIVE

Series of Meetings Scheduled For Kansas Towns

The second series of gardening meetings for the year is being scheduled by the department of institutions and extension schools, division of college extension.

Special attention will be given to cultural methods which the amateur gardener may employ. The control of insect enemies of the garden will also be discussed.

The meetings will be held in Washington, Wellington, Arkansas City, Council Grove, Emporia, Eureka,
Osage City, Independence, Atchison,
Oskaloosa, Lawrence, Garnett, Iola, Chanute, Parsons, Oswego, Ft. Scott and Leavenworth.

L. C. Williams of the boys' and girls' club department of the college will attend some of these meetings as a representative of the extension division.

of the places were not definitely decided because of close competition or incomplete tryouts.

The affirmative team is composed of Miss Mary Hill, first speaker, Miss Clementine Paddelford, second speaker, and Miss Myrtle Gonselman or Miss Mary Dudley, third speaker.

The negative team is made up of Miss Christine Cool, first speaker,
Miss Jamie Cameron, Miss Lola Chaf-

PICK BEST H. S. JOURNALS

Magazines and Newspapers of Kansas Schools to be Judged Here

Kansas high school newspapers and magazines will be judged this year in a contest inaugurated by the department of industrial journalism, and printing. Announcements are being sent out by N. A. Crawford, head of the department.

The contest will be open to all periodicals, published in the secondary schools of the state. There will be two classes—one for newspapers, the other for magazines. Medals and certificates are to be awarded in each class.

Three numbers are to be submitted before May 1 by each paper entering the contest. These will be judged by experienced editors and the winners announced at the time of the high school track meet to be held under the auspices of the college on Saturday, May 11.

Many creditable papers are now
published in Kansas high schools.
Some of these are in newspaper form and aim chiefly to publish news, while others are of the magazine type. Though newspapers have a longer American history than have magazines, the latter date back farther in the high schools of the United States.

As in many other states, work in news writing is offered in a number of Kansas high schools. There is usually connected with the publication of the high school paper. Other classes in English also contribute material.

The contest, it is believed, will stimulate practical work in writing in the high schools of the state.

GREEKS PAY TAXES ON DUES

If Dues Are More Than $12.00 a Year, Money Must Be Paid

Various inquiries have been made by different organizations on the campus regarding the payment of the fraternity taxes now due.

An extract from the law which relates to the Greek-letter societies is as follows: "All yearly dues and initiation fees in excess of $12 per annum must be paid on account, even though such dues or membership fees are in part payment for board and lodging; but where any sum paid covers two charges, one dues and the other board and lodging, the tax is applicable only to the amount paid as dues. Liability to tax on account of charge which is actually dues cannot be avoided by erroneously describing it or any part as payment for board and lodging or anything else."

Many of the campus societies, through a misunderstanding of the law, have not paid this tax it is said.

COLLEGE COWS MAKE RECORD

Two-Year-Old Ayrshire Best of Class in America

Good records are being made by the agricultural college dairy cows.

Melrose Canary Bell, a 2-year-old Ayrshire heifer, won the French prize cup given to Miss C. H. French of Boston to the best 2-year-old Ayrshire heifer in the United States. This cow produced 13,785 pounds of butter fat last year. She holds third place among the best Ayrshire heifers in the world.

The Owl's Design, a 12-year-old dairy cow, holds the state record for the production of butter fat, and has just finished a test in which she produced 602 pounds of butter fat for the year. This is the third year in which this cow has produced more than 600 pounds of butter fat.

Gillette Safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillette Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against. Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers. The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation. When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas. Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

No One Has More to Contend With in His Shaving than The Fighting Man

AND nobody knows better the bracing effects of a clean shave. His shaving water may be cold, it may be hard, his skin wind-chapped or tender from sunburn. Yet, on every Allied Front, and on every Allied battleship, he keeps himself clean-shaved—and he uses the Gillette Safety Razor.

The Gillette has solved and simplified every shaving problem put up to it by the boys in khaki or navy blue.

It has done service all over the map—from the deserts of Palestine to the icy spindrift of the North Sea—from Flanders to the remotest island in the East Indies—and has proved itself the real razor for service. Complete, compact for the pack or the pocket—no strops or hones to clutter up the kit. Blades always sharp, always ready—and No Stropping—No Honing.

How France Takes Crisis
How much longer the French people can hold out on a one-third ration, always under the strain of expecting to hear momentarily of the death of another son, another brother, or father or husband, no one knows. For four years they have labored, fought, and suffered under the most terrible conditions. We have only sent them our tenths of the very modest request for food they have made of us and now they are willing to even have this reduced if we will only send them men to help hold the front. We have not been able to send them the food they desire because we have not been willing to reduce our own consumption of bread to the point where our surplus was sufficient. This year's wheat crop amounts to only 650,000,000 bushels, a little less than was consumed in the United States the previous year. Up to March 1, 1918, we have shipped 94,000,000 bushels of wheat to France. We simply must send her 40,000,000 bushels more out of the past year's crop which will cause a reduction in our own supply of 32 per cent of our entire crop. Up to date, Mr. Hoover stated that we had been able to under our present voluntary system from 15 to 17 per cent, but that some more effective measure than this must be adopted; that there were two alternatives; we could voluntarily go on a very restricted diet as regards wheat, or go on a forced corn ration for the last two months of the present crop year.

Little Food in France

For several days at a time people in northern France go entirely without bread. The use of milk is not permitted by children over three years of age. Grain is not fed to animals any more, but is held for human consumption. Barley is not used in making beer except in sections where there is no water fit for drinking purposes. Fancy pastries, candies, etc., are no longer manufactured. Butter is not served in public eating places. Eggs are practically a thing of the past. In England they are used only in hospitals for invalids. Here is France, a nation that in normal times derived 52 per cent of its food from cereals, now fighting on one-third ration composed of materials they are not accustomed to using, largely.

French Without Sugar

The sugar situation abroad is very acute. There were several months last winter when sugar was not obtainable by the French people. Today its use is limited to the very minimum. Likewise, over 61 per cent of the normal rice import has been eliminated and 50 per cent of cereals and dried vegetables.

Prospects in France for good crops this coming season are small. There is no opportunity to work the land to any extent because the animals have been requisitioned. The machinery has rusted in the fields during the past four years that they have been idle. There is no one left but women to work the land and while they are doing a heroic work, neither women nor men can do much in agricultural production without horses or machinery.

The situation will grow more acute each day we continue at war. England under its reorganization and efficient machinery is producing more food than she did before the war, but England has never been an agricultural country. They have never taken agricultural production seriously until the last two years, only during this time they have produced any considerable quantities of foodstuffs. They are now doing better than ever before, largely because the government has taken control and the women have volunteered or farm service. If a man does not farm his land as the government thinks he should, his land is taken away from him and put into the hands of someone who will.

A large share of the farm work in England is now being done by women. They don't regard knitting as work for women in England any longer. A woman is only considered to be doing real work when she is doing a man's job. Only those industries which are essential to the war are permitted to continue. Women are rendering more effective services in these industries than was ever thought possible before the war.

Women Do Men's Work

When women were first called out to work in England, chaotic conditions prevailed. No one knew where to place them or how to take care of them, but in the two years they have been at it, a very definite, efficient plan has been evolved through careful study and experimentation, until now a very perfect plan has been worked out. Practically the last word has been said upon the subject. Women workers are well taken care of not only at their work but in their living conditions. Women are rendering a big service, doing at least half of the manual labor in England and France.

and carrying forward plans that would result immediately in increased production of foodstuffs and the elimination of waste. It is not necessary or agricultural colleges to reorganize in order to fit their work into the new conditions and render maximum service. The type of training which our agricultural colleges were designed to give, that of fitting young men and women for useful work in the world, prepared them for ready entrance into national service and made their efforts immediately fruitful. During the last twelve months agricultural colleges have fully justified their existence. They have won a place for themselves that will not easily be contested.

Everyone at War

As long as this struggle lasts, the chief duty of our institution will be to plan its work so as to render the most effective service possible to the country. Every institution, every citizen, man, woman, and child, is a vital part of the life and death struggle in which the nations of the world are engaged and our every activity must be devoted to its victorious termination.

The past fifteen days have constituted the most critical ones in the history of this country. The German drive on the western front has been severer than most students of the situation thought possible the day before it began. The Huns have driven furze into Allied territory than was ever thought possible. They are now being held, but they are digging in and there they will remain until the United States sends at least two million men to France in addition to those now there.

Three Years More of War

The impression I got while in Washington was that the war would last at least three years longer, or until we could get enough men over there to break the western line. This is what must be done before the war can be won. The Germans must be thrashed and thrashed well, brought to their knees, before a satisfactory peace can be brought about. We are the only country capable of doing this now. The Allies have all they can do to hold the Germans in check to say nothing of breaking their hold. This is for us to do.

It is impossible for anyone to say what is the most important thing that needs to be done, because what seems most important today may not seem tomorrow in the light of the days events. Today the most important thing seems to be the transporting of troops. Yesterday it was transporting food. I was told in Washington by men recently returned from France, by the French High Commission, by Mr. Hoover and his staff, that the French people were on one-third ration and that the French army, notwithstanding the fact that it is holding two-thirds of the western line, had been reduced 16 per cent of the normal ration. There is a nation that has been fighting for four years, where every man, woman, and child, have been putting forth super-normal efforts to hold their country against the machinations of the most despicable trio who ever disgraced a civilized world: The Kaiser, Ludendorff, and von Hindenburg.

The question of women workers in France was comparatively simple, but not so in England. We are like England and must profit by her experience if we are to get the most effective service from the women of America. At least seventeen volumes have already been published, embodying the experiences of England in providing suitable working conditions and living accommodations for women workers in the different industries including agriculture.

Not a Military War

In America we are still fighting the war as we fought the Spanish-American war. We are inclined to regard it as a military war. England regarded it so at first, but France never did. France knew it to be from the first a life and death struggle in which her continued existence as a nation was at stake, a struggle in which the united and determined efforts of every individual would be necessary for a successful termination. England now recognizes the conflict for what it is and today the Allied peoples are fighting as hard behind the lines and suffering behind the lines as much as the soldiers are in the line.

Every man, woman, and child realizes the vital responsibility resting upon him individually. Every energy every activity, is turned to but one end. As stated before, every non-essential industry has been eliminated. For instance, umbrella factories are no longer manufacturing umbrellas but are now turning out aeroplane wings. Watch makers are now making magnetos, etc.

Too Much Profitteering

There is more business abroad than usual, but it is an entirely different kind of business. In America we are doing business as usual on a large scale. Individuals are still primarily engaged in making money. The first interest of every business man in Manhattan, in Kansas, of every farmer in the state, is making money. We are engaged in a war that is more destructive of materials than any conflict known in history. Men are pouring out their lifeblood by tens of thousands. Homes in every community of this state and the nation will soon be suffering personal loss as our men take their place on the battle line. Yet our first aim is still to make money and we grumble when we are asked to forego white bread.

Winning the war and making money are ideas diametrically opposed. In the huge war preparations some will unavoidably make money but it will be made out of the blood of their fellow men.

World Looks to America

Our business now must be to win this fight and we must relegate to the background personal ambitions and desires. We ought to measure our actions in terms of what we are doing towards winning the war.

We must come to this. The hope of the world lies in us. We are the only nation left which can hope to defeat the German military machine. We must sense our own personal responsibilities. We are eating too much white bread, wearing too many fine clothes, driving too luxurious automobiles. We must come to the point where we are willing to share the suffering and sacrificing of our Allies in every respect.

Patriotism Must Come First

We all want to see the fight won, but we must come to the point where we realize that to win it will require the last full measure of devotion from each and every one of us. We must learn to do as they have been compelled to do in England and France if we are to avoid the terrible fate that has overtaken those countries, and if the hope which the world places in us is not to be placed in vain.

Ravage Conquered Peoples

It is reported that in Poland over 3,000,000 people have been killed and starved to death and 650,000 others have been deported to work in German industries and on German farms. It is reported that the Germans have destroyed the titles to the land in Poland and settled their own people upon it. Likewise in Alsace-Lorraine the loyal French that remained have been deported and their titles to lands destroyed and the same turned over to Germans. To a large extent this is going on in Belgium. In Rumania people are starving because the Germans have raked the country with a fine tooth comb to secure foodstuffs for their armies. Now we have the pitiable spectacle of the Russian people being driven and mowed down by ruthless German armies who ignore them even when they have thrown down their arms and refused to fight.

Must Fight All Germany

The German people have been taught that it is biologically sound for nation to fight against nation, that the law of survival of the fittest extends to nations as well as to the animals and plant kingdoms, that the perpetration of the most dreadful crimes is right and proper if there is a military advantage in it.

German fathers, who may be kind and gentle with their own families think nothing of mutilating and murdering women and children of another nation if there is military advantage in it. The German people have been taught for the last 40 years that this is a sound principle. They have had such principles drilled into them while we Americans have been taught exactly the reverse.

That is why our task is so terrible. It is the whole German race, not just the kaiser we must defeat if the earth is to continue a suitable place for human habitation. We must steel ourselves for the task before us. We must strike to win.

One of the most important debates of the year will be held in the college auditorium Saturday, when the Aggie negative Pentangular team meets the affirmative team of the College of Emporia.

The debate, which is on the question of whether the United States should adopt a responsible cabinet system of government will start at 8 o'clock and will be followed by a reception in the domestic science building. Both the debate and the reception will be free of charge.

Won Three Straight

The Aggie squad has met with unusual success in the Pentangular series up to the present time. The affirmative team won both from Ottawa university and from Washburn. The negative team has won from Baker university and is now laying for the scalp of the Emporia talkers.

Saturday's argument is the last man's debate of the year, and if the Aggies succeed in taking the measure of Emporia, they will have won the Pentangular series for the first time. This is the first year since 1913 that the Aggies have won three consecutive contests.

Medlin Substitutes

C. U. Medlin, sophomore in industrial journalism, has been called upon, at the last minute, to take the place of C. O. Chubb, who is sick. Mr. Medlin is an experienced debater and will have no trouble in upholding his share of the debate. The other speakers for the Aggies are Samuel James and I. Richards.

"If the College of Emporia succeeds in winning from us Saturday night they will have had one of the liveliest debates of their careers," declared Don L. Burk, coach of debate yesterday.

The presiding officer of the evening will be I. Victor Iles, associate professor of history and civics. The judges of the debate will be C. F. Wagner, superintendent of the Junction City schools, C. I. Vinsol, superintendent of the Peabody schools and N. T. Veatch, superintendent of the Atchison schools.

BIG ACREAGE IN POTATOES

Professor Dickens Reports "Spud" Condition Is Favorable

A somewhat larger acreage of potatoes than usual in Kansas is reported this year by Albert Dickens, who has just returned from a tour of the large potato districts of the state.

The average acreage of the crop in Kansas is 60,000, the average yield is 85 bushels. In 1916 the average price was 90 cents, and in 1917 $1.30. Wyandotte, Shawnee, and Johnson counties have usually the greatest acreages.

The potatoes now in the ground are in good shape, Professor Dickens states. More attention than usual has been given to rotation, green manuring and other modern methods. Some growers in the Kaw valley are raising 250 acres each, patches of 100 acres are not uncommon, and there are many growers who have upwards of 20 acres in potatoes.

A conference of potato growers will be held in May in Topeka.

AGGIE WOMEN ON THE PROGRAM

Dean Van Zile Invited to be Chairman of State Club Women's Meeting

Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of the division of home economics, has been invited to conduct the Conservation Round Table at the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's clubs at Salina Wednesday, April 17.

Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science, will speak on the program, which is as follows:

Talk—"The club woman's responsibility to the war food program," by Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile.

Talk—"The use of cereals other than wheat," by Miss Mather, assistant state leader of home demonstration agents.

Talk—"Meal planning during the war time," by Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science.

SIGNED FOR Y. M. HIKE 51

Large Number of Men Going to Spring Conference

Fifty-one men so far have been listed for the local Y. M. C. A. conference hike which will be held Saturday and Sunday, April 20 and 21. Several big speakers of note in America Y. M. C. A. work have been obtained. The place where the conference will be held has not yet been selected.

The following men have signed to go: C. J. Medlin, William Giles, Raymond Pilley, Joe Thacker, Eugene Huff, P. J. Fetter, Clifford Kniesly, C. M. Barringer, Joe Price, Ivan White, Glenn Allen, Turner Barger, C. M. Tinchler, Hal Moody, Merle Lucas, W. O. McCarty, Frank Collins, K. D. Thompson, Walter Rorischer, Karl Frost, Herbert Moyer, Robert Bock, Grant Buckley, D. H. Capper, Vincent Cool, Howard Finch, Ray Feree, Harold Garver, Wallace McGee, Hilary Mather, R. S. Mather, Jessie Myers, Ulysses Shelton, Ray Watson, J. O. Brown, C. G. Kennedy, Walter Nieberger, Arthur Weber, N. N. Dunbar, Frank Martin, Vernon Crippen, W. W. Trego, R. W. McCall, Fred Hull, M. G. Carey, W. I. Turner, Clyde McPherson and Oscar Cullen.

The hikers will leave Saturday morning and camp out during the night, returning Sunday evening. The program has not yet been arranged definitely, and will be announced later.

FRATERNITY GAMES ARE ON

Astex, Betas and Sigma Nu's Won First Round of Series

Baseball has at last started with a rush. Three good games have been played on the college field by the fraternity teams.

The game between the Astex and the Acacias Tuesday resulted in a walkaway for the heavy hitting Astex squad. The final score was 14 to 3 for the Astex. The heavy hitting of the Astex and the pitching of Neal were the features of the game.

The Betas and the Pi Kappas staged a real pitcher's battle for five innings Wednesday afternoon. Otto, for the Pi Kaps, struck out the first nine men that faced him. In the fourth inning, however, the Betas got to him for three singles. These hits together with several overthrows and wild pitches, were enough to run in five scores, winning the game. Hargis, for the Betas also pitched shut-out ball, and with proper support should have scored a shut-out. He had the honor, however, of being the first pitcher of the season to pitch a no-hit game. The two runs of the Pi Kaps came on errors, and outside of these men, no one reached first.

The Sig Alpha-Sigma Nu game yesterday was the fastest and most exciting game that has been played up to date. The Sig Alphas got to Youngmeyer, the Sigma Nu hurler, for four runs in the first inning and three in the second. After this Youngmeyer settled down, and held the Sig Alphas scoreless for five innings.

The Sigma Nus came back in their half of the first, and scored two runs. In the last half of the second, the Sigma Nu heavy hitters got to "Lefty" Schmidt, and drove him from the mound, scoring four runs before Slattery came to the rescue. In the fifth inning, the Sigma Nus tied the score, and in the seventh Anderson doubled to right field into the bleachers, and Meeker followed with a double to left, scoring the winning run.

Owing to the ineligibility of Sahlburg, Sigma Nu center fielder, the game was protested at Pan Hellenic meeting last night and will be played over later in the season.

Games are scheduled for Friday and Saturday afternoons, between the teams of the different divisions. Friday the General Scienceurs will play the School of Agriculture, and Saturday the Vets will play the Engineers. Games will be called promptly at 4:30 o'clock.

DEAN VAN ZILE TO TALK

Dean of Women Will Address Big War Council

Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of the division of home economics, will speak in Lawrence Saturday, before the war council meeting which represents Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Mrs. Van Zile will go as the home economics director for Kansas in the interest of the United States Food Administration.

SOLDIERS MAY TRAIN HERE

DRAFTED MEN PROBABLY WILL BE INSTRUCTED IN MOTOR OPERATION

War Department Official Has Been Consulting With Professor Conrad—Quarters to be in Nick Gymnasium—Take Meals in Cafeteria

Between 200 and 250 drafted men probably will be in training on the campus of the college, beginning early in May, according to L. E. Conrad, professor of civil engineering. Professor Conrad received O. E. Smiley, a representative of the war department, in the absence of A. A. Potter, dean of engineering.

That the college was pleased to have the opportunity to aid in the instruction of men was made clear by Professor Conrad, who said that the decision now was up to the war department.

Government Pays Expenses

Actual expenses incident to training the men will be paid by the government. Dr. J. T. Willard, vice-president of the college, says. An attempt is being made now by a corps of college engineering faculty members to determine the cost of the courses, and to outline the work.

A representative of the war activities council was in Manhattan two months ago arranging for the work to be given the men. At that time Doctor Willard expressed a willingness to co-operate in any war movement. Then the administration of the training was handed over to the war department, and plans formerly made were discarded, until the arrival of Mr. Smiley again opened up the project.

Use College Gymnasium

The plans of housing and feeding the men, as mapped out previously by Doctor Willard and as published in The Collegian, probably will be used. The college gymnasium has been offered as a barracks, and arrangements will be made with the cafeteria to feed the soldiers. The Y. M. C. A. also offered the use of a gymnasium, but it is probable that the college gymnasium will be preferred by the war department, because of the size of the latter.

A practical course in motor instruction is what the government wants. Even foundry work may be included, although the main instruction will be along the lines of familiarizing the men with motor operation and repairing.

Three details of soldiers will be trained, according to Mr. Smiley's plan. The course will last for eight weeks, and then a second group will be assigned to work here. The third detail will have completed its work by the middle of October, it is thought.

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY NEXT WEEK

Dean Arnold of Simmons College To Talk on Food Situation

The afternoon classes will be shortened Friday, April 19, in order that a special assembly may be held at 4 o'clock. Dean Sarah Louise Arnold of Simmons college, representing the collegiate bureau of the United States food administration will speak to the student body.

It is Dean Arnold's purpose to interpret the food administration program and to present the obligations of the college students toward conservation. She is touring the middle west in the interest of this cause. In the four states, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Kansas she will only make two stops and Manhattan will be one of the places. Persons who heard Dean Arnold when she was here four years ago were impressed favorably with her pleasing personality and interesting manner of speaking.

ORGANIZE VOLUNTEER BAND

Prospective Missionaries Meet Tonight in C-56

The Student's Volunteer band of K. S. A. C. has organized and holds regular meetings in C-56. This is an organization whose members desire to make foreign missions their life work. The members are anxious to increase the band and they are holding an open meeting Friday in C-56 from 5 to 6 o'clock. Anyone interested in this work is urged to come.

BLAMES WOMEN FOR PATHS

Landscape Gardener Says Girls Are Worse Than Men "Cutters"

Women are worse than men in taking short cuts across the campus reports A. M. Doerner, instructor in landscape gardening in charge of the campus department.

"These paths are started by the short course students," said Mr. Doerner, "and it is mostly through thoughtlessness that they are kept beaten down."

"The student's pride should keep him off the grass. The campus does not belong to an individual but is the property of the state. Drilling does not hurt the grass for the cadets do not confine themselves to a certain route, but paths mark the looks of the campus," he remarked.

The fact that many of the signs erected have been torn down and wires removed indicates that some of the continued "cutting" is not entirely carelessness.

There is a state law against the mutilation of public property with an imposed fine of $10 upon conviction. While this power may not be exercised by the department the knowledge of application may not have been recognized by some.

Mr. Doerner kindly asked the co-operation of the student body in helping to preserve and beautify the campus.

BIG SISTER SUNDAY, APRIL 14

Morning Will Be Given Over to Program and Devotions

The "big sister" committees of the Y. W. C. A. will have their annual "big sister Sunday" April 14. The morning session will be held in the domestic science rest room beginning with a breakfast of fruit, sandwiches and coffee which will be served at 8:30 o'clock.

A program will be given from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. J. O. Hamilton will lead in devotions. Talks will be given by Mrs. H. W. Brubaker, the new member of the advisory board, and by Miss Mildred Inskeep, Y. W. C. A. secretary, whose subject will be "A college where big sisters really work." Miss Margaret Ludwig of the College of Emporia will sing.

At the close of the program an open meeting will be held when the "little sisters" will have an opportunity to tell what they think of their "big sisters." A special "big sister sermon" will be given by the Reverend Lewis Jacobson at the Baptist church at 11 o'clock.

All "big sisters" and "little sisters" are invited and freshman girls especially are urged to come. The advisory board and the ladies who opened their homes last year for the girls to entertain their little sisters will be guests. Miss Vera Olmstead, junior in home economics has been chosen "big sister" chairman for next year.

NO LOCALS IN PAN-HELLENIC

Astex Go Out of Fraternity Council—National Petition

A constitution limiting the membership in the men's Pan-Hellenic council to national fraternities was adopted at a meeting of the council held at the Pi Kappa Alpha house last night. Under the new laws, Astex, a local fraternity which has long been a member of the old council, is not eligible to join the new fraternity association.

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Psi, the latter a veterinary medical fraternity, petitioned for membership, but as the new constitution had not been signed, the two requests were tabled until the next meeting, which will be held April 25 at the Beta Theta Pi house.

Because all Pan-Hellenic members agreed that the approval of the Sigma Phi Epsilon at the next meeting would be little more than a formality, the Sig Eps were offered the opportunity of taking up the Astex schedule in the fraternity baseball series now being played.

Influential members of Sig Ep said last night that there was no doubt but that a team would be organized immediately.

"Shorty" Rawson Was Here

Lieut. F. R. Rawson, 14, mechanical engineering, was in Manhattan visiting friends Monday afternoon. Lieut. Rawson is a coast artilleryman. He was on his way to San Francisco.

Miss Imogene Chase, junior in general science, is recovering from a severe case of mumps.

MAY DAY IS TO BE MAY 11

CANDIDATES FOR MAY QUEEN WILL BE NAMED BY SENIORS TUESDAY

Three Attendants to the Ender Will Be Chosen From Lists From Other Classes—Troop Review Will Give Fete a Military Aspect

May day for 1918 has been officially set as May 11. Now that the day has been named all minds turn toward the one big question, the election of the K. S. A. C. May Queen.

Although the Queen rules for but a day over the Royal Aggie Province her selection from among the senior co-eds arouses the excitement and interest of the entire Aggie populace. The candidates for the Queenship are pointed out for days and there is not one subject who does not anxiously await the crowning.

The senior class will meet Tuesday night, April 16 to nominate the four candidates for Queen from that class. The freshman, sophomore, and junior class each nominate two candidates for attendants to the May Queen.

These class nominations must be made Tuesday night at least, either at regular of special class meetings. The tickets for the May Fete will be placed on sale Friday, April 19. On these tickets, which are in the form of tags, will be placed the names of the four candidates for Queen and the six nominees for Queen's attendants, two each of the three lower classes. Each person will then vote for four of the names presented.

On Wednesday, April 24 all votes will be cast and the election of the Queen and her favorite attendants announced.

The May Day procession will be more of a feature this year than ever before. It will be larger than formerly and planned differently. This year's Queen has been granted the privilege of choosing five attendants from the co-eds at large, in addition to the three selected by the classes. Then there will be about 60 small fairies, elfs, and flower children. The plan of the fete is that the Queen will review her troops to determine physical fitness.

The dancers are to come from adjacent provinces. One hundred girls will have parts in the dances. About 60 girls in gymnasium costumes will give exhibition marching for the Queen and her people. The entire program, including the order of the carnival and the names of the various dances and exercises will be announced later.

May Fete committees which have been chosen are: Hazel Watson and Thomas Garst, ticket sale; Jessie Hilber and Walter Nelbarger, publicity; Anne Lorimer and Joe Price decoration; Ivan White, financial management.

The ticket sale will be carried on through the various college organizations.

TRACK MEET AT COLUMBIA

Valley Event Has Been Accepted by The Tigers

Found at last—The place of the annual Missouri Valley track meet has finally been located at Columbia, Mo. The athletic authorities of Missouri university telegraphed in answer to a letter from President J. D. H. that the meet could be held on their field, and that they would do the best they could to make the meet a financial success.

At the present time, it looks as if the battle would be between Missouri and Ames as far as the dope can be figured. However, with Welty and several other of the K. U. stars enlisted, the Aggies have a good chance to place third and score a victory over their old rivals, the Jayhawks.

NEW PATH TO "LOVER'S LANE"

Under Walk Constructed Near College Conservatory

A new cinder walk has been constructed south of the conservatory of the college greenhouses. This replaces an old path made by those who desired a short cut to "Lover's Lane." The improvement not only removes an unsightly path but also lends an added attraction to the lane which often is frequented in the spring.

STUDENTS IN CHURCH PLAY

"Larola" Will Be Given at Congregational Church Sunday

Students will take part in the services at the Congregational church next Sunday night which will be out of the ordinary in that the message for the evening will be given in a short one act play, presented by some of the members of the "Goodfellowship" Christian Endeavor Society. The play "Larola" is a new one and is based upon actual facts. It is a drama of Hindu life, and reveals the enslaving power of the 'caste' system in India, and the way in which Christianity breaks its bonds.

Larola, the central figure in the play, years before the time of the drama, had become a widow because her husband broke caste by becoming a Christian. Lela, a young Brahman woman faces the same fate. Her story and Larola's and that of a rather mysterious Hindu professor from Calcutta, are woven together in a most interesting and surprising way. Parts in the play will be taken by Miss Helen Mitchell, Miss Ursula Senn, Miss Osceola Burr, Miss Josephine Shoemaker, Howard Finch, John Painter and the Rev. Darley Downs.

GIRL ATHLETES IN CONTEST

Big Co-ed Carnival Next Week To Show Development of Physical Training

At last every one at K. S. A. C. is going to have a chance to know just how much the department of physical training is doing for Aggie co-eds.

A big girls athletic carnival will be held Saturday evening, April 20, at 7 o'clock between the freshman and sophomore girls. The contest will be held in the men's gymnasium, and no admission fee will be charged.

The program will be one of wide scope. The numbers in which competition will take place are military drill, floor work and apparatus work. After the contest is over, exhibitions of folk and esthetic dancing will be given.

Miss Ethel Loring and Miss Edith Bond of physical training department are working hard to make the carnival a big success. They are giving the carnival so that the college public can see the great development of physical training for women.

MISS BACKMAN IN RECITAL

Graduating Exercises to Be Held Monday Evening

Miss Inez Backman will give her graduating recital Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Backman is the talented pupil of Miss Patricia Abernathy, instructor in music. She will be assisted by Miss Bess Curry, soprano.

This is the second of the five recitals to be given this spring by the pupils of Miss Abernathy.

The following program will be rendered:

Sonata Op. 7.....	Grieg
Allegro Moderato.....
Northern Lights.....	Torjussen
Miss Backman.....
Aria—One Fine Day, from Madame Butterfly.....	Puccini
Miss Curry.....
Gavotte Moderne.....	Liebling
Albumblatt.....
Impromptu Op. 90.....	Schubert
Miss Backman.....
My Star.....	Rogers
Lullaby.....	Scott
Mourning, My Darling.....	Lester
A Burst of Melody.....	Seller
Miss Curry.....
Mrs. Helen Bennett Hall, accompanist.....

PLAN A WEB-EURO HIKE

April 16 Set as Date For Annual Spring Affair

The spring hike given each year by the Webster and Eurodelphian literary societies will be held this year on Friday, April 16. Committees have been appointed for refreshments and program, and plans are being made for a big affair.

TAKE TWO INTO SORORITY

Theta Sigma Phi Initiation Will Be Held Monday Afternoon

Theta Sigma Phi will hold initiation services Monday at 5 o'clock for Mrs. Laura D. Moore, junior in industrial journalism, Miss Janette Long, secretary to Dean Johnson. A short business meeting will follow initiation.

DEAN POTTER IN WAR WORK

ENGINEERING HEAD CALLED TO WASHINGTON FOR CONFERENCE THIS WEEK

Brief Telegram From the Dean States That New Duties Will Not Entirely Sever Him From the College—Probably Means More Work For Professor Conrad

Another Aggie faculty member was drafted into war work this week when A. A. Potter, dean of the division of engineering, agreed to devote the major portion of his time to government undertakings.

With President Jardine, Acting President Willard and Dean Potter out of town yesterday, no confirmation could be made of the rumor that Dean Potter was to leave his college work for the duration of the war. Then Mrs. Potter received a telegram from the dean stating that the new undertakings would not take all of the engineering head's time.

Just what is the nature of the work no one knows. Mrs. Potter said she thought that the problems which which Dean Potter would concern himself would deal with engineering education, but said that she did not know for sure, as Dean Potter himself did not know when he left for Washington. A short telegram told the dean that he was needed in the national capital.

To L. E. Conrad, professor of civil engineering, probably will fall many of the administrative duties in the division of engineering. Professor Conrad is acting dean of the division when Dean Potter is out of town.

Dean Potter will return to Manhattan Saturday, when full details of his new work will be known, Mrs. Potter said last night.

FARMERS AFTER PRAIRIE DOGS

Write in to College For Poison And Information

The department of zoology has sent out more prairie dog poison and information concerning the eradication of this pest in the season just closing than in any other season for the last seven or eight years. In March alone more than $1,000 worth of poison and more than 300 letters of information were sent out by this department. The calls have come mostly from western Kansas but also from the adjoining states and Texas.

Last fall this department was called upon for advice and poison to be used in the extermination of pocket gophers to a greater extent than ever before and this spring the demand continues. This indicates that interest in conserving farm products and preventing waste is increasing. In the opinion of Dr. R. K. Nabours, professor of zoology.

NO RED CROSS THIS WEEK

Work Room Will Be Closed Until Monday Afternoon

All Red Cross classes have been postponed for the rest of the week because of the shortage of gauze for the dressings.

The downtown headquarters has not been able to secure the material and work there on the dressings has been discontinued also. The Monday afternoon Red Cross college division will meet as usual, however as a shipment has been assured by that time.

FORMER DEAN IS AN AUTHOR

E. B. McCormick Writes on Care of Implements

E. B. McCormick, formerly dean of the division of engineering, is one of the authors of a series of farmers bulletins published by the rural engineering section of the United States department of agriculture on "The Care and Repair of Farm Implements." Mr. McCormick is in charge of the rural engineering in the department at Washington.

To Wichita to a Concert

Miss Jane Cape, of the division of home economics, left Thursday for Wichita where she will attend the concert given by Mme. Galli-Curci.

Miss Frances Brown of the extension division went to Marysville Wednesday to meet with an advisory board and confer with the emergency home demonstration agent at Marysville.

FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1918

ANOTHER TO UNCLE SAM

Added recognition to the faculty of the college comes in the form of a request by the government for the services of Dean A. A. Potter. President Waters, then President Jardine were called to the colors.
Dean Potter, an able executive, a quick thinker and a man with a strong, though not domineering personality, makes a splendid addition to K. S. A. C.'s war offering.

WE NEED MORE OF THIS

Probably the best piece of college publicity work is that recently promoted by N. A. Crawford, professor of industrial journalism. High school newspapers and magazines are to be judged by the journalism department.
At first thought, this work may not seem so important. But it is. Nearly every high school has a publication of some kind now. If these newspapers begin to mention K. S. A. C.—as they will, with their interest centered on a race for journalism supremacy—the Aggie spirit will creep into the high schools, just where it is most needed.

Ten years ago the high school paper was little known in Kansas. But now the papers must be reckoned with in the creation of sentiment, and Professor Crawford has struck at the heart of things in his move to interest high school editors in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Other departments might well follow the example that has been set.

THE HOLE IN THE WALL

A break near Fourteenth street in the stone wall that guards the college campus offers ingress and egress to several students, both masculine and feminine. From that hole they streak across the campus, ignoring the walks frequented by the majority of the students.
It is just a little thing—but little things count.

K. S. A. C. ALUMNI TO MEET

Annual Reunion Will Be Held in K. C. Friday Night.
Kansas City, April 11.—The thirtieth annual reunion of students, former students and alumni of the Kansas State Agricultural College at Manhattan will be at 8 o'clock Friday night in the mezzanine parlors at the Hotel Baltimore. No dinner has been arranged. J. W. Jardine, president of the college, and Dr. H. J. Waters, formerly president, will speak.

"NOT AFTER AN EASY JOB"

Doctor Jardine Tells Alumni At Washington of His Plans

Kansas State Agricultural college people in Washington, D. C., gave a luncheon March 22 at the Cosmos club in honor of Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the college.

After the luncheon President Jardine addressed the gathering. After paying President Waters an appropriate tribute for recognizing and extending the work of the college, he said:

"I don't want an easy job. We must all do our utmost to serve our country, and to train the young people of the state for service. There is only one task before every American—to help win the war. Since war was declared the agricultural colleges have made large places for them selves in the great program of the nation. We must produce larger crops and we must provide more men highly trained in engineering. Many of our students and faculty are now in the trenches at the front, in all the training camps, in the aviation work, and in all other lines of government service."

He then told of the work the college was doing for the state through the state council of defense, the food administration, the boys' work, reserve, and the seed testing activities, and pledged his best efforts to give his time and talents to carry on the work of which the alumni are so justly proud.

Present at the meeting, in addition to Doctor Jardine, were Messrs. E. L. Mariett, chairman federal horticultural board; David Fairchild, agriculturalist, United States department of agriculture; Harry V. Harlan, agronomist, United States department of agriculture; Bailey, Mo.; M. A. Carleton, cerealist, United States department of agriculture; J. H. Orinwell, assistant superintendent of Arlington farm; C. P. Hartley, in charge of corn investigations, United States department of agriculture; C. B. Thummel, lieutenant colonel, ordnance department, U. S. A.; Roy A. Hill, captain Forty-sixth infantry; Earl Wheeler, captain general engineers' depot; Roy A. Seaton, captain ordnance department, U. S. A.; J. L. Palham, horticultural superintendent, Arlington Farm; D. W. Working, agriculturalist, states relations service; Duncan Stuart, dairy division, United States department of agriculture; W. T. Swingle, in charge of crop physiology and breeding, department of agriculture; Harlan D. Smith, assistant chief, office of information, department of agriculture; Walter V. Buck, captain, Twenty-third engineers, U. S. A.; A. R. Losh, assistant district engineer, department of agriculture; Frank D. McClure, bureau of markets, department of agriculture; W. B. Wood, entomological assistant, department of agriculture; A. B. Gahan, entomological assistant, department of agriculture; T. W. Bigger, private signal corps; J. W. Seaton, division of education, committee on public information.

SCHOOL OF AG
L. D. Watts of Fort Scott, a former student in the school of agriculture is now in partnership with his father in the horse and mule market. Mr. Watts and his father are among the prominent dealers in the southeastern part of the state.

Palmer Larkin of Penrose, Penn., a first year student in the school of agriculture, who enlisted in the Coast Artillery last fall, has been transferred to the Heavy Artillery and is now stationed at Fort Crockett, Galveston, Texas.

J. R. Smithelsler, second year school of agriculture, has gone to his home in Wichita to have his eyes treated.

Edward H. Cass, former school of agriculture student, is now in the 38th Balloon company, Camp Wise, San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Cass enlisted December, 12.

Raymond Oehle, senior in the school of agriculture, has resumed his school work. Mr. Oehle has been confined to his room for the last two weeks with the mumps.

Ben Thompson, third year student in the school of agriculture, has returned to school. Mr. Thompson has been ill with the mumps for the last two weeks.

Said the bald head man to the waitress bold
"Say waitress dear, my cocoon's cold."
Said she to him, "I can't help that,
If the blame thing's cold put on your hot hat."

SEARSON IN WASHINGTON WORK
Aggie Professor Has Important Place in Publicity Work

J. W. Searson, professor of English, who is on leave of absence to do graduate work in Columbia university, has gone to Washington, D. C., to do publicity work for the education division, committee on public information. This is war work and in recognition of this fact, the university has given him credit for his year's work.

Professor Searson has for years been a leader in publicity work. His handling of this phase of the activities of the National Education association gave him nationwide prominence.

GIVEN THREE BIG PROBLEMS

Professor Melchers Put to Work By Plant Pathologists

L. E. Melchers, acting head of the department of botany, was placed at the head of three different plant disease projects at the recent meeting of state plant pathologists at Lincoln, Neb.

Professor Melchers has been made leader in a project on corn smut disease. The other states represented at the meeting will co-operate with him in the work and will be given directions for method of procedure in working out the problem. He has also been placed at the head of a movement directed against a new disease known as the black chaff and stem diseases of wheat, which he first reported in America in 1914. The third problem assigned to him is in regard to certain potato diseases.

While in attendance at the meeting, Professor Melchers made arrangements in which the plant disease survey of this state is to be carried out more extensively than ever before. The government will probably send a man here to co-operate with him. This investigator will be in the field practically the entire growing season reporting on the prevalence of plant diseases. It is also possible that an extension man on truck crop diseases will be appointed by the government. This man will spend most of his time in the sweet and Irish potato districts and the growing sections of melon districts helping the growers with some of the troublesome problems.

The organization which the plant pathologists have entered into is proving to be one of the most powerful of its kind in the field. Through their efforts they have brought about measures which have raised the embargo on fungicides, insecticides and spray machinery, which were being held up so they could not reach their destination. They have also succeeded in getting the manufacturers to submit fair prices on all fungicides and insecticides and will see that no exorbitant prices are charged.

BURNING STRAW AIDS KAISER

Farmers Urged to Feed It and Release Grain

Every time a farmer burns a straw stack he is giving aid to the kaiser! By feeding straw and other rough feeds together with small amounts of cottonseed meal or cake, grain may be released, points out Edward C. Johnson, dean of the division of extension in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Many straw stacks have been burned in the last few weeks. In traveling 14 miles one man saw 14 burning stacks in a certain Kansas county. In Iowa and other corn belt states cattlemen are paying as high as $7 a ton for straw.

Farmers who have been using straw, silage, corn fodder, and a small amount of alfalfa hay with a little cottonseed meal or cake or some soft corn say that this combination makes good inexpensive feed. The straw should at least be spread out to enrich the soil.

OUR ALLIES' EXPECTATIONS

By Dr. Lyman F. Powell President of Hobart College

Reciprocity with the colleges of Great Britain and France for the purpose of educating the people of America and Europe to a better understanding of war and after-the-war problems is recommended by Dr. Lyman F. Powell, President of Hobart college. Dr. Powell, who recently returned from an important war mission, during which he made a survey of the educational situation in England and France, advocates sending to Europe a delegation of prominent Americans representing the leading national educational associations, the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations, the League to Enforce Peace, and other organizations interested in world recognition, to confer with the leading educators of England and France.

This war, he says, has brought about a recasting of educational standards. "There is emerging a new appreciation of the cultural values of England and France which has long been overshadowed by the bombastic and pretentious culture of the foe. Nowhere can education after the war be what it was before. To beat Germany is merely our first task. We have set out teeth to perform that task and we are going to do it standing shoulder to shoulder with our allies.

"We shall not disappoint our noble friends across the sea. Our college boys will do their duty. They will give the last full measure of devotion. Harvard and Yale, Chicago and Oberlin, California and Leland Stanford will stand cheek by jowl with Oxford and Cambridge, London and Paris, Dijon and Bordeaux, in presenting an officially championed at the outbreak of the war not merely by the government but by the university professors, scientific men, historians and publicists who declared that civilization depends on 'the victory of German militarism' and that Kultur must rear its domes over mountains of corpses oceans of tears, and death-rattle of the conquered.

"All the way through these coming years of the rebuilding of the world, our colleges must see straight. They must not forget that MacDiavelli was a mere tyro by the side of the unspeakable Prussian. They must not be fooled into the belief that Pan-Germanism has been developed by our enemy for mere war-consumption. They must think before and after. They must remember that scarcely was the Kaiser seated on the throne before the abominable propaganda began to give undue prominence to German language and German influence in the schools and colleges of the whole world. They must never for a moment forget that all this vicious effort to poison the springs of the world's highest ideals has had the financial backing of the German government itself.

"Our colleges will not be deceived by any plea to let bygones be bygones. They will have before them ever in cold type the deliberate and slowly developed purpose of the enemy to create a German nation in our nation recognized as recently as 1913 in the Delbrück law which claimed for the Kaiser the loyalty of even naturalized Germans in our country, and also clearly stated February 13, 1915, in the Das Grossere Deutschland, which openly spoke of a 'deutscher Tag in the American federal capital.'

"But the spell at last is broken by the Potsdam gang. We shall not all agree in making up anew our estimate of Germany. Perhaps few of us will go so far as the writer in the Fortnightly Review, who says we are indebted to literary Germany for 'little beyond the perversion of what was the intensely human genius of Carlyle into a manner of fascinating monstrosity.' We shall all, however, put the knife in deep. Nowhere more surely than in our colleges is it evident in the light of our new understanding of the value of French and Spanish that the German language has been overestimated even for the commercial purposes. Nowhere more definitely than in our colleges will men turn back again to the judgment of William James, trained in French thinking, who proclaimed nearly a generation ago that German philosophy was not all the Germans claimed for it.

"England will teach us her best and France the day is not far distant when young America will learn how to combine precision with the power to generalize. Together with our Allies, we shall plan out wisely the new education essential to any league to preserve peace and shall realize increasingly the truth in Mr. H. G. Wells' words that 'Now that the apostolic succession of the old pedagogy is broken, and the entire system discredited, it seems incredible that it can ever again be reconstituted in its old seats upon the old lines.'

PROMINENT MEN ON PROGRAM

Charles Dillon Former Aggie Professor is on the List

What promises to be an exceptionally interesting program of addresses has been arranged by the department of industrial journalism and printing for the month of April. The speakers include men in the fields of daily newspaper work, agricultural journalism, and magazine and book publishing.

On April 15, Mr. Smith of the Kansas City Post will be here. Mr. Smith has been city editor of the Kansas City Post since he was 23 years old. At that time he was probably the youngest city editor in any large city in the country.

Charles Dillon of Topeka, formerly head of the department of industrial journalism, will be here Thursday, April 18. Mr. Dillon is now managing editor of the Capper farm publications. He will talk to each of the journalism class separately on the subject of farm papers, discussing the topic both from the editorial and from the advertising viewpoint.

William Webster Ellsworth, president of the Century company, New York, will speak to the journalism students Monday, April 22. The subject of the address will be "The Monthly Magazines."

He will also speak at assembly Monday morning on "Forty Years of Publishing." Mr. Ellsworth has been with the Century company for almost 40 years and was acquainted with many well known American writers of the late nineteenth century, such as Mark Twain, Bret Harte, and Frank R. Stockton.

Frank B. White, managing director of the Agricultural Publishers' association, Chicago, will speak to the students April 29 on "Selling to the Farmer." He will speak in assembly on "Community Building" and will illustrate this lecture with charts.

The Agricultural Publishers' association comprises more than 100 of the best farm papers of the country. Mr. White is stated to be an unusually effective speaker.

J. D. Rickman, assistant state printer, who was to have lectured here last Monday, will be here May 6 and give an illustrated lecture on "The Making of a Book." Illness prevented Mr. Rickman's coming here Monday.

These journalism lectures, except the class talks by Mr. Dillon, will all be held at 4 o'clock in room 55 of Kedzie hall. All are open to anyone interested in them.

BALL GAME AT ARMY CITY.

General Wood and Staff to Attend—Bands Will Play.

It is reported from Army City this morning that Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood will return to Camp Funston tomorrow afternoon in time for he and his staff to attend the ball game at Army City with the St. Louis team. The game will be called at 4 o'clock and no retreat will be sounded, so the soldiers will not have to leave before the completion of the playing. The 341st and 342nd regimental bands will play.

Comiskey has agreed to bring the same lineup that plays in the big games.

Miss Grace A. Palmer, instructor in clothing in the division of home economics, who was called to her home in Newark, N. J., by the death of her father, is expected back the first of next week.

The Boys "Over Here"

If our boys "over there" are going to win, the boys "over here" in the business army must make it possible.

They must produce more and save more.

When you buy clothes, the way to save the most in money, materials and labor is to buy good ones; the kind that last longer.

Our mission is to see that you get such clothes. That's why we have Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes here. They save for you; they're guaranteed to satisfy you in wear, style and fit.

SPECIAL

Prof. J. E. Kammerer has requested that all seniors attend the class meeting in the domestic science hall this evening. Details of commencement week will be taken up, and Professor Kammerer will make announcements which all seniors who are candidates for degrees should hear.

Who will be May Queen? That is the question which concerns a large majority of the feminine population of K. S. A. C. just now.

The election of the queen of the annual May Fete promises to be an exciting event in school life during the next week. The nominations for the honor will be made tonight in a meeting of the senior class. Four candidates will be named from the senior class, and attendants, from the other three classes. The election will be held a week from Wednesday, April 24, when the name of the Queen and her attendants will be announced.

Ticket Sale Friday

The sale of tickets, according to Miss Hazel Watson of the ticket committee, will begin Friday. To each ticket will be attached a ballot which will be torn off and preserved for the election. The committee has chosen 15 girls, prominent in college affairs, for competition in the ticket selling, one student in each sorority, fraternity and literary society will handle the work in his respective organizations. The tickets will be given out Friday morning at 7 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. headquarters in the domestic science building.

The following girls were chosen for competition in the ticket selling:

Expect a Large Crowd

The May Day procession this year will be widely advertised in Manhattan and surrounding towns, especially at Camp Funston, and those in charge expect to have one of the largest crowds in May Day history of the college.

The work on the various features of the fete is already in progress. Many new features will be added, and the fete will be larger than ever before. The military aspect will not be neglected, and it is estimated that several hundred girls will take part.

PLAN FETE TICKET SALE

Twenty-five Picked Girls Will Compete For Prizes

A real contest has just been announced by the Y. M. C. A. As May Day is approaching the proper guess is that it has to do with the selling of festival tickets.

Twenty-five college girls are to take part in the contest which will commence Friday morning, April 19 and last until 5 o'clock, Monday, April 23. Votes for the election of the Queen will be cast the next day. Registration of girls who wish to enter the ticket selling race will be held in the Y. W. C. A. office, on Thursday of this week. After 25 have been enrolled other applicants will be turned aside as the contestants have been limited to the above number.

Girls who register to sell tickets are required to do all the work themselves and not have helpers. For those who make the biggest number of sales during the ten days first and second prizes have been provided averaging $5 and $3 each, respectively. In addition to the twenty-five contestants there will be one girl chosen from each sorority and one from each society. These workers will not compete unless registered.

FRATERNITIES HAVE GARDENS

Greeks Plant Radishes and Lettuce in Back Yards

That the fraternity element of K. S. A. C. is patriotic is evidenced by the keen interest the Greek letter organizations are manifesting in spring gardens this year.

Only a few of the fraternities have failed to prepare space ground in their back yards to plant it in vegetables. The few which did not were prevented from doing so because of lack of space.

Almost every evening immediately following the supper hour, two or more students—usually freshmen—can be seen working in the various "frat" gardens. They seem to relish it.

"It's great stuff!" according to some. Lettuce, radishes and onions are the most popular vegetables planted, principally because they grow quickly and will be ready for early consumption. The Betas are a little more venturesome, going so far as to plant strawberries and potatoes. They reaped a harvest last fall of more than 15 bushels of potatoes.

IN THIS WAR TO KILL HUNS

There Should Be No Deviation From War Object, Burr Says

The immediate object of the allied armies is to kill one million more Germans than the Germans can kill of the allied soldiers, according to Walter Burr, rural service director in the extension division of the Kansas State Agricultural college, who addressed students and faculty yesterday morning on "Fritz in Sammie's Clothing."

"It is a sordid thing to say since the whole nation is concerned in this war, that it is our business to help in the killing," said Mr. Burr, "but it is our business. Anything that seeks to draw our attention away from that business plays directly into the hands of the Kaiser, weakens our own hands, and prolongs the war."

"Agitators who try to draw the attention of the people away from the war, and those who appeal to individual and class interests rather than to national loyalty were pointed out as greater enemies to this country than the persons standing avowedly for Germany because they are more difficult to apprehend."

"If we lose the war it will be due to the selfishness of the Americans at home," said Mr. Burr. "We will never win if we go into it to see how we or our class can use it to further our own interests."

Mr. Burr pointed out that we can not expect the result of the German propaganda to be different in America than it was in Russia. At the beginning of the war the Russian army was the army that made the gains. The Russian army did not go to pieces until hunger and lack of clothing and arms drove the soldiers to it. Yet now in spite of the critical situation, organized labor and anti-labor associations are each preaching loyalty to class interests and individual interests and neither to the interests of their country.

STILL NO RED CROSS GAUZE

Mrs. R. G. Taylor, in Charge, Hopes For Material This Week

The Red Cross work room in the domestic science building is still closed as the shipment of gauze for the dressings has not yet reached the downtown headquarters.

The work room will remain closed during the first part of the week at least, according to Mrs. R. G. Taylor who is in charge. If these materials do not arrive soon arrangements will be made to carry on other Red Cross work in the college work room.

Y. M. PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR

New Students Must Be Entertained, Homer Cross Says

The Y. M. C. A. program for the next year, and a general Christian program for the college man, were discussed at the Thursday evening meeting at the Y. M. C. A. by Homer Cross, local president. He pointed out the need of providing the new students with every available social opportunity during the first few months of the school term and also emphasized the importance of a Christian study program which will be undertaken next year. The need of the students to realize the gravity of the present time, and the obligation to consider things seriously in the light of the war, was also stressed. He urged by the speaker.

DEBATE SERIES TO AGGESS

COLLEGE OF EMPORIA WAS DOWN-ED IN LAST CONTEST OF THE YEAR

Trio of Aggie Talkers Convinced Judges That Cabinet System of Government Would Be A Failure—First Pentagonal Even Won by Aggie

	W. L. Pct.
K. S. A. C.	4 0 1.000
Baker	2 2 .500
Washburn	2 2 .500
Emporia	0 4 .000

Aggie debaters took first place among the five institutions competing—Ottawa University, Washburn college, Baker university, College of Emporia and K. S. A. C.—by winning the last debate of the Pentagonal series from the College of Emporia in the auditorium Saturday night.

The question for the Pentagonal series was whether the United States should establish a responsible cabinet system of government—constitutionalism waived. C. J. Medlin, Samuel James, and I. Richards argued for the Aggies, and were opposed by Walter Clark, Donald White and H. G. Hilscher from Emporia, who upheld the cabinet system.

The debate was presided over by I. V. Iles, associate professor of history and civics, and was judged by C. F. Wagner, superintendent of the Junction City schools, C. I. Vincohaler, superintendent of the Peabody schools, and N. T. Veatch, superintendent of the Atchison schools.

This is the first time that the college has won the Pentagonal series, and the first time in four years that it has won four consecutive debates.

The argument was followed by a reception in the Domestic Science building. The last debate of the season is a women's contest with Salina Wesleyan university. It will be held in the college auditorium April 27.

AHEAD IN COLLEGIAN RACE

Walter Nelbarger Highest Ranking Reporter on Paper

Walter Nelbarger, freshman in industrial journalism, still leads the second semester Collegian copy contest. Mr. Nelbarger has 533.5 column inches to his credit. Miss Charlotte Russell, sophomore in industrial journalism, is second in the contest with 224 column inches and Miss Velma Carson, junior in industrial journalism, follows closely with 218 inches. The next five in the contest are Miss Sara Chase, 184 inches; Miss Gertrude Norman, 174 inches; Mrs. Laura D. Moore, 165.5 inches; C. J. Medlin, 156 inches; and Miss Ruth Henderson, 160 inches.

Bruce B. Brewer, junior in industrial journalism, has the largest number of column inches—764—to his credit, but being editor of The Collegian puts him out of the running. Henry T. Enns would rank third with 405 inches, but cannot compete, being sports editor of The Collegian.

Miss Estel Wollman, editor of the society column, loses her rightful place as fourth in rank by virtue of being a member of The Collegian staff.

Miss Nadia Dunn, junior in industrial journalism, made the biggest gain this week, having 133 inches against 87.5 inches last week. A. C. Hancock, senior in animal husbandry also made the big gain of 42 inches to be added to his former 87 inches.

FOUR NEW Y. W. ADVISORS

Board Is Chosen For Next Year—Eight Remain on Job

Members of the new advisory board of the Y. W. C. A. are Miss Grace Derby, Mrs. Alice Skinner, Mrs. H. W. Brubaker, Mrs. Emil Pfetzer, Mrs. W. W. Ramey, Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile, Mrs. L. E. Melchers, Miss Josephine Harper, Miss Jessie McD. Mahon, Mrs. J. R. Cortelyou, Mrs. C. E. Paine and Mrs. W. M. Jarman. The members of the board are representative women from the faculty, wives of faculty members and townswomen. They are elected for a term of three years, making four new members each year. The new members this year are Mrs. L. E. Melchers, Mrs. C. E. Paine, Mrs. J. R. Cortelyou, and Miss Alice Skinner.

FRITZ IRWIN IS OVERSEAS

Former Aggie Entered Signal Corps a Year Ago

Fred Irwin, of Manhattan, a freshman in engineering last year is now in France. He enlisted last April in the signal corps and since then has been stationed at several points in this country. For a few months previous to sailing, he was at Little Silver, N. J.

George H. Pratt, former student is now in France. Until last month he was stationed at Pensacola, Fla.

HELPS GARDENERS FIGHT PESTS

Circular on Control of Garden Insects and Diseases Is Issued

A circular on the control of garden insects and plant diseases has just been issued by the department of entomology and botany and is expected to prove valuable to gardeners. A bulletin issued by the department of entomology on the spraying of fruit trees gives a spray schedule for the various kinds of fruit. Copies of these bulletins may be obtained on application to the Kansas Agricultural Experimental station.

2,000 THRIFT STAMPS SOLD

Progress Is Made in Drive, The Committee Reports

More than 2,000 thrift stamps have been sold on the campus and several hundred of the War-Savings stamps. Steady progress in extension of the idea of saving for the war has been made without any spectacular drive.

As the end of the first month of the work approaches the committee is very anxious that the matter be speeded up. The reports of the various divisional societies which will be published shortly will show the number of members and the stamp purchases of each. Every student should do his individual bit to enable his division to make a creditable showing.

It is particularly fitting that we should push this work so well started to a successful conclusion during these days when the country at large is responding so loyally to the call of the Third Liberty Loan. Buying stamps may not seem so brilliant or so impressive as buying Liberty Bonds but it accomplishes just the same results for our fighting forces and in addition enables thousands who could not buy the larger bonds to play their part.

What we have done so far has been characterized by P. W. Goebble, state director, as a "good start." The campaign has been under way somewhat longer in the public schools of the state, but some of the results achieved among the youngsters may well make us look to our laurels.

Several of the towns report their war savings societies 100 per cent strong in membership. Superintendent Vinsonhaler of Peabody reports that among the 400 pupils and 16 teachers of the grade and high schools of that town more than $7,000 worth of thrift and war saving stamps and Liberty Bonds have been sold. Superintendent Veatch of Atchison reports that among 2100 pupils and 70 teachers of the Atchison schools between $25,000 and $30,000 has been raised in similar fashion.

The secretaries of the various societies are now reporting to the state director the numbers enrolled and the war savings service buttons are being distributed among the members.

PICK BEST GIRL BASKETEERS

All-Star Selections From Classes Announced Last Night

The girls' basketball teams went on a hike to Wildcat yesterday evening. They were gone from 6 to 8 o'clock. The girls took their "cats" with them and had a wieners roast. Baseball was a feature of the evening's entertainment.

At this hike the names of the girls making the varsity basketball team were announced. They are Miss Gladys Spring, Miss Lucille Harbaugh and Miss Edna Chapin, forwards; Miss Ruth Thomas, Miss Mabel Evans and Miss Clementine Paddelford, guards; Miss Marian Dukes, Miss Louise Cox and Miss Edna Willis, centers.

Miss Lucille Harbaugh, basketball manager for the Girls' Athletic association, planned the hike.

Mr. Salmon to Marysville

S. C. Salmon, associate professor of farm crops, went to Marysville to give a talk before the meeting of the farm bureau on "Growing Corn."

SHAKE-UP IN CADET CORPS

BATTALIONS REDUCED TO THREE COMPANIES EACH BY CAPTAIN O'NEILL

Capt. Ivor Mall, who is to go to Naval Officers' Training Camp Soon Promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel—Few Other Changes in Officers

A reorganization of the reserve officers' training corps was effected Monday morning by Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, U. S. A. commandant. The regiment was organized into two battalions of three companies each.

The cause Captain O'Neill gave for this re-organization was that many of the cadets dropped out of college at the end of the special semester, and the companies were not up to their usual strength. Companies A and E were united to form the present company A. Companies G and H were combined to form the present company F, and company F was changed to company E.

Promotion For Captain Mall

Capt. Ivor Mall, who has been the commanding officer of Company A this year, was promoted to be lieutenant-colonel, an office which has remained vacant since two years ago when Floyd Pickersell, now a second lieutenant in aviation, held the position. With this exception the staff officers remained practically the same as they were before the shake-up.

Col. Fred Carp, who has been absent from college much of the present semester, fills his former position of commander of the regiment.

Following is a list of the officers: Field and Staff—Col. Fred Carp commanding; Lieut. Col. I. O. Mall; Capt. E. G. Manzer, regimental adjutant; Capt. W. H. Hiltz, supply officer; Capt. H. W. McClelland, range officer; First Lieut. C. C. Key, assistant range officer.

First Battalion

Major Earl Taylor, commanding; First Lieut. H. Fairman, adjutant. Company A—C. M. Barringer, commanding; First Lieut. Homer Cross; Second Lieut. W. A. Giles.

Company B—Capt. J. E. Williamson, commanding; First Lieut. Fred Griffith; Second Lieut. A. R. Sparks. Company C—Capt. M. W. Converse, commanding; First Lieut. J. C. Gull-edge; Second Lieut. C. E. Freeto.

Second Battalion

Major O. T. Bonnett, commanding; First Lieut. B. B. Brewer, adjutant. Company D—Capt. H. C. Colglazier, commanding; First Lieut. R. D. McGregor; Second Lieut. W. D. Denholm.

Company E—Capt. B. F. Barnes, commanding; First Lieut. J. F. Eggerman; Second Lieut. G. A. Kauffman.

Company F—Capt. A. M. Harvey, commanding; First Lieut. C. W. Westwood; Second Lieut. J. F. Maas.

VET HITTING WON THE GAME

Medics Scored 17 Runs, 14 of Them in One Inning

The Vets lead off in the intramural series last Saturday by giving the Engineers a 17 to 1 walloping on college field.

The first inning proved the fatal one for the men from Dean Potter's division. The Vets fell upon Frankenhoff's curves and before the Engineers could halt the track meet, 14 Vets had crossed the plate. This was enough to win almost any game, but the Engineers came right back and held the Vets to two runs in the next four innings, and scored one themselves.

Mall, who took Frankenhoff's place in the box for the Engineers, pitched well. The heavy hitting of all the Vets, and Griffith's pitching, were the features of the game.

In Friday's contest the General Science team got to the School of Agriculture pitcher and in five innings managed to pound out 17 runs, while the prep school boys were unable to score. The college men had the jump from the start and with Griffith pitching good ball, were unbeatable. Baseball games will be plentiful this week and later crowds than before are expected to watch the games. The contests which are scheduled follow: Tuesday—Beta vs. Alpha. Wednesday—Vets vs. Gen. Science. Thursday—Astex vs. Pi Kaps.

NOTED CORNELL MAN HERE

Professor Hutchinson Will Talk Before Tri-K Today

Prof. C. B. Hutchinson of the plant breeding department of Cornell university, one of the best known men in his field, will talk to the Tri-K members and agricultural students on genetics, plant breeding and better crops in Room 63 of the agricultural hall at 4:30 o'clock today.

A general invitation has been extended to all Aggie students to attend the Hutchinson lecture.

AGGIE BADLY HURT IN SERVICE

G. S. Douglass Fell From Airplane in Texas

George Shearer Douglass, former Aggie man, received injuries which are expected to prove fatal at the Kelley Field aviation school, San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. Douglass was making a trial flight with another cadet when the machine fell, killing his companion and wounding him severely. Mr. Douglass received his bachelor of science in civil engineering from Kansas State Agricultural college in 1916. His home is at Beattie, Kan.

AN AGGIE DIES IN SERVICE

Wilbur Lane Shot and Killed at Camp Dodge

Sergeant Wilbur (Juicy) Lane, freshman in agriculture last year, was shot and killed at Camp Dodge, Ia., Sunday, according to word received by friends here. No details of the manner in which Lane was wounded were given. The first telegram received told that Lane was "shot" and in a dangerous condition. Evidently "shot" should have been "shot," for the word was received yesterday morning that Lane had died at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Lane was well known. He was a popular member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, and shone as a freshman basketball star.

In the absence of details as to how Lane met his death, friends have advanced many theories, the most probable of which seems to be that the former Aggie failed to stop soon enough to please an over-anxious guard.

As far as is known, Lane is the first Aggie man to lose his life in service in the Great War.

Kansas City, Omaha and Topeka papers yesterday morning carried no stories of the accident.

FRESHMEN THROUGH THE LINE

Gauntlet Cure For Forgetfulness Brings Out Yearling Caps

Many Freshmen went through the gauntlet Friday noon. The upper classmen surprised the yearlings by watching the campus gates, at the end of the fourth hour, for freshmen without headgear. As a result many freshmen were paddled.

Since April 1, when a warning was sent to the first year men to don their caps, the upper classmen have watched Aggieville of an evening for freshmen. Only a few have been punished up to date. The freshmen wore their caps in the evenings but not in the morning. A number of freshmen seeing their mates suffer retorted to the college to wait a better time to go off the hill.

BIG CO-ED CARNIVAL SATURDAY

Relay Race and Folk Dances Planned For Evening

The girls' athletic carnival to be held Saturday, April 20, at 7 o'clock is expected to be the biggest thing of its kind ever given at K. S. A. C. announces Miss Edith Bond of the physical training department. Every one is urged to attend.

Besides the aesthetic and folk dancing, a relay race will be one of the special features of the evening. Ten girls from each class will be chosen to give a relay on the track in the big gymnasium, and the winning team will receive 10 points. The whole carnival will be conducted in the form of a track meet.

THINKS STUDENTS ARE IN WAY

"Farmery" Students Crowd and Push in Cafeteria Line Woman Complains

"I never saw such a place as this," remarked one officer's wife to another while waiting in the college cafeteria line. "If we come up at 12 o'clock, these rude, 'farmery' students are here pushing, as if they were at a pep meeting. If we come after 12:30 o'clock, when the students are gone, then there is nothing left to eat."

NOTED CHEMIST IS COMING

A. E. TAYLOR, WIDELY KNOWN AUTHOR, TO BE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Scholar Knows Conditions in Germany As Well as in America and Will Be Interesting, Dr. W. M. Jarman, President of College Says

Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, chemist, physician, university professor, and specialist in the United States food administration, will be the speaker at the Kansas State Agricultural college commencement on Wednesday morning, May 29.

Doctor Taylor, who is one of the most scholarly and at the same time most brilliant speakers in the national food administration, was secured for the address here through the special efforts of Dr. W. M. Jarman, president of the college.

"I felt that at this time," said Doctor Jarman in commenting on Doctor Taylor's acceptance, "the students, faculty members, and people of the state who attend our commencement exercises, should have a message definitely applicable to the winning of the war. Doctor Taylor knows conditions in Germany as well as in the United States and will bring an authoritative message on the actual situation."

Doctor Taylor is a native of Iowa, and received his education in institutions there and in other states, as well as in Europe. He was professor of pathology in the University of Chicago from 1899 to 1910, since which date he has been Rush professor of physiological chemistry in the university of Pennsylvania. He now is devoting his time exclusively to war work for the food administration. He is the author of several scientific works.

The Rev. E. J. Kulp, D. D. pastor of the First Methodist church of Topeka, will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, May 26. Though still a young man, Doctor Kulp has achieved a wide reputation as a public speaker and as a progressive minded citizen. He has given much attention to Red Cross, bond, and similar activities since war began.

HIKE TO CASEMENT RANCH

Y. M. C. A. Conference to Be Held This Week

The Young Men's Christian association conference hike will be held Saturday and Sunday in a grove half a mile east of the Casement ranch, according to W. W. McLean, association secretary.

Several speakers of note have been obtained for the occasion, among them Guy V. Aldrich, of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. and A. R. Elliott, state college association secretary for Kansas.

The men will camp out Saturday night. More than 60 men will go on the hike, and many features have been prepared for the occasion. Homer Cross, local president, wants all the men who are going on the hike to be at the Y. M. C. A. if possible, Thursday evening to make final arrangements.

ALPHA ZETA OFFICIAL HERE

High Chancellor Guest of Local Chapter Last Night

C. B. Hutchinson, high chancellor of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, visited the local chapter yesterday. A banquet was given in his honor by the Kansas chapter at Harrison's Hall last night. Mr. Hutchinson was on his way to Oregon State college to install a new chapter at that place. The Oregon chapter will be the twenty-seventh chapter of Alpha Zeta, which was established in 1897 at Ohio State university.

THAT CAFETERIA LINE

The college cafeteria is an Aggie institution. Run on a cost basis, it is intended to feed students and faculty members, thus both reducing the cost of an education and saving the time of students who otherwise would be compelled to go off the campus for their meals.

But the cafeteria never has been restricted to students. Outsiders, especially visitors whom students wished to impress with the cordiality and democracy of the institution, always have been more than welcome.

A new element has entered, however, and a few of the new diners have imposed on students. Crowding into the long line that always extends out from Kedzie hall at mealtime, these newcomers have made the line longer, depriving the rightful diners of their usual good service. And then some of these visitors have been so ungrateful as to resent the presence of the students.

There has been no attempt to keep any one from dining at the cafeteria. Probably there will be none. Most of these new visitors are mindful of the fact that they are securing well cooked meals at far below the usual prices. Many of the newcomers, however, should have this impressed upon them—the cafeteria is a college institution, and college folk are entitled to first consideration there.

HOW IT FEELS TO BE DRAFTED

Here is an extract from a letter written by an Aggie graduate of two years ago. The sentiment is so sincere, straight forward and to the point that The Collegian believes its readers will be interested. For obvious reasons, the identity of the writer is withheld:

I have tried to enlist in the navy and in the marines, but am about 18 pounds under weight according to their darned scientific (?) tables. So now I suppose I'll wait, wait, wait.

The army won't take registered men. I feel like I ought to be with the rest of the boys, and now that we are getting things cleared up some, I have no "big" excuse for not going. It's not that I am anxious to go, nor that I have visions of becoming a hero, burdened with medals and crosses.

But I guess my vision is getting more clear, and now I am ready to go at any time—I am beginning to see that it's a DUTY I don't figure that to me its "the big adventure"—it is just may duty—to my parents and fam ily, to my country and humanity in general.

I have lain awake nights thinking of this. For a long time I was satisfied to let the single men go—let those leave who could afford to leave, in other words—"let George do it." I am beginning to find that my granddad's "New England conscience" which sent him to war in '63, is becoming restless, asking questions, and whispering in my ear.

Well, anyway from the looks of the situation at present, the war is not going to be over this month and we are all going to have a chance to do our bit, our bitter, and our bitterest. And I suppose I'll be among those present.

Now isn't that the real stuff? There's no attempt to play the hero, but through it all there runs a fine strain of patriotism.

Just what you want to find in a man, isn't it?

Miss Morton in War Work

Miss Charlotte A. Morton, '08, is a new life member of the K. S. A. C. alumni association. She has a position in the California state normal school at San Jose, as head of the household arts department, and has four assistants. She writes that her work is especially interesting on account of the war work done in connection with it.

BY THE WAY—

Do you believe the story about the sophomores' key being concealed in a woman's dress? To accomplish that feat with the present day evening dress doesn't seem plausible. However, women accomplish wonders nowadays.

We don't believe that a good listener is one who does nothing but listen any more than a good talker is one who attempts to do all the talking.

What would some of our notables do if talking were to be prohibited in the study room of the library?

His Message

She—"You don't even dress me decently. I'm going home to papa."
He—All right. You might say to him that I need a new suit myself.

What a history is written on some of the desks in the different classrooms! Here are the inscriptions which decorate a certain desk in A 57: Joy, L. B. G. Skully Dennis, J. M. K. S. A. C. Caney, Kirk, H. C. Byron D., H. D. Webster, Harry Junction City, J. E. R. and many artistic drawings as, a heart with arrows, a man's (?) head, fraternity letters and scratches and marks of an unknown numerical quantity.

Miss Ima Freak wonders if aviators when they fall think that this is a hard, hard world.

Only about 10,000 persons bought Liberty bonds in the previous campaigns. The other 90,000 did nothing. Money will win this war. Do something. Buy Liberty bonds or thrift stamps, and do it NOW.

SCHOOL OF AG

School of agriculture students are taking great interest in the war savings stamp movement, and are doing efficient work.

Up to Thursday, 622 thrift stamps amounting to $155.50, had been purchased. One captain sold 59 stamps in his first day's work and another reported the sale of 346 stamps in the past three weeks. The school of agriculture war savings stamp society has 100 members. A meeting was held Thursday at which an interesting and instructive program was given. Talks on current topics were given by Miss Julia Wade, Miss Carolyn Kimball, and Mrs. James Honeywell.

Sam Lyle, a former school of agriculture student, is a second lieutenant in the third provisional training squadron, Ellerton Field, Houston, Texas.

Gerald Lyle, a former student in the school of agriculture, has completed his training at the Harvard Radio school and is now in the radio service of the navy, U. S. S. Aroostook.

Clarence George, captain of one of the groups reported having sold $86 worth of war saving and thrift stamps. Homer Sloop who had been appointed captain only one day, sold 59 thrift stamps.

The school of agriculture was defeated in a baseball game with the general science students Friday evening. The score was 17 to 0.

R. V. Barrington, second year school of agriculture, was confined to his room last week with the mumps.

E. B. Benne, third year school of agriculture, left for Morrsville last Thursday, where he will spend a few days with his parents.

The English 6 class of the school of agriculture was aroused to action by an article in the Literary Digest of March 30. The article entitled "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me" was an appeal to the students and people of America to relieve the suffering of the Armenians.

The class appointed a committee on resolutions which submitted the following report:

"Whereas, there appeared in the Literary Digest of March 30, an article describing the dire need of financial aid to relieve the suffering of Armenians, and

Whereas, as this is in keeping with other information received from time to time, and calls for response,

Therefore, be it resolved that the class of English 6 of the Kansas State Agricultural college do hereby pledge both collectively and individually to give to the utmost within our power to the cause of suffering humanity in Armenia."

The resolutions were unanimously adopted and $12 was raised.

A learned senior the other day remarked: "There are several reasons why I hate to leave this school, and some of them I have not even seen yet."

There are two sisters attending college, and the younger one bosses the older one so much, the old one says she's going home to act as milk maid so she can have something to (boss.)

A professor's hat blew off last week. This week it did the same thing, and he must be gettin' mad, for he said "tut tut."

It is said there is a new newspaper on the hill. A co-ed has been dubbed "The Daily News."

A young lady went shopping Saturday, and while she went into a store, left her escort outside. After about an hour of furious purchases she stopped and pondered, "Haven't I forgotten something?"

An Aggie gent went home last week to umpire the first baseball game of the season in the old home town, and didn't. The game had been played the day before.

A critic is one who can see a fly on an elephant.

We've often wondered what the cadet corps would do if a German aeroplane should appear in the sky.

And what do we wonder about it, you ask? Why, this is what would happen. They would do it with their little rifles.

A LOVE RECIPE

To one piece of dark piazza add a little moonlight, take for granted two people, press in two strong ones a small, soft hand. Sift slightly two ounces of attraction, one of romance, add a little measure of folly, stir in a floating ruffle or two and a few whispers. Dissolve half a dozen glances in a well of silence, dust in a small quantity of hesitation, one ounce of resistance, two of yielding, and place the kisses on a flushed cheek. Flavor with a slight scream and set aside to cool.

Gillette Safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillettes
Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against.

Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

The Minute a Man Puts on a Uniform

The fighting man doesn't want to dawdle around. He wants to do a thing right—and get it over with.

That's why the boys in the Service, the world over, are using the Gillette—the "once-over razor."

The Gillette saves from five to ten minutes a shave—no strops or hones to clutter up the kit—blades always sharp—always ready—No Stropping—No Honing.

The Gillette is the real service razor—100% efficient on any kind of beard or skin—under every possible climatic condition, in any part of the world—whether in hot or cold, or hard or soft water.

It's a shaving tool that gives a velvet-smooth shave in record time. Ten million men use nothing but the Gillette.

The new U. S. Regulations say that every man called to the Colors must have a razor—a razor that will meet all the demands of a soldier's life.

Every man under the Colors needs a Gillette.

The mother, sister or friend of a boy in camp, or a boy who's going into camp, couldn't possibly make him a more useful or acceptable gift than a Gillette Safety Razor.

WEAR AN ARMY SERVICE BAR

Four Aggie Men With Engineers in France Six Months

A gold service stripe is being worn by members of the Second Engineer Regiment, in which four Kansas Aggie students enlisted, writes Corp. Arthur H. Brewer. The engineers have been in France six months.

Writing under date of March 12, Corporal Brewer says:

"Six months ago we left the states. We are now entitled to the gold service stripe on the left arm. It is about 2 1/2 inches long and worn on a slant about three or four inches above the end of the sleeve. The same kind of stripe is to be worn similarly on the right arm for wounds received in service over here. Gosh, these six months have gone fast, but we certainly have done something in that time."

Sees Planes Fight in Air

Mr. Brewer describes a battle in the air. "Saw two air battles yesterday. Sure a great sight. The planes seem to try to surround one another and try to take advantage of their height. You can hear the shooting and see the little clouds of white and black smoke caused by the explosion of the shells and shrapnel."

They seem to be on one level, then to find the airplanes you look away into the distance and you see little specks shining and disappearing—having the times of their lives trying to get out of each other's way.

"And that's an airplane fight. Have they over us all the time and we never take the trouble to look up at them, they are so common—just like automobiles in a town. The Frenchmen never notice them, and we are becoming just about as indifferent."

Americans Snipe Huns

American snipers are more vigilant than the Frenchmen, according to Mr. Brewer, who is billeted six miles behind the line.

"The Germans can't understand us. Those who have been captured say that the Americans have little brains. The Huns have been allowed the privilege of looking over the parapet and even of sitting down upon the parapet by the French, but the Americans knock them off. And they say we have little brains."

What Are They Building?

That the platoon to which Corporal Brewer belongs is erecting stone foundations, possibly for big guns, is the conclusion drawn from another part of the letter.

"Am working on the rock pile now. The first platoon works night and day. Just what the rock pile is I can't tell you, but I am proud of the fact that I happened to be chosen to take care of a certain part of the job. We work with Frenchmen and are becoming pretty well acquainted with the work. Will be some job of engineering when we finish it."

engineering when we finish it.

Prisoner's Lot Hard One

"Do you know what they do with a prisoner—our own men who have been found guilty of offenses? They take them up to the 'Bump,' right back of the third line, a fine and constant target for the enemy. We have two men in our company who go up to fight for three months. They have no arms or anything with which to protect themselves, except helmet and gas mask and enough clothing to last them three months. Private Reese of Company C, this regiment, who formerly attended K. S. A. C., took two of the men in his company up last night. I saw him this morning and he said, Believe me, I'm going to be a good soldier."

"These men have no quarters. They sleep in the mud right out in the open. They are exposed to gas, rifle and machine gun fire, and artillery fire. They stay up there three months and have nothing to do but work night and day and keep on the jump when they are not supposed to eat and sleep. If anything is to be done under heavy fire, they are the men who do the hero stunts. In other words, it's hell to be a prisoner."

The time passes quickly, according to the writer. The boys never have time for which besides their work, and Sundays seem close together. In a former letter, Corporal Brewer told more of his work, saying that he could see the German positions every day.

WHO'LL BE QUEEN OF THE MAY?

The May Fete ticket sale begins today. A hot race for the queenship seems imminent, and what live Aggie student doesn't want in on the voting?

Line up behind your favorite candidate. Buy tickets, sell tickets and boost.

ANNOUNCE TRYOUT DATES

Debaters Will Compete For Squad May 16 and 17

The spring debate tryouts will be held Thursday and Friday, May 16 and 17. The spring inter-society debate will be held Saturday, May 18. The question to be argued in both debates will be whether trade unions, as they now exist, are beneficial to the United States.

Gay Times the Rule at May Fetes Held in the Olden Days

The first May Day Fete was held in the Kansas State Agricultural college in 1910. Those were days of long dresses, derby hats and the Student's Herald. It was in those far off days that the idea of a May Fete was started.

The Students' Herald, student organ in those days has this to say about the first day:

"College day, May 25th, is another big day on the college calendar. On that date the first annual May Festival will be pulled off. The idea of one college day each year has always been popular, but until this year no one has been found with a definite plan for making the idea a reality. Now that an organized effort is being made there is no doubt about the final success of the undertaking. President Waters has granted a half holiday for the occasion."

Hoover hadn't appeared on the scene in those days. That year the domestic science girls furnished 125 pounds of candy for the populace, and pop, ice cream, candy and orangeade were sold at stands.

The seniors and the juniors had a tug of war, in those days of peace. The Euro literary society played baseball with their ancient enemy, the Ionians, and won by a score of 13 to 10. Those were the old days when everyone knew "Casey at the Bat," and attended the baseball games.

There was a lively bunch of professors in those old days, also. The prof's had a track meet all by themselves.

"A few especially gifted faculty members displayed to the gaze of the undergraduates something that has hitherto been unsuspected," commented the Students' Herald.

The gay times are not limited to the present. Perhaps some old timer will wander back into the fold of the old school this May Day, and dream of that first May Day.

Ekblaw Talked at Seminar

The fatalists believe that everything is ordered by fate. They don't die until their time comes, which is when it comes, and that a certain girl or man is waiting who is doomed to be their life partner regardless of any "artillery preparation," so to speak. The old Greeks had their oracles, and the Romans drew pictures of the fates cutting off pieces of cord which represented the length of life. Therefore, this colm goes back to this idea when it comes to guessing on the May Queen contest. It puts the names on slips of paper, put the slips in a hat, and draws them out in their order. This is the result:

Mary Dakin.....1st
Cladys Spring.....2nd
Pauline Richard.....3rd
Margaret Robinson.....4th

Another proof that our college is democratic, is that we elect our queens here.

You may remember that this colm made a guess on the beauty contest last winter, and that at least five fair damsels turned their long range guns on us. Bein' as only one candidate could be first, and about 10 couldn't, the proportion of the applause and condemnation was about 1 to 10, which is bad business. To make any showing at all, one must please at least half of the people.

You say you don't believe the result will be like the tabulated standing? Neither do we. This makes the whole matter about the same as if we hadn't written it—with the exception that we got a colm of dope out of it.

O. Fudge says his idea of holdin' the sack is to get mauled up one side and down the other, and then bein' made to swallow it by havin' it called constructive criticism.

Just as well call in the outposts and sentinels for a New Yawk man has discovered that the world has already come to an end.

The biggest job is to set the roosters forward an hour.

A baseball story says Jennings radiates brains. How clever of Hughie, but wouldn't they be of more use in some essential industry?

Vunder of Gett vus looking when W. Hoenzollern went down to Constantinople undt put on dot Turk head-gear?

McAdoo says "The mention of me becoming president is humorous." Not such a bad joke, though, is it William?

Kaiser is the German for Caesar, so that explains why this present day Nero is seizin' all he can.

Nero was some boy, you will remember. He was the fellow who took time from his harem, to set Rome on fire and play his harp while the city burned. As long as such examples of rottenness get into high places, there will be war.

The Germans may stamp out the flowers of spring, but they will bloom again.

A WOMAN is as young as her feet feel. And here are the very shoes to keep your feet feeling young.

Queen Quality Shoes are the American woman's choice, for street and shopping, for home, office and college—a shoe for a reason and so never out of season.

SEE THEM TODAY

LOOK at the toe. Like the nose of a diving submarine, the toe of this shoe has length. And the heel? Well this shoe was built up on an English last, so the pointed toe recedes to a broad, flat, truly military heel. It offers you a soldier's comfort with a business man's style.

SUNFLOWERS

H. W. D.

The really offensive German offensive has been going on for 50 years.

This spring the real young American's fancy ought to turn to something else.

With high-power 12-passenger airplanes and 75-mile shootin' irons and bad dispositions this old world of ours is soon going to be as uncomfortable as the chummy roadster of a contentious family.

Concrete ships will at least beat the abstract ones that we fought over during the first six months of the war.

The food administration should be careful about advising that peanuts be used in place of meat. There is such a thing as going too far, even when the fate of the world hangs in the balance.

Two can live as cheaply as one when one of the two is good and dead.

The profiteer is a man who is more interested in getting his bite than in giving his bit.

Your best friend is the man who knows how to sense and respect your desire to be let alone.

The tax on amateur piano duets ought to be made prohibitive.

Very little is effected in the domestic world by word of mouth.

When a man has lived in one community long enough to think that that community is the best on earth in all respects, it's his move.

The average New York editor believes that Kansas is a place where almost anything can happen on an hour's notice, and very often does.

Just as soon as a publication can print 12 or 15 entirely idealistic stories a month it becomes all the rage among our best people.

Now that Mr. Garfield has advised us to lay in next winter's coal supply, Mr. McAdoo will kindly step forward and explain how we can swing the deal.

HIGHS COME FOR BIG MEET

SCHOLASTIC ATHLETES FROM ALL OVER STATE EXPECTED HERE MAY 11

Fast Time Always Has Been Made in Events of the High School Meet—Only First Two Placers in Each Event in District Meets Eligible

Plans are being made by Coach E. G. Clevenger for the eight annual state high school track meet which will be held May 11 on college field. This is one of the most important meets held in the state, and the high school athletes usually are in the best of shape when they meet here.

All men competing in the meet here must have won either a first or a second place in the meet held in their district. This means that only the best men in each event from over the state will be entered. There are eight districts, and representatives of six of them have been heard from, sending word that they would have the district meets either May 4 or April 27.

Six Choose Their Towns

The meet in district one will be held in Topeka, district four in Emporia, district five in Abilene, district six in Norton, district seven in Pratt and district eight in Wichita. Districts two and three have not set a definite date as yet, but have assured Coach Clevenger that a meet will be held.

Correspondence has been kept up between the district managers and the high school principals, and much interest has been aroused in the coming meet. Last year 22 schools scored and as many more are expected this year.

The meet held last spring was one of the fastest high school affairs ever held in the state, five state high school records being broken and one record tied. Records were made in the 50-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 140-yard dash, mile run, and mile relay while the time for the century dash was tied. The winner of last year's meet was Wichita, with Topeka a close second, and Otago City, with only two men entered, third.

Medals and Cups Prizes

The awards this year will be gold, silver, and bronze medals for first, second, and third place, a cup to the winning team, and a cup to the individual high point winner. The receipts from the meet go to the teams to pay the expenses.

The track meet will start at 2 o'clock giving the men a chance to see the May Fete, which will be held at 5 o'clock the same afternoon. All men who stay over will be housed with the fraternities, according to plans made by Coach Clevenger.

TAKES IN MEMBERS OF FACULTY

Gamma Sigma Delta Will Hold Initiation May 3

Gamma Sigma Delta, honor society in agriculture, has recently elected several members of the faculty to membership. Dr. L. H. Pammel, Grand Scribe of the national organization, and head of the department of botany in the Iowa State college at Ames, will be present at the initiation which probably will be held Friday afternoon, May 3, at 5 o'clock.

This organization is a strictly honorary agriculture fraternity, whose membership consists chiefly of members of the faculty of the division of agriculture and of the agricultural experiment station. Seniors to be elected to membership must be within one semester of graduation and have a scholarship record sufficient to place them in the upper one-fourth of their class.

Faculty in Draft

Among those who left Wednesday for Junction City to be examined for the draft, are H. S. Doty, instructor in botany, Harold Pratt, assistant instructor in horticulture, and W. R. Davis, assistant professor in dairy husbandry.

MAKES GOOD AT MARYSVILLE

Aggie Girl Successful With Demonstrations, Miss Brown Finds

Miss Frances Brown, state leader of home demonstration agents, attended Thursday the annual meeting of the Marshall county farm bureau at Marysville. The meeting convened at 10 o'clock in the morning, and was followed by a noon picnic dinner in the city park. A general meeting was held in the afternoon, when the community hall was well filled.

Miss Edna Banner, home demonstration agent at Marysville, has under her supervision 75 volunteer workers from all over the county. The people of Marshall county are said to be strong for the home bureau, and are much pleased with Miss Banner's work.

Saturday The Last Day For Women's Tennis Series

Entries for the women's tennis tournament will close Saturday, April 20, announces Miss Ethel Loring of the physical training department. The schedule for the tournament will be posted Monday. All girls who have signed up are asked to go to the gymnasium and find out when they are to play, and who their opponents will be.

200 AT BIG SISTER AFFAIR

Sunday Was a Success, Miss Mildred Inskeep Reports

More than 200 big sisters, little sisters and guests formed in line for the buffet breakfast of fruit, sandwiches and coffee served by the "big sister" committee of the Y. W. C. A. in celebration of their annual big sister day. Breakfast was followed by "Sunbeam Song" sung by Miss Margaret Ludwig of the College of Emporia. Devotionals were led by Mrs. J. O. Hamilton, first big sister advisor of the college.

"The big sisters of next year will organize the S. P. L. T., a Society for the Prevention of Lumps in the Throat," said Miss Jessie Machir, big sister of all the big sisters, in a talk foretelling the service all of the big sisters hope to render the freshmen girls next year.

Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., told a story visualizing "A College Where Big Sisters Really Worked."

A talkfest presided over by Miss Harriett Morris, chairman of the big sister committee, and participated in by everyone gave the little sisters an opportunity to tell what having a big sister had meant to them this year.

At 10:30 o'clock the guests went in a body to the First Baptist church to hear the Rev. Lewis Jacobsen talk on "Friendship." The Y. W. C. A. glee club sang.

Guests for the day were faculty members and townswomen who had opened their homes to girls and committees this year, advisory board members, members of the advisory committee, Miss Margaret Ludwig of the College of Emporia and Mrs. J. R. Kirby, wife of the new student pastor of the Methodist church.

"Big Sister Sunday was a success in every way this year," said Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. "A fine spirit of democracy and friendliness was displayed."

RED CROSS EXAMS WEDNESDAY

Faculty Women Want Certificates As Nurses' Aids

The class in surgical dressings organized under the auspices of the local Red Cross chapter, will have their examination lesson next Wednesday evening.

This class was organized six weeks ago for the women of the faculty. Mrs. W. H. Clarkson has been the instructor. The object of the class is to obtain a certificate and give service in the making of dressings or instruction in the making. The class has been meeting every Wednesday evening from 7 to 10 o'clock.

PLAN NEW PHYSICS HALL

Professor Hamilton is in Topeka Today

J. O. Hamilton, professor of physics, went to Topeka today to confer with the state architect concerning the plans for the new physics building.

The plans are practically completed except for making out the specifications. Professor Hamilton will make the final arrangements for the lighting plans.

MAY FETE TICKET SALE ON

The ticket sale drive for the eighty annual May Fete, involving the election of a May Queen, and three attendants, will begin today. Two cups, one going to the girl with the largest number of ticket sales, and the other to the one having the second largest number, have been offered as prizes in a contest among 25 girls.

The sale of tickets, upon which are printed ballots for the election of the May Queen and attendants, will continue for 5 days, ending Wednesday, April 24. At that time the election of the May Queen and her attendants from the various under classes will take place.

To Sell 2,000 Tickets

Bulletins will be posted daily in Anderson hall, showing the relative standings of the contestants for the cups.

Besides the 25 girls who are competing for the cups, others will sell tickets, but these sales will not be counted in the contest.

Those in charge of the May Fete held a conference at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening, and details of the ticket sale were worked out. This drive is local, the sales being confined to students and townpeople. The goal set for the drive is 2,000 tickets and one for every student enrolled in the college.

Later publicity is expected to bring an enormous crowd from Camp Funston and other places.

Seniors Nominate May Queens

The candidates were named by the senior class at a meeting Tuesday evening. All nominees are popular young ladies on the hill, and the contest which will extend over the next few days, will be an exciting one.

The details of the procession are being worked out, and definite announcement of the program will be made later, according to Miss Ethel Loring, who has charge of the program. There will be at least two May poles. The girls who take part in the May pole winding will come from the literary societies, 14 being appointed by the president of each one. These girls, however, must not take part in the dances.

WANT MORE TICKET SELLERS

Quota of 25 Has Not Been Reached Miss Inskeep Says

Up until a late hour last night, the number of girls competing for the cups in the ticket sales for the May Day Festival was not complete for a satisfactory contest. There is still an opportunity for girls to enter the race since the limit of 25 has not yet been reached. Those registering today will have an equal chance with the others, since the ticket sale has just begun.

Miss Mildred Inskeep, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. is anxious that the full number of girls enter the race for the cups, which are now on exhibition in Anderson hall. The ticket sale for the next few days will be exceedingly large, and there is an excellent opportunity for any girl to win. Daily bulletins will be posted in Anderson hall. Those desiring to enroll may do so by immediately reporting to the Y. W. C. A. rooms in the domestic science building.

Mrs. Anne S. Davis, student in luncheon management, has withdrawn from college, having had the position as protective officer for the city offered her. Mrs. Davis will take up this work immediately.

TRYOUTS FOR GIRL NINES

Class Teams Will Be Chosen Next Week

Girls for the class baseball teams will be selected next week. Try-outs will be held at the practice hours which are Tuesday at 5 o'clock, for freshmen and seniors, Wednesday at 5 o'clock for sophomores and juniors. The baseball games will be played on the hockey field.

SELL 400 STAMPS EACH WEEK

Division of Agriculture Captains Are Busy

Captains in the division of agriculture are selling between 300 and 400 thrift stamps each week, according to M. C. Sewell, assistant professor of soils, in charge of the stamp sale for the division. Some of the captains are selling as many as $8 worth of stamps a week.

Captains who are making a good showing are J. B. Angle, junior captain, who has sold 140 stamps; C. O. Williamson, sophomore captain, who has sold 90 stamps; and F. R. Beaudette, junior captain, who has sold 80 stamps.

The junior veterinary students are in the lead in purchasing the stamps. The agricultural sophomores and freshmen are not taking a great interest in the sale campaign.

ELIGIBLES FOR CAMP LISTED

Names of Men To Go Will Be Taken Monday at Drill

Names of the men who are eligible to attend the summer camp of the reserve officers' training corps will be taken by Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, commandant, next Monday. According to information received from the war department these camps will be held sometime in June. The location has not yet been decided upon.

Attendance at the camp will be limited to members of the advanced reserve officers' training corps, and such other members of the advanced course who have received military training equivalent to the basic course and one year of the advanced course. The men will be given 3 1-2 cents a mile to and from camp, or such transportation as the government shall provide.

Y. M. MEN ON A BIG HIKE

Students Will Camp Near Casement Ranch

The Y. M. C. A. conference hike will be held east of Casement ranch Saturday and Sunday. W. W. McLean, general secretary wants all those who have been listed for the hike, and also those who have been added since to the printed list, to assemble at the Y. M. C. A. at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The hike will start promptly at that time.

A speaking program has been arranged, and all preparations for camping out Saturday night made.

TALLEY BACK TO COLLEGE

Junior in Architecture Favored By Government

Ray Talley, junior in architecture, has returned to college to complete his course. Mr. Talley enlisted last spring, but was released under the recommendation of the engineering faculty for deferred classification.

A BIG CARNIVAL SATURDAY

Girl Athletes Will Compete in Nichols Gymnasium

The college public is asked to remember that the girls' athletic carnival is to be held Saturday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock sharp. Everyone is invited to come, and see what great strides have been made in the development of the physical training movement for women.

The carnival is to be conducted in the manner of a track meet, and the contestants will be judged by points. The judges will be A. G. (Germany) Schulz, Z. G. Clevenger, E. A. Bauer, and Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill.

A track relay race and esthetic and folk dances will be features of the evening's entertainment. Admission will be free.

In Advanced Work

Among the dairy husbandry students who have finished the special semester course and are doing advanced work are Henry Gentry, who is doing advanced registry testing in the Holstein herd of David Coleman and Sons at Dennison, and H. H. Braun who is doing advanced testing in the herd of Ben Schneider of Nortonville.

VICTORY ONLY END TO WAR

CATAclysm IS GOING TO LAST UNTIL THE ALLIES WIN, SAYS WOOD

Purchase of Liberty Bonds the Smallest Thing the Stay-at-Home Can Do For the Men Who Are Giving All in France, Says Military Expert

The war is going to last until we win. It may be long and it may be very short, but our aim is to win, and there is no turning back, was the declaration of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood in an address at the college auditorium last night in support of the Liberty Loan.

"Your boys are going over the top some of these mornings, and it is your duty to see that they have everything they need," he said. "They are going to do their duty in the trenches. The question is, are you going to do your duty here?"

Must Back the Soldiers

"The only way we are going to win is by every person standing back of the men. The most you can do here is to buy liberty bonds, help the families of the men over there, which is a very noble service, support the government, and help in every way to build up the morale of this nation. This is your duty, but don't be deceived. This war will not be won by big guns you buy, or any machine you may prepare for our soldiers. This war will be won by the machine God made—men."

The general told of his recent trip to France, of the wonderful spirit of sacrifice and of the confidence of the men in final victory. He told very touching scenes of the life and sacrifices of the people.

Warns Against Confidence

"This war is a very tremendous war," he said. "We condemn the practices of the enemy, but we must admit that Germany has an efficient fighting force. We must be more efficient than they."

The general urged a more serious conception of the war and its purposes. He cautioned the people of this country against a feeling of security, and admonished them that if the present German drive, which he characterized as the gravest push since the first days of the war, was a complete German victory, we would have reason for fear in this country.

"The gallant soldiers of England, France, Italy and Belgium are holding the line, while the greatest of democracies is getting ready," he said.

General Wood urged above all that we prepare ourselves for universal service and advocated both equality of obligation with equality of privilege. He said this was not the last war, that wars would exist until human nature changed, and our only resort was to be prepared for it when it comes.

"PROFS." FROM EVERYWHERE

Aggie Faculty Members Come From Many Colleges

The cosmopolite in a cafe as pictured by O. Henry was no wonderful character. He may be seen almost any day if one gazes about the campus. One difference, however, is that the local cosmopolites are real as oleomargarine, which is certain.

Especially is this true of the faculty. This body of teachers may be compared with a huge funnel pouring gasoline into a motor car. The teachers are the sides of the funnel through which the gasoline of knowledge is poured, and they represent a space reaching all over this land into Canada and even far off Switzerland. The college is the apex, through which the gasoline flows to the students. This sets them going like the proverbial Ford, makes them puff and blow over the country sides, climb hills on high, and get there just the same.

These wise ones from K. S. A. C. come from many places. They bring with them the ideas of the whole world, and the learning of nearly all the great institutions of America.

The University of Ohio claims 10 according to the college catalogue and other recent compilations. The University of Indiana graduated 6. Ames 13, Columbia University 3, University of Nebraska 8, University of Illinois 11, Purdue 7, University of Minnesota 4, Massachusetts Agricultural college 4, University of Iowa, 2, Dartmouth 2, Cornell 3, Yale 1, University of Manitoba, Canada, 1, University of Wisconsin 5, Colgate 3, Wesley 3, University of Missouri 5, University of Kansas 10 and Gymnasium Scientifica at Tausame, Switzerland 1. From small colleges and special schools came these wise men (and women) from the east, west, north and south.

One hundred and thirty-seven agricultural schools, 100 from universities, and the remainder from colleges and special schools.

And—sh—listen to this! There are 24 members listed under the head "Officers of Instruction and Administration," in the college catalogue who are fading students in getting their degrees, and who have not yet obtained one for themselves. Most of them, however, have had college work or special conditions peculiarly fitting them for their task.

Anyone not familiar with these statistics might have considered the faculty cosmopolitan from the variety of glasses, mustaches and accents. It is said that thousands of people go many miles at great expense to get one fleeting glimpse of the collection of Italians, Jews, and Bohemians in "New Yawk." Students need not cast longing looks toward the big cities for romance. If it is a cosmopolitan they seek, they can see a real live one almost any day by viewing a faculty member in his wanderings about the campus.

250 COMING FROM FUNSTON

First Quota of Student-Soldiers Is Due May 15

Two hundred and fifty soldiers will be brought from Camp Funston to the college May 15, to receive training in wireless telegraphy, electrical engineering, oxyacetylene welding, telephones, motor trucks, automobiles and tractors.

The men will tarry at the college eight weeks and will take training in each of these lines, spending a week or ten days on each. There is a possibility that after the first group has completed the course, two other groups will come, but this matter has not yet been definitely settled.

In teaching the courses in automobiles, trucks and tractors, the instructors desire that the soldiers should learn not only the operation of the automobiles, trucks, and tractors, but they may be able to repair and rebuild old machines.

The college is on the look out for old cars to be brought to the college for repair or to be purchased for equipment in the laboratory. Such old cars should be taken to W. W. Carlson, professor of shop practice, who was appointed to take charge of the work of the soldiers.

The men will be quartered in the gymnasium for a time. Barracks may be built later for their use. A part of the men will be fed at the college cafeteria and arrangements probably will be made for the rest of them at an eating house in Aggieville or downtown.

Yost Coming From Camp Dodge

Theodore Yost, junior in agriculture last semester, is expected to arrive in Manhattan Sunday. Mr. Yost has been attending the third officers' training school at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa. He will have a 10 day's furlough after which he will return to Camp Dodge where he is a member of the 339th machine gun battalion.

BOBBLES LET IN VET RUNS

General Science Team Lost Through Errors—Acacia Won

Six errors and four passed balls, together with some poor field work, was enough to give the Vets the long end of a 11 to 3 score in the General Science-Vet game Wednesday.

Although the Vets were only able to solve Youngmeyer's delivery for five hits, the errors of the G. S. men were enough to give them the game in handy fashion. The Vets, on the other hand, made only three errors. The pitching of both teams was good, Griffith for the Vets striking out seven, and Youngmeyer, six.

In the game Tuesday between the Betas and the Acacias, errors and overthrows were responsible for the two runs in the first inning that gave the Acacias the battle by a two to one score.

The game was interesting, and at times the fielding was fast and snappy. MacLeod pitched a good game for the Betas but did not have the support necessary to win out.

Lieut. Elmer Schultz came down from Camp Funston today.

"EDDIE" WELLS, FOOTBALL AND BASKET BALL STAR, IN BATTLE WITH HUNS

Each Side Lost a Few in Engagement Aggie Men Says, "But Our Mood Is Up and Somebody Is Going To Get H— Around This Vicinity"

Is "Eddie" Wells, football and basketball star, the first Aggie man to go over the top against the Huns—the first Aggie to lead a patrol out in No Man's Land?

Wells, now a second lieutenant with the old Iowa Sixth national guard regiment, was in a battle early in March, when his regiment occupied a sector of German front-line trenches, and later returned to the American "sewer ditches," which is the name Pershing's men have applied to the trenches.

Patrolled Day and Night

A Manhattan friend of the former star Aggie athlete received a letter from Wells this week. After telling how glad he was to receive a batch of eight letters that were awaiting him, "Eddie" says:

"I had just returned from the trenches, and it was about 1 o'clock in the morning. We had been out all day and part of the night patrolling (this may have been the night the Americans occupied the German trenches) and I was just about tired out."

"It took those letters to take the tired feeling out of me. I simply had to read some of them before going to bed."

"Going to Give Huns H—"

"I suppose it is possible for me to tell you that my regiment has seen a little activity lately. We lost a few and the 'Boche' lost of few; so we will call it a tie, but this time it isn't a case of one tie all tie because our blood is up and somebody is going to get H— around this vicinity."

Eddie then tells of the exploit of a close friend, also a lieutenant and a fraternity brother, who won special mention for bravery.

"He went through a barrage to his men and believe me he did some damage when he got there."

Wells, a junior in industrial journalism last year, was all-valley full back and an all-valley guard on the basketball team.

CENTURY PUBLISHER COMING

W. W. Ellsworth To Address General Assembly Monday

How best sellers are produced and how a demand is created for books through advertising, will be told by William Webster Ellsworth of New York, president of the Century company, in an address to the faculty and students of the college at assembly Monday morning.

Lectures by Mr. Ellsworth have aroused unprecedented interest in colleges all over the country. He is regarded as one of the most effective speakers now on the lecture platform. Mr. Ellsworth is a lecturer on American history as well as an occasional contributor to magazines.

Mr. Ellsworth is the grandson of Oliver Ellsworth, former chief justice of the United States, and also of Noah Webster.

NEARLY READY FOR EXHIBIT

Much of Pottery Material Has Arrived for the Home Art Exhibit.

Practically all the material has arrived for the art exhibit to be displayed by the home art department in the domestic science rest room Tuesday, April 23 to May 3, from 10 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening. Sunday, April 28, the doors will be open from 2 to 6 o'clock.

This exhibit will consist of pottery—Rookwood, Wedgewood, Newcomb, Grueby, Teco, old and new Mexican pieces—wood block prints of Japanese and Mexican designs by Helen Hyde, and paintings sent out by the Kansas Federation of Art.

In addition to the foregoing articles, various pieces of pottery have been loaned by Mrs. C. F. Baker, Mrs. W. E. Menoher, Miss Harriett Parkerson, Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, Mrs. J. T. Willard, Miss Anne Machir, Miss Florence Hunt, and the department of architecture.

Should any persons not thus far asked, have pieces of pottery which are good and of interest, and which they would care to loan for the exhibit, the home art department will be glad to know of the fact, according to Miss Grace M. Palmer, instructor in home art.

"This collection of pottery, and indeed the entire exhibit, will be well worth seeing from the standpoint of education in what is good in art," said Miss Palmer.

Material for the study of pottery and wood block printing may be had by asking for it at the loan desk of the college library.

Free tickets will be issued through the post office to all college students. Others can purchase at the door, single admission tickets for 15 cents or season tickets for 35 cents.

Informal talks will be given Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons during the exhibit by instructors in the department of home art and by members of the Art Study club.

Opportunity will be given for the purchase of Rookwood pottery at from $1 to $20, and Newcomb pottery at from 50 cents to $7, the pieces consisting of bowls, vases, jars and match holders. Orders can be left for prints at from $1.50 to $20. This range of prices will enable all to own at least one really fine piece.

WINNING THE WAR IN AMERICA

Charles Bennett Foster

Washington to-day is the center of all our war work. It is here that all the plans are made. It is here that all the orders are issued and all reports are sent. In all the work made necessary by this greatest task our country has ever undertaken, there is much confusion and inefficiency caused by so many people trying to fill positions for which they have had no training. Here we find men who have given up positions paying salaries all the way up to $50,000.00 a year and accepting positions to work for the Government in this war for anywhere from $1 a year to $200 or $33 a month. These men are working from twelve to twenty hours a day—living on such food as they can get—which is sometimes poor—sleeping in crowded quarters, sacrificing all home ties and family life, to help win the war.

We find girls working diligently at all kinds of office work—eating in restaurants—sleeping eight and ten in a room—sacrificing social life, deprived of home comforts—all doing their best to win the war.

Every office building is over-crowded; the government having taken most of the desirable buildings for its own use. It is almost impossible to secure a room in a hotel. Boarding houses are all crowded and nowhere except in the very high priced places is a room rented to less than two people. Traffic conditions are seriously overtaxed. It is a rare thing to see a gentleman seated in a trolley car. To leave the city by train, in either sleeper or chair car, reservation must be secured long in advance.

One cannot help but be impressed by the seriousness expressed in the faces on the street. The determination, the earnestness, the enthusiasm is infectious; everyone catches the spirit that dominates the thought of every mind to win the war. It is not possible to be in the midst of all this rush and hustle without the wish to be part of it. It forces itself into the mind and into the heart of every man.

This is the spirit that has come to those who have learned the secret, those who are willing to do their own free will, the thing that Germany has been compelled and forced to do by an Autocratic government. They have learned that the success of this war depends upon the elimination of personal ambition, the sacrificing of selfish interests, the obliteration of party-lines in politics. The public notices to the effect that "Food will win the war—do not waste it," begins to have a new meaning. We are beginning to realize that we must really save food. We must be willing to work for just wages to live on; to have clothes only to cover our nakedness, to forgo excess profit on not only war supplies, but all kinds of merchandise. We must be willing and ready, not only to send our boys give our money, but if necessary, to make the supreme sacrifice of life itself, if we are to be successful in winning this struggle "To the end that the whole world may be free."

There is no other way. We cannot furnish the food, the clothing, the munitions, the ships and all the enormous quantities of all sorts of supplies needed, until every man, woman and child gets down to hard pan and makes a personal sacrifice. This thought is growing every day in the minds of the thoughtful men in Washington, and must spread it out all over our land and become a part of the life of every individual.

College students should realize, more than others, that our country has done much for us in the past. We have learned to lean on our government. Now our country is calling for help and if our republican form of free government "for and by the people" is to endure, we must give all if need be, to save our flag from dishonor. We who stay at home must back the boys going to the front with all we have and all we are, waiting for our reward until the time comes when we shall have a right to enjoy a lasting peace and plenty, because we have earned it by our sacrifice.

This idea of self-sacrifice, elimination of selfish ambition and the sinking of self interest, is no new principle, no untried thing but a truism. It was used as the subject of the greatest sermon ever preached—advocated by the Greatest Teacher the world has ever known—has been read more and practiced less than anything ever written.

This principle is not applicable to the winning of this war alone but to the success of any venture, any occupation or any business.

The question on every tongue is: When will this war end? The answer is: When our own people, in sufficient numbers, submerge their own personal ends in the broader vision of national service.

BIG PICTURE COMING

"The Kaiser, Beast of Berlin," To Be At Marshall

Manhattan is to see "The Kaiser, Beast of Berlin" the picture which created such a sensation when presented in Convention Hall in Kansas City last week in connection with the Third Liberty loan drive. The Marshall theatre has announced that the usual vaudeville show will be set aside on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week to allow the presentation of this wonderful picture.

"The Kaiser, Beast of Berlin" is credited with being of much aid in the Liberty Loan campaigns carried to success in New York, Chicago, Kansas City, Topeka and other cities and should be of much benefit to workers for the cause in Manhattan. It is endorsed by the American Defense Society and which society held a monster patriotic rally in conjunction with the showing of this conjunction picture in New York. The management of the Marshall states that "The Kaiser, Beast of Berlin" is not a battle or so called war picture in any sense of the word but rather an expose of the nature of the German ruler, laying bare his real nature and showing, so every American can understand and realize, the machinations of the Beast of Berlin, of his council, his navy, and his army.

TRAIN WOMEN TO BE NURSES

Only College Girls May Enter Vassar Camp

"The College Woman's Plattsburg" will be inaugurated at Vassar college, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., this summer.

The training camp is a three months' course in the theory and practice in nursing preliminary to two years' training in approved hospitals, leading to the title of registered nurse. It lasts from June 24 to September 13. The fee is $95, which provides for registration, board, room and laundry. Each student will furnish her own uniform, all students living in college dormitories. Women who have graduated in the years 1909 to 1918, inclusive, from colleges recognized by the New York Education department, are eligible for the training. Catalogues and registration blanks may be obtained by addressing Dean Herbert E. Mills, Training Camp, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The camp is under the auspices of the American Red Cross, which has provided a guarantee fund of $75,000 to cover the operating expenses of the school. The faculty includes representative men and women in the sciences and in the medical and nursing profession and the equipment and facilities conform to the highest standards of professional schools. The course includes anatomy, physiology, hygiene, bacteriology, applied chemistry, nutrition and dietetics, elementary nursing and bandaging, hospital economics and the social and historical aspects of nursing.

After completing the course of study at the training camp, the student will enter a hospital, where she will take two years' training. She will then receive a diploma of the hospital and the title of registered nurse, which is essential for enrollment in the Red Cross and for all important nursing positions.

Trained nurses are in great demand, both for military work and for positions of public health at present. The recruiting committee states: "It can safely be said that there is no service to one's country comparable to meeting the demands which the future will inevitably make. No American man or woman has the right today to work upon any other basis than that the war will continue indefinitely. The nurse's service is the battle line of women's patriotic work."

J. H. Robert, instructor in applied mechanics, has received notice to appear for service April 25.

The election of the May Queen for the annual May Festival will be held tomorrow. The balloting place will be across from the postoffice in main hall.

The sale of tickets has been progressing at a lively rate all week, and the supporters of the various candidates have been hard at work. All votes must be cast before 5 o'clock when the votes will be counted and the results of the election announced.
Today and tomorrow will be the big days of the ticket sale drive, according to Miss Saretha Herrick, who is in charge of the ticket selling contest. A great many tickets have been sold already, even as far as Camp Funston, but the big returns are expected to come in on the last two days before the election of the May Queen.

The sale of tickets will not be limited to Wednesday, but after that the ballots will not count in the contest for May Queen. The big crowd from Funston and many people from Manhattan and other places may purchase their tickets at the gate when they come May 11.

The Y. W. C. A. second cabinet will take charge of the selling of the tickets in Anderson hall today and tomorrow. Miss Mildred Inskip, association secretary, who has general supervision wants every student on the hill to get his ticket now, and thereby participate in the election of the May Queen.

The contest for the two cups on exhibition in Anderson hall is liveliest. Last night the standing of the six leading participants in the contest was as follows:

Miss Grace Rathiff, first; Miss Fay
Young, second; Miss Dorothy Norris, third; Miss Helen Giles, fourth; Miss Fay Williams, fifth and Miss Ruth Thomas, sixth.

MISS CARSON TO CONVENTION

Junior Journalist Will Represent Mu of Theta Sigma Phi

Theta Sigma Phi, an honorary fraternity of women journalists, will hold a national convention in Lawrence on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. There are 14 chapters of Theta Sigma Phi but it is not known whether or not all will send delegates.

The girls will go to Kansas City to visit the Post and the Star plants.
While there they will be the guests of Theta Sigma Phi who are working on these papers. Another feature of the program will be a visit to the Haskell Institute. Friday, the Kansas board will give a luncheon in the Kansas news rooms.

Theta Sigma Phi will publish a convention number of the University Daily Kanran. Miss Velma Carson, junior in industrial journalism will represent the local Mu chapter.

HONORS FIVE MEN DEBATERS

Phi Kappa Delta Elects Quintet of New Members

Phi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity, announces the pledging of Gordon Hamilton, junior in mechanical engineering, K. D. Thompson, sophomore in agriculture, Sibert Fair-man, junior in mechanical engineering, H. I. Richards, sophomore in agriculture, and Samuel James, junior in agriculture.

Mr. Hamilton took part in the inter-society oratorical contest. The other men were all members of this year's pentagonal debating squad.

SELLS MORE BUTTER MILK

Dairy Department Products are in Demand

Because of the high cost of milk
the sale of butter milk and skimmed milk at the dairy has greatly increased.

Less whole milk than ever before is being sold, the bottled milk selling for 12 cents a quart and an average sale of three gallons a day, while nearly 15 gallons of skimmed milk at 20 cents a gallon is sold. Two gallons of whipping and coffee cream and five gallons of ice cream are sold daily in the basement of the dairy building.
The ice cream which is mostly sold by the dish to the students, sells at 35 cents a quart.

Meats and eggs are also sold here.
The meat is obtained from the animal husbandry department. Eggs are obtained from the poultry husbandry department and sell for 35 cents a dozen.

CHANGE DATE FOR OTHELLO

Shakespeare Play Will Be Given Friday, May 3

The date of the play, Othello, has been changed from April 26 to Friday evening, May 3. The play will be given in the college auditorium and no admission will be charged. No tickets will be issued. All college and townspeople are invited to attend.

In order to eliminate expenses and wait between acts, only one set of scenery will be used. The music for the two drinking songs of Iago was written by Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English. It is planned to give the play at Camp Funston Thursday night, May 2, and Saturday night
May 4.

There have been several changes in the cast, because of students dropping out of school or taking part in other activities. The members of the cast and the parts which they are playing are Miss Grace Lightfoot, Decemona; Miss Dorothy Norris, Emilia; Mrs. Alvin Hale, Bianca; Professor
Burk, Iago; Sam Mitchell, Othello; W.
A. Giles, Cassio; C. M. Barringer, Roderigo; Floyd Work, Brabantio; M. G.
Cary, Duke; E. L. Mock, first senator
T. T. Swenson, second senator; I. M.
Tinkler, clown; J. E. Thackrey, messenger and soldier.

PROGRAM AT FORUM MEETING

Talks, Readings and Music Part of Entertainment

A special program was presented at the regular meeting of the Forum last week. Jay Lush gave a talk on "The Need of a Word." Don L. Burk sang a group of negro spirituals and accompanied his songs with the guitar.
Other numbers on the program were readings by Miss Marion Dorcas, a vocal solo by Miss Eloise Morrison and a piano duet by Miss Ann Rea-nigh and Miss Lucille Harbaugh.

SIX TO GO INTO THE SERVICE

Withdrawals From College, However,
Have Been Few in Number

The student body is being gradually reduced by withdrawals. The numbers are not large, however, nor is it anticipated that many more will ask for withdrawals before the close of the school year.

In the division of agriculture, D. E.
Davis, sophomore, withdrew on the 18th of February because of enlistment in the navy. He is still in town, however, awaiting his call.

J. W. Van Wilet, freshman in veterinary medicine withdrew April 17, having enlisted in the hospital corps of the navy. He is to report at Kansas City, April 19.

G. L. Reisner, fellow in agronomy, graduate student, was called to report April 5. He withdrew from regular college work on March 30. He is in Camp Lee, Va.

P. L. Netterville, senior in agriculture, has been called to report at Camp Funston, April 26. He will withdraw his assignment on that date.

Benjamin F. Griffith, senior in agriculture, who withdrew from college October 11, 1917, because of enlistment in the aviation corps and who has since been in the school of aviation at University of California, completed his course April 2 and received his commission. He expected to receive 10 days leave of absence to visit his home in New York before reporting for active service.

E. L. McIntosh of New Salisbury, Ind., a junior in agriculture at this institution, withdrew from college work April 16, being called into U. S. service. He will report at once to Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.

HOLD CONGRESS IN KANSAS CITY

International Dry Farming Conclave Planned for Middle West

The International Dry Farming Congress will hold its next exposition in Kansas City. It has been held annually for 13 years for the purpose of studying soil problems in the west.
Prizes are offered for the best display by state, province, or nation. The Kansas display, collected and arranged by the Kansas State Agricultural college, won first place at Denver in 1915, first place at El Paso, in 1916, and second place at Peoria,
1917.

The congress is composed of prominent farmers and representatives from most of the agricultural colleges in the west and also many foreign countries, including Russia, Japan, China, Australia, Canada, and Austro-Hungary.

REPAIR DEPARTMENT IS BUSY Work Postponed During Winter Must Be Done Now

Despite the fact that the spring of the year has heretofore been extremely dull for the repair department, this year it is one of the busiest departments in the college.

This is due, it is thought, to the fact that all repair work needed on property was postponed as long as possible because of the high cost of lumber, paint, and all necessary repair material.

GIRLS BEGIN TENNIS SERIES

DRAWINGS FOR PRELIMINARY ROUND HAVE BEEN HELD — WEATHER HOLDS UP GAMES

Miss Edna Chapin, Winner of the Fall Tournament, in Contest to Retain Her Championship Crown, Will Meet Miss Dorothy Skinner
in First Game

The preliminaries of the girls' annual spring tennis tournament are just waiting on the weather.

Drawings have been made of the names of the thirty girls who entered the contest, arranging fifteen matches for the first rounds. The first matches are to be played off this week if possible, leaving fifteen instead of thirty contestants for the loving cup.

Each match will consist of three sets. The players choose their own referee and linesman and the scores are turned in at the gymnasium office immediately after each game.

The players also select the court. The tournament for this spring gives promise of several battles from the number of good players listed. Miss Edna Chapin, who won the fall term championship and others who won places in the fall contest have entered. The names of those who are entering the preliminaries follow:

Ruby Canady and Mary Gorham;
Dorothy Skinner and Edna Chapin;
Edna Stewart and Elizabeth Greenlee;
Ruth Goodrum and Lillian Gates;
Martha Baird and Esther Joss; Clementine Paddelford and Viria Dahne Hettie Carris and Celia Lorraine; Addie Sandman and Opha Babb; Ruth Ghormley and Bess Gordon; Edith Wakefield and Elsie Cuthbert; Margaret Etzold and Letta Lisk; Effie Witham and Mary Romig; Bethel Nelson and Fay Cheesman; Ruth Thomas and Evelyn Beckett.

VISITS LOCAL RED CROSS

St. Louis Man, Brother of Dean Johnson is in Relief Work

Fred R. Johnson of St. Louis has been visiting his brother E. C. Johnson, dean of the division of extension.
Mr. Johnson is assistant director for civilian relief of the southwestern division of the Red Cross. He supervises the civilian relief work for the district including Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas and Texas.

While here Mr. Johnson visited the Red Cross headquarters at Camp Funston and Junction City. He conferred with B. W. Smith, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter and Mrs.
W. M. Stingley, chairman of the home service section of the Red Cross in Manhattan.

MAGAZINES WILL BE DISCUSSED

Monthly Periodicals Will Be Reviewed
By Quill Members

Types of stories representing current magazines will be the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Quill club April 25.

N. A. Crawford, professor in industrial journalism, will lead in the formal discussion. Several members will read original stories. Those who will take part on the program and the magazines they will represent are Miss Ivy Barker, Atlantic Monthly;
Walter Neibarger, American; Miss
Bess Gordon, Ladies Home Journal;
and Miss Grace Dickman, Hearst's.

The meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock in K-56.

MINICKED H. S. COMMENCEMENT

Ionian Seniors Gave a Program on Saturday

The senior members of the Ionian Literary society gave a program Saturday. With the help of the senior Hamiltons they presented a typical high school commencement program.
The Ionians are working on a farce which they will present at Camp
Funston soon.

The society has elected to membership Miss Hattie Gesner, junior in home economics; Miss Mary Smith, freshman in home economics; and Miss Aara Chase, junior in industrial journalism.

Webb-Euros Give Annual Hike

The annual Webb-Euro spring hike will be held Saturday afternoon starting at 4 o'clock, and the hike will go to Camp West, near Stag's hill.
Provisions for entertainment and refreshments have been made, and plans for some baseball games.

H. E. HEADS TO ATTEND MEETING

Representatives From Home Economics Depts. of Eight States

A meeting of representatives of all educational institutions having home economics departments in Kansas,
Nebraska, Missouri, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Colorado, Arkansas, and Iowa was held Saturday at Lawrence.
This meeting was held for purpose of discussing food problems and working out a program for giving instructions in food conservation. Dean Sarah Louise Arnold of Simmons college at Boston, Mass., was the principal speaker.

Among those who attended the meeting Saturday were Dean Mary P. Van Zile, Miss Margaret Haggart, Miss Helen Green, Miss Josephine Perry,
Miss Alice Skinner, Miss Jane Cape, Miss Elnore Bartlett, and Miss Olive Sheets.

31 SIGN FOR SUMMER CAMP

Eligible Members of Advanced Course
Agree to Attend Training School

Thirty-one students who are eligible to go to the one-month reserve officers' training corps camp this summer had signed for the school at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The majority of the signers were junior members of the advanced course. All juniors in this course are requested to go, and seniors in the advance course who elect to attend the camp are given the privilege of going.

Those who signed were S. J. Fairchild, Bruce B. Brewer, Homer Cross, Frank Collins, William Giles, James
B. Angle, James Sparks, Donald C.
Thayer, A. M. Harvey, Carroll M. Barringer, R. D. Nichols, J. F. Eggerman,
J. C. Gullledge, M. W. Converse, H. W.
McClelland, R. D. McGregor, Ira Rogers, G. E. Manzer, Herbert J. Helmkamp, W. R. Essick, H. Fairman, Geo.

Scully, Fred Griffice, C. W. Hestwood,
Robert Kerr, Jr., Clarence E. Freeto, Percy DePuy, Everett J. Price and Ralph W. May.

The date and location of the camp still are unknown, Capt. W. P. J.
O'Neill, commandant says. An information received has stated that the camps are to be held in June. As four weeks of instruction are planned, the camp probably will begin in the first week of June, possibly Monday June 3, although there is no information to that effect. A northern camp probably will be chosen.

10 HONORED BY OMICRON NU

Home Economics Fraternity Elects

yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

RED CROSS WEDNESDAY MORNING

Classes Will Be Held Again After a Short Vacation

Red Cross classes which have been excused for nearly two weeks on account of the shortage of gauze, will be held again Wednesday morning.

A small amount of gauze has been obtained, and Mrs. R. G. Taylor, supervisor of the college work room says that work will commence tomorrow morning and that classes will be held regularly as before. Other material has also been obtained and a new type of dressing will be started this week. Miss Luella Morris is captain of the Wednesday morning division.

Girls Sign Up for Base Ball

The base ball season is on the girls' athletic department. In all sixty-one fans have signed up for the favorite American sport. Twenty-one of these are freshman girls. The inter class teams are being organized and practice begun.

President Jardine Says Seniors Who Are Up in Their Work May Be Counted as Eligible

READY FOR APPLICATIONS NOW

Captain O'Neill, Commandant, Will Receive Recommendations Immediately, He Announces—No Commissions Due at End of Camp But Only When
Vacancies Occur

The college is entitled to send 35 students to the fourth series of officers' training camps, according to information received yesterday morning
by Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, commandant of cadets. The camps open May 15 at the divisional cantonments.

The quota must be picked from graduates of the college who have completed their drill under a regular army officer, and who are recommended by the college. It is probable that both the grades made by the student and his military work will be important factors in the choice.

The Requirements.
The following requirements will govern their eligibility:

1. They must be on May 15, 1918, not less than 20 years and nine months and not more than 22 years of age.
2. They must be citizens of the United States.
3. They must have the physical qualifications prescribed by the regulations for an officer of the officers' reserve.

The men selected will be required to enlist for the duration of the war, and if they are not recommended for commissions at the termination of the camp, they will be assigned to organizations for duty as enlisted men.

Commissions to Come Later

Those who successfully complete the course and are found to be qualified will be listed as eligible for appointment as second lieutenants, and will be commissioned as vacancies may occur provided their service has been satisfactory, according to the regulations received by Captain O'Neill.

The pay and allowances of a first-class private will be allowed the men while they are in attendance at the camp and they will receive transportation from their college or home to such camp as they may be directed to attend.

Absolute choice of the men selected rests with the college authorities. The greatest part of the work here probably will devolve on Captain O'Neill.

Seniors May Be Eligible
Captain O'Neill said yesterday that he is ready to receive applications for the camp, but asked that the prospective officers first familiarize themselves with the instructions which will be posted on all military bulletin boards this morning.

Doctor Jardine said last night that seniors who are up in their work, and were in line for graduation this year, probably would be allowed to go. This decision, it was pointed out, does not cover the case of seniors who lack a few hours, or of those who withdraw in the expectation of going to the camp, and then are not accepted.

NOW A GENETICS SEMINAR

Faculty Members Will Keep Up With Advances in Science

Members of the faculty interested in animal and plant breeding have organized a genetics seminar which will meet every two weeks on Friday evening. Its purpose is to keep in touch with current work in these sciences. The members are W. A.
Lippincott, professor of poultry husbandry, Dr. R. K. Nabours, professor of zoology, Miss Clennie Bailey, assistant in zoology, Jay Lush, fellow in animal husbandry and J. R. Parker, assistant professor of farm crops.

A CHANCE TO WORK UP

"Killing drill" used to be a favorite pastime here at K. S. A. C. The junior who had completed his two years of military training boasted that he "didn't tote a gun any more." And he was envied by the freshmen and sophomores.

That day has passed.

Now the young man who receives instruction in military tactics and goes to college, too, is privileged. While helping himself to an education, he is making of himself an educated, efficient soldier, and later he will offer his trained mind and body to the government.

Yesterday Uncle Sam called for 35 trained Aggie men. He wants to make officers of them, and is willing to add three months of practical field training to the two or more years the students have spent in training here.

Only the best of the student soldiers will be allowed to go. Men who "killed their drill" probably will be listed among the "also rans."

This presents a lesson to the freshmen and sophomores who are drilling now. They should work, work, work. They should aim at a commission in the corps, and later at a commission in the army. Upon the training he receives now may depend a student's value to the nation. The reserve officers' training corps is the training school for the men who are to lead other men in the by fight.

War is America's business now. The man or woman who plans solely for his own future is a load on the back of the civilized peoples who are struggling to rid the world of that beast among nations—Germany.

WE MUST HOOVERIZE

With this issue The Collegian returns to six columns, after a seven month's run as a seven-column paper.

The change has been caused not so much by lack of support as by the tendency among newspapers to cut down the consumption of news print paper. The price of materials is higher than ever in the publishing business, many of the expenses having increased at a faster pace than food-stuffs and other commodities.

The Collegian appreciates the support of its readers and advertisers. Without them, there could be no Collegian, and we have reasons for our belief that a live college has need of a live student publication.

EMERSON LIKED THE "EATS"

Brownings and Athenians Thanked for Box of "Goodies"

The Browning and Athenian Literary societies have received a letter of appreciation from Dr. J. G. Emerson, former assistant professor of public speaking and now in the officers' training camp at Fort Dodge, Iowa. The letter was sent in recognition of the box of fruit, candy, and other good things set to Doctor Emerson by the members of the Browning and Athenian Literary societies.

Mr. Emerson said that he was glad to hear from his former students and appreciated the token of friendship and closed his letter by saying, "Those eats surely hit the spot with a hungry soldier."

AGRONOMISTS ARE NEEDED

But They Must Be Adequately Trained—Expert Says

If agronomists are to meet the demand of the reconstruction period after the war is over they must be adequately trained, according to C. B. Hutchinson, professor of plant breeding at Cornell university, who spoke Tuesday before Tri-K, honorary agronomy fraternity.

"If they are adequately trained," said Professor Hutchinson, "they will be able to meet any crisis—handle any problem. Before long men who expect to specialize along agronomy lines will be required to take post-graduate courses."

"An agronomist must be a clearing house between those ideas which are purely scientific and those which are radically practical. He must learn to be far sighted and broad minded enough to take the essentials of the theorist and apply them in a practical way."

"Among many laymen there is a hostile attitude toward the purely scientific research. They begrudge the money spent that way and fail to realize the vast benefits that will result. After the war, when it will be forcefully shown how the colleges stepped to the forefront at the most important crisis the nation has known, this attitude will change. Laymen will more readily understand the necessity of land-grant colleges."

TELLS OF KANSAS HIGHWAYS

New Magazine Has Many Articles by W. S. Gearhardt.

"Kansas Highways" is the title of a new monthly magazine published by the Kansas Highway commission—Governor Arthur, E. R. Moses, and R. S. Teirman. The magazine gives summaries of the work that has been done on highways, instruction in the maintenance and construction of roads, federal aid roads in Kansas, methods of removing snow, and bridge development. The articles of the publication are written almost exclusively by W. S. Gearhardt, state highway engineer, formerly of Manhattan, and now of Topeka.

A New Yawk lady says cows would give more milk if they had a little concert each evening. She doesn't recommend ragtime, but thinks classical music will have the desired effect. Its our opinion that such a tune as "They're Wearing 'em Higher in Hawaii" would have no effect on a cow while some sadder tune like, "The Watch on the Rhine," would cause the cow to quite the business altogether if she had any patriotism at all.

As a result of setting the clock ahead, America may get there in full force an hour earlier.

They say English girls are marrying blind soldiers. It would be some stunt to propose some night, and not recognize her the next day if you should see her.

An Illinois court has ordered a school teacher to pay $2,000 for licking a kid for the good of his mind. Poor boy!

A rookie squad passing by the farm the other day, saw a hog nearby, and yelled, "Meat! Meat!"

Speakin' of bein' mad all your life and then gettin' madder, Hank Fudge says he used to have a cow that switched her tail in his face. He decided to put a stop to it, and tied a brick to the cow's tail, and failed to get a heavy enough brick.

A backwoodsman these days is one who hasn't been solicited for a May Fete ticket.

They say German is the language of the lower regions. That being the case, no wonder it is being eliminated from the schools. Couldn't be of any use to Americans, anyway.

A. J. R. Curtis of the extension division of the Portland Cement association, visited the college Friday in the interests of silo construction.

LOOK at the toe. Like the nose of a diving submarine, the toe of this shoe has length. And the heel? Well this shoe was built up on an English last, so the pointed toe recedes to a broad, flat, truly military heel. It offers you a soldier's comfort with a business man's style.

SCHOOL OF AG. HAD MIXER

Affair Was a Success, Prep. Students Say

The school of agriculture mixer held Friday night of last week was voted a success by those who attended. The program which lasted nearly an hour was partly extemporaneous. Those who appeared for readings were Arnold Englund, Miss Julia Wade, and Miss Luella Mall. The music numbers were given by Miss Edna Cohler, Miss Hazel May, piano and Miss Freda Haslam, vocal.

Stunts were given by the Philomathian Literary society and the graduating class of the school of agriculture. Talks were made by J. W. Zahnley and Miss Ada Rice, the members of the faculty present.

Following the program, games were played and before the crowd left, ice cream was served.

Miss Harriet W. Allard of the extension division returned Friday from Denver where she was called on account of the illness of her mother.

J. E. DuBois, senior in animal husbandry and Harold Youngmeyer, freshman in general science, spent the week end at their homes in Wichita.

Miss Anna Chapin, freshman in home economics has withdrawn from college because of ill health. She has returned to her home in Minneapolis.

Miss Mary Baird and Miss Florence Baird went to Riley for a week end visit with their cousins, B. B. Baird, and R. R. Baird, former students at the college.

R. V. Morrison, former student of this college, spent the week end in Manhattan visiting friends. Mr. Morrison is on a 15 days furlough from Fort Dodge.

R. B. Medlin has been appointed by the extension division as emergency demonstration agent for Thomas, Logan, Wallace and Sherman counties. His office is at Winona.

Miss Myrtle Johnson, junior in general science, has withdrawn from school on account of illness. Miss Johnson will undergo an operation for acute appendicitis, and does not expect to return to school this semester.

L. W. Burby of the division of college extension, left this week for an extended trip through Wabunsee, Pottawatomie, Jackson and Jefferson counties. Mr. Burby will deliver a series of lectures dealing with questions relating to the increase of poultry production, brooding, and fertile eggs.

Swipes a Flivver Thrown Into Jail Friend to Rescue

We have often wondered what seniors did to amuse themselves when they were underclassmen. Of course when a person gets to be a senior, it is too late for any mad pranks that might otherwise be indulged in. It takes all their energies in just being seniors. But were they always thus? Nay, verily they were not.

For we have recently unearthed the mystery concerning the whereabouts of one proud senior when he was missing from the halls of his brothers. It all occurred when the said senior was an underclassman and an exceedingly bold, bad man was he.

He had taken his "fair one" to the chief attraction of the town—namely, the picture show. He had gotten her safely home after the last lingering fadeout, and he had even "broken" away within a reasonable length of time. The moon shown forth as he had never shown forth before, and the "fair one" had been very nice to him. So needless to say, the bold bad one was in very good spirits.

He bethought himself of the pleasures to be had from joyriding, and instead of going off to his rooms, as he should have done, he went past them, and up the street to a neighboring fraternity house. Ah! the very thing! A jitney stood in front of the house. Without further consideration, our hero jumped in the car and started forth.

He was having an unusually good time, soaring down Poyntz avenue on a moonbeam—so-to-speak. When bang! right behind he heid another jitney pursuing him. In the front seat rode the Manhattan police force, widely imploring him to stop in the name of the law. Our hero stopped, and what was his horror to find himself under arrest for abduction of unprotected jitneys. In scarce the time it takes to tell it, he was lodged behind the cold gray walls of the Manhattan bastille. He was in prison!

He begged, and sobbed for freedom but it was denied him! Then he got busy with a telephone and entreated the owner of the jitney to forget and forgive. After a certain length of time the owner ordered the malefactor's release and the episode was at an end. The culprit got to his home in time for breakfast, and the "fair one" never knew.

Moral to freshmen—Let not perfume and moonbeams unseat your reason.

Help Farmers With Taxes

Reyburn With Marines
L. H. Reyburn, sophomore in agriculture last year, is now stationed at Santa Domingo City, D. R. He is a corporal in the 114th company with the U. S. marines.

Mrs. Mollie Moser, junior in home economics, has withdrawn from college and will leave Wednesday noon April 18, to join her husband, Lieut. Leo C. Moser, inspector of ordnance stores, in Chicago. Mrs. Moser will stop in Kansas City to visit her sister Miss Emma Smith, who was a student in industrial journalism in K. S. A. C. last year.

LOVE AND MEASLES.

Billy Barker

Being in love is like having the measles. You feel the worst before you realize what is the matter with you. You try to hide your true feelings from your friends but sooner or later you do something foolish or even rash, and the truth of the situation becomes self-evident. It is an embarrassing situation and one which every normal person will at first deny in spite of the evidence against him.

The strongest evidence in either case is usually in the complexion, and one is simply helpless in attempting to control it. So the safest course for him to pursue is to acknowledge the affliction and submit to the treatment.

With careful treatment one may recover from an attack of either disease with no lasting effects other than immunity. A severe case always leaves one immune and he need never be afraid of catching it a second time.

The man who has once been in love can go into the most dangerous places and play the most foolhardy tricks with perfect safety. He can picnic in shady woods, ramble through leafy isles, and linger on mossy seats to watch the sunset. He fears a quiet country house no more than his own club. He can brave a moonlight walk down sweet-scented lanes, or keep his head through the whirl of a ravishing waltz, and rest afterwards in a dark conservatory without catching anything more than a cold. He may venture into the presence of those most sorely afflicted—he is immune. It is true, he may afterwards have one of even two attacks of the varioloid form which resembles the "Liberty" measles but never again will he have an attack of the malignant form.

One of the gravest dangers in both love and measles is complications. These may exist in any form from an abscess in the ear to an irate father. The latter is by far the most dangerous. Great care and tact must be used in dealing with the irate father and the treatment must vary in dealing with the person. The same treatment of pain relief and hot applications may be used for an abscess in the ear, with equal success on different individuals.

ELLIOT'S CLOTHING STORE

The home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes

Another common effect of love and measles is the effect on the eyes. Love is blind. Often the measles leaves one almost blind, and for a long time after recovery from either disease one sees the world through colored glasses. A man in love often sees beauty in a maid who appears to most of us one of the homeliest of her race. But then, it is best for his own interests that he has this impaired vision.

Just fancy, if you can, a man trying to make love on strictly truthful principles, determined here to utter a word of mere compliment or hyperbole but to confine himself to exact fact. Picture him gazing rapturously into the eyes of his lady love and telling her that as a whole she was not bad looking, as girls went. Fancy him telling here, as he pressed her to his heart, that her nose, for a turned up one was rather pretty.

How much chance would he stand against the man who told her that her face was like a June rose, that her smile was sunshine itself, and her eyes were like two evening stars?

Truly, one's blindness in love is a blessing to him, while it lasts, but oh how sad he is when his sight is restored.

Gillette Safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillette Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against.

Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

The Gillette Is Accepted Everywhere as the Fighting Man's Razor

He wants to be clean-shaved, trim and alert—in all sorts of weather—and with all kinds of hard or soft or hot or cold shaving water.

He wants everything he carries to be light and compact.

That's why fighting men are using more Gillettes than all other razors put together.

The Gillette has stood the test of hard usage, on every kind of beard and texture of skin—under all sorts of climatic conditions—and proved itself 100% efficient.

The U. S. Regulations call for a clean shave.

Every man in the Service needs a Gillette.

The Gillette is the real service razor—compact, sure, convenient—always on the job—no strops or hones to clutter up the kit.

Blades always sharp, always ready—and No Stropping—No Honing.

HELPS TO SET FARM WAGES

Labor Administrator Brings Farmers Together for Meetings.

E. E. Frizell, farm labor administrator is aiding farmers in settling the question of wages for farm labor throughout the coming harvest.

Under the direction of Mr. Frizell, farmers are holding meetings which give individuals opportunity to give their opinions as to suitable wages for various phases of farm work. The state is to be divided into eight districts for the consideration of the wage situation, and the counties in each district will decide on a wage scale.

The movement is meeting the approval of the farmers and the meetings are being well attended.

'MADE IN AMERICA' POTTERY

Rockwood and Newcomb Products Are U. S. Art Contributions.

Rockwood and Newcomb pottery probably bear a clearer title to the stamp "made in America" than any other product in the American field of art, according to Miss Grace M. Palmer, instructor in home art in the college.

"This stamp in these two cases is one of which to be proud," said Miss Palmer, "since both potteries have won many highest awards and gold medals in this country and abroad."

"Rockwood is made by the Rockwood Pottery, Cincinnati, Ohio. The clays come mostly from the Ohio valley but some are brought from Chattanooga, Tenn., and some from Virginia."

"While these clays are being made into the beautiful vases, bowls, jars, and other forms, each piece passes through the hands of 21 persons. Much of the pottery is thrown—that is it is made on the potter's wheel, being carefully shaped by the human hand, but some of it is molded or cast."

"Since the date of its founding by Mrs. Maria Longworth Storer of Cincinnati in 1880," according to Miss Palmer, "the Rockwood pottery has been subject to constant experiment and study. As a result many new and excellent glazes have been given to the public, and in a field where we have had little of which to be proud, Rockwood has challenged the admiration of the world."

Newcomb pottery is made by college girls in Sophie Newcomb Memorial college, Tulane university, New Orleans, under the direction of Prof. Elizabeth Woodward Reed of the school of art. The output of the kilns is sold and the profits returned to the students. The decorations are all taken from the conventionalized flowers and tree forms of the south, and as in the Rockwood pottery, there are no duplications in design or in pottery forms. The clay comes from the bayous of the Mississippi river.

Rockwood was an artistic venture in the business world and proved a financial as well as an artistic success. Newcomb is a venture in the field of vocational education and has proved an educational as well as an artistic and financial success. Both results are due to the fact that the wares won a merited popularity.

"In recommending to the public the purchase of these two wares," said Miss Palmer, "we are recommending two of the best wares made in America. While thinking people are economizing in many ways during this war time, they realize that they can not afford to starve the aesthetic side of their natures any more than they can afford to starve the physical."

WEBS AND EUROS ON A HIKE

Annual Tramp Held Tomorrow Afternoon.

The annual Web-Euro spring hike will be held tomorrow afternoon, when the two literary societies will hike to Camp West, southwest of town. The hikers will be at the filling station at the edge of town at 3 o'clock.

Miss Mary Dakin, senior in home economics, visited Emporia this week.

GETTING READY FOR K. U. NO BIG ATTENDANCE DROP

AGGIE TRACKMEN ARE OUT FOR REVENGE ON SQUAD FROM LAWRENCE.

Spring Workouts Have Improved Many of the Schulz Athletes, Who Now Are Preparing to Win Points From the Kansas Hamiltonians.

The meet with K. U. is now only one week off, and "Germany" Schulz is putting his tracksters through the finishing paces to put them right for a shot at their old Jayhawk rival.

Although both schools have lost some stars since the indoor meet, the Aggies still figure that they have a chance to chalk up a victory this spring. K. U. has lost Don Welty, their best man in both the hurdles and the pole vault. Hobart, the other K. U. hurdler, was out for some time and has only started lately to work on the outdoor track.

Metz Was Point Winner.

The Aggies have sustained a loss, though, that is equal to that of the Jayhawkers, when Metz finished the special semester. Metz was a sure point winner in both dashes, hurdles and shot put.

The field is in fine shape, and with a few days of sunshine, the track should be fast as ever. Although there are no stars this year who are likely to break any school records, Coach Schulz says that several of his men are running in good form, and their time will be close to the records.

The meet will consist of eleven events—100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, mile run, two mile run, pole vault, high jump, broad jump, shot put, discus throw.

Frost Up Near 11 Feet.

Frost, one of "Germany's" finds of this year, is making good in the pole vault and the high jump. Jack surprised his followers by tying for first in the pole vault in the K. U. meet. Since then he has raised his mark several inches, and at present is vaulting about 10 feet 9 inches with regularity. With Welty gone, he should have an easy time taking first place in the K. U. meet.

Clarke Works is another man whom "Germany" has developed this year. Although Works did not do much in the K. U. meet, since that time he has improved considerably, and now is doing well in both the hurdles and broad jump. Kniseley and Scheidler—the two are showing up best in the sprints—are going at a good pace, and should be ready by the time of the meet to slip some surprises over the K. U. lads. Eggerman has been showing considerable speed in the 220, though, and "Germany" may enter him in that in order to warm him up to take a first in the mile.

FIVE NEW QUILL MEMBERS

Half of Manuscripts Submitted in Contest were Accepted.

Five persons out of ten submitting manuscripts in the Quill membership contest were successful, and will be taken into the club.

Each semester the Quill club invites college students to submit manuscripts. If a judging committee finds that these papers have literary merit, the writers are eligible for membership.

The new pledges are Miss Clementine Paddleford, freshman in industrial journalism, Miss Nellie Thornburgh, Miss Charlotte Russell, and Miss Laura Shingledecker, sophomores in industrial journalism, and Coleman W. McCambell, junior in agriculture.

SPRING PROGRAM FOR IONIAN

Meeting Begins at 3:00 o'clock—An Egg Roast May 4.

The Ionian Literary society will give a "Spring" program Saturday in the Hamp-Lo hall in Nichols gymnasium. The meeting will begin at 3 o'clock. Visitors are welcome.

The annual Hamp-Lo egg roast will be held May 4, in Cedar Bend.

Into U. S. Service.

H. E. Smith, inspector in feed control, has accepted a position in the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture, as investigator in grain dust explosions. Mr. Smith left Wednesday to take up his new work.

NEARLY AS MANY STUDENTS HERE AS LAST YEAR, OFFICIAL FIGURES SHOW.

Only 75 Per Cent as Many Men Are Attending the College as Were Here Last Year, But Little Decrease is Shown in Attendance of Women.

The enrollment in the college shows a smaller decrease this year than many persons expected. The enrollment of 3,340 last year was the largest in the history of the institution and this year the number is almost 75 per cent that of last year. This year's enrollment is 2,407, the same as for the year 1910-11.

The decrease naturally was among the men where a 25 per cent loss was sustained, due to the demand for men in the army and war work. The decrease of 8.4 per cent in women students can only be explained by the fact that some were needed to replace the men at home and others did not enroll because of an unsettled condition at the beginning of school.

Prep. Enrollment Small.

Another factor sometimes overlooked in comparing the enrollment by years is the fast decreasing enrollment in the school of agriculture which has dropped 40 per cent in the last four years under normal conditions.

The short course was much smaller this year than usual and the special semester did not add materially to the year's enrollment.

The following tables compare the enrollment by years, classes, men and women:

	'16-'17	'17-'18	decrease
Men enrolled	2017	1297	720
Women enrolled	1322	1110	112
Total enrollment	3340	2407	933

Numbers in Main Sessions.

The following tables do not take into account the summer school, school of agriculture or short course enrollments:

	'15-'16	'16-'17	'17-'18
Seniors	401	282	236
Juniors	305	387	291
Sophomores	454	471	384
Freshmen	605	663	481
Special	174	172	137
Graduate	76	68	36

The large senior class in 1915-'16 was due to a change in the scholastic requirements for graduation, which caused some to finish in that year who would otherwise have graduated in 1914-'15. The greatest decrease this year was in the freshman class. While it is lower than in other classes it is thought that fewer of those enrolled will drop their school work than heretofore.

It is thought by many that while the war continues the ratio of men to women may widen from the present rate of 1.52 women to 1, but the total enrollment next year is not expected to vary materially from that of this year.

NYMPHS IN WATER CARNIVAL

Mermaids Will Splash in Meet in Pool Monday.

Aggie mermaids will revel at the swimming carnival to be given in the girls' gymnasium at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

This is to be a swimming contest, competition being in swimming and diving for form, plunge for distance, rescue work and stunts. One of the features will be an inter-sorority relay race. Only girls who have red and blue caps will be allowed to take part.

The contest will be judged by points, the judges being Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. W. Harting and Miss Edith Bond.

BEGIN FINANCE DRIVE SOON

Y. M. C. A. Plans Big Campaign for Funds This Spring.

A plan of finance and membership was worked out at the Y. M. C. A. conference Sunday, when it was decided to pledge the association contributions for next term immediately. Earl Frost, Y. M. C. A. treasurer, has undertaken the canvas of all present members and also the members of this year's graduating class. In this way, much valuable time will be saved next fall, which is the busiest time of the year for the association.

Inspected the Mill.

The Foods classes I and II went on an inspection trip the first of the week, to the mill.

GIRLS TAKE UP WORK AGAIN

Glad to Have the Red Cross Room Open Once More.

The Red Cross work room is as busy as ever after the delay in work caused by the shortage of materials.

The girls have come back to "Red Crossing" splendidly, says Mrs. R. G. Taylor. The room will be open for each class period from now on and the new dressings will be made again next week.

CAST CHOSEN FOR SENIOR PLAY

Class Will Present "Hurry, Hurry, Hurry," May 18.

The cast has been chosen for the senior class play which is to be given May 18 in the college auditorium. Those selected are Miss Pauline Richards, Miss Alice Neiman, Miss Margaret King, Miss Helen Mitchell, and Albert Hancock, C. A. Frankenhoff, H. C. Colglazier, Earl Taylor and D. E. MacLeod.

The play to be given is a three-act comedy entitled "Hurry, Hurry, Hurry." It is an up-to-the-minute lively play with plenty of action and comedy.

Miss Ada Dykes, instructor in public speaking, is coaching the play.

AGGIE IN SERVICE IN GUAM

Carl Depue Writes of Experiences at Naval Station.

Carl E. Depue, a former K. S. A. C. student is in the naval station at Guam. He writes interestingly of his experiences since going into training. A part of his letter follows:

"Uncle Sam decided that I was needed at this station more than in Europe. After going through the navy yeoman school at San Francisco, I was detailed to the hospital corps training school at the station for three months. Then a call came for four yeoman at this station and I was selected for transfer. The average time to be in this station is from 18 to 24 months."

"George Washington's birthday was celebrated here with great pomp. A military parade was given in the morning consisting of Insular Patrol, marine companies with band, navy insular force, regular navy force and band, all grammar and high school children and several patriotic floats. "Seven per cent of the native population are drilling. Universal military training was taken up one year ago at the request of the natives themselves. On this basis the United States would have seven million men under arms."

"The navy has helped me out considerably. At the yeoman school I received three and one-half months instruction in shorthand. Part of my time I am clerk to certain officials and am always available for duty in the communication office to receive and send messages to and from the radio and cable stations. All cables and radiograms are censored, of course, but letters are not."

"Some day I intend to be ready to make a final and successful dash for the honor of being graduated from dear old K. S. A. C. I have visited the University of California several times and Leland Stanford once, but with their splendor and magnificence they simply made me more homesick to be back at K. S. A. C."

BROBERG CALLED TO COLORS

Assistant Drainage Engineer Will Go To Camp Funston.

Harrison Broberg, '11, assistant drainage engineer, has received orders to report to the local board to be inducted to service at Camp Funston Monday, April 29.

Mr. Broberg came to the college last fall to take charge of the drainage and irrigation work temporarily until a permanent man was employed. Before that time he had been associate engineer in the E. B. Murray and company, consulting engineers, Kansas City, Mo.

WHITE TO ADDRESS ASSEMBLY

Editor Also Will Talk to Journalism Students.

Frank B. White of Chicago, managing director of the Agricultural Publishers association, will deliver two addresses at the college Monday. Both will be open to the public.

At student assembly at 11 o'clock in the morning Mr. White will lecture on "Community and Business Building." He will speak to the students in industrial journalism and other persons interested, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in room 55, Kedzie hall. His subject will be "Advertising and the Farm Market."

Miss Vera Olmstead	293

Sophomore Attendant

Miss Ernestine Biby	1,022
Miss Elizabeth Circle	271

Freshman Attendant

Miss Esther Andrews	1,191
Miss Rose Blackwelder	99

Miss Pauline Richards, senior in home economics and member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority, was elected May Queen Wednesday, with more votes to her credit than any previous ruler has received.

The total vote was more than 1,300 which is 400 more votes than were cast last year, and a larger number than in any previous election. The unusual interest largest and best in the history of the college, according to those in charge.

Sold 201 Tickets.

The race for the two cups which were offered as prizes for the largest number of ticket sales, was exciting, the girls in this contest alone selling more than 600 tickets, or about one half the entire amount. The largest loving cup goes to Miss Helen Giles who sold 201 tickets. The cup representing second prize goes to Miss Grace Ratliff, who sold 178 tickets.

The present plan is to present these cups as a part of the May Day program. Dean Mary P. Van Zile will probably present the cups before the winding of the May poles. These girls will also have a part in the procession.

"The success of the ticket selling plan was far beyond our expectations," said Miss Mildred Inskeep, in charge of the festival. "It was unquestionably the greatest success in May Fete history, and will be used again next year."

A Distinctive Fete.

The May Festival will be held May 11, two weeks from tomorrow. The state high school track meet is also held here on that day, and this is expected to swell the crowd. The procession will begin at 5 o'clock.

The festival this year is distinctive. The Queen of May is supposed to be the most graceful, most beautiful and strongest woman in her land. Representatives come from surrounding countries, dancers from the courts of other nations. There will be many flower children.

SHAMROCKS ARE CONFINED

Randall and Zimmerman Have Scarlet Fever.

Frank Randall and Lloyd Zimmerman are ill with scarlet fever and have been moved to the college campus under quarantine. No other cases have resulted within the last few days and the Shamrock house may soon be opened again.

G. E. Manzer, L. K. Saum, J. F. Eggerman and A. C. Hancock were away at the time of quarantining and thus escaped detention. They are in school after having received permission from the health officers to remain out of quarantine.

An Apology.

Things aren't always as we want them to be, and they certainly were not just right last night, when The Collegian went to press. An absence of artificial gas, which forced many students to eat cold meals yesterday evening, held up work on The Collegian, for the type is set by a gas-heated linotype machine.

Rather than issue the paper tomorrow, the staff decided to publish the paper last night, even though much of yesterday's news was left out.

SUNFLOWERS

H. W. D.

Quit feeling blue—buy a Liberty bond and feel red, white, and blue.

Buttons are used to show clothes off, and—in rare cases—to keep them on.

Modern loveliness is a beastly thing to remove from the lapel of a worsted coat.

The only trouble with Count Czernin is that he let an ace fall out of his sleeve.

The girl who says "I don't think" every time she has half a chance is probably right.

Our recent heavy snowfall was a miserable failure. It didn't bring out a single original remark.

If it is necessary to annihilate the German army in order to get the kaiser, annihilation is now our chiefest business.

While we are saving time we should not overlook the fact that we waste a good deal in letting German spies live until sunrise.

About the worst affliction that can befall one nowadays is a 15 minute conversation with a man who reads nothing but the headlines and the leads.

Why doesn't some clever cartoonist draw a fetching picture of a ladies' dressing room and label it "No Man's Land?" It's been almost a week since we saw six like that.

An April Lyric.

In April when the wind veers north
And snow comes down in slushy tons,

We envy all the cautious folk
Who still have on their fuzzy ones.

We admire the nerve of the memory expert who wants to train us to remember all the unimportant details about all the people we meet and then expects us to pay him for the damage he has done us.

Spring Pome No. 11.

Good morning, merry sunshine,
Good mornig, violets blue,
Good mornig, buddig jerry drees Achoo! Achoo!! Achoo!!!

—Lucy Wonder.

Editorial Note: Miss Lucy Wonder opines that the inconsiderate cynic who wants all poets shot at the age of 26 will not get very far with his insidious propaganda. She says that she is willing to bet her best pair of clocked hose that his favorite literary forms are classified ads and Sunday supplements. Lucy is only 17, however.—The Industrialist.

"Ludendorff has the kaiser's ear."
—Headline. Keep up the good work!

Count Czernin is to be ambassador to Berlin. "Czernin lied," is sufficient recommendation.

Newspaper reports have it that Bolo Pasha's nerves failed him when he was about to be shot. Sounds plausible.

In War Time, Toof!

Advice to thin woman in Kansas City Star—"She should take a glass of unskimmed milk in mid-morning, afternoon and before retiring, in addition to regular meals. The milk should be sipped slowly.

To be a great general, it is imperative that a man have a mustache. The leading generals of this war each have mustaches. Old Hindenburg's bunch is the ugliest, while Pershing's is the cutest, with Haig a close second.

Another difference between the German and allied generals is that the allied generals don't have a half acre of tin cans scattered over their breast fronts.

Clarence True Wilson, who once ran for president on the prohibition ticket, says: "Thank God for cows." Furthermore he writes a whole article thanking God for cows. If Clarence don't drink milk, we miss our guess.

The German Gott is merely a new name for the old Thor of barbaric times.

Poor Woman!

"I read of someone advising an inquirer to burn sulphur for bedbugs. Would you kindly tell us how to burn it, and for how long a time?"—Waiting in patience.—Kansas City Star. All the war isn't on the front. Think of the horror that would come over a bedbug's face, when he was "gassed" like that.

THE DAY AND THE WORK

To each man is given a day and his work for that day;
And once, and no more, he is given to travel this way.
And woe if he files from the task whatever the odds;
For the task is appointed to him in the scroll of the Gods.

There is waiting a work where only his hands can avail;
And so if he falters, a chord in his music will fall.
He may laugh to the sky, he may lie for an hour in the sun;
But he dare not go hence 'till the labor appointed is done.

To each man is given a marble to carve for a wall;
A stone that is needed to heighten the beauty of all.
And only his soul has the magic to give it a grace;
And only his hands have the cunning to put it in place.

Yes the task that is given to each man, no other can do;
To the errand is waiting; it has waited through ages for you.
And now you appear; and the hushed ones are turning their gaze
To see what you do with your chance in the chamber of days.
—Edwin Markham in the Current Opinion.

A JOURNALIST'S PRAYER

"Back to the land where the cockle burs grow,
Back to the country I'm dying to go.
Back where B. coli has never been named,
Where the bacteria still grows untamed.
Back where the newspaper means nothing more Than a pad in between the rag car pet and floor.
Where no one's piano is drummed but your own,
Where nobody raves about color and tone,
Back where the daylight has always been saved,
Where no one's broad-minded—but all-way behaved,
Where you don't have to think and work with your fist."
The above is the prayer of a poor journalist.

They go wild, simply wild over them.
They go mad, just as mad as they can.
O, the soldiers get them all.
For the khaki they all fall.
The keen ones, the mean ones.
They grab them with their stall.

On their arms they all hang very tight;
The girls stare at them so long,
For the khaki leads them strong;
They go wild, simply wild over them.

Fluffy Head Rests On Manly Shoulder While Kids Watch

"Under a tree sat he and she," and they both felt that in the deep, woodsy nook on the campus of old K. S. A. C. they were perfectly safe to bill and coo in true turtle dove style.

He slipped a manly arm about her waist. She nestled a fluffy head on his shoulder. They sat there perfectly oblivious to all surroundings, hence did not see the two high school boys who, spying them afar off, had decided to come closer where the view was better.

After a bit the boys became tired of the "mush stuff" and sauntered away toward the gate to Lover's Lane where they arranged themselves on the posts, so that they appeared as sentinels.

After quite a while the boys' hearts were gladdened by a sight of the lovers strolling towards them hand-in-hand. As soon as they saw the two grinning satvres on the gate posts, they blushed furiously, and loosened hands.

"Did he kiss her? Well I guess he did." Sang the boys as the discomfited pair hurried through the gate.

Spring Fever a la Mode

Fashion is now dictating a new mode in spring fever. The patriotic type has broken out in different parts of the country, and one may have it any number of times before it becomes fatal.

Spring fever is the only infectious heart disease known. There are several distinct types. The chronic variety is brought on by months or even years of association with the same person. This is the most difficult type to overcome and even when cured usually leaves one weak and doubtful for a long while afterwards.

One may have spring fever only in the varioloid form. This type comes on quickly and may be cured by two or three ounces of reasoning administered in broad daylight. It is often accompanied by hallucinations or delirium. The afflicted one sees a cozy little home all his own, with a fair and dainty damsel presiding over it. He can even taste the biscuits and smell the coffee.

When the fever reaches this pitch, it may be reduced by a temperature bath consisting of one good look at the girl in her own home at breakfast time. This may reduce his fever to a chill.

Since the war broke out a new kind of spring fever has become imminent. This comes on suddenly and violently, with no relation to past experience or moonlight. One may recover in a few days, or, it may prove fatal and take him to the altar. A single man is never immune to this type of spring fever. If he becomes subject to it, however, he is of no more importance socially than a mouse. All the girls are afraid of him.

MANHATTAN STUDENTS HONORED

Three Demonstrate Their Literary Ability.

Three of five students elected to membership in the Quill club, a national college literary organization, live in Manhattan. They are Miss Clementine Paddleford, freshman in industrial journalism; Miss Laura Shingledecker, sophomore in industrial journalism, and Miss Nellie Thornburg, freshman in industrial journalism.

Election to Quill club is based on literary ability. Manuscripts are submitted by the candidates and are judged by a committee of faculty and student members.

Into the Service.

The showing of "The Kaiser, Beast of Berlin," may have had the effect of encouraging enlistment for military service. At any rate, three young men have been accepted and have left here to enter the coast artillery corps. Anthony A. Sack and Paul J. McClain both of St. Marys, left Wednesday and Angus M. TELLS OF CHINESE FARMING

S. H. Gaum, '16, Now An Instructor in Canton College.

The Canton Christian college, Canton, China, publishes an open letter by S. H. Taam, '16, who before coming to America studied in the Canton institution and is now instructor in animal husbandry there.

Mr. Taam says in his letter:

"Last year we started a few new lines of agricultural work. Thirteen varieties of rice, which were given by the Kwangtung Agricultural Experiment station, have been tested by the head-to-the-row method. We have also collected and planted 12 varieties of lichee on the campus, intending to select and breed the best types, and at the same time to study their insect diseases. Honolulu papaya, which was introduced by Mr. G. W. Groff nine years ago, has ever since been under experiment and proved itself to be a successful sub-tropical fruit for South China. A bulletin on this subject has just been published in both English and Chinese. Early in the spring we commenced to raise a herd of native swine in a small way, and this project is now quite promising. We expect to secure some Berkshires from the Philippine bureau of agriculture. An open front poultry house has been built and now we can keep as many as 200 fowls.

"We have in our herbarium 1,600 plant specimens of South China. The herbarium is in charge of Mr. C. O. Levine, the representative of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"Kwangtung province held its first agricultural fair on the Kwangtung Agricultural Experiment station grounds. Our herbarium specimens, papaya, lichee photographs, American vegetables, student-grown vegetables, all won the highest premiums. We sent over a delegation of 73 students and teachers to plant trees with other schools led by Civil Governor Chu on Arbor day. Our agricultural staff members took part in this fair as judges and lecturers. The next day in less than two hours we planted over 600 trees on the college campus after an enthusiastic meeting at which the civil governor and other prominent Chinese friends were present. It was one of the greatest events of the last academic year and will long be remembered, as many of those trees standing now everywhere on the campus will recall our pleasant memories.

"I believe that there are great possibilities in the work of the agricultural department of the Canton Christian college, not only because the Chinese have good faith in us, but because they are demanding a better knowledge of agriculture. The villagers on this island have watched with keen interest what Mr. Groff of the Pennsylvania State mission has done so far in the college gardens. They are amazed when they find that at this time of the year we are able to maintain more than 20 farmers and gardeners upon 15 acres of land and are producing sweet corn, lima beans, papaya, etc., even on our hill land with its cement like soil, and that these things are growing so luxuriously.

"I appreciate my privilege to be with the college and the farmers here. Much more do I appreciate the assistance our American friends are extending to us in such a splendid Christian spirit."

Funeral of Ralph Maddock.

The funeral of Ralph Maddock, the Manhattan boy who died in service at Camp Doniphan, was held at the Methodist church at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The college military cadets accorded the deceased military honors, and the business establishments of the city were closed from 4 to 5 o'clock this evening in honor of Manhattan's first soldier boy to lose his life in the service of his country.

CAFETERIA BAN ON WHEAT

ONLY SUBSTITUTES WILL BE USED IN FOOD FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

Eating House of a State Institution Should Set an Example, Believes Miss Flora Monroe, Manager—Work on Other Grain Mixtures

Not one ounce of wheat flour is to be used in the future in the college cafeteria beginning yesterday, according to Miss Flora Monroe, manager.

"Our plan is to discontinue the use of wheat flour in any form and to educate the people to eat other food in its place," said Miss Monroe. "This being a state institution the cafeteria should set an example by which the people may profit."

"More rice and potatoes will be served hereafter. These two starch foods will make up for the loss of wheat. Corn bread, corn muffins, barley muffins, and all combinations of wheat flour substitutes will be served. More pastries will be made from wheat flour substitutes, such as the flour made from barley, corn, rice potatoes, tapioca, kafir, and oatmeal. Corn starch and rice flour will be used for thickening."

Substitutes Are Scarce

"The big problem now is getting these substitutes in a large enough quantity to meet the demand. By co-operating with the domestic science department, we hope to be able to purchase in large lots."

"Soy bean flour is another new wheat flour substitution used in pastry, but is not used extensively. This is because of the large amount of protein contained in this glutinous bean. When combined in the proper proportion with a starchy flour such as rice, it takes less fat in baking because of the oil."

Wheatless Cost Is High

"It will be an added expense to the cafeteria to bake with these combinations, as the ingredients will require more fat, more salt, and more labor. Twice the amount of labor is required to make a pie crust with these substitute flours, as the crust must be thicker. The pie crust now used is made on a half and half basis of kafir and corn flour."

All cereals such as puffed wheat, breakfast wheats, cream of wheat, breakfast grits, life of wheat and bran and graham flour, which are in the store room of the cafeteria will be sent to the domestic science department to be used in the cooking classes.

"Miss Esther E. Christianson, '08, who is assisting in the domestic science department is now working out many new war recipes to be used in the cafeteria."

FAIRMAN HEADS "K" MEN

Fullback Is New President of Athletic Fraternity

At a recent meeting of the "K" fraternity, the fraternity was reorganized with the following officers in charge, H. Fairman, president; G. W. Hinds, secretary, and J. A. Clarke secretary.

At the time of the last meeting, 8 new members were initiated. The new initiates were C. A. Frankenhoff, J. A. Bogue, G. A. Foltz, C. C. Key, J. F. Eggerman, G. W. Hinds, H. Fairman, and L. A. McGrath. The old members are F. A. Slattery, Gilesc Sullivan, Nathan Harwood, W. R. Eslick, E. R. Frank, E. F. Whedon, Clayton Griffiths, J. A. Clarke, and D. E. MacLeod.

Upon reorganizing the members took immediate steps to become actively connected with the athletic events of the school. A dance, to revive the interest in the organization, is being planned for an early date. Plans for a lounge room next to Coach Cleveland's office have also been discussed.

CADETS HONORED DEAD SOLDIER

Ralph Maddock Was First Manhattan Boy to Die in Service

Members of the reserve officers' training corps assembled in the gymnasium Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m. and marched to the First Methodist church to join with the people of Manhattan in doing honor to Ralph Maddock, the first boy from Manhattan to die in the service. Mr. Maddock died at Camp Doniphan, Okla., last Monday.

DESCRIBES TREES OF AMERICA

"Silva of North America" Title of Valuable Set of Books

A 14-volume set of "Silva of North America" by C. S. Sargent, director of the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard university, has been received by the college library. It gives a description of the trees which grow naturally in North America exclusive of Mexico and is illustrated with 740 plates drawn from nature by C. E. Faxon, botanical artist.

Wytman's "Genera Insectorum" an English publication consisting of 25 volumes of monographs written by noted entomologists, is expected to prove a valuable addition to the scientific books already in the library. A shipment of volumes completing sets in science already owned by the college has also been received.

NOT ONE DEFEAT IN DEBATE

College Split Two Contests and Won All the Rest

The debating season just closed, has been the most successful from the standpoint of debates won, in the history of the college.

The success of the Aggie teams is all the more marked because of the system the college follows of allowing the debaters to participate in but one debate of the season, whereas in other schools and colleges of Kansas, the coach may pick out the best debaters in school and use them in several debates.

The Aggie men divided the first series of debates with Iowa State college, winning here, and losing at Ames. The second debate was the girls' triangular debate between Ottawa, Washburn, and K. S. A. C. The Aggie co-eds won from Washburn and lost to Ottawa. The last series of debates was the men's Pentagonal, in which the local teams won all four decisions.

Another girls debate with Salina Wesleyan college, was scheduled but finally given up.

MISS WOOD BEST SWIMMER

Home Economics Senior Ran Away With Woman's Water Title

The highest number of points in the swimming carnival Friday were won by Miss Eva Wood, senior in home economics. Miss Wood made 57 points, 10 of which will be counted, placed second with 36 points, ed as extra points toward a "K." Miss Bess Gordon, senior in home economics and Miss Jamie Cameron won third place with 30 points to her credit. Miss Cameron is a freshman in home economics.

In stroking for form, Miss Cameron ranked first in the crawl, and Miss Wood ranked first in the side over-arm and back strokes.

One feature of the carnival was the candle relay race. In this two teams of four girls each raced. The swimmers went the length of the pool with a lighted candle in one hand. Every girl was successful in performing this feat.

In the plunge for distance, Miss Wood made the best record, 33 feet. Miss Cameron stood second with a plunge of 30 feet and Miss Gordon placed third with a plunge of 27 feet.

Other exhibition features were rescue work and a stunt, "solid comfort" by Miss Wood. In this she swam with a fan in one hand and a parasol in the other. Mrs. P. Lewis also performed the task of swimming into deep water with clothing on, and removing it while she was in the water.

Fancy diving was the last event of the program, and this would have been entirely successful if the spring board had not broken when the "stand-up-sit-down" dive took place.

Many of the dives were new to all the girls except Miss Wood. She took the lead in all the diving, and did every one successfully. Miss Wood did the forward, right side, back, front dolphin, cartwheel, running somersault, running forward, back-fall, hand spring, swan, stand-up-sit-down, and front jack knife dives.

AGGIES WIN COMMISSIONS

MANY OF MEN IN TRAINING CAMPS HAVE RECEIVED RECOMMENDATIONS

Camp Dodge List Includes the Largest Number of Former Aggie Men, Although Many are Expected When Camp Funston List is Announced

That Aggie men again carried off honors in officer's training camps is indicated in the reports of recommendations for commissions that have been received by friends of men in service.

Ten students who left college this winter to attend the training camp at Camp Funston, and later were transferred to Camp Dodge, Iowa, received commissions. They are:

Edward Q. Perry, 1130 Houston street, field artillery.

Roy M. Phillips, infantry.

Wallace L. Thackrey, infantry.

Wesley G. Bruce, Riley, Kan., infantry.

H. C. Fisher, Lowmont, Kan., infantry.

Ira G. Freeman, Ellsworth, Kan., infantry.

Howard M. Gillespie, Harper, Kan., infantry.

Percy F. Griffin, Nickerson, Kan., infantry.

W. C. McGraw, Lebo, Kan., infantry.

John D. Montague, Anthony, Kan., infantry.

Russell V. Morrison, Sterling, Kan., infantry.

William A. Nye, Belle Plaine, Kan., infantry.

Theodore Yost, La Crosse, Kan., infantry.

From Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., comes the report that John E. Bixby, a student here last year, was recommended. Homer J. Henney's name was among the list of successful candidates announced at the completion of the Camp Doniphan, Okla. school.

The Camp Funston men have not been notified of their luck. There were a number of Aggie men in this course, many of them coming from the ranks, while others were delegated to the camp from college.

CANNOT STAGE "OTHELLO"

Professor Burk, Who Plays Iago, Unable to Take His Part

The Shakespearean play, "Othello," will not be given this spring because Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English, will not be able to take the part of Iago.

Professor Burk is suffering from a severe cold. One of his wisdom teeth was broken by a dentist, and now Mr. Burk cannot talk loud enough to take the part.

It is too late in the semester to get some one else to take the role. Professor Burk wishes to express his regrets at not being able to go on with the play as all the parts were memorized.

HOLD Y. W. SUPPER WEDNESDAY

Cabnets and Hollister Delegates Will Attend

The conference committee of the Y. W. C. A. will hold a May day supper in L-59 Wednesday evening at 5 p. m. Girls who are thinking of going to Hollister for the summer conference have received invitations. Members of the advisory board and the first and second cabinet also will be guests.

The meeting is to give the girls a better idea of what summer conference is like. There will be a program consisting of talks by the students and members of the advisory board.

The following talks will be given: "The Fun I Had in the Ozarks," illustrated with kodak pictures, Miss Helen Stewart, senior in home economics; "Why Go in 1918—Is it Patriotic?" Miss Grace Derby, advisor of the conference committee. "Presenting Summer Conference to Father and Mother in 1918," Mrs. W. W. Ramey, advisor of the finance committee. What Summer Conference has meant to K. S. A. C. girls in the Past," Miss Mildred Inskeep, Y. M. C. A. secretary.

"If any girls who have not signed wish to go to Hollister and will hand their names in at the post office today," said Miss Inskeep. "they will receive invitations to the supper."

'THE BEST EVER MAY FETE'

MISS LORING ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PROGRAM FOR BIG FESTIVAL

Stunts Will be Up-to-date in Every Particular, Even the Selective Draft for Marchers May be Used by Those in Charge

The May Festival program to be given Saturday, May 11, at 5 o'clock will be better and larger than ever before, according to Miss Ethel Loring, in charge of this department of the fete.

The queen is supposed to be the most graceful, most beautiful and strongest woman in her land. Her purpose is to raise the standards of womanhood. Representatives come from other lands, dancers from foreign courts. There will be many flower children.

Queen to Review Troops

The crowning of the May Queen will be a beautiful spectacle. The queen will go to her throne through rows of flower children. When she is crowned, flowers will be thrown about her by the children.

The review of the Queen's royal troops will be the first part of the procession. Placards asking for volunteers will be posted in the girls' gymnasium. If the quota is not filled by volunteers, the Queen may be compelled to resort to the draft, according to Miss Loring.

The dancers will follow the troops in the procession. These dancers will represent foreign courts, and will present Greek, Egyptian, Parisian and American dances. There will be 40 girls in the dances, together with many fairies, elves and flower children.

Then the Poles are Wound

The latter part of the program will be given over to the winding of the May poles. Girls from the various literary societies will take part. These girls are appointed by the society presidents. Altogether several hundred girls will take part in the May festival.

"Each year this all college day for students has been growing in popularity until now it is the most important event of the school year," said Miss Inskeep, who has general supervision. "Due to the spreading popularity of the fete, and the proximity of Camp Funston, one of the largest crowds in the history of the college is expected to be on the campus May 11."

AT RED CROSS WORK AGAIN

College Women Do Not Slacken With Approach of Spring

The report of work done during the past week in the college Red Cross room indicates that the spring days are not doing any mischief and have not succeeded in luring away any of the free will workers.

Beginning with Wednesday morning, the record of the week follows:

Wednesday morning, 11 workers, 185 dressings; Wednesday afternoon, 16 workers, 540 dressings; Thursday morning, 15 workers, 304 dressings; Thursday afternoon, 15 workers, 270 dressings; Friday morning, 10 workers, 261 dressings; Friday afternoon, 5 workers, 261 dressings; Friday evening, 9 workers, 180 dressings; Saturday morning, 11 workers, 300 dressings.

This gives a total of 92 student hours of work and 2,219 completed dressings for the four days.

MISS BARKER'S STORY WON

"A Meatless Tuesday" Judged Best in Quill Contest

Miss Ivy Barker, sophomore in industrial journalism, was awarded first place in this year's Quill club short story contest. The subject of Miss Barker's story is "A Meatless Tuesday."

Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Lush, junior in agriculture took second place and Coleman McCampbell, also junior in agriculture, took third place.

The judges were Charles Dillon, managing editor of the Capper farm publications; H. W. Davis, associate professor of English in the college; and Mrs. Elizabeth Maclean, assistant professor of English.

The Quill contest is held on once a year and is open to any student in college.

SENIORS! IMPORTANT MEETING

Surprise and Mystery on Tonight's Class Meeting Program

Something mysterious is planned for the senior class meeting in F-2 tonight. It is rumored among the most active members of the class. At least J. E. DuBois, president of the class, called The Collegian office on the phone last night and excitedly dictated commands to every up-and-awake senior.

"We want everyone out, for this is mighty important business," were "Duby's" words. "Momentum matters are to be decided."

The senior executive was reticent and refused to advance any information as to the nature of the surprise.

REED IS DAIRY COMMISSIONER

Professor of Dairy Husbandry Honored by the State

O. E. Reed, professor of dairy husbandry has been appointed state dairy commissioner to succeed George S. Hine, who recently resigned.

This appointment is an important one for the college as it consolidates the office of the state dairy commissioner with the dairy department of the college.

Professor Reed has been professor of dairy husbandry here since 1911.

CALL IN AS ACTING DEAN

Professor of Agronomy Temporarily in Doctor Jardine's Place

L. E. Call, professor of agronomy has been chosen by the board of administration as acting dean of the division of agriculture and acting director of the college experiment station.

The appointment was made at a meeting of the board on April 17, the office to become officially effective May 1.

Dean Call, who has been associated with the college since 1907, was selected as the most efficient man to fill the position made vacant by the election of Dr. Wm. M. Jardine as president of the college.

Professor Call was assistant in agronomy here in 1907-08; assistant professor of soils 1908-11; associate professor of soils 1911-13; and professor of agronomy from 1913 until his recent appointment as acting dean of the division of agriculture. Acting Dean Call received his degree of bachelor of science in agriculture from Ohio State university in 1906.

MIMICKED A NEGRO WEDDING

Brownings and Athenians Played Before Funston Soldiers

The Athenian Literary society, assisted by members from the Brownings Literary society, put on a negro wedding farce at two of the Y. M. C. A. huts at Camp Funston, Friday night.

The members who took part in the farce are Miss Allene Lemon, Miss Ethel Mitchell, Miss Mattie Washburn, Miss Elva Price, Turner Barker, G. M. Brown, R. W. McCall, M. G. Cary, Frank Collins, and Ray Watson. Miss Grace E. Derby, assistant librarian went as chaperon. The Athenians are planning on putting on this farce several times at the camp.

OFFERS SPECIAL WAR COURSE

College Home Economics Department Offers Instruction

A special war course is being offered to communities over the state by the home economics department of the extension division in the agricultural college.

Instruction will be given in methods of saving wheat, sugar, and meat. The course will be an extension school and will consist largely of demonstrations. Representatives of the extension division will spend one week or three days in each community according to the time requested.

AID COMMUNITY WAR WORK

Extension Division Plans New Kind of Assistance

The home economics department of the extension division is offering a special war course to various communities over the state. Instruction will be given in methods of saving wheat, fat, sugar and meat.

The course will be in the nature of an extension school and will consist largely of demonstrations. Representatives of the extension division will spend one week or three days in each community asking for this instruction.

WORK HARD FOR K. U. MEET

SCHULTZ ATHLETES BEGINNING TO BELIEVE THEY HAVE GOOD CHANCE

Weather Last Week Kept Runners Indoor Much of the Time, but Good Workouts This Week are Expected to Condition Tracksters

If hard and consistent work, together with a determination to win, have anything to do with capturing a track meet, the Aggies will have a fine chance of winning from the Kansas Jayhawkers Friday.

Although the disagreeable weather last week kept the track men from getting out much, and kept the track in a heavy condition all of the time, the men are enthusiastically making up for lost time in their practices inside.

"Germany" has one new addition to his squad. Talley, a weights man who enlisted in the coast artillery last fall and was permitted to re-enter college this spring, showed up Monday for the first time this year. With Converse putting the shot at a good rate, and showing up well in the discus, the Aggies have a couple of formidable weight men. Converse is much improved over his form in the indoor meet, and unless Haddock of K. U. is going mighty strong, the shot put may be a good eight points for the Aggies.

Both Kniseley and Sheldler have been performing in good style in the dashes, and "Germany" is depending upon them to add a considerable number of points to the Aggie totals when they go against the Red and Blue. Barnes, in the 140-yard dash, is running a consistent race in good time, and is improving right along. The prospects all around are better now than they ever were, according to the way "Germany" Schulz looks at matters, and he says the Aggies expect to run the Lawrence men a mighty close race.

K. U. has two winners in the Penn University games on their squad now Rice and Haddock. Rice won first in the high jump, going 5 feet 11 3-4 inches. This is not as good as he made in the indoor meet here, so the Schulz men don't fear him any more now than they did. Haddock, who is following in the tracks of his brother, the famous "Cupid" Haddock, was third in the pentathlon games at the same meet.

TWO MORE PHI KAPPA PHIS

Miss Frances Perry and B. F. Barnes Were Elected

Two names of members elected to Phi Kappa Phi were omitted from the list read in general assembly last week, and published in The Collegian last Tuesday.

Miss Frances Perry and Benjamin F. Barnes, both seniors in general science, were elected to membership in the fraternity, but their names were left out of the list by mistake.

CITY TO WORK WITH FARM

More Co-operation, Not More Organization, the Need, Says Visitor

Not more organization but closer co-operation of farm and city organizations already existing is the essential feature in building up a community, as presented by Frank B. White of Chicago, managing director of the Agricultural Publisher's association who addressed students and faculty of the Kansas State Agricultural college Monday morning on "Community and Business Building."

"The failure in building up community life lies in the failure of organizations to co-operate," said Mr. White. "The town is the natural commercial trade centers means much to those persons whose homes make up its neighborhood. A prosperous community means much to its trading center."

"The problem of community building is that of coupling together city and country life. It is the problem of building up business that will return satisfaction and will be a service to the neighborhood."

A trained citizenship is needed in building up the community, according to Mr. White. The college student is the citizen of his community who is expected to render a service to that community. It is his duty to spread the ideal of community life—to work to bring the farmer and merchant together for the betterment of the community.

CONGRATULATIONS, FELLOWS

Once more Aggie men have acquitted themselves well. From training camps in every part of the country come reports that graduates and former students of K. S. A. C. have been recommended for commissions.

It's mighty good work, fellows. Competing with men who had been in the ranks for months; you fought your way into the upper stratum in each list of recommendations.

You had again shown that college men are leaders. We who are "staying by the stuff" are proud of you, and many of us hope and expect to be with you before long.

Written by a Freshman

Walter Neibarger

Those German "long dogs" are another reason why Germany should be licked. A dog has no business with a stomach four feet long.

War headline: "Nearly got kaiser. British bombed Zeppelins while SINKER was there."

An eastern front dispatch says, "More Huns are going West." We're willin'.

The Germans don't care how ugly they are, just so they are efficient. Now they are going to make every Hun grow whiskers because they're such good filters.

Gradually this country is getting the war spirit. The fish in a lake down a Emmett chased a German carp out of the lake.

Modern Tragedy Averted.

Dear Newspaper: "I am 16 and a young man is coming to see me. My mother thinks it is all right to let him. She says he can stay until 10 o'clock. What shall I do if it gets to be 10 o'clock and he doesn't go? My mother says she will tell him, but I don't want her to, because I am afraid he will never come again.—Sweet Sixteen." Answer—Your mother can tell the boy. If you want to, however, you can save him the embarrassment by telling him yourself.

At Camp Funston the men have arranged a plan whereby they subscribe so much to the Red Cross every time one of the men says "damn," or worse ruggin'. We know one man who would support an ambulance all by himself.

A cabaret singer in Chicago on trial for shooting a man, said he kissed her 10,000 times. The man was a veterinarian.

The kaiser may be able to glower at American brigadier generals when he meets them face to face, and scare them to death, but it is our fondest desire to be present when he tries it on a real, insolent, democratic American corporal.

TRI-K'S ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Fred Griffie is President of Agricultural Fraternity

The Tri-K's at their regular meeting Thursday evening elected the following officers for next year: Fred Griffie, president; V. S. Crippen, vice president; E. S. Lyons, treasurer; W. W. Bell, secretary and Miss Clare Higgins, sergeant-at-arms.

Bacteriologist Writes Paper

P. L. Gainey, soil bacteriologist in the Agricultural Experiment station, has submitted a preliminary paper on Soil Reaction and the Growth of Azotobacter to the Journal of Agricultural Research.

ON THE INSIDE AT FUNSTON

AGGIE GIRLS TOURED THROUGH BAKERIES AND LAUNDRIES

Special Cars Met Party at Station and Carried Members Through the Big Camp

The lunch room and institutional classes in home economics made a trip to Camp Funston Friday. They were met at the station by five special cars and escorted to various parts of the army camp.

Among the many places of interest visited by the classes was the refrigerating plant which has an ice capacity of one ton an hour. This plant at the time, contained 500,000 pounds of meat besides other food material. The warehouses, the most interesting of which was the potato house containing one car load a day was visited. The laundry, with equipment costing $300,000, is the finest equipped in this part of the state. Here the girls spent much time exploring among a sea of machines.

Approaching the bakery the girls enjoyed that long sought for odor of freshly baked white bread which is such a thing of the past in civilian life. Twenty-five barrels of white flour is used here each day.

The garbage plant and salvage department where Uncle Sam recovers thousands of dollars each month thru fats, fertilizers, scrap iron and junk of all kinds, held many curious points of interest.

The girls visited 20 different places at the army camp without tiring, due to the splendid management of the attendants. The party was given free excess to the Zone where the members had lunch.

Chaperones were Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, Miss Margaret Haggart, Miss Lenore Richards and Miss Josephine Leverett.

"Y's" IN EXCHANGE MEETINGS

President Jardine is Y. W. Speaker Thursday

Pres. Jardine will talk at Y. W. C. A. meeting Thursday at 5 o'clock. The meeting Thursday at 5 o'clock. The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. will preside. The meeting will be in L-59 because of the art exhibit which is in the domestic science room.

Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile will speak Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium at 7:15 o'clock. Miss Jessie McD Machir, president of the Y. M. C. A. advisory board, will preside. Mrs. W. W. Ramey and Mrs. J. V. Cortlyou, members of the Y. W. advisory board will have charge of devotions. Music will be furnished by Miss Mildred Inskeep, Y. W. C. A. secretary, and the Y. W. octette.

This is the exchange meeting between the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. which is held every year. Last year talks were given on the ideal man and the ideal girl.

Miss Curry's Recital Postponed
The recital which was to have been given by Miss Bess Curry Monday evening has been postponed indefinitely on account of the illness of Miss Patricia Abernathy, who was to have accompanied Miss Curry.

BUY MOST THRIFT STAMPS

Agriculturists Are First and Second in Campaign

Reports so far completed from the divisional societies show that the division of agriculture up to April 15 with 226 members had sold 1332 thrift stamps, this being almost exactly half of the total amount of these stamps sold on the campus up to that date.

The division of extension with 59 members reports $643.87 worth of Thrift and War Savings stamps purchased by the 22 members reporting up to April 23. Reports are incomplete so far because members of societies are slow about reporting their purchases to captains and secretaries. The total number of thrift stamps sold by campus agencies up to last Thursday afternoon was more than 2800.

A considerable number of the War Savings stamps or Baby Bonds are being reported purchased in all divisions. The total of these already runs into thousands of dollars.

The School of Agriculture probably is a good second to the division of agriculture in the Thrift Stamp drive.

Delta Zeta Spring Dance

Delta Zeta fraternity entertained with its annual spring party Friday evening at the chapter house.

Fraternity colors, old rose and Nile green, with spring blossoms were used profusely in the house decorations and the veranda was heavily screened with bowers of shrubbery and vines. A feature of the evening was the Delta Zeta Rose dance so uniquely rendered by little Miss Arleen Wilson. Small colored sacks of rice were distributed during the intermission which at the conclusion of the dance were showered upon Lieut. and Mrs. Roy Haage, who were recently married.

Out of town guests were Miss Izell Polson and Miss Carrie Moody of Kearney, Neb., Miss Bens Sloan of Salina, Miss Odette Harness of Kansas City, Mo., Miss Thekla Houston, of Topeka, Lieutenant and Mrs. Roy Haage, Mr. Donald Droll of Lawrence, Mr. Wells of Fort Riley, and Captain Strutz of Camp Funston.

Sigma Phi Delta Dance

Sigma Phi Delta fraternity was host Saturday evening at a formal spring party at the Elk's hall. The decorations were in floral designs, potted plants, carnations and ferns being used. Punch was served from a huge cake of ice hollowed out in the form of a bowl decorated with frozen panicles and ferns.

The dance was chaperoned by Prof. A. M. Paterson and Mrs. Paterson and Dr. W. L. Henderson and Mrs. Henderson. Manhattan guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Durham. Out of town guests were Lieut. John W. Rawlins, of Camp Funston; Lieut. J. L. Blacklock, Camp Funston; Lieut. and Mrs. Grant M. Webster, Lieut. Ralph B. Thomas, Lieut. Richard C. Jones, of Camp Funston; Jack Harris of Camp Funston, Lieut. Chester Smith, of Camp Funston, Mr. H. H. James of Concordia, Mr. C. D. Thomas of Concordia, Mr. C. P. Hultgren of Topeka, Mr. G. W. Coraine of Wichita, Mr. Harry Beaudette and Mr. Ray Hoover of Wichita.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sunday dinner guests at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house were Miss Alice Skinner and Lieutenant and Mrs. Paul Alexander.

Mr. Harrison Brookover, a senior in college, who has been at his home in Eureka for the last three weeks will return to college Wednesday.

Saturday evening dinner guests were Lieutenants Frank Jacques, Jack Walsh and Fred Burger of Camp Funston.

Mr. W. S. Blakely of Fort Riley was a week end guest at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house.

Sigma Nu

Sunday dinner guests at the Sigma Nu house were Doctor and Mrs. Lucien Hobbs of Wichita, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Haymaker, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brewer, Mr. J. G. Emerson of Camp Dodge, Iowa, Mr. Kenneth Keys of Wichita, Mr. Robert Hanna of Mankato, Mr. Clyde Keys and Professor A. E. Westbrook.

Lieut. Fred Finger of Camp Funston and Lieut. O. A. Kelly of Fort Riley were Saturday evening guests.

Mr. Ellet Robinson, who has been confined in the hospital for the last two weeks is recovering rapidly and will soon be in college again.

Mr. Robert Hanna, who is awaiting a call into aviation service is visiting at the Sigma Nu house.

Lieut. Wayne Hackett and Lieut. Fred Finger of Camp Funston were Friday night guests.

Mrs. H. J. Waters Entertains

Among the pleasant social events of the college season was the formal dance given Friday evening at Harrison's hall, in honor of Mr. Jack Waters and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, at which Mrs. H. J. Waters was hostess.

Decorations were particularly pretty and in keeping with the spirit of the times. Patriotic designs, flags and ferns were in abundance. Refreshments were likewise in patriotic colors. Four favor dances were features of the evening and Twitchell's orchestra from Camp Funston furnished especially beautiful music.

Shamrock

Mr. Robert Burns, former student in college, spent the week end at the Shamrock house.

Lieut. C. O. Braden of Camp Funston and Mr. Ross Hill were Sunday dinner guests.

Mr. L. E. Stange spent the week end at his home in Riley.

Mr. Frank Randals and Mr. H. Zimmerman who are ill with scarlet fever, are recovering rapidly.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Sunday dinner guests of Pi Kappa Alpha were Mrs. Mary P. Van Zilo, Mrs. F. Van Vleith, and Doctor and Mrs. J. E. Ackert.

Week end guests were Sergeant John Fredenburg of Camp Pike, Ark., and Lieut. Mark Terry of Camp Funston.

Mr. Hobart Commack, former student in college and Pi Kappa Alpha pledge, left last week for Chicago, where he will enter the hospital unit of the naval training station.

Mr. Glen Lee and Mrs. Vernon Barber of Glen Elder were mid-week guests at the Pi Kappa Alpha house.

Mr. Lowell Kelly spent the week end in Whitecloud, where he attended the graduation services of his sister.

Alpha Theta Chi

The Alpha Theta Chi fraternity entertained with a house dance Friday evening.

Mr. Bruce Hutchings spent the week end at his home in Ellsworth.

Sunday dinner guests of Alpha Theta Chi were Miss Martha Borthwick, Miss Consuelo Bullock and Sergeant Ones of Camp Funston.

Gillette safety Razor

The Gillette is the Service Razor

UNCLE SAM wants his boys to be comfortable—healthy men and healthy surroundings—alert, set-up, fit, and clean shaved.

Trim, time-saving men in every branch of the Service—have tested out all the razors there are—and settled on the Gillette.

In nearly four years of the Great War the Gillette has made good with every shaving problem a man can put up to it—met every condition of face and skin—delivered the velvet-smooth shave in the worst possible conditions.

It's always on the job—with hot or cold water—in cold or hot weather.

It's the razor that ten million up-and-coming men—the men who are doing the big things in all parts of the world—find 100% dependable.

Hundreds of thousands of fighting men who know the value of time, comfort, and soldierly appearance won't have any other razor.

Blades are always sharp—always ready. No strops or hones to clutter up the kit. It can be tucked away in the breast pocket, the pack, or the ditty box. No Stropping—No Honing.

Have you seen the New Gillettes specially designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against.

Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

ALPHA DELTA IN NEW HOUSE

Sorority Now Located North of Y. M. C. A. Building

The Alpha Delta PIs are now installed in their new home at 519 North Eleventh Street, just north of the Y. M. C. A. building. They moved during the week end.

For three years the sorority has been located at 1301 Poyntz Avenue. The new home has been completely remodeled. Hard wood floors have been laid throughout the entire house and the interior redecorated and repainted. Several sleeping porches have been added. The grounds which surround the house are to be 'landscaped' by M. F. Ahearn, professor of landscape gardening.

PRESENT PLAYS AT FUNSTON

SOCIETIES WILL ENTERTAIN FOR SOLDIERS

Y. W. C. A. Social Service Committee In Charge of Important Camp Work

The social service committee of the Y. W. C. A. has been reorganized for the coming year with Miss Greta Grames, junior in home economics as chairman. It is now working on its first piece of service. Mrs. W. M. Jardine is the advisor of the committee.

Many calls have been sent from Camp Funston to the association for talent, and there has been no organized committee to take charge of this work. The social service committee was organized with this as its purpose and its members are representatives from every organization on the hill.

P. F. Smith of the headquarters staff of the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Funston attended the last meeting of the committee to see if the entertainments which had been submitted were of the type needed in the work at the camp.

The entertainments reported at the meeting were a stunt "Raggy Town" by the Alpha Delta Pi sorority, a farce "Just Back From the Philippines" by the Alpha Beta Literary society, a farce by the Ionian Literary society, a pianist, reader and soloist from the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, a group for prelude work and a Ukelele Glee club by the Eurodephian literary society, a group for solo and duet work by the Delta Delta Delta sorority, a play by the Franklin Literary society, a group of five for reading and singing by the Delta Zeta sorority and a group of twelve which includes a girls quartet, reader and an original farce.

The Pi Beta Phi sorority has one group consisting of reader, violinist, and soloist, and another group which will present the "Cuisine Band" which was put on this winter at the Pi Phi Chi Omega entertainment. The Y. W. C. A. octette, assisted by Miss Katharine Kimmel, instructor of voice in the department of music, is also prepared to give a program.

Some of the programs of the literary societies had already been organized by Walter Burr of the extension division.

FRESHMEN GIRLS WON MEET

Yearlings Ran Away in Indoor Carnival

Freshmen girls were winners in the annual athletic carnival last Saturday night. Three events were judged, marching tactics and drill, apparatus including flank vault over the horse and high jump, and track relay.

The sophomores scored 10 points in marching tactics, but were swamped by the freshmen co-eds in apparatus work. In the flank vault the freshmen won 10 points. In the high jump they had 259 points against the sophomores 186 points. The freshmen cleared the bar at the greatest height—four feet and six inches—which gave them an additional 10 points.

In the last event the track relay, the freshmen were again the winners. It was a nine lap race and was run in 2:35 minutes.

The points considered by the judges were posture, quickness of response to commands, co-ordination and rhythm. The meet was competitive between the freshmen and sophomore classes, 60 girls from each class taking part.

This contest represented the physical work of the two lower classes during the winter. The emphasis of training is not placed as much on muscular strength as on bodily vigor, a strong heart, development of active breathing habits, good posture, grace and bodily control.

In addition to the work exhibited Saturday night, the girls have basketball, base ball, tennis, field hockey and swimming.

GIVES AID TO TRAVELERS

Aggie Student Has no Police Work, She Says

Mrs. Anne S. Davis, who withdrew from college to undertake local welfare work, denies emphatically that she is a woman cop, as reported.

Mrs. Davis explains that she is an authorized representative of the Travelers' Aid Society, which undertakes no police duty. Her mission is to assist and advise women and girls who are traveling. She meets the trains and has already been of much service.

The expense of Mrs. Davis' work is met by the city and by the Manhattan Welfare association.

WANT A COLLEGE HOSPITAL

SENIORS DIG UP A LEGACY AND PROPOSE TO USE THE MONEY

Amount Provided For In the Will is Not Known Nor are Provisions For Its Use, But Upperclassmen are on Trail of a Clue

Proceedings for the erection of a hospital on the college campus were instituted by the Class of 1918 at a meeting held in F-3 Tuesday night. The hospital if built, will be used by students and faculty.

The plan was taken up after the seniors had learned that a legacy of $20,000 or $25,000 had been left to the college by a person named Wilson for the purpose of erecting a memorial. A committee was appointed to look up the details and petition the president of the college and the board of administration for the hospital.

Exact information concerning this fund has not yet been obtained by the committee. The legacy is known to exist but it has not been learned whether any recent provision for disposition has been made.

Committee Favors Move

The faculty committee on student health endorse the action of the class as does also the students' council. Other organizations will be asked to support the movement when it is officially learned that disposition has not been made by the board.

"More than 50 per cent of the time lost by students due to sickness, said Dr. C. M. Siever, college physician, is caused by carelessness and improper attention." "This could be reduced to a minimum a hospital where proper attention could be given the case."

Doctor Seiver, with the unanimous vote of the committee on student health, has recommended the disposition of the Wilson fund for a hospital.

The legacy has existed for several years. It seems that there is a clause stipulating that the money be used for a building. But after several attempts to draw out the money, the attorney general has ruled that the president of the college and the board of administration may use the legacy as they see fit.

In either case the hospital plan would agree with the terms of the will it is thought.

President Jardine said yesterday afternoon that he knew nothing of the plan.

TALK UP Y. W. CONFERENCE

Women Who Plan to go to Hollister Guests of Association

The conference committee of the Y. W. C. A. held a May day supper Wednesday evening in L-59 for the girls who are planning to go to Hollister for the summer conference. Members of the advisory board also were guests.

The room was decorated with lilacs and the supper was served in wicker baskets to carry out the idea of the first of May. Talks were given by students and members of the advisory board.

Miss Helen Stewart, senior in home economics, gave a talk on "Fun I had in the Ozarks." Miss Stewart told some interesting experiences which the girls had last summer. The talk was illustrated with kodak pictures.

Miss Grace Derby, advisor of the conference committee, talked on "Why go in 1918—is it Patriotic?" Miss Derby mentioned many reasons why girls should go this summer.

"Because of the present conditions stronger and more forceful lives are needed," said Miss Derby. "The conference is a splendid place to get this vitality which is so greatly needed."

Miss Mildred Inskeep, Y. W. C. A. secretary, then talked on "What summer conference has meant to K. S. A. C. girls in the past and what it will mean this year."

"There is one thing in this war which we cannot Hooverize on, and that is ideals," said Miss Inskeep. "The Y. W. C. A. needs the inspiration which the girls get at the summer conference. If the girls will go they will bring back an inspiration which will help to be met next fall."

APRIL WAS A COLD MONTH

Weather Records Were Broken in the Period Just Passed

April broke weather records for that month for several years. In the first place it was the coldest April since 1907, by 3.16 degrees. The average temperature for the month was 49 degrees. The average for the last 60 years is 52.3. The average maximum for April was 61.2 and the average minimum was 36.8. The average for the 60 years previous was 70 and 42.6.

The highest temperature for the month was 76. This is the only time on record which has not had at least one day warmer except 1867, when the warmest day was 75.

The rainfall for the month was 4.6 inches. The general average for April is 2.53. This brings the total rainfall for the year up to 6.93 inches, which is .67 inch more than the average for the last 60 years.

The 8-inch snow which was recorded on April 20 is the heaviest fall ever reported so late in the season. The next heaviest snow was May 3, 1907, when 1.5 inches was shown. Light frosts were also reported April 29 and 30 but no damage was done to fruit.

TO TELL OF FAR FAR NORTH

Doctor Tanquary Scheduled For Interesting Chapel Talk

"Experiences in the Far North" will be the subject of the illustrated chapel address by Dr. M. C. Tanquary, assistant professor of entomology Monday.

The most northern home of man—civilized or uncivilized—was that of Doctor Tanquary during the years he lived in northern Greenland as zoologist for the Crocker Land expedition from 1913 to 1916. The leader of this expedition of seven men had been with Admiral Perry on his trip to the north pole.

Many of the views which Doctor Tanquary will show are from photographs which he took of animals in the far north and of Eskimos, showing their habits of living, hunting implements and their summer and winter homes.

Various trips for purposes of exploration and scientific study were made, on some of which the men would be gone for three months during which time they lived in snow houses or tents, getting their living in large measure from the animals of the country through which they were traveling. Traveling was altogether by means of sledges and dog teams. Eskimos serving as guides and as dog drivers.

The sealing ship which took the party of seven men north in 1912 and left them with a supply of food, was expected to return for them in two years. When the relief ship failed to reach them in 1915, three members of the party, including Doctor Tanquary, sledged down the coast of Greenland a distance of more than 1300 miles. In order to send news of their welfare to the people at home and in order to secure another relief ship. The second ship also failed to reach the men because of bad ice conditions and a third ship, commanded by Captain Bartlett, formerly captain of Admiral Perry's ship, "The Roosevelt," on his trip to the north pole, was sent out. This ship reached the men.

Melrose Canary Bell Won Honors For Dairy Department

The dairy department has just received a silver loving cup, awarded through the Ayshire Breeding association to Melrose Canary Bell, a two-year old Ayshire, who made the best record in the world in her class in 1917.

NEW RULES FOR CAFETERIA

ONLY PERSONS CONNECTED WITH COLLEGE TO EAT ON HILL NOW

President Jardine Announces That Coming of 250 Soldiers For Training Will Tax Eating Facilities—Remodel Kedzie Hall

Only persons connected with the college will be permitted to eat at the college cafeteria after Friday, May 10, Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the college, announced yesterday. Arrangements have been completed for the housing and feeding of the 250 soldiers who are to be given courses in the college shops beginning on May 15.

Three of the rooms on the second floor of Kedzie hall are being remodeled to accommodate the soldiers at meal time. Food will be sent up from the cafeteria kitchen below.

The soldiers will sleep in the college gymnasium, for a time at least. President Jardine's order follows: "On and after May 10, only students, faculty members, and employees of the college will be permitted to take meals at the college cafeteria."

"The government has arranged to station a group of 250 soldiers at the college beginning May 15 for an eight week's course in engineering. Other groups may follow indefinitely. It is required that these men be housed and fed on the campus."

"The facilities of the college cafeteria have been overtaxed for some time in handling the increasing number of visitors who have taken advantage of the opportunity to secure high class food at low prices. Upon the coming of the soldiers, it will be impossible to serve longer any but those connected with the college."

"This is regretted very much. It is felt, however, that in consideration of the opportunity which has come to the college to render a patriotic and important service to the country, citizens of Manhattan and community will appreciate the situation and extend their hearty cooperation."

W. M. Jardine, President. "While the cafeteria room probably could handle the large crowds which eat there now, kitchen facilities will not permit of the feeding of as many persons as have been eating on the hill, President Jardine said yesterday."

HAVE PLAYED FIRST ROUND

Co-ed Tennis Athletes Nearly Ready for Second Series

The preliminaries of the girls' tennis tournament are now well under way, as winners have been reported for all except five of the matches.

The college courts are being used extensively this year by the tournament players and are occupied continually after class hours. Competition for the courts is keen and audiences are more frequent than last year. The preliminaries that have been played so far have been fast games as some of the best of the K. S. A. C. players have been up against each other in these first matches. The results so far stand:

Ruby Canady and Mary Gorham, yet to play.

Edna Chapin won from Dorothy Skinner, 6-0, 6-4.

Elizabeth Greenlee won from Elma Stewart, 6-1, 7-5.

Ruth Goodrum won from Lillian Gates by default.

Martha Baird won from Esther Joss, 6-3, 6-2.

Verla Dahnke won from Clementine Paddelford, by default.

Hettie Carris and Cecelia Lorraine, yet to play.

Addie Sandman won from Opha Babb, by default.

Bess Gordon won from Ruth Ghormley, 6-0, 6-0.

Elsie Cuthbert won from Edith Wakefield, by default.

Margaret Etzold and Letta Lisk, yet to play.

Effie Witham and Mary Romig, yet to play.

Grace Gish won from Ruth Romig, by default.

Bethel Nelson won from Fay Cheesman, 6-1, 6-1.

Ruth Thomas won from Evelyn Beckett, 6-2, 6-1.

The second series of the contest is to be played off by May 5, the third by May 10, the fourth or semi-finals by May 14, and the finals by May 17.

WOMEN MUST BE LEADERS

PRESIDENT JARDINE MAKES PLAIN THE DUTY OF THE COLLEGE GIRL

Training Here Should Aim Towards More Efficient Service in the World, Executive Says—Students Must Enter into College Activities

That upon the co-operation of the womanhood of the country largely depends the outcome of the war was brought home to his hearers by President Jardine in his address to the large audience in the Y. W. C. A. rest room for the annual exchange meeting between the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. yesterday evening.

"As you go forth from the college this summer, you go out as leaders. If you have not trained yourselves to be leaders, then the college has failed in its mission, and the large sums of money spent by the state are unjustified. You show by your presence here and by your work in this association that you are recognizing your splendid opportunities for training in leadership."

"Your splendid work of the last year shows that you realize what you are in college for—the training that makes for more efficient service in the world."

Activities Are Necessary

President Jardine made clear that the training that comes through participation in activities such as the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., the literary societies, and clubs is more likely to function in the lives of the students than the knowledge which they derive from books alone. This is because these activities give the opportunity of putting into practice what is learned at college.

"The college curriculum," said President Jardine, "furnishes the plan whereby you can be kept busy while here, and at the same time teach you how to work systematically, to establish good and regular habits. It is the writing of essays, speaking before audiences, that teach you, what you are capable of performing. Those who go out from the college without identifying themselves with such organizations as the Y. W. C. A., the Red Cross and kindred associations are getting only the minor part of college life."

A note of warning and a word of council was given by the president to the girls of the college in regard to the attitude manifested toward the soldiers at Camp Funston. Doctor Jardine said that the situation, which is a serious one here is to be met and solved by the girls themselves.

"Treat these boys from Funston as you would any gentleman. I believe in American manhood and womanhood, and know that you can master the situation here."

President Jardine closed his talk with a special appeal to the seniors who go out to serve as leaders in their communities.

PLAN TO QUARTER SOLDIERS

Repair Department to Add To Two Buildings

The general repair department is making plans for fitting up work rooms, quarters, and a drilling hall for the soldiers who are to be quartered here this summer.

An extension is to be made on the west end of the machine shops for the benefit of the soldiers. An automobile laboratory is to be fitted up above the engine room.

The department is contemplating the building of barracks later on. In the meantime the gymnasium will be fitted up as sleeping quarters. The two west rooms in the second story of Kedzie hall will be used as a dining room.

The cafeteria is to be improved by the building of a 16 by 50 foot porch on the west side.

The two small windows in Room 56 and the chimney will be removed in order to provide space for a dumbwaiter, and the counter in the north end of the room. A modern dishwasher will also be installed for use both upstairs and downstairs in the cafeteria.

The cafeteria will be closed from Friday evening until Tuesday morning at breakfast in order that these repairs may be made. The classes which have been meeting in rooms 56 and 57 are now meeting on the second floor in Anderson hall.

TO ELECT 1918-19 OFFICERS

Theta Sigma Phi Will Meet Monday Evening

Theta Sigma Phi will elect officers for next year at the meeting Monday evening. A program providing for the work next year will be adopted. Each girl will read a paper on Hooverizing. The chapter will then take a vote and the paper that wins will be sent to the Matrix, the national publication.

At the last meeting Miss Velma Carson, the delegate to the national convention at Lawrence, gave her report.

"CUISINE BAND" AT FUNSTON

Phi Phi's Entertained Soldiers in Y. M. Buildings

Fifteen members of the Phi Beta Phi sorority went to Camp Funston Wednesday evening and gave their musical entertainment, the "Cuisine Band," at one of the Y. M. C. A. huts.

The program included new popular airs, a medley of old southern melodies and the grand finale of selections from "The Chocolate Soldier." Miss Ada Dykes gave several readings and Miss Helen Carysle some selections on the violin.

TO TRAIN WITH DIVISIONS

New Officers' Schools A Part of Formed Military Units

Men selected to attend the fourth officers' training school from educational institutions will be assigned to training schools in certain designated divisions, instead of separate camps as heretofore, according to information received from the war department by Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, commandant.

The training school will be an integral part of the division and will move with the division. It is probable that some of the divisions will be moved before the training school course is completed, and in such cases it is expected that the school will be continued at a later date.

When the division is ordered to move and it becomes necessary to discontinue the school courses all men attending will be expected to serve as enlisted men in the division until such time as the training school course is resumed.

The war department requests that the names of students showing special aptitude for military service at the time of their graduation be sent to the adjutant general of the army, and also to the adjutant general of the state of which the student is a resident. Commissions will be issued to members of the reserve officers' training corps by Captain O'Neill, Monday morning.

The schedule of drill for Monday morning begins with battalion parade and inspection from 8 to 9 o'clock. The first battalion will report to class rooms for examination on Moss's manual, paragraphs 24 to 194, from 9 to 10 o'clock. From 10 to 11 o'clock Company A will report to Col. Fred Carp for instruction in intrenchments. Companies B and C will go through the setting up exercises and drill in the school of the company.

The second battalion will follow the same schedule except that Company D will report to Colonel Carp at 9 o'clock and examination will be held from 10 to 11 o'clock. Company E will report to the rifle range at 8 o'clock.

BUY 1,000 THRIFT STAMPS

Agricultural Students Best Purchasers, Report Shows

Nearly 1,500 thrift stamps have been sold by captains in the division of agriculture. This does not include many stamps which students purchased at the postoffice and did not report to the captains.

"New captains with plenty of energy may be selected for the freshmen and sophomores, as they are not buying many stamps," said M. Sewell, in charge of the campaign in the division of agriculture.

IN TRENCHES IN FRANCE

R. R. Hinde, Former Student, Overseas Since January

Malcom Sewell, instructor in soils has received a card from R. R. Hinde, formerly a sophomore in agriculture, who is with the American army in France. Hinde writes that he has been in the trenches but is all right so far. He enlisted in the signal corps last April and has been in France since January 21, where he is stationed in Company C, First Field Signal battery.

DOPE CLOSE ON K. U. MEET

VISITORS GIVEN A SLIGHT EDGE, BUT SCHULZ MEN HAVE A GOOD CHANCE

Aggies Are Strong in the Distance Runs, and are Expected to Capture Three Firsts in Those Events "Germany" Has a Dark Horse

DOPE SHEET

At last the test has come. The Aggies will have a chance today to revenge themselves for the defeat administered by the ravaging Jayhawkers in the indoor track meet last February.

According to the dope, however, the Jayhawkers have a slight edge over the Schulz men, but this is only on paper. The hurdles are an unknown quantity. Neither Works nor Patton for the Aggies have run the outdoor hurdles in a meet, but the Kansas entry is inexperienced in going over the sticks in an outdoor event also, so it is a toss-up as to who will win. Works and Patton both have been taking the hurdles in good time, and "Germany" Schulz is figuring that they will break into the count.

Figuring on the placing in the indoor meet, the visitors should win firsts in the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, but it is possible that Knisley and Scheidler can do better on the longer dashes than on the 35-yard indoor dash.

Beckett a Good Bet

In the 880-yard run, the Aggies have a fairly sure first. It was only the worst of luck that kept Beckett from winning in the indoor meet. Captain Murphy was completely outclassed. Beckett's fall being the only thing that gave the Kansas man the race. Since going on the outdoor track, Beckett has bettered this time, and is running a winning race.

Eggerman, in the mile run, is also counted upon as a sure first place winner. He has been running an unusually strong race all spring, and proved in the last K. U. meet, that there was no Jayhawk that could touch him in the mile. "Germany" may also enter Eggerman in the 220 in order to warm him up for the mile, and at the same time, win a few more points.

Confidence in Foreman

Foreman, who is conceded the two mile run, is one of the best long distance runners the Aggies have turned out in some time. He has the endurance to run two or three two-mile races in one day. This endurance, coupled with his usual sprint at the start, makes him a sure winner in his event.

"Germany" is depending upon "Jack" Frost, the diminutive young hurdler for five points in the 120 yard hurdle, and upon either Frost or Works for three points in the high jump. Although the Aggies have no man who can hope to compete against Rice of Kansas, they are fairly sure of a second in the high jump.

Converse and Talley, a new man, are the Aggie entrants for the shot put and discus. Rumor has it that these two are scheduled to show the Jayhawkers a few things about tossing the weights around.

Light workouts have been the program for the last few days, and the men are in fine shape to meet their traditional enemy and come out with victory.

SIGMA NU'S STILL WINNING

Sig Alphas Take Game From PI Kaps Wednesday Afternoon

The Sigma Nu's had an easy time in their game with the Acacia's yesterday, winning by a score of 13 to 2.

Youngmeyer and Miller, the Sigma Nu hurlers, kept the Acacia swatters under control at all times, while the Sigma Nu's heavy artillery had little trouble in getting the range of Brown's offerings. The feature of the game was a home run by Anderson with the bases full in the fourth. The form showed in Thursday's game puts the Sigma Nu's high in the race for the inter-fraternity cup. They have lost no games as yet, and their team is a well balanced organization that will make a fine showing against any of the other teams.

In one of the fastest and most exciting games played on college field this year, the Sig Alphas succeeded in taking the long end of a 3 to 0 score from the PI Kaps Wednesday.

The playing was good on both sides but the greatest credit goes to the pitchers. In the third, loose fielding gave the Sig Alphas three men on and no outs. Otto then settled down and fanned the next three men in succession. In the first of the fifth, Otto weakened, and the Sig Alphas got to him for our hits. Loose fielding, together with the stick work of the Sig Alphas counted for three runs before the inning was over. In their

of the fifth, the PI Kaps were unable to touch Slaterry, who had held them puzzled throughout the game. The Beta Sig Phi Ep game Tuesday proved to be a walk away for the Betas who won by a lopsided score of 16 to 0. The game was never in doubt, Hargis for the Betas having the S. P. E. men on his hip all the time, while the Betas were hitting both Bunker and Henshaw freely at all times.

The game on Monday proved to be a good batting practice for the heavy hitting Vets, who walloped the School

Ag boys 15 to 5. Neither Tice nor Dygart could hold the bats down, while Griffith, for the Vets, had little trouble keeping the School of Ag men swinging fruitlessly at his benders.

"Bells Not Working" No Longer an Excuse For Tardy Students

The college bells are working!

There is consternation in the ranks of those students who had the habit of coming in 20 minutes late with the excuse that the bells weren't ringing.

The instructors in the department of physics have recently designed and built a new device for ringing the hour bells. The current is now drawn from the light circuit, and the system is giving better satisfaction than any other that has been tried. In the past the current for the bells has been furnished by a battery of 120 Le-Clanche cells. These cells required an immense amount of care to replace parts and keep the 240 connections in order. As the cells weakened the bells gradually ceased to ring, and it was difficult to keep them adjusted to varying conditions.

Many plans had been suggested for attaching the bells to the light circuit but had to be abandoned on account of the danger from fire in case the line was "shorted" by two wires coming in contact or grounded by touching an iron pipe. The new device is essentially a potentiometer in that any required voltage may be secured for the bell circuit. This device is also adjusted so that in case of a short circuit only the current required for a single incandescent bulb can be drawn from the generator. This eliminates any danger from fire.

Those in charge of the bell system believe that by this new system much of the care formerly necessary to the proper control of the system has been eliminated. There has formerly been some trouble caused by persons not acquainted with the system to readjust the cells. The bell in Denison hall is the master bell, and any attempt to change the wiring on another part of the circuit virtually introduces another master and deranges the entire system.

REPORT SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Theta Sigma Phi in National Convention at Lawrence

Theta Sigma Phi, the woman's national honorary journalism fraternity, held a successful convention at Lawrence last week. Fifty women representing ten different states were the guests of the Kansas chapter.

At a luncheon given by the Daily Kansan Thursday, William Allen White and Charles Dillon gave talks. Miss Helen Bronner of Chicago spoke in the afternoon and Miss Vina Lindsay of the Kansas City Post led in a round table discussion.

On Friday Theta Sigma Phi put out the Daily Kansan. After a model initiation and the installation of the new Grand Council, the Epsilon chapter of Lawrence gave a banquet for the visitors. Saturday, the delegation went to Kansas City where alumnae members of Theta Sigma Phi took the visitors through the Star, Post and Journal plants.

Theta Sigma Phi expects to open an employment bureau for women in journalism. They expect to have representatives in every state who will put the editors in touch with worthy journalists.

Miss Velma Carson, junior in industrial journalism, was the K. S. A. C. delegate.

Home Town Folks Of a Former Aggie Pay $541 for a Hen

The home town of a former Aggie student showed its appreciation of his services somewhere in France by paying to the Red Cross $541 for one of its hens. The hen had been donated by his mother to a Red Cross auction sale.

Calvin McInturf of Scott City was an enthusiastic poultry raiser. He is now in the trenches in France and his mother gave his last hen to the Red Cross to be auctioned off at a sale held last Tuesday in Scott City.

When the auctioneer put her up to be bid on, the hen was just hatching and the peep of the little chicks could be heard by those in the crowd. When she was knocked down to the highest bidder the man who bought her gave her back to the Red Cross to be sold again. She was resold several times that afternoon and the total which she brought was $36.50.

The next day was Calvin's birthday and his friends wanted to send him word that his hen had done her part for the great cause. So that evening the final purchaser gave the hen back with the suggestion that the whole town be allowed to bid on her and that she be given to Calvin's mother by the ones who contributed. That time she brought $504.50, making a total of $541 in the entire sale.

A Story of a German at Leonardville and of a Horse Trade

An interesting story of a German comes from Leonardville. It seems that he had been trying for several weeks to purchase a valuable team of horses of an American farmer, but his final offer of $450 was refused by the American who demanded $500. The German would not pay that amount, and for some time they dickered and haggled about it.

At last the American said: "Well, I want just $500, and I won't let the team go for a bit less. I want to buy some Liberty Bonds."

"Are you going to buy Liberty Bonds with the money?" asked the German.

"Sure!" replied the American.

"Then, if you are going to spend all of that $500 for Liberty Bonds," declared the German, "I'll give it to you for the team. We'll get that—Kaiser."

NEW RECRUIT FOR CAMP TEAM.

Grover Cleveland Alexander Drafted From Nebraska.

The crack baseball team of the 89th division at Funston will receive a notable addition this week when Grover Cleveland Alexander arrives to put on the uniform, and already the fans are planning even greater conquests for the soldier aggregation. Alexander, who is probably the greatest of the present big league pitchers, is drafted from Nebraska and will report to Camp Wood for his three weeks' detention with several hundred other rookies arriving from the same state. He will not be the only big leaguer on the Funston team, however, as he will find Noyes of Connie Mack's Athletics, Ward of Brooklyn, Wait of Philadelphia as well as many stars of varsity diamonds as his teammates.

CATTLEMEN'S MEETING MAY 17

U. S. Meat Administrator Will be one of the Speakers

J. P. Cotton, meat administrator for the United States Food Administration is one of the several prominent speakers who is expected to address the sixth annual cattlemen's meeting here May 17.

Thos. E. Wilson of Chicago, president of Wilson and company, packers; Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood of Camp Funston; Dwight B. Heard of Phoenix, Ariz., president of the American Livestock Association; J. C. Swift of Kansas City, member of the firm of Swift and Henry Commission company and extensive land operator in Kansas; R. J. Kinzer, secretary of the American Hereford Breeders Association; W. H. Pew, head of the animal husbandry department of Iowa State college and John T. Alexander of Chicago, one of the pioneer commission merchants in the Union Stock Yards of Chicago, are some of the other men expected.

W. L. Brown of Kingman, better known as "Iron Jaw Brown," will present the trophies and awards to the winners of the stock judging contest held at the college.

All of these men are actively engaged in war work. In accepting the invitation to speak each one has stated that only the pressing demand of war work will prevent his attendance.

The meetings will be held in the college auditorium both morning and afternoon. Lunch will be served at noon in the pavilion by the Jayhawker Saddle and Sirolo club. Here also will be a parade of the representative livestock of the college.

In the afternoon the results of the winter feeding experiments conducted by the department of animal husbandry will be announced.

ADD H. E. COURSES IN COLLEGES

Institutions Asked by Hoover to Help Food Problem

Colleges and universities which were not already giving courses in home economics were stimulated to do so during the second semester and summer term by the telegram which was sent out to college presidents by Herbert Hoover, United States food administrator.

The United States food administration welcomes the college as a comrade in its fight against famine. It believes the college woman may take an equal part in winning the war. There will be food enough for us and for the Allies if it can be properly used and distributed; but it involves many different problems.

Many colleges have started their war gardens, which will be continued during the summer by units of girl farmers. The home economics departments of universities and colleges have done a considerable amount of research work and investigated market conditions for the food administration.

"There are two great changes taking place in the colleges today," said Mr. Hoover. "First there are changes in education growing out of the immediate needs to help win the war, and second, changes growing out of the prospective demands on women for reconstruction work after the war."

Miss Ida Tarbell, head of the food administration department of the woman's committee of the council of defense, states that through these emergency food courses hundreds of young women in all parts of the United States will gain knowledge of the food situation and the ways in which the government is trying to meet it.

"When these girls go home for the summer," says Miss Tarbell, "they will be prepared to act as instructors and crusaders in the matter of intelligent and consistent food conservation. What they will do will depend on their individual temperaments and

THE BROWNING'S HAVE A RECORD

Literary Society Made Sixth Visit to Funston Tuesday

Browning Literary society members who are participants in the program being given at Camp Funston by the society went to the camp for the sixth time Tuesday night, to entertain at Y. M. C. A. hut number five. They were greeted by a much larger audience than has witnessed the program before.

The program consists of quartet music by Miss Jeanne Winter, Miss Vera Samuels, Miss Fleda Dowditch, and Miss Lucille Cary, accompanied by Miss Margaret Etzold. Japanese duets were sung by Miss Vera Samuel and Miss Lucille Cary and readings by Miss Caroline Sloop. A farce is acted by Ethel Arnold, Miss Helen Mitchell and Miss Edna Boyle, assisted by Harry Colglazier and Glen Ware of the Athenian literary society. Miss Lola Sloop is manager of the play.

The Browning Literary society was the first to arrange for Funston entertainments through the rural service department of the extension division. The society has entertained at Y. M. C. A. huts number six, seven, nine, and five at the camp, and hut number one at Fort Riley. One afternoon has been spent at the base hospital at Fort Riley.

A CALL FOR 25 GIRLS

May Queen's Royal Squadron Needs Recruits

Volunteers are desired for the May Queen's royal squadron. At least 60 girls have been asked to sign up for this duty, and the Queen is desirous of having that many in her squadron.

Only 35 girls have volunteered so far. In order that the May Queen will have the proper attendance, it is necessary for 60 co-eds to volunteer.

LIEUT. KELLER WHITES OF TRIP

Company is Now Stationed at Camp Mills, N. Y.

Lieut. Ciede Keller, a Manhattan boy with the Kansas National Guard forces now stationed at Camp Mills, N. Y., writes to his folks here in Manhattan.

"We had a dandy trip coming here from Doniphan and I only hope that the rest of the trip will be as pleasant. It is rather cool here. In fact they had snow about ten days ago in fact it sprinkles every fifteen minutes when it isn't raining all the time.

"We filled our company with men from Funston. They are a fine bunch of men and they and our men are getting along all right."

A BLAZE IN AGGIEVILLE TODAY.

Causes Between $300 and $400 Damage to Building.

Between $300 and $400 damage was caused by fire to the building at 704 North Manhattan avenue this morning when the roof was practically destroyed by a blaze which was caused by defective lighting wire.

The building, which is now vacant, was formerly occupied by a cafe and a barber shop. The property belongs to L. H. Whan.

Y. W. TO SELL TICKETS

GIRLS HAVE THE EXCLUSIVE AGENCY FOR SALE TO HIGH SCHOOL MEET

Co-eds Will Be Entirely Responsible For the Size of the Crowd Which Attends—At Least Fifty Girls Will Sell the Ticket-Tags

An announcement—the Y. W. C. A. girls have the exclusive agency for the sale of the tickets to the district high school track meet which will be held on the college field Saturday, May 11.

Scheduling the meet for May 11 throws two of the biggest events of the spring, the May Fete and the high school track affair, on the same day. But there will be no conflict, instead an attraction will be added the Big Carnival. The meet will be held at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the May Fete at 5 o'clock.

The unusual feature of this athletic event is that the co-eds will be entirely responsible for the size of the crowd which attends. At least fifty energetic lady salesmen are to be supplied with the ticket-tags and dispersed to all corners of the campus and the town. The freshmen girls will predominate but any girl who wishes to help is asked to see Miss Mildred Inskeep.

The Y. W. C. A. girls are making plans for a new Association office and as Coach Clevenger made them a proposition of a per cent on the tickets which they could sell for the Track Meet they asked for the exclusive right of sale. The co-eds have planned such lines of argument that doubtless everyone they approach will pass on wearing a red tag. They argue in favor of supporting your home town high school and at the same time assisting in the furnishing a new office for the Y. W. C. A.

The saleswomen begun business very early today (Tuesday morning) so the person who has not paid 30c for a red tag can figure that his turn is coming next.

PREPARE FOR MAY FETE

Plans Practically Are Complete for Big Yearly Event.

Arrangements have practically been completed for the eighth annual May Festival which will be held on the college campus Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. All preparations have been made to insure success. The largest crowd in May Fete history is expected by the committee in charge.

Attractive posters were placed in the Y. M. C. A. huts at Camp Funston Saturday and assurances have come that a large number of soldiers will be here for the festival. During the May Queen election, alone, 1300 tickets were sold, which is a small percentage of the total number sold. This number was the largest of any previous year, and was taken by those in charge as foreshadowing a very large crowd this year.

The program has been completed by Miss Ethel Loring, in charge of this part of the May Fete. It will appear in Friday's Collegian. The program is more extensive this year than ever before. In addition to the parades, dances and winding of the May poles, the committee has just arranged for several stunts by soldiers from Camp Funston.

Not Enough Volunteers.

The Queen's royal army has not yet received its full quota of volunteers. The draft may be resorted to unless the total number is soon completed. So many girls are in other parts of the program that but few are left for the army.

Miss Loring is especially enthusiastic over the new spring cloak the campus is putting on. The trees are leafed out, and the campus will make a beautiful background for the May Festival.

The May Festival is essentially a co-ed affair. Very few men, outside the soldiers from Funston, will take part. The Queen is supposed to be the most beautiful, most popular and strongest woman of her fairy land. Her ideal is to raise the standard of womanhood. The crowning of the May Queen, Miss Frankie Richards, will be one of the principal events of the festival.

Sixty Dancers in Fete.

Several hundred girls will take part in the fete. There will be about sixty dancers, supposedly from foreign courts to do honor to the queen, a small army of feminine soldiers for the Queen's royal army, 60 girls for the winding of the May poles, and numberless nymphs, fairies and flower children.

A special effort is being made on the costumes this year. A great many of them are being made over from those of last year in order to keep the fete within the bounds of war time economy. The attire, nevertheless, will be one of the big attractions, and as beautiful in every way as in former years.

All those who did not buy their May Fete tickets during the election of the May Queen may get them at the gates Saturday. The admission will be 30 cents, including war tax.

Met With College Professors

Percy Atkins, who has been doing Y. M. C. A. work in France, met with college professors and local business men in the Commercial Club rooms Friday. Mr. Atkins is looking for men who are available for Y. M. C. A. work overseas.

STILL ON TRAIL OF LEGACY

Seniors Are Investigating the Wilson Memorial Fund.

No definite report has been made by the committee appointed by the senior class to investigate the Wilson memorial fund.

The amount of the legacy, according to President Jardine, is about $26,000. The amount must be spent in a lump sum.

It is understood that the president and board of administration have the power to dispose of the money. The former president, Dr. H. J. Waters, promoted a certain action which could not be settled on by terms of the will. Another action is pending, but further information could not be had from the committee.

PLAN TRAINING FOR MEN

Engineering Department Making Arrangements For Soldiers

The engineering department will train 250 soldiers beginning May 15 have planned to train 150 of these men in auto mechanics, 20 in wireless, 20 in electrical, 20 in blacksmith shop work, 20 in machinery, and 20 carpenters.

"The college needs as many as possible to teach in auto mechanics," said W. W. Carlson, professor of shop practice Saturday. "We want men who are familiar with auto work, especially those who have had experience."

E. V. James, assistant professor of history and civics, is unable to meet his classes on account of illness.

ELECT NEXT YEAR'S STAFF

COLLEGLIAN BOARD NAMES MISS ELIZABETH WADLEY AS NEW EDITOR

Present Associate Editor Is Promoted to Responsible Position—Bruce B. Brewer, Now Editor, Is the New Business Manager

Miss Elizabeth Wadley, senior in industrial journalism, will be editor of The Collegian next year, and Bruce B. Brewer, junior in industrial journalism, will be the business manager.

The Collegian board, at its annual spring election held in Prof. N. A. Crawford's office yesterday afternoon, picked the two new Collegian heads.

Miss Wadley now is associate editor of the paper. She is experienced in the newspaper field, having been employed on the editorial staff of Kansas City newspapers.

Only the two officers are elected by the board. Miss Wadley will name her associate editor, sports editor and society editor, and Mr. Brewer will pick the circulation manager.

Members of the Collegian Board are N. A. Crawford, professor of industrial journalism, who is president; Merle D. Converse, Homer Cross, Arthur W. Boyer and Miss Mary Mason, who is secretary.

REPAIR SHOP IS BUSY

To Extend Machine Shop, Says W. E. Duncan, Foreman

The general repair department is the busiest it has been in its history, according to W. E. Duncan, foreman. The machine shops are to be extended out to the west line of the blacksmith shop and pipe rooms. The extension will have a saw tooth roof and a cement floor. It will be used by the soldiers as an automobile shop.

The animal husbandry feed barns are being painted, the northwest room of the gymnasium is being fitted up as a wash room for the soldiers, and a white cement block building will be built south of the general repair department building. This building will be used for the fire fighting apparatus.

The office of Dean Edwin L. Holton, of the summer school is being overhauled to admit more light, and Keadie hall is being fitted for serving the soldiers this summer.

Miss Marian Darkes, special in general science, and Miss Florence Mirlock, sophomore in home economics, spent the week end at Lindale Farm.

KANSANS ROMPED, 74 TO 35

AGGIE TRACKSTERS OUTCLASSED BY JAYHAWKERS IN ANNUAL MEET.

Works, With Firsts in Both Hurdles, and a Second in the Discus, Was the Aggie Star—Bill Whedon Surprised Himself by Winning Shotput

Again the Aggies were forced to bow before the track men from K. U., this time to a score of 74 to 35. The Aggies were outclassed, but not out-tought, and battled gamely for every point.

While some of the events in which the Aggies were conceded to have an excellent change for first place, went wrong and the Shulz men had to be content with second place, some of the Aggie speedsters showed surprising form and took firsts that were granted to K. U.

Works, in both the 120 high hurdles and the 220 low hurdles, showed a clean pair of heels to the rest of the field and won a first in both events. This made him high point man for the Aggies. Besides these two firsts, he showed up well in the discus throw, taking second place, and making a total of 13 points out of the Aggie total of 35.

Slow Time Made.

Despite almost ideal conditions, and a fine track, the time in nearly all of the track events was unusually poor. The competition in the dashes was not keen enough to force the K. U. men to exert themselves, and in the races where the competition was harder, the races seemed to be just as slow.

In only one event did the Aggies take a clean sweep of both places—the shot put. Whedon showed unusual form in this event, taking first with a put of 34 feet 9-1-8 inches, and Talley, the new Aggie weight man, taking second.

K. U. slipped two surprises over the Aggies—in the half mile and the mile. In the mile, Deswald beat out Eggerman on the home stretch and in the half, Murphy also succeeded in nosing Beckett out by a few feet. Frost, in the pole vault, also seemed unable to hit his regular stride, going out at 10 feet, 9 inches in the pole vault, where he was slated for a likely first.

K. U. showed up especially strong in the dashes, taking all the points in the 100, 220, and the 440-yard dashes. Besides taking clean sweeps in these events, they also cleared the slate in the high jump and the broad jump. Rodkey of K. U. showed good form in the broad jump, making a mark of 21 feet 7 1-2 inches. Rice, in the high jump, tried for a record at 6 feet 1 3-4 inches, and missed by a fraction of an inch on his last trial.

Foreman showed his usual form in the two mile race, winning easily by more than half a lap. With his form, Foreman should be able to make a record for that distance if he had someone to push him. So far this year no one has been able to touch him in his own event and consequently his time has not been anything like he is capable of making. Eggerman, although he lost the mile, showed his real class in the relay, where he ran the first quarter in 54 2-5 seconds, nearly three seconds faster than the event was run in the regular meet.

Although the Aggies were badly beaten, we have just one warning to issue to the K. U. team, according to all the members of the Schulz squad. Just watch out for next year, for there

"TOO SLOW IN STAMP SALE"

Professor Taylor Says Movement Lacks Support
By R. G. TAYLOR

Up to noon Monday, 3500 thrift stamps had been sold on the campus by campus agencies. As the reports from the various divisions are incomplete, there is no way of telling yet just how many of these stamps have been purchased off the campus by students, employees and faculty.

The division of agriculture is still in the lead, having sold practically one-half of the total of thrift stamps. The division of home economics, through its secretary, Miss Mary Dakin, reports a total of $592 worth of thrift and war savings stamps purchased by members during the first month of its organization, which closed April 19.

The division of general science, through its secretary, Miss Betty Cotton, makes the following report of its work up to date among the students. Number of members reporting, 15; thrift stamps purchased, 58; war savings stamps (baby bonds) purchased, 12, with a face value of $60. This is only a partial report, as a number of the captains have not yet completed their canvasses of members or reported. Up to April 15 the faculty of this division had reported purchases of 46 thrift stamps and 214 war savings stamps. No report at all has been received from the division of engineering.

The work is progressing well on its own merits, but it has not yet received the support it deserves. The thrift idea is confined to too small a percentage of our student body. Secretaries in all divisions report that some of their captains have been very active and efficient, while others have been dilatory and indifferent. There are but a few more days of the school year and the committee in charge of the campaign appeals most earnestly to all captains and others in responsible places in the campaign, as well as individual students, whose responsibility is no less in this patriotic service, to bend every effort to complete our work of organization and give war thrift the standing it ought to have in this school.

In conclusion, if you haven't already bought a thrift stamp, go without delay to the college postoffice, ask for a card, buy a thrift stamp and stick it on, sign your name on the outside of the card and get the sensation of being one of Uncle Sam's millions of loyal bondholders.

Former Aggie Student Receives Appointment From Dairy Division

George Campbell, '16, dairy husbandry, who has had charge of boys' and girls' club work in Bourbon county, has received an appointment as dairy manufacturing expert by the dairy division of the United States department of agriculture and has gone to Washington, D. C. to report for duty.

PICKS 23 FOR CAMP

CAPTAIN O'NEILL SELECTS MEN WHO WILL TRY FOR COMMISSIONS.

MAY 15 IS OPENING DATE

Successful Applicants Will Report to Training School a Week From Tomorrow.

No Information Yet Telling to What Camp Aggie Men Will Draw Assignments.

FIVE CADET OFFICERS CHOSEN

Lieutenant and Four Captains From Reserve Officers' Training Corps to Go—College Quota Was 35 Men, but Captain O'Neill Chose but 23.

Twenty-three seniors and alumni of the college have been picked to attend the fourth series of officers' training camps, Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, commandant, announced last night.

The following were selected:

F. O. Blecha, B. F. Barnes, M. W. Converse, J. F. Eggerman, R. I. Harris, A. E. Hytton, A. E. Hopkins, R. Kerr, Jr., C. Lambert, R. B. Loydig, R. W. May, D. E. MacLeod, G. E. Manzer, A. E. McClymonds, S. M. Mitchell, P. L. Netterville, J. A. Novak, C. J. Rodewald, I. Rodgers, C. Swenson, F. M. Elsson, J. E. Williamson, and L. P. Whitehead.

Cadet Officers in List.

Of this number B. F. Barnes, M. W. Converse, J. F. Eggerman, G. E. Manzer and J. E. Williamson hold commissions in the reserve officers' training corps. Mr. Eggerman is a first lieutenant, and the others are captains.

The college was entitled to 35 men in the fourth camp, but Captain O'Neill, in announcing that only 23 had been recommended, explained that the short time he was given to select his men did not give many prospective candidates an opportunity to present their recommendations and applications.

The camps begin May 15. Captain O'Neill said yesterday that no information had been received as to the location of the camp to which the Aggie men would be assigned. These orders, he explained, would come later.

Twenty Made Good at Dodge.

Twenty out of 22 Aggie men in the third officers' training school at Camp Dodge, Ia., were recommended for commissions, according to word received from Camp Dodge Saturday.

The men receiving commissions were H. M. Gillespie, R. V. Morrison, W. A. Nye, O. A. Hindman, H. H. Dinsmore, H. E. Hartzler, H. C. Fisher, W. L. Thackrey, A. W. Foster, T. Yost, E. Q. Perry, P. F. Griffin, C. W. Pate, W. G. Bruce, C. A. Fletcher, B. F. Buzard, W. C. McGraw, G. D. Montague, I. G. Freeman and R. N. Phillips.

HARBORD IS TRANSFERRED

Aggie Student Is No Longer Chief of Staff to Pershing

Brigadier General James Harbord, '86, and chief of staff to General Pershing, has been transferred to active field service, according to the latest reports from France.

The Aggie general was one of those best qualified for active field service, and men of this kind are gradually being worked up into those positions. Major General James W. McAndrew has succeeded General Harbord as chief of staff.

INTO SECOND ROUND OF TENNIS

Nearly All of Co-ed Tennis Games Have Been Played.

Tennis preliminaries are nearly all played off, and the second round is started. The rest of the preliminaries will be played off today.

The second round started off with two games played yesterday afternoon. The standing is as follows:

Martha Baird won from Verla Dahne, 6-2, 6-0.
Bess Gordon won from Fiske Cathbert, 7-5, 7-5.

A LEAFY BIT OF CAMPUS

Nature is at her best now. Trees have budded and the leaves are out. Recent showers have washed the dust from the anthers and grass, and vivid colors are seen aplenty. Here is a leafy tower on the campus. Any Aggie man or woman recognizes the spot, for what student does not pass through this veritable tunnel of greenery at least once every day?

TUESDAY, MAY 7, 1918

BUY, BUY, BUY.

Y. W. C. A. girls begin a drive today to sell tickets for the annual high school track meet, to be held on college field Saturday.

College students should buy readily, and every loyal man and woman should plan to attend the affair. Today's high school boys are tomorrow's freshmen, and tomorrow's freshmen are day after tomorrow's seniors.

First, buy your tickets.

But don't stop there. When the sprinters, hurdlers and jumpers arrive, put on the best Aggie smile, and show them the K. S. A. C. that we know.

Every one should be out.

But remember, before you go—buy a ticket of the Y W girls.

AGAIN, CONGRATULATIONS.

Once more the student body congratulates a body of Aggie men about to enter the service of their country. This time it is the 23 lucky applicants for the fourth series of training camps who are to be felicitated.

The men are responding nobly to a real call. Aggie men, leaders all, have prepared themselves for this crisis. For years Aggie students have executed squads right and to the rear march, on the campus in front of the auditorium.

Now the college is being recognized. K. S. A. C. is the only institution in the state which sends a quota of men direct to the camps. It is a merited honor, and Aggies who have not gone salute the boys who have taken advantage of this opportunity to put their knowledge and their lives to the use of the nation.

SCHOOL OF AG

Leslie Schafer, third year school of agriculture student, has quit school in order to accompany his parents to Chicago.

The fourth annual commencement exercises of the school of agriculture will be held in the college auditorium May 24. Charles Dillon, managing editor of the Capper Farm publications will deliver the commencement address.

Eleven graduates will receive their diplomas at the exercises. Those in agriculture are Paul N. Pieratt of Strawn; Raymond Oehle of Overbrook; Scott E. Kelsey of Topeka; Harold Johnson of Cleburn; Ygnacio Gomez of San Antonio, Tex.; H. J. Cowen, Scott City; Dean Stanley, John Browning and Frank Swanson of Manhattan. Miss Anne Amatutz of Halstead and Miss Thelma Wilkerson of Topeka will be graduated in the home economics course.

Henry T. Overton of Kansas City, third year student in the school of agriculture, was called home Saturday on business by his father.

The Lincoln and Philomathean literary societies had an engine ride Saturday afternoon. This event was given in place of the annual pie fest which the two societies have given in the spring of preceding years.

Henry T. Overton of Kansas City, third year student in the school of agriculture, was called home Saturday on business by his father.

N. R. Brooks, former school of agriculture student, who withdrew from school last semester is now in Phoenix, Ariz.

A girl's boarding school stunt was given at one of the Y. M. C. A. huts by the Philomathean Literary society of the school of agriculture. The play which lasted an hour was attended by more than 500 soldiers.

Those taking part in the stunt were Miss Gladys Hartley; Miss Fannie Gorton, Miss Ethel Ruthruff, Miss Edna Kohler, Miss Minnie Frankhouser, Miss Emma Rolek, Miss Freta Haslam and Miss Ada Rice, assistant principal of the school of agriculture, acted as chaperon.

Former members of the Lincoln and Philomathean literary societies have organized an alumni of the two societies. The first meeting will be held some time commencement week.

Harvey Damm, third year school of agriculture, was voted into membership of the Lincoln Literary society at its last meeting.

Harold Johnson, third year school of agriculture, spent the week end with friends in Detroit.

Bes Seltz, special in the school of agriculture, spent the week end with relatives in Topeka.

A CIVILIAN'S PRAYER.

Since Khaki has come into style Since sergeants are a fad, Since girls crave the uniform They've all gone to the bad.

We Civil boys are now all stags, For dates seem to be rare, The soldier boys are everything For Civies they don't care.

Perhaps when Khaki is no more When They have left for France, We hope the girls will then reform And give us boys a chance.

The biggest war joke so far recorded was the incident when the Russians declared peace and went home to Petrograd to find 30,000 wives had sued them for divorce. Which is what they deserved.

In yé olden days when a person got his "dutch up," it was a sign he was fightin' mad. The other day the Germans got the Dutch up, and not only did they back down, but they changed their mind, which is going some for the Dutch.

Gillette safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillette Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against.

Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers.

The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

The Name "Gillette" Means the Same Thing to Every Fighting Man

THE severest test of the usefulness of anything is—will it fit the soldier's need.

The fighting men of the Allied Armies and Navies use more Gillettes than of all other makes of razors put together.

They have proved the quality of the Gillette shave—with even the most tender skin and the most stubby beard.

There isn't a shaving condition anywhere on earth that the Gillette hasn't solved—No Stropping, No Honing—blades always sharp, always ready.

If you have a boy or a boy friend in the Service, or likely to be called to the Colors give him a Gillette—complete, compact, no strops or hones to clutter up the kit.

Diverse Opinion as to Why Famous Lover's Lane Is Being Widened

Why is Lover's Lane being widened? There are many and diverse opinions heard on the campus as to why this work is being done. The most popular conclusion is that the crowded condition of the lane demanded it.

During the spring term and especially after "campus lab" classes began, Lover's lane is one of the most popular places on the hill. Dozens of students are seen trooping out to Lover's lane and strolling up and down its most secluded arbors. The lane was uncomfortably narrow and for a long time has stood liable to the censorship of the student council. Others think it is being widened to promote socialistic tendencies.

Neither of these views, however, is correct. Last spring a severe epidemic of spring fever broke out on the campus and in every case observed, the patient had as some time visited Lover's lane. After a thorough investigation the health department concluded that the lane was one of the principal dangers in the spread of this infection, and that it should have a greater width and more sunlight.

Spring fever is the only infectious heart disease known and in the past it has interfered greatly with the regular routine of spring classes. The warm weather has made it necessary to rush the work on the lane with all possible speed in order to prevent a recurrence of the epidemic.

Alpha Betas Take "Hayrack" Ride Minus Hay Racks

Alpha Beta Literary society held its annual hayrack ride last Saturday. To be in keeping with the conservation spirit the society voted to dispense with the hayracks this year and make a simple hike of the affair. The money which would have been spent on the racks, is to be spent on something more useful to the government.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock and everyone is invited.

CHANGE CLASS PLAY DATE

"Hurry, Hurry, Hurry" Will Be Given May 25.

The date for the senior play, "Hurry, Hurry, Hurry," has been changed. The play will be given Saturday evening, May 25. This date is nearer commencement than the former one and will be a more convenient time for the seniors.

Members of the cast are hard at work and are getting their parts well in hand. Miss Pauline Richards is playing the part of leading lady. The leading man's role is carried by Earl Taylor. Miss Margaret King and Albert Hancock are playing prominent parts and are handling them well. Miss Alice Neiman, Miss Helen Mitchell, D. E. MacLeod, C. A. Frankenhoff, and H. C. Colglazier are the other members of the cast.

The players are well fitted to their parts, according to Miss Ada Dykes who is coaching the play. Practices are being held regularly and the play will be in good shape for presentation on May 25.

GAVE TALK ON GREENLAND.

Doctor Tanquary, of Northern Expeditions, Told at Chapel.

An interesting, illustrated lecture was given Monday morning in the college auditorium by Dr. M. C. Tanquary, assistant professor of entomology, who was a zoologist with the McMillan Crockerland expedition to the northern part of Greenland. The lecture was illustrated with pictures taken on the expedition.

The prize game of the north is the polar bear, Doctor Tanquary said. The bear is always hunted with dogs. The Esquimaux are fond of elderducks, elderduck eggs, seal and muskox meat. They feed the walrus meat to the dogs, but the walrus is valuable for its ivory tusks. Some salmon trout is caught in this region also, but there are very few fish that far north.

"We were farther north than the Esquimaux live," said Doctor Tanquary. "The Esquimaux of southern Greenland are very different from those of the extreme north. They have lived in touch with civilization for some time. They dress more like civilized people but resemble the Indians in their love for bright colors."

TO TALK TO COLORED WOMEN.

National Y. W. Board Representative Here Today.

Miss Josephine Pluyon, representative for the national board of the Y. W. C. A. will speak today at 4 o'clock to all colored girls of the college at the domestic science rest room.

PREPARING FOR SOLDIERS

Rooms in Kedzie Hall To Be Used For Mess Hall

Rooms 56 and 57 of Kedzie Hall will be used as a mess hall for the 250 soldiers who are coming from Camp Funston May 15.

The two small in room 56 and the chimney will be removed in order to provide space for the dumb waiter and the counter in the north end of the room. A modern dishwasher will also be installed for the use both upstairs and downstairs in the cafeteria.

The cafeteria was closed from Friday evening until Tuesday morning at breakfast in order that these repairs might be made. The classes which have been meeting in rooms 56 and 57 are now meeting on the second floor in Anderson Hall.

SENIORS TO GIVE Y. W. PROGRAM.

A Farce, Presenting Different Types of Girls, on Program.

The senior girls will have charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting in the domestic science rest room Thursday at 5 o'clock. A farce, "The College Girl," will be given. The play will picture the different types of girls who are attending college. The four represented are the snob, the grind, the democratic girl, and the society girl. There will be special music.

As this is the last appearance of the senior girls in the Y. W. C. A., all girls are asked by Miss Mildred Inskeep to make an effort to attend.

HAINES GETS APPOINTMENT

PART II

Special features from Camp Funston.

NOTICE.

All who have parts in the May Fete are summoned by Miss Ethel Loring to meet just east of the auditorium promptly at 5 o'clock this afternoon for final practice with the band.

Tomorrow will be May Fete day. The program will begin at 5 o'clock on the college campus. All arrangements have been made for an unprecedented crowd, and if weather conditions are good, a huge throng will be on the campus.

The program arrangements are complete. The program this year in many ways is superior to anything that has ever been arranged for the annual May festival. In addition to the military parade, for girls, the dancers, numberless flower children, and the winding of the May poles, a number of soldiers from Camp Funston will appear in circus stunts of various kinds.

Miss Richards the Queen.

The crowning of the May Queen is expected to be the principal event of the fete. Miss Pauline Richards, who was elected Queen in the May Fete election two weeks ago, announces the following as the five special attendants appointed by her. Miss Margaret King, Miss Margaret Robinson, Miss Grace Lightfoot, Miss Ruth Thomas and Miss Alice Neilman.

Three other attendants were elected two weeks ago, one from each of the under classes, Miss Elizabeth Cotton, Miss Ernestine Biby and Miss Esther Andrews were chosen at that time, making a total of eight attendants for the May Queen.

Expect Crowd from Funston.

A more extensive advertising campaign has been carried on this spring than in previous years. The fete has been widely advertised at Camp Funston, and surrounding places. As a result those in charge expect the greatest crowd in the history of the college on the campus tomorrow afternoon.

This is the eighth annual festival. The idea was instituted in 1910, when it took the place of what was formerly known as college day. On that day Dr. H. J. Waters, then president of the college, declared a half holiday for the students, and they celebrated May day with a very tastefully arranged program. Since that time the festival has been an important annual college affair.

Those actively in charge of the fete are Miss Mildred Inskip, Y. W. C. A. secretary; Miss Ethel Loring, women's athletic director; Miss Sarella Herrick, first vice president of the Y. W. C. A., and W. W. McLean, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

SIGMA NUS IN ANOTHER WIN.

Beta Bobbles Tossed Away Game Played in Wind.

Beta Theta Pi fielders failed to support Bob Hargis, their pitcher, and the Sigma Nus romped home to another victory to the fraternity series yesterday, 9 to 4. The Betas led, 2 to 1, at the beginning of the third, when the Sigma Nus ran in six scores. Youngmeyer was the Sigma Nu pitcher.

er. The game was played in a high wind.

The Acacias won a battle from the Pi Kappa Alphas Tuesday, 12 to 7. Brown hurled for the Acacias and Otto tolled for the Pi Kaps.

The Sigma Phi Epsilons were defeated, 2 to 6, by the Sigma Alpha Epsilons Tuesday.

A PIANO RECITAL MONDAY

Robert Allingham Will Be Assisted by Male Quartet

Miss Patricia Abernathy will present Robert Allingham in a piano recital at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium May 13. Mr. Allingham will be assisted by a male quartet.

Mr. Allingham will play the following numbers: Papillons and To Spring by Grilg; Prelude and Waltz by Chopin, and Kam Menic-Ostrow by Rubenstein.

REFUND ON CADET UNIFORMS

Each Member of Corps Will Receive Allowance of $7.

A refund of $7 will be given to each member of the reserve officer's training corps who has bought a uniform. Arrangements are being made for the men to sign a receipt which will be given to them Monday morning by their company commanders.

It had been previously understood that the men were to receive $14 refund on their uniforms. A recent order received by Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill, commandant, from the quartermaster general indicates that commutation for the uniforms will be based upon the date of actual establishment of the reserve officers' training corps, January 29, 1918, instead of upon the date of authorization in November, 1917.

Battalion parade will be held Monday morning from 8 to 9 o'clock. The men later will be questioned by their company commanders on paragraphs 1109 to 1125 in the text book. Companies B and E will report to Col. Fred Carp for instruction in trenching. Company F will report to the rifle range.

SOLDIERS TO HAVE FLOWERS

Dean Van Zile Chosen to Officiate Mothers' Day

More than 16,000 soldiers at the base hospital at Camp Funston will be presented with flowers Sunday, by Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of the division of home economics, in commemoration of Mothers' Day.

Services will be held in the morning and later there will be a presentation of flowers given by the various organizations of Manhattan, Topeka, and Junction City under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Other ladies from Manhattan who will aid in the presentation of the flowers are Mrs. J. O. Hamilton, Mrs. E. Morris, and Mrs. M. J. McKee.

QUILL TO INITIATE FOUR

Winners in Recent Contest Will Be Members

The Quill club will hold initiation services Monday evening for four persons. They are, Miss Laura Shingledecker, sophomore in industrial journalism; Miss Clementine Paddelford, freshman in industrial journalism; Miss Charlotte Russel, sophomore in industrial journalism, and C. W. McCampbell, junior in agriculture.

The initiates each will read an original paper. Miss Ivy Barker will read the short story which won first place in the recent Quill contest.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR 1918-19.

Theta Sigma Phi Chooses Miss Carson to Be President.

Theta Sigma Phi elected officers for the coming year at a meeting Monday evening. They are Miss Velma Carson, president; Miss Ruth Henderson, secretary-treasurer; Miss Sara Chase, keeper of the parchments; and Miss Mary Baird, corresponding secretary.

Original papers on "Hooverizing" were read by each member. These papers will be submitted to various publications including the Matrix, the fraternity magazine.

POTTER BACK FROM LONG TRIP

Dean of Engineering Returns from Northern States

A. A. Potter, dean of the division of engineering who has recently been appointed educational director for the committee on education and special training of the war department, returned Monday from an extended trip through Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Nebraska. Dean Potter will visit the automobile school at Wichita Friday.

RULES FOR SOCIAL AFFAIRS

There seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of some students regarding the requirements restricting social affairs. In order to make the wish of the faculty clear to all of the students, this statement is issued.

Social affairs may be attended, with faculty approval, only on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. An exception is made to this regulation on any evening preceding a college holiday.

Saturday evening dances at Harrison's hall are given under faculty supervision. Soldier guests of the students are privileged to attend these dances, provided their names are given to some member of the Student Affairs committee, for approval, before noon of the day of the dance. If students will remember this they will avoid embarrassments for themselves and their guests.

Friday evening dances at Harrison's hall, other than those given by some organization, are not under faculty supervision, and students may not attend with the approval of the faculty.

The students are counselled against attending social picnics, hikes, etc., that have not been approved by the Student Affairs committee.

The Committee on Student Affairs requests the observance of these regulations, believing that they require only reasonable and wholesome restraint, and are essential to the development of the highest type of manhood and womanhood.

(Signed)

MARY P. VAN ZILE, EDWIN HOLTON,
WM. H. LIPPINCOTT,
JOSEPHINE C. PERRY,
Committee on Student Affairs.

YOU'LL WEAR A TAG TODAY PREPARE FOR A BIG YEAR

SQUAD OF CO-EDS OUT TO SELL TRACK MEET TICKETS.

Canvassers Are Earning Money Which to Furnish a New Y. W. Office.

That the co-eds still have tickets for the Saturday's big interscholastic track meet for sale will be emphasized more than ever today by the Red Tag vendors in Main hall and all around over the campus.

All tickets, except those sold at the gate tomorrow afternoon, have been turned over to the association women on a commission basis.

A campaign is being put on at the Manhattan high school this morning. A group of co-eds have charge of the morning assembly program and will sell tickets to the high school students. Music by the Y. W. C. A. octette and readings by Miss Velma Carson make up the entertainment.

The five captains each have 10 workers, making 50 girls who are interested in seeing that no one in the town or college will miss a chance to see the big meet.

Captain Z. G. Clevenger has offered the association a commission of 20 per cent if the girls sell 500 tickets. The money obtained from this campaign by the Y. W. C. A. girls is to be spent toward furnishing a new association office. The board of administration voted to make an appropriation for the construction of the office but not for the furnishings. The association agreed to carry out the latter part of the improvements.

The new office is to be located directly opposite the rest room in domestic science hall. The present office is approximately the smallest one on the campus and yet the one through which probably the greatest amount of work is carried on.

ELECT THE DEBATE COUNCIL

Literary Societies Each Choose Two Representatives.

Representatives to the debate council for next year have been elected by the different literary societies. The members elected are Earl Frost, Walter Neibarger, Webster; C. J. Medlin, Turner Barger, Athenians; Miss Myrtle Gunselman, Miss Hattie Carris, Brownings; H. K. Sheldler, Irving Richards, Hamiltons; Miss Dora Cate, Miss Eloise Morrison, Ionians; Miss Dorothy Moseley, M. J. Lucas, Alpha Betas; A. F. Swanson, Miss Mary Hill, Franklins; Miss Gussie Johnson, Eurodelphians.

The officers elected for next year are: C. J. Medlin, president; Miss Myrtle Gunselman, vice president; Miss Gussie Johnson, secretary; Irving Richards, treasurer, and A. F. Swanson, marshal.

V. L. Strickland has purchased the R. I. Throckmorton property at 1512 Leavenworth and has moved from his former home at 1116 Laramie street to his new residence.

HIG SISTERS AT WORK ON PLANS FOR FALL.

Freshmen Will Be Met at the Trains in Motor Cars by the Upperclassmen.

The Big Sister movement which so successfully acquainted the new girls of the college this year is now being reorganized for the coming college year.

The new committee began work immediately after the Big Sister breakfast, April 14. The 13 captains and their 15 workers all have been chosen. For the purpose of getting these girls together a meeting will be held in the domestic science rest room Tuesday, May 14, at 6:45 o'clock for all who intend to be Big Sisters next year. Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile will tell what the "little sister" is going to expect of her Big Sister. Four Big Sisters will reply, explaining how to meet these requirements.

Advisors for Each Group.

Miss Jessie McD. McChir, who is chief advisor, will preside at this meeting. Miss Vera Olmstead, Big Sister chairman, will give a short talk. Each group of the organization will have a faculty or town advisor with whom they will work. These advisors have not all been chosen but will be before the end of this semester.

A new plan in the Big Sister campaign for this coming year is the placing of a small folder in all student correspondence this summer. This is a small, 3x5 pamphlet telling of the Big Sister work. As it will go out to many high school seniors, big results are expected in acquainting prospective college students with the work of the big sisters. Miss Lola Sloop will have charge of all student correspondence this summer in regard to obtaining rooms and board. She will keep these requests checked up and will assign the inquiries to one of the Big Sisters immediately.

To Use Motor Cars.

Automobiles, appropriately placarded, will be employed by the Big Sisters next fall in meeting trains and helping the new girls to find rooms and in registering. Plans for the usual fall party are now in full swing. One of the best outlooks for next year's work, according to Miss Mildred Inskip, is the fact that six of the girls who are to be Big Sisters next year are going to attend the summer conference at Hollister this year.

"In order that the individual work of the Big Sisters among the girls may be followed up next year," said Miss Inskip, "we are going to have meetings every two weeks for the various groups. These will be taken up with round table discussions of college standards. This will make the work more permanent and real than the customary splurge in the fall and again in the spring. The usual work of meeting trains, assisting with registration and with the Y. W. C. A. teas will be carried on by the Big Sister Captains.

The names of the 15 girls who have been chosen as Big Sister captains follows:

Elsie Cuthbert, Ravina Brown, Lucille Logan, Lola Sloop, Hattie Giesner, Grace Lightfoot, Ruth Harding, Anne Roenigk, Mary Dudley, Irene Graham, Hazel Watson, Luella Morris, Martha Baird, Ruth Blair, Laverne Webb.

TO OMICRON NU MEETING

Miss Mildred Berry Goes to Represent Local Chapter.

Miss Mildred Berry, junior in home economics, left Thursday afternoon for Lafayette, Ind., where she will be the delegate representing the Omicron Nu, honorary home economics sorority, in their convention held at Lafayette.

A WHO'S WHO FOR K. S. A. C.

Class Societies Announce Membership for Past Year.

Who's who and what in the three upper classes is being announced as the various political and honor societies tap their new members, abandon secrecy, and come forth into the daylight.

Who's who and why—for next year—is of course, one of the darkest secrets on the campus. Well, perhaps the reason why is not such a secret. Any member is at liberty to explain that it is because he was willing to work and was interested in the welfare of his class and his college.

The Senior Members.

The senior women's society is composed of a representative group of girls as may be seen in the following list of members: They are Mrs. Hazel Merrill Williams, Miss Mary Dakin, Miss Margaret King, Miss Grace Dickman, Miss Irma Boerner, Miss Helen Crane, Miss Florence Mitchell, Miss Blanche Crandall, Miss Frances Stahl, Miss Annamie Garvie, Miss Gladys Spring, Miss Stella Strain, Miss Helen Stewart, Miss Nelle Wilkins, Miss Alice Neilman, Miss Pauline Richards, Miss Helen Harbaugh, Miss Donna Faye Wilson, and Miss Margaret Robinson.

Scarab, the senior men's organization announces the following members: Charles Frankenhoff, Ira Rogers, Glen Ware, Ivor Mall, Giles Sullivan, George Gibbons, Harold Hiltz, J. E. DuBois, Walter Hill, Ralph Van Trine, Dave Wooster, Charles Layton, Herbert Helmeckamp, Sherman Bell, Dee Eird, Henry Borland, Paul Gaiser, William Hall, Herbert Kerr, Arthur Eoyer, O. T. Bonnett, Clyde Key, Sam Mitchell, C. M. Zeigler and C. R. Griffith.

Up-and-Doing Juniors

This year's members of Pric, the junior girls organization are Miss Sarella Herrick, Miss Vera Olmstead, Miss Elizabeth Cotton, Miss Mary Mason, Miss Ruth Thomas, Miss Gussie Johnson, and Miss Velma Carson.

While Pax, the junior men's organization, did not give an authorized list, a guess has been made that the membership roll is as follows: Louis Rochford, Cliff Myers, Bob Hargis, Russell Knapp, B. B. Brewer, Ralph Nixon, Hobart Fairman, Silbert Fairman, Carrol Barringer, R. D. MacGregor, Gordon Hamilton, Glen Cassidy, Howard O'Brien, George Blair.

The sophomores have an organization of men. The members of Theta Sigma Lambda are Lloyd Miller, Ellet Robinson, Glen Hoffines, Bloyce Bate, Ward Hixon, Elma Berth, Tex Bell, Clarence Presto, Grover Simpson, Ike Gates, Earl Forest, E. J. Moyer, Clarke Works, George Hinds, Eugene Lyons, Clifford Kaseley and Henry T. Enns.

NOTED CLUB WOMAN COMING

Miss Florence Kelly Is Secretary of Consumers' League.

Miss Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' league will be the guest of the college Monday and Tuesday. Miss Kelly has been attending the National Federation of clubs at Little Rock, Ark., and will stop here on her way to Kansas City, where she expects to attend a social service meeting.

On Monday Miss Kelly will speak at chapel on the war time program, and at 4 o'clock at the domestic science hall on the college girls' responsibility as a consumer. She will speak Tuesday at 10 o'clock in the domestic science hall on the work of the consumer's league, and at 2 o'clock at the domestic science hall on the minimum wage law for women.

HIGHS COME FOR BIG MEET

ATHLETES FROM ALL PARTS OF KANSAS WILL BE HERE TOMORROW.

Record-Breaking Runners and Weight Men Are Expected to Lower Some of the Marks of Former Years

—Affair Begins at 2:30 O'clock.

The entries for the high school meet are coming in rapidly, and from the looks of the list the attendance will be as large as last year. There now are 46 entries from 16 cities.

Abilene leads with eight men entered. Wichita is next with seven, and Scott City and Valley Falls each have five entries. The following are the other schools with the number of their entries: Anthony, 2; Emporia, 1; Florence, 3; Harveyville, 1; Hope, 1; McLouth, 1; Manhattan, 3; Mankato, 2; Medicine Lodge, 1; Paxico, 2, and Solomon, 2. Several other entries are expected, including those from Topeka.

Good Records Made

Some of the high school men have unusual records which they have made in the district meets. There always has been strong rivalry among the high school men, and this year will prove no exception, according to the dope gathered by Coach Clevenger relating to the various teams.

Kennedy of Mankato is reported to be one of the best high school men developed for some time in the discus throw. Engle, a fast Abilene man, is entered in the 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, 220-yard hurdles, and the shot put. Farmer of Scott City has an unusual record in the broad jump, and does at a good rate in the 50-yard and the 100-yard dashes.

Butcher a Former Star.

Butcher of Solomon will be remembered by those who saw the meet last year as the man who won fifth place for Solomon last year by himself. Lovelace and Young of Wichita also have enviable records among the high school men of the state, and will make strong bids for first in the 50-yard and 100-yard dashes and high jump.

The meet will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock, and if possible, the officials will have the affair over by 4:30 o'clock so that the men may be dressed in time to attend the May Fete.

Events on the Program.

The meet will consist of the following events: 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, half-mile run, mile run, 120-yard hurdles, 220-yard hurdles, relay, pole vault, high jump, broad jump, shot put and discus. There is an average of 10 men entered in each event, and in some of the races it will be necessary to run three heats before the finals.

WAR WORK FOR EVERY BOY

President Jardine Issues Card to the Young People.

"Every boy must do things this summer," was the message Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the college, brought to the boys at the Thursday evening meeting of the Y. M. C. A.

"Any boy who comes back to school fat won't have any standing with me," the president said. "This college stands for men and women who do real service, and the greatest opportunity is at the present time."

President Jardine urged greater cooperation between the students and all their organizations, and with the college as a whole.

"Pep, good common sense, and honesty will get a fellow a long, long way in this world," the president said. "I wouldn't live in a community where there are no churches. I would rather live in a community where there is a Y. M. C. A. They may be 5 per cent bad, but they are also 95 per cent good, and when you get a group of men that are 95 per cent good, it is a mighty good organization."

A large number of students heard Doctor Jardine. Special music was furnished by Claire Brown.

Mack Assigned to Infantry

A. J. Mack, 12, formerly assistant in steam and gas engineering who was called to military service April 26, is now in the infantry at Camp Dodge, Iowa.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO AID.

It'll be the duty of every Aggie student this week-end to entertain at least one high schooler.

Remember, we'll need every new student we can get next year.

It's a privilege and a duty to help a fellow's college in this way.

THE Y. W. C. A.

Three of the top-head stories in this issue of The Collegian come from the office of the Y. W. C. A. Each one of the stories deserves its place.

The untiring efforts of Miss Mildred Inskip, secretary, have made the Y. W. C. A. the most active organization on the hill.

THE BOYS OF '17.

Forty years from now the gray haired boys of '17 will gather around the fireplaces in the evening.

"Remember the time, Bill, when we recaptured Liege. Say, there was real fighting there. Fritz held on and held on, till it seemed we'd never make it, but the line finally broke, and in we went."

"I went 50 hours without sleep then, and sometimes we hadn't a bite to eat for a couple of days at a time, 'cepting the cold stuff we carried as rations."

"But the fighting—say, it was great. That's where I lost this ear. Me and Fritz was having a little sideshow all to ourselves the day before the town fell, and afore I knew it, I saw his bay'net flashing right into my face. I ducked quick as could be, but not quite fast enough to save old Mr. Ear."

And then, for the five hundred and thirty-seventh time comes the story of the march through Germany in 1920, when 3,000,000 Americans swarmed like bees everywhere in Hunland.

How they will fight those battles over and over again—these boys we are sending to France now. The tales related by old Daddy Brown and Grandpa Smith, both of whom fought at Gettysburg, won't be in it with the stories of the boys of '17.

SUNFLOWERS

H. W. D.

There are a lot of women in our community who are suffering severely from nothing-to-do-but-be-married.

It took the Hohenzollerns almost four years to admit that England did not start the war. Even at that, however, they are ahead of some pig-headed pro-Germans in America.

According to the latest advices from our esthetic sensibility some of the newest models of the higher-priced cars look very much like overgrown t mors.

What has become of our old friend Culebra cut?

We are betting dollars to doughnuts that the next world's fair won't be held in Berlin.

Everybody who wears white shoes and clocked sox ought to be required to pass a physical examination.

Most of us will shed no tears when the Georgette crepe age passes on.

Mrs. Gertrude Palaver says that she has determined that from now on she will be impolite to no one except her relatives. We have always been under the impression that that is what relatives are for, anyway.

The first hint of the adjournment of Congress maketh music as sweet as the first note of the blue bird in spring.

An Ounce of Prevention.
A pesky fly flew in my lair,
I swatted him beyond repair;
For, had I not—the health boards swear—
Today two million would be there.

All About May Queens

May queens may be brunette or blonde, or both. At the time, they are nearly always blondes. They are elected by popular vote and the heroic efforts of all our friends. They ride in glorious chariots propelled by the pedal efforts of from four to eight husky yokels, who stomp their toes a great deal.

Nymphs and fairies and fays and fauns, all of which are pretty much the same thing, and clowns and satyrs and hobby-horses, which aren't, frisk about the May queen in sportive glee. Of course the May queen gets much praise and free transportation, but she suffers awfully from too much Georgette crepe and cheesecloth and cub reporters who don't know enough to be assigned to anything else.

Everything considered, we don't yearn a great deal to be a May queen.

Lucy Deserts Spring.

Miss Lucy Wender, who was 18 last Tuesday morning, celebrated the unprecedented occasion by the composition of her first introspective poem. She has formerly written only on spring and allied topics. Her effort follows:

Eighteen am I

And five feet three,
Two hundred pounds
Adhere to me.

My shoes are eight,
My gloves are too,
If you were I
What would you do?

But still my mind
And soul are svelte,
And limpid love
My heart has felt.

Besides, the Muse
Has gracious been,
I've written verse
Since Nineteen Ten.

For spring I live
On spring I dote;
You know it well
By what I've wrote.

Probably no one regrets the solemnism in the last line any more than Lucy does. She says, however, that she has just renewed her poetic license and must get her money back somehow.

Reed at Two Meetings.

O. E. Reed, professor of dairy husbandry, attended a meeting of the Kansas Creamery Improvement association Thursday. Friday he attended a meeting of the Dickinson County Holstein Breeders' association in Abilene.

Sold Valuable Jersey.

The dairy husbandry department sold a registered Jersey bull this week to Charles V. Sass of Kansas City Mo. The calf was shipped Thursday.

Johnson at a Commencement

E. C. Johnson, dean of extension, will deliver the commencement address for the high school at Parkerville, May 23.

CROWD SAW THE FESTIVAL

MORE THAN 5,000 PERSONS ON CAMPUS SATURDAY TO SEE ANNUAL FETE

Miss Pauline Richards Was Crowned Queen of May, and Dancers and Troops Honored Her—Funston Circus Events Ended Program

A large crowd numbering near 5,000 people attended the eighth annual May Festival on the college campus Saturday evening at 5 o'clock. Large numbers of soldiers from Camp Funston and people from over the state swelled the crowd.

The May Day procession marched down the east walk of the campus and advanced west through the groups of trees. The flower children led the procession. After them came the attendants leading the Queen who was seated upon the throne, which was carried by 16 stalwart young men dressed in white. The Queen's royal squadron of troops followed in gymnasium costumes, presenting a military appearance. The 60 dancers followed with their veils waving in the breeze. The may pole winders were last in the procession. The background of green campus made the procession a sight of great beauty.

The May Queen, Miss Pauline Richards, was crowned on the throne at the east side of the campus, and the children brought their tribute of flowers. The royal squadron of troops passed in review before their queen.

Dancers From Many Lands

The dancers, supposedly from foreign courts to honor the queen, followed. "The Appeal to the Gods," was given by a troop of Grecian court dancers supposedly on the slopes of Mt. Olympus. "The Dance of the Nile," given by Egyptian court dancers in appropriate costumes of Egypt. Represented the dancers on the banks of the smoothly flowing Nile. The "Scene du Carnival," by Parisian dancers followed.

The American dancers giving the "Tumult of the Elements"—earth, air, fire and water—in appropriate costumes, was an extremely beautiful scene.

The two winners in the ticket selling contest, Miss Helen Giles and Miss Grace Ratliff were presented with loving cups by the May Queen.

The winding of the May poles by the literary societies was the last college event on the program.

Funston Men Performed

The circus stunts by artists from Camp Funston was the final number on the program. Some very thrilling trapeze performances were put on by these men, making a very good and appreciated final number for the May fete.

The receipts of the May Festival goes to the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. It makes up a revolving loan fund for their annual conferences held in various parts of the country.

O. W. Holt took moving pictures of the event for the Pathé News.

The dances were under the direction of Miss Ethel Leung, and Miss Edith Bond, of the department of physical education who were assisted by the college orchestra, directed by Prof. R. H. Brown, of the department of music. The costumes were designed by the department of domestic art under the supervision of Miss Florence Hunt. The committee of arrangements was composed of Miss Saraella Leung, Joe Price, Ivan White, Harry Moyer, H. D. Finch, Jessie Hilder, Walter Neibarger, Harold Wilson, June L. Loeber and Ray S. Talley.

McClelland First in 176

Aggie Man at Top of Kelly Field Aviators

Lieutenant Harold McClelland, 16, who has been taking the ground work of the aviation section at Kelly Field San Antonio, Tex., is home on a short furlough. Lieutenant McClelland is on his way to California where he will take the course in the flying school. He made a short talk to the classes in wireless and photography Tuesday, telling them of the work of the wireless operator in aviation, and also of the work of the "scout," or aerial photographer. Lieutenant McClelland ranked first in a class of 176 at the Kelly Field school.

IOLA H. S. HAS BEST PAPER

The Lampoon Judged Best Scholastic Weekly in State.

The Iola Lampoon was ranked as the best newspaper and the Wichita Messenger as the best magazine, in the first annual high school publication contest held by the department of industrial journalism and printing of the college.

Announcement of the results of the contest was made by N. A. Crawford, head of the department, Saturday. In all 24 high school publications were submitted, most of them newspapers. In the newspaper division the Lawrence High School Budget won second place and the Topeka High School World third. Among the magazines the Holstonian, published by the Holston high school was second and the Clay County High School Life third.

The judges were Charles Dillon, managing editor of the Capper Farm Publications and author of "Journalism for High Schools"; Arthur J. Caruth, Jr., managing editor of the Topeka State Journal; and W. C. Markham, publisher of the Baldwin Ledger and secretary of the State Highway commission.

Attractive plaques suitable for wall display will be provided for the schools winning first and second places through the generosity of the paper house and type foundry members of the Kansas City Printers' Supply club and the Carpenter Paper company. Certificates will be sent to winners of first, second and third places.

MUCH NEW POETRY IS IN

Library's Collection of Late Work Is Large.

Books of poetry make up a large per cent of the material on the new book shelf in the library this spring. Modern poetry is especially well represented by volumes from such authors as Edward Arlington Robinson, "Man Against the Sky"; Robert Service, "Rhymes of a Red Cross Man"; Percy MacKaye, four volumes of poetry and drama; W. B. Yeats, collections of poems; Joyce Kilmer, "Male Street and Other Poems"; Robert Frost, "Mountain Interval"; and Willard Wilson Gibson two volumes of poems.

For the person who wishes to begin an acquaintance with modern poetry a collection of short poems by American writers arranged by Jessie Belle Rittenhouse is recommended. The poems are so selected and arranged that each poem gives the key to the one following or is allied to it in spirit.

INCLUDES SUMMER BIRTHDAY

Y. W. Party Not Only for Those Born in April and May

The Y. W. C. A. birthday party scheduled for Wednesday evening includes girls who have birthdays during the summer months as well as those who were born in April and May. Miss Mildred Inskeep, Y. W. C. A. secretary said yesterday.

Through a mistake, only those who have birthdays in April and May were issued invitations, but the other girls are expected.

A SERVICE FLAG IS COMING

AGGIE BANNER, WITH 720 STARS WILL BE HERE IN TWO WEEKS

Requisition for a Flag Large Enough to Hold 1,300 Stars Has Been Made by Vice President Willard—to Hang in Main Hall.

Final requisition for a service flag for K. S. A. C. has been made by Dr. J. T. Willard and within two weeks the big flag will be in its chosen place in Anderson hall.

The plan for the service flag has been under consideration for some time and at last the details have been satisfactorily worked out. Those designing the honor flag found it a problem to give it the appearance of completion and yet save space for the addition of other stars as further enlistments from K. S. A. C. are announced.

Honor Square in Center

This K. S. A. C. banner is to be 13 feet square, the center on which the stars are to be placed being 9 feet square. The outside border, 2 feet in width, is of red and the field for the stars is of white. The stars are blue.

A square in the center of the entire flag, 2 feet 3 inches each way, has been set out as the real honor spot. In this place a five point star is to be outlined by gold stars, representing those who have given up their lives in patriotic service. The stars in this square are arranged in circles instead of in rows as in the remainder of the flag. The blue stars will be used in the center until replaced by the gold.

To Hang in Main Hall

As the figures for the honor roll of the college are not complete, an estimate was made and 720 stars ordered for the first showing of the flag. The background and border are so designed that the number of stars may be increased to 1300 or more.

The service flag will be hung in Main hall, opposite the old chapel door where it will be in view from the east entrance to the building as well as the north and south. The flag will be here for commencement day May 25, as originally planned.

DEBATE TRIALS THIS WEEK

Tryouts for the Squad Scheduled for Thursday and Friday.

Tryouts for next year's debate squads will be held Thursday and Friday of this week from 3 to 5 o'clock in A-60. Several debaters already have been scheduled for next year. Strong teams will be required if the season is a success it is thought and all the material possible is wanted on the squads.

Two triangular debates have been secured for the women, the first with Washburn and Ottawa and the second with Southwestern and Pittsburg Normal.

For the men there will be the Ames dual debate and the fourth round of the pentangular with Ottawa, Baker, College of Emporia and Washburn.

WILL MAKE RED CROSS DRIVE

Prof. A. E. White Will Have Charge of the Second Campaign.

The second Red Cross drive will begin May 20. A. E. White, associate professor of mathematics has been asked by John Coons chairman of the Red Cross association for Riley county, to take charge of this drive for the college. Professor White is perfecting his plans whereby every student and employee of the college may be given an opportunity to contribute to the fund.

The amount apportioned to Riley county is $20,000, which is nearly $1 a person.

A STUDENT HEALTH MANUAL

Doctor Siever Is Preparing a New Bulletin.

The department of student health has the material for a bulletin on the subject of student health. The work has been compiled by Dr. C. M. Siever college physician.

The cover leaf is to have the following quotation from the Bible: "Health and a good constitution are better than all gold; and a strong body than wealth without measure." Ecclesiastes 30:15.

ABILENE BY HALF A POINT

WICHITA HIGHS NOSED OUT IN FINAL EVENT OF ANNUAL SCHOOL MEET

Farmer, a Scott City Speedster, Smashed the 440-Yard Dash mark Setting Up New Record of 52 4-5 Seconds—Engle Made Most Points

The Abilene highs, by winning second place in the relay, the last event of the day, succeeded in nosing out ahead of Wichita in the annual state high school track and field meet on Saturday by one half of a point, the final count standing Abilene 27, Wichita 26 1-2.

The meet was a fast one, although only one record was broken. Farmer of Scott City ran the 440-yard dash in 52 4-5 seconds, beating the record made by Moore of Wichita last year by two fifths of a second. Farmer showed remarkable form in this race and had been pushed a little harder probably would have been able to run it in less than 52 seconds.

Engle Made Most Points

Engle of Abilene was the high point man of the meet. By winning firsts in the 120-yard hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles and a 50-yard dash, he succeeded in coping 12 of the 27 points made by the Abilene team. Although Engle did not break any records in the hurdle events, he showed unusual form for a high school athlete in taking the sticks.

In the track events, Abilene showed up the rest of the field, taking three firsts, two seconds, a third and a fourth place, a total of 24 points. The team was not so strong in the field events, though, taking a second in the pole vault for the only score.

The squad from Wichita was more evenly balanced, scoring 13 points in the track events and 11 1-2 points in the field events. Abilene was ahead at first, but when the results of the field events came in, Wichita pulled to the front, 24 1-2 to 24.

All Up to Relay

The outcome of the relay decided the meet. Wichita drew the pole in the race, but the Blue and White quarter mile runners were not up to the runners from Abilene and Scott City. At the end of the third lap, Abilene was leading by a comfortable margin, but on the fourth lap Farmer of Scott City took up the race, passed Reep of Abilene about half way around the track and finished at least five yards ahead of the Abilene man. Valley Falls was tied entered in the relay, but their first man gave out before he could finish his lap.

The crowd was large and the day ideal for the meet. The number of men in the events was considerably larger than first expected, as there were 58 entries from 23 cities. The meet was run off in less than scheduled time, going smoother than most high school meets. The two cups one for high point school and one for high point man went to Abilene. Scott City took the relay cup.

The other scores follow: Scott City 18, Valley Falls, 12; Pratt 9; Garden City and Anthony, 8 each; Liberal 7; Florence 5 1-2; Norton and McLouth 5 each; Manhattan, 4; Solomon, Neodesha and Mankato 2 each; Hope and Paxico 2 each; and Pittsburg, 1.

Summary of Events

50-yard dash—Won by Lovelace, Wichita; Stewart, Valley Falls, second; Engle, Abilene, third; Sealaugh, Norton, fourth. Time 5 3-5 seconds.

100-yard dash—Won by Stewart, Valley Falls; Farmer, Scott City second; Luce, Anthony, third; Gibson, Pittsburg, fourth. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

200-yard dash—Won by Matthews, Perry, Rector, Scott City, second; Pinnon, of Florence, third; Smiley, Wichita, fourth. Time, 4:48 3-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Farmer, of Scott City; Reep, Abilene, second; Kortens, Anthony, third; Grindle, of Perry, fourth. Time 52 4-5 seconds breaking former record of 53 1-2 seconds.

880-yard run—Won by Brenneman, Abilene; Matthews, Ferry, second; Kaul, Paxico, third; Smith, Abilene, fourth. Time 2:08 1-5 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Engle, Abilene, Luce, Anthony, second, Wynne, Norton, third; Jones, Neodesha, fourth. Time, 27 2-5 seconds. 220-yard dash—Won by Morris, Wichita; Decker, Valley Falls, second; Stewart, Valley Falls, third. Luce, Anthony, fourth. Time 24 2-5 seconds.

Relay—Won by Scott City (Countryman, Easley, Riley and Farmer); Abilene, second; Wichita third. Time 3:42 4-5 seconds.

Pole vault—Won by Hope, Garden City; Smith, Abilene, second; Cook of Hope, and Hyton and Marshall, Manhattan, tied for third. Height 10 feet.

12-pound shot put—Won by Heaton, Liberal; Butcher, Solomon, second; Pringle, Harveyville, third; Bruce, of Wichita, fourth. Distance, 12 feet, 4 1-2 inches.

High jump—Won by Eggleston, McLouth; Young, Wichita, and Nuffer, of Florence, tied for second; Marshall, Manhattan, fourth. Height, 5 feet 5 inches.

Discus throw—Won by Bruce, Wichita, Kennedy, Mankato, second; Heaton, Liberal, third; Reserie, Florence fourth. Distance, 107 feet 9 1-2 inches.

Broad jump—Won by Lovelace, Wichita; Seabaugh, Norton, second, and Scott City, third; Marshall, Manhattan, fourth. Distance, 20 feet 1 inch.

SHE FOUNDED HULL HOUSE

Miss Jane Addams, Noted Woman, Here, Saturday.

Miss Jane Addams of Chicago will address the general assembly at the college Saturday morning. Her subject will be "The World's Food Supply and America's Obligation." The morning class periods will be shortened 15 minutes so that all classes may meet and chapel be held at the regular time—11 o'clock.

"This will be a rare opportunity not only for the students and faculty members, but the citizens of Manhattan and vicinity as well to hear a woman who is, in my opinion, one of the two greatest women in America," said J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics.

Miss Addams has studied in Philadelphia, spent two years in Europe, has the degree of L. L. D. from the University of Wisconsin, and from Smith College, and has an A. M. from Yale. With Miss Ellen Gates Starr, she opened the social settlement of Hull House, Chicago, 1889, of which she has since been head resident. She was inspector of streets and alleys in the vicinity of Hull House for three years. She was president of the national conference of Charities and Correction in 1909.

Miss Addams is a writer and lecturer on social and political reform. She is the author of "Democracy and Social Ethics," "Newer Ideals of Peace," "The Spirit of Youth and the City Streets," and "A New Conscience and an Ancient Evil."

WANTS A SENIOR MAN QUICK

Miss Ada Dykes Advertis for Person of Male Gender.

WANTED—A senior man. Hurry, Hurry, Hurry. See Miss Ada Dykes, G-53, in mornings.

Perhaps that isn't the way Miss Dykes wants this notice put in the paper, but the above method should get results.

The situation isn't as bad as it appears on the surface. Miss Dykes wants a man, "tis true, but it is only because Donald (Shorty) McLeod, a member of the senior play cast, has deserted the stage for the army, and Miss Dykes must have another senior right away to fill Mr. McLeod's shoes, or whatever it is that an actor has.

The "Hurry, Hurry, Hurry" part of the ad is just as easily explained. That's the name of the senior play.

Y. W. SENIORS IN CHARGE

Older Girls Say Good-Bye to the Association.

The senior co-eds had charge of the Y. W. C. A. program at the regular association meeting Thursday afternoon.

As this was the last meeting at which all of the senior girls could be present they gave some parting advice to the under-graduates along the line of campus conduct. Four types of college girls were portrayed, the snob, the grind, the society girl, and the democratic girl.

A vocal solo was given by Miss Flossie Brown and a piano solo by Miss Frances Stahl. Miss Alice Neiman presided.

CAMP AT SHERIDAN

SIXTY AGGIE CADETS ENTITLED TO GO TO SCHOOL NEAR CHICAGO

TRAINING TO BEGIN JUNE 3

Captain O'Neill Receives Information Regarding Reserve Officers' Training Camp.

Students Not Graduating Who Are in Advanced Course Must Go, and Thirty Others May.

MUST SIGN UP TODAY—O'NEILL

Applications Will Be Received at Commandant's Office up to Five O'Clock This Afternoon—Aggie Men Plan to go in Body—May Be Quartered Together.

The summer reserve officers' training camp will be held at Fort Sheridan, beginning June 3. Sixty Aggies are entitled to attend. Information regarding the camp reached Capt. W. P. J. O'Neill Saturday.

Candidates for the camp must sign up at the military office before tonight, it was announced yesterday.

All members of the advanced course except seniors, have signed a contract to go, and these students will make up nearly one-half of the Aggie quota. The remaining cadets in the quota will be chosen from those who apply.

To Pick Many Alternates

It is probable that a large list of alternates also will be chosen, for this college will be entitled to send more than 60 to the camp if other institutions fail to fill their quotas. All students who have completed, or are completing two years of drill are eligible.

Students will report in their cadet uniforms, and will also have extra equipment for the field work. A list of articles each man must have follows. Pair of woolen olive drab breeches, olive drab cap, olive drab coat, pair of canvas leggings, set of cap and collar ornaments, pair of russet shoes, service hat, hat cord, two pairs cotton olive drab breeches and two flannel olive drab shirts.

May Wear the Serge

The cadet serge uniform will be worn instead of the woolen suit specified, it is announced. Many of the institutions have equipped their cadets with woolen suits, but the serge which makes a better dress uniform, has been in use here for the last six years.

Students will receive subsistence of government ration, and mileage of 3 1-2 cents to and from the camp, but will not be paid.

Want in Same Company

A number of the Aggie juniors who are certain to attend all ready are planning to "shot the chutes" together at the big camp, in the hope of being assigned to the same company. It is probable that a meeting place will be arranged for in Chicago, and the Aggie men will go to Fort Sheridan in a body Monday morning, June 3.

Fort Sheridan is only a short distance from Chicago, and elevated cars run out to the camp.

The camp does not obligate any one in any way," Captain O'Neill says. "It is for the purpose of giving students in government recognized colleges an opportunity to have the practical experience in field work and to prepare them for such military duties as they may bear during the course of the war, and thereafter."

GO TO THE CAMP

The summer camp date and site have been selected. How many Aggies are going to attend?

Sixty is the school's quota, but we shouldn't be satisfied with 60 names down on the list. At the last moment some may not be able to go, and alternates will be needed to substitute. And then other institutions may not fill their quotas, and again an opportunity will be opened up.

The camp is a rare opportunity. Every man who wants to be an officer in the cadet corps should attend, for the cadet instruction next year probably will be built up around the teaching the men receive this summer.

A SUCCESSFUL MEET

The high schoolers have come and gone.

The results were gratifying. One of the largest crowds in the history of the interscholastic meet saw the prep athletes in action. Due to the royal welcome given to the visitors, nearly all of them should enter K. 3 A. C. next fall if they attend any college.

The Clevenger-Schultz-Bauer-Y. W. Girls combination proved a winning one.

GUARD MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

Stay-at-Homes Must Not Be Neglected

The lives of American children and mothers must be safeguarded if the men who are fighting are to return to a civilization unimpaired at the close of the war, according to Mrs. Florence Kelly, general secretary of the National Consumers' league, who addressed students and faculty of the Kansas State Agricultural college at general assembly Monday morning on "The Consumers' League's War-time Program—Labor Laws for Women and Children." Mrs. Kelly has spent many years as a worker in Hull house, Chicago, and in settlement houses in New York City.

"England is trying hard to repair the wreckage made in 1914 when women were drafted into unsuitable work and children were turned out of schools to make way for hospitals," said Mrs. Kelly. "We were behind England before the beginning of the war and unless we go forward now we will have relatively less at the end."

MISS HEISER HEADS W. A. A.

Women Athletes Pick Officers for Next Year.

The Women's Athletic association has selected officers for next year. The new officers are: Miss Lucille Heiser, president; Miss Lucille Harbaugh, vice-president; Miss Verla Dahnke, treasurer; and Miss Harie Hammerly, secretary.

At this meeting it was decided to give "K" sweaters to those girls distinguishing themselves in athletics and to give pins to those deserving a special mark of merit.

A list of the girls winning "K's" will be published later in The Collegian.

ENGINEERS STAMP BUYERS

One Student Purchased 332 Thrift Stamps.

Nine of the sixteen captains in the division of engineering War Savings society had reported on sales of thrift stamps up to May 8. These said 25 persons of their respective groups had purchased 459 thrift stamps. Of this number, 332 were purchased by one student.

This is only a partial report as other stamps are known to have been sold in the division.

The Sign of the Hair Pin
When hair pins hung on some large nail

By maidens in distress,
The secret that's revealed to us is surely bashfulness.

'Tis sad when maidens must rely
On hair pin for their dates,
'Tis sad when girls must stag alone
To picture shows and fetes.

O boys in you their trust is laid
On you will rest their fate,
For your decision, if 'tis wrong,
Will rob them of a date.
Samuel W. Yabrof.

Humble.

The sergeant-major had trouble in finding an accountant for his captain, but at last brought in a private for trial.

"Are you a clerk," demanded the captain.

"No sir," replied the man.

"Do you know anything about figures," asked the captain.

"I can do a bit," replied the man, modestly.

"Is this the best man you can find," asked the officer.

"Yes, sir."

"Well," growled the captain, "I suppose I'll have to put up with him!"

Turning to the private, he snapped, "What were you in civilian life?"

"Professor of mathematics at the State College, sir," was the unexpected reply.

Rambblings of V. L. C.
I started out to write a spring poem
But waited for inspiration;
I dallied all evening, musing at home
Then wrote this in desperation.

I feel like going under
At the thought of Lucy Wonder
And her weak and weekly blunder
Of sublime poetic plunder—
But I wonder what in thunder
Is it makes poor Lucy Wonder.

Y. W. ALUMNI SEND $110

Last Year's Association Works Add to Funds.

The Y. W. C. A. has received $110 from last year senior girls as a result of personal letters written to the Alumni.

The finance committee, of which Miss Mary Gilliam, sophomore in home economics is chairman, compiled the names and addresses of all senior girls who belonged to the association last year. A committee of 1918 senior girls was then chosen with one representative from each small organization and two from the larger ones.

This committee met in K-56 and each member wrote personal letters to the girls of last year whom they had known well. These letters told how the students and faculty had supported the Friends Friendship War fund, what the Patriotic league has done and what the girls have done in Red Cross work. They also told of the new Y. W. C. A. office which is being arranged for and asked the old members to help.

Twenty-five of the last year girls responded and the association has received $110 to be used in making the new office attractive.

The members of the committee were: Miss Olive Lagerstrom; Miss Pauline Richards, Miss Helen Stewart, Miss Amanda Rosenquist, Miss Pearl Brown, Miss Hattie Droll, Miss Leona Hoag, Miss Margaret King, Miss Grace Dickman, Miss Irma Boerger, and Miss Lola Sloop.

HALSTEAD'S

Where Superior Underwear Is Sold.

Written by a Freshman

Walter Neibarger

Dear Bruce:

Well, ol' boy, the time is drawin' near when this colm has got to change its name or quit, that is, if the profs er feelin' good next week.

Sometimes we think we've had a d--l of a time writtin' this colm. Last week we thot we had caught a fellow laughin' at our dope. A few minutes later he hummed us for 50 cents to take his gul to the show. Another feller accused us abein' egotistic, one said we was still in the high school stage, and last but not least, one said we was morally lackin'.

The biggest joke on us though was when a school uv Ag asked us what we was gittin' PAID for ritin' this dope. That kid was GREEN.

Never told you 'bout that time a preacher called on us, did I? Well, we heard a gentle knock such as preacher called on us, did I? Well, He said if he was me he wouldn't say "darn" in the colm. He said we had an opportunity of turnin' wanderin' sinners to the Lord if we would sandwich in sermons between paragraphs. 'We told 'im our claim: to passin' through the pearly gates was doin' and not sayin'.

One nice thing about ritin' a colm is the notes the guls send through the postoffice. This one feller said most of them existed in our imagination. That boy must have spent two hours figgerin' that out, and us innocent all the time.

Well, if the war lasts long enough the colm may be back again next year, but we bin figgerin' if some uv us fellers don't get started at the Germans pretty soon, we'll miss all the fun, so instid uv wigglin a pencil, we may be cussin' Germans next year.

This is our last poor attempt at colm dope, Bruce, and to such readers as have occasionally peered into this corner of the Collegian, we extend our sympathy and thanks. Well, the dear public must be gittin' tired so we will shut ourself off.

Sincerely,
Colm.

ASSIGNED TO CAMP PIKE

Aggie Training Camp Men Are Ordered South.

Service Stars.

All through the troubled night the service stars
Of God shine in the windows of his heaven.

Where battle-lines by thunderbolts are riven,
Great Jupiter, enthroned, his scepter wields;

Good Saturn watches over flocks and fields;
Neptune is on the sea

Bird-winged is Mercury,
And Venus lights the way of arm-ored Mars.

J. G. MATTER GETS $11,000.

College Authorities Agree With Him on Value of Land.

J. G. Matter and the college authorities have settled the matter of the value of the land taken for the use of the college under the act of the recent legislature by mutual compromise at an amount approximately $11,000. The land had been appraised at $10,200, which Mr. Matter, who has lived on the place for 23 years, felt was not sufficient remuneration for the land taken. The matter was settled with the best of feeling on all sides.

Mr. Matter has purchased the Nixon place west of Harvey Signor's, consisting of 70 acres, and will make his home there after next spring, when he gets possession.

HAS A REAL JUNK SHOP

Lost Articles of All Kinds at College Post Office.

The ever-increasing accumulation of missing articles at the college has raised the question of whether it would not be advisable to conduct an official lost, strayed or stolen bureau in connection with the post office.

An inventory of the lost articles shows winter and summer hats, truss, gloves, buttons of all sorts and descriptions, rings, thimbles, pins, pocketbooks, pens, ear rings, slide combs, umbrellas, glasses, dissecting set, and books.

"If you have lost anything in your college course," suggests Miss Nellie May, postmistress, "you had better drop around to the post office within the next two or three weeks and possibly you will find your long lost property."

LIKES THE FRENCH PEOPLE.

A. A. White, '15, Is An Aviator In Overseas Service.

Word was received from A. A. White, '15, and Harlan Sumner, '16 in a letter written March 31 to Dr. J. T. Willard, dean of the division of general science and vice president of the college. The letter was written by Mr. White who is a first lieutenant, stationed with the Twenty-seventh United States aero squadron in France. Lieutenant White says he and Sumner, who is also a lieutenant, are stationed close together.

"The surroundings and environment are delightful," comments Lieutenant White. "We couldn't ask for better climate nor for a more royal reception than the French people everywhere are giving us."

Captain O'Neill explained yesterday that officers in the corps would wear their insignia and leather puttees at the camp. The cotton trousers, he explained were for use in the field and the serge uniform would be worn when the student-soldiers are off duty.

PLANT SHRUBS ON THE CAMPUS

College Grounds Improved Near East Entrance

Among the improvements on the college campus is the planting of shrubbery to hide the unsightly objects, cover bare spots, and replace fences which have been put up to prevent the trampling of the grass.

Shrubbery has been planted at the east entrances, back of Agricultural hall, around the greenhouse, in front of the dairy building and in Lover's Lane.

In shady places snowballs, flowering cranberry, dogwood, mock orange, lilac, and tamarisk have been set out. In the sunny places daintier shrubs such as spiraea, barberries, ninebark, altheas, and Siberian pea trees have been placed.

Owing to delay in transit less shrubbery has been transplanted than was anticipated.

BIG SISTER'S PLAN CAMPAIGN

Meeting Held Tuesday Evening—Dean Van Zile Talked

All girls who intend to be Big Sisters next year met in L-50 Tuesday evening at 6:45 o'clock to learn of the work which has been planned by the Big Sister committee for the coming year. The purpose was to make each Big Sister feel her responsibility.

Miss Jessie D. McMachir, advisor of the Big Sister committee presided. Miss Mildred Inskeep, Y. W. C. A. secretary, sang. Dean Mary Mary Pierce Van Zile gave a talk on "What the Little Sister Can Expect of the Big Sister Next Year." She brought out the fact that the older girls could help the freshmen girls to understand college ideals, traditions and standards, and to enjoy social relations with others.

Miss Vera Clmstead, chairman of the Big Sister committee, passed out the purpose cards and the purpose was read after which the girls signed the cards.

OFFER NEW BUSINESS COURSES

Commercial Classes Will Be Taught by Don L. Burk

A commercial course in shorthand typewriting, and office organization and management will be offered by the college for the first time in history this summer.

The course will be taught by Don L. Burk, assistant professor of English. He has asked that those planning to take the work will see him as soon as possible so he can order the required number of books, and see if it will be necessary to employ an assistant. More than 20 persons have already signified their intentions of taking the course.

Three hours credit will be given for the course in shorthand, two hours for the course in typewriting and one credit for the course in office organization and management. The course in shorthand will be taught from 8 to 10 o'clock on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. The typewriting course will be offered from 1 to 3 o'clock on the same days. The class in office organization meets at 10 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

WANTS ALL IN RED CROSS

Professor White Tells What Is Expected of Students

Subscriptions already have begun to come in for the second Red Cross drive, according to A. E. White, associate professor of mathematics, and chairman of the committee having charge of the drive for the college.

"It is gratifying to know," said Professor White, "that some persons are feeling the burden of the war as a part of their business under the new order of things. Such persons save the solicitors much work by coming in with their subscriptions without waiting to be solicited."

"These drives will come every six months. People should plan to give a certain amount each time rather than giving in a lump, as the Red Cross must be carried on with steady support. If the Red Cross subscription were made a part of every budget allowance, and upon receipt of due slips, persons would come in and pay their subscriptions, this part of the war work could be handled in a business like manner."

"There are few students who could not give $1 every six months. This would aggregate $1,600 a year."

POSITIONS FOR 19 SENIORS

High Schools Are Signing Graduates for Teaching

Nineteen seniors have signed contracts for the coming school year, according to the department of education. All these positions but one were secured through the department of education of the college. Several more students have had places offered them, but have not yet signed up.

Recent appointments are: for English, Miss Ethel May Arnold, Perry; for home economics, Miss May Berger, Stockton; Miss Irma Boerner, Colby; Miss Pearl Brown, Cedarvale; Miss Helen Crane, Neosho Falls; Miss Beatrice Hurd, Rolfe, Ia.; Miss Erba Mona Kauli, Meade; Miss Ruth McMurtry, Tuedale; Miss Edna Rawlings, Climax; Miss Julia May White, Arlington, Neb.; Miss Margaret J. Worland, Seneca.

COMMISSIONS TO SEVEN GIRLS

Y. W. C. A. Rewards Workers in Eight Weeks Club

The work of the Eight Weeks' club came to a close last week and the girls received their commissions Thursday at the last Y. W. C. A. meeting of the year.

"Many college girls will be of service in their home community by helping in the fields or in Red Cross work," said Miss Mildred Inskeep, Y. W. C. A. secretary. "There are not as many Eight Week club girls as expected."

Seven commissions were granted from the national board of the Y. W. C. A. for the leaders of Eight Week club work from this college. The leaders are: Miss Ruth McMurray, Darlow; Miss Gerda Olson, Wichita; Miss Cora Winget, Jennings; Miss Mary Johnston, Gardner; Miss Mary Hill, Burlington; Miss Jessie Hibler, Springfield, Mo.; Miss Clara Smith, Mound City, Mo.

Visited Gillette Hotel

Miss Josephine Lovgett, instructor in domestic science, took the class in industrial management to the Gillette hotel Tuesday, where the girls looked over the kitchen, cooling system, store room, and dining room.

HONOR TO DEAN VAN ZILE

HOME ECONOMICS HEAD RELIEVED OF DETAILS OF WORK AND PROMOTED

Extra Work in the Division Has Made Necessary the Separation of the Office of Dean of Women and Dean of Division of Home Economics.

Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of the division of home economics, will serve as dean of women only, as soon as plans adopted by the authorities of the college are carried out.

Dean Van Zile has for many years performed a double function in the college—that of dean of the division of home economics and also that of dean of women. Both of these responsibilities require strenuous work.

Dean Van Zile as dean of women was in charge of the social as well as personal activities of the girls. As dean of the division of home economics, she had charge of the college work in this particular branch, advising on the work to be followed by each student, kept track of the attendance was overseer of the division in general, considered the changes in the curriculum, and had charge of the many teaching appointments.

"War conditions demand more work of the dean of women in order to safeguard the women students from unwholesome influences," commented Dr. J. T. Willard, vice-president of the college. "Mrs. Van Zile had long wished for this change and since it has been recommended by the president and voted on by the board of administration it will now be realized."

An efficient woman will be chosen to fill the vacancy in the division of home economics—some person well trained and as good an administrator as Dean Van Zile. Special offices probably will be provided in the domestic science building for Dean Van Zile.

"Y" PLANS TO HELP FROSH

Older Students Plan Drive to Hike Enrollment

The Y. M. C. A. Committee on new student work is busy planning for the summer and fall work. The functions of this committee correspond to that of the Big Sister group of the Y. W. C. A.

Handbooks of general information about the college and the city, which are given out each year to new students on their arrival, are now being worked out. Ray Ferree, chairman of the committee, expects to have 1,200 handbooks ready to give out next fall.

College students, alumni, and Y. M. C. A. men are to be organized by counties for the purpose of getting in touch with all high school graduates of each county and to try to induce them to come to college next year. One student of the county is to be in active charge and others are to cooperate with him.

Next fall the Y. M. C. A. will work in conjunction with the Y. W. C. A. in meeting trains in cars. New students will be taken to the Y. M. C. A. building where rooms will be assigned and the student taken to his room by Y. M. C. A. men.

Entertainments will be provided for the first week or two by this committee in co-operation with the social committees of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. freshman party and a joint mixer will be provided for early in the term.

After the newness of the college has worn off and new students are inclined to feel pangs of homesickness personal visits will be made to encourage and help the freshmen.

Since Mr. Ferree, who has charge of this work, will leave soon to enter military service, Oscar Cullen will take up the work.

ROBBED FRATERNITY HOUSE.

Silk Shirt and Money Taken from the Beta.

Burglars entered the Beta Theta Phi house some time Monday night and took small change from the clothes of several of the men and one silk shirt. The robbery was not detected until Tuesday when the loss of the money was discovered. No other articles have been missed.

The front door was unlocked and entrance was probably made through it as nothing in the house seems to have been disturbed.

STATE STOCK RAISERS HERE

CATTLEMEN FROM ALL PARTS OF KANSAS HERE FOR BIG CONCLAVE.

Noted Persons, Including General Wood, Are on Program for Annual Convention—Results of an Experiment to Be Announced.

Hundreds of stockmen from all sections of Kansas will be at the college today for the sixth annual cattlemen's meeting.

Prominent speakers scheduled are J. P. Cotton, meat administrator for the United States meat administration; Dwight B. Heard, Phoenix, Ariz., prominent cattleman and chairman of the state council of defense for Arizona; Thomas E. Wilson, president of Wilson and company; Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the 89th division of the national army at Camp Funston; J. C. Swift, member of the Swift and Henry Commission company; R. J. Kinzer, member of the Kansas Hereford Breeders' association; and W. H. Pew, head of the animal husbandry department of the Iowa State college, Ames, Ia. Many of these speakers are actively engaged in war work. They all promised to be here unless their work was so pressing at the time of the meeting that it would be impossible to get away.

Announcement will be made at the convention of the results obtained by the college from feeding five lots of calves and developing them into yearling beef. The lots have been fed as follows: Lot 1, shelled corn, linseed meal, alfalfa hay and silage; lot 2, shelled corn, linseed meal, alfalfa hay; lot 3, shelled corn and alfalfa hay; lot 4, shelled corn, cottonseed meal, alfalfa hay and silage; lot 5, ground corn, linseed meal, alfalfa hay and silage.

The animals have been used this winter to determine the comparative value of different rations. Corn and alfalfa were used as a check ration in comparing shelled corn and ground corn, linseed meal and cottonseed meal. Results of a test to determine the effect of the addition of linseed meal and silage to the check ration of corn and alfalfa also will be announced.

Lunch will be served in the live stock pavilion at noon to hundreds of visitors by the Jayhawk Saddle and Siroin club of the college. In another section of the building the prize-winning college stock will be exhibited.

MISS ADDAMS IN TOMORROW

Noted Social Worker to Talk Before Special Assembly.

All students will be enabled to hear Miss Jane Addams of Chicago at 11 o'clock tomorrow through the shortening of the Saturday morning class periods 15 minutes each.

Miss Addams is ranked in "Who's Who" as one of the greatest women in America. She is a writer and lecturer on social and political reform. She is the author of Democracy and Social Ethics, "Newer Ideals of Peace," "The Spirit of Youth and the City Streets," and "A New Conscience and an Ancient Evil."

Miss Addams won world renown for her social settlement work in Chicago and her active interest in social and political reform.

SOLDIERS TO HAVE ARMY FOOD.

Cafeteria Will Serve Regular Meals to 250 Men.

The soldiers who are to be quartered and fed at the college this summer will not be allowed the same cafeteria privileges that the students enjoy. Instead of having their choice of several vegetables, salads and a half dozen desserts only one menu—an army ration—will be served. Double service is to be given by serving two lines at once—cafeteria style.

Thursday the first quota of men were served. Plans were made to feed 11 at breakfast, 92 at noon and 176 at supper. The full quota of 250 is expected to arrive today.

TOLD OF CONDITIONS ABROAD

French Officer Talked at Meeting of Tri-K.

Tri-K, honorary agricultural society gave a "hook" at the home of L. F. McCall, acting dean of the division of agriculture, Tuesday evening. Lieutenant Bouchet, a French officer, talked to the society on food conditions in London and Paris.

SERIES OF FAREWELL AFFAIRS

Hamps in Los Will Entertain This Week End.

The Ionian and Hamilton Literary societies will meet in joint session Saturday afternoon. Orville T. Bonnett will give a voice recital.

Immediately following the program the annual cake feed will be held in Lovers Lane. Saturday night the Ionians will camp in the country Sunday morning the under classmen will give a breakfast for the senior girls.

The cakes for the "feed" are furnished by Ionians who have been married within the last year. The Ionians who marry a Hamp must furnish two cakes. The engaged Hamps and Los pay for the ice cream.

The annual Ionian camp will be held on the Frank Waggoner farm, ten miles north of town. The girls will go out in automobiles, and return either on foot or in wagons.

The senior breakfast is planned by the juniors, and prepared by the freshmen. The sophomores wash the dishes. Immediately following the breakfast the seniors will read their last will and testament and prophecy.

THE DRAFTED MEN ARE IN

Quota of 250 to Train Here Arrived Yesterday.

The 250 men being mobilized at the agricultural college for special mechanical and technical training arrived yesterday morning and will be put to work as soon as they get settled and are classified as to the kind of work they are best fitted for. Captain Sturges who has charge of the men announced today.

The men will be put in six different classes—150 being trained as auto mechanics, 20 as electricians, 20 as radio operators, 20 as blacksmiths, 20 as machinists, and 20 as carpenters. The men will work from seven and a half to eight hours a day in the shops and will be given approximately two hours of military drill each day. Two months is the period of training.

Captain Sturges who has charge of the men is assisted by Lieutenants Kemper and Smith. Another lieutenant and a medical officer have also been assigned to help out with the work.

Cots have been placed in the men's gymnasium at the college for the temporary accommodation of the men and the two rooms on the second floor west end, of the gymnasium are being fitted up as reading and writing rooms for the men. The college cafeteria has made arrangements to feed them.

ELECT DEAN CALL PRESIDENT

Gamma Sigma Delta Picks Officers for Next Year.

The Gamma Sigma Delta, agricultural honor society, elected officers for the coming school year Tuesday evening. They are L. E. Call, acting dean of the division of agronomy chancellor; M. C. Tanquary, assistant professor of entomology, vice chancellor; L. E. Melchers acting head of department of botany, scribe; and J. W. Zahley, instructor in farm crops treasurer.

Miss Helen P. Carlyle, senior in agriculture, W. P. Tuttle, fellow in agronomy, and L. J. Horlacher, fellow in animal husbandry, were elected to membership.

MAY HAVE GONE OVERSEAS

Lieutenant Findley Volunteered to Go Without Returning Home First

Lieut. Paul Findley, former senior in agriculture, is thought to be on his way to France. Lieutenant Findley was last heard from in South Carolina. He was the first one of his company who volunteered to go, and did not get to visit home on a furlough as he had expected, before he left for France.

MAY CRACK RECORDS TODAY

FRESHMEN ATHLETES TO HAVE A CHANCE AT AGGIE MARKS IS MEET

Evans, Neely and Price Are Three Yearlings Who Are Expected to Show Up Well—Foreman to Test the Marl in the Mile Run.

All track athletes, including freshmen will be given a chance to lower a school record Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This mark will go down as a record of the school, although no letter will be given to the man winning.

"This is the first time anything of the kind has ever been held here, but so many of the men in school now who are capable of making records for themselves are likely to be in service next spring, that it is only fair they should be given a chance to break a record," said Coach "Germany" Schulz.

Freshmen Show Promise

The meet will give some of the members of the freshman class that have shown in class meets a chance to leave a record if they do not get to come back for next year.

"Germany" has a quartette of freshmen stars that should be able to break or at least tie most of the track events, especially in the dashes. Jack Evans is granted a chance to tie the record of 9 4-5 seconds in the 100-yard dash and is considered to have a good chance of breaking the record for the 220-yard dash.

Neely Is a Comer

Tom Neely is also heralded as a record breaker in the quarter mile. In the trial races he has been running for Coach Schulz this year this sprinter has shown remarkable form and should make a great try for a record at least. Price, in the half-mile, also should show the lovers of track events some speed in his event.

Price is in good form, and if the day and condition of the track are favorable, should make a strong bid for a record in the 880. The old mark of 2:01 is held by Marshall P. Wilder.

The meet is expected to be faster than any other meet held here this year, and everybody is invited to attend. According to "Germany", this is a chance to see some men in action that will equal or beat any men in the Missouri valley. Foreman, who has consistently defeated all the men he has gone up against in the Missouri valley meet, will also try for a record in the mile, and stands a good show of making one.

HELP HOUSEWIVES SAVE WHEAT

Home Economics Representatives Hold Demonstrations

The home economics department of the extension division is giving a series of wheat saving demonstrations over the state for the council of defense.

Miss Susanne Schenmayer, and Miss Gertrude Lynn and Mrs. Harriet Allard are representing the department in the counties asking for this instruction. The demonstrations are scheduled for afternoons and evenings six days of the week in various communities in each county. The course is offered thru the summer and until after the harvest, when it is hoped that the housewife can go back to the normal consumption of wheat flour in the making of yeast breads.

THE PROOF.

Nearly every senior man is planning to enter some branch of the service for his country as soon as he receives his sheepskin. Which is as it should be.

The men in the graduating class need not join the colors. Nearly every supporter of the college hopes, however, that these splendidly trained men will become useful units in the fight against the kaiser.

After all, the only excuse for a man continuing in college is that he believes he will be better prepared to do his best. And now that the members of the class of 1919 are leaving, it is up to them to prove that they have had high motives in remaining in college.

A CADET-LESS MEMORIAL DAY.

Manhattan will miss the college cadet corps this year.

Almost ever since there has been a college regiment, the student soldiers have been a feature of the annual Memorial day services. Until four years ago, the Aggie boys, clad in heavy, blue uniform, marched up the dusty cemetery hill with the sun pouring down from 90 to 100 degrees in the shade.

Then came the present olive drab uniforms that made the heat a bit more endurable, and later the hill was paved. And always the boys marched up that hill to the funeral dirge, part of the time muttering unkind words about the person who planned the affair, and later rejoicing that they had an opportunity to join in a tribute to the dead.

But the calendar and the college authorities have dealt an unkind blow at the old combination. Commencement week comes May 29 this year, and the next day is Memorial day.

And it will be a memorial day without marching cadets. What will Manhattan do—how will she fill the breach?

OUT OF THE MAIL BOX

Editor Collegian:

How comes it that some journalist with more bravery than ability, doesn't mark up a team or two of paper in eulogizing the Vets?

The Vets, we understand, belong to the division of agriculture, although aside from that the Vets and the Ags are as much alike as Pope Benedict and Hindenburg. They're a peppery gang and, without them, the colleg would be like unto an asylum for old men and women.

A Vet is much like any other human being that daily he obstructs the walks and drives of our fair campus, if perhaps—we except a certain "Climax." The "doctors are small in numbers, but they more than make up for it by their peculiar, intensified co-operation. The average Vet is influential in keeping the lowly freshman in his place, and in seeing that he dons the proper head gear. And just a tip to the first year man—when a Vet is seen around your vicinity, you may be certain that there is a paddle close by.

Their football team marched ruthlessly over all obstacles, and came out gory but victorious in the intramural games. The only casualty suffered by the "Medicos" was a temporary delay in one game while their burly center recovered from having swallowed his "Climax."

Their basketball team also romped its way to undying fame by winning the inter-division series. And now the resounding blows of the "Louisville slugger" indicates that the Vets are laying down a barrage behind the rival outfielders, and filling the alfalfa patch full of baseballs.

Taking them on all sides, the "bone slingers" are as full of pep as Billy Sunday, and without them we would stagnate. The writer is no Vet but would like to know whether they use Dier Kiss perfume when calling on a lady or just how they do manage it.—W. A. G.

"TARZAN OF THE APES"

Sensational Film to be Offered at Marshall Next Week.

That superman, "Tarzan of the Apes" will again make his appearance, this time on the screen at the Marshall theatre. Readers of the novel of the same title, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, will recall that Tarzan, infant son of white parents, is stolen by a tribe of apes, raised as one of the tribe, lived in trees, fought and conquered lions, tigers, apes and cannibals, and in short, lived as a beast. The pictured version follows closely the plot of the book and will no doubt be one of the most weird and most interesting pictures, to be shown for some time to come. Elmo Lincoln, the "Blacksmith" of the "Kaiser-Beast of Berlin" plays Tarzan and Enid Markey is the girl in the case. "Tarzan of the Apes" is scheduled for presentation at the Marshall theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

A prominent veterinarian advocates the cutting of certain muscles in the mule's tail to render him brayless. Our experience has been that there is altogether too much activity in that sector. We prefer being hee-hawed at.

Why all this fuss about not being able to understand the German mind? The German mind is one that believes anything that the kaiser says. Nothing is simpler.

Just about the time we get over using up all our adjectives on May queens, along comes the sweet girl graduates for their share.

Candidates for political office are hereby warned against the danger of having expressed certain views three or four years ago.

Another little thing that we have noticed is that some girls who spend a great deal of time on their cheeks and lips and eyebrows haven't anything on the bad little boys who refuse to wash behind the ears.

As a matter of war time economy we have decided not to buy any more food.

Eleventh hour notice of commencement orators: Don't forget to devote a portion of your time to the war.

You must not forget that the Red Cross is soon to open a vigorous campaign against indifference, selfishness, and un-Americanism. And it's not going to be hard to tell which side of the fight you are on.

Be very certain that just as soon as you start feeling sorry for yourself, everybody else is going to stop.

Sassafras Tea the Road to Wellville Aggie Girls Think

The campus may believe it, or the campus may not. As war correspondents say the truth is more startling than anything else. Oh shades of our old fashioned grandmothers there are girls in this institution who still believe in sassafras tea!

To look at this sassafras group the college would not suspect the fact.
They are to all outward appearances like any other crowd of girls who degenerate under one roof. They nickname Coca Cola and wear silk hose in winter. A few of them go to church and the rest of them do not.
They have had among them May queens and maybes, Phi Kappa Phi and flunkers, politicians and nice girls, Royals! Purple beauties and regular frights, faculty favorites and vice versa. They even keep a ukelele.

With the approach of spring, however, the house fancy turns from love to sassafras, and the world turns to look. They not only go in for sassafras but they do it early in the morning—just as their grandmas would have it—before breakfast. Annie steeps it in the chafing dish and the sisters all file by with their little tin cups. Not one has been known to empty her cup in the sink!

They are modest about their sacrifice for health. They do not flaunt their prudence before the world.
Sassafras is their one venture into the realm of high collars, woolen clothes, bread and milk poultices, and early bedtimes. They balk at sulphur and molasses the same as anybody.

But a cup of sassafras sends them about their work happy in the assurance that their blood is thin. Why they want it thin they do not know.
Perhaps they feel it is a precaution against any spring disaster. They may do it to lighten the work of the heart during its rush season. Then again, the ghost of some conscientious ancestor may be successfully haunting the premises. Anyhow they have the courage of their convictions. Here's to the girls, thin blood, and sassafras tea.

C. J. Medlin and Miss Sloop Receive Scholarships.

The annual debaters' banquet was held Friday evening at Harrison's. There were 41 members of the forum members of Pi Kappa Delta and Zeta Psi, honorary debating fraternities, and K debaters present.

Toasts were responded to by Dr. J. R. McArthur, Miss Grace Derby, Miss Lola Sloop, Arthur Boyer, Prof. O. H. Burns and Prof. Don L. Burk. H. A. Moore, sophomore in industrial journalism, acted as toastmaster.

The recommendations for the debating scholarships for the year '18-'19 were announced by Doctor MacArthur. C. J. Medlin, sophomore in industrial journalism, was recommended for the scholarship which is offered each year to a man who has especially distinguished himself in debate. Miss Lola Sloop, junior in home economics, held the scholarship this year and was recommended for a reappointment.

Those holding the scholarships of $100 help in the coaching of the teams and must themselves participate in one intercollegiate debate before being eligible for the scholarships.

Certificates and the official college monograms were awarded those participating in debate this year. Those receiving K's for the first time were Walter Houghton, Turner Barger, Seibert Fairman, C. O. Chubb, H. I. Richards, Samuel James, Kille D. Thompson, Miss Elizabeth Circle, Miss Dora Cate, Miss Ella Stinson and Miss Olive Legerstrom. Those who already hold one or more K's are C. J. Medlin, Arthur Boyer, H. A. Moore, H. C. Fisher, A. F. Swanson, Miss Ethel Arnold and Miss Helen Mitchell. C. J. Medlin was the only one to receive two K's at the banquet last night. He debated in both the triangular and one of the pentangular series this year.

"GARBAGE CAN IS THE TEST"

PATRIOTISM AND CONSERVATION URGED BY MISS JANE ADDAMS.

Americans Must Learn How to Use the Substitutes and Save Wheat and Fats, Hull House Founder Tells the Audience.

"If your eloquence is tested by the garbage pail, then it is the real thing, I'm sure," said Miss Jane Addams in an address before the general assembly Saturday morning. Miss Addams' subject was "The World's Food Supply and America's Obligation." The auditorium was comfortably filled.

"A recent inspection of garbage cans shows a reduction of 30 per cent of the fats formerly found there," said Miss Addams. "Not long ago it was said that one-half the fat that came into the American homes was thrown out. Our grandmothers made this fat into soap. We are learning the value of food."

"The use of substitutes is all a matter of learning how. Women at first felt peevish when asked to conserve because they felt they were asked to economize while nothing was being done in the field of commercial conservation. Strong efforts are now being made for proper distribution of products—for sending food to the parts of the country where most needed."

America's Food Plan.

"Farmers are not to receive the regular business profit—a margin. They are to be paid for their services the differential between the cost of raising the wheat and the selling price fixed by the food commission. The limitation of profits is also applied in stock yards."

"Various governments have begun to handle the total supply of foods. In America it has come about that all our exports are under government supervision and regulation. In England it is a life and death situation that not only the soldiers but the citizenry be fed."

"We are coming to look upon food from the point of view of utility rather than from the commercial point of view. The exploitation of the people is no longer to be tolerated in the handling of food, but the food situation is to be managed in the interests of the people."

"When we come to the peace table—and this war cannot go on forever—things will be settled on a humane basis. The nations will say 'We have kept Serbia alive, now we shall not turn our backs upon her and leave her land-locked and at the mercy of other nations. We shall give her a port on the Adriatic.' We shall internationalize the great straits and the strategic waterways."

Women Into War Work.

"In England 300,000 women are doing actual agricultural work. They have brought 1,500,000 acres under cultivation. They are accomplishing much, working hard, and are not complaining."

Miss Addams told of an English woman who had lived a luxurious life at a hotel in California for 20 years. She heard the irresistible call and returned to her native land. There she has undertaken actual farm work. She is up at 4 o'clock in the morning and sometimes at 3. She says that the women who are doing this work and sleeping in tents, as they do, are in the best of health.

Leland Stanford, Jr., university has a great army of women engaged in actual farm work. They, too, sleep in tents rather than inflict themselves on the farmers' wives. Though America has not yet been depleted through loss of men from her commercial and industrial pursuits, there is a possibility of her women having yet to enter the lists.

"The interdependence of the world so far as food, especially, is concerned—has been demonstrated to us by the war," said Miss Addams. "The people must be kept in a state of health for the period of regeneration after the war. If they have to suffer from health conditions arising from malnutrition this will cause complications."

Why U. S. Is Called On.

"It takes three times as many ships to bring food from the distant ports of Australia and South America as from the United States. The countries abroad can no longer get their sugar from the old sources. Therefore they and we get sugar from the same sources. The question is whether they or we shall have it. We can send one-half to two-thirds of our sugar abroad and still use our share of the normal consumption of sugar for the world.

"The European neutrals are suffering almost as much as are the belligerents. In spite of newspaper stories it is known that the central powers are having food riots every day. There is great dissatisfaction and uproar there. In England they have a food controller. All the people are submitting to food regulation. It is the duty of America to produce more food than ever before and to share it with her allies."

England Hard Pressed.

"The analysis of the food shortage given by Herbert Hoover in the second or third bulletin after being made food administrator gave us the causes—the poor harvest of 1916 when little was shipped, the great withdrawal of men into the firing line (forty million men on all fronts) twenty million making munitions, ten million killed, ten million engaged in shipbuilding, lack of fertilizer because the nitrates are used in the manufacture of munitions, and the tonnage of shipping that is lost through the submarine warfare."

"The food commission has found out the amount of food necessary for human sustenance as well as the nutritive value of food. Now it is America's duty to see what she can do to make up the horrible food deficit of the world."

DILLON TO BE SPEAKER

Former Aggie Man Coming for the School of Ag. Commencement.

Charles Dillon, managing editor of the Capper Farm Publications and former head of the department of industrial journalism in the agricultural college, will deliver the address at the fourth annual commencement exercises of the school of agriculture in the college auditorium Friday evening, May 24. There are 10 candidates for graduation.

Mr. Dillon's interest in young people and his belief that the teaching of English could be made more practical prompted him to write his book "Journalism for High Schools," recently off the press, which has received much favorable comment throughout the country. He was in newspaper work for many years before he came to Manhattan, having held positions of trust on the Kansas City Star.

"A mind naturally sympathetic with human plans and aspirations and a wide, varied, and successful experience make Mr. Dillon unusually well qualified to speak on subjects pertaining to agriculture and rural life," commented Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the college. "His appreciation, his ability, and his breadth of view make him a most attractive speaker before an audience, and particularly before an audience interested in the larger problems of farm life."

Candidates for graduation in home economics are Miss Anna Amstutz of Halstead and Miss Thelma Wilkerson of Topeka. Those in agriculture are John Brownriggs, Dean Stanley, and Frank E. Swanson, Manhattan; Harold J. Cowen, Scott City; Ygnacio Gomez, San Antonio, Tex.; Harold Johnson, Cleburne; Scott E. Kelsey, Topeka; and Raymond Oehrie, Overbrook.

VOLUNTEER FOR RED CROSS

Drive Began Yesterday and Will Reach Every Student.

The Red Cross drive is on. It began yesterday taking the volunteer form rather than that of the selective draft as the former method will uncover the slackers.

"There are persons who never give," said Professor A. E. White, chairman of the committee, "unless someone comes to them personally for a subscription. They slip out of all they can. There are also those who are recognizing that this war is being waged for them and they are giving their loyal support to the various war activities."

"It is not expected that students can give largely, but it is the universal support that counts in the end even though the individual contribution be small."

"Subscriptions may be paid at the post office. Let us back up our boys at the front with our personal support."

George W. Leeson, former general science student in the college, was in Manhattan last Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Leeson has been teaching mathematics in the high school at Clyde. He is now awaiting his call to camp.

BIG WEEK FOR CATTLEMEN

MORE THAN 1,000 STOCK RAISERS FROM MIDDLE WEST WERE HERE.

An Address of J. F. Cotton, Meat Administrator Under Herbert Hoover, Featured—College
Sends Men to Farm, Says Jardine.

More than 1,000 persons attended the cattlemen's meeting at the college Friday. The week was judged an important one for the college Thursday, the Federated Meat Producers of the corn belt held a meeting during which permanent organization was perfected.

Ten states were represented—Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Missouri, Minnesota and Kansas. Their representatives stayed over for the meeting on Friday.

The cattlemen's conclave was one of the best ever held here. It is estimated that 75 per cent of those in attendance were Kansas producers, although 21 states are known to have been represented.

Big Lunch at Noon

The guests of the college were treated to lunch at the pavilion at noon and were served by the Jayhawk Saddle and Sirlion club. Hot roast beef sandwiches, beans, coffee, pickles and ice cream were served. More than 900 plates were handed out while many persons lunched elsewhere.

J. P. Cotton, meat administrator for the United States food administration was one of the prominent speakers on the program. J. C. Swift of Kansas City, R. J. Kinzer of the American Hereford Breeders association, and W. H. Pew, head of the animal husbandry department of Iowa state college, Ames, were among the speakers of the day. Thomas Wilson, of Wilson & Company, packers, of Chicago was not able to be present. W. R. Stubbs, former governor and member of the Kansas Livestock association made a stirring patriotic address during the time allotted to Mr. Wilson.

General Word Not Here.

Major General Leonard Wood was called to Washington Thursday and sent regrets that he could not address the meeting.

The prizes won in the recent stock judging contest conducted by the Saddle and Sirlion club were awarded by Dr. C. W. Campbell, associate professor of animal husbandry, after preliminary remarks had been made by President Jardine.

Sends Men to Farm.

"Among the students enrolled in the department of animal husbandry," said Doctor Jardine, "125 per cent go back to the farm. By that I mean more students return to the farm than come from it. This is because some students come from the cities and go to farms. In this manner the department is increasing the farming population of the state."

According to Doctor Jardine the Kansas State Agricultural college ranks first of all colleges in the international stock judging contests covering a period of years. While the college team never has been first the college has been consistently near the top.

The results of the winter's feeding experiment was announced and the visiting stockmen made a tour of inspection of the college barns and feeding sheds.

KANSAS POTATO MEN CONFERENCE

President Jardine and Others From K. S. A. C. Address Meeting.

A potato growers' conference was held in Topeka May 18. Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the college, Albert Dickens, professor of horticulture, L. W. Melchers, assistant in plant pathology, and Harold Smonds of the department of horticulture attended and addressed the meeting. Thirty representatives were present from Kaw valley growers.

The object of the meeting was to exchange views and experiences in potato growing and to discuss the organization of potato growers. F. W. Read, representative of United States bureau of markets, talked at the conference. Experiences were given by the growers and all phases of potato growing were brought out, from the purchasing of seed to the final marketing of the "spuds."

AGGIES ON ARMY RESERVE?

NEW MILITARY STATUS FOR STUDENTS INTIMATED BY WASHINGTON.

To Prevent Hasty Entrance Into Army
All College Men in R. O. T. C. May Be Asked to Enlist Until Badly Needed in the War.

Definite military training and instruction under the supervision of United States army officers, and the creation for all college students a military status beyond that offered at present, features the latest authoritative communication from the war department.

By a recent statement, received May 10, students under the draft age will have an opportunity to remain in college and at the same time be subject to call when they have completed their student courses and have become 21 years of age.

Details Will Follow.

Following the request of the war department that this announcement be given the widest possible publication in the press, this latest statement as authorized by the secretary of war, is in full as follows:

"In order to provide military instruction for the college students of the country during the present emergency, a comprehensive plan will be put into effect by the war department, beginning with the next college year, in September, 1918. The details remain to be worked out, but in general the plan will be as follows:

Army Officers Assigned.

"Military instruction under officers and noncommissioned officers of the army will be provided in every institution of college grade, which enrolls for the instruction of 100 or more able-bodied students over the age of 18. The necessary military equipment will, so far as possible, be provided by the government. There will be created a military training unit in each institution. Enlistment will be purely voluntary, but all students over the age of 18 will be encouraged to enlist. The enlistment will constitute the student a member of the Army of the United States, liable to active duty at the call of the president. It will, however, be the policy of the government not to call the members of the training units to active duty until they have reached the age of 21, unless urgent military necessity compels an earlier call. Students under 18 and therefore not legally eligible for enlistment, will be encouraged to enroll in the training units. Provision will be made for coordinating the reserve officers' training corps system, which exists in about one-third of the college institutions, with this broader plan."

To Keep Men in College.

"This new policy aims to accomplish a two-fold object: first, to develop as a great military asset the large body of young men in the colleges; and second, to prevent unnecessary and wasteful depletion of the colleges through indiscriminate volunteering, by offering to the students a definite and immediate military status."

"Later announcement will be made of the details of the new system. In the meantime, presidents of collegiate institutions are requested to call this matter to the attention of all their students. Those who do not graduate this spring should be urged to continue their education and take advantage of this new opportunity to serve the nation."

The new plan will not interfere with the workings of the draft, it is understood.

WIRELESS WORK TO TWENTY

Instruction of Drafted Group Has Been Planned.

A class of 20 from the 250 soldiers being trained at the college will be given a course in wireless. R. W. Hazlett, instructor in English, will have charge of the buzzer practice. He will accustom the men to the sound of the instruments and to the code. H. W. McClelland, sophomore in general science, will have charge of the outdoor signal practice, using the semaphore system, and E. A. Stewart, instructor in physics, will give lectures and the laboratory work on the instruments.

In addition to this course for the soldiers a course in wireless will be given for the regular students in the summer school.

REPORTERS ARE STILL RACING

Contest for Column Inches Will Close With Next Collegian.

Walter Nelbarger, freshman in industrial journalism, still is leading this semester's Collegian contest. The star reporters are determined by the number of column inches which the editor uses for the paper. The contest will close with the last issue of the paper Friday. Mr. Nelbarger has won 716 inches.

The real race is now among those competing for 'runner up' and the other five leading places. The race is close and the contestants have changed place with almost every issue of the Collegian. The winner receives the Collegian for a year, the 'runner up' receives it for a semester, and the reporter ranking third receives it for a half semester.

Miss Velma Carson, junior in industrial journalism, now holds second place with 311.25 column inches. Mrs. Laura D. Moore, also a junior in industrial journalism, follows closely with 297.5 inches. The next five with their ranking in inches follow: Miss Charlotte Russell, 273.5; Miss Sara Chase, 272.5; C. J. McEllin, 240.5; Miss Gertrude Norman, 236.75; Miss Ruth Henderson, 223.5.

FOUR AGGIES TO M. V. MEET

Valley Tracksters Will Come Together at Columbia, May 25.

The Aggies will be represented by four tracksters in the annual Missouri Valley track meet at Columbia, Missouri, May 25. The men, as given out by Coach Schulz, are Foreman, Beckett, Works and Frost.

Foreman, who has taken everything in the two mile that he has met this year, with the exception of Joey Ray the Chicago crack, who won from him in the K. C. A. C. invitation meet is going good and is counted a sure first in the two mile. Foreman will have more competition than before and if pushed hard enough, is liable to break a record. Graf, the Nebraska two miler, has been running well this year, but according to the dope Foreman can win from him if he shows the form that has made him so successful in the races he has run this year. It will be remembered that Foreman beat Graf once before in the K. C. A. C. meet, coming in second to Ray.

Beckett, a pushed hard enough, is one of the best half milers that has worn the purple for several years. He showed his real form in the indoor meet against K. U. He is expected, according to the dope, to take at least second in that event.

Works and Frost, two of "Germany's" sophomores, are going good now and should break into the scoring. Works defeated K. U.'s best bet in the hurdles, and has been showing unusual form in practice. Frost has tied Howard of K. U. in the pole vault, and Howard has tied or defeated all the other vaulters in the valley, so Jack has a good chance too at least to score in that event.

SENIOR COMEDY SATURDAY

Glen Ware Takes Place Made Vacant by "Shorty" MacLeod.

The senior class will stage the comedy, "Hurry, Hurry, Hurry," next Saturday evening in the college auditorium.

The play is all that its name implies. It is a lively comedy, full of action and fun and yet it has its serious strain running through the story. The cast is busy with rehearsals and will have the play in fine shape for presentation on Saturday evening.

Miss Pauline Richards is the leading lady and Earl Taylor has the role of leading man. Miss Margaret King and Albert Hancock carry the second leads and handle the parts in an excellent manner. The other members of the cast are Miss Alice Neiman, Miss Helen Mitchell, Harry Colglazier, C. A. Frankenhoff and Glen Ware, who has taken the place made vacant by Donald MacLeod.

Miss Ada Dykes, who has directed the other plays this year, is coaching the senior comedy. The college orchestra will give a special musical program the night of the play. According to the manager reserved seats will be on sale on Friday and Saturday afternoons at the Co-operative book store.

A. A. Potter, dean of the division of engineering, returned Saturday morning from Kansas City where he has been inspecting the automobile schools.

FROSH STARS SHOW CLASS

NO RECORDS BROKEN BUT GOOD TIME MADE IN ALL EVENTS
BY TRACKSTERS

Evans in 220 Yard Dash Missed School Record by One-Fifth Sec. and—880 Yard Run Closest Race—Neeley Shows Up
Well in the 440.

The performance of the freshmen in the trial meet held Friday afternoon convinced all that saw the yearlings in action that the track team for next year will be one of stellar character.

Jack Evans, in the 220 yard dash and the century dash showed up the best of the lot. In the 220 yard dash Jack came within one-fifth of a second of tying the school record, making the dash in 22 3-5 seconds. Although the Missouri valley record is 21 4-5, it would not surprise any of the dopsters who have seen the stocky little dash man in action, to see him equal that record with another season of training. In the 100 yard dash, Jack was still somewhat tired, and did not show up as well. Two stop watches caught his time as 10 seconds flat, equalling the Missouri valley record, and two more caught him at 10 2-5 seconds. In this event the Aggie record is better than that of the valley, the record here being 9 4-5 seconds. It is likely that next year will see Jack cleaning up in the sprints in all the valley meets.

Neeley Makes Good Time.

Tom Neeley, in the 440 yard dash, did not show up as well as he has in practice, but still ran the quarter in 52 3-5, which is far better than that race has been run in any of the meets held here this year. Neeley should be able to run the quarter in at least 51 seconds flat, if he improves as he has this year. Neeley is capable of great things, according to "Germany," and he is another of the unusual freshman quartet that Coach Schulz has in tow this year, that should clean up for the Aggies next year.

Closest Race of Meet

The 880 yard run was the closest race of the meet, although the time was not as good as was expected. Foreman, who changed from his usual race, the two mile, Beckett, the Varsity half miler, and Joe Price, another one of "Germany's" freshmen ran in this event. Price won by about two yards, with Foreman and Beckett finishing in the order named, and separated by only a couple of feet. The time for the race was 2 minutes 7 seconds, 5 2-5 seconds slower than the school record. It was a pretty race, though, and the coaches were well satisfied with the showing made. Price can also run the 440 in good time and will be an important cog in the machinery of next year's team.

Works, in the 220 low hurdles met with some hard luck in his first attempt, stumbling over a hurdle in the home stretch after getting away in unusually good time. His second attempt, however, was not up to the mark he has shown in the meets here. Works has improved greatly over his form of the first part of the year, and as he has two more years, will be a winner next year in these events. Frost, in the pole vault, was not able to clear 11 feet, which would have given him a school record. Jack is only a sophomore, though, and so has two more years in which to develop. He has shown better form in practice than he showed in the meet, and he will probably place in the Missouri valley meet, to be held at Columbia, Missouri, on May 25.

TO DEMONSTRATE CULTIVATORS

New Method of Cultivation to Be Shown at Farm Tuesday.

There will be a cooperative demonstration of corn cultivators at the agronomy farm Tuesday morning and afternoon under the auspices of the agronomy and farm engineering department and John Deere company. A new method of cultivation will be shown and any one interested is invited to be present.

Miss Ivy Mullen of Labette, former student in the school of agriculture, is visiting friends in Manhattan.

Henry Rogler, '98, and Maude Saubelle Rogler, '01, attended the Livestock conference Friday. Mr. Rogler is a successful farmer at Matfield.

"NO WOMAN'S LAND"

Do women believe in signs?

Many do not. Despite the signs at the western end of the gymnasium, where 275 soldiers are quartered, college girls streak by the open doors.

Perhaps the fact that the signs are not fully explanatory is partly responsible. The sign is only against women—men may enter the gymnasium and use the walks as before.

The military authorities in charge are hoping for a better observance of the rule from now on, for the district about the west end of the gymnasium truly is "No Woman's Land."

TO MR. H. S. SENIOR

The time is nearing when you, the high school senior of today, will be considering in what institution of learning you will be the freshman of tomorrow.

To your needs in this time of war, K. S. A. C. makes a special appeal.

Your education has only begun. Compared with the man who has not your advantages, you are a near-finished product of the educational mill. But really you aren't. In competition with the college man in years to come you will be a second-rater—you will be at a disadvantage.

Every day in those many days of the future you will regret that you did not grab an education when you had a chance. Ask the older man today what he would have done with your opportunity.

So you must continue your education.

Where?

Combining preparedness for war with preparedness for a life work, the Kansas State Agricultural college courses are best suited to the needs of the young man.

From every officers training camp come reports of Aggie men who earned commissions. They "had the jump" on the men about them—they had experience in military drill plus a college education—a dangerous combination for any semi-trained man to buck up against.

You can gain this same advantage, Mr. H. S. Senior. You can become the officers-of-tomorrow and the college man-of-tomorrow. And there is but one institution in Kansas where the two advantages are combined.

That college is K. S. A. C.

OUR RED CROSS DRIVE

The K. S. A. C. Red Cross campaign was opened up yesterday although there are many students who are not yet aware of the fact.

But that is the way this drive is to be carried on, the contributions are to be entirely voluntary. No one will be solicited. The campaign is so planned that it will progress gradually and each student and faculty member will be given an opportunity to do his part.

SO WOMEN MAY TEACH "AG."

Special Classes Will Be Opened for Co-Eds.

The division of agriculture will offer a special war session for young women teachers this summer to prepare them for teaching the one-year course in agriculture required in the high schools next year.

The courses will include a class in methods of teaching agriculture taught by J. W. Zahnley, instructor in farm crops; teacher's course in soils and crops taught by L. E. Call, acting dean of the division of agriculture, and R. K. Bonnett, instructor in farm crops. A teacher's course in animal husbandry taught by W. A. Cochel, professor of animal husbandry; a teacher's course in dairy husbandry, taught by J. B. Fitch, associate professor of dairy husbandry; and a teacher's course in poultry husbandry, taught by W. A. Lippincott, professor of poultry husbandry.

Nine semester credits will be given for the course which will last nine weeks.

Dr. Ruby V. Engler, Osteopathic Physician, College Bk. Store Bldg.

THRIFT IDEA KEEPS GROWING

Stamps Will Be Sold This Summer at College Postoffice.

Substantial growth of the thrift idea on the campus is indicated by the latest checking up of thrift stamp sales.

Thrift stamps sold by college agencies up until 2 o'clock yesterday totaled 4,142. War saving stamps ordered through the college postoffice for persons on the campus amounted to $655.23, actual purchase price, which is something over $800 face value. In addition to stamps sold on the campus more than $2,000 worth of war saving stamps have been reported as purchased by college people from other agencies.

These reports are very fragmentary and incomplete as it is impossible to get students and captains to report their purchases. The stamps will be on sale during the summer at the college postoffice and it is planned to open the thrift campaign at the beginning of the fall semester.

"COPY" CONTEST ABOUT DECIDER

Laura D. Moore Leading Other Workers by 65.5 Inches.

The spring semester Industrialist contest for leading reporters will close with this week's issue of the paper. The test is made by the number of column inches which the student has submitted and the editor found available for publication.

Good news is sometimes crowded out by more important news coming in and demanding instant publication through its very nature. Reporters learn to bear with good grace the rejection of the fruits of their labors, and renew their efforts.

Mrs. Laura D. Moore has been leading the contest for several weeks. The other contestants have shifted places frequently. There is opportunity for another shake-up as the result of this issue of the Industrialist.

The first prize is the choice of "The Country Gentleman," "The Breeder's Gazette," and "The Field." The prizes for second and third places are leather bound vest pocket books of synonyms.

The present standing of the first five follow: Mrs. Laura D. Moore 225.75 inches; Miss Katrina Kimport 160.25; Miss Ivy Barker 154.75; Bruce Brewer 138; Miss Estel Wollman 105.5.

The A. V. Laundry will give you the service that pleases.

USE OLD CARS IN WORK.

Drafted Men Are to Have Practical Experience.

Thorough training in automobile repair will be given the soldiers who are being trained by the engineering division. Several old automobiles, various kinds of electric starters, generators, magnetos of high and low tension have been purchased for their use.

It is intended that these men should have experience in the care and repair of automobiles. They will tear down the old cars and where the material is in good condition will build them up and put them in running order. Those in running order will be used for road work and others for demonstrations.

After the men have had experience with old cars it is expected that cars which need repair will be brought to the college for repair. No charge will be made for repairing the cars. Anyone wishing to have their cars repaired may see W. W. Carlson, professor of shop practice.

John Haggard, Roy Haggard, and Alta Haggard of Labette county have been the guests of Miss Mary Baird.

Gillette Safety Razor

Have You Seen the New Gillettes Specially Designed for the Fighting Man?

THESE models were designed by members of the Gillette Organization who have seen service with the Colors and know what the soldier is up against. Hundreds of officers and men are buying them—the U. S. Service Set in metal case, and the new Khaki-covered sets for Uncle Sam's soldiers and officers. The Gillette is the one razor for the man who is doing things—the one razor with world-wide use and reputation.

When a man wants new Blades he can get them at any Post Exchange or Y. M. C. A. Hut—here in America or Overseas.

Our Paris Office carries stocks—is constantly supplying the American Expeditionary Forces. Gillette Safety Razors and Blades on sale everywhere in France, England, Italy and the Eastern battle fronts.

The Gillette Is the Real "Once-Over Razor" of the Fighting Man

THE Gillette Safety Razor has been carried in the breast pockets and in the kits and ditty boxes of hundreds of thousands of keen, alert fighting men on every front and on every sea.

It's made good—under conditions that have sent nearly every other kind of razor into the rubbish heap.

The Gillette is bringing shaving comfort to thousands of men in the Service—no matter how wind-tanned and sun-burned.

Every man in the Service—or every man who's going Overseas—needs a Gillette. The new U. S. Regulations require the boys to keep clean-shaved.

The Gillette makes it easy. It delivers a velvet-smooth shave with any thickness of beard or skin, with hard or soft or hot or cold water. No stropps or hones to clutter up the kit. Blades always sharp, always ready. No Stropping—No Honing.

191 PETITION FOR DEGREES

EXAMINATIONS LAST WEEK WILL TELL TALE FOR MANY SENIORS.

Home Economics Candidates Are the Largest in Number, but Many Ask for Degrees of Bachelor Science in Agriculture—Many in Service.

A list of the candidates for the degrees this spring has just been prepared by Miss Jessie McD. Machir, registrar. Barring accidents with spring grades, says Miss Machir, the majority of the persons who are applying for degrees will be graduated from Kansas State.

The total count now shows 191 candidates for graduation, the home economics division leading with 76 for degrees of bachelor of science. There are 58 candidates for degrees of bachelor of science in agriculture, 15 for doctor of veterinary medicine, 7 for bachelor of science in mechanical engineering, 10 in electrical engineering, 6 in civil engineering, 5 in architecture, 1 in flour mill engineering, 6 in industrial journalism and 7 for degrees of bachelor of science.

This count does not include short course or housekeepers' certificates, candidates for professional degrees nor candidates for degrees of master of science. The 17 names marked "military" indicate that the persons are in service, either in camp, overseas, or are in the fourth training camp.

The list of candidates follows:

TENNIS SERIES IS NOT OVER

Rabbs Have Held Back Tournament—Two Games Yet.

The result of the spring semester tennis tournament will have to be announced otherwise than through The Collegian as one round of the semi-finals and the finals yet remain to be played off.

The contest this year has been an unusually lively one as very few of the matches have been lost by default. Rains have hindered the progress and prevented the final rounds before the last week of the semester. The seven contestants who stood up in the round before semi-finals were Edna Chapin, Elizabeth Greenlee, Martha Baird, Addie Sandman, Bess Gordon, Margaret Etzold, and Grace Gish.

This round eliminated three and Edna Chapin, Martha Baird, Bess Gordon, and Grace Gish remained in the running for the semi-finals. In this round Edna Chapin won from Martha Baird with a score of 6-2, 7-5. Bess Gordon and Grace Gish have yet to play, and the winner then plays Edna Chapin for the final ended championship.

Thirty girls entered the contest.

Miss Perry to Baltimore Ju yil.
Miss Frances Perry will go to Baltimore, Md., July 1, where she is to have charge of the tea room of Hochschild Kohn and company, a large department store.

A BIG SPORTS YEAR AHEAD

1918-19 PROMISES TO BE A BANNER SEASON FOR AGGIE ATHLETICS.

If All of Athletics Return, College Will Have Fair Football Team and Exceptionally Good Basketball and Track Squads—The Football Schedule.

The Aggies will begin one of the strongest football schedules that has ever faced a Wildcat team when they start their gridiron battles next fall.

The schedule is still short one game of the eight games allowed to each team. So far the games run as follows:

Sept. 28.—Open.
Oct. —Oklahoma A. M., at Manhattan.

Oct. 12.—Missouri, at Manhattan.
Oct. 19.—Washington, at St. Louis.

Nov. 2.—Kansas, at Lawrence.
Nov. 9.—Kansas Normal, at Manhattan.

Nov. 23.—Ames, at Manhattan.
Washburn, at Manhattan.

It is hard to tell just what the Aggies will have in football next year, due to the number of men that the draft may take during the summer.

When asked what he thought of the prospects for next year, "Germany" Schulz, assistant coach, would only say that he could tell better about the middle of September. It is known, however, that there will be only two letter men back in the line, as it is not certain that Roda will return.

Whedon is the other line man, who, with Ike Gates, is sure to be back. Other possibilities for the line are McGrath, Hoffines, and Schlaegel.

"Germany" will have to fill the rest of the line out with this year's freshmen and green material.

A Good Backfield.
In the backfield, Clark, Hinds, Fairman, Bogue and Hixson will make a good starter for the season. These men all have seen service in the backfield and should make a good nucleus for a set of strong backs. The freshman team of last year has several men who will probably develop into good Varsity material for next year.

The most promising of the freshmen of last year are Smith, Burton, Cowell, Meeker, Bunker, Mills and Curry.

Basketball Chances Good.
In basketball the prospects for next year are rosy. That is, they will be next basketball season unless something happens to keep the men from returning. Four letter men of the six of this year's team are expected. The men left for next year are Johnny Clarke, captain-elect, Bill Whedon, "Heinie" Hinds and George Folz.

This bunch for a nucleus of veterans, together with Bunker, Youngmeyer, Jennings, Cowell and Meeker of last year's unusually strong freshman organization, should give the Aggies a basketball team for next year that will rival the best of the teams that the Wildcats have ever turned out. Last year Coach Cleveland turned out a team that took second place in the valley. He had only two letter men and about four other men who were new to the college game. With the veterans and freshmen to work on next year, the team should easily be a winner.

All Set in Track.
The Aggies have been due to have a winning track team that will clean up everything in the Missouri valley for a long time, and from the looks of next year's prospects, that time has come. Out of the team for this year the following men will be back: Foreman, who is starring in the two-mile; Beckett, who is doing good work in the half-mile; Works, who is making good in the hurdles; Frost, who will be a good bet next year in the pole vault, and Talley and Totten in the weights. Besides these men, Beatty, a hurdler of unusual ability, is also expected to return.

To help build up the team "Germany" has his unusually good freshman team to fall back upon: Jack Evans and Gallagher, who made such a name for himself in Oklahoma, will make as strong a pair in the dashes as will be found anywhere in the valley. Neeley and Depew, quarter milers, will give the Aggies two unusually good men in the 440-yard dash. Price in the half-mile and Curry in the mile, are two other freshmen who are likely to star for the Purple next year. Goodwin and Schmidt also are going good in practice, and should be in shape next year to help the team in its weak points.

BUT THE CROOK CAME BACK

THE SENIOR PLAY TOMORROW

SENIOR TROPHY HANDED OVER TO JUNIOR PRESIDENT.

FINAL REHEARSALS FIND MEMBERS OF CAST IN FINE SHAPE

The Comedy Tomorrow Night Is the Opening of Senior Commencement.

Rehearsals for "Hurry, Hurry, Hurry" are about over, and the play is in fine shape for the presentation Saturday evening.

The play is a joyful comedy, with just enough seriousness to keep it from being a farce. It is worthy of its name, for the action is at all times full of pep and hurry, and the dull moments usually found in a play are lacking.

The play deals with a love affair—the rivalry of two men for a popular girl. One of the men is a college professor, the other is the popular, but tongue-tied college football hero. Of course, the love affair is the most important part, but the other touches

The Shepherd's Crook has returned. It now is safely rested in a box in a Manhattan bank, and the class of 1919 is responsible for its future.

Tuesday night the senior class invaded the junior class meeting. The invaders were welcomed, however, and while a guard of husky juniors and seniors stood sentinel, George C. Gibbons, president of the senior class last spring and holder of the crook, presented it to C. M. Barringer, junior president.

There were few ceremonies attendant upon the presentation. A few of the juniors gasped when the treasured stick of wood was shown them. The ceremonies were short but sweet, and the husky squad of guards hustled the crook into a waiting motor car, and inside 10 minutes the treasure was resting in the vault of the bank, an official of the bank having agreed to stow the crook away, although the hour was nearly 9 o'clock.

When Mr. Gibbons and Mr. Hiltz, a fraternity brother of Gibbons, attempted to transport the crook from the Delta Delta Delta sorority house, 322 Poyntz avenue, the night of the junior-senior prom, a band of eight men attacked the pair, and withdrew with the crook in their possession.

Then followed a mad search for the crook. The night following, April 6, the junior and senior men raided the freshmen-sophomore class party, in an attempt to gain the possession of the "Key to K. S. A. C." which is handed down annually from the president of the sophomore class to the chief executive of the freshman class. One of the biggest class fights in the history of K. S. A. C. resulted, the upperclassmen failing in their attempt.

TO MEET IN CHICAGO JUNE 3

Men Who Go to Fort Sheridan Camp Arrange for Meeting.

All of the 60 Aggie men delegated to attend the reserve officers' training corps camp at Fort Sheridan, beginning June 3, who wish to go to Sheridan with the main group of Aggie men will meet in the lobby of the Northwestern station in Chicago at 9 o'clock Monday morning, June 3.

Members of the advanced course of the corps decided on the meeting place yesterday afternoon.

MISS PAULINE RICHARDS, leading lady in "Hurry, Hurry, Hurry," the senior class play.

of fun in the play keep it from being too sentimental.

The cast for the play has been unusually well selected, as all of the persons taking leading parts have been in dramatic work before. Miss Pauline Richards, who takes the part of the leading lady, will be remembered for her excellent work in the opera given during festival week. Miss Richards was also May Queen this year, and is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. As leading lady in the present play, she is upholding her part in a splendid manner.

Earl Taylor is also taking one of the important men's parts well. Mr. Taylor was leading man in the "Man From Home," given last year, and has been active in college dramatics for some time.

FRIDAY, MAY 24, 1913

OUR LAST.

With this issue of The Collegian, the present editor climbs out of and down from the editorial chair.

This has been a happy year for him, even with all the cussings, the "kicks" and the complaints that it has been his lot to receive.

If one-tenth of the dear peepul have been satisfied one-twentieth of the time, the editor is happy.

Au, revoir.

An auburn-haired pair will have The Collegian in tow next year. Come on with your puns.

WHEN MAKING OUT THE BUDGET.

Next year there will be Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross drives again.

Remember to make a place for these when drawing up the budget for next year.

MRS. MOORE WINS IND. CONTEST

Miss Ivy Barker Is Second and Miss Katrina Kimpert Third.

Mrs. Laura D. Moore, special stunner last night as the winner of the spring term Industrialist contest, having 225.75 column inches to her credit.

Miss Sara Chase won the fall semester contest having 136 inches accepted for publication. Second and third places in the present contest were made by Miss Ivy Barker, with 195.75 inches and Miss Katrina Kimpert with 185.25 inches. The five reporters to receive honorable mention in the contest are Miss Estel Wollman, Bruce B. Brewer, Dr. C. W. Campbell, associate professor of animal husbandry, Miss Charlotte Russell, and Miss Dora Cattie.

The Journalism department offers a first prize consisting of the choice of subscription to the Field, The Brothers Gazette, or The Country Gentleman. A second and a third prize, a vest pocket book of synonyms is offered by F. L. Snow, professor of industrial Journalism.

Notice to tearful orators: Don't sob over Sammie; he's not that kind.

The American Red Cross will doubtless appreciate the income from your Liberty bonds.

We are very sure that some folks sing in public because the folks at home can't stand it.

Fat women who sing sentimental ballads should stand behind a screen and soft-pedal the gurgle.

More Conservation.

Mrs. R. S. suggests that chaperones be done away with and the girls fed on spring onions.

It is earnestly to be hoped that every loyal American, ex-pacifists particularly, will be seeing Red-Cross before the week is over.

The girl who knows as much as her mother does hasn't anything on her brother who knows three times as much as the "governor" ever dreamed about.

20 WILL GO TO HOLLISTER

And More Girls May Sign for Y. W. Conference.

Twenty girls are going to Hollister for the Y. W. C. A. summer conference and have sent their fee to the camp registrar. Ten more may go but have not yet sent in their fees.

Since the May day supper, enthusiasm has been running high and many plans have been made for summer conference. The girls are busy learning new songs, making banners and gathering up ukeleles for future use.

The following have sent in their fees to the summer conference registrar at New York City: Miss Ruth Thomas, Miss Iola Sloop, Miss Esther Andrews, Miss Mary Mason, Miss Frances Whitmire, Miss Hattie Gerner, Miss Hattie Droll, Miss Elizabeth Circle, Miss Vera Olmstead, Miss Greta Grames, Miss Ruth Harding, Miss Clara Smith, Miss Lucille Logan, Miss Mary Johnston, Miss Pearl Alt-house, Miss Grace Derby, Miss Jessie McD. Machir, Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile and Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary.

Other girls who may go but who have not yet definitely decided are Miss Martha Baird, Miss Luella Morris, Miss Ruby Canady, Miss Ethel Van Gilder, Miss Ada Robertson, Miss Vera Samuels, Miss Edith Kauli, Miss Pearl Miltner and Miss Jessie Hibler.

"It is not too late for the girls to decide to go," said Miss Inskeep. "I will send names into the registrar as late as June 16. The earlier the better, however, because of accommodations at Hollister."

SENIORS IN CHAPEL MONDAY.

Graduating Class Will Have Charge of Assembly.

The seniors will have charge of chapel exercises Monday, May 26. It is the custom of the college that the seniors take charge of chapel on the last Monday of the school year. That reverend body, in cap and gown, will occupy the platform in place of the faculty.

The class program includes a class will by Miss Mary Dakin, a class poem by W. W. Houghton, and a farewell address by J. E. Taylor.

A. Q. Miller of Belleville spent Tuesday with his sons, Lloyd and Carl. He returned to his home Wednesday morning.
